pension would be provided thereby and the school at Whitewater could handsomely endowed out of it. The seventh question answers itself. Very few speakers understand the laws governing mediumship. Many of them have never read the pamphlets to which you refer. Some of them when asked to do so, give this answer, "My guides don't want me to read." With such an object lesson as this before us, I claim that it is well that those who are to fill the office of Spiritualistic instructors should be well versed in the laws of psychic phenomena, and in the best methods of developing and unfolding mediumship. Let me say here that the paid professional developer has usually been a fakir of the rankest kind and a serious detriment to our cause. In a psychic school or class, the instructor should be imbued with a love for the makes such pointed reference in his article in the same number of your paper to which I am now replying, would contribute ten cents each, a generous

I am in full sympathy with the point made in question eight, and endorse your view most heartily. In regard to question nine I would say that when a man cannot or does not care for his own family, he should be taught to do so by the society of which he is a member. For this same reason, Epiritualists should be tau it that they are not the only ones to whom the truth of life beyond the grave should be given. They are only the custodians of the riches of the heavenly world and are expected to divide with their needy neighbors. Therefore, they should be taught that the sick and the needy ones are worthy objects of their attention, and that the young and rising generations have a divine right to a thorough protection and progressive education. 'This appeals to me as being the "horse sense" view of the proposition.

I believe question ten is covered by my answer to question two. In reply to question eleven I should college should acquaint themselves thoroughly with regard to the qualifications of all students who offer themselves as candidates for the Spiritualist rostrum. I agree with you that they should absolutely KNOW that these pupils possess the requisite talents for the high office in question, before they call upon the Spiritualists of the country to support an institution in which these candidates are to be educated. For myself, I can see no objection to making the standard of admission to a Spiritualistic school a very high one, even requiring that the pupils should all be high school or academy graduates ere they sought admission therein.

I appreciate the spirit and purpose of your questions, and feel that you are actuated by a sincere desire to quicken the minds of all Spiritualists to the most pressing needs of the hour in our ranks. I have replied as one who is interested in the cause of education and especially interested in the work caring for our indigent, worthy workers. The Morris Pratt Institute is an auxiliary of the N. S. A., the same as the State Association of Illinois, but it has no further claims upon that body than has any other of its auxiliaries. Mr. Pratt did not give his property to the N. S. A., but did deed it to an inde-pendent organization, officered by de-voted Spiritualists, three of whom chanced to be members of the board of trustees of the N. S. A. But that fact does not make the Morris Pratt Institute the creation of the N. S. A., nor dependent upon it in any way. All of the officers of the N. S. A. believe in education, and have personally done what they could for the cause, and caused the N. S. A. to contribute generously to the Morris Pratt Institute, therefore, I know there is only good will between the two bodies, and I do not believe that and it may be wise to let well enough the management of the Morris Pratt Institute feels that the N. S. A. is in duty bound to deprive worthy speakers and mediums of their pensions, to support it, nor to give the major portion of its revenues to pay the debts of the school. The law of supply and demand governs the affairs of men, and their in-stitutions. This was true of the N. S. A.; there was a demand for it; it came into existence, has been sustained for ten years, and will go on with its work. If there was a demand for the Morris Pratt Institute on the part of mortals and spirits, its fate will be the same as that of the N. S. A. In any event, the school has been established, and it is now fairly before the Spiritualist world to determine if it meets the educational demands of the age.

Yours for the cause. HARRISON D. BARRETT, President N. S. A.

THE N. S. A. PRESIDENCY.

To the Editor: - I venture to suggest that the next president of the N. S. A. should hail from the West, and mos espectfully place the name of Dr. Geo. B. Warne, of Chicago, Ill., in nomina-tion for the post. He has done good work in his own state and will serve our cause with equal ability in the larger field of the N. S. A. The East has had the president for ten years, and now that a change is to be made the West should have its turn. In my judgment, the East should have the we not learn of our superiors? vice-president in case of Dr. Warne's election, and I believe it can present a point of view what could be more abname that would appeal to every delegate on the floor. That name is J. B. Hatch, Jr. He is a "fellow drummer," a Spiritualist of experience, and, if all accounts of his work be true, he is certainly a "hustler" in the best sense of the word. Mr. Warne and Mr. Hatch is my ticket, and I toss up my cap for them without reserve. I appeal to the Spiritualists of the West, East, North and South to elect them. From a Southern Spiritualist, New Orleans, La. D. LAVINE.

A Spiritualistic Episode. In the Banner of Light, May 12, 1877 Edward John Robbins says: "The promised manifestation of a materialized form walking out in the garden (through the mediumistic powers and presence of Mrs. Davenport Blandy) was accomplished last summer. On one of the brightest moonlight nights of the season (1876), at 10 o'clock, our spirit lady friend 'Alma' walked arm-in-arm with Mr. E. L. Chamberlayne to the end of the lot, a distance of 150 feet from Mrs. Blandy, (the medium), and returned, stood chatting with us, a little company of six, gracefully saluting us, wearing a white silk dress, with long train, and holding up her foot to show is that she had on the shoes she had borrowed of Miss Flavia Colle, she having stated that conditions would not al low her to materialize shoes suitable for the occasion."

I knew Mrs. Blandy very well. She was the daughter of my friend, Mr. Ira Davenport, Sr. He had two boys and a girl, all mediums. Mrs B. gave seances in my parlors, 26 or 27 years ago; and also (strange as it may seem now) in our high school building; a thing impossible now-a-days

I place this truthful episode on record for the benefit of our skeptical of the 20th century.

C. H. MATHEWS. friends—the many doubting Thomases

New Philadelphia, Ohio.

What do we live for if it is not to make life less difficult for each other? -George Eliot. Virtue itself offends when coupled RADICAL VIEWS

In Reference to the Morris Pratt Instk tute.

To the Editor:—As a Spiritualist I resent Moses Hull's criticism of Spirit ualists, which appears in The Progressive Thinker of June 13. I quote a portion of one paragraph: "It is possible that over fifteen milllons of Spiritualists are halting to ask which shall we do, let education and progress go to the wall or starve the old say that the faculty of any Spiritualist Why it proves that we are a set of workers? What does all this prove? bragging, blustering, blowing braggarts, or that we are the most indigent or the most stingy people that ever disgraced the earth on which we live."

Isn't that a nice, clear-cut arraignment of "fifteen millions of Spiritual-

What have we done to merit such reproof, and who gave Moses authority to arraign us?

Is it a fact that education and prog-ress are in danger if the people unload Moses' Spiritual College?

Did we vote, subscribe, promise or encourage the establishment of a sectarian college at Whitewater, Wis.? How many of the great multitude which Mr. Hull hauls over the coals have in any way endorsed his college efforts at Whitewater? How many years does it take for a preacher, especially a Bible preacher, to learn a common simple lesson?

Mr. Hull must be a forty-year convert and the most of his time he has spent exploiting Spiritualists for the support he could get out of it, and yet he has not learned that Spiritualists of intelligence as a rule do not endorse old church methods, and that quite a large number of his ten or fifteen millions. are not followers unless they have an opportunity to choose their leaders. They cannot be frightened, led or driven, and do not take easy to hypocritical coaxing. The church and priestly methods are ignored, not recognized; the thinkers are unloading, letting go of the old and asserting their inde-pendence and individuality. This is a bitter pill for priestcraft even if it sails under Spiritual or liberal colors. If a Spiritual College is needed, and the ten or fifteen millions is an honest count, it shows that Spiritualism has got along pretty well without a college, Exploiting the people is an old curse and deception, and Spiritualists ought to be ashamed of such methods to build up any organization no matter what the object may be. What we most need is more internal piritual lives and less external show and aping.

The thinkers havn't any more use for sectarian college than for churches ind their rotten deceptive methods. Certainly the college movement is not endorsed.

Fifty years of observation and experience along Spiritual lines, has shown every critical observer ten failures to one success from a material point of view, but not one Spiritual failure; the spirits never fail. All ambitious, inexperienced, notoriety seekers are liable o be disappointed, even if they get to the front.

This world was never more critical and discriminating than to-day, and lever more determined to shake off the old burdens and shams.

One would naturally suppose Mr. Hull would arraign his own mistakes, rather than the thousands of Spiritualists who have had nothing to do, or say, upon the college subject.

I don't know that the unseen spirits have ever called for colleges, and are they not at the head of the class? Do they make such blunders and cry out for help as do ambitious mortals? Can

From a broad and common sense surd than the thought—the conception of a Spiritualist college? Who is qualfied to teach a rational scientific Spiritualism. The wisest has only reached the A, B, Cs, and who knows enough to teach until the alphabet is mastered?

After fifty years of public teaching from our rostrums, where do we stand? The spirit influence that filled our halls with enthusiastic, anxious listeners, is not present; why is this? The question is, (admitting we have the only religion or reform that can stand the test, stand alone) what is our position? Where do we stand upon the mighty questions that are now before the intelligent public? Are we at the front now as fifty years ago? No! we are not; our power and influence has waned. We are not known in medical reform, health reform, society, business or political reform movements; we seem to be in the rear, resting; we are at the rear of the great reform procession, and it will take more than a sectarian Spiritual College to revive us.

Spiritualism as a truth, as the supreme light and glory of this and all world's is moving on with a power and majesty that is to win and uplift.

All expressions of religion that do not rest upon the physical and mental improvement of humanity, here and now, are relegated to the rear without spiritual man should be considered in the order of growth and unfoldment, if permanent recognition is desired DR. M. E. CONGER.

Slander is the revenge of a coward and dissimilation his defense.-Johnson. The innumerable stars shining in order, like a living hymn written in light. -Willis.

Who plays for more than he can lose with pleasure stakes his heart.—Her-

Give up no science entirely, for science is but one.—Seneca.

Sow good services: sweet remembrances will grow from them .- Mme. de Stael. Like clocks, one wheel another on with forbidding manners.—Bishop Mid-must drive, affairs by diligent labor diston.

Zurilda Wellington.

Her Life in Two Worlds. The Lifting of the Vells

BY MRS. M. PASQUIER CURRAN, MEDIUM, ST. LOUIS, MO.

CHAPTER VIII-Continued.

Three years had passed since the day my father shut me in a dungeon. This is your measurement of time, but the Boul has no measurement. There are periods when it bounds forth and cleaves the boundaries of heaven, where the eternal mountains rise in their splendor, and from their summits we can view the promised land. Moments like these often came to me when the world in which I dwelt seemed to be shut out and I lived amidst eternal be-

In this exalted state my mind dwelt on the origin and destiny of the soul. Has the soul a limit? Do limitations govern our aspirations for knowledge, and shall we ever reach that state of perfection in which we can comprehend God? Will our memory of earthly things be obliterated? If Jesus Christ is not the Savior in the sense that the church teaches, how are we to be saved from the curse of Adam? These things revolved in my mind as I drew near the immortal shore, and were answered thus by Reuben:

"The soul has no limit; it is as boundless as God. Our destiny is eter-nal progression. Our desire for knowlthat state when he can comprehend God fully. No, never, although we can ever advance in the knowledge of God, yet eternity will not suffice to fully comprehend this incomprehensible power we call God! Memory will live forever. But from ner tomb 1 nave risen, and this resurrection was a spiritual birth. My mother, with others, rolled the soul will affirm itself? Roll up your dry parchments, steeped in error and allegory; we need no telescope to discover the divine within us—only to turn our eyes inwardly. There [point to the property of the live leaf by leaf the live to mell a stemple of the living God.] hend this incomprehensible power we have the germinating state, and, turn our eyes inwardly. There [point-call God! Memory will live forever, like the rose or the lily, leaf by leaf the ing to me] is a temple of the living God.

visions and to the answers given by God within me. Elon and Reuben to my questions, fre-quently expressing a wish that their taught me to pray to one God—the uni-been benumbed by the coldness that last days might be like mine.

To you, more than to anyone else, do I another; that end must be attained by an infinite rest. While Mrs. Wise was owe the light of true knowledge that is discipline, sorrow, self-denial and sacri- speaking the room in which we were now falling on my path. We have fice. The cup will not pass; it must be seemed to be flooded with a peculiar grown up together amid Nature and drained. Every soul has an atmos light that reflected a marvelous beauty. her revelations of God, and we have phere of its own, and evolves an aura A tranquil feeling crept over me, like been fed from her fountains of knowl- of truth, affection and love to God. edge, which has revealed to us many truths in relation to God. Zurilda, and consider ere you shut your hearts en here seemed to unite, forming a continue to be my companion and against the ministering angels. And group of ethereal beings around me. guide; let your presence cheer me and now, Bishop Sutherland, before my lips give the world a freshness which my are sealed by death's loy fingers, let me sorrow by lifting the curtain between truth, to unrobe yourself of these garyour bright home and this. Oh, help ments of hypocrisy. Beware of the she rocks her babe to rest. me to redeem myself from error, enable leaven of the Pharisees!' These robes me to rise in spirit, and be thou God's are stained with the blood of Him who messenger to my yearning soul; and, was a martyr to truth. You have a the loving silence that rested on me, as oh, may your silent lips bear the deeper warm, noble soul, that would beat in the palpitating veil between the two truths of God on every breath, speaking union with the higher truths that lie worlds was stirred, and gentle, loving loudly from beyond the portal. Remember me as a brother till we meet sister. Do not let my memory come be where life's morning is dawning in ing faces were looking down on them in sister. Do not let my memory come between you and that happiness which may be in store for you. The world may seem full of trials, but you have been given a power by which you can rise above them. Remember that Reuter a grateful heart for the kind and patient labor of love she has bestowed upon me. By her tender care my information of change was robing me for the world from many contents. ben and Elon will guide you as they fant feet were protected from many of souls." At the sound of these words, have guided me. Death will not separ- thorns; by her cheering words many of my father sprang to my side, folded me ing the mortal with the immortal. You sowed many good seeds that were senses. In this grasp I distinctly felt useless for you to urge me to submit my-self to be fettered by a system formu-lated by man to bind the mind in error, let this joy die out of your heart when I and darkness. There are inherent powers in the soul, placed there by God, which provide for our moral and spiritual needs. God has spoken to us, and communed with us in all ages, as He is speaking to me to-day, and will ever speaking to me to-day, and will ever speaking as soul-matered. The soul-matered this joy die out of your neart when I am gone, nor mourn in sadness, but instead of tears bring flowers; they are emblems of life. With a firm, unerring faith in God's divine behest, may your troubling heart now be at rest."

Having answered in the affirmative, tears shall reap in joy.' the bishop entered, accompanied by the rector and Mrs. Wise. He seemed surand true to the divine within you; have

Hardly had the last words passed my speak as soul-matered. The same when my father said "Zurilda your life." speak, as soul speaks to soul—not creed lips, when my father said, "Zurilda, you and formula, or by those who delegate must not talk in this way; your weak-unto themselves the power of God to ness is making you delirious." bind or loose, but by the voice of the soul. This voice has been hushed and flights of fancy are evanescent. the light it shed has been extinguished by man's ignorance and a desire to usurp a power that is not his. Jesus communed with God by the same law that permits me to do so—through their permits me to do so—through their permits me to do so—through the permits and who is those arisen from earth; and who is breast, and breath that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot a general mot are specifically and administed that a general mot are specifically and administed that an elected it general mot are specifically and administed that an elected it general mot are specifically and administed that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot are specifically and administed the fitted to guide and instruct that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot are specifically and administed the fitted to guide and instruct that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot are specifically and administed the fitted to guide and instruct that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot are specifically and administer the fitted to guide and instruct that a mother? Your church does not answer the needs of the soul. It has not a general mot are specifically and administer the fitted to guide and instruct that a mother? Your church does not any father. "You can not are specifically and deeds that the passed many years in spirit life.

"Now this is the judgment book that if you have the care or training of chillings. "Talmage an Insulties, inconsistencies and Blasphemies; a Review of Rev. T. Dewitt and Rev Frank does not any time in our lives. The unclosing of this book or record of our buman events will disclose many years in spirit life.

"Now this is the judgment book that it was as a madman passed many years in spirit life.

"Now this is the judgment book that it was as a madman passed many years in spirit life.

"Tal the light it shed has been extinguished Indeed; it seemed as if a fountain of the requirements necessary for us to hands of God." comprehend more fully His laws. Intercommunion between the two worlds op, gave his head a haughty toss, and has ever been. The Bible is full of evisaid: dence testifying to the return of the departed, and it leaves the doors open between the two worlds that we may com- tolic foundation?" mune with those who are on the other side, and receive tidings of great joy, said: Oh, Bishop, our hearts are human and

'Long for the touch of a vanished hand

"God, who reads the hearts, cares toying with a dead symbol? All truths very little about names—the purity of the motive is what He scans. I am ternal forms are dead, and they that standing upon the broad and eternal cling to them cloud their inner sun. basis of truth and justice, and will not Your apostolic foundation is being let another stand between my soul and swept away, and you must anchor some-God. No, Bishop, the church has buried us in creeds and dogmas; has driven us from our native rights, and driven us from our native rights, and leaves to a dead corpse; but now eteredge is increased as knowledge flows to us, and there is no limit to its acquirement—for it is knowledge that will draw us to God. No one can ever reach But from her tomb I have risen, and the soul. But from her tomb I have risen, and you not know that the existence of God but as the soul unfolds in spiritual things the darkness and errors through which we struggled will pass away, and which we struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the soul to realize your ideal of perfection in the struggled will pass away, and the struggled will pass away, and the struggled will pass away, and the struggled will pass away away and the struggled will pass away and the struggled will be struggl which we struggled will pass away, and be remembered only as helps to lift us exhale a fragrance as they do. Bishop into a growthful spiritual state. The testimony the Jesus, the Christ, bore to fold up the tablets of my soul that have should soon convince you that it is the the inhabitants of earth of the spirit of truth abiding in the soul, is the redeemer and savior of all mankind, dawning morn, as I near the eternal Through the mental and spiritual unsured to the spirit of dawning morn, as I near the eternal Through the mental and spiritual unsured the The soul can not sin or die; nor can it shore? And, will you ask me to wrap foldment of her nature, she has been fall from the perfect state in which God that musty parchment of the church brought to a perfected growth here; breathed it, for it is a ray of God. dwelling in us. Infinite justice and divine love are manifested in all spheres."

Mrs. Wise and Albert listened to the narrations that I would give them of my wisions and to the answers given by God within me.

Luat musty parchment of the church church in the church in a mantle of the dwelling in us. Infinite justice and divinite and the sculptor's chisel to the marble? Did you expect a golden divinity to be hewn out of flesh? If so, all your carving would amount to rothing without the internal five agony.

versal spirit that flows out in love to ev- you and others have thrown around It was in the spring of the year. Na eryone. To let my prayers be good ture was puting on her new robe of deeds, loving thoughts and kind words, freshness and was calling the buds and to obey the commands of Jesus to love you also must climb. Yea, truly, no one blossoms to awake and shake off the God with all my heart, and my neigh-deadness of winter—and with mandate bor as myself. This I have done. They himself. Mr. Wellington, it is her soul of Nature I, too, seemed to be comply- have also taught me that every pure that is looking out through those burning. My strength was declining daily principle that is woven into my life ing eyes, and reflecting heaven's light and a heavy darkness was settling over here will be found over there to gladon us, blending the here with the here my father as he realized that my young den my heart; and that the evil, error, after. Death's finger is cunningly life was fast ebbing away. It was on a beautiful May morning in the year 1849 guilty and which the church teaches that my father and the rector had come will be pardoned through the death of is the physical organism that vanishes; up to see me, and from their faces I christ, will be there too. No, I must be read a sadness in their souls that fold me all hope of my recovery was gone. while the paradoned through the destination of the destination o Miss Agnes had brought fresh flowers purity here, and must answer to the and set them before me. Albert came judge that is within me for every act. who has formed all things will satisfy in with a lily, and, placing it in my The tree of knowledge has yielded its the longing heart." fruits, and I have tasted of it and found earth's atmosphere; bear it as an em- thunder, but only to let the voice within a "happy land, far, far away," but my blem of your young life, struggling us speak. We will not be permitted to soul had expanded and I was gazing on through darkness and error to the heights of glory by the mere vast fields of living light, peace and joy. whiteness and freshness of this flower. exercise of faith, nor on the merits of and was filled with holy emotions and weak heart will need; calm this deep ask you, in the name of the spirit of around you, if only you would let their light in; by freeing ourself from the iggain."

In reply, I said: "Think of me as a you. I am néaring the border line, on my friends, while thousands of loyleton. Do not let my more and a workings of our minds; and ate us. No; my spirit will be near to my childish tears were brushed away in his arms and cried: "Oh, God, take comfort and cheer you, for death only and I was enabled to enjoy many of the not my child!" His strong convulsive blends the here with the hereafter, rob- pleasures of life. To you I owe much: pressure was the last of my earthly Adjeu."

"Zurilda," said my father, "I have summoned Bishop Sutherland to see of bitterness I may have caused to dungeon that had been the immediate you; I wish you to see him at once, grow in your path—and if permitted, cause of my ill-health. At that moment prised to see me so weak and near the heard wisdom's voice, and sought counother shore. After he had looked at me for some time, he said:

"Mr. Wellington," said Mrs. Wise, sel for the messengers of God; and are drawing your life from the source of taken its flight. Calm yourself; your soul hear order to see the source of taken its flight. "My child, God in his wisdom sees life. Your soul has cried in pain for a treasure is in the hands of its Giver; lest to take you from among us. I am knowledge of Immortality—for its evi- you must let her go. You are not laysorry you have rebelled against the audence. Your faith was crushed out; it ing her down in the wilderness, like plate. This is a mental science that is thority of his visible church, and have not entered the fold, as a child of God should, so as to receive her blessings beyond. At times you would cry, 'God lit was a trying hour for the mortal and benefits. Now I have come many is good, is Love.' 'Christ arose incorand benefits. Now I have come many is good, is Love. Christ arose incormiles to comfort and confirm you in her truths, which will give you the assurance of your acceptance by God, if you babe that I kissed and fondly pressed to for the dying and Mrs. Wise and Miss and Mrs. Wise and will only acknowledge her right and my aching heart, praying God that I authority over you as one of her chil-might see again; are they changed, are dren. Will you now give assent to the they glorified? Who can tell?' No anfollowing questions which I shall pro- swer came, no peace, no knowledge as you gazed along the avenues of time. "Bishop Sutherland," I replied, "it is Now you see the heavens are open, and immortality of life beyond the grave, Have I been dreaming? Oh. no: I feel and therefore it is void. It seeks to that God exists in that child's soul to a close the avenue to this knowledge by high degree, for he has affirmed himdrying up the stream that conveys it self; from what I hear from her lips I feel to us. Men have tampered with the that it would be highly improper in me things of God that are written within to force an outer form or symbol on her and without, or we would have a better when the inner life is aglow with the knowledge of God and ourselves and of divine. I am willing to trust her in the

The rector sent a glance at the bish-"Bishop, are you, too, deluded, or have your feet slipped from the apos-The bishop not replying, Mrs. Wise

"Husband, inanimate nature would cry out against you if I did not. Do not even the stony structures feel God's breath of growthful love, and plants And the sound of a voice that is still. and foliage bow their grateful heads, while you, a child of immortal love, are nothing without the internal fire aglow.

"Shall we know each other there?" I and hore me outward or onward. the sun's golden beams shooting out "My friends, let me ask you to pause from a cloudy sky. These rays of gold-Gentle breezes fanned my brow and voices in low cadence fell on my ears. lulling me to rest, like the soothing sound of a mother's whispered love as

> There was a calmness that no power could break, or no words can convey;

He is waiting to come in; will you see will cheer your lonely hours while ou I realized that I had passed from my journey here below. "They that sow in form of clay and was resting in my

Agnes were locked in each other's arms in convulsive sobs. My father wept bitterly and finally cried out in his agony:

"Is it for this hour that men live, and only to be crushed out? Oh, for a knowledge of the hereafter! I can endure all else. Bishop and Rector, is there not one drop of comfort that can he given—that the Christian, the true Bible Christian, can draw a positive knowledge from as to the whereabouts of his child? My soul cries out, and no answer comes. I repent that I ever caused her a tear. Oh, God have mercy on me!" "You shall see her again," said Mrs. Wise. "The soul triumphs over death and returns to earth from heaven's eternal shore." In his bitterness of spirit, my father will not listen to you!"

The bishop raised his head, dried his eyes and said:

"Ah, God, that is a beautiful dream, but can one dream with his eyes open? Yet there comes a time when we are inhuman treatment of him who vowed called upon to pause and look within for the bidden spring of life."

"We shall bee her again," said Mrs. "Transcendentalism, wife," said the "Offen messio corruptible bread for my hungry soul," mouned my father. "I would barter my all, for one morsel of true comfort. Oh, the bitterness of this hear! I want no angel around me: only hen that was my pride, my all! Give me her or nothing!'

Hour after hour passed and these dear ones sought comfort and demandeded a knowledge of the future life through their system of faith, rejecting a demonstration of that knowledge that lay before their eyes.

"Mystery of mysteries," cried out the shop. "Oh, death! thou angel of debishop. struction, why comest thou to man?" "No death," said Mrs, Wise. "Universal life—and the dreamers see it every day. Think you that heaven is not open to you?"

"Then give me that knowledge. I de mand it of you!" said my father. "Mr. Wellington," said Mrs. "Princes like unto men who are clothed in immorfality fill this room; they come with infinite peace to heal your bleeding heart.

My father bent his head, and muttered:
"Who can abide this hour? Into that deep world we are contemplating, I fain would go, but the bars of the real are set close about me."

That beautiful morning with its golden glory had melted slowly into a rich afternoon, so beautiful and grand to me, as I stood on the boundary between the two worlds. No language can express the joy and peace that falls about the new-born soul. My mother, Reuben and Elon were with me. Elon, being more of the earth, would tell me what failed to comprehend in regard to the earth home I had just left. Said he:

"See that, darkness that surrounds our late abode; hear those so-called men of God trying to comfort your father with their hollow mockeryward after death and a human God. Children of accumulated knowledge, see it vanishes in their hour of need!

"How their hearts are torn and their tears fow," said I to Elon. "Let me comfort them; help me to speak to them and dry their tears." Elon said: "Before them lies truth. They must climb, as you and I have done; in the land of negation and self-denial they must abide, and must resist temptation; mountains of stern realities will yet rise before them—their time is not yet. 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me.' The old idols must be broken; eand the book of judgment opened that they judge themselves from the living truths that are written therein. They have bartered truth and knowledge for creed and formula—that is why anguish rests upon them now."

CHAPTER IX.

Her Spirit Life-The Freedom of the 🥴 🧎 🧷 Soul. It had been but a few hours since my spirit had been reborn, yet the soul was clear and unclouded and looked forth on a scene of markelous tranquillity and beauty that lay around me. This scene of grandeur seemed to increase momentarily as I gained more spiritual strength and buoyancy; it seemed to be a floating substance that enveloped me "Zurlida, let this sweet flower be an it good. We need truth to plant our answer yes, for there is a love that not fully released from my earthly surinsignia by which I may know you when feet upon, and reason to guide our steps binds soul to soul that death cannot you come to me through the clouds of day by day. We do not need Sinai's part. I had been taught that there was draw us and bind us with cords of love. Although I was young in years and my spirit newly born, yet my senses seemed to be quickened to a high degree, so that my spirit bounded forth to read the lessons on the pages of this new creation. I found that I had latent powers in my mind that I had not dreamed of which came forth to greet me as waves of thought robed in majesty. Sensations that I had not before experienced came over me, with an intuitive knowledge of my surroundings that forced a desire in me to read the great book that lay before me, and to fathom its secrets. While thus absorbed in this wonderful and mysterious state that I had gravitated to, there came to me that beautiful woman who cheered me in my dungeon. Reaching out her hand to me, she said: "My child, I praise God that you are released from the earth. I told you that I would meet you again, and I have come by the command of the impress that our thoughts have on others; also on material things." Throwing a robe of protection around me, she led me to my old home and into that very dungeon in which my father had immured me. From her person was emitted a light that flooded that dark room, revealing some beautiful scenery on the walls. Pointing to them she said:

"As your earth life cast images of beauty here, as well as images of sorrow and pain, I am bid by Reuben to explain to you the effect of thought on material substances, also its bearing on individuals.

"See here; my dear, on this panel. pain is written, mental pain—and here, physical pain. These are the breathings of your soul on matter, or on material things. The exercise of your mind to its fullest capacity on the needless cruelty and inhuman treatment you received from your father, became phographed; or as if fixed image on this not fully comprehended by the mortal mind. The science of light is not understood! God Is light, and the soul being a ray from the Infinite soul, is life in a degree a creator—and can stamp thought intiponed its surroundings surroundings. Thought, also, is an entity, a being; that is, thought expresses itself through material tilingsiby the law of expres sion. Asiquhave said, our thoughts are entities, and dosexpress themselves on our surroundings, either for good or ill. Now, see those loving images of beauty, soil begitty, that you have stamped of this panel. You have done this by your receptivity to the true light, that lighteth every one that is born of God. In this expression of the soul, your intentions were good and pure; but you were limited in them by the adverse conditions that surrounded you. All our thoughts, words and deeds record themselves in the mind. This register is read by us and others. and we soon tearn the effect that they have on us as well us on others. Many do not perceive this while in the mor-tal form, and often not until they have song that the dead are around us! I there and must be atoned for by the "Look at this panel picture; see the mental darkness that is there," said the radiant one. "This was impressed when my reason was dethroned by the at the altar to love, honor and protect her whom he had chosen for his wife, but who slew me a thousand times with his poisoned poniard; (jealous madness); the crayings of a maddened mind. Now, this will stand against him, perhaps for years.

"This caused me many years of patient labor, without a murmur, and submission to conditions that would eradicate the bitterness I felt for him.

"Let us return," said my guide. But I found that I could not, for the lamentations of grief from my home came over me like a cloud. These expressions of sorrow filled me with a feeling of unrest, and I clung to the home of my childhood, with a strong filial love, so that it was with difficulty that my guide bore me away. Tears fell from my eyes, the first since my release from the mortal form, and my guide said to me: There is another lesson for you to learn. It is this-our earth memories never fade. You must learn to rise above the darkness that some minds have thrown over you. It is for you now to rise in the spirit and aid those of your own household who are in dark-

"You cannot wipe our wrongs or errors out, Nor will they fade, but come unbidden to your side; Then frame no thought of wrong or deeds of Ill

To hang on memory's wall." We had now reached that beautiful land where I had met this beautiful lady, and she bade me adieu. Then my mother and Elon said that my friends would lay my mortal form in the earth that day. This remark sent a strange feeling over me, and I expressed a desire to return to my earth home. Folded in my mother's arms and nestling on her breast like an infant, I soon found myself in the atmosphere of my home. Gloom rested on its surroundings; a pall of darkness covered my father and his household. The bishop and rector robed in clerical garments, with many of my father's friends, were in attendance. No mother's heart could bleed with sorrow more than did my foster mother's Miss Agnes—she who had led my infant feet and on whose breast my orphan head had been pillowed. As drew near her my soul's affections yearned to be folded as of old in her arms, and my mother laid me on her breast and blessed her many times for her loving care over me. Did she realize that I was there? No; none of my friends seemed to feel my presence, save Albert and Mrs. Wise. This I could see by coming into their spiritual

They did not see with spirit eye, my outstretched arms so nigh. From Albert's surroundings there was emitted a peculiar atmosphere, that attracted me and held me as firmly as though I were in the embrace of strong arms. Soul to soul seemed to be united. "This is the soul union or adaptability to each other-the law of soul attraction," said Elon.

Five days had passed since my spirit had been released from my mortal form, and the hour of interment had arrived. Bishop Sutherland and Rector stood near the casket, and in a becoming manner related the curse of death and its consequences, according to the said Elon. "Death did not come from a mythical man; death, or change, was in the world before Adam. This early change has been caused by her father; by the violation of a physical law. Adam, so-called, had no more to do with her death than he had in the projection of her physical body."

ther physical body."
"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh and Joinery away; blessed be the name of the Lord," said the rector. "She hath gone to return no more; the long ages of eternity will roll on and on, but blessed be God, we shall meet her at the judgment-for the dead shall stand before God."

"She is here, has arisen, is not dead," said Elon; "and if you would take the theological darkness from your minds you could behold her." "We shall see her again," said Mrs. Wise, mentally, "God will not mock us;

we shall not plead in vain. No. no longings of the heart but God will answer. "Angels that do the will of God are of many orders. Michael and Gabriel were sent as messengers by God to perform His work among men; but that was in the past, ere revelation was closed to man," said the rector. "Silence falls over our dear dead now, and we ques tion not; nor do we peer into that darkness that rests beyond; though our hearts bleed, we can have no proof from that realm; we may turn our eyes to the pitiless sky, but it will be only in vain.

"There is nothing so unintelligible as truth to the mind of a bigot, who whittles his God as a boy whittles his toy," said Elon. "Take your human God, Jesus, and read what he said: He believed in a cloud of witnesses who communed with him, and he taught intercommunion at all times. We are all following the example set by Jesus after His crucifixion, by preaching to and teaching spirits in prison, just such as these mitered ones, who are binding the chains of ignorance around those who confide in them. Of one thing I am certain; that Love is immortal and our reflections deathless; that we cling to our dear ones who are left in the mortal form, and by the law of sympathy the freed spirit will linger near the dear ones." said Elon. (To be continued.)

That Wonderful Churn.

H.T. Marshall writes us as follows: "I want add my testimony to the list of those who have used the lightning churn. It does all that they claim for it. You can churn easily in one minute and get a larger percentage of butter than with ordinary churns. I never took the agency for anything before, but so many of my neighbors wanted churns that I ordered 80 and they are all sold." Other farmers can do as wel, as Mr. Marshall. No farmer can afford to be without one of our churns. By using it he can make 25 per cent more butter than with his old hurn. Any intelligent farmer can sell four or five churns, every week in his own township.

Everyone who sees his churn will went one like it. We will mail circulars and full particulars on demand, Mound City Churn Co., St., Louis.

"Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental Suggestion." By Newton N.

LIFE OF THOMAS PAINE. By the Editor of the National, with Proface and Notes by Peter Eckler. Hinstrated with views of the old Paine Homestead and Paine Monument, at New Rocheller, also portraits of Thomas Clic Rickman, Joel Barlow, Mary Wolstonescraft, Endama Roland, Condurce, Brissot, and the most prominent of Paine's friends in Europe and America. Cloth, 75 cents.

Europe and America. Cloth, 75 cents.

MAHOMET, THE ILLUSTRIOUS.

By Godfrey Higgins, Esq. This work is one of the Library of Liberal Classics. No author was better qualified to write an impartial and houses life of Mahomet than Godfrey Higgins, and this volume is intensely interesting. It should be read in conjunction with Gibbon's work. Price, 25 cents.

SPIRITUAL HAPP A collection of Vocal Music for the Choir. Congregation and Social Circles. By J. M. Peebles and J. O. Barrett; E. H. Bailey, Musical Editor. Now edition. Culled from a wide field of literature with the most critical care, free from all theological bias, throbbing with the soul of inspiration, embodying the principles and virtues of the spiritual philosophy, sot to the most cheerful and popular music (nearly all original) and adapted to all occasions, it is doubtless the most attractive work of the kind ever published. Its beautiful songs, duets and quartets, with plane, organ or melotion accompaniment, adapted both to public meetings and the social circles. Cloth, §1.25; postage, it cents.

Spiritualist

Maliese Watch Charm.

PRIOES:—Badge Pin, $1.50: Lapel Button, $1.50: Sunflower Brooch, $4.00: Maltese Charm, $5.00: Maltese Pendant, $5.00. This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL.

BY J. CLEGG WRIGHT. This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of mind. Bound in cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

DEATH ITS MEANING and Results.

An absorbingly interesting narrative relating a series of wonderful psychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, illustrated, $1.25.

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth

By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A masterly presentation of an important subject. A powerful argument along new and scientific lines, establishing on a solentific basis the fact of the continuity of personal individual onscious selfhood after laying aside the physical body. A book of rare value. With soveral fine lilustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous A pumphlet of 82 pages, com-Conspiracy piled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains disclosures relative to a villatuous plot to overthrow our free government. Price, 15 cents

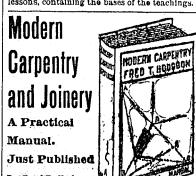

ROMANISM Is a pumphled of 80 pages, in reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Protestant ism. A concise little pamphlet. Price 15 cents.

Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, London. An excellent book for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

tenets of the church.

"God's anger rests on children of disobedience; this is an inheritance from Adam;" said the rector. "Sinners, look at this. God's anger will consume the flower of youth. Look at that bud of love, cut from parent stem—bruised and broken."

"Lay that crime where it belongs,"

By Fred T. Hodgson, A. A. A. A. A. The well-known Technical writer. It is one of the best works ever turned out by him. Copi-ously illustrated with diagrams and figures, making the most intricate problems simple, def-inite and easily understood. Price, $1.00.

DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis. An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents.

The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.
A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J.
Colville. Limp closh, 50c.

A ConspiracyAgainst the Republic By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc. Price, paper, 25 cents.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS. It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents.

ANCIENT INDIA. lts Language and Religions. By Prof. H. Olden-berg. Paper, 25 cents.

Apollonius of Tuana Identified as the wonderful communication, explaining how his life and teachings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents.

COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 cents.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED.

The most important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sincere hope that you are earnestly looking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration. If such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you, and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful porusal. Price, $1.50.

A. P. A. MANUAL A complete expose of the principles and objects of the American Protective Association. A book for all patriotic American citizens. Price, 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

FOIGS and Matter By Ludwig Buech-book. A profound work upon a profound sub-sect. Price. cloth, $1.00.

The Religion of Spiritualism. Its Phenomena and Philosophy. By the Ber. Samuel Watson. This work was written by a modern Savior, a grand and noble man. Price, 1.00. A valuable book for the money.

ACTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M.D. Avaiuable contribution to the contribution to the current discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plansiphere (a ropresentation of the celestial sphere upon a plane with adjustable circles), traces most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facis given possess great value, the illustrations are and chrious. The book is bound in only cassive—heavy boards. Price 81.

Views of Our Heavenly Home.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by express. If you do not receive your order promptly by mail, inquire at the express office. If not there, notify us at once.

Remember, please that it costs ten cents to get a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. If you send a personal check, add ten cents to the amount sent.

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in theis place.

Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premium Books unless you send in with your or der a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker.

Remember, please, that the safest way to make a remittance is to secure a postal order. Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER

TERMS. You must send $1 for The Progressive Thinker when you order one or more premium books. Please bear this in mind. Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing dis rect with this office, instead of through a news agent. Every person who sends in a yearly subscription to The Progressive Thinks er can have until further notice, the two following books for 25 cents each: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Scers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Prese ent," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exp ceedingly valuable, and though widely different, each one fills an exceedingly important niche in the literature

Spiritualism.
If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents. If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is

We have TEN Premium Books only and you can select from them as follows: Any three of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.10. Any four of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.50.

Any five of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.80.

Any six of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.10.

Any seven of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.35.
Any eight of the ten Premium books

you may order, price $2.65. Any nine of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.90. Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced ara sent out, all postage prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following in

TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS

FOR $3.10. 1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1, 2-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 3. 4-Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism.

5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occult.

6-The Next World Interviewed. 7-The Occult Life of Jesus. 8-A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands. 0-The Religion of Man and Ethics of

10-Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present. Read This Carefully Before Re-

Remitting.

When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are elevating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar for The Progressive Thinker. These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10, a price which modern machinery and en-terprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. ing out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter. In conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, Illustrating the great bargain you are getting-a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plane.

CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science "Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "AWanderer in the Spirit Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 8. The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select among our list of premiums.

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

The clear and very interesting account of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that tragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father. Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corrupion that exists in that church, and its injustions methods and aims.

It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic Amerloan, and by every one who would be well informed concerning the evil works and designs of the Romish hierarchy. It is a large volume of 832 pages. Price, $2.25.

THE MAN OF TO-MORROW

A Study in Spirit Return, by Charles Dawbarn.

CHAPTER FIFTH.

While every human being must, when his hour comes, cross the threshold between the two worlds, it is only the unprogressive who linger there. They may still be called intelligences, but they have, of course, no organizations among themselves for acquiring or storing knowledge. They may, and probably do cluster in groups of tike tastes, but institutions of learning with libraries and museums, would be unknown to them, for they would mean progress, and it is the lack of progress that holds them upon the threshold. Every step of progress would carry them further from earth Still it may be said that the knowledge of hieroglyphics, which we are now seeking is an experience of earth life carried with them through the death process, and which therefore they ought to be able to impart to mortals if they choose. But we must here recall certain facts already recorded by science as pertaining to manhood. We none of us know what life in itself may be, but its manifestation is always by the movements of certain molecular groups of units, which movements are, so far as we know, the only way in which intelligence can manifest Itself. These movements are called vibrations. Everything we sense in mortal life is a certain vibration, and education consists in interpreting such vibrations. The difference between the savage and the man of learning is that one interprets many more of those vibrations than the other. Certain sounds may mean nothing to my ear. They are vibrations, but I have not learned to interpret them. To your ear they may be thoughts expressed in Sanscrit or Chinese. So your education is beyond mine in those respects. Now we once again recall that the threshold spirit is threshold because be has stopped learning. His bodily vibrations are outside those of the mortal, though inside those of the spirit. His old brain molecular groups of units had vibrated to certain experiences which had constituted his manhood. These experiences included thoughts, words and actions, all of which expressed themselves by vibrations. The repetition of these vibrations always produces the same effect, which effect we call memory. In old age the vibrations become slower, and then we find memory growing feeble and uncertain. At last those vibrations cease altogether, and we then say that body is

We ask the student reader to now recall our illustration of the physical change in molecular groupings when the ice was disappearing, but had not entirely merged into water. The condition is at that point of the change which we have called "slush." These spirits of the threshold are precisely in that condition physically. They have lost their hold on their own physical past. Their forms are no longer suffisolid to be counted as mortal; and their old mentality can but feebly express itself in the vibrations of the threshold. They have lost mortal manhood, and yet have not gained manhood of the spirit. With the lost mortal form has gone all of their old memories, save those which can be repeated as vibrations in their present form. No can belong to their present condition, absent from threshold possibilities. They are very near the old earth life. possibilities of earth life, and thus live impossible of translation to us. in hells of their own creation. But When we reach such spirits l presently become impossible. Therefore intercourse with mortals soon becomes confused and uncertain. It is then we discover a Stainton Moses (M. A. Oxon) struggling for a brief hour to tell something of himself through the now celebrated Mrs. Piper. He can just manage to give proof of his identity. but the memory of his special studies in earth life is lost to him. Once a fine Greek scholar, he cannot now recall even its alphabet, save as he may earthward through some spirit nearer the mortal level. What is called a "test" is merely a repetition of something known to that spirit when he was a mortal, and it can only be expressed at the threshold level, and with the threshold confusion. It is at best but a flash of inspiration upon some mortal brain, thus recalling some of that spirit's experience in earth for a moment contact with some earth

brain of similar education. Let us remember that if he is now making spir itual progress it is away from the vibra-all its memories, that were not spirit-ual, must be left behind. His present experiences, that are spiritual, cannot pass the threshold. So the very attempt of such a spirit to become mortal for an hour, is presently found so distasteful, and at last impossible, that he usually seeks to send his message

tions of the mortal brain. Therefore

His form is perhaps seen clairvoyantly, but only as it was in earth life. There is not usually even a pretense to show it as it is now, for no mortal could recognize it. We have seen that he has organs in his present body, some new and specially adapted to his spirit form, while any that may be still shadowed are dyspepsia, indigestion, catarrh of the stomach liver complaints hidrey from earth life must dwindle and shrivel because now unnecessary. In other words, he is changing because he is progressing in knowledge and power. But that progress is away from earth life. His new knowledge and experience will, we may be sure, not be recorded on clay tablets in the old hiero-That would not be progress. But that those old earth experiences will be recorded as veritable histories of a nation's past is certain, for progress implies knowledge of the past upon which to build still greater knowledge of the present.

We suppose, therefore—it is only a justifiable supposition—that something in the nature of our colleges, libraries and museums will have been instituted and museums will have been instituted easily supposed the state of the supposed by the supposed the supposed by the supposed the supposed by the suppose by spirits of aspiration for such knowledge. For instance the astronomer of old Nippur who left on the tablet discovered by Professor Hilprecht his true record of the constellation Scorpio, as it appeared in his lifetime, would, whatever his new powers, hold that mortal experience as both interesting "Handy Electrical Dictionary." A and instructive, and a necessary record in a nation's history. He does not taining definitions of every used elec-himself stop at that point, for that trical term or phrase. Price 25 cents. would not be progress. But we may be "Just How to Wake the Solar Plox-sure it is recorded as history for the us." By Elizabeth Towne. Valuable generations of spirits, each passing for health. Price 25 sents.

through and beyond that expression of life in Cosmic matter at that stage of vibration. Thus neither as threshold spirit, nor as a citizen of the sphere next to earth, can he do much more than to possibly prove his identity. The thought embodied in his old hieroglyphics is necessarily as uninstructive as the school essay of one's boyhood compared to his present knowledge. So far as that knowledge and experience is history the physical record belongs to the vibrations of earth life. So far as it is spiritual he cannot now reach the mortal, save very imperfectly, to repeat the lesson. His present records cannot be reduced down to our mortal level, for they are recorded in spiritual vibrations. So we have two distinct and impassable obstacles in the way of that man of Nippur that would prevent his playing the interpreter of his ancient hieroglyphics. First, they are to him but fossils of his own prehistoric past. Like the fint knives of the primitive man they may be interesting, but have been long left behind. The man who left that record has traveled further and further away from his own past. The present dweller on that spirit level has, perchance, the record and nothing more. But such as it is, it is expressed to him only in his present thought language, which he cannot impart to mor-tal brain. The very best he can do is to inspire some mortal to an effort beond his normal capacity. And, with his present surroundings and mental pow ers, how he can even do that is beyond mortal comprehension.

There are those who, at each new discovery by our patient scientists, shout "spirit power," and belittle the mortal. But each to his own sphere is Nature's law. The Edison of to-day is on our plane now, and whatever he invents or discovers is at least possible of mortal comprehension. But the moment he leaves his present hieroglyphics behind, and exchanges them for the records of a higher life, he is drifting hour by hour further from the possibility of his becoming our instructor. We can no longer read his records, or interpret the vibrations by which his thought finds its present expression. In our present study of spirit return change his form beyond all possibility of our recognition. With his old organs now unneeded, and his present organs very different from ours, but indispensable in his new life, he is now wearing a form we could not recognize. The writer of the old hieroglyphic has become a changed man. He has grown away from the old physical expression of his own past. The thoughts embodied in those marks he may possibly retain, but the material expression of hem in the old form is no longer possible to him. So as a translator, any spirit on that plane must be largely a failure. He may talk history most learnedly, but proofs of its verity are necessarily absent from mortal ken. Herein is the key to our mystery. Spirit return, so far as it is actual verified identity, must be largely from the threshold. Therefore its reports will be either (a) confused, (b) woefully unreliable, or (c) compounded of earth experiences gathered from the old conbrations in their present form. No ditions of earth life, so far as known to spiritual ambition to learn or teach mortals of to-day. Just as soon as we seek communion with the progressed for that would imply progress, which is spirit we must ourselves meet him beyond the threshold. It will be no question then of his old hieroglyphics, nor If you are a sensitive you may run of any other of his earth experiences, against them in the street, sense them save as the surroundings he enters in your homes, and make contact with when communicating may restore them them in your seances. The only change to life. It will not afford the dearly possible to such human beings must be loved "tests" of his old form life, for his that which takes them further from form has now changed beyond recogniearth. They can, as some of us know, tion. His present mental powers have bink into a degradation below the very still more advanced, and have become that is change without progress, and selves crossing the threshold to meet When we reach such spirits, by ourleaves no possibility of their exchanging them, we shall experience genuine thought with mortal sensitives save on spirit return out of which we may gain grossly sensual planes of vibratory most precious truths. But such visit-movement. If their change be in the ether direction, that is away from the old hieroglyphics, any more than they threshold into a state of spiritual will teach us the most improved meth-growth, the vibrations of earth life od of making fint knives, as practiced by primitive man.

Our own grasp of truth new to our comprehension, our recent grand discoveries of natural law, previously unknown to the mortal are still not on the higher spiritual plane. They are not bridges on which mortal and immortal can cross to each other. Our very highest grasp may be kindergarten to the spirit scientist, but with his new form, and its advanced mentality we remain as far apart as ever. We may sense his presence till we glow with ove, but as a teacher he will be unsuccessful, because his pupil is too dull of comprehension.

Our pathway is to the development of our own powers to the utmost, to the very utmost, which powers include both those of the mortal and his larger selfhood. And at each step those powers will carry us nearer and nearer to realization of the grandeur of God manifest in flesh which we call humanity. But it will bring to us no knowledge of the old hieroglyphic, save by our own effort, which means the unselfish life devotion of men like Prof. Hilprecht to the task of translating them into the language of modern life.

San Leandro, Cal.

Never Neglect Constipation. It means too much misery and piling up of disease for all parts of the body. Death often starts with constipation The clogging of the bowels forces poisons through the intestines into blood. All sorts of diseases commence that way. Most common complaints the stomach, liver complaint, kidney trouble, headaches, etc. The must be relieved, but not with cathartics or purgatives. They weaken and aggravate the disease. Saw Palmetto Berry Wine instead. It is a tonic laxative of the highest order. It builds up and adds new strength and vigor. It assists the bowels to move themselves naturally and healthfullywithout medicine. One small dose day will cure any case, and remove the cause of the trouble. It is not a patent nostrum. The list of ingredients goes with every package with explanation of their action. It is not simply a temporary relief, it is a permanent cure.

For sale by all leading druggists. "Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of practical handbook of reference, con-

Guard Well the Gates. "Beyond the gates cometh the awak-" said the seer to the weary traveler at the city's wall. "Yes, yes," said the traveler; "beyond the gates guarded by Saint Peter!" "Nay, nay! Not so!" replied the seer,

"The awakening cometh beyond the gates guarded by thy own soul. See to it that thou guardest them well!"

In a certain venerable history we find the quaintly stated fact: "It is not that which goeth into a man's mouth but that which cometh out, that defileth

"How true!" we exclaim, as our memory reverts to some past time in our ives when curses and revilings sank into the tender, receptive mind of childhood, and painted with darkest repulsiveness (for us) that bright soul who allowed them to escape the gates, and fly forth at us.

The road from the Castle Language is studded around on three sides by pali-sades of ivory-white bars, and the final outlet—the portoullis—is guarded by the Soul's good soldier, the Tongue. The soldier never acts contrary to orders from his general, the Soul. Never has he been known to allow a flerce, devouring demon curse or a "cross" word to escape on its mission of destruction into a world of harmony except by order of the Soul.

"Words make neither my bread nor buy my lands." Yes, but how many bright Hopes have Words chased down the Dark Way of Slander and Revilement, and there strangled them in the gloom of Despair, far from the bright, broad highway of Cheerful Encouragement?

No, friend, make not the mistake of supposing that words, mere words, are not important.

Suppose that Horace had uttered a pessimistic thought instead of advising that "in the midst of hopes and cares, of apprehensions and disquietude, regard every day that dawns upon you as if it was to be your last; and superadded hours, to the enjoyment of which you had not looked forward, will prove an acceptable boon," do you think his words would have been treasured in the grateful minds of many even to the

The writer remembers, when looking back over the pathway he has trod, that unkindness-particularly, unkindness of speech-has claimed more criminals than either Vice or Ignorance.

Let us guard well the gates, and allow only words of cheer, help and kindness to go out from our souls into a we have thus become certain that a universe already overburdened by progressive spirit must gradually words of evil. If "a good deed shines like a candle in a naughty world," then let us make kind words illuminate the darkened souls of as many unfortunates

F. M. SNARRENBERGER. Denver, Colo.

Man's Conception of God.

In the Chicago American of May 9 appeared an editorial entitled, in part, "Man's Strange Conception of God," to which I beg leave to take exception. A child's first duty is to know its parents, if possible; and it is equally our duty to try to know our Father, or, at least, to learn all we can of Him in any and every possible way; and since we are unable to come into a tangible, visible knowledge of Him we have no recourse but speculation and imagination; and, as I have said, this is not only our privilege but our duty; it is everybody's duty. And the speculations which bear the strongest evidence of reasonableness must, of necessity, be nearest correct, from the simple fact that all reason is true and all truth is rational; and to the extent that any theory or proposition is irrational, to precisely that extent is it devoid of truth.

Imaginative as we may be, we cannot imagine anything except we have seen God otherwise than as a perfect human being; and I think a rational analysis of the subject will show that this idea is not as absurd as at first thought it may appear; and does not, by any means, assume, or even infer, that man, however near to perfection he may attain, will or can ever become God.

To the extent of self-perpetuation, man is a creator. Not only this, but in numberless objects-artistic, mechanical, etc.—we find abundant evidences of creative power and ability. Again. man is possessed of sundry qualities or attributes, as, for instance, love, wisdom, justice, reason, truth, etc., whereby he is enabled, by their appropriate use, to greatly benefit himself and his Where did he obtain them? Did he originate them? No; they are a part of him, and without them he vould not be man.

Then are we not fully justified in believing that our qualities are of the same nature as God's? Indeed, could they by any possibility be different?

What did Jesus say? "Every tree is known by its fruit. Men do not gather figs from thorns." Then is it not demonstrably true that God must have "human qualities," as you call them? Or is not the fact that these are divine qualities which God gave to man and which man possesses?

Again, were not the qualities of God and man identical in nature, how could we ever have any conception or idea of God's will? And when all is said, when all speculation is exhausted. would be the utility, the desirability or the necessity of there being any difference. other than degree? And does not this fully coincide—as no other theory does-with the statement in Genesis v:1: "In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made He man"? —A. N. Babcock, in Chicago American

THE MAN WORTH WHILE.

It is easy enough to be pleasant When life flows along with a song, But the man worth while is the man who will smile

When everything goes dead wrong. The jostling crowd in life's pathway Could stories quite bitter relate, Of lives tempest-tossed and loves that

And souls that are scrapping with fate.

The sun's brightest beams in the morn Will see ere the close of the day, A million who must go down in the

And wrong over right have its sway There are moments of joy and of pleas But they come from Utopia's shore,

We wake from the dream to find in its gleam The glamour of pleasure no more. So I sing of the soul's ever longing To rest in Elysium's state. The battle of life is a field-day of strife

And that is why I relate, That it's easy enough to be pleasant, When life flows along like a song, But the man worth while is the man who will smile

When everything goes dead wrong.
ANDY STEVENSON Mansfield, Ohio,

REMARKABLE PREDICTION Concerning the Assassination of the King and Queen of Bervia. W. T. Stead relates in the Chicago

Examiner, the following oregarding a prediction by a clairvoyant of the recent assassination of Servia's king and queen, three months before the occurrence: On Friday, March 20, I had invited a number of distinguished guests, including Earl Grey, the Servian minister, and others, to witness some experi ments in psychometry. The clairvoyant was Mrs. Burchell, a simple, unread Yorkshire woman from Halifax, of whose psychometric powers I had heard good reports. My rooms were crowded and whether on that account or for some other reason the experiments resulted in the most abject failure I had ever witnessed.

As a kind of consolation for my disappointed guests I invited a score of them to dinner at the restaurant Gatti and Rodesano, in the Strand. After dinner several of them left and about ten to twelve remained behind. As conditions were better I proposed to give Mrs. Burchell another chance.

Various articles were placed in her hands concerning which she made statements more or less surprising, but not of historic interest.

At last a Servian gentleman present, whose nationality was unknown to the clairvoyant, handed her a sheet of note paper on which was written the autograph of Alexander. Nothing was said as to the person from whom the writing came. No questions were asked and no information was given.

Mrs. Burchell did not open the paper, but held it folded in her hand. had hardly grasped it when she exclaimed:

"This belongs to royalty." Then, becoming very excited, she fell from her seat, and was only saved from striking the floor by her neighbor, who caught her. She exclaimed in great agitation:

"Terrible, Terrible!"

Then she collected herself and said: This is a bloody scene; there is murder being done. I see the inside of a palace. There are a king and a queen, They are together alone. Then men soldiers, burst into the room and attack them. They kill the king. He is dead. And the queen, oh, how she cries for mercy and begs for her life. But I fear fer her. I cannot see whether she es capes or not. The king, he is killed. Oh, it is terrible."

Only the Servian gentleman and myself knew that the sheet of paper bore the King of Servia's signature. As for the clairvoyant, I doubt very much if she knows where Servia is, or that such a monarch as Alexander existed. After the party broke up my Servian guest reported to Mijatovitch, the Servian Minister, what the clairvoyant had Mijatovitch came down to see me for confirmation. I repeated to him exactly as possible what had taken place. He went home and wrote urgent dispatches to King Alexander, warning him and begging him to be on his guard, not only when he went abroad, but especially against any attack that might be made upon him in the palace. The warning was in vain. The king and queen were assassinated in their three months before.

Of the absolute truth of this I can youch of my own knowledge. So can all my other guests. The evidence of the Servian Minister is conclusive confirmation as to the prediction and its palace as the clairvoyant had foreseen

Reason Reigns Supreme.

The bright, sunny-souled child passes from earth life through portals of death unto realms of the angels. Oh! how its presence is missed from an earth home of sadness! Everything connected with this child-life becomes sacred. Playthings, yes the little shoes are laid carefully away as mementoes, sacred noy to memories of that blessed child. Contemplation and sorrow connected with this bereavement, often prove as stepping stones from custom, creeds and superstition of past ages, unto light, reason and progression for many children (in man's stature) who previously bowed and worshiped error through one of many dogmas. Churches, the sacraments, priests ministers, theories of salvation through substitution, are only the mile-stones of the past; marking human progress in conquering earth's condition fighting life's battles. Why not look on these as playthings of the past and treat them with consideration, if not with respect? As the mountain top is reached love to look backward and view high precipices and deep canyons that we have passed in our journey upward, seeking knowledge and truth.

Weary and footsore we may have reached some of those awful chasms, trembling on its brink, thinking of possible destruction; the God principle came tingling through our bodies. Delays were dangerous, this was not a proper place to stop. Sense and power inexpressible impelled us onward to safe, inviting places for rest and contemplation.

Oh! how sad and futile, weakness and doubt would have been at those critical stages of life's journey! Perchance some brother sank with exhaustion, be-side the brink! With infinite pleasure you lifted his load of sin or discouragement with words of good cheer and for titude. What a realization of the God power pulsated your entire soul and body as this encouragement gave the veary traveler strength to turn away from destruction and death. This realization of kindness done to a fellow-man is proof to the sensitive soul, that the God principle is contained in the human heart, working outward toward all living things, saying, My horse and my dog are my brothers, as well as mankind. Compare this reality with the doctrine of selfish salvation through the blood and death of an innocent, loving soul, that lived (but did not die) the way unto salvation.

Does the man-made doctrine of saving grace through the death of another make you more manly or complete? A thousand times No! The soul will gain no solace throughout eternity so comforting and satisfactory as helping less fortunate children with consideration and kindness to grapple life's problem's, turning evil unto good living and eternal progression.

J. W. CUNNINGHAM.

Los Angeles, Cal.

TO WOMEN WHO DREAD MOTHERHOOD!

Information How They May Give Birth to Happy, Healthy Children Absolutely Without Pain-Seat Prec. Cut Paid.—Seat Prec.

No woman need any longer dread the pains of child-birth, or remain childless. Dr. J. H. Dye has devoted his life to rollevan the sorrows of women. He has proved that all pain at childbirth may be entirely banished, and he will gladly tell you how it may be done a basholtely free of charge Sendyour name and address to Dr. Lit. Dye, Box 187 ibuffalo, N. Y. and he will send you postpaid, his wonderful book which tells how to give birth to specific production of the send of t Plain Propositions and Plain Answers. My criticising friend, W. F. Jamieson, asks, "How can any Spiritualist brother object to skepticism when his own philosophy is full of it?"

Without spending any time on an answer to this question, I would like to know what it has to do with the truth or falsity of the phenomena of Spiritualism?

"Many of the most skeptical people I ever saw are Spiritualists." Does this observation settle the discussion as to whether or not there are any genuine Spiritualistic phenomena? "Is Spiritualism always a mark of in. telligence?" Who said it was? Does this question point to the non-existence of genuine phenomena?

"What is evidence to one mind is not evidence to another." Who has contradicted this universally accepted fact? But does this prove that there are no genuine phenomena? "There is a distinction between 'evidence, 'proof,' and 'testimony.' Belief, however strong, is not knowledge however weak; faith is not the same as knowledge." Certainly, any simpleton ought to know that much, but does that prove that there is not "evidence," "proof" and "testimony," (all three) of the truth of Spiritualism? Have not the phenomena of Spiritualism been established by "evidence," "proof" and "testimony?"

Is it necessary (although very much to be desired) that every man, woman and child now living should witness a genuine materialization as an every-day fact in order to prove the truth of materialization? Cannot evidence occasionally, or testimony, take the place of proof? Does the judge of the court instruct his jury to return a verdict in accordance with the evidence seen or heard? Is the jury supposed to know by personal knowledge the grounds upon which the trial is based? Can we dispense absolutely with "testimony" and "evidence" in the investigation of Spiritualism even though we have here and there absolute proof of its truth? Had it not been for Faith, Belief and hope, would the proof of the truth of the phenomena of Spiritualism been established today? That that truth is established, is acknowledged by the enemies of Spiritualism, those who like Hudson, accept the phenomena, but seek to explain them on other grounds than the Spiritualistic. Does the need ever and anon of testimony and evidence in Spiritualism prove that there is no proof in it for its truth? Does the fact that Spiritualists indulge in Faith and Hope when those graces scaffold for the time, their investigations, prove that they have not entered the realm of knowledge of the truth of Spiritualism?

Will not moss-covered facts answer a most glorious purpose in the developing of present-day demonstrations? not moss-covered facts together with the facts which have accumulated since the days of the Fox sisters, support both "living witnesses" and "dead au-

Criticism is all right, and Spiritualists court it as long as it is not "hyper" or "hypo." Brother Jamieson has not come within a mile of the merits of the article which he seeks to criticise, which consists simply of two plain propositions, which merely call for plain answers.

H. V. SWERINGEN.

An Extraordinary Texas Medium. Experience through the mediumship of Anton Luthy, of the Austin Spiritual Association:

We received a bunch of flowers with message that thew were from Abyssinia-such flowers were never seen in this country before. An overcoat was brought into the room from a distance of several miles where the overcoat was last placed. A violin started playing in the room. Two pieces of copper, Mexican coins, were brought into the room. A bunch of herbs with a message that they were from Switzerland, recommended for those ailing with sore feet. An umbrella that was stolen from one of the members was brought back. An old hunting horn which was packed in the bottom of a trunk was brought into the room. A coat spring taken from a coat hanging in the hall, was brought into the room.

A broom-corn stalk about four feet long was laid on the table.

A large tin horn floated into the room and played different tunes. Several bells ringing at one time above the table. Several small stones were brought on the table at different sittings. The shoes worn by the medium were taken from his feet, knotted, and laid upon the table. An ointment was brought to one of the members to rub on her afflicted feet, which after several applications afflicted feet and not being able to wear shoes for twelve years. Some letters were brought from a distance.

A bunch of keys that were lost were restored to the owner. A great many receipts for ailments have proved successful.

The medium was at different times securely tied by ropes to the chair that he was sitting on, in knots around the neck, body and feet, which took about one or two seconds; he had to be cut loose, so firmly was he tied. During these circles the room was thoroughly searched before the members took their places. The door firmly secured while all joined hands, the hands of the medium being held by two members on each side of him. Attests to the above.

H. BREHOF, Prest., J. SJAHALM, Sec'y. For the members of the Austin (Tex.) Spiritual Society.

AS YOU GO THROUGH LIFE.

Don't look for the flaws as you go through life: And even when you find them, is wise and kind to be somewhat blind them. For the cloudiest night has a hint of light Somewhere in its shadows hiding; It is better by far to hunt for a star,

And look for the virtues behind

Than the spots on the sun abiding. The current of life runs ever away To the bosom of God's great ocean Don't set your force 'gainst the river's

And think to alter its motion. Don't waste a curse on the universe-Remember, it lived before you. Don't butt at the storm with your puny

But bend and let it go o'er you. The world will never adjust itself To suit your whims to the letter. Some things must go wrong your whole life long And the sooner you know it the bet-

It is folly to fight with the Infinite. And go under at last in the wrestle, The wiser man shapes into God's plan As the water shapes into a vessel. -Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

'Gleanings from the Rostrum." By A. B. French. Cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

A Chance to Make Money THE SPIRITUAL

I have berries, grapes and peaches a year old, fresh as when picked. I used the California Cold Process. Do not heat or scal the fruit, just it up cold, Keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and full directions to any of your readers for ulmeten (10) two cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage, etc. Francis Casey, St. Louis, Mo.

Three Journeys Around the World

Travels in the Pacific Islands, Travels in the Pacine Islands,

New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon, India, and other Oriental countries. By J. M. Peebles,
A. M., M. D. Ph. D. In this splendid large book Dr. Peebles has concentrated a vast amount of valuable information. It is exceedingly entertaining and readable, and Spiritualism as he found it everywhere in his travels receives due attention, making the book of special value and interest to Spiritualists. 454
large pages, finely bound, at the price of $1.50.

Cultivation of Personal Magnetism A treatise on Human Culture. By Leroy Berrier, anthropologist and author. A very suggestive and instructive book. Price $1.00.

The World's Sixteen Saviors, Or Christianty before Christ. By Kersey Graves. New and startling revelations in religious history which disclose the Oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts and miracles of the Christian New Testament, and furnishing a key for unlocking many of its sacred mysteries, besides comprising the History of Sixteen Oriental Crucified Gods. This wonderful and exhaustive volume will, we are certain, take high rank as a book of reference in the field which the author has chosen for it. Printed on white paper, 380 pages. New edition, revised and corrected, with portrait of author. Price $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

INVISIBLE HELPERS

A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Standpoint.

This work, "Invisible Helpers," written by C. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and suggestive throughout. Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story,"
"Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Deyond." The work is neatly bound in cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible One hundred and forty-four propositions, the clogical, moral, historical and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scripture, without comment. Price, li cents.

ONFILIT Between Religion and Science.
Just the book for progressive thinkers. A book that is very interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper.
Price, cloth, $1.75.

HEALING, Causes and Effects, with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 50 cents.

POLITY of the Life Beyond and Within Voices from many lands and countries, saying, "Man, thou shalt complied by Giles B. Stebbins. Cloth. $1.

Works of Thomas Paine new edition in paper covers with large clear type.

Age of Reason.....25 cts. Rights of Man..... 25 cts.

This is a splendid opportunity to secure these stand and works, as the price is within the reach of all. For sale at this office. THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN

THE CONFESSIONAL.

BY FATHER CHINIQUY. This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex-Priest, whose character is above reproach, and whe knows what he is talking about. Everybody should read it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chap-ters: CHAPTER I.

The Struggle before the Surrender of Womanly Selfrespect in the Confessional.

CHAPTER II. Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the Pricat. CHAPTER III.
The Confessional is the Modern Sodom.

CHAPTER IV.

How the Vow of Celibacy of the Priests is made casy by Auricular Confession. by Auricular Confession.

CHAPTER V.

The highly-cducated and refined Woman in the Confession of her after uncondition fessional-What becomes of her after un al surrender-Her frreparable Ruin. CHAPTER VI.

Should Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Marriage and Human Society.
CHAPTER VII.
Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civilized Nations?
CHAPTER VIII.
Does Auricular Confession bring Peace to the Soul?

were perfectly relieved, she ailing with The Dogma of Auricular Confession a Sacrilegiou Imposture. CHAPTER X.

God compels the Church of Rome to confess the Abominations of Auricular Confession. CHAPTER XI.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and

France,

CHAPTER XII.

Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Priest of Rome must Question his Penitent. Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00. THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL.

Series one, two and three. By Lilian Whiting
Three choice volumes, each com 1-te in itsel in which spirituality is related to varyday lif in such a way as to make the world beautiful Price, $1.00 each. MEDIUMSHIP and its DEVELOPMENT, and how to Mesmerize to Assist Development. By W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 50 cents.

WOMAN: Pour Centuries of Progress, A Lecture delivered at the Free thinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1893. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c.

PSYGHE Is the invention of a practical medium, under spirit guidance, and is designed to develop mediumship. Many, by its use, have received long communications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, 1, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail BY CHARLES B. NEWGOMB,

Author of "All's Right with the World." Cloth 270 pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with "Ail's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank of the Metaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have been cheered and strengthened by him will welcome another book by the wise teacher whose words of help are doing so much to aske the world better by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it. "Discovery of a Lost Trail" is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing called life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be in demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

The Christ Question Settled.

Jesus, Man, Medium, Martyr. A symposium by W. E. Coleman, J. S. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Moses Hull, J. R. Buchanan, B. B. Hill, Rabbi I. M. Wise, Col. Ingersoll—and what the spirits say about it. Hy J. M. FEBIES, M. S. Whether this book settles the question or not, it will be found eminently entertaining, and brings together a mass of evidence to establish the historical character of Jesus. A large volume. Price. cloth. $1.25.

AUTOMATIC WRITING, [So-called] with other psychic experiences. By Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portraft and specimen pages of the writing. Handsomely bound in cloth. Price, El. Postage, 10c.

AFTER HER DLATH. The Story of a Summer. By Lilian Whiting. Pervaded with pure and beautiful spirituality of thought. Instructive and helpful to all who love and seek the higher and finer ways of spiritual experience. Price, $1.00.

SIGNIFICANCE.

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lilian Whiting, author of "The World Beau-tiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Field, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Bar-rett Browning," Cloth, $1.00.

Miss Whiting finds the title of her new book in these lines from "Aurora Leigh."

"If a man could feel "If a man could feel Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and
working-day,
The spiritual significance burn through
The bleroglyphic of material shows, Helceforward he would paint the globe with wings."
The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between the developments of modern science and spiritual laws; to note that new forces.

Leigh:"

spiritual laws; to note that new forces, spiritual laws; to note that new forces, as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an unseen reaim into which humanity is rapidly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical science the author of "The World Beautiful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the constant sense of the Divine Presence, and a truer knowledge of the nature of man and his relations to God tend to a bugher morality and increasing happiness. The book is characterized by the same essential style and qualities that have insured for "The World Beautiful" volumes an almost world-wide popularity. popularity. OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT-

ING: Kate Field, A Record. Price $2. A Study of Blizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series. Each $1.

From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale

Contracts in Spirit Life and Recent of Samuel Bowles in the First Five Spheres, Etc. Written through the hand of Carrie E. S. Twing. Paper, 30 cents. Bible and Church Degrade Woman.

By Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Comprises three essays on "The Effect of Woman Suffrage on Questiens of Morals and Religion." Price, 10c. Why I Am a Vegetarian. An address delivered before the Chicago Vege-tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price,

POEMS OF PROGRESS. O By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable. Price, $1.00.

Healing, Gauses and Effects. By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents.

Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion.

By Sarah E. Titcomb. wirh an introduction by Charles Morris, author of "The Aryan Race." Price, cloth, $1.00. Three Remarkable Books

"The Divine Pedigree of Han."
"The Law of Psychic Phenomena."
"A Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life." The Divine Pedigree of Man, or the Testimony of Evolution and Psychology to the Fatherhood of God. By Thompson Jay Hudson, LL. D. A most remarkable work. demonstrating the existence of the Soul and Future Life. It is scientific throughout. Price $1.50. Dr. Hudson's work on "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" is also valuable. Price, $1.50. Hts "Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life" should be read by all. Price $1.50.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA,

According to Old Records. By Dr. Paul Carus. A translation made from Japanese, under the auspices of the Rev. Shaku Soyer, delegate to the Parliament of Religions. Was published in Japan. Price, $1. Church and State.

the Bible in the Public Schools; the New "American" Party. By "Jefferson." Third edition; 28 pages. Price 10 cents. FROM INDIA

TO THE PLANET MARS.

A MOST REMARKABLE WORK. Fascinating, Interesting and Instructive. By Th. Flournoy, Professor of Psychology in the University of Geneva.

"This is an account of the experiments with the 'Geneva Medium,' Helena Smith. In her trances she lives the dual existence of an Indian princess and of an inhabitant of the planet Mars. Professor Flournoy and his fellow scientists have for more than five years experimented with these astounding physical phenomena."

This is a work of thrilling interest. It has excited great attention in this country and in Europe. Price $1.50.

Father Tom and the Pope. or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably by Sir Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous abcount of a rolicksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom, an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two imperial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same. Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

For sale at this office.

In the World Celestial. By DR. T. A. BLAND.

"It is inexpressibly delightful."—Hon. C. A. Windle.
"It lifts the reader into enchanting realms."—
Medical Gleanor.
"It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. "It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Savage.
"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorable, the astounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it contains."—H. O. Flower, in the Arena, "It will give us courage to pass through the deep abaddws of death to the sun-lif clime of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.
"Everybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a moss beautiful romance of two worlds."—Hanner of Light.

Light.
It is Printed in elegant style and bound in cloth and gold. Pric $1.00.

The Mystic Thesaurus,

Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical secrets of Astral Truth and Occult Art. By Willier Whiteman, Editor Agrippa's "Natural Magio." The book treats of The Symbol of the Cross, Spiritual Gifts, Inspirational Conseption, Initiative Exposition, The Astral Brotherhood, Message of the Brotherhood, The Magie Mirror, and Celestial Companionship. It is a good text book for students of the Mystic, and will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

Memorial Oration by Col. R. G. Ingersell a warm friend of his and a great statasman, delivered before the New York Legislature, May 9, 1888. Price 4 cents.

The Devil and the Adventists. An Adventist attack upon Spiritualism repulsed. By Moses Hull. Price, 10 cents.

Practical Methods to Insure Success, A valuable little work, full of practical instruction in matters pertaining to physical, mental and spiritual health. Worth many times its cost. Price 10 cents.

The Progressive Thinker,

Published every naturally at 40 Loomla at. J. R. FRANCIS, Editor and Pablisher.

Entered at Chicago Postonice as second cleas matter. TREES OF BURECKIPTION. TEE PROGRESSIVE TRISERS Will be furnished entil further notice, at the following torms, in KENTTANCES. Remit by Postofice Money Order, Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It costs from 10 to 15 cents to get checks cashed on local banks, so don't send than unless you wish that amount deducted from the amount seat. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Loomis Street, Chicago, Ill.

TAKE NOTICE.

As expiration of subscription, if not re-newed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sent for extra numbers. En If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers sup-plied gratis.

Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, always give the address of the place to which it is then sent or the change cannot be made.

SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1903.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE.

All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spirit ualist Association,

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to an swer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giving date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights. Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC. All money in donations or collections intended for the N. S. A. Mediums' Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not directly paid to our authorized missionaries, who can show a missionary certificate of later date than October, 1902. No other is authorized to collect money this association. Contributions, large or small, are gratefully accepted.

MARY T. LONGLEY,

N. S. A. Secretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Washington, D. C.

A Just Decision by an Honest Judge. The following item from New York, reported for the Associated Press will give good cheer to Spiritualists:

"A will which had been contested by relations on the ground that Mrs. A. D. Thompson, who made it and left the bulk of her estate to Joseph H. Mahan, a protege of her husband, was under the influence of Spiritualists and not of sound mind, has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Thomas. The judge said, in entering the order:

"'Almost every one at some time investigates what is known as American Spiritualism. That some people believe they can have communications with their loved ones in the other world is a well-known fact; but the fact of that belief is no ground for the setting aside of a person's wishes in his last will and testament.'

Whenever Spiritualism is recognized by the courts as no indication of unsound mentality the cause rises one step higher towards its proper place among the institutions of the world and it naturally makes the old workers smile and run back in memory to the day when the world looked at the belief not only as a sure sign of an unbalanced mind, but the production of the phenomena as a crime and the mediums as possessed of devils.

Yes, "the world do move" and the truth will ever fight its way to the front if there is any chance. The present day judge of the probate court in the largest city in our loved America, says, "that belief is no ground for the setting aside of a person's wishes in his last will and testament."

This judge may have religious prejudices, but he certainly set them aside for justice in this instance, and his name should be imbedded in the memory of Spiritualists everywhere as an honest judge.

No Witch Burned in Salem.

It is a fact that no witch was ever burned or put to death by fire in Salem or any other part of Massachusetts. How the impression that Cotton Mather and his associates had perpetrated that horror gained currency is inexplicable, but it has been floating around for generations, and in all probability will "go on forever." Salem was the scene of the trial, conviction and execution by hanging of persons accused of witch-Gallows hill, the eminence on which the hangings occurred, is perhaps the most interesting show place in New England. It may be doubted if more sincere or conscientious men ever lived than Cotton Mather and his brethren. They went to the Bible for their authority, to the Mosaic law, omitting the Christian dispensation. That law told them, "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live." Firmly believing in witchcraft, Firmly believing in witchcraft, and having no doubt that they had witches to deal with, what were they to do but to kill them? From their point of view they exercised great humanity in employing the gallows rather than the fagot.-Washington Post.

In whatever way Cotton Mather and his associates caused the death of witches, the fact of such killings goes to prove that Mather and his associates were more faithful believers and more conscientious in their devotion to the requirements of "Holy Writ," than modern orthodox religionists are. But what the modern believers lack in close obedience to Bible commands, they gain in humanitarian spirit, and therefore. though plainly disobedient to God's command, the modern believer is, humanely speaking, far better than his old-time progenitors.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Na-By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual rostrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism.' The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents.

"Healing, Causes and Effects." By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Price 50 cents.

MOST LAMENTABLE.

Run Off the Track—Rev. Moses Hull and the Morris Pratt Institute.

It is an established fact that cars will occasionally run off the track. However carefully guarded; however protected by ingenious mechanical applithat control them, yet they will occasionally run off the track, and disastrous results will follow.

It is impossible to guard them perfectly against accidents—they will occur in spite of all ingenuity.

The human mind, too, occasionally runs off the track, and insanity is the result. Hundreds are in our asylums for the insane, having run off the Track of Common Sense, and become intellectual imbeciles. One, a noted author, a clergyman and a Spiritualist, now in one of our asylums for the insane, ran off the track, and now insists that anyone who touches him will have bad luck or become depraved. Another, a lady, ran off the track, and now imagines she is a distinguished queen. She is harmless and apparently happy. Thus it is that in business, whatever the profession and however gifted the intellect, certain ones are liable to run off the Track of Common Sense, and disastrous results frequently follow. We are led to these remarks by a statement made by Rev. Moses Hull, who has charge of the Morris Pratt Institute at Whitewater, Wis. He says in his last magazine: "Do the Spiritualists at large realize that the Morris Pratt School is not the school of the teachers, of the students, of the trustees, nor yet of the Spiritualists of Wisconsin? It is the school of the whole world of Spiritualists. Its success is the success of Spiritualism and its failure is the deathblow to Spiritualism everywhere. What a step forward it will be when every Spiritualist gets far enough advanced in Spiritualism to consider it "my school."—when all will take interest enough in it to meet all its bills, and as a result, enjoy all of its emoluments."

Mr. Hull, like many other poor, puny mortals, in that statement, ran off the Track of Truth, and if his brain is not badly shattered thereby, we shall feel hopeful that he may recover in due season. The Morris Pratt Institute, with its 10 students, if it is not sustained, "ITS FAILURE IS THE DEATH BLOW TO SPIRITUALISM EVERYWHERE!" What a catastrophe will follow the demise-if a demise must come—of that Institute!

All the camp-meetings will collapse! Every Spiritualist paper will become weak as sick kittens, and finally perish! All our halls will no longer resound with eloquence, with tests of spirit presence, with glorious news from the realm of souls!

The National and State Associations vill disappear. Our speakers' voices will be silenced and desolation will reign supreme in our cause-all brought about in case the Morris Pratt Institute fails, with its half-dozen or so of students. Let every Spiritualist in the land commence wearing crepe on his arm in anticipation of the Day of Doom, for Spiritualists, we fear, will not support the Morris Pratt Institute as at present conducted and with its present list of studies.

To Spiritualists everywhere we say, don't be alarmed; the life of Spiritualism doesn't depend on the success of the Morris Pratt Institute. The same conditions that evolved Spiritualism to its present elevated position still prevail; the same state of affairs that brought forth our present inspired speakers still exist, and you may rest assured that others will arise to fill their places when they shall have passed to the realm of souls. There is no occasion for anyone to be disturbed, or to put crepe on his door in anticipation of the death of Modern Spiritualism. Spirits control in a great measure

Rev. Moses Hull is all right on the Spiritualist rostrum. He fills an important niche there. He is an eloquent. forceful speaker, and is capable of doing a most excellent work. As an author in special lines he is without a peer. In his proper place he is a giant, and exceptionally useful. We always liked the man and do still. As a prophet, however, he is a failure, especially in reference to the death of Spiritualism in case the Morris Pratt Institute, as at present conducted, should not be a success. Its suspension will scarcely cause a ripple on the surface of our cause.

this movement, and not mortals.

The Millionaires Spiritually and Mentally. According to the Chicago American, the Freie Presse, of Vienna, Austria, published an article by Caesar Lombroso, titled "The Psychology of the Millionaires," in which he discusses the physical and mental traits of famous millionaires like Astor, Vanderbilt, Morgan, Hill, Whitney, Carnegie and Rocke-

Lombroso says small sature is characteristic of the millionaire. Millionaires' children most are weak physically and spiritually, but the fact is explained by the chronic overwork of the

Their particular intellectual gifts are quick perception, true value of a deal and quick decision in undertaking it, perfect mental equilibrium and thriftiness approximating stinginess; above all, the absence of general culture.

Some millionaires possess genius like Carnegie, Vanderbilt and Gould. Inen it is a kind of military genius; genius for action; never artistic or liter-

Lombroso says as a rule millionaires are uneducated. They lay education aside when embarking in business. Commodore Vanderbilt wrote like an illiterate. Lombroso lays emphasis upon early poverty as a factor in the production of millionaires. Under the head of avidity Lombroso says "The insatiable thirst for profit born in the beginning of necessity" becomes later a habit. Deep egoism develops and there are no pangs of conscience, recently confessed by Rockefeller when describing the man who probably would succeed him.

"If Astor, Carnegie and Rockefeller say honesty is a necessary quality for success in the achievement of wealth, it must be taken in a relative sense, not as that honesty which would not injure ! - or "hardly ever."

a fellow-man. On the contrary, willionaires profit from the misfortunes and wesknesses of others, often creating them in their own interest. This proves that in all things even evil millionaires do not deviate from the average man."

Lombroso comments on the love of the average millionaire for splendor and pomp simulating the royal. Many possess fantastic genealogies fabricated tected by ingenious mechanical applifor themselves to prove blue, even ances, and however alert the minds princely blood. To this many join princely luxury, some entail their wealth like Vanderbilt and Gould, not allowing their sons and daughters to marry except into princely or wealthy families. Concluding, Lombroso says:

"Having, as a rule. limited education millionaires are scarcely likely to understand how to make their fellow-men happy. It is true some have showered millions upon education, but they're only a few."

Methodist Ministers Joke on Eterna

Punishment. At a recent meeting of the Methodist ministers of Cleveland the subject of eternal punishment was discussed. There is nothing strange in that, but the way the brethren looked at the terrible subject was remarkable. Twentyfive years ago there would have been no difference of opinion. The creed would have been upheld and no individual expression differing therefrom. There was diversity, and some of the ministers inclined to Universalism. One held that repentance is possible only in this mortal life, and those who die in their sins will be everlastingly punished or destroyed. Another had a hope that something would be done for the damned, but he weakly confessed he had not a Bible text to stand on and to preach it would bring the charge of heresy. Another thought the lost souls would not be punished forever, but gain reprieve by shriveling up into nothingness. The decided "hit" of the occasion was made by a pastor who stood for the old-time, eternal damnation, in hell-fire-doctrine, and he spiced his contention with comparison, which was turned into a joke, and set the whole assembly into a "roar of laugh-

That laugh gave the lie to the claim that a single one of those ministers believed the doctrine. It declared every one of them pretenders and hypocrites!

Laugh over the doctrine that untold myriads of sensitive souls are this moment burning in hell, and that there is a being at the head of this creation, who is so monstrous that he is pleased with this infinitely suffering!

What would be said of a man, who when he saw a mangled victim of some disaster, as crushed by a car, or scorched by flame, writhe in agony, should "roar with laughter?"

We would turn in disgust from such a monster. Yet here is an assembly of "spiritual teachers," setting themselves up as examples of holiness, who when the terrible fate of untold millions, more for future time; a fate to which all punishment inflicted by man in comparison is pleasure; a punishment to which the tortures of the inquisition are as nothing, even the fagots' flame for a brief hour, while the doomed myriads are chained over fagots that consume not, nor are consumed, "roar with laughter!"

Do they believe this terrible dogma? Then it is of such consequence, that instead of roaring with laughter, they should go forth and exert themselves to the utmost to lead people away from the overwhelming danger. Oh, they do not believe it! They cannot believe it. If they did, when they think of ninetenths of mankind doomed, that many of their dearest friends n parents or children who "died in sin" are at the present moment writhing in agony, hopeless, helpless forever and forever, would they sit and joke over the horrible affair and roar with laughter?

Anyone fully believing this portion of the creed would become insane at the very thought of it. Many sympathetic souls have been unable to endure the

The shadow of its half-belief has fallen on mankind, distorting the views of God, and making this life a journey of tears.

Vibrations Well Started.

Our "Important Questions" anent the Morris Pratt Institute and mediums' homes has, as we expected, started vibrations of thought throughout the Spiritualist ranks, and our intelligent and carnest thinkers are coming to the front with the free expression of their honest convictions. This is well and as it should be, and we have no doubt that good will evolve from the exchange of opinions. Let all bear in mind that though individual views may be widely divergent, each writer has the good of our cause at heart, and desires and aims to exercise his or her influence toward securing the best interests and the upbuilding and strengthening of the common cause so dear to us all.

Let these important subjects be con sidered in a calm, judicial spirit, striving to exercise our best judgment, aiming for the general good of the cause the work and the workers, and out of these vibrations of thought will result needful benefactions of spiritual good, and helpfulness toward all necessary forms of Spiritualistic humanitarian ef-

Let the matter be review calmly, dispassionately, broadly, with constant appeal to reason and the facts and circumstances underlying and surrounding the situation, "with malice toward none, with charity toward all."

Preaches While He Sleeps. Nashville, Ind., June 12.-A psychological wonder in the person of Rev. John Cauffman has appeared in Hamblen township, this county. Mr. Hamblen is an Amish preacher and he halls thing about him is that he cannot preach unless he is sound asleep. Mr. Cauffman goes to the church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and there, upon a cot, he will lie in a sound slumber until 7 o'clock, when he arises and enters the pulpit, the congregation meanwhile having filled the church.

Then he delivers a sermon, expound ing the scripture in well-chosen words, and, to the edification and wonder of his hearers, often continuing his discourse for two and a half and even three hours. He uses both the English and German languages in his preach

There is one notable difference be tween this Amish preacher and preachers generally. He is asleep while he preaches; they are asleep all the time -locked in the arms of an old somnolent theology which prevents them from awaking through the force of living, progressive, present-day thought.
Theirs is a sleep that arows no waking

GEO. F. PERKINS.

Writes of Spiritualism in Sacramento, sCalifornia.

We are sweltering under a hot sun, with thermometer around the hundred mark here in Sacramento.

Spiritualism as a movement, if not dend, is surely sleeping in the shade somewhere. In fact but few care whether there is public demonstration with organization in view. The usual wonderful" and "only" mediums drop in here a few days and pass on.

Plain fortung telling and card-reading eem to be about the thing the people want here. I have lectured all winter inder the most depressing conditions, and all of my receipts for services, in donations and other ways will amount to more than $18—a showing not very encouraging, to say the least. A fair audience assembled but they do not pay much.

John Slater as "The Psychic Wonder," draws a crowd for about four nights at intervals of uncertain time or dates. Nobódy thinks of talking organization to him or he to the audiences. His peculiar methods being distinctly "Slaterism" inasmuch as he has his own way of proceeding—copying or affillating with none. Mr and Mrs. Howe, from San Francisco, paid us a flying visit on the anniversary, but even such solid, capable and valuable workers as they are, could not induce the people to become interested in organization. Mrs. Selp and Mrs. McAvoy, from

Oakland, are now here, and they are good, honest and worthy laborers, but with the band concert at the Plaza Sunday evening, they cannot make their expenses at a public meeting. Dr. Ellisficken and wife are also here from San Francisco, but cannot stay because nothing but extra sensational efforts will draw a satisfactory audi-The old-time Spiritualists are either "gone to the silent land," lapsed into a "don't care" condition. I am struggling very hard to take care of Mrs. Perkins, who has not dressed herself for more than two years, and obtain expense money at the same time.

But not being able to leave her more than an hour or two, how can even my versatility succeed?

Every dollar coming into my possession in various ways has been as economically expended for her benefit as was possible. I am now in a little cottage at $11 per month rent, when if I had a few readings by mail, and occasionally a mail call for Vitae-Ore I could get along. I confess to a condi-tion of mental desperation in spite of my great exertions.

Mrs. Minnie Fink from Chicago, formerly of the Beacon Light Spiritual Church, has in company with Mrs. Froelich, paid us a flying visit, much to our glad surprise. She is now at Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. H. Penny, formerly a member of our audiences in Milwaukee, who permanently resides in Sacramento, is now visiting her people in Milwaukee.

Professor Fritz, the astronomer, with whom we became acquainted at our meetings at Washington, D. C., is now enlightening the people here with his gigantic telescope. He is an enthusiastic Spiritualist and is no small writer of philosophical verse. Several of our erstwhile attendants at some of our eastern meetings have surprised us with a call-and reminded us of our meritorious mediumistic work, which gives us satisfaction at least to know that if we did not make money while conducting earnestly and honestly our spiritual meetings in the numerous eastern cities, we have made a respectable reputation which serves us beneficially from time to time.

would be pleased to by mail to any eastern friend that is interested in Spiritualism and ourselves

Mrs. Perkins is very feeble and in a doubtful condition at present. GEO. F. PERKINS. 1120 17th street, Sacramento, Cal.

RAISES A SMILE

Dr. J. M. Buckley and Spiritualism

In order to show that many M. E. preachers are not fully in accord with the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, on the subect of Spiritualism, I make the following quotation from a letter recently re-ceived from one of them. It is not necessary to give his name. It is sufficient to say that he is a Methodist min ister and a member of the North Indiana Conference. Whether he will sooner or later be expelled therefrom on account of his knowledge and belief in Spiritualism, as was the Rev. B. F. Aus in expelled from his conference in Toronto, is a matter for the future to determine. But my reverend friend

"Spiritualism is false or it is true. It s good or it is evil. Dr. Buckley beieves it evil. He publishes his paper in the best interest of humanity. He is able to show, explain its phenomena without assuming the influence of disembodied spirits. He is able to show its claims to be false. If Spiritualism is false, it is one of the most widelyspread and rapidly-growing evils in the world at the present time. Now, if he were true to his life work and it required the entire force of his paper an entire year to expose and destroy this evil, it would by far, be the grandest achievement that could possibly be accomplished by him or even all such papers combined. "But see his pitiful subterfuge; he does not feel called upon to enter into the discussion of Spiritualism. ing to the sense of duty that I would suppose would be constantly calling at his conscience, I should think he would feel that his first highest and most pressing duty would be to attack and expose Spiritualism and let the world be done with it forever.

"He is dhadly mistaken when he thinks the M. E. church is settled on from Elkhart county. The remarkable | the subject of Spiritualism. I know more than one M. E. preacher who does not agree with Dr. Buckley on Spiritualism but who want to avoid a big rupture with the church. My wife tells me I will keep on until I get into it yet."

Now, it will certainly strike the sensible reader that the foregoing argument is unanswerable. It is the same that I have been using ever since I became interested in Spiritualism. If Spiritualism is, as the church avers, the work of the devil and it be the duty of the church to destroy the works of the devil, how in the name of common and uncommon sense can it ignore the subject? Treating it with "silent con tempt" did answer for a while, but it has long since proven a most dismal failure. The church originally denied that there were any genuine phenomena at all, pronouncing them all humbug and fraud. It finally discovered that this argument would not do, for it was being demonstrated every day that there were really, real phenomena.

subject, although, feeling it slipping rapidly away, it is anxiously hoping that before it entirely disappears even as an untenable argument, some discovery will be made that will explain the genuine phenomena of Spiritualism upon any other theory than that of the return of the spirits of the so-called dead. In the meantime the church will be as quiet as possible on the subject. and when its preachers are invited and challenged to debate it, as was the Rev Dr. Frank Talmage, a few years ago, it will enter a plea (as he did) of being "too busy with other and more important matters."

It makes me smile-I mean the excuses urged by the pulpit for not meeting the advocates of Spiritualism in debate upon it. H. V. SWERINGEN.

MRS. AUGUSTA KOPP.

Some interesting Items From W. F Jamieson.

As a 'remarkable medium, I had heard of this little, black-eyed lady many times, and as she seldom attends public meetings, where Spiritualists do most congregate, "Mohammed" had to go to the mountain—in this case a modest, self-poised little mountain. All absence of effort to produce astounding effects impressed me at once. I carefully avoided giving any clew as to identity or mission except that I had been dvised by a friend to call and have a sitting. She ushered me into the elegant front parlor of her residence, 1635 Carroll street, reached by North Fairmount electric car. She bade me excuse her for a few minutes. A stand. with small linen cover, a center piece, and a chair on either side, I noticed constituted the elaborate apparatus The medium, on her return to the room. invited me to be seated in one of the chairs, and lay my hands flat on the stand, while she sat in the chair opposite, placing her hands in like manner. Almost instantly that small piece of furniture became apparently instinct with life-and intelligence! A shower of raps. The word "shower" describes

it. Mrs. Kopp informed me that there were many of my spirit friends present. She looked as if she thoroughly believed it. She vouchsafed the information that she is clairvoyant; while I -- "mine eyes are dim, I cannot see" in that unearthly manner; hence I accepted her statement cum grano salis. But how about the "shower"? It never ceased, a continual "patter," regardless of my grounded skenticism.

That well-trained little table then began to jump up and down, several inches, right before my very eyes! I needed no clairvoyant eye to see that, Amazing impudence! I peered under the stand, a swift glance in the direction of the lady's feet. With mediums generally, including Dr. Henry Slade, this wandering of the eyes is prohibited. "Spoils the conditions." But this medium murmured not. It must be borne in mind I am no novice; have had sittings with the best physical mediums in the world, Slade, Mott, Hardy, Foster, Thayer, Blair, Boothby, Keg-win, Hollis, Allen, Cusser, McQueen. Augusta Kopp, the weird psychic of Cincinnati, imposes fewer conditions than any of them.

I remarked to her, "Well, this is good; I notice that you sit well back from the stand." I never saw a piece of furniture move more independently of human contact. I mean to investigate this phase still Then came mental manifestations

The medium quickly arose, and with closed eyes, offered a pretty prayer. In what seemed the usual trance state, she announced that a spirit by the name of "Jane" was present. I inquired if she could give her surname. This I could not get. Instead, an accurate description of "Jane" was given, and I frankly admitted that it fitted my mother. I am aware that some investigators, even some Spiritualists, make it a rule to not publish names they receive for fear other me diums will make use of them. This is There are ways innumerable puerile. by which the departed can be identified, if a good mode of communication is once established. I would welcome mother, or any other spirit, with both arms. I "try the spirits," if I can in any way be put in communication with them. I do not repel them; will do all can to help them give a message. It must be admited that, with the best mediums, the difficulties are very great in establishing a line of communication between this world and any other, even Mars, or our nearest neigh bor Luna. I will do my part, every time, in helping to establish such communication. If mother, through Mrs. Kopp, or any other favored mortal, could have answered my queries, and volunteered information concerning family affairs, I would rejoice. But I am told "they do the best they can." Doubtless; whether the "they" refers to spirits or mediums. Look at it as you will, this question of life after death (or change) is of supreme importance. We are all equally interested in the great problem, or should be. I am glad that the Spirit ualists have the courage to attempt its solution, while thousands of clergymen dare not touch it with the tips of their fingers, although they are paid to shed light on life beyond the grave. There is more light in one hour's se ance with Mrs. Kopp than in a thousand sermons preached by the most scholarly ministers on earth.

W. F. JAMIESON. Cincinnati, Ohio.

APOTHEOSIS. On the 12th of June I met the friends and relatives of the late Mrs. Rachel Ann Curtis, of Moravia, N. Y., to commemorate her emancipation from the prison of pain. The day was dark and dismal, and rain poured; but the spiritual light shone within, and the gospel of love bore testimony to the sorrowing. She is a sister of J. R. Francis, editor of The Progressive Thinker, and her well-developed spirit cheerfully anticipated the change, and she requested that no service be had, if no Spiritualist could be secured for the last rites. Such faithfulness is a credit to her memory and a lasting inspiration to the Her only son survives, and was 48 the day of the funeral. Her sister, Mrs. Marshall, faithfully ministered to her needs through all the weary weeks of suffering which prepared her for the change. She was 77 years of age the 21st of April. A noble representative of her sox and of the principles and virtues of Modern Spiritualism The influence of her life on earth will live in other lives for many years to come. LYMAN C. HOWE. Fredonia, N. Y.

"Meatless Dishes." Very useful. The church then changed its base of at | D. For sale at this office. Price &t. | of its master.

that were grauine ware from the devil —the work of the devil. This is the position of the church today on the position of the church today on the

And Yet He Boasts of No Religion.

A Man Who Talks With Birds-Charles | Once the Newfoundland found a spare D. Kellogg Can Speak Their Lan- row with a broken wing fluttering on guage-Remarkable Gift of a Naturalist—Birds of the Forest Fly to sire for prey has broken out again and Perch on His Fingers and Tell Their the teaching of years is undone." Secret-Adventures With the Camera

As set forth in the New York Sun, a traveler was cutting his way through siring him to mend the broken wing, the jungle which clothes the peak of ... The bird was in the hospital for Mount Diablo in the West Indian island of Jamaica. Suddenly he halted, with uplifted machete. "Fee-fee, so tender! Fee-fee, so-o-o-

in Birdland.

It was the call of the ground dove, traveler saw, not a bird, but a man.

and seemed to come from a low bush a few yards to the left. Away in the distance he heard the answering call of the ground dove's mate.

Peering through the bushes, the

He was lying on the grass in a small clearing, warbling the ground dove's call as perfectly as if he were a ground dove himself. The answering call grew nearer and nearer, and presently the female ground dove flew into the clearing, perched unhesitatingly on the man's hand, and talked to him as if he were This man whom the birds of the forest treat as one of themselves is an American named Charles Denison Kellogg. He was born in California, the son of a forty-niner who used to be known as the Grand Old Man of the Mines. From infancy he was a dreamy, unpractical child, with a great love and tenderness for all living things. boyhood he used to lie down in the woods and listen to the birds instead of going to school or playing with other All his life he has studied the languages and habits of the dwellers in the wood in preference to those of his fellow-men. "Imagine," said a friend of his, "s human being calling birds to him and understanding all the little worries and troubles in their seemingly careless lives. Could anything be more won-"He can tell you all about their wooings and their love songs, all about the long-drawn, happy notes of the mother bird who has just hatched her young His face in those moments tells the inlife with his feathered friends in the forests of the far west and the jungles of the tropics." There is not a bird note which Mr Kellogg cannot imitate perfectly. He does not whistle or sing the notes, as an ordinary man would do, he warbles teresting story of his lonely, yet happy them exactly like the birds. "It is not imitation," he tells his friends. "To put it briefly and baldly, Nature has given me a bird throat. "I cannot explain it, nobody can. Many scientists have examined my trills. They all confess themselves puzzled. "They say there is something peculiar in the formation of my throat which enables me to sing like birds without merely imitating them. I have never met another man who possesses this curious gift."

Mr. Kellogg spends the greater part of the year camping out in the woods alone, or with his wife, another enthusastic bird-lover, and perhaps a sympathetic friend like John Burroughs. He has traveled all over North America, from Alaska to Mexico, making friends with all sorts and conditions of birds, and he has also pitched his tent in Jamaica and other West Indian islands in search of birds which have been exterminated in the United States, such as he blue heron. He is not fond of taking people with him into the woodland. He treats the birds as a gentleman treats his friends, introducing only desirable acquaintances to them. Men who have accompanied him into the woods speak with amazement of his intimacy with and family life of a pair of wrens. everything that flies.

"The moment we entered the shady precincts of the woodland," said pher had to conceal his camera in a Stephen Chalmers, who accompanied mantle of foliage with only the lens vishim on one of his expeditions in Jamaica, "Kellogg's manner changed. "He had been talking to me about his adventures in various parts of America, but instantly he forgot my very existbirds. What puzzled me was that the birds seemed to know him. "Somewhere among the trees a woodpecker called. The call was answered, seemingly by another bird where Kel-standing. Again the woodpecker called, and again it was replied to.

"'Did you hear that?' I asked in amazement.

outstretched hand. "It looked up into his face, opened he uses artificial hayricks and bushes. its little beak and talked volubly to under cover of which he moves slowly him, while he talked back. They kept up a friendly conversation for several minutes and then the woodpecker flew away. "I don't know what he said to it, but it seemed to me that he was asking about the health and prosperity of its brothers of the woodland. "Presently we saw a black and golden banana bird fluttering around a plantain blossom. It suddenly stopped and uttered its sweet call, 'Tom Paine! Tom Paine!' "Kellogg instantly responded, and the bird looked at him and flew nearer. Then, for quite five minutes, they kept up an animated, melodious conversa graphs of the millions of gannets that tion. At last the gaudy-colored bird nest there. He was lowered down the flew away, and at the same moment the face of a precipitous cliff in a rope naturalist wheeled around and replied chair, with his camera slung around his to the 'Coo-coo-coo of a dove in a neck. cottonwood tree.

When he is asked to explain the reason of this instinctive friendship between himself and the birds, Kellogg

'It is love. Anybody who goes into ists. the woods with the spirit of love in his heart, and without the faintest desire for destruction or for possession, can make friends with the birds, if he is moderately tactful and patient. Birds can read the heart better than men can. They know their friends, and are ready to love them.

"In all my travels I have never carried a gun, and have never found it nec essary to harm birds, beast or man. The man who carries a gun in wild parts is likely to make trouble for himself; the man without firearms is prac their employers was great. They detically certain to find peace and a manded a round thousand dollars each. warm welcome wherever he goes."

Mr. Kellogg owns a big Newfoundland dog, which usually accompanies time given, the wages the ministers had him on his expeditions into the woods. decided just compensation for the work-He has taught it from puppyhood to ers. This gave the clergyme love all living things; as he himself dollars and forty cents each! Price 10 cents.

"Astral Worship." By J. H. Hill, M. the dog's head as they do on the hand er's time is no more valuable than as the ground and pounced upon it.

But it was not so. The dog lifted the sparrow gently in its mouth and bore it unharmed to its master, evidently de-The bird was in the hospital for some time, and every day the dog visited it to inquire sympathetically how the wing was getting on. When at last the bird flew away its canine friend barked joyously and rolled on the ground with delight. More marvelous still, the sparrow returned several times to pay a friendly call on the dog. Now and then Mr. Kellogg emerges from the woods to visit his friends and give a few lectures on birderaft. He is an unpractical man, quite out of tune with the age in which he lives. He cares nothing for money. He would just as soon lecture for nothing as for His only purpose in lecturing is to teach people to understand and love birds as he does, and in this he is successful. Sportsmen go away from his lectures vowing they will not slaughter another bird, and women make up their minds never to wear another feather in their hats. A fashionable woman wearing a bird in her bonnet sat in the front row of the audience at one of Mr. Kellogg's lectures. As he talked about the romance and tragedy of bird life, making the loves and sorrows of his feathered friends seem as real to his hearers as their own, people looked at the offensive bonnet with reproachful eyes.

The woman blushed vividly and tried to remove the bird furtively. At last the lights were turned down to enable lantern slides to be shown, and when hey were turned up again the bird had disappeared from the bonnet. 'I never felt so bad in my life," said the woman afterward. "The people looked at me as if they would have liked to treat me as the bird had been treated. "But that was not the worst of it. 1 felt myself such a monster! I'll not wear another bird or another feather as long as I live." Animals as well as birds love Mr. Kellogg on sight. He visited a house where a flerce dachshund was kept, The dog always attacked strangers and had bitten several. "Take care!" cried the host, as Kellogg walked into the garden. "The dog's loose."

The dog, hearing a strange footstep, rushed out intent on slaughter. But when it saw the Californian advancing with outstretched hand, it stopped with a puzzled look and wagged its tail doubtfully. Kellogg tapped its head lightly with ily into its eyes. Immediately it rolled on the ground with delight, licked his throat and listened to my notes and boots and could hardly be induced to leave his side. "Don't pat a dog or stroke its head," said Kellogg, turning to his host. "Tay its head lightly with your fingertips and the tips of his fingers and looked stead-

it will love you for ever." There is only one animal which does not appeal to the naturalist, and that is the cat. He doesn't like cats, because they prey upon his beloved birds. When a cat is around he delights in giving the fluttering cry of a bird with a broken wing. Pussy, scenting an easy mark, rushes vainly about the room until she is nearly frantio, but, of course, she cannot find the bird.

the new school of sportsmen who hunt with the camera instead of the gun. He has found photography of great assistance in probing the mysteries of bird life. Some of his snapshots are wonderful. They show a mother bird feeding her

Mr. Kellogg was one of the first of cuckoo. One series of photographs illustrates the love, courtship, marriage Great patience and care were needed to secure these views. The photogramantle of foliage with only the lens vis-

young, or quarrelling with the intrusive

ible, and wait for days to get a satisfactory snapshot. At Salem, N. J., there is an immense rookery, whither crows flock at certain seasons of the year from hundreds of ence and began calling to his beloved miles around. This was the scene of one of Mr. Kellogg's greatest exploits. For many years it had been the ar dent desire of many ornithologists to obtain a photograph of this rookery

when the vast flocks of birds were assembled. No one had ever succeeded in achieving this difficult feat until Mr. Kellogg did it. This was how he managed it: He reconnoitered the ground, and de-"Kellogg did not reply. He was cided that the only way to succeed was staring at the trees. In a little while a to ambush during the day, and trust to tiny woodpecker fluttered on to a tree a flashlight camera to take the photonear to us, and then on to Kellogg's graph at night. In stalking strange outstretched hand.

> toward them. One winter's night, when the crows arrived at their usual meeting place, they observed nothing unusual in an or dinary-looking hayrick which had found its way to the spot. Inside that hay rick was Mr. Kellogg with his powerful flashlight camera. There he lay all flashlight camera. There he lay all night in the snow, with the temperature several degrees below zero, taking photographs, while the deafening cawing of a hundred thousand crows made the night hideous. Mr. Kellogg was the first man to tackle the celebrated Bird Rock, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and take photo-

Swinging dizzily on the rope, with hundreds of gannets shricking around him and beating him with their wings. he took several pictures which have proved to be of great value to natural Strikers' and Preachers' Pay.

Ministers of the gospel departed from their usual impractical sermonizing, and engaged in arbitrating the recent stockyards strike. It was presumed by the strikers that these ministers adjudicated their grievances for the love of peace and good of their fellow-men. When these devoted ministers brought in their bill for services, the surprise of The strikers were equal to the occasion and gave them 30 cents an hour, for the ers. This gave the clergymen fourteen ensineer's.

Dr. Peebles' Scintillations:

known to us, breathed these beautiful lines:

"Tis somewhere told in Eastern story, That those who loved once bloomed as flowers On the same stem, amid the glory Of Eden's green and fragrant bowers; And that, though parted oft by fate, Yet when the glow of life is ended. Each soul again shall flud its mate, And in one bloom again be blended."

This "Eastern story" teaching, so adapted to the Oriental mind, of two mated souls blooming in paradisaic spheres as flowers upon one stem, but becoming disunited during jarring incarnations, and then becoming re-united again in a love pure and Platonian, is certainly a beautiful theme for contemplation. If it be but a dream, it is a very enchanting one. Evidently, it was the poet's purpose in the above rhythmic lines to teach the soul's past pre-existence.

Remember at this point that it is only the uneducated, lacking the finer elements of linguistic culture, that use the ovum, at the interrelational moment, or at the quickening, are demanded. Speculations do not count. They are out of India, is on the declining plane. Psychology, as taught by words pre-existence and reincarnation interchangeably. or at the birth, or at the seventh year. These have all been court. They are not synonyms. They are essentially different in designated the times—the diverse seasons for the reincarnaorigin and import.

The pre-existence of the conscious, inmost spirit is considered to be one of the clearest, strongest evidences of the soul's immortality. Few, with any philosophical insight, can be induced to look upon immortality with but one end to it. Few will contend that things particled and compounded, may not by a superior force, be non-compounded and disintegrated; and few still will be hold enough to assert that the interrelational acts of mortal parentage literally magically manufacture immortal souls! It is difficult to believe that there is not something in conscious, regal-souled man that is not the modern make-up of an all-too-often purposeless chance act. These thoughts lead directly to the reasonableness of pre-existence.

EMERSON, THE GREATEST OF AMERICANS.

remembered and honored by all English-speaking nations,

"The Eastern-born Nazarene belonged to the true race of Drawn by its severe harmony, ravished with its beauty, he dation of this karmic-incarnation is retaliation. lived with it and had his being there. Alone in all history, he estimated the greatness of man. One man was true to what is in you and me. He saw that God incarnates himself in man, and evermore goes forth anew to take possession of His world. Yet it is only in a 'jubilee of sublime-emotion' that Jesus can say, 'I am divine. Through me God acts; through me speaks.' Churches are not built upon his principles, but upon his tropes."

These are clear-cut, weighty words, bearing, indirectly at least, upon incarnation and reincarnation.

WHAT IS REINCARNATION, OR RE-EMBODIMENT?

Considering definitions, this is a knotty question. What cult is authorized to define it? Who is empowered to state right retrogression. It would be Ego-rotation from the flesh Its fundamental principles and purposes? Is it the Kalmuckian Lamas of Thibet; or the dreamy speculative Hindus of India? Is there not something weak and servile in drawing the philosophy of life, birth and death from the professor back to the old school-house to rectify some blunchildhood period of the world? Science thinks little of any ders made in the multiplication table. geological tree, and reason dignifiedly refuses to adorn herself in the old moth-eaten parchments of the East—the land of myth and imagination.

ALLAN KARDEC AND REINCARNATION.

Coming down to modern times and inquiring what is reincarnation, the theories of it are as numerous, as different more can I do when freed from this bondage of clayey earththat "spirits have not the choice of the world they are to in- a cog on the revolving wheel of a heartless karmic, fleshly say "black magician." So differ the East and the West. habit...Spirits animate men and women alternately...Many | fate. souls of this earth are reincarnated in Jupiter... There are still-born children who never had any spirit assigned th The spirit is not reincarnated in the new body till birth. The foetus has no soul... The body of an idiot may contain a spirit that animated a man of genius in a preceding incarnation. The idiot in the spirit state comprehends that its yellowing corn seek a return to the husk? Does the winchains of imbecility were explatory... The moral qualities that a man exhibits are those of the pre-existing spirit reincarnated in him... Several spirits sometimes seek at the the chrysalis shell? Does the newly hatched bird making same time to incarnate in a body about to be born." All of music in maple or elm, desire to be reincarnated into the old this, and much more of a similar character, is, as must be admitted, but a series of assertions, devoid of even the show of scientific demonstration.

It may not be amiss to here state that Allan Kardec was not only a clever mesmerist, but a great student of Oriental anything terrestrial to satisfy the onward, upward march of literature. His very being was saturated with the mysteries of the East. One can readily then see the influence that this individuality and imperishable identity. aural-thought must have had upon his mediumistic sensi- REINCARNATION AND THE INEQUALITIES OF LIFE. tiveness. It was my privilege to attend in 1870, some of the seances he had organized in Paris. St. Louis was the alleged spirit-president. It is reported that three hours after Allan Kardec's death, he dictated a message of affection through M. Deslions, one of his writing mediums (see my letter appearing in the Spiritual Universe, Chicago, Feb 17, 1870). It is needless to state that reincarnation, as taught by Kardec, differed in some respects as widely from the Thibetan and Brahmanic theories of reincarnation, as do the latter from the reincarnation promulgated by Theosophists and some American Spiritists. The dogma seems to lack a unitive basis.

HUMAN BEINGS RE-EMBODIED IN ANIMALS.

Many Brahmins, Buddhists and some Hindu Theosophists believe in the reincarnation or transmigration of human beings of the lower class into animals. This will not be denied. Conversing with them in Bombay, Madras, Madura and Tuticorin, and with Buddhists in Colombo and Kandy, Ceylon, they personally assured me with emphasis, that the baser and viler of human beings, would be re-embodied into tigers, and jackals, and even serpents. This was their karma. Here are some of my authorities: In the Colombo "Buddhist," of September 2, 1892, occur these words:

"The impressions of one's former life, or the 'accumulated experiences' are regarded as potent-factors in the determination of one's re-birth. For instance, if a man persistently poral, worldly, and physical environments. But the spiritdesire to eat animal food like a tiger, and longs to have the ual is the real, and the spiritually tolling farmer, or soilappetite and strength of that animal, it is possible that he handed mechanic, may be nobler at heart than the millionmay be born as a tiger; but from that circumstance it aire aristocrat. Grave-dust, and the disillusioned life just should not be inferred that the nature of the tiger on this ac. beyond, demonstrate this. count will be improved."

A Hindu writer in the Lahore "Harbinger" says:

plane downward,-that is, they have reached the limit which is contiguous to the plane of the lower animals. As the in. and moral, there would be no work for great-souled reformfluence of their wicked actions tends to degrade them, they ers. The optimistic thinker tires of this everlasting pessipass on to the sub-human plane, which is occupied by the mistic brawl of the lazy and the go-easy shiftless about the lower animals. They will then appear in animal forms... Our scriptures mention accounts of sages who passes into inequalities show not a scintilla of reason for reincarnation. the bodies of animals for a certain interval of time in expi. Inequalities exist now, and it is to be confidently hoped that CULTURED HINDU AUTHORITY UPON REINCARNA. ation of some sin."

Miss Catherine Christie, an excellent lady and Theosophist of Dunnedin, New Zealand, when lecturing upon reincarnation and karma, said in public and in words unmistakable. that "the lower classes of the old Atlanteans were reincarnated into animals." and some Indian Theosophists affirm that these karmic phenomena are still in process. Think of born again into brutality—the spirit back into a low, fleshly narrow time-sphere can mortal man get experiences, prop-

WHEN, AND WHAT THE METHOD OF REINCARNATION?

To the accomplishment of any rational result, there must be substantial material, purpose and a well-directed energy. forced through generation, from spirit freedom to flesh imprisonment?

The Thibetans, Hindu adepts, medieval occultists, French Spiritists and Theosophists all differ radically among themselves in defining the hypotheses and the methods. As knowledge is said to be "the world's savior," it would be most interesting to know if the descending Ego, that is, the tion planting.

In her "Epitome of Theosophy," the eloquent Mrs. Besant informs us that these "incarnations are not single, but repeated, each individuality becoming re-embodied during numerous existences in successive races,".. and she further assures us that "this slow process is going on through countless incarnations." And all for what? Am I told "to get attached tag imported from the Orient. Of "Isis Unveiled," knowledge"? But is this the only world in which to get knowledge? Is it to "gain more experiences"? But who would not prefer some experiences in climbing the mountains of the moon, sailing on the canals of Mars, or traversing the starry spaces? Am I further told that people are reincarnated to pay off some old karmic debts which they were not conscious of contracting? The scriptural prodigal the same planet, is not a rule in nature; it is an exception, son, symbol of humanity—justly suffering from hunger in a far-off land, voluntarily returned to his father, and what did The cause of it, when it does occur, she says, is, that the de-This poet-prophet whose centennial birthday was recently the father do? Did he send him back, memoryless, after a little devachanic rest at home, for more karmic experiences in eating swine-refused husks? No, the father forgave him; but now-a-day reincarnation knows nothing of the divine prophets; he saw with open eye the mystery of the soul. Fatherhood-nothing of forgiveness. In fact, the basic foun-

REINCARNATION OPPOSED TO EVOLUTION.

The grand theory of evolution is accepted alike by scientist, seer and sage. "Upward," exclaims the inspired poet, "all things tend." Look at the formation of this planetfirst the flinty, igneous strata, then the mineral kingdom, then the vegetable, then the animal, then the human as the crowning earthly glory, then the flesh-disrobed, death-defying spirit, conscious and proudly aspirational. Now then, if the vegetable does not reincarnate into the mineral, nor the animal back into the vegetable, nor the human back into the four-footed animal, why should the spirit reincarnate back into the fleshly chains of mortality? This would be downback into the flesh—the turning back of the individualized conscious spirit to the physical plane of being-a moral degradation! It would be comparable to forcing the university

Conscious of this wondrous life, vibrant throughout this illimitable universe, I look up at the stars and feel that I am chained to matter—and must I ever and ever return to be re-chained? I chafe under the thought. True, I can talk through the air to New York, and direct letters by lightning can be understood, when it is understood as a fact that she consciousness nor the least possible memory of committing. under the sea to Melbourne, but how much more—infinitely and as far apart as the poles. Allan Kardec (whose real liness, permitting me to explore the immensities, weigh the name was Leon H. D. Rivail), one of its first, if not the first mighty planets and exact from them their origins and their advocate of it in the Western world, declared in his writings biographies! Be this my destiny instead of being linked to

NATURE REBELS AT REINCARNATION.

The green apples of summer time do not contradict the ripened ones of autumn; but reincarnation, or re-embodiment, does directly, squarely contradict evolution. Does the nowed wheat strive to reclothe itself in its cast-off chaff? Does the winged butterfly hunt for and struggle to re-enter shell and storm-shattered nest? Do spirits, freed from fleshly aches and pains, desire to re-enter and re-wallow in human ions, cells and viscera? The asking answers the question-aye, more, it postulates the utter insufficiency of the soul, conscious not only of its consciousness, but of its

The "inequalities of life" has become a stereotyped stockin-trade song with reincarnationists. Some have few opportunities. Some are born with little, others with great capacities. Some are born in poverty, others in palaces of the rich. Well-why not? These temporary inequalities, seen from the subjective and the eternal, in connection with the absolute whole, are sublime in their philosophical bearings. There is eternity for the play of progression. Inequalities, diversities and differentiations are among nature's divinest gifts.

.Suppose there were an equality of all forest trees—say weeping willows! Suppose the surface of the earth were one vast plane of equality! What would the sturdy farmer say? Suppose again that earth's millions born to-morrow and all time thereafter, were born at the same hour of the day, under the same constellation, with the same dispositions, with the same capacities and with the same tastesand that a taste for mechanics! This, in its broadest sense would be equality—the much-harped "equality of life." How would you like it? Would not every intelligent person say, "monotony, monotony"? Certainly! And equality is little more than another name for monotony, and monotony to a thinking, stirring reformer, "would be hell!" Inequality, every way considered, has its rich compensation. The chief difference between the prince and the peasant, is tem-

Lincoln was a rail-splitter, Garfield a mule-driver, and General Grant a tanner-boy. Did they grumble about lack "There are some people who have done through the human of opportunity, early poverty, and the "inequalities of life"? If all men were born germinally temperate, well-balanced "inequalities of life." When sounded to their depths, these they will in the next and all future stages of existence. Was it not Pope who wrote:

> "Go teach eternal wisdom how to rule, Then drop into thyself and be a fool."

IS RE-BIRTH THE ONLY METHOD OF PROGRESSION?

this now,a day phenomena of humanity reincarnated—re- the materialistic theory that only in this fieshly body and The feeling, the emotions are very unreliable guides. erly unfold and round out a really regal character. This is incarnations." In the above cases and many similar ones in the Oriental a proofless assertion—an irrational statement, and nothing scriptures metempsychosis, transmigration and reincarna more! The sage returning to nursery life through this red dream imagination, or a morals neurasthenia?"

Is not this retrogression, rather than progress through evo- trained in a kind of childsh kindergarten, somewhat com- the country before." parable to a man equipped in boy's boots! This earth, it | Quite ilkely; this is a common experience of sensitives. should be remembered, is but a floating speck in the oceanic My own case is a telling example. Often in far-off countries realm of the mighty immensities, with other worlds more I see mountains, rivers, temples, shrines, perfectly familiar advanced, possibly, than durs, and spheres more refined, and to me. "Had you not been there before?" Nover in the zones more etheric and vastly better adapted to the educat body. "How do you account for it?" Upon the rational Now then, how is reincarnation accomplished? What the ing, unfolding and spiritually rounding up of character, than principle that accompanying invisible intelligences who had process? Does the Ego, the inmost spirit disrobe itself of this ever-changing fog-land region of floods and cyclones, lived in those lands, telepathically or psychically impressed the "astral," rather the spiritual body, as a preliminary step? competitions, cruelities and shocking barbarities, we tempo the perspective upon my mind—impressed it so clearly,

Self-purposed, does it dart like a ray of light to the waiting rarily now inhabit. Then why return? Why come back to firmly that I seemed to have once lived there bodily. The be encased—re-encoffined in human fiesh? Is it to finish up philosophy of these pre-phenomena has been confirmed to me undone work? This I could better do-infinitely better do, over and over again by the trance utterances of higher intelit seems to me, as a freed spirit, by impressing, entrancing and inspiring sensitives from my higher plane of life, than by returning through uterine existence, a period of placenta | Hindus: imprisonment, with the later accompanying teeth-cutting aches and ills of childhood and temptations of youth up towards manhood. If not a uterine confinement for the Ego, triad (Atma-Buddhi-Manas), enters the spermatazoon, or then how, and when, and why? Demonstrations and reasons

REINCARNATION NO PART OF SPIRITUALISM OR ORIGINAL THEOSOPHY.

It must be admitted by all up-to-date readers and journalualism, nor of modern Theosophy, founded in the residence of a prominent New York Spiritualist. This was an afterwritten after the foundation of this society, Col. Olcott wrote as follows: "H. P. Blavatsky says most positively, 'We will now present a few fragments of this mysterious doctrine of reincarnation—as distinct from transmigration—which we like the teratological phenomenon of a two-headed infant.' sign of nature to produce a perfect human being has been inother attempt. Such exceptional interferences, H. P. B. ex- working so hard to get rid of it?" plains, are the cases of abortions, of infants dying before a certain age, and of congenital and incurable idiocy. If reason has been so far developed as to be come active and discriminative, there is no reincarnation on this earth."

In commenting upon the above words of Madame Blavatsky, Col. Olcott says in his "Theosophist," Vol. III, No. 1:

"I believe that she wrote then (six years after the found ing of the Theosophical Society) as she did later, exactly according to her lights, and that she was just as sincere in denying reincarnation in 1876-78, as she was in affirming it after 1882. Why she and I were permitted to put the misquestion. So let it pass."

Appropos to the above, Alexander Fullerton, New York, secretary of the American Branch of Theosophists, wrote in the July "Theosophist," 1902, as follows:

"H. P. Blavatsky must always remain the insoluble problem for Theosophists. Her marvelous powers and her equally marvelous weaknesses, her inconsistencies, her incompatibilities, the palpable facts which contradict the necessary facts-all make up a compound which can only be partially described or imperfectly grasped, and which cannot in the least be understood." On the contrary, her "inconsistencies," her "marvelous weaknesses," her contradictions in previous incarnations, and of which they have now neither was a spirit medium (not a spiritual medium, but a spirit medium of the physical type, functioning on the earthly plane). by blasting its tenderest affections; for karma, or karmic law We are further informed by Mr. Fullerton (see "Theoso- allied to reincarnation, knows nothing of home, of mercy, of phist," July, 1902, Madras) that Mme. Blavatsky first appeared as a "white magician"—the educated class of Hindus ing sufferer is, "You sinned in a past incarnation. Now take

Mr. Fullerton, writing further in the "Theosophist," of a certain non-reconciliation, says: "Col. Olcott has demonstrated that she knew nothing of reincarnation during her other human body, under another name, in the slough of moryears in America, and that neither of them ever heard of it tality." until they learned it in India, and yet it is the vital doctrine of the Theosophic philosophy, which she must have studied demonstrations, it substitutes Cagliostro occultism, speculawhen in India before, also during her pupilship in Thibet. She was an advanced practical occultist when she first miraculously unreasonable, as they are unphilosophical. landed in the States."

The above statements constitute a trinity of remarkable confessions:

1. Madame Blavatsky wrote both for and against the dogma of reincarnation.

2. Neither Olcott nor Blavatsky ever heard of reincarnation till they learned it in India, that Siva-land of fancy and florid imagination. This being true, reincarnation should be branded, "borrowed from India!"

3. Reincarnation is "the vital doctrine" of the Theosophic philosophy. Be this remembered.

MY PERSONAL REINCARNATIONAL CAREERS.

As gravely as graciously have I been told at different times and in different countries by two or three spiritistic mediums, and several clairvoyant Theosophists, that several a sacerdotal priest officiating in one of the temples of Osiris in ancient Egypt; on my third re-embodiment, I was Habakkuk, the old Hebrew prophet; on a fourth "round" I was Herodotus, the Grecian historian and traveler; on my fifth reincarnation I was Origen, the early Christian father; on my sixth incarnation, I was Peter the Hermit, priest-vestured, cross in one hand, sword in the other, storming through and arousing all Europe in fieriest eloquence to rush in maddened war-legions to the Holy Land and rescue the tomb of Jesus from the unclean hands of unholy "infidels," these brown-skinned Islamic paynims.

All this may be true; but I've not a scintilla of proof of it. Aye, more, I am rigidly skeptical about it. Think of it,after all this prolonged series of incarnations, posing as Aryan adept, Egyptian priest, Hebrew prophet, Grecian historian, early church father, and Peter the Hermit, here I am plain, hard-working Peebles, plodding physician, writer and author! Where now is evolution? Where the progression? Surely, there's been none in my case. Where all those past Oriental experiences of mine? Where those bygone memories? Where the cranial records of those achievements? and what the benefit of all those vanished lessons? This, if I understand anything about it, is a universe of uses.

I have been informed that Socrates was reincarnated in Alfred the Great, David in Jesus, Elijah in John the Baptist, Mary Queen of Scots in the late Countess of Caithness, a Hyksos king in Col. Olcott, Solon, the Athenian legislator. matter. in two different California boys (so claimed by fond mothers), all of which, while exciting and feeding a childish vanity, is to scientists and illustrious thinkers, little more than snobbery-prattle, innocent of reason and void of a particle of descends into the atmosphere of our earth and vestures itself substantial proof. J. 19

TION.

Consciousness, science, reason and a cultured judgment, rather than marvel, mystery, and Brahmanical fables of reincarnating gods, must constitute the umpire concerning reincarnation. Neither the inductive nor the deductive methods of reasoning sustain it. Often have I been told confessedly The prime reason offered for re-embodiment is based upon by its devotees, "We cannot prove it, but we can feel it."

"Are you certain of it? Is it not rather hallucination.

tion may be measurably considered synonyms, that is to say, incarnating gate of conception, would, in fact, be going back. "But I see places, and seemery, and monuments, looking

"But I can remember some occurrences in one of my past

Tangled Links in Life's Chain, A Search for Truth. men gravitating downwards to be reborn in and as animals. wards, crab-like, minus memory, to be re-born and re-perfectly familiar to me; and yet I was never in that part of

Pre-xistence, Wetempsychosis, Transmigration, Reincarnation, Resembodiment, Egosrotation, Re-births,

ligences,

Listen for a moment to the testimonies of enlightened

Lankal R. Bhose, a law-pleader and learned Hindu author, thus writes: "Reincarnation, the legitimate child of transmigration (the latter is still the common belief in southern both the British and the French, is rapidly displacing the belief by showing its irrationality and depressing influences upon the superstitions in relation to animal, serpent and insect life."

That eminent Hindu scholar and author, Protab Chunder ists that reincarnation constituted no part of Modern Spirit- Mozoomdar, said in his great Lowell lecture; "Transmigration notoriously existed as an indispensable article of faith among the sects of old Hinduism. In modern times, however, it is called reincarnation, and held by the more superstitious. Educated, free-thinking Hindus reject it as a fading, unreasonable relic of the past."

The Rev. Dr. Savage, of New York, the distinguished Unitarian and Spiritualist, writes: "Reincarnation seems to me have from authority. Reincarnation, i. c., the appearance of a hopeless kind of doctrine any way you take it. It puzzles the same individual, or rather of his astral monad, twice on | me beyond expression; in so much as all the Hindus, all the Buddhists are engaged with all their powers, all their philosophies, all their religions, to get rid of being reincarnated; while here we are picking it up as though it were a new find, and something very delightful Before we take this novelty terfered with, and therefore she (Nature) must make an up, would it not be worth while to find out why they are > Among the general reasons for rejecting reincarnation by scholars and savants, are the following:

> 1. It is not based upon one sound, solid, demonstrated fact.

2. It denies, or sets at defiance, the great uplifing law of evolution.

3. Its boasted "800,000,000 believers" are made up of Brahmins, Buddhists, Chinese, Thibetans-who, as a whole, are among the most ignorant, imaginative and superstitious people on earth.

4. It degrades the spirit by bringing it rotatingly back statement into 'Isis,' and, especially, why it was made to me into the paralyzing meshes of earthly matter, instead of emby the Mahatma, I cannot explain, unless I was the victim of phasizing its ascension from the human spirit to the spiritglamor in believing I talked with a Master on the evening in ual, the angelic, the celestial, the arsaphic, and onward still from glory to glory.

5. It annihilates, or effectually stupefies memory during long periods of Ego-rotation, which memory constitutes the corner-stone of individuality and self-cognition.

6. It violates every analogy of nature, such as the upward march from mineral to vevegtable, from vegetable to animal, from birth to childhood, to manhood, to spirit untrammeled, and thus onward to celestial realms and spheres beatific and innumerable.

7.' It is unjust and retaliative enough to discipline, or painfully cause suffering to souls in this life, for wrongs done

8. It stifles the "sweet reasonableness" of human nature forgiveness or sympathy. Its heartless voice to the sorrowyour stripes, buffetings and soul-crushing agonies, neither complaining, nor rightfully demanding relief therefrom. Take another repotting into human flosh

9. For mathematical exactness, inductive reasonings and tions and wild hypotheses which are as undemonstrable and

10. It has no fundamental premises, no philosophy based upon discovered and scientific admitted facts; but wobbling about between the speculations of the East and the West, mingling Hindu magic with medieval alchemy, it shadows the mind with the relentless, hopeless eclipse of matter through vast "rounds" of Ego-rotation.

11. This Oriental reincarnation dogma having been the popular belief of India for thousands of years, has sunk the Hindu masses into an almost hopeless condition of soul-paralyzing apathy. To this end Col. Olcott thus wrote: "The best friends of India, her most patriotic sons, have deplored to me the moral darkness and degradation of her people. Native judges....have lowered their white heads in shame when they said that the vice of lying and the crime of perjury prevailed to a fearful extent. And the worst part of it was that the moral sense was so far gone, that people conthousand years ago I was an Aryan adept, summering on fessed their falsehood without a blush, and without an idea Ganges' floral banks; on a second incarnating "round" I was that they were to be pitied." What a comment upon the fruits of reincarnation! And how sad the thought that there are dreamy, imaginative Englishmen and a few of our countrymen trying to cram this theory into the minds of thinking, reasoning, wide-awake Americans!

12. It is opposed to physical science, to mental science, to the spiritual philosophy, to the harmonial philosophy, and to the direct testimonies of those exalted intelligences whose radiance makes brilliant the hierarchies of the heaven of heavens. That certain, earth-bound souls, and unprogressed Hindu spirits teach this deplorable, depressing dogma, is admitted. They will outgrow this delusion in time, for "upward all things tend."

IS THERE A RESIDUUM, OF TRUTH IN REINCARNA-TION?

Most assuredly there is—and so there is in Parseeism, Quakerism, and Mormonism. Joseph Smith was a clairvoyant. He had and exercised spiritual gifts. Yes, there is a germ of fact in reincarnation, because spirit is ever incarnating itself into matter.

1. Enlightened minds well know that the Gibraltar rock of Spiritualism is Spirit-all-pervading and all-energizing Spirit. Substance, invisible in its finer gradations, when chemically manipulated and precipitated, becomes matter, the subject of the sense-perceptions. And spirit interpenetrates, incarnates and perpetually reincarnates itself into

2. A conscious spirit disrobed of gross materiality, dwelling in some spiritual sphere afar of rich-blazoned splendors, re-embodies, or in a sense, reincarnates temporarily when it in such visible atoms, ions, molecules and refined elements in such visible atoms, ions, molecules and refined elements as it can manipulate for materialization, for the accomplishment of some great purpose, something as the university professor may descend from his collegiate chair, and donning the foot-ball suit, teach the necessity of exercise and the graces of muscular motion.

3. The aural emanations extend from persons from one to five and even twenty-five feet. This is especially true of psylone.

chics. They are enveloped in an odyllic cloud. Now then, when a spirit approaches from some higher, brighter sphere into the radius of this human aura, attaching itself thereto and mingling therein, it in a sense, incarnates and reincarnates to impress for some end, unworthy or praiseworthy, depending upon the degree of the spirit's unfoldment.

(Continued on seventh page.)

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED

BY NO METHOD UNTIL "AU-TINA" WAS DISCOVERED.

Ninety-five per cent of all cases of deafness brought to our attention is the result of chronic catarrh of the throat and middle ear. The air passages become clogged by catarrhal deposits, stopping the action of the va bratory bones. Until these deposits are removed t cure is impossible. The in ner ear cannot be reached by probing or spraying hence the inability of au rists or physicians to cure. Ear drums are worse than useless. That there is a scientific cure for deafness and catarrh is demonstrat. ed every day by the use of generated in the Actina passes through the Eustachian tubes into the iddle ear, removing the catarrhal obstructions as it passes through the tubes, and loosens up the bones (hammer, anvil and stirrup) in the inner ear, making them respond to the slight-est vibration of sound. Actina has never failed to cure ringing noises in the head. We have symptom for years to be completely cured in only three weeks' use of Aotina. Actina also cures asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, weak lungs, colds and headache; all of which are directly or indirectly due to catairh. Actina is sent on trial postpaid. Write us about your case. We give advice free, and positive proof of cures. A valuable book -Professor Wilson's 100 page Dictionary of Disease, Free. Address New York & London Electric Association, Dep.

Actina. The vapor current

709

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinker, as printed at the top of the first page, right hand corner. If this number corresponds with the figures on your wrap-per, then the time you have paid for has expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is advanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to date. Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

In Current Spiritualistic and Occult

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. The Philo ophy and the Spiritualistic and Occul phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can an ford to be without the paper. Its price is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old. Or the World's Progress in Thought. By Moses Hull. An excellent work by this veteran writer and thinker. Price, 10 cents.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two Worlds.

Elevating, Fascinating, Instructive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing in exceptionally interesting. She well says: "These characters which have brought out the highest and lowest in different religious beliefs, have moved me, not I them." The whele book is to teresting, fascinating, and instructive.

A. SCHOPENHAUER ESSAYS. A. OCHUYLINIAULK LOOAIO.
Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth, 75 cents.
"Schopenhauer is one of the few philosophers who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is; and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life. This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."—Translator.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut. Taken from the Code of 1850, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1855, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in New England. Some extracts from the Plue I aws of Virginia. Price 25 cents

THE MISSING LINK IN MODERN SPIRITUALISM.

By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family. By A. Leah Underbill of the Fox Family. Interesting and valuable as a history of the beginning of Modern Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Sistors, 478 Pages, 15 illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. History of the Hydesville rappings, as related by eje-witnesses; remarkable and well-attested manifestations; the "exposures," ctc. Handsomely bound in cloth, But few copies remaining. Publishers' price, $1.50. We will send the book postpaid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES,

By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggle for life. By Charles Darwin. Gilt top, cloth bound. This book it toe grandest achievement of modern scientific thought and recearch. It has passed through many editions in English, has been translated into almost all the languiges of Europe, and has been the subject of mor 'reviews, pamphets and separate books than any other volume of the age. Most of the great scientists of this age fully support his position. The thought of this age fully support his position. The thought of this last of the common inheritance. For sale at this office. Price 75 cts.

A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. 1. New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher, M. D. In this volume the author, in Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinces the powers of a trained thinker, both in matter of thought and fine literary style, and capability of thought expression. The subjects are well handled with conciseness and yet with clearness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning Spiritualism and its teachings. Price 81.60.

THE SOUL OF THINGS:

Molecular Hupothesis of Nature The Relation of its Principles to Continued En istance and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper, 24 cents.

OUTSIDE THE CATES and other tales and sketches. By a band of spirit to colligences, chrough the mediumship of Mary Therens Shellamer. An excellent work. Frees, $1.50. Her mile at this wilco.

.. GENERAL SURVEY ..

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS, DOINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS.—Each contributor is slove responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor silows this freedom of expression, be lieving that the cause of truth can be best subserved thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly understood that our space is inade-quate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire to do so. That must account for the non-appearance of YOUR article.

WRITH PLAINLY.-We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linotype machine that must make speed equal to about four compositors. That means rapid work, and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other re-quirements being favorable, should be written plainly with ink on white paper, or with a typewriter, and only on one side of the paper.

ITEMS,-Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occupy, and in order to do that they will generally have to be abridged more or less; otherwise many items would be crowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line item is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the write. It will not do to say that Secretary or Correspondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep copies of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned if we have not space to use them.

Mrs. S. J. Cutter, who resides at No. 549 Warren avenue, will attend the Clinton camp this year. We have known Mrs. Cutter for many years. She is a most estimable lady, and as a medium for various phases, she ranks among the best.

A. L. Drumm, of St. Louis, Mo., has removed to 1223 North Sarah street, that city, where he can be addressed The Vermont State Spiritualist Association held its quarterly convention in the opera house, Hardwick, Vt., on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 19, 20

Mrs. Sarah E. Herrick, who resides at 296 N. Ionia street, Grand Rapids, Mich. is now secretary of the campmeeting to be held at Reed's Lake, near that city. Thos J. Haynes for-merly occupied the position. Mrs. Laura Fixen will lecture for the Englewood Spiritual Union, 528 West Sixty-third street, on Sunday, June 28, at 8 p. m.

G. W. Kates and wife held meetings in Billings, Montana, June 14, 15 and 19. These were the first public lectures on Spiritualism given in Billings. They attracted considerable interest, and large attendance. A local society has been started and a charter from the N. S. A. will be secured. Mr. and Mrs. Kates held pioneer meetings in Red Lodge, June 16 and 17, and attracted much curiosity, securing favorable comment. They are also to speak in Butte and medium, is engaged at the Chesterfield Park on the beautiful Fox River. The (Ind.) camp-meeting for the whole seaton from July 16 to September 1. He C. & N. W. Ry., at 8 a. m., Saturday, Band of Light of West Superior, Wis., is now ready to engage for the fall and June 27, 1903. Ravenswood station can winter season to lecture and give tests. Address all letters to 404 East Fourth by taking the Clark street limits car to street, Newport, Ky., until July 14; limits; transfer to Clark street elecafter that to Chesterfield (Ind.) camp- tric car; leave car at Wilson avenue; meeting.

Hull, and heard him lecture at Vine-Los Angeles, Cal., will hold a mass

convention, June 26, 27 and 28. It will State Spiritualists' Association, and will have active co-operation of all the Ravenswood Union Sunday-school Spiritualists of the Angel City in mak-Frank N. Foster, the spirit photographer, has left Chicago for the camp season; he will be at Reed's Lake camp, Grand Rapids, Mich., during July and at the Chesterfield (Ind.) camp until September 2, when he will return to

We have received four letters at this office without signature, from the following places: Boston, Mass.; Toledo, O.; Ellensburg, Wash.; Apollo, Alaska. Dr. J. M. Peebles is still actively at work; has been lecturing at Muskegon and Sturgis, Mich. He has received applications from a dozen camp-meetings to lecture. The Doctor does not, however, like to camp out in the woods.

Thos. J. Haynes writes from Grand Rapids, Mich.: "Will you kindly inform the readers of your valuable paper that on account of personal business I was obliged to resign the office of secretary of the West Michigan Spir-itual Association? My successor is Mrs. Sarah E. Herrick, wife of the president and manager. Her address is 296 N. Ionia street, Grand Rapids, Mich. I write this for the benefit of people corresponding with me in order to save delay in replies to the letters, as mail forwarded to me has to be forwarded to her, and this will facilitate a reply. Prospects are good for a large meeting, the grounds are beautiful and the work of cleaning them up and arranging for the meeting is practically completed and everything points to a good time."

Dr. Beverly writes: "The talent and attractions at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, continue to draw crowds every Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m. Special music has been secured for the next meeting. I am determined to have the best talent that can be secured. I will have none but honest mediums. Everyone is promised a test. Mr. Peterson will give his wonderful demonstrations of spirit return to each meeting. The child wonder continues to attract people, for the room, and spirit voices are heard all know she is young and innocent, and in loud tone, under the described condiwonder continues to attract people, for unknown to deceitful ways and methods. All summer these meetings will and remained to May 30. She gave a be held and you will never be disappointed if you attend and bring your privilege of remaining in during the se-

Anna Leaser writes from Wheaton, Minn .: "On June 9, Mr. and Mrs. Kates, our worthy missionaries for the N. S. A., closed a week's engagement at this place. Eight times they spoke to appreciative audiences, and many regrets mein with un longer."

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Barrett is able to resume his post as editor of the Banner of Light. He says: "With the next issue of the Banner of Light, the editor-in-chief will resume his post of duty, laid aside, because of illness, early last winter. He extends greetings to all of his friends, in all quarters of the globe, whose words of sympathy and good will have done so much to sustain him in his exile from home. pecially are we commissioned to thank the Spiritualists of the world, who, on the 29th of January, 1903, at the suggestion of the secretary of the N. S. A., Mrs. Mary T. Longley, centered their thoughts of healing and good cheer upon him and other members of the family circle who were ill at that time. Their kindly wishes and sympathy were greatly appreciated, and will ever be retained in memory as friendship's sacred offering. To all who have sought to aid the Banner during the editor's absence, particularly Rev. William Brunton, Miss Susie C. Clark, Miss Lilian Whiting, Paul F. DeGournay, W. J. Colville, Mrs. Minnie M. Soule Charles Dawbarn, and all others whe have contributed to these columns, the editor and the management of the Banner return their hearty thanks. After this issue, our editor will speak regularly to readers, and will endeavor to sustain the high standard of excellence wnich has been attained during the past six months.' Frances A. Sheldon, pastor of the Ta-

Spiritualist Church, writes:

coma

"Thinking the readers of The Progressive Thinker would be interested in the doings of the Spiritualists of this state, I thought I would tell them that we again claim Daniel W. Hull. June 4, he passed through this city on his way to Spokane to fill a two months' engagement with that young and flourish ing society. We are more than glad to welcome him back to Washington. While away I lectured three times in Ellensburg. The attendance was good The result of ten days' work was an organization with 28 charter members. The next place was Thorp where a fine audience greeted me. From there to Cle Elum; only an hour's ride. I gave one public lecture; all the space taken not being chairs enough, the men very gallantly gave their seats to the ladies they themselves sitting on the floor and in the windows. The people seemed to be quite anxious, to learn how to form circles. I held one meeting for instruction in that direction. The result was the forming of one with fair prospects for two circles. I left the friends to hasten home to fill the platform of the Tacoma Spiritualist Church of which I am still the pastor. During my absence the church has been served by Mrs. McCall and Mrs. Flora Heckman. Judging from the audience they have done their work well. The interest is on the increase." Mrs. S. J. Ashton writes: "The picnic of the Sunday-school of the Church of Frank T. Ripley, speaker and test the Soul will be held at Mill Creek be reached from the center of the city walk west to railroad station (time re-Calvin Chamberlain writes: "I have quired, one hour); or by 7:30 train been pleased and benefited by your pa- from Wells and Kinzie streets. Bring per for several years, and in the course of human events we must soon part There is plenty of shelter. The ride is company, as I am now working out my a beautiful one, and is worth much ninety-third year, dating from October more than the price of the ticket. 8, 1810. I have been favored with per- Adults, 50 cents; children, 25 cents. If sonal acquaintance with some of the possible, notify the committee at once leaders in our ranks. I met our Moses of the number of tickets you need, as our Sunday school will benefited by all ickets sold before Friday, June 26. Tickets may also be bought at the train. Another train leaves the Wells and be under the auspices of the California | Kinzie street station at 12:30. Special cars honor picnic tickets. We go with picnic. Send all communications to S. J. Ashton, 2785 N. Hermitage avenue, who will meet you at 8 a. m. train with the tickets you order."

Oscar A. Edgerly writes from 1207 Third avenue, Peoria, Ill.: "On Sunday, June 14, I began a three weeks' engagement with the Progressive Spiritual Society of Peoria, Ill., and I feel that Mr. Sprague did a grand, good work for our cause in organizing this society, for never have I met a more harmonious, energetic and wide-awake people than this same Peorla society. I feel that they are destined to do great honor to the Illinois State Association. The work of my guides seemed to be well received, and I anticipate enthusiastic meetings during my stay."

Lyman C. Howe writes from Fredonia, N. Y .: "I read Prof. Jamieson's comments on Dr. Sweringen's view of skepticism, and saw the same tendericy so common among the class of critics who have nothing to affirm, and are forever beating about the bush for something to talk about without saying anything. I like Jamieson, but he seems to have lost his balance in his search for annihilation. Dr. Sweringen's rejoinder in the last Progressive Thinker impresses me as logical, consistent and forcible. Hyper-skeptical negations are often as absurd and illogical as any religious creed. Does Prof. Jamieson require personal observation of all facts, before he accepts them? Did he ever see a murder committed? Does he think there ever was one? Did he ever look at Venus through Galileo's telescope? Does he believe that Galileo did? or that he ever had a tele scope? Did he ever witness the fall of a meteoric rock? Does he believe there ever was one that visited the earth? Dr. Sweringen's position seems to me well taken and impregnable."

Mrs. E. Roberts, M. D., writes from Connersville, Ind.: "Maggie Vestal, a fine light trumpet medium, holds seances in full daylight, sun shining in tions. She came to my house May 25, ance. Quite a number came and had the finest communications I ever heard. I deem this something fine and worthy of attention. She is residing in Dayton, Ohio, No. 728 Ludlow street."

E. D. Yough, secretary, writes from

When writing for this paper use a pen or typewriter.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

made this year, at New Era, Clackamas county, for the greatest camp-meeting yet held. The camp opens Saturday July 4, and continues to Monday, July 20, Mae E. R. Hunt, the noted Call fornia inspirational speaker and medium, will be present. Chas. F. Goode, D. M., will appear Sunday, July 5, and Rev. J. H. Lucas will occupy the platform, Sunday July 12. Board at the camp hotel will be $5 a week; 25 cents for a single meal. Admission (including all lectures and seances) 10 cents a day or 25 cents for the season.'

has so far recovered his health that he Dr. W. O. Knowles has some open dates in July. If any camp would like a trance and message bearer, or for lectures and tests, the terms will be liberal; he also will answer calls for funerals at all times. Citizens' Phone 2549; Bell Phone, Main 1677; can reach him at either phone. Grand Rapids, Mich.

Gertrude Spooner, secretary, writes:
"The management of the Wonewoc camp-meeting would like to call the attention of all who are interested to the fact that our programmes are now out, and all who desire a copy of same can have one by sending their names to the secretary of the Association. Remember our camp opens, August 13 and closes August 31, and that the talent secured is of the highest order and the equal of any in the land. Our grounds are naturally adapted for camp-meeting purposes, and all who attend this meet ing will be sure of a pleasant outing and a profitable time generally. Campgrounds are but two blocks from the lepot, less than that distance from two first-class hotels, which makes it most convenient. The location is most picturesque and attractive, being as it is among some of Wisconsin's most beautiful hills, and overlooking the beautiful Baraboo valley. The daily train service is excellent, as we are situated on the main line of the Chicago and Northwestern Ry. The people of Wonewoo and the management are doing all in their power to prepare for the camp and make it the source of the greatest possible amount of pleasure and comfort for visitors. Therefore, if you want a good outing, a profitable trip, to know something of the better and brighter side of our philosophy and its phenomena, come to the Wonewoo camp, and stay throughout its sessions. Send in your application for tents now, as it will save confusion later on. We will reserve tents, have them set up ready for occupancy, and see that you are made welcome. Write now. Address me at Wonewoc, Wis."

M. A. Dull writes from Van Wert, O.: Mrs. J. M. Bryan and Mrs. Hilbert, of Chicago, have spent a week in Van Wert, working for the cause of Spiritunlism. Mrs. Bryan is a good trance lecturer and Mrs. Hilbert is an exceptionally fine test medium. They have aroused quite an interest here and after Mrs. Bryan's ordination will return to spend two more weeks with our society. Societies in need of help will make no mistake by employing these ladies."

W. A. Wilson writes from Elwood, Ind.: "Harry J. Moore and W. C. Jessup have been conducting meetings here in Elwood for the last ten days, and to say that they aroused an extra interest in the cause of Spiritualism would only be doing them justice. The people of Elwood, skeptics as well as Spiritualists, believe that Mr. Moore is one of the best lecturers in the field, and we also think Mr. Jessup is doing more and lilies which filled two vases. He good and making more converts to was invited to preside by Chief Stand-writes: "We closed our public meetings June 8, for the warm season. We had a lovely meeting, and it will cheer our drooping spirits until fall when we hope to be able to open meetings again for the winter. The children had a beautiful programme, and we all rejoiced to see the brave young spirits stand up and speak. We feel proud of our young folks, but we feel still prouder of the talk and messages that we received through the mediumship of our noble worker, Mrs. Flora Slender. The tests came very strong and to the point and were all recognized as correct. Mrs. Slender brings joy and comfort to all who are in sorrow, and she loves to give messages to the earnest souls that prise birthday party last Wednesday are searching for light. The Band of evening. John Born and Ida Bell Av-Light Society is small in number, but strong in union? E. R. Kidd writes from Canton, Ohio:

"We believe in praise when praise is due to man, to woman and to our mediums true, therefore, permit me to say a word through The Progressive Thinker in behalf of two true and tried mediums, both of whom have many friends in this and other states and to whom the genuineness of the manifestations that take place in these mediums' seances has repeatedly been proven to many well balanced and skeptical minds. The first of whom I wish to speak is Mrs. M. Kemp, of 527 Scoville avenue, Cleveland, Ohio; the second, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, of Alliance, Ohio-the former a materializing, the latter a trumpet medium. The fullform materializations of spirit friends to be seen in Mrs. Kemp's seances are indeed convincing and prove conclusively that our so-called dead friends still live and under proper conditions can and do build up a temporary form strongly resembling the one they lived in while on earth. In Mrs. Tiffany's circles they come with familiar greetings, characteristic expressions, loving messages and never fail to give the best of advice and in many ways prove their identity, sincerity, love and constancy. As a result of the writer attending Mrs. Kemp's seances he has met with most satisfactory results through materialization of his spirit friends, most all of whom are blood relations, whose earthly bodies have long since been consigned to the grave, the body of one of them to a watery grave, it having been consigned to the billowy waves of the great Atlantic from a ship upon which he was returning to his native land, yet there are people within our ranks, apparently honest investiga-tors, who claim they have never seen anything in materialization to satisfy ommend Mrs. Kemp to them; upon the of social intercourse with your arisen with Mrs. Tiffany, since I feel well as-

Morse: "From a private letter, we able transcontinental contributor, Mr. people in the audience." J. J. Morse, will arive in San Francisco, loved cause. But his welcome will not be confined to San Francisco alone, nor to California, but it will spring spontaneously from the heart of every Spiritualist in America. The name of J. J. Morse is a household world in the home of every Spiritualist in the world, and no one worker can muster more personal friends than can he. The Banner bids him welcome to America for the fifth time, and extends to him and his family the right hand of fellowship as they land at the "Golden Gate" of the Pacific. Mr. Morse is one of the ablest speakers on our platform, and should be kept busy during the entire year he purposes remaining in America. All applications for his services should be sent to 1429 Market street, San Francisco, Cal., for the present. His daughter Miss Florence Morse, is not only an eloquent and able speaker, but is also a most excellent psychic. Societies would do well to secure her services, as they will be greatly benefited by so doing. Write her at once, and keep her busy while with us." Under the head of "Woman Divine," the Philosophical Journal says: "Spiritualism and Its Relation to the Needs of Humanity will be the subject of the lecture to be given at Odd Fellows' Hall. Sunday afternoon, by the Rev. Anna L. Gillespie, of San Francisco, Mrs. Gillespie is pastor of the People's Church of San Francisco, a church which is non-sectarian, its platform being open to all the social questions of the day which affect the religious life. This woman, who was ordained fourteen years ago, is the wife of Mr. Gillespie, who is western auditor of the Westinghouse Company. He is also president of the California State Association, When seen by an Evening Journal reporter yesterday afternoon Mrs. Gillespie expressed her pleasure at being able to make a two weeks' visit with Albany friends which would bring with it a certain amount of relaxation, for said she: 'My interests are so many and my a few days for recuperation come as a boon. While in Albany I will give one Sunday lecture, with possibly two week-day talks on 'Motherhood' and 'Prison Work,' two subjects in which I am deeply interested. Then I will again take up my regular work, going to Pittsburg, Cleveland, Grand Rapids, through Tennessee, and finally home to San Francisco.' Mrs. Gillespie is wellknown for good work among prisoners, especially in her own city. She is well informed on prison discipline in the various states, and is quite an authority on prison reform. Said she 'The parole system, which is being used with such success in Indianapolis, will, I believe solve the question of reformation. The 'cottage' system, which is so well used in connection with youthful delinquents is also a valuable aid. It consists in advancing those committed to reformatories gradually from the barred prison to the various cottages, where the discipline becomes less and less severe. The crying shame relating to imprisonment and the one for which there seems to be no help is that no matter how many of his best years a man may give toward the expiation of the stigma of his prison life ever kept before him. This is a condition which no prison reform seems to alleviate." L. writes from Detroit, Mich.: "H. G. Collins, of the Cnicago Lodge Brotherhood of Light, paid a surprise visit to the Detroit Lodge, on Sunday evening He bore a large bunch of roses Spiritualism than any medium who has ever visited this place."

AND ADDRESS WHEN SENDING NO. TICES AND GOMMUNICATIONS FOR PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE WASTE BASKET.

Chas. J. Danielson, secretary of the characteristics of the control of the co tional work, and showed how Oahspe could be read and studied to the great-est advantage by all who comprehend the philosophy of Spiritualism. Mr. H. Hard, a devoted student of Oahspe, who came here from Finland a few months ago and joined the Brotherhood, returned to his native land to spread the light there. The colony of this Brotherhood is located at Weboles, Colorado, Valley of Light, and is in a prosperous condition in every way. A number of ladies under the inspiration of Mrs. Rose Ferris, 59 Grand River avenue. have organized a Sunshine Club, for spiritual work. Mrs. Jenkins, of Windsor, spoke for the Earnest Workers last Sunday. Wm. Stacey was given a surery, both mutes, were married on the 17th inst.: recention at 804 Abbott street. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Avery, the well-known test medium

his crime, the debt is never paid, and he usually remains a social outcast with here. Miss Clara Marsh writes from Rochester, Mich.: "We had the pleasure of entertaining James Riley, of Marcellus, Mich., last Sunday. It was a reunion of friends, both mortal and spirit, and enjoyed by one and all. In the evening we had one of his wonderful dark circles, and we felt the touch of spirit hands as our loved ones hovered near us or flitted about, all the time giving us evidence of their continued love and affection. How it stirs the heart to strive for greater light and spiritual unfoldment when we know those we love are ever near us though unseen, to aid us in our efforts to live a good life. Mr. camp grounds there is a hotel and a Riley left here to fill engagements in dance hall, 150 houses, a store, barber Let the good work go on, and may he live many years to advance the cause of truth, and give to seeking souls knowledge of the life that awaits all after the change called death. I was much pleased with the article written by H. W. Boozer, of Grand Rapids, in The Progressive Thinker of June 13. entitled 'The Lord's Prayer,' also his rendering of the hymn, 'Nearer, My God to Thee. 'Nearer, O Soul, to Thee' is so much more beautiful, and more in accord with true spiritual aspiration."

The Brooklyn (N. Y.) Times says: "About fifty people were present at Review Hall, Freeport, L. I., last night to listen to the address of Mrs. Bingham on 'Spiritualism.' Her definition of Spiritualism was 'declaration and demonstration of ontinual existence. stated that the subject has been generally misunderstood. That the creed is not fortune telling, not to tell secrets their minds of the genuineness of that not fortune telling, not to tell secrets particular phase of mediumship. To and also not to act as detectives, but all such who live a reasonable distance | that, it is a subject as old as the history from Cleveland I conscientiously rec. of humanity. That the expression, We have a spirit within us.' is not correct: other hand if you desire an hour or so but that we are spirits, inhabiting while on this earth the mortal body, that dies loved ones, apply for a private sitting and crumbles away, while the spirit soars to heaven, to hold communion sured you will be well paid for the time with kindred spirits. Her address spent in that direction." with kindred spirits. Her address proved very interesting. Following The Banner of Light speaks as fol- her address she gave, as she called it lows of that veteran worker, J. J. momentum inspired poems on light, Morse: "From a private letter, we music and love, the American Navy and learn that our valued co-worker, and harmony, topics furnished by various

The Battle Creek Daily Moon save: Cal., July 7, 1903. He will be warmly "Dr. J. M. Peebles, accompanied by his preciative audiences, and many regrets | Portland, Oregon: "It may be of inter-were expressed that they could not re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-were expressed that they could not re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-late set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-est to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed by his many friends in San private secretary. A. H. Green, re-set to your numerous readers in Oregon | Welcomed clear as crystal, and the scenery surpassingly grand and beautiful. The owner of the lake and the adjoining lands is Albert K. Smiley, a Qualter and a whole-souled reformer, long connected with the peace question, the Indian question and other great burning reforms of the age. For eight years past he has invited some of the most distinguished jurists, statesmen, educators, clergymen and reformers to spend three days in his magnificent resort to counsel together upon international arbitration, universal peace and kindred subjects. After thanking their esteemed and honored host, friend Smiley, this conference adopted a platform of which the following was the last paragraph: 'This international conference summons all possible agencies to teach and preach the gospel of justice. Business men and great corporations, teachers in schools, ministers of God, the public press; let our whole country adopt the great motto and seek to live up to it; America loves justice, it appeals to every man and woman to aid in increasing arbitration so as to secure by the invincible power of public opinion, the employment of it in the maximum number of possible cases, in the hope that wars may cease and that peace may prevail."

ALWAYS GIVE YOUR FULL NAME | ence, which convenes yearly at the Mohonk Lake House, New York, located to the foothills of the Catskills. This is a palece of a building, having a capacity of nearly a thousand guests, and is a great summer resort for the people of New York and Boston. The locality is ideal. The waters of the lake are as

Mrs. Elvira Patterson writes from Alexandria, Ind.: "The Spiritualists of Alexandria wish to express their appreciation for the good work for the cause of Spiritualism accomplished by Harry J. Moore, of Chicago, and W. C. Jessup. We think there is no better lecturer in the field than Mr. Moore, and certainly no better medium than Mr. Jessup." A. H. Nicholas writes: "Mrs. Scott Briggs departed from Summerland about June 10, and her present address is 305 Larkin street, San Francisco. She has been with us several months and we can say she is a good speaker, wonderful industrious worker in our cause, and she will be well remembered and her absence felt here. We advise time so entirely filled with work, that all who may have the opportunity to become acquainted with her."

Wm. F. Hunt writes: "We come into the world by a process of natural law without our consent. We go out of the world by natural law without our consent. Now the question is, is not our destiny fixed by natural law? Our acts have no effect on our destiny, only on our condition. The places called heaven and hell are myths, have no existence in fact, and our condition is in accordance with the lives we have led." Titus Merritt writes from Yonkers,

N. Y.: "The Spiritualist society of Yonkers, N. Y., has closed its meetings for the summer. The past season has produced good results. We have had the valuable services of Mrs. Helen T. Brigham and Mrs. Tillie U. Reynolds, inspirational speakers, and Mrs. J Purdy, formerly of Detroit, Mich, also Mr. Samuel Thompson, medium. Mr. Alfred Andrews, president of Y. S. S. is an earnest worker in the cause. Mr. Thompson resides in Kingston, N. Y., and has rendered valuable service in the sanitarium of that place. He has also been favorably known as a reliable medium for materialization for a few years. On the 17th inst., he gave one at the residence of Mr. E. Bragdon, assisted by Miss Carrie Youmans, well known for her successful magnetic treatments. This seance was well attended by Yonkers Spiritualists, and gave ample evidence that Mr. Thompson is improving and bids fair to become a desirable demonstrator of genuine materialization. Three of Yonkers' estimable young ladies present, who hitherto had doubts and had not given much attention to the cause, on this occasion realized it to be an important fact. Through the charming influence of Mrs. Tillie U. Reynolds, our society has joined the New York State Association of Spiritualists. A developing circle was formed some months ago at the residence of Mr Staab of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Miss Carrie Youmans of our society, is one of the members and she informs me they are getting pleasing results. Mr. Staab and famlly are zealous workers, attended most all of Miss Gaule's Sunday meetings in New York City. Brother Francis may you continue to shed the Radiant Light so beautifully expressed by Mrs. Longley through The Progressive Thinker, with greatly increased circulation.' P. J. Culhane writes from Hamilton. Canada: "June 16 and 17 were red letter days for the Spiritualists of Hamilton. They were given a rare treat by Mrs. W. Ripley, the inspirational speaker psychometrist and test medium of Yorkshire, Eng., now serving a Toronto spiritual society. This esti mable lady is excellent in all the above phases. Lorenzo Worthen, secretary, writes: Lake Sunapee Camp-meeting Association is situated at Blodgett's Landing N. H., on the Claremont branch of the Boston and Maine Railroad. This is one of the prettiest lakes there is in all New England, with hills and mountains all around it, and with its pure spring water. The lake is ten miles long and three miles wide. In the widest place there are four steamboats that connect with passenger trains on the Boston & Maine Railroad, at Lake Sunapee station, for all points on the lake. At the Detroit and other points, leaving behind shop and post office. All will be welhim much to cheer us, and furnish food | come to come and investigate the truth for earnest thought for many days, of Spiritualism. Direct all letters to me at Hillsboro Bridge, N. H., July 28; after that at Blodgett's Land-contain the names of the secretary or president are incomplete.

Lake Brady, Ohlo. Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secretary, Akron, Ohio.

Chesterfield, Ind. Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting

opens July 16 and closes August 30. For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Andersou, Ind.

Forest Home, Mich. The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and loses August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth

Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich.,

Ottawa Camp, Kansas. This camp opens July 30, and closes August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas.

The Waukesha Camp, Wis.

This camp opens July 17 and closes August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street, La Crosse, Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis.

Ottawa, Kans.

This camp opens July 80 and continues to August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, president, Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Sec retary, Carbondale, Kansas.

Wonewoo, Wis.

The Wonewoo camp opens this year on August 18 and continues to the 30th of that month. Address for particulars Miss Gertrude Spooner, Wonewoc, Wis.

Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich. The West Michigan Spiritualist Asso ciation will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Pioneer Assembly Grounds." Meeting opens July 4. and closes August 30. For full par ticulars address D. A. Herrick, president and manager, 296 N. Ionia street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Winfield Camp, Kansas. This camp will be held in Island Park.

Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 3, and closing July 13. For full particulars write to Mrs. Maud K. Gates, corner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas. Marshalltown, lowa.

This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars address E. M. Vail, president, Marshalltown, Iowa.

This camp commences July 17, and continues until August 2. For full particulars address D. L. Haines, secretary, Franklin, Neb.

Franklin, Neb.

Hasiett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 30. For programs and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich. Vicksburg, Mich. This camp-meeting is located at Fraser's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg. It commences August 2 and closes August 22. For programs

Vicksburg, Mich. Grand Ledge, Mich. This camp opens July 26 and closes

send to Jeannette Fraser. Manager

August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich. Lake Helen Camp, Florida.

ine Southern Cassadaga Camp-meet ing will convene the first of February, and will close the middle of March For information and programmes, address Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y.

The City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association, will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information and programs, address Mrs. Isabel Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily Dale, N. Y.

Saugus Center, Mass.

The Lynn Spiritualists Association will hold meetings every Sunday, ending September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill, 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass.

The Onset Camp. Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

Maple Dell Park, Ohio. The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session at Maple Dell. commencing July 25 and closing August 30. Lucy King, corresponding secretary. Address stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio.

Harmony Grove, Cal. The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We are expecting a very prosperous camp. For particulars address Frank C. Fos ter, secretary, Escondido, Cal.

Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash. The Spiritualists of Clarke county, Washington, will hold their second an nual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30. Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington.

Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist Association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., president; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N Y., secretary.

Lake Pleasant, Mass. This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Albert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos Los Angeles, Cal.

The Southern California Spiritualist Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal., from August 16 to September 18. Address all communications to W. F. Vose. No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, secretary, or Mrs. Essie Ashby, 1306 East Twenty-seventh street, president.

Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp. -It will be held at Blodgett's Landing, N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 80. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums.

Camp-meeting in Oregon. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spiritualist Association. For particulars, address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Oregon City, Oregon. Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, lowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A., Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, will open August 2 and close August 80. For programmes address Mollie B. Au-derson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

Verona, Park, Me.

This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president, Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary, Rockland, Me.

Island Lake, Mich.

The Island Lake Camp Association lesires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenoma enal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secretary, 350 Grand River avenue, Detroit, Mich.

THE PSYCHOGRAPH

DIAL PLANCHETTE.

This instrument is substantially the same as that employed by Prof. Hare in his early investigations. In its improved form it has been before the public for more than seven years, and in the hands of thousands of persons has proved its superierity over the Plagachette, and all other instruments which have been chette, and all other instruments which have been brought out in imitation, both in regard to certainty and cerrectness of the communications received by its aid, and as a means or developing mediumship.

Do you wish to investigate Spiritualism?

Do you wish to develop Mediumship?

Do you wish to develop Mediumship? De you desire to receive Communications?

The Psychograph is an invaluable assistant. A pamphlet with full directions for the Formation of Circles and Cultivation of Mediumship

of Mediumship

with every instrument. Many who were not aware of their mediumistic gift, have, after a few "istings, been able to receive delightful messages a volume might be alled with commendatory lessers. Many who were not a many the same as a musing try, found that the intelligence controlling it knew more than themselves, and because convorts to Spiritualism.

Capt. D. B. Edwards, Oriont, N. Y., writes: "I had communications by the Psychograph's from many sther friends, even from old settlers whose gravetiones are mose-grown in the old year. They have been highly satisfactory, and proved to me that Spiritualism is induced true, and the communications have given my heart the greatest comfort in the severest logs. I have had of son, daughter, and their mother."

Dr. Eugene Crowell, whose writings have made his same familiar to those interested in psychic matters, writes as follows: "I am much pleased with the Psychograph, it is very simple in principle and construction, and I am sure much be far more sensitive to spiritual power than the one now in use. I believe it will generally supersede the latter when its superior service become known."

Soourely packed, and sent postage paid from Securely packed, and sent postage paid from the manufacturer, for $1.00. Address: HUDSON TUTTLE, Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ASPHODEL BLOOMS

Other Offerings

EMMA ROOD TUTTLE.

This volume contains a selection of the tell poems of, this gifted author and storicities conditioned by Clair Tustle in her charming style. There are 385 pages, with six full-page illustrations, including photogroures of the author and Clair Tustle. It is bound in blue with attuminum embossing. Many of the poems are summinum embossing. Many of the poems are specially adapted for recitations.

The Author needs no introduction to the spiritual literature. Eyes Surgent said of one of her poems that it was the equal of anything in the language, and that she was the poet of the Nove Dispensation.

The Mecca says: "Psychic Poems."

That crudite critic, Win. Emmette Coleman "To all lovers of good poetry this book is confidently recommended."

Will Cariton: "I have read with great interest."

Sarah Thorne Thomas, the Furnanterior

est."
Sarah Thorpe Thomas, the Frimanitariant says: "A most exquisite bouquet * * * * * the shoughts echo and re-echo through the deepest recesses of my heart. I have some word of praize for every page."

The author says in the dedication: "To those whose thoughts and longings reach into the unseen Land of Souls, this handful of asphodels, mixed with common flowers, is offered hoping to give reest and pleasure while waiting at the way stations on the journey thither."

Price, 81.0. For sale by

HUDSON TUTTLE,

Berlin Heights, Ohio FOREIGN AGENTS: R. A. Copley, Canningtown, London, Eng. W. H. Terry, Melbourne, Australia.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS.

To Advance Humane Education in All Its Phases.

BY EMMA ROOD TUTTER.

Lyceums and Societies that wish to get up electing, interesting and paying entertainments cannot do better than to have a Prize Contest. The enter plan, with full directions, is in the book, and may be easily managed. Nothing kindles enthusiasm more quickly than an Angell Prize Contest Nothing is needed more. Any individual may organize see in his own town and reap a financial reward. TRY IT: PRICE, 30 CENTS.

EMMA ROOD TUTTLE. Berlin Heights, Ohio. "AS IT IS TO BE."

A VERY SUGGESTIVE WORK.

It Beams With Spiritual Truths,

This is a beautiful book, by Corm Lynn Daniels, and it scintillates with grand spiritual thought. An idea of this work can be obtained by reading the titles of a few of the chapters Spirit; The Law of Attraction; Senses of the Spirit; What Is Unconscious Will; Fear; Astrology; The God-Soul of Man; The Drama; A Day in Heaven. Price $1. For sale at this office. PROGRESSION OF How a Spirit Ad-The evolution of Man. By Michael Faraday. Price, 15c.

The Process of Dying; Light and therein:

THE VOICES By Warren Summer Barlow.
The Volces contain poems of remarkable beauty and force. They are most excellent. Price $1.00.

POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE. By Lizzie Doten. These poems are truly in-spirational and as staple as sugar. Price st.od

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS. Send in Your Dates and Name of Secretary at Once.

Inquiries are already coming to this office in reference to the various camps. Will the officers of each camp please send at once the correct dates, etc., and For programmes, address the secretary also the name of the secretary who can Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N

This department is under the man

HUDSON TUTTLE. Madress him at Bealin Heights, Ohio.

NOTE.-The Questions and Answers have called forth such a host of respondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this forced brevity. Proofs have to be omitted, and the style becomes thereby assertive, which of all things is to be deprecated. Correspondents often weary with waiting for the appearance of place, and all are treated with equal

NOTICE.—No attention will be given anonymous letters. Full name and ad- faith set aside. must be given, or the letters will ters of inquiry requesting private answers, and while I freely give what-ever information I am able, the ordi-nary courtesy of correspondents is ex-HUDSON TUTTLE

Dr. J. M. Peebles: Q. In an answer in the Question Department, you say that in the early centuries the existence of Christ was denied. By whom and on what authority is this claim made? I do not ask for the purpose of discussion, but information.

most famous of Oriental sects, and one which for a time dominated and molded the thoughts of the Christian world.

That in the early centuries of the miracles, alike to Esculapius, Buddha. Krishna and Christ. The so-called church fathers, who ought to have made the subject clear, wrote as in the dark. and with all manner of subterfuge, circumiccution, and shallow sophistry. The make no clear and definite affirma-

Reville, (His. Dogma of Deity), says: "Whilst in one part of the Christian world, the chief objects of interest were the human nature of human life of the Christ was an Acon, the redcomer of spirits of men-hence a spirit-and that he had little or no contact with their corporeal nature.

The Gnostics held that the light "put on only the appearance of the human body, that at the crucifixion Jesus only appeared to suffer." They supported this by the story of Jesus passing through the midst of the Jews when they cast him headlong from the brow of the hill, and were going to stone him.—Luke iv; John iii. They used this authority at a later period. The Christian Bishop Faustus (as quoted by Lardner, vol. iv, p. 20) says: Do you receive the gospel, ask ye Undoubtedly I do. Why, then, you also admit Christ was born? Not so; for it by no means follows that in believing the gospel, that I should therefore believe Christ was born."

King, "Gnostic Christians," says of the Gnostics: "Their chief doctrine had been held for centuries before (Christianity's advent) in many cities of Asia Minor. This (sect) probably came into existence upon establishment of direct intercourse with India under the Seleu-cidae, or Ptolemies." That they were strongly established during the first centuries, and formed the representative force of what afterwards became Christianity, is indicated by the words of Epiphanius, who says there were twenty heresies before Christ.

Ignatius, epistle to the Smyrneans says: "For what does a man profit me, If he shall praise me and blaspheme my Lord; not confessing that he was truly made man?" There were degrees in this belief, for while some denied the existence of Christ in the flesh, out-right, others denied that he had been crucified. Justin Martyr, Apl for Chris-Rel., written A. D. 141, refers to this: "As to the objection to our Jesus' being crucified, I say, suffering was common to all the sons of Jove." This great church light thus confesses that Jesus was one of the sun-gods, a mythic race, and the crucifixion of one, was like that

Ignatius aims at this doctrine of impersonality in his epistle to the Trallians. He says: "But if some who are Atheists, that is to say infidels, pretend, that he (Christ) only seemed to suffer," etc. Yet the crucifixion is contradicted three times in the Acts of the Apostles (v:30; x:39; xiii:29).

Justin, who is said to have died a martyr about 168 A. D., is the first father to mention Jesus as born of a virgin and crucified under Pontius Pilate, and he obtained his information from a lost gospel, "Memoirs of the

Of the writings of the Gnostics, only such fragments remain as the Catholic priests have not destroyed. Had they not been, we should have the key to the mysteries of early Christianity. Only by oversight has anything escaped de struction of their religious hatred, that would enlighten us as to that belief, and influence of this sect.

The first quotation made from any evangelist, is that of Theophilus (A. D. 168-181). He makes it to support the contention that Jesus was ideal, and to ridicule the idea that a God can be born. His Christ is the Logos or Word, and he proves it by this verse from St. John, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God." He does not recognize the advent of Christ as historical.

Athenagoras was an Athenian philosopher, who had become interested in Gnosticism, and acknowledged himself fathers wofully lacked, refinement, ele. W. H. Bach. The Commandments are gance and culture. His works, written not only analyzed, but contrasted with in A. D. 177, have not a mention of other Bible passages, showing great in Christ or his works. He does not make congruities. Price 25 cents a quotation or mention of the gospels but he personifies the Logos, the Divine

The Ignatian epistles contain many rebukes for those who deny the personality of Christ, showing how widely that doctrine was entertained. Thus in Tartians II, "I have learned that cerain ministers of Satan have wished to listurb you, some of them asserting that Jesus was born only in appearance was crucified in appearance and died in

As that crudite and profound scholar Wm. H. Burr, who has devoted a life-time to the study of autiquity, ob-serves: "What ever date may be assigned to these writings [the Ignatian epistles, genuine and so-called spurious] whether at the beginning of the second century or much later, with additions in the third or fourth—they beray the existence of widespread Gnosicism and a prevailing disbellef in the existence of Jesus as a man in mortal

It is thus clear to the unprejudiced student of history that before Christianity there existed a large and domitheir questions and write letters of in-quiry. The supply of matter is always sis, knowledge. Their religion was a several weeks ahead of the space given, kind of philosophy, and had been deand hence there is unavoidable delay. rived from India. For the first centu-Every one has to wait his time and ries they were the Christians, and not until the incarnation of the Ideal Logos in Jesus, and the growth of the belief in his human relationship, was this old

The Gnostics held the faith they renot be read. If the request be made, ceived from India, that the Avatar or the name will not be published. The reincarnation of God was only an appearance of this department has pearance, and applied to that of Jesus become excessively large, especially let- as well as that of any previous sun god.

The more pleasing view of Christ having a human as well as divine nature; the reality of his birth, ministry and death, formulated by leaders. gained the mastery and after desperate struggle dispossessed the ancient, refined and philosophical system which gave it birth and sustenance.

F. S.: Q. I have lost a good position, trusting to the advice of a spirit guide. He is so untruthful I wish to escape his influence. Is it possible? A. It is not well to follow important the advice of spirits. They do not often mingle in the affairs of earth and hence are not qualified to give advice. Often when personal questions are asked, the only means they have of Christian faith the greatest obscurity existed as to the reality of the Christ mowing is by reading the thoughts of the questioner. Intimate spirit friends they set up to worship, is shown by ap may come to us with instructions which we may heed with profit, but even then communications should be carefully considered, and not made the rule of conduct until substantiated by other evidence. Ninety-nine times in a hundred, the "evil," "lying" spirits, are friends, who failing in their attempt to communicate, destroy the harmony and then they find constantly increas-ing difficulties in their way. They have gained a bad name, and are antagonized by suspicion. This influence can be es-Jesus, in another part the views taken of his person become so idealistic that of his person become so idealistic that to any influence which may be exerted without reality. The various Gnostic but subject to limitations as they were systems generally agree in saying that in earth life, and their advice should be taken in the same way that it would be were they in the flesh and are incapable as spirits. It may not be possible to "escape" a controlling influence, that is put it entirely away, but happily this is not necessary. Knowing what this influence is, you converse with it, and then give the communication its true value, as you would if received from an individual in mortal garb. All this trouble comes from the lingering belief that spiritual beings are all wise and infallible, and thus placing them as authoritative leaders, and being blindly led.

Some persons are capable of giving valuable advice, and if transferred to spirit life they would be equally pable. The majority are incapable,

What Are Spiritualists Doing?

What are Spiritualists doing as a body to spread abroad a knowledge of the truth they possess, to improve the condition of humanity, to elevate themselves above their present limitations, to justify their claim to the title they have chosen? These are serious questions which we should be prepared to

It is not a mere matter of organizing societies or starting meetings here and there. Nor is it a matter of keeping meetings running after they are com-menced. What are societies doing as an excuse for living? What are they doing to entitle them to support financially and in other ways? The world owes no man a living who is not willing to make his life a benefit to the world The same is true of all associations of men. Spiritualist societies are not exempt from natural law. They must prove themselves worthy to live or they must die.

Sometimes we hear of meetings once held in some locality, being held there no more. We are told they did not pay their own expenses. One would naturally suppose that it was the business of the society to pay the expenses of its meetings. How much of the luxuries and conveniences of this life have the members sacrificed that this might be Real'y this attempt to make meetings pay for themselves is the chief cause of their accomplishing so little good. They die because they do not deserve to live. There is nothing spiritual about them but the name.

However conservative may be our estimate of the number of Spiritualists in the country, we must admit that the proportion of societies is exceedingly small: Small as it is, we could not supply one-third of these with fairly competent pastors or lecturers. Let us hope that the Whitewater Institute will to some extent remedy this in the not very distant future. It is the work which above all others calls for our support.

But will societies avail themselves of a trained and educated ministry? or will they still prefer to hold the name of Spiritualism before the public as an object of derision, and before the cultured mind as an object of aversion? To draw a crowd amused by bad English and words without sense, in a vain endeavor to make meetings pay for themselves. or to advertise a local fortune-teller, is unworthy a great cause and a noble name. That last sentence is too weak It is a prostitution of a sacred body, and a sacrilegious profanation of holy E. J. BOWTELL. things.

Olneyville, R. I. "The Commandments Analyzed." By

"How Shall I Become a Medium." Fully Answered

In Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle. Price 35 enus Send to Mr. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, O.

DOCTOR PEEBLES' SCINTILLATIONS.

(Continued from fifth page.)

4. Again, an illustrious apirit intelligence, seer or sage, aftre with love and beneficence, looking upon this world of the from a person of ordinary experience and no high enstruggle, competition and crime, may earnestly desire to enlighten and uplift humanity to a higher spiritual plane of Presidus, or even mania, and arresting the attention of scitruth and purity; accordingly in the sacred impregnating. encepart, literature and the mechanic arts-appears to be planting of the pre-existing spirit, he projects a current, a thrill, a thought-ray of light from himself into the sensitive life germ. This magnetic moulding ray purposely willed and so make laws for singular cases logicians drift into by-paths psychically perpetuated by this heavenly benefactor, be he' of confusion—as much so thereby as in logical corollary and musician, mathematician, artist or poet, energizes, and proof they fail to reveal to mankind the origin, destiny and measurably molds the foetus, the infant, the child—the jimportality of the human mind. heaven-impressed child-which is often pronounced "a great" genius." Here is the golden key that unlocking, rationally explains reincarnation without purility, speculation, Oriental fable, or dreamy, Devachanic romance.

It is needless to say that I hold in high esteem my Aryan brothers of the Orient. Many Hindu reincarnationists are liberal, high-minded men. They are deductive reasoners. They are docile, trusting and aspirational, and those that know them best love them the most. One of these gentlemen, English-educated, wrote me recently from Calcutta, averring that "Spiritualism was old in India." My prompt and pertinent reply was that India, since the historic period, has not had nor enjoyed so much as a shadow of genuine, philosophical Spiritualism; but it has had in profusion crude spiritism, necromancy, obsession, occultism, Yogi-juggling and black magic, all of which are as distant from true, ra tional Spiritualism as are the Mohammedan hells from the brilliant heavens of seers and savants. Hindu and French reincarnation, though the pronounced "vital doctrine" of Theosophy, has no necessary relation to Spiritualism. Neither has it any necessary relation to original modern The osophy, as founded in New York.

It is opposed to science as studied and elucidated by all German and great English-speaking scientists.

It is opposed to the only legitimate inference derived from the accumulated facts of psychic phenomena.

It is opposed to that philosophy which is the attainment of truth by way of reason. It is opposed to psychology, which is the analysis and clas sification of the functions and faculties of the mind as reduction. It is opposed to that rigid logic, the inferences of which are based upon solid premises and the fixed principles of navealed to observation and induction, and sanctioned by de

It is opposed to those axiomatic principles which show that things existing with the same thing, co-exist with one another; and that whatever is true of a whole class, is true of whatever belongs to and is brought under the class, and the class, the series, the races of human beings, come under the class, the law—the law of evolution, which in its mighty, majestic sweep, lifts all conscious human souls through methods inverse, diverse and often mysterious, upward and onward, through the eternities—one grand purpose, one law. one life, one brotherhood, and one destiny, and that soul-unfoldment, ever aspiring yet never reaching absolute perfection and power.

Finally, Hindu reincarnation (a modified transmigration), being injected into American thought, is only a hypothesis, a baseless dream, a hazy speculation that fades away before the ascending stars of science and philosophy, as do the moistening, quivering dews before June's golden sunshine. Battle Creek, Mich. J. M. PEEBLES.

ABOUT AUTOMATISM.

Genius, Inspiration and Insanity and the Phenomena of Montal Gifts and Endowments Discussed by W. C. Dudley.

proved to know nothing."-Tertullian.

It is a palpable fact [as set forth in the Chicago Record-Herald] that in averaging men's abilities those who have been endowed with extraordinary gifts of mind are more or less susceptible to mental disorder. The inverse also holds that sometimes men and women are accredited with derangement of the cerebral centers who are in strange possession of unusual endowments and powers.

It may be a libel on genius to write or a slander to say that genius is closely allied to insanity, but it is not an untruth to H good wishes were but loaded with the food the hungry aver that many a belated mortal has been called insane whose attributes averaged higher than the ordinary man. The philosophy of the human mind discloses that man in his firmest or most norm; state of mental equilibrium is in possession of an underlying activity besides the present self. He is not only what his acts, words, thoughts and direct performances identify him to be, but he is also an automaton. That is, while he considers himself to be a free agent and in full possession of the field and his own faculties, an inner consciousness, often imperceptible, dim, is knocking at or visiting the brain, like another self.

This undefined faculty is automatism. This other self is the ignis fatuus after which experimental psychists and psychologists are vainly reaching for a solution as to scientific cause. Automatism, the inner consciousness, or the unseen force in mental activity, varies in effect—and mainly seems not to affect the healthy mind; but it is more or less observant in cases of nervous prostration, and in men and women of high nervous strain. When it plays upon the strong and stolid it is with little or no recognition from the individual as to its source or subtle growth.

A DUAL SELF.

It would not be amiss to assume that if another within man-an alter ego-or an unknown faculty produces a word, or act, or speech, or unusual mental impression not within the actual scope or power of self, or self-consciousness, or will of the present mind-then man has a dual self, or alternative guide And in the absence of a scientific law or principle to govern the data, that act of great merit which is pro- tiAnd from the mystery of life you change to that of death. duced or performed, beyond the normal, by the insane or by lone step—a short and simple thing; a moment's pang, no is inspiration. For, any idea or act or speech or artistic production or performance beyond the normal or natural capabilities of man or woman must be classed or must be called Thilk you of those, the loved and lost, of those whose loss inspiration. If the word or act were of great evil in appear ance, it would be called insanity by some; If of great good, Whose kindly hands shall loose your own, whose loving lips and of startling effect it would be called inspiration.

In the case of Charlotte Corday there may have been a div We all must tread the unknown path that others' feet have vergence of opinion, inasmuch as some do not believe in disque go pressed vine vengeance; while at the same time others would claim; And pass from of the unquiet earth into her quiet breast. it to have been a great benefit to public good and welfare why shudder thus and shrink away? Dear feet have passed that Marat was removed, and thereby have grounds to affirm to the as before that she was moved by a mysterious power working within And holy made the path that leads inside the open door. her At the same time, while the devotion to a single ideal The thick green curtain close and cool will calm your weary amounts to monomania in this assassination, no one but the or will the cool will calm your weary spirit of Charlotte Corday and her God can actually prove thes in obtain, power that gave a frail individual such strength and determined Anglall to wordless costasy life's sometime sad refrain.

A few years ago a cause celebre in the East was given prominent space in the public press in relation to an insane It were as you had passed in life into another room; sufferer who had been under restraint—a man of ordinary ability in rational moments. Cross-examination at trial for restoration of reason adduced the evidence that during the period of non compos mentis the subject had composed and written forty sonners, which attracted widespread attention on account of their literary excellence. Expert doctors testified only that the artistic productions proceeded from graphic automatism. The man was not even a genius. So it appears that commonplace men and women—usually an afflicted one and of no original experience—are sometimes the subject of an invisible intelligence, and by external force can describes and theories of bellet, thus fostering and nourish display an ordistic and startling offset.

M The case of Blind Tow, the negro musician, is a notable Taxadiple of great effects transcending the power of the being Miniself. There is a case in Missouri of a young woman of similar attainments, which came to her suddenly and after Years of nervous suffering. The sudden alteration of one's Idownents-including spontaneously all of the eccentricities capable of solution more in faith, or rather divine belief, than than in the technicalities of modern philosophy. In attempts

REWARDS FEVERED BRAIN.

From a point of view that heaven rewards the poor, the just, the good and the suffering ones, early or late, one would venture a safe opinion (and at the same time quiet the inquisitive scientific mind) who would say that heaven's radiance of pity often falls in obscure ways to a fevered and famished brain.

Byron was a sensitive man, and was lame. Cowper was insane. Swift, Southey and Ben Jonson were said to be deranged. Edgar Allan Poe was a victim of intense excitement, as was the great Mollere. Rousseau, the eminent writer, was subject to attacks of insanity. And in many men of all countries affliction was the fee paid in advance for wonderful gifts and powers, and deterioration was the natunius has illuminated the brow that wore a crown of sorrow. The noble-minded American and poet Whittier has said:

"The supernaturalism of all ages is but the exaggeration and extortion of actual fact. A great truth underlies it. It is nature herself repelling the slanders of the materialist and vindicating her claims to an all-informing and all-directing spirit, and an everlasting protest against the 'fool' who hath said in his heart, 'There is no God.'"

In whatever contemplation genius and insanity are held, the two qualities, being finite, cannot prove their own independence. If there be an affinity between the two, external forces and abnormal effects will enter into the essence of both. Voltaire, on witnessing the performance of one of his great tragedies, exclaimed: "Was it really I who wrote it?" Lamartine, the French historian, said: "It is not I who think, but my ideas which think for me." Goethe, the German poet who "fluttered midway between thought and intuition," observed that "in a creative brain reason has withdrawn her watch at the doors and ideas crowd in pelimell."

'Coleridge received the outline of a great production, like Klopstock and Danneker, from extraneous source dreams. Mozart, speaking of his famous musical compositions, won dered: "Whence they come and how I know not, and I have no control over them." Gluck admitted the same. Haydn believed that a "divine power," through him, had created his greatest work. It is said of Paganini that the instant he took up his instrument a divine spark seemed to touch him. By whatever name this unknown activity or intelligence may be designated, whether by science as automatism, or by the Spiritualists as manifestation, or by musicians, artists, artisans and literateurs as human talent or genius, neverthe He says: He says:

"The principal contributors to the society or circle. All was delivered by personalities distinct from either, writtenders as human talent or genius, neverthed in the desolation of heathen tribes—who but the self-doubt cing and self-seeking skeptic can deny that there is and allowing which compels at least a tacit acknowledgment of the sovergeignty of God, through great and small phenomena. "He marks the sparrow's fall."

W. C. DUDLEY.

He says:

"The principal contributors to the society or circle. All was delivered by personalities distinct from either, written down by the secretary as spoken, or trol of the medium; William Denton, Thomas Paine and Michael Faraday. There are numerous others giving a few incidental and mostly personal meshade by the authors, and when approved sages or dissertations on scientific, philosophic, religious, theologic and occult marks the sparrow's fall." W. C. DUDLEY.

THAT POORHOUSE DOOR.

ITS RELATION TO THE HUMAN MIND ELUCIDATED TO i.eq 1 words, ...

And they all seem sweet and soulful as the songs of Nature's birds.

And they fill my heart with pleasure that I never felt before, "Thou canst not call that madness of which thou art But they do not screen my vision from that haunting poorhouse door.

> If good wishes would remove them there would be no binding chains

And the poorhouse would be empty of the guests it now con-

It would be so very useless, for the poor would be no more And no soul would hear the creaking of the swinging poor-

There would be no earthly reason for the curse of human greed.

All the world would have a plenty and the battles would be

And the horrid visions vanish of that open poorhouse door, Man must have some great incentive in the acts of gaining pelf, Something stronger in the motive than the present good to self:

Something gleaming in the future, coming out of Nature's store,

And behind the spur him onward thoughts of that old poor house door.

Who may know, ere life is finished, what the future will in-

Man to-day may own a million and to-morrow be quite poor. All man's highest life-ambitions, all the hopes he has in Fade beyond all recognition, once behind the poorhouse door. DR. T. WILKINS.

THE OPEN DOOR.

An open door you fear to pass? Dear heart, what is it you fear?

You know not on the other side what brightness may lie near One step—the riddle has been read—the secret of our breath 192 more, will come grow dumb.

And you have solved what lies for all beyond the open door.

all bigin,

Shrink not as cowards shrink and shrick at the impending doom-

Then smile, with level glance uplift, with steady step tread D. O. O.

BEATRICE ST. GEORGE.

The mystery of the world that lies inside the open door.

that must be the good The primitive, uncultured man worshiped external objects in love and in fear, ascribing to them quasi-human powers and feelings. There is the germ of religion.-F. Harrison. Religion counteracts morality and universal philanthropy in so far as it sets men against each other by diversity of ing the worst impoises of human matera—Backets.

History of the GHRISTIAN RELIGION to the Year 200.

BY CHARLES V. WAITE, A. M. Fifth Edition-Revised, with Much Additional Matter in Appendix

A standard and reliable history of the historical research in matters of fact earlier period of the church, giving wholly ignored by the regular church facts that are not found in the so-called historians, and throws a bright glare of histories written by churchmen. This light on points heretofore carefully, latest edition has been carefully and shrouded in darkness. thoroughly revised, and it is a reliable magazine of facts, such as the honest strongly bound in cloth. Price $2.25.

inquirer wants. It opens up to the in- For sale at The Progressive Thinkes vestigator and student a wide field of office.

GELESTIAL DYNAMIGS,

Being a Normal Course of Study in the Astro-Magnetlo Forces of Nature.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE LIGHT OF EGYPT," "THE LAN-GUAGE OF THE STARS," ETC.

A magnificent and complete course of Astro-metaphysical study, emral sequence. Instances are not rare where the torch of ge. bodying Vital Principles of Life, Mental Force. Sickness and Disease. With the only true and really Scientific method of treating the sick successfully. Mental Healers, Meta-physicians, and all who practice the Healing Art Divine should give "Celestial Dynamics" a thorough and impartial study, and thus learn the real cause of their frequent failures. No Astro-Student can afford to be without this work, if he would understand the Meta-physics of Astrology.

This work was specially prepared for publication to meet the demands of a large and very earnest class of people who cannot afford to pay for a regular course of instruction under a qualified teacher. And those who can afford this privilege will find the work an invaluable text-book to their studies.

The Price is One Dollar Only, and is within reach of all who seek light. For sale at this office.

RENDING THE VAIL

and philosopher, remarked: "This book has been written somewhat unconsciously—like a sleep walker." Schiller, A Most Remarkable Book Concerning the Existence of Man, and All Things, and All Being

It Was Written by Materialized Forms at the House of J. H. Pratt, Spring Hill, Kansas, William W. Aber Being the Medium.

"Rending the Vail" is pronounced by and various kindred questions. All member of congress for four sessions, fully discussed, an editor of a leading daily, and a profound thinker along scientific lines. dium nor by any one connected with the trations—44 of them portraits. These words a minute were written by actual timing by the watch.

the room at a desk, the form or personality to be sketched at the doorway of that his work has been admirably done cabinet and the finished picture the topics treated by Prof. Denton, Thomas Paine and Prof. Faraday, are in kind, in thought and style with those to which their active lives in this world

"Thomas Paine and Prof. Faraday, are following"—stating whether it was orai or in writing.

"In reading the book, and I have read were devoted-in literary character as it all, this modest, self-retiring, literal

tributors are just now discussing a character to the book and inspires connumber of questions as to the nature of stant confidence in the integrity that spirit, of spirit return; the want of from the first page to the last enhances agreement between those returning as the respect and interest of the reader." to conditions in their present world; the limitations—that the organism of the Vail," is for sale at the office of The medium imposes upon communication, Progressive Thinker. Price $1.75.

Col. R. T. Van Horn, of Kansas City, these are treated, some of them very, Mo., as a most remarkable work. That fully, but all rationally understandable. Col. Van Horn is fully competent to Also phenomena, inspiration and such judge, we will say that he has been a to many, knotty subjects, are freely and sages or dissertations on scientific, philosophic, religious, theologic and occult topics—from world-building, the origin of life, or religions, of scientific discovery, and the laws of cosmos or nature—in fact the entire field of human thought. The limitation seemed to be to limit the history of spirit communication. Swedenborg, and wrote under inspiration. Newbrough wrote Oahspe automatically by typewriter. "Rending the Vail" was written and spoken by full-form personalities and to published as a spoken by full-form personalities and to provide the same of the s tonght. The limitation seemed to use ten and spoken by full-form personalitions.

"In addition to this mass of messages, there are in the book about sixty illusuments. As high as 1,200 words a minute were written by actual words a minute were written by actual

-not only faithfully and efficiently, but handed to one of the circle and filed with excellent taste. There are no dogaway by the seceretary, matic parentheses, no interpolations or "What will attract the attention of ipse dixits of the scribe. He simply even the non-Spiritualist reader is that states that "a form purporting to be" matic parentheses, no interpolations or different here as in their works extant rendering of these extraordinary hap-on our book-shelves. rendering of these extraordinary hap-penings by the secretary has been a "The Spiritualist press and its con- source of constant admiration. It add.

BEYOND

A Sequel to "Rending the Vail."

The two volumes together as a record the experiences of spirits in both worlds of practically obtained facts demon—their own account of their lives on strating the claims of Modern Spirit earth and their progress after death to ualism as to post mortal survival, are their present condition of freedom from the originals of which were drawn in the presence of the circle by a full form metaphysics. There are no books in exacterialized spirit artist.

In medicine, jurisprudence, theology and metaphysics. There are no books in exacter or of higher BEYOND THE VAIL is, as a rule, authority. Price, by mail, $1.75.

unique and overwhelming.

earth conditions. The narratives are interesting instructive and extensions of the conditions of the conditions of the conditions. Every communication is from a run tensery interesting, instructive and materialized spirit form, in good light, often highly dramatic.

Coincident with these are the profull view by the form. There is not an foundly philosophical comments of the controlling spirits of the sources.

automatic or trance message in the controlling spirits of the seances. Prof. William Denton, Thomas Paine, Dr. W. It is illustrated by several engravings, H. Reed and others—covering, law, the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and

"THE UNKNOWN"

GAMILLE FLAMMARION.

"The Unknown" created a marked clinating as the most fantastic of Poe's sensation in France when first pubtales. It treats on incredulity, credullished and can scareely fail to arouse ity, hallucinations, psychic action of one the greatest interest in this country. It mind upon another, transmission of is an eminent scientist's study of the thought, suggestion, the world of phenomena of the spirit world. In dreams, cerebral physiology, psychic touching upon the various physical dreams, distinct sight in dreams, actual manifestations the author cites many facts, premonitory dreams and divina-absolutely authenticated instances, and tion of the future, etc. 487 pages, clear chapters of his book are as welrdly fas- bound. Price $2.00. For Sale at the Office of The Progressive Thinker.

OUR BIBLE: WHO WROTE IT? WHEN? WHERE? HOW?

Is It Infallible?

A Voice from the Higher Criticism.

A Few Thoughts on Other Bibles. BY MOSES HULL.

Excellent as an exposition of the Higher Criticism and an analysis of the Bible from that standpoint. Of special value and interest to Spirite usilists. For sale at this college. Price $1.00.

The New Movement.

The Best and Grandest.

Write us today and let us tell you all about it, will cost you but a two cent stamp. The mo ment has already two beautiful Sanitorium.

PLEASE

Let us tell you about the NEW MOVEMENT.

It you are busy getting ready to go to camp-meet lug write anyhow to

DR. G. E. WATKINS

66 Highland ave., Newtonville, Mass.

"FISH" AND "WHALE."

Progressive Field Work at Brainerd, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kates, the efficient and popular missionaries of the National Spiritualists Association, held three successful and well-attended meetings at Brainerd, Minn., which no doubt left a lasting impression on the more advanced and intelligent class at-

Mr. and Mrs. Kates are able and eloquent speakers, capable of presenting the philosophy of Spiritualism and eth ics of life, in such a masterly way that it must appeal to the most sanguine materialist living, as well as creedbound ministers.

The earnest seeker for the good and true cannot help but feel comforted by their high and inspiring teachings, coupled with messages from the spirit side of life, all of which should be an incentive to every human being; yet ministers, egotistical ministers, and their ignorant followers fail to grasp or comprehend this beautiful philosophy with its inspiring hope, as well as proof of a continuity of life beyond the grave, far in advance of our material existence, to which we all will come, and then attain perfect happiness, be we Pagans or Christians.

A minister, egotistical or ignorant, as the case may be, was in the audience at one of these meetings, and then made himself conspicuously known by interrupting the speaker, and taking excep-tion to the fish story of Jonah, as re-lated by Mrs. Kates, while speaking upon the Bible and its many absurd quotations, which science has proved to be incorrect. The minister, with his narrow conception of Bible teaching, said, that it was not a whale, but a big said, with an air of pride and dignity, that he believed every word within the Bible, from lid to lid, to be God's infallible word and revelation to mankind.

This interruption on the part of the preacher caused a slight commotion in the audience, of which the speakers took advantage by quoting other Bible absurdities to the indignant and ardent Bible believer, which he would not or could not conscientiously acknowledge to be true.

By referring to the gospel according to St. Matthew, 12th chapter and 40th verse, the reader will not only see that Mrs. Kates was justified in stating that Jonah was swallowed by a whale, which science has proved to be impossible. but it proves the biblical ignorance of at least one of these so-called reverend gentlemen, who claim to believe every word within the lids of the Bible.

At the close of the meeings a local society was organized and a charter anplied for from the State Spiritualist Association of Minnesota. A. OUSDAHL.

Prof. Carlyle Petersilea.

This gifted, devoted friend of our cause has taken leave of earth, at the early age of fifty-nine years. From the Boston Herald of June 12, we give to our readers an appreciative account of his career and ability as a musician. His literary work, and his connections with Spiritualism are not mentioned. Prof. Petersilea has been a voluminous writer and his works have been deserv edly popular with all Spiritualists who read literature with understanding. His books sell as well to-day as they when first issued from the press, and it is no small mark of merit when the popularity of works of fiction holds good through many decades of years. His "Philip Carlisle," "Oceanides,"
"The Discovered Country," "Mark Chester," and other works will ever be remembered with affectionate interes and gratitude by his Spiritualist friends. Carlyle Petersilea was a spiritual Spiritualist. A man who caught heaven's harmonies with his spiritual ear, and translated them into the music of earth for the soul unfoldment of his fel lowmen. He lived in the spirit, and to him the world of souls was as much a daily reality and more so, than was physical life. He heard the voices of the angels as they spoke to him ev-ery passing day, and became their faithful amanuensis as he transcribed their inspiring thoughts. He dwelt in the two spheres of existence at one and the same time, and no mortal ever tried harder than he did to have his daily life reflect with truth the religion of his

He has fallen at his post of duty at an early age, the victim of paralysis. He will be missed in the realm of music. where he took rank among the finished artists of the day, and will leave an aching void in Spiritualistic circles where his name has long been a household word. His works will live after him, and his many kindly deeds, are tenderly enshrined as precious memories in the minds of all his friends. The Banner of Light grieves the loss of a devoted friend and generous helper Its editor feels as if a personal bereave ment had fallen upon him and his household. All Spiritualists mourn the departure from their midst of one who has been their inspirer and helper for many years. Let us all greet him in loying sympathy and kindliness of thought in his new home, and aid him to take up the work he has laid down here. To his faithful wife, left alone in this physical world, let us send our tenderest sympathy, and good will with a prayer to God and the angels, to sustain her in her bitter sorrow. He is not dead, this great and good man, but has only gone home to enjoy the reward of his well-spent life.—Banner of Light.

FREE CHURCH, OF STURGIS

Convention at the First Spiritual Church of the World.

The 46th anniversary of the dedication of the Free Church, on Chicago street, Sturgis, Mich., came off on Saturday and Sunday, June 13 and 14. The speakers were Dr. J. M. Peebles, of Battle Creek, and Mrs. Marian Carpenter, of Detroit, Mich. The two formed quite a contrast. "Variety is the spice of life," viz., Peebles delivers his speech thoughtfully and cautiously; Carpenter speaks under excitement; Peebles suits the educated and cultured class, Carpenter suits the masses; Peebles does not claim that he is "inspired," Carpenter does, and "gives it to 'em red hot." Peebles is a boy of 83, Carpenter is a girl of 25 (?).

Thomas Collar, president of the Harmonial Society, presided, except at the conference meetings at which Thos. Harding was chairman. The choir consisted of Mrs. Homer Lesh, Miss Agnes Cressler and Mrs. M. French. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Myrtle French. To do justice to the speeches of the two regular lecturers would be an impossibility in a comparatively short newspaper report, therefore I shall not attempt it; both speakers were well re-ceived and Mrs. Carpenter at the conclusion of her addresses gave what are called "platform tests," which seemed interesting to the "faithful," and attractive to outsiders. As usual at those annual conventions the house was filled to repletion on the last day, and a fair-sized audience on the first. Many attended from distant states and cities, and this meeting, viewed as a whole, kept up the reputation of the June meeting for instruction and interest which it had acquired through the past 46 years. The following is an imperfect sketch of the proceedings in detail: Saturday afternoon. This being the first meeting of the session the audi-

Peebles and persons in the hall addressed it and opened the "ball." Saturday evening, Mrs. Carpenter lectured on the general subject of Spiritualism, and gave tests at the con-ence was thin, but Mrs. Carpenter, Dr.

Sunday morning. Conference from o'clock to 1:30. Audience good. Sunday 10:30. Mrs. Carpenter lectured and at the conclusion gave tests from the platform.

Sunday 2 o'clock. The last conference was opened. The chairman, Thos. Harding, invited all present to feel "at home," and express themselves freely. He spoke of God imminent in man, invited Spiritualists not to halt too long on their journey, but to travel on to the Spirit of all spirits where alone abiding peace and heavenly ecstasy were to be found Dr. Peebles followed.

In closing the meeting the chairman said: "Much as we love our spirit friends, I feel it my duty to say at parting (as this is our last conference for this year) that there is One who is entitled to a still higher love. My friends we shall never all meet again, and as I am growing old, 80 years now, this may be my last June conference. Let me exhort you to love God above all, and thus secure that peace which the world can neither give nor take away. The Universalists plead for 'love to God and man, but we may blot out the last two words of the sentence, for if we 'love God,' we shall certainly love our fellowmen. Do not permit yourselves to be persuaded that God does not forgive sin. I know he has blotted out my transgressions. Earth-bound our material bodies may be, but a sense of sins forgiven surmounts our pains and in the love of God our souls arise triumphantly to heaven. The conference meeting is dismissed."

1903 is said to have been as satisfactory

as any of those which preceded it.

How many of us will attend the next

June meeting? How many of us will have gone higher before that time arrives? What circumstances will intervene to render us more fit for the great change, let eternal wisdom determine.

As the above report may be repeated in whole or in part in this or other countries, it seems proper to explain to the reader unfamiliar with the subject that these anniversary meetings have been kept up every year since the dedication of the house, without "a missing link" for 46 years. I further explain that a large number of Spiritualists do not approve of what are called "platform tests." Many also believe that a discourse carefully prepared is better as a rule for cultivated audiences than extemporaneous or "inspired" addresses.

It is admitted on all hands, however that some persons are really inspired,

(as for instance Mrs. Richmond, Lyman C. Howe and others) by superior.

intelligences. Prayers and benedic-tions are also objectionable to many professed Spiritualists, yet on special preach and pray. The old Greek saying that "The mills of the Gods grind slow," and that reticent spirits are the most reliable, ought not to be forgotten.

Thoughtful, conscientious Spiritualists are careful to admit that mediumship is not as general as claimed and that a large majority of those who practice it as a profession are cheats. Some of

of these remarks may cause opposition.

but to me they seem necessary to meet

Sturgis, Mich. THOS HARDING.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

If you have got rheumatism or kidney trouble, I can cure you or no pay. For full particulars, send-your name and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure catarrh and rupture without the use of

"Death, Its Meaning and Results."

wonderful psychic events in the author's experience. Cloth, 560 pages, ilthe objections of strangers.

medicines.

luntrated, $1.25,

occasions some are really controlled to Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, be-tween Monroe and Kimbark avenues. Dr. Peebles delivered his last lecture The best talent available will be sein the afternoon of Sunday. Mrs. Car-penter gave the final address in the cured to give interest at every meeting. To spread the truth is the object of this society. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 E 55th street, where all communicaevening, followed by tests and on each day while under the control who gave the tests, she sang inspirationally (and tions should be addressed. improvised the verses) Both music and words have been described to me Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday evenings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue. by President Collar as beautiful. I was The Progressive Society holds services at 183 E. North avenue, corner not present at that time. After the final speech, tests and music, Mrs. Car-Burling street, every Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m. Lectures delivered in English and German by Mrs. Hilbert, assisted penter closed the two-days' meeting, at the request of the president, with a solemn benediction. Thus concluded the by other good speakers. Tests and good music at all services. 46th June meeting, at which all the addresses and other exercises were paid A Spiritualist Temple has been the most reverent attention by everyopened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belone present. The president and the secretary, Mr. C. Cressler, as well the mont avenue. Services held every Sunday and Thursday evening at 8 committees, did all in their power to clock. Tests and music at every serrender happy all those who attended from a distance, and the convention of vice.

"Love-Sex-Immortality." By Dr. W. P. Pnelon. For sale at this office.

Price 25 cents. "Man and the Spiritual World, as Disclosed in the Bible." By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Associate of King's College, London. An excellent book for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.25. "Voltaire's Romances." Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enemy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined, with the skill of a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale "The Veil of Isis." as seen at Atlantis; in the Great Temple of Karnac, at Luxor, in Egypt, and in the Jewish Temple at Jerusalem, is Doctor Phelon's latest booklet. Its pages are full of ancient lore, in paper covers. For sale at this office. Sent on receipt of ten cents, silver or stamps. "Origin of Life, or Where Man Comes From." "The Evolution of the Spirit from Matter Through Organic Processes, or How the Spirit Body Grows." By Michael Faraday. Prince 10 cents. For sale at this office.

"The Kingship of Self-Control." Ву

Wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape duty, the supreme charity of the world, the revelation of reserve power, etc. Price 30 cents. For sale at this office. The new soug-book, "The Golden Echoes," by S. W. Tucker, has found its way into many homes, and its beautiful songs have cheered many sorrowing hearts, which they are sure to do when heard and sung. They should be heard in every home in the land. For sale at this office. Price, 15 cents; $1.50 per dozen.

"Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J.
Howard Moore. An address before the Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price, 25 cents.

"Mediumship and Its Development, "Death, Its Meaning and Results," and How to Mesmerize to Assist Devel-By J. K. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania opment." By W. H. Bach, Especially Bar. An absorbingly interesting volume, of decided value. A narrative of utilize the laws of mediumship and development, and avoid errors. Price, cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. For ale at this office.

HOROSCOPES

MYSTERIES OF THE SEANCE, and

ton, Mass. Price, 25 cents.

Tricks and Traps of Bogus Mediums

The above pambhlet, if widely circu lated, will have a tendency to drive the fakes from our ranks, and will do much search for the truth and more fully realize it when found. It will be an aid to the honest, painstaking investigator.

It will assist the skeptic in seeing wherein the truth lies. It will prevent those who are seeking genuine spirit communion from being deceived and swindled. This pamphlet published by

Lunt Brothers, Boston, Mass., is for sale

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS.

It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice be given us, so that inquirers may not be mislead. We want new notices of all meetings being held here in public halls at the present

The Metropolitan Spiritualist Society holds services every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Haymarket Theatre Build-ng, 161 W. Madison street. Lecture, spirit communications, and questions answered. Mrs. Maggie Waite, pastor. Church of the Spirit Communion, Kenwood Hall, 4808 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 3 p.

8 p. m. Messages by H. F. Coates and

The Spiritual Research meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in

Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue.

Good music and singing. All are in Sunday at John Schott's Lodge Hall, corner Belmont and Racine avenue.

Speaker, Hon. R. Gilray; Charles J. Pe

terson, Prof. Edwards and Mr. G. A

Cowen, test mediums. Services, 8 p.m.
The Spiritualistic Church of the Students of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday even ings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schu-macher, pastor.

Church of the Spiritual Forces holds service at Thurman Club Room, corner of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 8 p.

Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Lecture and tests by the Rev.

Third Church of Progressive Truth

holds services every Sunday at 3 and 8

Mrs. Schaeffer, at Van Buren Hall, Cali-fornia avenue and Madison street.

Good music and singing. All are invited,

During June the Englewood Spiritual

Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and mes sages at 8 p. m. sharp. Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, where truth-seekers and inves tigators, as well as Spiritualists can en:

joy a pleasant afternoon or evening,

First-class speakers. Tests and messages by carefully selected mediums. Excellent music by (Blind) LeRoy

The Brotherhood of Spiritual Truth

Society meets Sunday at 8 p. m. Services conducted by J. K. Hilles and wife nd other measums, who will from time to time address the meeting and give tests and spirit messages. Meetings will be held in Temperance Hall, 830

West Sixty-third street. All are invited

The First Hyde Park Occult Society

olds regular meetings every Sunday at to attend and co-operate.

Drake. Mrs. May Elmo, medium.

Spiritual Union Church meets every others. Plenty of good music.

vited to attend.

m. Lecture a Isa Cleveland.

to attend.

m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt at

at this office. Price 25 cents.

Scientifically accurate and feliable. Captain G.W Walroud, 1516 Glenurg Star Denver, Col., Est 1830 -A Plea for Honest Mediums and Clean Work. By a Life-long Spirit-Female and Unibren's Diseases ualist, Lunt Bros., Publishers, Bos-Cured without mediains. No charge for consultation. MRS. C. H. COCHEAN; 1674 Wellington St. Chicago, near Clark. 760

WANTED-BY DETROIT SCHOOL TEACHER: furnished room in Chicago during July and August. Profer private, family sympathicing with all branches of Spiritual research. Address, Student, 63 Sproat say, herrolf, Mich.

to encourage those who never resort to trickery in their work to advance the cause of Spiritualism. Every genuine MRS. STODDARD GRAY medium—and there are hundreds of them-will rejoice to learn that many And Son, DH WIST U. HOUGH Materializing and Test: Mediums, hold scances Sunday, Wednesday, and Adday evenings, eight o clock, Saturdays Pp. m., at their residence, 38 West 57th St., New York, Sttings for communi-cations daily, 10 to b methods adopted by the fakes are lucid ly explained, and that too by a Spiritualist. This pamphlet will arouse a healthy condition of the investigating mind, and it will then be prepared to Typewritten and sent FREE if you will send your birth-date and three stands for maining expenses I have astonished thousands with my wonderfully correctly reading of their life, past and future. I correctly reveal your future love affairs, business

F. N. FOSTER.

The well-known SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHER. es sittings by mail. Send for circular giving as, etc., to Lock Box 215 Brooklyn, N. Y.

TESTIMONIAL:

Bushton, III., June 12, 1003.

F. N. Foster. Chicago.—My Dear Sir:—Received my photo some days ago, I recognized three of the four faces at sight, and they were recognized by the rest of my family. I want a half dozen copies. Yours for truth, H. V. Thgangson, Justice of the Peace.

DON'T READ THIS. Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trial will convince you. Mervous exhaustion and lost vigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundreds can testify. Send name, age, see, see, complexion and 10 cents in stamps, and exceive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth gollars to you. Address, FRANCES L. LOUCKS, Stoucham, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

by return mail, and I will

Forward Free of Charge, Valuable Information,

> of Interest to All. C. WALTER LYNN,

You Can Have If you wear Magnetized Good Eucsight years I have been fitting and spirit assistance. Sending a people in the world I have been fitting and spirit assistance. Sending spectacles by mail to people that live, in all parts of this mundane world. If you want, the best spectacles write for Illustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also how you can by ME be fitted at Your Own Home. For, beenfalts pay postage. Will send sample of magnetized compound, sufficient for 4 oz of eye water, Cures some eyes, strengthens weak eyes. If requested will send photo of Spirit Yarma.

48 Evansgan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MOLLIE FANCHER, The Brooklyn Enigma. An authentic statement of facts in the life of Mary J. Fancher, the psychological marvel of the nineteenth conture, Unimpeachable testimony of many withersee, 184 Abram H. Dailey, With illustrations, Price cloth, 81.50.

KAREZZA: Histos of Marriage. By Albe B. Stockham, M. pleas for a better interript for children, and aims to lead individuals to seek a higher development of themselves through most sacred relations. It is pure in tone and aim, and should be widely circulated. Price, cloth, 81.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE has been sold for $2, but the price now has been reduced to $1. It is a book that will interest and instruct. It contains 280 pages, and is full of suggestive thoughts. Dr. Sherman was a medium of rare qualities, and his work is a reflection from the celestial spheres.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religious, and their influence upon the material development of the human race. Transcribed at the request of a band of ancient philosophers. Brical Months of the property of the pro osophers. Price. 10 cents.

VEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Lectures by the Swami Vivekacanda, on Raja Yoga; or Conquering the Internat Nature, and other subjects; also, Patanjail's Yoga Aphorisms, with commentaries and a copious giessary of Sanakrit terms. Revised and enlarged, 12mo., Cloth, 81.50. Raja Yoga is an ancient system of indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and perfection. Swami Vivekananda became a familian foure in several American cities during the three years following the Parliament of Religious at Chicago; he was cordially received in America, where the breadth and depth of his teachings were soon recognized. His teachings are universal in their application. The book is cheap $451.50. For saie at this office.

MARK GHESTER, \mathbf{or}

A Mill and a Million.

This is one of Carlyle Petersilea's most interesting works. It is purely a Psychical Romance such as the author is noted for producing. You need it in your library for the purpose of leading your romance-loving children out into the light of occultism. Price, cloth cover, 60 cts. For sale at this office.

The Rollidge of Jude A story of the rine" and of his people. Given Through the mediumship of MRS.M.T. LONGLEY, to Ira C. Fuller, and by him dedicated to humanity. It is enough to know this work came through this excellent medium to recommend it. 174 pages of interesting reading. Price, cloth, 50 cents.

JIM, or The Touch of An Angel Mother. BY CARRIE E. S. TWING.

Her dedicatory lines are sufficient to show the spirit of the book as swell as the author, it reads, "Because my,own children are all under the tender care of the angels, and my heart is hungry for the love of the young, I most loving; ly dedicate this book too the children of the world." This book as fulliof soul elevating and interesting thoughts: Price, cloth, Si. For sale at this office.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I .-- The Pentateuch.

Comments on Ganesiae Exodus, Leviticas, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Deveroux Rinke, Rev. Phebe Hanaford, Clara Hewick Colby, Ellen Battelle Dettrick, Mrs. Louiza Stuthworth, Ursula N. Gestefeld, and Francis Effair.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE .-- PART II. Judges, Kings, Prophots and Apostles. Commonts on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation: The comments are keen, bright, spley, full of wit, the work of radical thinkers who are not ignorant of the higher criticism. There is not a doil page in either of these books, but each its a galaxy of the bright minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 50 cents.

THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuier, Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume night well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar interesting style in which French writers excel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the meets of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable does in Spiritualism." and respectable does in Spiritualism."

CHART FREE

By a Bohemian Gypsy Astrologer and Clairvoyant. Bend age, color of eyes and hair, in own handwriting. Address GEO. WELLES, Box 150, Newark, N. J. 708

A Tried and True Medium. Clairvoyant, Intuitional and Prophetic. Has consented to give readings by mail for a limited time, to carnest inquirers who are seeking for evidences of a future life. Full readings and three questions answered, by mail, $i. Where date of birth is sent, will give an Astro-Psychic Delineation also. Send own handwriting. Address.

MRS. E. DE FOREST.

179 Albion St., West Somerville, Mass.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS.
Send two dollars, your photograph or lock of late, and receive three finished pictures from come loved ones that are wating to reach you room the summer land. some loved ones that are wating to reach you from the summer and.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Normann.—The three photographs were handed me to day, and I recognize overy face upon them, and I can truthfully say these pictures are genuine, and will recommend you to the world, for such evidence is what proves life eternal, Mrs. Dr. Gregor McGregor.

2834 Chicago ave., Minueapolis, Minn.

Address with stamp enclosed and receive proof MR. & MRS. A. NORMANN,

2721, Elliott av. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE SPEAKING DIAL. A Wonderful Spiritual Invention

A Wonderful Spiritual Invention
Gives names, dates and circumstances. Speaks in various languages; answers mental questions;
convincing the most skeptical. Has come to prove immortality and spirit communion. Develops all phases of mediumship. Magnetized by powerful spirit band. Read what the late Hon. I. Donnelly said of the Speaking Dial. Dials now, 81.50. Send for testimonials. Enclose stamp for reply. P. J.
DEMPSEY Inventor, 2817 Columbus ave., Minne spolis, Minn.

Annie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind slater, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earliest mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with $1, and I will try and get reply by independent writing or whis-pers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Mil-lord Mass.

a the cidest and most successful Spiritual Physicis now in practice. His cures are THE MOST MARVELOUS of this age. His examinations are correctly made, and free to all who send him name, age, sex and lock of hair, and six cents in stamps. He doesn't ask for any leading symptom. A clairvoyant doesn't need any. He positively cures weak men. Address J. S. LOUCKS, M. D.,

"NO BEGINNING."

An Excellent Work for Thinkers.

This book, "No Beginning," is by William H. Maple. The Arena says of it: "The argument is unanswerable. The book will at once appeal to the reason of every reader, and leave him more amazed than ever at the preva-lence of the theory of Creation." The Two has always been a fateful num-Free Thought Ideal says: "We found it full of glittering thoughts for thinkers. and the very death warrant of Christian superstition shines upon its pages."

The Science of Spirit Return. By Charles Dawbarn. A scientific rehearsal that is truly interesting. Price, 10 cents.

AN ASTONISHING OFFER

Send three two-cent stamps, lock of bair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free by spirit power.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker, Box 132, San Jose, Cal By Common Sense Methods

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker.

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE. My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:--I want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good.

MARY JANE PEARCE.

Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21,

Mrs. Dobson-Barker-Kind Friend:-As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I will write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treat-practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer, Respectfully, MINA M. YANG. Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902.

ment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still

Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker—Dear Sister:-I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am happy to say I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I was sick twenty-five years.

I still remain your friend, AMANDA R. GREEN.

NEW GATEGHISM.

BY M. M. MANGASARIAN. This is a new "Catechism" in the full sense of the word. There has as yet appeared in the world of lib eral literature nothing like this most wonderful little book or reason. E. P. Powell, the well-known author. the reviewer and critic, says: "The remarkable thing about this 'Catechism' is that it tells the truth." It deals with the questions of God Immortality—the Creeds, the Clergy, the Church, Prayer and Salvation, Jesus and his Teaching, the Growth of the Christian Scriptures, and many other philosophical scientific and ethical questions with the utmost caudor, cour age and clearness. 188 pages. Cloth 75c; paper, 50c

THE DIAKKA. The Diakka and Their Earthly Victims. By the Seer A. J. Davis. A very interesting and suggestive work. It is an expinantion of much that is false and repulsive in Spiritualism, embodying a most important recent interview with James Victor Wilson, a resident of Summer Land. Price, 50 cents.

6. WALTER LYNN

Healer and

Gifted Psychic. HEALTH RESTORED

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Ailments. कार्य क

OBSESSION CURED.

For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name, sex and own handwriting.

READINGS AND BUSINESS AD VICE $1.00 and two stamps.

Address 855 Grove St.

Write for Circular

A free serve Tenic and Blood Builder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Deblitty and the various forms of nervous Dyad physical depression, Mchancholia, Nervous Dyadepsia, Torpid Liver, Weak Kidneys, Chronic Backacte, poor circulation, poor appette, poor sleep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the tone of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. 50 doses, 75c; 100 doses $1.25 Postage prepaid.

Postage prepaid, Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC

For Constitution, Headache, Etc.

Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Healthy Action of the Bowels. 38 tablets, 22c. Postage
prepaid. Prepared only by H. M. JORY,

Manufacturing Chemiss.
6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor Aff Philosophy of This work contains a graphic Spiritual Intercourse, account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Phelps, Strutford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the test of many years. Cloth, $1,20; postage 10c.

MAHOMET His Birth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Gibbon. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberal Classics. It is conceded to be historically correct, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents.

THE AGE OF REASON. By Thomas Paine. Being an investigation of True and Fabulous Theology. A new and com-plete edition, from new plates and new types 180 pages, post 8vo. Paper 252; cloth, 50c.

OIL-GAS The WON- NEW FUEL

OHIO MECHANIC'S REMARKABLE DISCOVERY.

Claimed to be the Cheapest. Safest and Best Yet Found. A New Oil-Gas Stove that Burns' 90% Air, only 10% Oil-Gas. A Miniature Gas Works in the Home. All May Now Have Gas for Cooking and Heating in the Home, Made from Kerosene Oil at a Cost of about 1/2 cent Per Hour. Makes Cooking and Housework a Delight. Save 1-3 to 1-2 your Fuel Bill.

"THOSE WHO ARE USING THIS INVENTION ARE ENTHUSIASTIC AND

An inventive genius of Cincinnati has discovered a new scientific oil-gas GENERATOR that is proving a blessing to womenfolks, relieving them of drudgery—makes cooking and housework a delight and at the same time save × to × in cost of fuel.

How often have many of our readers remarked that they would give anything to get rid of the drudgery of using the dirty coal and wood stoves with their asines, dirt and unpleasantness! Also their gasoline stoves which are dangerous and liable to cause explosion or fire at any time.

ment which placed over the burner, makes it a desirable heating stove during the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done with entirely.

While at the factory in Cincinnati the writer was shown hundreds of letters from delighted customers who are using this wonderful oil gas stove, showing that it is not an experiment, but a positive success and giving perfect satisfaction, and as a few extracts may be interesting to our readers, we reproduce them:

L. S. Norris, of Vt., writes: The Harrison Oil-Gas Generators to a stove. They are made of steet throughout. Are sent out complete, ready for use as soon as received, nicely finished with nickel trimmings and as there seems to be desirable heating stove during the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done using as soon as received, nicely finished with nickel trimmings and as there seems to be used to be used to be an analysis of the following the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the following the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the following the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the fall and winter, so that the old cook stove may be done the fall and winter, so that the cold cook stove may be done the fall and the fall and winter, so that the fall an Ing to our reacers, we reproduce them:

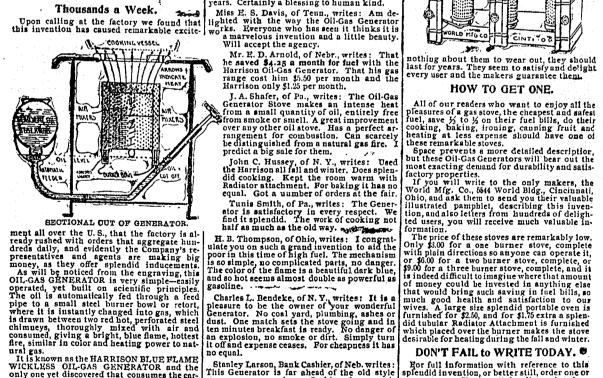

L. S. Norris, of Vt., writes: The Harrison OilGas Generator Stoves are wonderful savers of fuel. At least 50 to 75% over wood and coal.,

Mr. H. Howe, of N. Y., writes: I find the Harrison is the first and only perfect oil-gas stove I have ever seen. So simple anyone can safely use it. It is what I have wanted for years. Certainly a blessing to human kind.

at any time.

Well, that day has arrived and a perfect substitute has been discovered and all can now have gas fuel for cooking and heating and not have their kitchen a hot, fiery furnace in summer and be carrying coal and ashes, rulning their looks and health.

Thousands a Week.

fire, similar in color and heating power to natural gas.

It is known as the HARRISON BLUE FLAME WICKLESS OIL-GAS GENERATOR and the only one yet discovered that consumes the carbon and all the by-products of the oil.

This GENERATOR combines the method of making gas used in ordinary gas works and makes every user independent of the coal pile, the wood box and the gas Company.

The extremely small amount of oil that is needed to produce so large, I volume of gas makes it the most economical fuel on earth, and one of the direct reasons for the positive success of this GENERATOR is based on the woll known fact of the

ENORMOUS EXPANSIVENESS OF OIL-GAS

when mixed with oxygen (common air) and it is therefore easily estimated that a large spoonful of kerosene OlL, changed into gas and mixed with oxygen would fill a small hogshead. Consequently, it may be seen that 10e to 20c 'a week should furnish oil-gas fuel for cooking for a small family.

Kerosene oil may be purchased in almost every grocery. Is cheap—a gallon of it costing 8c to 10c should furnish hottest, blue stame fire in the burner for about 18 hours. Sc to 10c should furnish hottest, blue flame fire in the burner for about 18 hours. In addition to its cheapness is added the comfort, cleanliness, absence of soot, coal, dirt, ashes, etc.
What pleasure to just turn on the oil, light the want pleasure to just turn on the oil, light the gas—a hot fire, ready to cook. When through, turn it off. Just think how nice! A little kerosene oil—one match, light—a beautiful, blue gas flame, hottest fire, always ready, quick meals. A gas stove in your home.

It generates the gas only as needed. Is not complicated, but simple, easily operated and another feature is its perfect safety, not like THE GASOLINE STOVE WHICH

And liable to explode or chuse fire at any moment. This Generator is so safe that you could drop a match in the oil think and it would go out. With this oil-gas stove in your home you can do any kind of cooking that a coal or gas range will do. Do it cheaper, quicker and better. It is invaluable for the kitchen, laundry, summer cottage, washing, froning, camping and for those who live in flats. It is the ideal stove for canning fruit. With a portable oven which is placed over the burner, splendid baking can be done.

IS TREACHEROUS

Another important feature No the careallys of a small rediator allech-nothing about them to wear out, they should last for years. They seem to satisfy and delight every user and the makers guarantee them.

Hor full information with reference to this spleudid invention, or better still, order one or more stoves. You won't be disappointed as the makers guarantee every stove and should it ever be possible that you receive any goods from ssible that you receive any goods from them not right, they assure us that they will make them right, replace with neworrefund your money after even 30 days' use, if not as represented. We know the makers to be perfectly responsible and reliable. Capital $100,000.00, and will do just as they agree. The stoves are as represented and will be promptly shipped upon receipt of Money Order, Drait, Certified Check or Registered letter. Don't fail to write at once whether you intend to buy or not for you will receive valuable information by so doing.

MONEY MAKING.

MONEY MAKING.

would cost.

L. C. Brown, of Ohio, says: Its the finest stove for cooking meats and baking bread, pies, biscuits, etc., I ever saw.

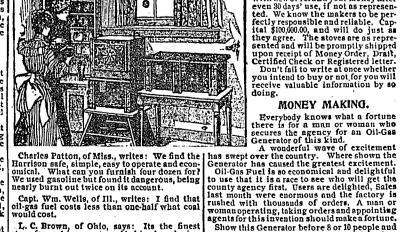

B. F. Forney, of Pa., writes: Your Generator is a big improvement over the old wick stoves.

W. T. Bessonette, of Texas, writes: This Generator is a big improvement over any other oil stove I have ever secu. A splendid article.

Hundreds of other prominent people highly endorse and recommend oil-gas fuel and theretertainly seems to be no doubt that it is a wonderful improvement over any other method for cooking and heating.

This writer personally saw thesa oil-gas stoves in operation, and after investigation can say that this Harrisson Oil-Gas Stove, made by a Cincinnatt firm is the only perfect burner of its hind.

It is made in the sates, the or three states and the control of the contr

One number of The Progressive Thinker is often worth one dollar ... it is sent one year for that amount.

The Progressive Thinker is the great Educator of the Present Age... Induce

SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

VOL. 28.

OHIOAGO, ILL., JÜLY 4. 1903.

NO. 710.

MORRIS PRATT INSTITUTE.

Various Thoughts Expressed by Various Minds.

Kindly Views of an Earnest Worker.

To the Editor:-I have not the time to give my views upon all the questions submitted by you regarding the Morris Pratt Institute, except to say that H. D. Barrett's moderate, thoughtful and dispassionate article very nearly meets my ideas upon all the points at issue and affords a striking and commendable contrast to some of the intemperate and waspish communications published in the same number of your paper. Indeed, to my mind the most deplorable and discouraging feature of these discussion is the dogmatic and unkind criticism that so many prominent Spiritualists make of ideas and movements the do not meet their approbation. Discussion is, or should be, freely indulged, but in the spirit of a truth-seeker and not of the dogmatist. Judging from some of the articles upon this and other subjects that so frequently appear in the Spiritualist papers, there are many in our ranks who are in a chronic state of conten-tionsness, who are looking constantly for some head to hit, it doesn't matter

I love debate and discussion, but when I read the intemperate and unkind things that are too often indulged toward each other by people in our ranks, my heart sinks with apprehension for the success of our cause.

Even if I was not a believer in the ne cessity of education for our teachers and speakers, yet, knowing as I do how hard, how industriously, how unselfishly Moses Hull has labored for years to accomplish this cherished object in the establishment of a Spiritualist training school, the harsh criticisms and discouragements that have been and are being heaped upon him and his school would bring me to his defense. Is it not enough that he and his are bearing the burden of worriment and disap-pointment, but his brothers and sisters in the cause of Spiritualism should add to his burdens and discouragements by

barsh criticism and belittling comments upon his school? It seems to me hearty sympathy with the principle and cause in the state of Wisconsin than it objects that Moses Hull is trying to acfor the establishment of such an institution may be a question. As to the need of such or similar institutions, to my mind, there is no question. But. whether the time is or is not propitious, the fact is that Morris Pratt gave the property for that purpose and would give it for no other purpose. It was Mr. Pratt's ambition to see such an institution formed, and there was no alternative than either to accept the property then and there for that purpose, or lose it altogether. Mr. Hull and his confreres accepted a big risk, and, under the most favorable circumstances, success could only be attained As it is, that labor and those sacrifices will have to be intensified, but why should we add to them by throwing un necessary obstacles in the way of success, by striving to arouse prejudice and antagonism in the minds of others: It is claimed that schools are not needed, for "the spirits will educate their mediums and speakers," and the names of A. J. Davis. Colville. Richmond. Tuttle and others are cited as instances. But such organisms are rare indeed, and if we must depend for our spiritual food upon the few thus enum erated, many of us would have to go hungry even though we worked those inspired teachers over time. But this constant reference to these honored teachers is ant to be misleading. While it is true that they had little systematic training in their youth, yet their recep tivity to education was not confined to the spiritual avenues and they are, without exception, wise in worldly af-

Mr. Davis is a graduate of a medica college. Mr. Colville is abreast with the newest thought and familiar with conversant with the latest and most important works of the modern thinkers Mrs. Richmond is a woman of keen ob servation and broad information. While to Hudson Tuttle, even the erudite Peebles is not ashamed to apply for a knowledge of the facts of history and the information is given accompanied by the authorities, page and vol ume. And this is more or less true of all our brilliant medium teachers. And it is to their credit that they recognize their own individuality and responsibility in seeking for knowledge from whatever source obtainable The plea is made that the common schools, high schools, schools of oratory, etc., supply all the needs that the Morris Pratt School is intended to furnish. I cannot suppress a smile at this claim when I recall certain cases that have come under my observation. I have in my mind at this moment three of the members of my flock who have recently developed remarkable gifts of inspirational mediumship. One of them, especially, has startled me and others with flashes of wonderful beauty and profundity. Yet, being uneducated her vocalulary is limited by her thirty or more years of toil, to the language of the house-wife. She is utterly inca pable of clothing her new mental children in appropriate language, to our re gret and her own pain and mortification. That is also true, to a certain extent of the others. They are all between thirty and forty years of age, and the mention of the public schools in connection with them is what causes and its chosen emissaries are the beg-

Replizing profoundly the excellent libertine.—Bancroft,

MORRIS PRATT INSTITUTE, and valuable work they might do for the cause, I have devoted some of my exceedingly limited time to teaching them as best I could and found them. exceedingly apt scholars, and it was then that I realized what an invaluable thing a properly conducted training opposition to the Morris Pratt School is honest and well intentioned, but I cannot but feel that its opponents are, unconsciously, stumbling blocks in the movement is that it appears just when the demands on the purses of Spiritualists are so varied and Through the singular inability of Spiritualists to unite we are divided up into numerous societies, each with a limited membership. To support these many different organizations is a serious drain upon the resources of individuals and they have nothing to spare for any-

Many of them without excuse or less from the success of older and established camps.

Iowa, there was no other Spiritualist camp-meeting west of New York state. There was a real need for it, but years of hard and self-sacrificing labor were necessary before it became self-sustaining. And now, when it is upon a self-sustaining basis and capable of great good for the cause, other camps must be established within its own legitimate territory, weakening it and lessening its effectiveness without coresponding benefit to them. I have before me as I write the report of the Wisconsin State Association and its camp-meeting at Waukesha, last season, showing a loss of over one thousand dollars. In the face of that report, can any one affirm that any great demand existed for the establishment of said camp? Suppose that thousand dollars had been contributed to the support of the Morris Pratt Instithat some of the comments were little tute instead of being thrown away on an experiment? Would it not have I do not hesitate to say that I am in conduced more to the success of the > Expansion of the right kind and at the right time is a good thing, but what our people need most to-day is more concentration of purpose, effort and W. F. PECK.

St. Louis, Mo.

To all Ordained Speakers and Mediums:-The N. S. A board of trustees has instructed its secretary to notify, through the Spiritual papers, all or ranks, that the N. S. A. and its officers are not taken as infallible sponsors-by the railroad commissioners-of those who ask for clergy rates in traveling over their lines.

While the commissioners positively -through its president-they, deem unworthy, or not eligible to the clergy rights. The railroad officials, as other denominations. They claim, any medium or speaker, the case is then beyond the jurisdiction of the S. A. and it rests in the hands of the railroad officials to settle as they deem MARY T. LONGLEY,

Notice to State Associations and Their

N. S. A. Secretary.

Auxiliaries. information, but it is deemed best at hereafter each local society that is chartered by, and in good standing with, a state association can have a representative at the N. S. A. annual small sum of two dollars to the N. S. A. prior to convention. Each local society will surely take pride in being represented at convention, and will raise the through its state association. This will relieve the state association of any burden and also provide for a handsome representation at conventions from the state. No person can vote for more than one society at convention. State associations are requested to communicate with their auxiliaries on heart.—South. world.—Richter.

> MARY T. LONGLEY. N. S. A. Secretary.

shade of fast-flying clouds across my book passes with delicate change.

school would be to them. I do not doubt for a moment that the way of progress. The misfortune of Brother Hull's thing else. As an example of this wasteful and extravagnt division of forces note the numerous camp-meetings that are springing up all over the and in response to little or no demand. Yet each one draws and detracts more

When the M. V. S. A. camp was established twenty years ago at Clinton, state that the applicants for clergy rates must be indorsed by the N. S. A. commissioners, reserve the right to pass judgment on the claims of applicants, and to reject any whom they a rule, in most districts are courteous to our people, and make no discrimination between them and the clergy of ever, that mediums or other spiritual workers, who give sittings, in part for a living, or pursue other means of livelihood besides their platform work, are N. S. A. indorses through its president.

Official Notice From the N. S. A.

The state associations chartered with he N. S. A. have received the following neadquarters for it to appear in the Spiritual papers. Notification—that necessary two dollars, paying same

A man's life is an appendix to his How calmly we may submit ourselves to the hands of Him who bears up the The rain is playing its soft, pleasant tune fitfully on the skylight, and the gared spendthrift and the impoverished

EDUCATE OR EVACUATE.

What Are You Going to Do About It?

With characteristic sense, The Progressive Thinker has again thrown out a few intellectual bombshells that may cause a scattering of the crowd. I re-fer especially to the June 13th number in which your editorials with other articles upon the Morris Pratt College and the N. S. A. are found. They are spicy questions that ought to interest every one of us who has at heart the cause of Spiritualism.

the benefit of persons who may propose to enter the field of public Spiritual work." Again you remark that "withal that may be acquired by the reading of the works of Spiritualist authors, there may remain a supplementary work, useful and helpful to be done under the supervision of competent Spiritualist in-structors." Right again.

To be sure we must "take Spiritual-ists as they are." And hence there are several perplexing questions and facts staring us in the face as the result of Spiritualists being "as they are." We have a National Association with buildings, fixtures and officers, with $15,000 in the treasury located at Washngton, D. C. The executive expenses are large already. We are trying in addition to this to persuade ourselves that an extra set of buildings and officials are needed in another portion of the United States for education purposes. We are told that a college must be had to teach our mediums not to publicly declare that "there are no spleen." In short, whatever they do, do it gram matically and with becoming dignity. "We need education"; certainly we do; and we need it bad; and some need something to eat and clothes to wear, and remedies and comforts when they are sick and depleted by their long term of nerve-racking labors.

We need a mediums' home or spot of rest for those worn out in service: who have sacrificed the better part of their lives for the vanishing applause of the public

We need a more aggressive method of advocating Spiritualism as an educative and reformatory movement, as well as religious organization. have over-advertised and boomed the "wonderful and marvelous exploits of phenomenal mediums with questionable methods and damaging results.
We have degenerated to a ten-cent vaudeville show on the one-hand, and an evaporated theosophical metaphysical nothingism on the other.

We have forgotten the glorious principles taught by Andrew Jackson Davis, Hudson Tuttle and other spirit-

We have been so blindly selfish in our scramble after so many "only mediums," and "fascinating speakers" with "charming personalities," that our children have grown to laugh us to scorn when we mention Spiritualism. Oh, yes! we need education; we are sadly in need of cultivation along the lines of psychology, for, stripped of the religious element Spiritualism and its lemonstrations is simply psychology. It is a self-evident fact that a teacher of any religion or philosophy in school or on the lecture platform should be conversant with the laws and methods of application of the knowledge to be

Also it is quite necessary that the instructor should be possessed of a respectable character and reputation privately and publicly.

Grammar and rhetoric many times go with some of the grossest and vile propensities to which mankind can de College bred mediums would be nice. very pretty, but unless they can "discern spirits" and transmit messages from the spirit world to this material sphere, and also apply and interpret the information received, they are not of the "distinctive character" that Spirltualism demands.

To demonstrate the proofs of an immortal existence, and to establish practicable methods of obtaining communications and knowledge from the spirit world is the mission of the Spiritualist leacher.

The science of the soul's existence in the body and out of the body must be considered by and through classified psychology, viz., phrenology, physiognomy, psychometry, Clairvoyance, clairaudience, astrology and biology,

The several phases of mediumship must be explained." Therefore he must have the power to "discern spirts," heal the sick and receive valuable information from the invisible world. If he does not do these things, how far removed is he from the ordinary evangelist, Christian or Mohammedan?

All the phases of mediumship should e made clear to the investigator, and the enlightening benefits to be derived from the study should be illustrated and earnestly put forth to the public, to the exclusion of the impressible demonstrations of the questionable mediums. If a speaker prepares his address he forehand he may produce a model speech in every respect, but if he is not i trance medium or a psychometric, a clairvoyant or clairaudient, how can he instruct a pupil in these phases as to how to receive and give out information verbatim from the invisible to the vis ble people? If a man is not a practical healer, how can he teach healing?

Something distinctively different from the college education is needed to receive and interpret the delicate and ntricate psychometrical impressions given a medium. Automatic and im pressional writing both may come from he spirit and needs careful delinea I submit that much that has been given us by writers upon psychometry is not authoritative, because the infor mation came through a medium second handed aside from the writer in many cases. I speak as one having authority because of twenty years' experience on these lines.

The educated speakers may have plenty of fun over the errors of grammar and manner on the platform of some of our mediums, but at the same time let the critic consider that the extraordinary eulogizing and "puffing up" of the personalities of mediums has produced the egotistic medium with his eccentricities. Supply follows demand

Our annual conventions ignore the many important questions pertaining to the proper methods of conducting circles, meetings, schools and classes. They are too much in a hurry to "draw a crowd" at 10 cents or 25 cents a lead, to fill the treasury,

The impression is left upon the young Your editorial very fittingly says, "There is a field for educative effort of a distinctly Spiritualistic character for the boundary of the boundary of the boundary of the boundary of the statement by old-time Spiritualistic character for the boundary of the statement by old-time Spiritualistic character for the boundary of the statement by old-time Spiritualistic character for the boundary of the statement by old-time Spiritualistic character for the boundary of the statement by old-time Spiritualistic character for the statement of the statement character for the st lmes, the statement by old-time Spirit ualists, "What makes you run meetings, if it don't pay?"

A Spiritual college should not have the money consideration predominant. This college should teach spirituality and nobility of character and loyalty to the highest principles as prominent features of Spiritualism.

Why not utilize what we have and recognize the government of the National headquarters, working from that center, organizing local and state societies with lyceums that shall teach and inculcate the necessary principles, making the lyceum an educative and reformatory movement, and thus create a demand for a special training school for mediums, that may be taught at the N. S. A. buildings, thus putting to practical use this property that as it now stands does not justify the holding simply as an office for the N. S. A. alone?

Mediumship is the foundation of Spiritualism. Some of us who have worked years honestly, with more or less good results are not willing that a college-bred force of speakers shall crowd us off the stage at this day and age with sneers and ridicule when the very existence of the cause depends upon mediumship,

An educated medium may enhance his value as a teacher, but a bookvorm without mediumship depreciates the value of a Spiritualist teacher.

There are many good and worthy workers that have been crowded off the field, and not a few out of the body, by and through the fake element that has been upheld by the enemies of true mediumship. We need enlightenment in how to discern frauds and distinguish good from evil influences.

We want the kind of speakers and leaders who will not wink at the shameful methods of the stock-test medium who follows the brilliant speaker at the conventions, even though said medium does draw a crowd sufficient to pay ex-

Yes!! we need lots of education-but can't we obtain it with the facilities at hand without taxing the already overburdened willing Spiritualists? I opine that there is not in the United States a man or woman better qualified, or has done as much to educate people on the lines of true Spiritualism as Harrison D. Barrett during his ten years of service, and he is about to retire from active service discouraged and worn-out for lack of support in his many reformatory plans and projects. Let us raise funds for missionary purposes and public mediums' support while they can work, and not forsake them when unable to labor.

GEO. F. PERKINS. Sacramento, Cal.

The Woman Vote

There was an old-time belief that it vomen were enfranchised they would mass themselves into one great party by themselves, and make it their sole object to antagonize men. But there never was a "Woman's Party," and here never will be.

In every commonwealth there numerous classes of votes which the political leader must consider: the "labor vote," a force so powerful that he quails before it; the "farmer vote," which he seldom underestimates; the "business vote," the "corporation vote," the "trust vote." Then there is the "slum vote," the prolific soil of politi-

In the enfranchised states there is also the "woman vote," and no politician fails to give it due consideration. With him it is a business proposition; he knows that it must be won, and he sets about to win it in the same business-like way that he seeks to win the votes of any other class. He knows that candidates must be nominated who will be acceptable to the women voters, and as women look especially to the character of the men for whom they vote, he seeks to secure the best men of his party for the ticket. LAURA A. GREGG.

CHARITY.

A beggar died last night his soul went up to God and said. come uncalled; forgive it, died for want of bread."

Then answered him the Lord of Heav en: "Son, how can this thing be? Are not my saints on earth, had they not succored thee?"

Thy saints, O Lord," the beggar said "live holy lives of prayer". How shall they know of such We perish unaware:

"They strive to save our wicked souls, and fit them for the bly."

Meanwhile, not having brend to eat (forgive), our bodies die."

Then spake Lord God of Heaven in wrath, and tones of angry pain:
"O men, for whom My Son hath livedwas crucified in vain." Arthur Symons.

INGRATITUDE.

Not till the cruel roughening of the way Not till the hopeless tining of the feet. Not till the dusk and fading of the day Is the home most sweet. Not till our joy has turned to memory.

Not till our hearts are wearled out with Do we lift beaten hands and cry to thee, ---Anon, Life overlasting.

SPIRITUAL INSTITUTE

This Sounds Well, But----It May Be all Right if-

No doubt the above name, in speaking of the Morris Pratt Institute, impresses some people with an air of advancement, and really education does associate itself with the words when spoken or seen in print,

Spiritualism has meant the same to a certain extent for all these fifty years and more, and while it may not mean scholastic attainments in the true sense of the term, it means liberation of human thought from the bondage of old superstition; it means that we have modern evidence of the existence of a future state or continuity of conscious spirit after the change called death; it means new lines of advancement in hu-man thought and human conceptions. and for the life of me I cannot see why Spiritualism needs a school for teaching new versions of the same old superstitious notions.

It is not clear why Spiritualists should pay out money to have taught to their children why the lions didn't eat Daniel, or why Jonah was landed on dry land by that very knowing whale, etc. In fact, with due regard for the method of warfare of "Our Moses," during all the years, in "capturing the guns of the enemy and turning them against them," as Brother Warren Chase used to remark, I think by the time the present generation of speakers, many of whom are biblical scholars, get through with the old Bible and its mythical stories of the dead and buried past. Spir itualism will have no need for further education along that line, but will ever have need for educated representatives in the lecture field.

It were time to lay aside the book. It brings no proof to the twenti-eth century world of thinkers that there is a future life, but it does bring a history of the bloodiest ages of the past, and the sooner the world loses all trace of those things the sooner will come "peace on earth and good will toward men."

Let us teach fathers and mothers and their children to think outside of the Bible; teach them that there is need of education, for business and to express the highest inspirations of the soul in the most charming and forceful manner; teach children the necessity of studying in all of the common branches of the public school, but I see no need of a special school for these when they are being taught everywhere.

I do not think, furthermore, that Spiritualism is hanging in the balance dependent upon the life or death of the Morris Pratt Institute for its hold upon or continuity of existence, as some may think. Once upon a time it was prophesied that Freeloveism would kill it, but the dear old thing lifted its head above the slime, odium and odor and has pretty well fought down the prejudice of the public and established itself fixedly among the religions and sciences

If we must have a school let us use it say three months in the year; give Rev. Moses Hull, Prof. Lockwood, Prof. J. Clegg Wright, Cora L. V. Richmond, Prof. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Dr. A. J. Davis, Dr. J. M. Peebles, H. D. Barrett. et al. each charge of a room for one or two weeks to teach their particular kind of Spiritualism. No scholar need be expected to learn it all in two veeks, but somewhere between the "Biblical Exegesis," "Evolution," "Logic —Deductive and Inductive," and the "Molecular Hypothesis of Nature" many might be prepared for the homiletic dressing to be served as a last course. Too bad to load down so young an institution with such a complication of aflictions when it already has an encumbrance to contend with; but some of our rich Spiritualists might endow with a cool million or so and give it strength if one can be found in touch with the movement to further all the branches. Who can say for Spiritualism as a whole that any of the many branches or phases of the spiritual philosophy are not essential? J. Clegg Wright teaches classes along his line of thought, and has no use for the Bible in making scientific deductions. Prof. Lockwood uses no Bible in his classes to prove "The Molecular Hypothesis of Nature" and offers no invo-

Mrs. Richmond has taught for a num ber of years a class, or classes in "Soul reachings," and the re-embodiment theory, but she has taught from a higher source than the Bible, from the soul itself.

The rest of the prominent teachers before-mentioned have taught, publicly and privately, classes along their spe cial lines of thought and no doubt when they each shall have passed on some of their pupils will have been endowed with sufficient scholastic attainments to carry on their grand work and invent noble ideas independent of any teacher and thus carry the work forward.

Oh, no, the death of the Morris Pratt Institute does not mean the death of Spiritualism by any manner of means. We have no idea that the death of so important a factor as The Progressive Thinker and The Progressive Thinker book publishing house would make more than a temporary cessation of energy in the literary field of Spiritual-

The doors between the two worlds were not opened through the press or the school room, and as methods of communication have been established, improvements, advancements are imminent. whether the schemes of men fail The Morris Pratt Institute may be made an important factor in the cause. but not the whole thing or the ALL-IM-PORTANT factor. DR. T. WILKINS.

Revery, which is thought in its nebuous state, borders closely upon the

land of sleep, by which it is bounded as Unhappily for the cause of Spiritualby a natural frontier. Hugo. The most certain sign of being born with great qualities is to be born without envy.-Rochefoucauld,

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

There is a Definite Educational Work for a Spiritualist School.

I have felt that I would be glad if a school were established and equiped, under Spiritualistic auspices, where capable instructors might, in addition to pable instructors might, in addition to other branches, impart an education in the things that pertain especially to him for public work. This education Spiritualism in its elements and phases, cannot be ignored or neglected without its facts and philosophy—a quality of serious detriment to our cause. education not to be gained in any other

Yet it would almost seem that the only real use for a Spiritualist school vould be to impart an education that should be supplementary to the educa-tion furnished by the established schools of our land—education in the

of grammar as to use in their "invoca-tions," such language as, We ask thee, oh, angels of light"; or using the plural "ye" instead of the singular "you" or "thou"—or vice versa.

People of ordinary common school education wince under such blunders uttered by public teachers.

It is a lamentable fact that there are public workers—and many who might be called semi-public workers—who are sadly deficient in the elements of a fair English education. Their grammar es-pecially not merely halts and limps, but might be said to be "ring-boned and spavined." While such workers may be useful in their way, they would be far more useful as workers if their educational defects were cured. No doubt, with some cases of long-standing not even an educational Dr. Lorenz could operate successfully, though even the most inveterate chronic cases might be measurably benefited by skillful treatment. But an English education can be acquired in the public schools that dot our country, ranging from the log schoolhouse of the backwoods, to the leges of various degrees of excellence.

professors, to teach these branches of a prehension." why they should not be, if desired. e ear, the mind can tomed to "good English," rules of grammar.

titled professor might envy.
Concerning Bible Exegesis as a study be elective, for those especially who wish to sport the prefix "Rev."—like, for instance, the Spiritualist Rev. who when asked, What is the office of the spleen in the human body? pompously declared. "There are no spleen!"

there was in truth not only Spiritualist kind and conduct was, is, and will be, grammar but Spiritualist anatomy and like time and space, Infinite. physiology. However, it is well for Spiritualists books of Moses Hull, well read, will the Bible in its bearings upon Spiritual As to the study of Bible exegesis, blended and correlated with the world formed to judge for themselves, but to of spirit and Spiritualism. Such lessons as those given by Prof. sale elimination of the Atheistic fac-W. M. Lockwood in his special field tors, though they are not of the intelliare of more real value to Spiritualism gent, is misleading to those who should and to the world of thought, than all know the truth. And let me add, that the tons of Bible exegesis and homilet- in this instance, it seems a matter of ics ever put forth in all the colleges in regret that an otherwise philosophical the world-with hermeneutics and eschatology thrown in "to boot." The study of dead things may be useful in some ways; but the live things up-to-date present, are of greater im-

this 20th century and for all future gleaning, from their words intellectual A series of professorial lecture courses by such masters as Moses Hull Wm. M. Lockwood, J. S. Loveland, Hudon Tuttle, Charles Dawbarn, A. J. Weaver, J. M. Peebles and others, in their chosen lines of thought, before classes of Spiritualist students-what an uplifting force that would be.

If they did not agree on all pointsall the better, perhaps—it would excite independent thought, and bring mental strength, activity and growth.

I do not recognize the wisdom of rel egating the work of instruction wholly to the workers of the spirit world. No doubt they can and do impart instruction that is uplifting and helpful—but I have never known of their giving courses of lessons in grammar or other studies incident to the schools of earth, It is not in their line of business, at present, with humanity. And when I hear a medium say: "The spirits don't want me to read," etc., I can only think such spirits are very unwise "controls." however great the names they may as sume-Moses, Ezekiel, Nebuchadnez zar, Socrates, or George Washington. There are ignorant and unwise "con trols," as well as ignorant and unwise humans, and of either class none is so ignorant as one who is ignorant of his own ignorance.

ism, such, possessed of a superabundance of the assurance of self-conceit, push themselves forward into public work, while more modest but far more intelligent persons wait to be pushed

An ignoramus is just as much out of place in the ranks of public workers in Spiritualism, as he would be out of place as a public worker in the cause of Methodism or any other religious sect.

The public worker needs the education of our earthly schools, as well as

While I think that a distinctly Spiritualist school might be made very useful in an educational way, and be helpful to our cause, Spiritualism possesses "Continuity of Life," and its existence is not contingent upon the success or non-success of any earthly enterprise or institution. uansm, and that our workers need to know to thoroughly equip them for their designed field of effort.

It is distressing that Spiritualist lecturers of repute should be so ignorant of grammar as to use in their "invoca". plan of the best German universities with professors and students not fettered or tethered by credal bonds-free to explore all fields and give free and full expression to the truth as they, find it. There is a distinctive work it can do. of Spiritual nature, that is not done by any other school in the world, and I would be glad to see it thoroughly successful—and the mediums and workers cared for, too. JAS C. UNDERHILL. Hammond, Ind.

A FIRST GREAT CAUSE.

Not All Belleve There is Such a Thing. Will the editor please allow me a few ines by which to make a correction in a statement contained in the article headed "The Lord's Prayer," by H. W.

Boozer, of issue of June 13? The error is contained in the following quotation, and is one occasionally high schools, academies and seminaries made, and too often, by others seeming--and further supplemented by colly very indifferently informed on modern conceptions of the subjects of infin-As there is no Spiritual grammar, or itudes. "Yet the term (Athelsm) is a mathematics, or rhetoric, or logic, or astronomy, it does not really require a Spiritualist school, with Spiritualist first great cause, beyond man's com-liberal education; but they may be Now we will not take special notice taught in a Spiritualist school as well of the ultra potential effort to declare as in any other, and there is no reason what persons of all beliefs believe, or the paradoxical assertion that people Correct forms of speech may be and having no belief have a definite belief; have been learned by patient, persist- but instead, will mildly suggest to the ent, earnest self-culture, by reading above author, and all others who may good literature; in this way the eye, assume to know so well, and even betthan the subject believer himself without a what he believes. Even this audacity thorough knowledge of the technical might be overlooked, but for the lack of its association with common informa-Abraham Lincoln, lying on his back, tion on the subject, for had such auin his cabin home, reading by the fire-thors of such abridged dissertations on light, books that he had borrowed, ac-the understanding of others, been well quired a command of language that any informed, they would have been aware titled professor might envy. great first cause came, or could come, in a Spiritualist school, I think it should from nothing, has but a feeble standing among the great men of science and learning. There are but two horns to the dilemma; either the first cause was of itself created both from and by the instrumentality of functional nothing, or Were we to judge from the speech of there was no first great or little cause, such as this "Rev.", we should say that but that force and substance of some

Now whether such judgments as render such conclusions, arise from a pure whether "Revs." or not, to familiarize quality of reason or otherwise, whether themselves with the Bible. And the the universe is temporary or eternal, is not directly involved in the criticism. equip the student who wishes to learn but the question is-or rather would be-were there any question about itwhether those who claim to honestly think they are Atheists, are and homiletics or "sermonizing," in a such, and are intelligent enough to general sense, the time were better employed in exploring Nature's wide do- and are not. main of the sciences, especially those fields that are now seen to be so inter-The average adult readers of The the young and immature, such a wholearticle should be blotted by that old chronic assumption which smacks so strongly of the arbitrary. Contributors to the columns of this and live issues, and live thoughts of, the paper should permanently fix in the foreground of their efforts, that thouportance and interest to humanity in sands of young minds are continually matter for their mental growth. Lorain, Ohio. E. V. MORSE.

A MEMORY.

A little cottage standing At the narrowing of the street, Yellow roses at their feet. Green fields like the western sea

Within whose billowy surface The children used to hide. To a stranger it is homely: They find no touch of art, But they do not see the picture

Creep to its very side.

That is graven on my heart. Of a lady in the doorway, Brown of hair and tender eyes. That now watches o'er her children

From the door of Paradise, The white hand seemed to beckon, The tender voice rang clear. "Come home, children, you are weary;" "Come and rest with mother here."

All of this came up before me, As I passed what was my home. And some way in my memory It is still my very own.

And my soul holds just the picture In that doorway fair and sweet, While the maples bend to kiss The yellow roses at their feet

ANNA L. GILLESPIE,

Zurilda Wellington.

Her Life in Two Worlds. The Lifting of the Vell.

BY MRS. M. PASQUIER CURRAN, MEDIUM, ST. LOUIS, MO.

CHAPTER IX.-Continued.

ing, the bishop arose, and lifting his hands toward heaven, said:

"It is my painful duty to announce to those who are assembled here that I wholly dissent from the traditional beliefs taught by the Episcopal church in its formula. This step has been brought about by the mighty truths of God that beamed on my soul through a reflected light from that child's lips, that lies before you. In my intercourse with her I have drunk from a far deeper fountain of knowledge than ever before, and I know whereof I speak-for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto me, but the spirit of the living God-who hath revealed to me a newer and better knowledge, freed from mysteries. Here, in the presence of that mysterious change, yet as natural as a birth in the physicial, I, James Sutherland, known to you as bishop of this diocese, lay aside my bishopric as the evidence of my firm conviction that canons, dogmas and creeds-the work of men-but tether and cramp the divine man within. This discovery was brought about while I was endeavoring to fasten the the chains of our church about her; but her unfettered soul bounded forth from my grasp as she fearlessly met and conquered the last enemy-death. This new light broke on me without my consent, not unlike the many conversions in the Bible we refer to and I now know that I have been called by God to a knowledge of the true light. In accord with the deep conviction of truth that rests in my peaceful soul, born of knowledge, I, in your presence, lay aside these outer garments that symbolize my office as a bishop in the Episcopal church of Eng-

As these words fell from his lips he took off his clerical robes and laid them aside, remarking as he did so. that he now felt unfettered and as a free child of God should feel. Continuing, he said:

I told you that I had a painful duty to perform—painful to me because I, as a guide and teacher, have woven the web of ignorance around you and fed your souls on the bread of error; but I will not dwell on this now, only thank God that I have passed from darkness to light!"

While he was speaking all eyes were turned upon him, and fear seemed to take possession of those present. The rector and vestry members surrounded him, and with exclamations of surprise said:

"Oh, the bishop has lost his mind; it

"You will permit me to define my position," said the bishop. "I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak the while a bow of promise glittered above words of truth and soberness; nor am I my head. Many diverging paths lay deluded. The fire of the Holy Ghost, side by side, but a silver thread seemed the spirit of truth, has fallen upon me to hold and guide my feet in the path and kindled an undying flame in my destined for me. The impress of my death and brought life and immortality to light, dwelleth in me."

firmed their fears as to his insanity, the children of earth had not been inand in obedience to my father's comflicted upon me, save the lack of a mand he was taken from the room.

The children of earth nad not been inflicted upon me, save the lack of a father's love—which I so craved; yet a
Those who dwelt here observed my Confusion reigned throughout the strange feeling of resentment house and the parish. Elon told me grown in my nature to resist what I felt condition of unrest, and said:

"Your countrymen will soon guide, who had imbued the bishop's soul with the divine breath of God. "Let us now leave these earthly conditions," said Eion, and ere long we were far from earth's turmoil. Reuben now came to me and said: "In order that you may be freed from the many environments of your earth life, I will place you in a reform-

This surprised me, as I thought I had been all my life in a school room. He seemed to read my mind and added: "There are none perfect; no not one.

Come with me," and he led me out into tion, for there is only one way to know what seemed to be a boundless field, filled with all manner of grain, fruits

Back to my old home, the seemed to be a boundless field, filled with all manner of grain, fruits and flowers. Then he said:

"Love is a regenerative agent; and it wretched state, Reuben took me. is necessary, in order to spiritualize our natures, that we become imbued placid river to this crushed soul; let with this divine potency. We are born the silent little streamlets murmur a to unlimited knowledge, and this gar- heavenly melody that will awake his den symbolizes our beings-soul, body slumbering soul; whisper a father's and spirit. Love will be the sun, or the loving name and call him from the vivifying power to warm and light the tomb of remorse; release him from his indwelling being. Remember this, and prison house, and, in doing this you build on this foundation. Love, wis shall clear your own spiritual atmosdom and knowledge are in unison phere." These attributes of the soul are divine, and when in the ascendancy will cre- father a flood of bitter memories rolled ate the individual anew; that is, these their dark waves over me, the past comattributes lead the mind and teach you ing up with a power that I had not be-to reflect, and reflection causes the fore felt. There sat my father, hedged past acts of our lives to come in review in with theology, trying to comfort himbefore the mind, that we may create self and justify his course in relation ourselves anew as it were. The Cre- to me; this shut out all my soul's love ator is the central sun that warms and that I had tried to breathe on him. lights the soul, and is the orb around "He is dead to all my efforts," I said to which we, as planets, revolve. Like Reuben; "I cannot wake him." worlds and systems we draw our powers from that source. The garden, with its grains, fruits and flowers, represents the spiritual food that feeds the soul. As the sun's warm rays woo nate all bitterness from your nature; the seed forces to yield their sustenance to feed and nourish the body, so the dross from his nature." our indwelling sun will attract the central sun to dispel the spiritual dark-ness in which the inhabitants of earth by his cruel hand, and are not these imdwell. Learn, my child, that these pressions fixed in my memory?" outer symbols, that operate through to show you the redemptive power of ers. Think you this great luminary love that is inherent in the soul, that has within itself the life-giving power to bring forth of itself this beauty, that wisdom that will conquer evil." fruitage and fragrance? No, there is an uncreated, ever-creating, self-exist. ing power that operates through all: that produces these external manifesta tions in man and nature. As I said, love will be the sun to warm and grow all the divine graces, and to yield, as this garden does, the fruits and frag- once inhabited the earth, but who had rance of this indwelling power. Through the mind is expressed the life evil, went I forth to be cleansed. I had of the soul. This vital germ (the soul) not gone far when a form of great is a ray from the divine soul, breathed beauty, radiant like unto the sun, met on matter that it might be individual me. This was at the eastern part of ized and be a distinct entity forever the garden, where the sun's first golden and ever, unfolding its inherent pow-ers. The source whence we, as indi-viduals, draw our life is indestructible; met and extended his hand to me, sayas physical beings we are limited by ing as he did so: the contact of material things. Death, or change, was necessary that we might partake of unlimited knowledge. Now we, as entities, can never be thrown off were spoken by a mind fully endowed his garments girdled to his form. On his head band there glittered a cluster than the contact of material things. Death, nor change, was necessary that we might for out of it cometh the issues of life. Was robed in spotless white, and wore we, as entities, can never be thrown off were spoken by a mind fully endowed his head band there glittered a cluster. were spoken by a mind tuny endowed into the central sun. We, as an essence, have ever existed; having ever existed, we shall never cease to exist. for minds then on earth to receive; but to symbolize the seven stars in the need for minds the one are the seven stars in the need to symbolize the symbolize the symbolize the symbolize the symbolize the symbolize the and see if in you dwells the ability to of the abodes where untrammeled souls After the rector had finished speakyield such fruit and beauty. I will dwell."

As he said this he led me to a clear, seemed to be in the midst of a throng quail before his gaze. He said: of celestial beings. This was the first "Here is the water of purification. clear spiritual sight that had fallen on 'Ye must be born again,' said He who on the breeze to me. "God is the spirit in all-man and

"Love is His existence." ance of all His children."

forces that are inherent in the soul."

Bible account of that city, I had often wished I might become an inhabitant of er," I cried, "You told me to let no root it, but without any thought as to the requirements of a condition necessary to here is a poisonous weed." residence there. I soon found that a feeling of unrest was creeping over God, and are drawn to God. Love will me. The fragrance of the air and the root out this weed," said the Persian. bright songbirds, perched in stately trees, only caused me to sigh. "Why s this?" I asked.

A voice replied: "Eternity, eternity; and yet ye shall unfold in beauty, yield seemed to be set for me, so great was a fruitage and shed a fragrance—ever nearing and still never reaching the source of all."

abiding place. The glorious splendor will need." that lighted the place and the wisdom and beauty there displayed, with that love that fell around me like a mantle of glory, glistening in the sun, began to bring out the many imperfections in my nature, while memory turned the pages in the book of my earth life. I found mirrored in this book of the first page, the hour of my physical birth. A halo of glory was resting on my brow and is his grief for that child; sorrow has step by step was I led through each changing scene until I had passed mother's image was stamped on the camera of my brain, and this impress These remarks of the bishop con-Trials and disappointments that befall was cruel and unjust in my father, in forcing on me what my soul abhorred, and I was surprised to find these feel. your mind might receive an impulse to ings (which I had hidden in my breast) recorded in this book. "Your mind, in its activity, expresses itself by vibratory sounds that record each act and thought," said Reuben, as he approached. "When you perceived that this hidden feeling was known, that action called me to your side. Now that you feel the necessity of eradicating this cloud from your nature, this will enable you to accomplish it. Come with me and begin the work of redemp-

Back to my old home, the scenes of my childhood, and to my father in his "Let the love of your soul flow like a

As I stood in the presence of my

"Try again," said Reuben. In the attempt only an icy chill ran through my being.
"Ah," said Reuben, "you must elimithen the fire of divine love will burn "I can never do so; no, never! Are there not scars imprinted on my being

CHAPTER X.

My Redemption.

From this garden, where the redeemed of every age and race who had been purified as by fire and lifted above

"'Keep thy heart with all diligence. My child, you may cloud your inner the possession of these powers turned of Taurus. He could read the stars as sun in many ways, also cause dark them into channels that led to bitter we read a book. Each of those accommendations and the stars as the st clouds to fall upon others; yet this di-vine essence will dispel the darkness God-given powers of mind, mines of in his hand.

have said, and if you should need me sparkling fountain whose bubbling wato assist you I will come."

The sublime principles which Reuben ters gave forth a soft, melodious sound. In gazing into this fountain I had given me as a rule for my new life saw my earth life reflected there; thrilled me, penetrating to the inner many scenes of my childhood floated depths of my soul, and proved to be a on the waves before me, and brought power that lifted me out of my earthly out also the imperfections that lay hidwere now under a new control, and I This Persian looked at me with a fire felt an inspiration and tranquillity, and burning in his eyes that caused me to my vision. The origin of life, the ex- came to show men a better way. This istence of our beings, the destiny of water symbolizes purity; it reflects any the soul and kindred questions rolled blemish that is hidden in the inner bein rapid wave thoughts through my ing. Look at that blemish resting on mind, and answers seemed to be borne your brow. See, it has made a scar that is marring your beauty; it cannot mingle with the natural beauty of the soul. This is like the baptism spoken of by Jesus the Christ. "Universal knowledge is the inherit- You yourself must burn the dross from your nature. In this sea of purification "Human consciousness is a faculty of let all of earth's bitter memories be the mind, operated on by the spiritual washed away, to be remembered no

The wave thoughts produced a harmony that is indescribable. I had read in Bible lessons of that peace of God that passeth all understanding, and I said, "This is indeed the celestial city —the city of God." In reading the feel that children conditions of my feel that children conditions of my feel that children conditions of the city of God." In reading the feel that children conditions of the city of God." In reading the feel that children conditions of the city of God." the city of God." In reading the feel that childish confidence and love

"Great souls draw their life from Soon there came over and around me a misty cloud that filled my entire beis this?" I asked.

Reuben had said: "Examine yourself overcome my earthly conditions. I was and see if in you dwells the ability to endowed with new and stronger powers, yield such fruit and fragrance."

endowed with new and stronger powers, wholly different from anything like wholly different from anything like those of earth; no limit or boundary this change. "Come with me and learn how to comprehend and apply truth, said the Persian. "Take this I was not long in perceiving that my your hand; it will be a compass to you, condition was not fitted for this as an and will attract to you those whom you

> This insignia bore on its folds the names of many nations, and it was to these he led me. These people of past ages, whom we had been taught to call heathens, were the first from whom I learned the power of love and its regenerating agency, and I felt the ascendancy of the spirit over matter, and its full control over material things. Sitting beneath the Oriental palms, I was compelled to bow my head in shame, that we, who called ourselves Christians, could ever entertain such a thought of them. Many of these peo-ple had been inhabitants of the spirit world long before the call of Abraham. In this sphere I was endowed with new powers. There seemed to be no limit to the action of my mind; many sensations that I had not felt came over me recording themselves for my contemplation; but I could not comprehend this spiritual knowledge, nor was I content to remain in this sphere, for Those who dwelt here observed my

"Your countrymen will soon come for you; you were only brought here that impel your spiritual nature to a new unfoldment. You are destined to do a great work of reform among the people of earth, as well as in the spirit sphere. At the hour of your conception you were overshadowed by a band of wise guides. who have had you in charge, and a grand destiny awaits you in the work of reform. That is why you were brought among these people, and this wand is to be the insignia of your mission. Child of the Occident, you must unfold the Orient to the Occidentthat is, in symbolic wisdom; it is the spiritual interpretation of the wisdom of the past. God never leaves himself without a witness for truth. When you go from these people, remember that you will carry a benediction of love with you, and your insignia will admit you to many council-chambers where the light of the past is burning, and when you look on these outer forms remember they symbolize the Sun-God, that was worshiped in former days. This was in the age of Spiritual darkness, but it led the mind in search of the infinite source of life. Had you not been overshadowed by a band of Orientals at the moment of your projection into being, these elements would form no part of your nature, for it is by the law of attraction I can approach you. It was by the same law that Jesus was endowed with such high spiritual powers, but the ignorance of men del-

When he had finished speaking to me my mother, with Elon and Reuben, came to me. My mother looked surprised when she saw me, and Reuben told her that I had been baptized with the fire of regeneration and set apart for a messenger spirit. She exclaimed: "My child, how changed you are.

What meaneth this?" she asked of "She has been born anew of the spirit that she may carry the bread of cloud your spirit; when you have grown life to the inhabitants of earth. Go to stronger you may go." your mother's abode until I come again," said he. My mother and Elon now led me to her home, which was a rustic cottage beneath the brow of a mountain. At earth are gone, and I am to go to those on earth as a redeemer. I go to develop thought where none exists in the mind toward this life, and to revive the latent powers that ought to be util-While we were thus engaged, Reu-realms. It is a law of the spirit that it adapts itself to the condition in which it wishes to express thought. There is dominant in the mind of everyone a desire to know something of God and of the soul's progress. You are not in the realms of fiction, but in the storehouse of knowledge, and can demonstrate what you teach."

In this university to which he took me all branches of learning are taught and it is renowned for its knowledge, wisdom, justice and benevolence, which are displayed to the people of all ages and nations. O'Here were men and women of all ages pursuing the most profound studies the women often leading and being looked up to as guides; men of the highest spiritual attainments honor and reverence her as an equal. Minds that are in unison on any subject that touches the redemptive work of man are drawn together and form bands of messengers and guides to instruct the embodied and disembodied. No sound is articulated in this school, as in the earth schools, but an unspoken knowledge is conveyed to the mind. As I gazed at these people, so intent on study, I was filled with adoring praise to God for the ability to unfold in that knowledge that would stamp his image on our beings. The splendor of earth's sun, as it shines at meridian, cannot be compared with this glorious abode, nor can the mind of man, in its mortal confines, outline the magnitude of this temple of instruction.

Reuben said: "Do you see the change that has taken place in these people? Do they look like the people of the earth? No, they are changed from glory to glory until they appear in the likeness of the divine. Progress is an eternal law of our being, and all possibilities are within the soul. To know thyself, comprises the essence of wisdom."

This was but one of the many temples I visited before I entered the school of preparation as messenger, Among these ancient people I learned many beautiful truths. Reuben told me many of these people were born on earth under similar conditions to those surrounding Christ. Overshadowed by wise minds at the moment of conception, being conceived under such an aura, the invisible minds that attended him imbued him with symbolic knowledge, known only to those who are students in such a temple as this. "Come now," said Reuben, "to the sphere where the soul-sick spirits are and begin your work. Love is the remedial agent that will heal the sick; it is the potent solvent, and you must draw your strength from the infinite fountain. This potent agent will dissipate the darkness that retards the unfoldment of the immortal germ. Be yours, then, the mission to heal the soul. The lifting power of love will draw the soul into a state of harmony, where infinite love and justice rule supreme, and where growth continues onward forever. Love is its native parent, and day when man can say, 'What have I to possibilities are within its power to tri- do with the soul; did not God create umph over matter. Deeds of love and it? Yet the day will come to him when tablets of eternity." On entering my work I found many of earth's children in a lamentable condition. They were from all parts of the habitable globe, with all manner of diseased minds or impaired intellects. These soul-sick ones had fed on corruptible food it its many forms, until the divine germ, was immured in an at-mosphere of spiritual darkness. Many were in the bonds of theological environment in its varied forms, and held all manner of vagaries, in regard to the home of the soil, as truths. Some had trusted in the righteousness of Jesus and the mercy of God, without obeying their commands. It would be an endless task to outline the many conceptions of God beaven on the home of the page of the page of the home of God beaven on the home of tions of God, heaven, or the home of the soul, held by them. Mental and spiritual unfoldment govern the sphere or locality of each mind, and they are assigned to proper spheres by the law and all come under its behests.

I found many who had been in spirit life for ages, yet their spirits were in darkness, so immured in material things had many of them been. first I found much difficulty in dispelling the darkness that held these minds in bondage to church formula. Their lives in the physical had been but a dream. It is only the dead in spirit that dream; they hear no voice of God in their souls, and conflict after conflict must be overcome before freedom can be gained. They could not understand that redemption is from within, wrought out by the soul itself with suffering and through time. Yes, in this world there is time for contemplation all fierce desires will die out and peace will come. This is but one sphere or condition of life; beyond the grave there are many, and varied, as in earth life.

To be a messenger spirit between two worlds requires that the mind be free from all errors and enabled to take of the things of the spirit and bring them to mortals. I have passed through many changes to acquire this fitness, for there is a knowledge that belonds not to earth, but to eternal things. There is a love surpassing the loves of earth, that falls around us and fills us with a joy and peace unspeakable. Our memories never are effaced: they come before us to gladden or sadden our hearts, and in the many changes through which I had passed my heart often yearned for my earthly home; my childhood came before me, and visions of the dear ones that yet linger in the valley of time, doubt and unrest.

Oh, death is but a dried and vanished stream. I asked Elon to let me go to the home of my childhood, that I might tell those who are in darkness of this home of the soul, but he said:

"No, thoudarkness of earth would

In all the changes through which I had passed/I had gleaned knowledge from many fields; and the wise teachers I had met at every turn aided me. To comprehend life and divest the mind beneath the brow of a mountain. At the foot of this mountain there flowed a silent stream of clear water, from which ran many rivulets. Elon said:

"See Nature in her bounty, feeding the thirsty soil. This typifies God's love flowing to us."

"Tell me, my child, what change has taken place with you," said my mother.

"Mother," I replied, "a new love is in that this fact will never be satisfactor. "Tell me, my child, what change has taken place with you," said my mother. "Mother," I replied, "a new love is in my soul. The evil and darkness of that this fact will never be satisfactory the college. rily analyzed, for it is this yearning that urges Man olkin his investigations To the physical senses many things are limited, but to the soul there are no limits to the divine intentions ex pressed through matter. To the spirit the lofty conceptions of God in the formation of the human race are perceived in a new beauty. To trace the divine spark in matter, through man, from its first embodiment on through the many gradations through which it passes, is too vast a subject for mind, limited by matter, to comprehend—yet there are minds whose soul perceptive powers can trace around you and bring you into your spiritual wealth would have rolled in true orbit. I, as your guide, have placed you in this garden to learn less trolled his destiny. I am from Persia, minister to minds in all conditions, this incomprehensiles unable subject is innate. this immortal germ in man. This unpropels us onward. There are reflect-ors that flash on the mind thousands of questions that will lead you into realms of deep thought.

[While writing this sentence a flood of dazzling light fell over and around a writed of dazzling light fell over and around the sentence of me. It seemed as though a myriad host of electric lights burst on my vision at once. These lights were of varied hues and contained sentences that were not discernible to me; they eemed to be written on the rays that shot out from these lights.—M. P. Cur-

The immortal laws of God—all powerful to redeem or to condemn—are spread out around you, so that there is a continual soul feast to the truly spiritual minded. Memory will open her book, and every past act will stand reflected before your gaze. There are innate yearnings belonging to the soul that you may not have felt until the spiritualizing power of the higher realms falls upon you. One soul-inspiring thought came to me and lifted me upward; it was the consciousness of my soul's divine origin.

Years had now passed in the pursuit of study, and I was sent to earth as a The immortal laws of God-all pow-of study, and I was sent to earth as a teacher, guide and messenger; I also visited other spheres. With what soul anxiety did I begin my labors of love. To the young in earth life whose parents had passed away, I felt most deeply. In to dark homes where the demon drink had cast its deadly poison and left want and woe, went I-but the impenetrable darkness was too dense for me. Among the more favored ones soul-sickening deprayity and debasement met me—for I found that the brand of Cain had been stamped on the brows of many by enforced mother hood. Be it remembered that ante-natal conditions control the individual through life. In many of these homes found that fathers and mothers were dealing out death to their unborn, by entailing on them all manner of disease and orime. Discouraged, I returned to Reuben, who said:

"If men and women could see, as we see, the blight cast on the unborn by the inherited disease bequeathed them by their parents, I think they would pause in dealing out such destruction. Time will show them that whoever wrongs another clouds his own sun, and that secret sins demand the attention of eternal justice. When men and women come under the marriage law and reverently say that God joined them in this holy bond and sends them these immortal souls, they make a mockery of God's law and set at naught the object of this union; and when there is no legal contract between the parties, who then sends these little waifs that we find cast on the shores of eternity like the sands on the ocean beach? Who? It is a mighty truth that one may have the power to cause a soul to come forth, and then cast such a blight on that soul, Time and years will never bring the tenderness are never effaced from the the sword of justice will be unsheathed Remember that you have a great and noble work to perform; then why do it ill? This task demands the broadest, highest and deepest culture, for the mightiest work is given you. The strength that springs from knowledge you must take to the world. The souls of the young are marvelously tender; keep them from the first shadows that fall upon them. Man cannot be guilty of a greater crime than to project into being an immortal soul under such advorse conditions as surround many of those whom you have visited. the 'sins of the fathers are visited on the children.' Are not our reformatory schools filled with blighted buds of lust, disease and all grades of moral degradation-the children of lustful parents? Such deeds will bear their fruit; and it causes me to bow my head with shame when I remember that for all this evil man has substituted a sacr of attraction. This is an unerring law, to God! My child, you do not understand the dark conditions of earth; you were sheltered from them, and that is why you could not impress those whom you went to teach. That you may comprehend the power of the soul to rise in its native purity above the darkness that earthly things have cast over it, I will introduce you to one who was immersed in the depths of depravity." (To be continued.)

THE IRONY OF FATE.

She said to him "Go!" and he went To win for her fortune and fame, And the labor of long years was spent Ere the coveted competence came. He returned, filled with love and with pride, To the home of his youth quickly sped, But the dream of his life was denied-

His bride to another was wed. A poet had struggled along Through a lifetime of sorrowful

But the busy world heard not his song, Little touched at the sight of his

He sought to win the world's praise,

While his heavy heart hungered for bread, It came; but the chaplet of bays Was placed on the brow of the dead,

-Francis B. Doherty.

Do You Know What It Means to Cure Constipation?

It means to turn aside and throw out of the body all the woes and miseries caused by a clogged up system, and they are many. Constipation means that the bowels are weak, so that they cannot keep up that constant motion the doctors call peristaltic action When that stops passages cease, the blood begins to absorb the poisons through the walls of the intestines and thus disease is scattered everywhere. Death often lays its foundation in this way. Torturing diseases like dys-pepsia, indigestion, kidney troubles, liver complaints, heart disease, head-aches and a hundred and one other complaints start that way. A cure must come through toning up, strengthening and invigorating the bowels. This can be easily, gently, and permanently done by Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine. It is a tonic laxative of the highest class. It builds up the bowels, restores the lost action and adds new life and vigor. Only one small dose a day will positively cure constipation of any degree by removing the cause of the trouble. Try it. A free sample bottle for the asking. Vernal Remedy Co., 166 Seneca Bldg., Buffalo, N. Y. All leading druggists have it for sale

"Talmagean Inanities, Incongruities,

inconsistencies and Blasphemies; a Review of Rev. T. DeWitt and Rev Frank DeWitt Talmage's oft-repeated attacks upon Spiritualism." By Moses Hull. For sale at this office. Price ten cents. "Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental Suggestion." By Newton N. Riddell. A most excellent work for all who have the care or training of children. Price 65 cents.

"Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of of deep wisdom; examine yourself and have come to leadyou through some both in the physical and spiritual in the soul and is the motive power that important subject. Price, cloth, $1.

By the Editor of the National, with Freface and Notes by Peter Eckler. Illustrated with Views of the old Paine Homestead and Paine Monument, at New Rochelle: also portraits of Thomas Cile Rickman, Joel Barlow, Mary Wolstongeräft, Madame Roland, Condorce Brissot, and the most prominent of Paine's friends in Europe and America. Cloth, 76 cents.

MAHOMET, THE ILLUSTRIOUS,

By Godfrey Higgins, Eaq. This work is one of the Library of Liberal Classics. No author was better qualified to write an impartial and honest life of Mahomet than Godfrey Higgins, and this volume is intensely interesting. It should be read in conjunction with Gibbon's work. Price, 25 cents, processing to the conjunction of the Mailess Watch Charm. Mailess Walch Charm.

PHIORS:—Badge Pin, $1.50: Lapel Button, $1.50: fSunflower Brooch, $1.00; Maltese Charm, $5.00: fSunflower Brooch, $1.00: This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the cun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL.

BY J. CLEGG WRIGHT. This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of mind. Bound in cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

DEATH ITS MEANING and Results.

By J K Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting narrative relating a series of wonderful psychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, illustrated, $1.26.

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth

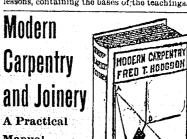

By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A masterly presentation of an important aubject. A powerful argument along new and seionitific lines, establishing on a scientific basis the fact of the continuity of personal individual conscious selfnood after laying aside the physical body. A book of rare value. With several fine illustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous A pamphlet of 32 pages, com Conspiracy piled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains disclosures relative to a villatnous plot to overthrow our free government. Price, 16 cents ROMANISM Is a paniphled of 80 pages, in

EXPOSED reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Protestantism. A concise little pamphlet. Price 15 cents

Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, tondon. An excellent book for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE SOUL . ITS NATURE, RE-LATIONS AND EX-MAN EMBODIMENTS. Third edition now on sale. Price $1.00. This is one of the best books given by the guides of Mrs Cora L, V. Itichmond. They are really lessons, published primarily, as a book of reference for those who have been members of the classes receiving them. This volume is a careful compilation from reports of lessons, containing the bases of the teachings.

A Practical Manual. Just Published By Fred T. Hodgson,

M. O., A. A. The well-known Technical writer. It is one of the best works ever turned out by him. Copi-ously illustrated with diagrams and figures, making the most intricate problems simple, def-inite and easily understood. Price, $1.00.

DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis. An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents.

The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.
A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J.
olville. Limp closh, 50c.

A Conspiracy Against the Republic By Charles B. Walte, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc. Price, paper, 25 cents.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS. It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet i written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents.

ANCIENT INDIA, Its Language and Religions. By Prof. H. Oldenberg. Paper, 25 cents.

Apollonius of Tuana Identified as the wonderful communication, explaining how his life and teachings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents. COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 cents.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED.

The most important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sincere hope that you are earnestly looking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration If such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you, and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful perusal. Price, $1.50.

A. P. A. MANUAL A complete expose of the American Protective Association. A book for all patriotic American citizens Price, 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

FOICE and Matter By Ludwig Buechbook. A profound work upon a profound subject. Price, cloth, $1.00.

The Keligion of Spiritualism. Its Phenomena and Philosophy. By the Rev. Samuel Watson: This work was written by a modern Savior, a grand and noble man. Price, $1.00. A valuable book for the money.

ASTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M.D. A valuable contribution to the current discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plansiphere (a representation of the celestial sphere upon a plane with adjustable circles). Traces most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facts given possess great value, the illustrations rare and chrious. The book is bound in only one style—heavy boards. Price $1.

Views of Our Heaveniu Home. It is a large Price, $2.25.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by express. If you do not receive your order promptly by mail, inquire at the express office. If not there, notify us at once, Remember, please that it costs ten cents to get a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. If you send a personal check, add ten cents to the amount sent.

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in their place.

Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premium Books unless you send in with your order a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker. Remember, please, that the safest way to make a remittance is to secure postal order. Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER TERMS. You must send $1 for The Progressive Thinker when you order one or more premium books. Please bear this in mind.

Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing direct with this office, instead of through a nows agent.

Every person who sends in a yearly subscription to The Progressive Thinker can have until further notice, the two following books for 25 cents each: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Seers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Present," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exceedingly valuable, and though widely different, each one fills an exceedingly important niche in the literature Spiritualism.

If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents. If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is

90 cents. We have TEN Premium Books only, and you can select from them as fo

Any three of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.10.

Any four of the ten Premium Books ou may order, price $1.50. Any five of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.80.

Any six of the ten Premium Books ou may order, price $2.10. Any seven of the ten Premium Books ou may order, price $2.35. Any eight of the ten Premium books you may order, price $2.65.

Any nine of the ten Premium Books ou may order, price $2.90. Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced are sent out, all postage prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following is

TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS

FOR $3.10. 1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1.

2—The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 3. 4—Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism. 5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occult-

6-The Next World Interviewed. 7—The Occult Life of Jesus.

8-A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands. 9—The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science. 10-Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism

Past and Present. Read This Carefully Before Re-Remitting.

When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are ele-vating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar for The Progressive Thinker. These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10, a price which modern machinery and enterprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. Sending out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter.

In conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, Illustrating the great bargain you are getting-a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plane.

CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science" "Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 3. "The Encyclopedia of Death, The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

among our list of premiums.

The clear and very interesting account of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that tragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corruption that exists in that church, and its iniquitous methods and aims.

It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic American, and by every one who would be well informed concerning the evil works and designs of the Romish hierarchy, It is a large volume of 882 pages,

NEW YORK NOTES.

Views of Men and Women, Matters and Things.

The time has arrived again when our Spiritual and Liberal meetings close their doors for the season. Nellie Temple Brigham left last week for her beautiful home at Elm Grove in the Berkshire Hills.

Dr. Savage gives his farewell discourse for the season, the last Sunday in June. I am very glad to state that Dr. Savage has regained his health again, and I know this will be good news to his friends and readers of his sermons throughout the country, for Dr. Savage stands to-day in a position where it would be impossible for any one to take his place. It only shows how slow New Yorkers are in anything pertaining to matters that are spiritual Savage has been settled in New York nearly five years, and it is only during the past winter that the intelliduring the past winter that the intelligent people of this great metropolis discovered that a great preacher and discovered that a great preacher and discovered that a great preacher and fit in with the experiences of practical. This apparition is still seen from gent people of this great metropolis thinker was in their midst, a second Theodore Parker.

The Christian Scientists of the First Church of this city, moved into their magnificent temple the past week. It indeed a temple, one of the finest structures I have ever entered given over to religious matters; its seating capacity is 2,200 and there was not room for the large crowd last Wednesday evening. I understand that this grand structure was designed entirely by Mrs. Augusta Stetson, the former first reader of this church.

I am sometimes disgusted with the people of this great city. For the first Time since it rang out independence in 1776 the Merty Bell, most precious historic relic of the nation, was in New York City das before yesterday. It passed on to Boston and Bunker Hill unhonored. The demonstrations which had greeted it in all towns from Philadelphia to New York, stopped at Jersey There at the water's edge thousands of school children waved flags and bade adieu to the Revolutionary No such salutation awaited the old bell in New York City. The mute witness of the nation's birth was hurried around the metropolis on a railroad transport and taken through the freight yards on its way to the one hundred and twenty-eighth anniversary celebration of the battle of Bunker Hill. Members of the committee representing the city government of Philadelphia who were escorting the Liberty Bell, said to a reporter that requests were sent to them from nearly every town and city between Boston and Philadelphia, to allow the people to see the relic, but no such request had come from New York. Look at the different feeling in Boston. More than 50,000 persons saw the Liberty Bell on Boston Common, they began coming at dawn and kept increasing in numbers until the time set for the bell's removal. I give the above to show that the general New Yorker cares very little for anything spiritual or patriotic, his one thought from morning until night and even during his hours of sleep is the mighty dollar. I know of one merchant in this city that cannot even touch his principal; he is so wealthy that when it comes Sunday or a holiday, he has to go to his office, unlock his door and examine his mail to get an inkling of how much he will make on the morrow. What can this man's feelings be when I was much surprised the other day when I called on an orthodox clergynan near this city to find on his study table a copy of Dr. Savage's book, "Can Telerathy Explain?"

In strolling through an old book stall the other day I picked up a second-hand copy of a book entitled, "Questions of the Soul," published by the Catholic Book Exchange of this city, and I was very much amused in reading Protestantism, which winds up as fol-"This is thy work, O Protestantism, and the thousands of hapless souls whom thou hast deceived by thy promlack of truth condemn thee as a barrier to their perfection, a mockery to their

Why is it that Mary Baker G. Eddy's assistants answer all letters in the path the magnificent Elizabethan fireplace; pers with the exception of one subject, and that one of her being a Spiritualist medium years before she took up Chris tian Science, when she was Mrs. Patterson, in Lynn, Mass., when such prominent men as Wm. Lloyd Garrison, John G. Whittier, and the poet Longfellow, I think, attended her gatherings?

One of the greatest discourses that Dr. Savage has given the past season was the one a few weeks back on Ralph Waldo Emerson, and if I am allowed space I will give a few quotations with which he ended this great discourse. 'You are aware of the fact that some times you come in personal contact with some one, and your life is drained away. You feel weaker and poorer. Life has gone out of you. You come in contact with somebody else, and it is as though you had sipped a glass of cham-You are stimulated, lifted, inspired, made better.

"So Emerson is one of those great souls who affect us in this way. He came as did Jesus. I quote it reverently, for it is true of him in his de -that men might have life, and that they might have it more abundant-Men go out into the woods to breathe the air of the spruce and pine. They seek some climate that has health in it, they know not how. They sit in the shadow of the mountains, and are stronger. They sit beside the sea, and drink in a great peace.

"So in the presence of Emerson I find a renewal of life, an uplift, an inspiration, a power.

"Beside the ocean wandering on the shore, I seek no measure of the infinite sea, Beneath the solemn stars that speak to

I may not care to reason out their lore Among the mountains, whose bright summits o'er

The flush of morning brightens, there may be Only a sense of might and majesty.

And yet a thrill of infinite life they pour Through all my being, and uplift me high Above my little self and weary days. So in thy presence, Emerson, I hear

A sea-voice sounding 'neath a bound less sky, While mountainous thoughts tower o'er life's common ways, And in thy sky the stars of truth appear."

J. OSBORNE LUNT.

New York.

"In the World Celestial," by Dr. T. A. Bland. Interesting, instructive and helpful; spiritually uplifting. Cloth bound, Price $1.

The new long book. "The Golden Echoes," by S. W. Tucker, has found its way into many homes, and its beautiful songs have cheered many sorrowing hearts, which they are sure to do when heard and sung. They should be heard in every home in the land. For sale at everyday life. Ghosts are at a discount, world, peopled by activities as real as our own, is questioned and even have been greatly alarmed by it. It is laughed at. We venture to say that this quite a common thing, for the good sisattitude of mind is as unscientific as it ters, at service time, to have to hurattitude of mind is as unscientific as it is unwise.

OGGULT MYSTERIES.

Extraordinary Narrations.

Evidences of Spirit Power and Influence.

No thoughtful person would wish to put the clock back and revive the super-stitious ignorance which prevailed in centuries long gone by, when every-A somewhat gruese thing not clearly understood was at place quite lately in London, where a once put down to the supernatural or number of young people were present. miraculous. We have traveled far A youth was sitting chatting to a young since those days, and the progress of woman when he saw standing behind science has taught us that many things her a young sailor whom he had not hitherto mysterious are capable of ra- previously noticed in the room. A few tional explanation, and are simply the moments later he asked her, "Who was working out of laws which are now well that sailor standing behind you just understood. But we have still more to now?" She was startled, and he prolearn even about natural science, and the recent development of wireless tellurned deadly pale and fainted. the recent development of wireless telegraphy, for example, has shown us that it is possible for physical forces to act at a distance and through a medium hitherto supposed insufficient.

It is not unreasonable to apply this principle to the unseen or spirit world, about which we know that there are forces at work-perhaps after all only different forms of those natural forces happily, nothing more was seen of the with which we are familiar—and that apparition, and she has now quite rethe operation of these forces may produce phenomena at present hard to explain, but which are none the less genuine for all that. With the further advance of knowledge, we shall probably land station, when he saw upon the come to understand more about such platform an old acquaintance—whom come to understand more about such matters, but at present the attitude of | we may call Mr. Hilton—standing somethe thoughtful person should be neither what apart on the platform. There was one of credulity nor skepticism, but nothing whatever ghostly about his apone of credulity nor skepticism, but simply one of open-minded inquiry.

The strange happenings described in the present article have, all of them, come within the immediate knowledge of the writer, who is able to vouch for their general accuracy. They have oc-curred either to himself or to his personal friends, though, for obvious reasons, the names and places have, in and the train immediately moved off most cases, been suppressed; indeed, it is only subject to this condition that he again in that city, and took luncheon is at liberty to describe several incidents which have never been made public before.

be frankly confessed that a large percentage of these tales have no better foundation than that of a too vivid im- I am sure of it," persisted the journal agination, or a lack of sober investigation. There remain, however, an abundance of cases of the appearance attended old Hilton's funeral a fortof departed persons to the living, which | night ago." rest upon unquestionable evidence, and which can only be explained away by known veracity. To this latter cate-gory the following examples belong. Many of It has been known for generations past that that portion of the north friend of the present writer, now a wing of Windsor Castle which is occuand I was very much amused in reading certain portions of the book wherein two whole chapters are devoted against Elizabeth, who at one time occupied an nour's watch before the blessed sac. those apartments. Many people con- rament in the abbey church every nected with the court have, at one time morning from seven till eight o'clock, or another, seen the shade of the famous monarch walking in the evening times to flag, and his thoughts wanthrough the rooms she occupied so dered. Frequently these vagrant long. The apparition usually comes in through the end of the library next to youngest sister, to whom he was deepthe corridor, passes along in front of and turns into a kind of alcove which formerly led to a flight of stone steps able to clearly recollect the conversaconnecting it with the north terrace. Down these steps the Queen was in the Amongst other persons who, at one time or another, witnessed the apparition was the late Princess Frederick; Lieut. Glyn, one of the Grenadiers, was habit of going when she took exercise. and in the spring of 1897, the year of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, sitting one day in the library turning your monk's dress, between seven and over a volume of prints, and certainly not thinking about ghosts, when he happened to look up, and distinctly saw the spectral Queen approaching from the other end of the library. She passed near him and then turned the corner into the usual alcove. He at once rose and followed the figure, but it had disappeared. The fact of this apparition is so well known that the librarian, Mr. Holmes, has frequently spent whole evenings in counted for? Certainly it would apthe library watching for it. But, unfortunately, ghosts do not usually apintense emotion or ardent affection it is pear when you look for them. It is possible for the minds of persons far right to add that a certain amount of apart from one another to enter into difference of opinion exists as to the some kind of communication. If it be identification of this mysterious figure true that nervous action is near akin to with Queen Elizabeth, but the fact of electric force, then it is possible that precincts of Windsor Castle is the occasional scene of visits of an apparition commonly thought to be that of King Charles I. It only appears at long intervals, and is more often heard in the form of footsteps passing by than actually seen. One of its most recent appearances was to the wife of a wellknown English bishop, who happened to be staying at Windsor at the time.

All the historic royal palaces have the reputation of being haunted. One of the best known cases is that of the gallery leading to the royal pew at Hampton Court, along which the ghost of Anne Boleyn has often been heard to pass uttering piteous cries, as she did in her lifetime when she ran to implore mercy from Henry VIII, who was hearing mass in the chapel, but was forcibly repulsed by the guard.

A more recent instance occurred at another of the royal palaces, where a visitor, walking down the corridor one evening, saw the figure of a very beautiful young lady in evening dress passing in a faint luminous light through a room where the lights were turned down low. The visitor was in the company of a member of the royal family, who, strangely enough, saw nothing of the apparition, although he was aware that one had been seen from time to

Leaving the royal palaces, we have now to record a curious phenomenon mysterious manifestations used to octhat is sometimes observed in the cur at the house in question, of which chapel of a large convent in North Lon- the following may serve as an example: don. It happened that a good many Our host had a small room on the years ago one of the nuns broke her first floor which he used as a private vows and returned to the world, where, office. Sitting at his desk, with the after an unhappy career, she died. Soon door open, he commanded a full view of afterwards the inmates of the convent the staircase, being able to see downthis office. Price, 15 cents; $1.50 per were startled to see the form of their stairs to the hall, and up the next flight and value descent. In the stairs to the floor above. One night, long Price $1.

time to time, and has been witnessed and the very existence of an unknown world, peopled by activities as real as of the convent school, who naturally riedly withdraw the children, when the form of the lost nun is seen passing through the outer chapel or kneeling

A somewhat gruesome incident took

The youth subsequently learned that the figure he had seen was that of a young man whom the girl had jilted, and who had committed suicide in consequence. The girl was for some weeks afterwards in a state of great distress, fearing that she was haunted by the spirit of her rejected lover; but covered her usual good spirits.

A London journalist of fairly matter of-fact and unimaginative disposition, was sitting in the train at a large midpearance, for he was a portly old gentleman, wearing the conventional silk hat and black frock coat, and carrying the sample bag which he used in connection with his business as traveler for a large firm of tea dealers.

The passenger tried to attract his friend's attention, but without success. A few days later the journalist with a relative who lived there. During the course of the meal he remarked, I saw old Hilton last Saturday, on the It is natural to begin with apparitions of departed persons. Everybody has heard of ghost stories, and it must young Hilton, don't you?" "No, it was old Hilton, not his son, that I saw." "I hardly think so," said his cousin. "But ist; whereupon he received the start

Here was an example of an appari tion of a dead person apparently without any purpose or object. Can you eximputing deliberate lying to persons of

> Many cases are on record of apparitions, of living persons being seen. A ly attached, and he used to fancy that he was with her in her room. So vivid was the impression that he was often tion which he fancied had taken place before them.

> After a time, finding that he had no real vocation for the religious life, he left the monastery and returned to his home. He had not been there long before his sister said to him, "While you were at the monastery, I used often to fancy that you came into my room in eight in the morning, before I was up. and that we had some jolly little talks together." He inquired if she could remember any of the conversation, whereupon she repeated to him the very things that he had imagined himself saying to her while kneeling alone in the monastic choir!

Can this be a case of telepathy operating over a distance of more than one hundred miles, or how is it to be acpear that under some circumstances of the apparition itself is unquestionable, the discovery of wireless telegraphy is One of the Canon's houses within the a step in the direction of explaining such phenomena as the one just re-

A father, somewhat advanced in years, was deeply attached to his grown-up daughter, who was his sole companion of his declining days. One night, feeling unwell, he left his bedroom and knocked at the door of his daughter's, forgetting for the moment that she was staying for the night with some friends at a distance.

The daughter, who, of course, did not think that her father was likely to be taken ill, was suddenly aroused from sleep by a loud knocking at her bedroom door. She hastily arose and opened it, but found no one there, and on making inquiry in the morning, could not obtain any explanation. On returning home she found her father ll, and ascertained that the time she was aroused from her slumbers corresponded with the moment that her father had knocked at her bedroom door.

A sound of knocking seems to be one of the commonest of occult manifestations, without taking into consideration the phenomena—whether real fraudulent-connected with spiritist seances. Various cases have come under the personal observation of the writer, especially at a house in Devonshire where he stayed, and where such occurrences were so common that little notice was then of them. Still more by the sad experience of many wrecked after the household had retired to rest, he was scated in his office busily ensaged in correspondence, when he heard footsteps in the hall below, He was naturally startled, and wondered who could be about. The steps crossed the hall and began to ascend the stairs. As the office door was standing wide open he did not rise, but simply turned in his chair and watched to see who was approaching. It should be noted that the gas on the staircase was alight, and that he had an uninterrupted view.

The footsteps came nearer and near er, until they reached his door, passed it, and then proceeded up the next flight of stairs, and along the corridor overhead, when they ceased, He stared with straining eyes as the footsteps passed, and saw absolutely nothing. No sooner had the steps overhead ceased than he sprang to his feet and ran upstairs after them. Nothing was to be seen, and he went the round of the whole house, entering each bedroom, and found every person sound asleep. It may be added that our host was not at all a man of vivid imagina-tion, and that until he went to live in the house in question he was an utter unbeliever in occult manifestations.

Many of the strangest phenomena of his character have been recorded with deaths, the form of the dying person having been seen or the voice heard by friends at a distance, at the moment of his departure from the body. A strange case of this character occurred quite recently in the metropolis.

A priest who was greatly beloved, lay dangerously ill, and had been uncon-scious for many days. A few doors off lived one of his most intimate friends, who was greatly distressed at the grave report of the doctors. One night he retired to rest at the usual time and slept soundly; but about half-past three in the morning he suddenly started from sleep and sprang up in alarm, impressed with a sense that the priest needed his help. In a state of great perturbation he said the prayers for the dying, and, becoming calmer after a while, he lay down and slept again. When he rose some hours later he learnt that his friend had passed away at the very moment he was so suddenly aroused from

The priest in question had been a frequent visitor at his friend's house and had always occupied a certain chair in a corner of the study—a chair which was not often used by anyone else. Since his death, when all has been quiet in the evening, a shadowy form has been seen several times occupying the chair just as he used to do during his lifetime.

A few years ago two men were sitting in a room in Kilburn about 11 o'clock one evening. One was a doctor and the other was a city man, both of them exceptionally level-headed and sober-minded individuals. They were sitting beside the fire chatting about various subjects before retiring to rest when both simultaneously saw a face look in at the window. Its appearance was such that they rushed out of the room in the utmost alarm. The master of the house ran in, and, being a man of action, immediately threw open the window and thrust his head out, but nothing was to be seen. Now the win dow in question was on the first floor, and looked out over a large garden There was no ladder, stack-pipe, trellis or other means by which anyone could climb up to the window, nor was any one found about the premises. Hu manly speaking, it was impossible for anyone in the flesh to have looked in; and the appearance of the face, which both saw distinctly, remains a mystery to this day. Can you explain it?

An apparition of a far more shocking character took place some years ago in a country church. A well-known Lon don clergyman, a personal friend of the present writer, and now rector of an im portant parish in South Africa, was conducting a mission. The mission serwhen few save the clergy were able to attend.

One afternoon the missioner was the only clergyman available for this serv ice, and himself took the keys and opened the church for the purpose. It so happened that the congregation on this occasion consisted of one person only, the wife of the vicar. The clergyman said the office, and at its close proceeded to the vestry, where he removed his surplice, and then came down the church to lock up. He noticed that the lady was still kneeling in her place, and, after a considerable time, he shook the keys by way of a gentle hint that he was waiting. then rose and passed out of the church without speaking to him, but he saw that she looked greatly distressed. On reaching the vicarage she sought an interview with him, and had an extraordinary tale to tell. In the midst of the prayers, she had chanced to look up and had been startled to see the form of a young man leaning against the choir screen immediately behind the clergyman, and watching him intently. The young man was of extraordinary beauty but his expression was one of the ut most malignity and hatred—quite Me phistophelian, in fact. Greatly alarmed, she covered her face with her hands, but a few moments later looked up again and saw that the apparition was still there. She again closed her eyes, uttering a brief ejaculatory prayer, and on looking up once more found that the figure had vanished. It was certain that no one had entered or left the church, for neither the clergyman, who was close by, nor the lady had heard anything; nor was it possible for anyone to have left the church in the moment during which the lady's eyes were closed the second time. The only conclusion the clergy man could come to was that the appari tion was a malignant device of the arch enemy of souls.

It is true now as ever that there are many things, both in this world and in the mysterious spirit world that seems to surround us, which as yet are hardly dreamt of in our philosophy.—W. J. Wintle, in The Times, Hamilton, Can-

"The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism A Menace to American Civilization." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood, lecturer upon physical, physiological and psy-chic science. Demonstrator of the molecular or spiritual hypothesis of nature. Scholarly, masterly, trenchant. Price 25 cents. For sale at this office. "Buddhism and Its Christian Critics." By Dr. Paul Carus. An excellent study of Buddhism; compact yet comprehen sive. Paper, 50 cents. Cloth, $1.25.

For sale at this office. "The Priest, the Woman and the Confessional." This book, by the well known Father Chiniquy, reveals the degrading, impure, influences and results of the Romish confessional, as proved lives. Price, by mail, $1. For sale at this office.

"The Attainment of Womaly Beauty of Form and Features. The Cultivation of Personal Beauty, Based on Hy giene and Health Culture. By twenty physicians and specialists. Edited by Albert Turner." Of especial interest and value. For sale at this office.

BOUBT AND CERTAINTY

The Modern Development of Suggestive Therapy.

Sometimes a pigmy aside from the arena where glants contend can gauge the tendencies of the struggle and meas ure situations better even than the famous contestants themselves. Hence his word on the strictures of Prof. N S. Shaler, which appeared in the issue of the New York Independent for May 28, on Mr. F. W. H. Myers' recent work entitled "Human Personality and Its Survival."

I was somewhat surprised and, I will confess it, prejudiced in the outstart of his article by the fact that the learned professor should have permitted himself to say of so careful an investigator and thorough a scholar as Mr. Myers that "he has no clear understanding of the methods and limitations of natural science.'

I do not wonder that Prof. Shaler asserts that "the subliminal man" is a consummate liar, forever driven hither thither and everywhere by mere ap pearances. But the professor is surely not acquainte with another, namely that even liars tell some genuine and remarkable truths which they know and know for a certainty.

The argument that because there have been modifications and even radical changes in the theories of the physical sciences, such as those of atoms gravitation and the law of the conservation of energy, therefore it is almost useless to see certainty in any, is surely stretched to its limit in the statement that the "majestic doubt" which hangs over survival after death is to be preferred to the clear light of certainty, even if such certainty were attainable He may prefer doubt to certainty, but the rest of us do not sympathize with him there. I had a talk recently with a very prominent business man and a leading divine of New York City, on this very question, and both of them cordially agreed that the scientific demonstration of survival would start a tremendous impulse toward morality of conduct and character, and furnish a powerful incentive to righteousness that would be felt throughout the world.

He describes hypnotism as "a subjugation of the will." Has he ever tried to strengthen the will, to benefit another human being, to cure functional disorders by means of the gentle therapy of "suggestion"? Does he know nothing about Dr. Parkyn's work in Chicago, to mention only one instance of the modern development of suggest ve therapeutics which avoids errors of the past but conserves and multiplies its beneficent contributions to the healing art? The statement that physicians oppose it because they know it is inju rious is offset flatly by the fact that doctors in ever increasing numbers are coming to employ it as they get to understand it practically, and to handle it with ease and self-confidence.

Prof. Shaler closes with the sweeping admission that he has had communication with a dead relative or friend, or that he believes he has, and that such belief is not unscientific. In this belief he has the satisfaction to know that he finds himself in good scientific company. Is not such admission a confirmation of the main point for which Mr Myers so classically contends? S. L. KREBS.

IGNORANT

Newspaper Writers, Clergymen and Dectors.

There appeared in a Sunday news-paper in Boston recently, a letter leading editorial writer of the present time, who quoted and wrote as if he had the same understanding—"in the 20th century we might find

Common Sense......15 cts.

This is a splendid opportunity to secure these standard works, as the price is within the reach of all. For sale at this office. an answer to the question of the immor tality of the soul, the answer may be found in the affirmative, through actual communication with departed souls? There appears to be many other learned persons who have written and spoken recently as if they were as ignorant as that writer I have quoted, who has an audience of not less than 200,000 each Sunday and on week days a large audience, through a one-cent daily in Boston, U. S. A. I have equiped my mind and trained my body to be a public writer and public speaker for the cause of Spiritualism as a fact, a truth, as a science in the history mankind and other forms of animal life

Reveal all the mysteries in the realms of nature. Let those who cry aloud about the Holy Ghost know that the same is now manifested by spirits entrancing persons called mediums, other persons even some who are called insane by physicians, and others judged to be criminals in courts of law.

I have been speaking to and organizing men, women and children to work as if in war, to advance the cause of spiritual knowledge, for in wisdom and truth, facts and science, there can come more good for mankind than in setting men, women and children cursing one another in the name of any religion church and creed.

We should write and speak with knowledge. I have seen, heard and felt spirit workers who are called dead They come and prove an individuality in many ways. In olden time they hanged the avowed spirit mediums they called them witches and wizards and on Boston Common women were hanged by their necks till dead. As was done in Boston, so was it done at Salem, though there they crushed one noble hero, a good man, to death. While weights placed on his body to crush his life from his body, his tongue protruded from his mouth, and a Christian of that time, with his cane, pushed the dying man's tongue back into his mouth, in cruelty and mockery, as bru-tal persons sometimes now do to aniother than human in form. These hangings were done under the leadership of Christians in this state, and on other parts of this earth.
We are informed by historians that not less than nine million persons have been killed in the past, to suppress spirit power; sometimes in more horrible modes than in Massachusetts.

Now, the medical doctors have taken the places of clergymen and have established systems to judge persons in-sane, doctors that are as ignorant and evil in fact as those clergymen in former times who did to persons entranced, influenced, controlled or otherwise manifesting so that mankind should know that the individuality of animal intelligence lives on. I wish a concentrated and determined effort all over this earth, might be made for a few years, to teach the learned persons that they are ignorant of forces in nature, common to all of us. If they do not know that souls of dead bodies return and manifest to millions and millions among mankind, they are not wise, and all persons who know it not are ignorant on this subject.

Boston, Mass. AURIN F. HILL. "The Kingship of Self-Control." By Wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape duty, the supreme charity of the world, the revelation of reserve power, etc.

Price 80 cents. For sale at this office.

Kola Plant OURES

ASTHMA.

Froe. The Airlean is Nature's Positive Cure for Huy-fever and Asthma. Since its recent discovery this remarkable botanical product has come into universal use in the Hospitals of Europe and America as an unfailing specific cure for Hay-fever and Asthma in overly form. Its cures are really marvelous.

By J. B. Danch and Sth. buyledan of Crawfords, with, Ind. writes an ability by sician of Crawfords, with, Ind. writes an other the marked by the side of the prominent physician of E. Louis, Mo. write Marked has been distributed by the side of t

July 23d, that Himelya cured him of Astima of thirty year's standing.

Hundreds of others send similar testimony proving Himelya a truly wonderful remedy. As the Kola Plunt is a specific constitutional cure for the disease, hay-fever sufferers should use it before the season of the attacks when practical, to give it time to act on the system. To prove the power of this new botanteal discovery, if you suffer from Hay-fever or Asthma, we will send you not trial case by mail entirely free. It costs you absolutely nothing. Write to-day to The Kola Importing Co., No. 1866 Broadway, New York.

The World's Sixteen Saviors. Or Christianity before Christ. By Kersey Graves. New and startling revelations in religious history which disclose the Oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts and miracles of the Oriental new Testament, and furnishing a key for unlocking many of its sacred mysteries, besides comprising the History of Sixteen Oriental Crucified Gods. This wonderful and exhaustive volume will, we are cortain, take high rank as a book of reference in the field which the author has chosen for it. Printed on white paper, 389 pages. New edition, revised and corrected, with portrait of author. Price $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

INVISIBLE HELPERS

A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Standpoint.

This work, "Invisible Helpers," writ ten by C. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very in teresting and suggestive throughout Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story," "Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Leyond." The work is neatly bound in cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible. One hundred and forty-four propositions, the ological, moral historical and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scripture, without comment. Price, 15 cepts.

DIFFICE Between Religion and Science, Just the book for progressive thinkers. A book that is very interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper. Price, cloth. $1.75.

With the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 50 cents.

POTING of the Life Beyond and Within. Volces from many lands and countries, saying. "Man, thou shalt never die." An excellent selection. Edited and compiled by Giles B. Stebbins. Cloth. $1.

Works of Thomas Paine A new edition in paper covers with large clear type.

comprising; Age of Reason.....25 cts. Rights of Man. 25 cts. Crisis. 25 cts. Common Sense. 15 cts.

THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN -AND-

THE CONFESSIONAL.

BY FATHER CHINIQUY.

This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex-Priest, whose character is above reproach, and who knows what he is talking about. Everybody should read it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chap-ters. ters:
CHAPTER I.
The Struggle before the Surrender of Womanly Selfrespect in the Confessional.
CHAPTER II.
Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the Priest.

CHAPTER III.
The Confessional is the Modern Sodom.

CHAPTER IV.

How the Yow of Cellhacy of the Priests is made easy
by Auricular Confession.

by Auricular Confession.

CHAPTER V.

The highly-educated and refined Woman in the Confessional—What becomes of her after unconditional surrender—Her Irreparable Ruin.

CHAPTER VI.

Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Marriage and Human Society.

Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civilized Nations?

CHAPTER VIII.

Does Auricular Confession bring Per CHAPTER IX.

The Dogma of Auricular Confession a Sacrilegious Imposture. on bring Peace to the Soul?

CHAPTER X.

God compels the Church of Rome to confess the Abominations of Auricular Confession. CHAPTER XI.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and France.

France. CHAPTER XII.

A Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Priest of Rome must Question his Fenitent. Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00.

THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL. Series one, two and three. By Lilian Whiting, Three choice volumes, each complete in itself, in which spirituality is related to veryday life n such a way as to make the world beautiful. Price, 81.00 each.

MIDIUMSIII and its DEVELOPMENT, and how to Mesmerize to Assist Development By W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 50 cents.

WOMAN: Four Centuries of Progress, the types thinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1808. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c. PSYGHE Is the invention of a practical medium, under spirit quidance, and is designed to develop mediumship. Many, by its use, have received long communications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, 1, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail

BY CHARLES B. NEWCOMB, Author of "All's Right with the World," Cloth 276 pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with
"All's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank not the Misaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have seen cheered and strongthenod by him will welcome another book by this wise teacher whose words of help are doing so much to nake the world better by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail" is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing called life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be in demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

The Christ Question Settled. JIIC (III of WUGoliui Officia) Josus, Man, Medium, Martyr. A symposium by W. E. Coleman, J. S. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Moses Hull, J. R. Buchanan, B. B. Hill, Rabbi I. M. Wise, Col. Ingersoll—and what the spirits say about it. By J. M. FEERLES, M. B.
Whether this book settles the question or not,
it will be found eminently entertaining, and brings together a mass of evidence to establish the historical character of Jesus. A large volume. Price, cloth. 51,25.

AUTOMATIC WRITING,

[So-called] with other psychic experiences. By Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portraft and specimen pages of the writing. Hand-somely bound in coth. Price, ii. Postage, 100.

THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE.

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lilian Whiting, author of "The World Beau-tiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Field, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Cloth, $1.00.
Miss Whiting finds the title of her new book in these lines from "Aurora Leigh:"

"If a man could feel

Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and working-day,

working-day,
The spiritual significance burn through
The hieroglyphic of material shows, Herceforward he would paint the
globe with wings."
The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between
the developments of modern science and
spiritual laws: to note that new forces

spiritual laws; to note that new forces, spiritual laws; to note that new forces, as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an unseen realm into which humanity is rapidly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical science the author of "The World Beautiful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea that sented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the con-tant sense of the Divine Presence, and a truer knowledge of the pature of man a truer knowledge of the nature of man and his relations to God tend to a higher morality and increasing happiness. The book is characterized by the same essential style and qualities that have insured for "The World Beautiful" volumes an almost world-wide popularity.

OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT-ING: Kate Field, A Record. Price $2.

A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful Three Berles. Each $1.
From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems. $1. U less books are for sale

Contracts in Spirit Life and Recent of Samuel Bowles in the First Five Spheres. Etc. Written through the hand of Carrie E. S. Twing. Paper, 30 cents.

Bible and Church Degrade Woman. By Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Comprises three essays on "The Effect of Woman Suffrage on Questions of Morals and Religion." Price, 10c.

Why I Am a Vegetarian. An address del'vered before the Chicago Vege-tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price, 25 cents. POEMS OF PROGRESS.

11 By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable.

Price, $1.00.

Healing, Gauses and Effects.

By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents. Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion. By Sarah E. Titcomb. wirh an introduction by Charles Morris, author of "The Aryan Race." Price, cioth, $1.00.

Three Remarkable Books
"The Divine Pedigree of Man."
"The Law of Psychic Phenomena."
"A Selentiac Demonstration of the Fu-The Divine Pedigree of Man, or the Testimony of Evolution and Psychology to the Fatherhood of God. By Thompson Jay Hudson, LL. D. A most remarkable work. demonstrating the existence of the Soul and Future Life. It is scientific throughout. Price 81.50. Dr. Hudson's work on "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" is also valuable. Price, $1.50. His "Scientific Domonstration of the Future Life" should be read by ail. Price $1.50.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA.

A translation made from Japanese, under the auspices of the Rev. Shaku Soyer, delegate to the Parliament of Religions. Was published in Japan. Price, $1.

Ghurch and State.

Line Bible in the Public Schools; the New "American" Party. By "Jefferson." Third edition; 28 pages. Price, 10 cents.

FROM INDIA TO THE PLANET MARS.

A MOST REMARKABLE WORK.

Fascinating, Interesting and Instructive.

By Th. Flournoy, Professor of Paychology in the University of Geneva.
"This is an account of the experiments with the Geneva Medium, Helene Smith. In her trances she lives the dual existence of an Indian princess and of an inhabitant of the and of an inhabitant of the planet Mars. Professor Flournoy and his fellow scientists have for more than five years experimented with these astounding physical phenomena."

This is a work of thrilling interest.

It has excited great attention in this country and in Europe. Price $1.50.

For sale at this office.

Father Tom and the Pope, Or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably by Sh. Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous abcount of a rolleksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom, an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two imperial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same. Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

In the World Celestial. By DR. T. A. BLAND.

"It is inexpressibly delightful."-Hon. C. A Windle.
"It lifts the reader into enchanting realms."—
Medical Gleanor.
"Taxating "—Rev. Minot J "It is intensely interesting."-Rev. Minot J

"It is Intensity interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Savago.

"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorably, the astounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it contains."—B. O. Flower, in the Arens.

"It will give us courage to pass through the deep shadows of death to the sun-lift clime of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.

"Evz3-ybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a most beautiful romance of two worlds."—Banner of Light.

It is Printed in elegant style and bound in cloth and gold. Pric $1.00.

The Mystic Thesaurus,
Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical socrets of Astral Truth and Occult Art. By Willis F. Whiteman, Editor Agrippa's "Natural Magic." The book treats of The Symbol of the Cross. Spiritual Gifts, Inspirational Conception, Initiative Exposition, The Astral Brotherhood, Message of the Brotherhood, The Magic Mirror, and Celestial Companionship. It is a good text book for students of the Mystle, and Will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

Memorial Oration by Col. R. G. Ingeredi a warm friend of his and a great statasman, de-livered before the New York Legislature, May 9, 1888. Price 4 conts. The Devil and the Adventists.

An Adventist attack upon Spiritualism repulsed. By Moses Hull. Price, 10 cents.

Practical Methods to Insure Success. A valuable little work, full of practical instruction in matters portaining to physical, mental and spiritual health. Worth many times its cost. Price 10 cents. The Progressive Thinker.

TERES OF SUBSORIPTION. THE PROGRESSIVE TRIBERS will be furnished entil further notice, at the following terms, invariably in advance:

One year.

Six Months.

Six Months.

Thirteen Weeks.

Single Copy.

ESSITTANCES.

Romit by Postonice Money Order. Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It coats from 10 to it cents to get checks cashed on local banks, so don't send them unloss you wish that amount deducted from the amount sent. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Loomis Street, Chicago, Ili.

TAKE NOTICE.

At expiration of subscription, if not renewed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sent for extra numbers. If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers sup-

Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, always give the address of the place to which it is then sent or the change can bot be made.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1903.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE.

All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spiritualist Association.

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to answer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giving date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC. All money in donations or collections intended for the N. S. A. Mediums' Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not directly paid to our authorized missionaries, who can show a missionary cer-tificate of later date than October, 1902. No other is authorized to collect money for this association. Contributions large or small, are gratefully accepted MARY T. LONGLEY

N. S. A. Secretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Wash ington, D. C.

Geo. B. Warne for President.

Dr. George B. Warne, of this city is suggested to succeed H. D. Barrett as president of the N. S. A., who declines to allow his name used as a candidate to succeed himself.

It is true the East has been in pos session of that office since the inception of the N. S. A., and the honors should be shifted for a time; however, we hold no malice toward Brother Warne that we should wish to thrust such an affliction upon him without first gaining his free and full consent.

H. D. Barrett has certainly set a standard of excellence, a precedent in the manner of performing the duties as the executive head of the N. S. A. that will require a person of no small degree of ability to follow him and give the best satisfaction. He took hold from the first with that volume of confidence that generally means success, and coupled with the natural tact of an organizer, with a thorough knowledge of parliamentary rules, his management has been systematic and straightforward. Mr. Warne has certainly unfolded within the last few years in all these respects wonderfully, and we doubt whether or not he is at all behind Mr. Barrett in any feature of ability as to the requirements of the office of president of the N. S. A. He is active, precise, painstaking, cool, deliberate, intuitive and fearless when he knows he is in the right. He understands parliamentary rules sufficiently, at least, to

We need a man of integrity, dignity and strong convictions for the truth; a man whose heart is vibrant with the restless spirit of right and justice, and such a person we have found Dr. Geo. B. Warne to be. What better recommend can we give him? What greater encomium need he require to place him squarely before the coming convention? We second the suggestion of Brother D Lavine, and place the name of Dr. Geo. B. Warne, of Chicago, before the convention of Spiritualists soon to convene, as a candidate for president of the N. S. A.

A Sign of Progress.

Lexington, Ky., June 22.—Henderson Cass, aged 76 years, a veteran of the civil war, was horsewhipped in public by his wife to-day by the order of Po-lice Judge Riley. The woman had lodged a complain against her husband, claiming that he was squandering his pension money and was drunk a great deal of the time. He was brought into court and told Judge Riley that he wanted to have a good time.

The judge asked the abused wife why she did not whip him and she said she could do it all right if he said she might. Judge Riley replied: Well. I will get you a whip and see that you do it." He told Patrol Driver Wallace to bring him a buggy whip, and, arming the woman with the whip, he told her to march her husband into the stationhouse lobby and lay it on him until she got tired. The woman did so.

The husband at first took the matter as a joke and laughed, but soon he bogan to realize after the woman began laying on lick after lick with full force that she was in earnest and he begged her to stop. He promised to be soher and be a good husband and she stopped. -Chicago Chronicle.

In the olden time a husband was allowed by law to "correct" his wife by | itualism that must be kindly allowed to trouncing her with a stick as thick as his thumb. But now a wife is ordered by the judge to ply a carriage whip on her husband "till she got tired," and

Who shall say it is not a sign of progress when the wife instead of the husband is allowed to use the cudgel of differentiations that are an integral correction—and keep it up until she part of Spiritualism. gets tired or hubby promises to be good?

"An Infamous Dynamite Roman Cath-olic Conspiracy Detected and Exposed." 'Romanism Exposed." Two pamphlets by Rev. J. G. White, author of Startling Facts. Price 10 cents each, or two for M5 cents.

A Plea for Tolerance—The Morris Pratt institute.

When a half-dozen or more sit together before a photographer and the likenesses of all are carefully combined into one, the result produced is called a composite picture, illustrating in a combined manner the leading characteristics of all. It would be impossible, however graphic and versatile the pen, to produce a composite picture of the different cults and diversified views that prevail in Spiritualism, providing that all persons are Spiritualists who believe that spirits can return to earth and communicate with mortals. If that definition be adopted, then Catholics, the Mormons, many of the followers of John Wesley, thousands of Chinese, and many Indians are Spiritualists-in fact the whole world is impregnated with such a belief. But now we are considering Spiritualists who are openly acknowledged as such, as understood by the world, and whose diversified or divergent beliefs are prominent factors before the people,

1. Many avow a belief in reincarnation, while others as strenuously deny

2. There are several different kinds of reincarnation as set forth by Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, W. J. Colville, and Dr. J. M. Peebles and others. 8. The existence of animals in spirit life is asserted by many, and with equal vehemence denied by others. 4. There are Atheistic Spiritualists.

5. Spiritualists who firmly believe in an intelligent entity that rules the uni-

6. Spiritualists who believe that the universe is controlled by blind law or

7. Spiritualist speakers who commence their services by prayer. 8. Spiritualists who would disdain at any time to pray and who stand prominent on the rostrum. 9. Spiritualists who find exceedingly great comfort in reading the Bible, and who greatly enjoy its precents. 10. Spiritualists who will only touch it with a ten-foot pole.

11. Spiritualists who believe that Christ was the greatest medium that ever lived.

12. Spiritualists who believe that Jesus never had an existence on this planet. 13. Spiritualists who believe that fraudulent practices on the part of mediums should be exposed. 14. Spiritualists who believe that fraud should be permitted to continue its nefarious work. 15. Spiritualists who believe that mediumshin is injurious. 16. Spiritualists who believe the gift is God-given, and is perfectly normal and healthy. 17. Spiritualists who believe that idiots do not survive the death of the body. 18. Spiritualists who believe that idiocy is a malformation, and when death occurs the idiot awakens in spirit life as an infant and develops rapidly.

19. Spiritualists who believe in free love, and Spiritualists who believe it is condensed nastiness.

20. Spiritualists who believe that our grand, beneficent and thoroughly sufficient to give an ordinarily good education to those who seek it therein, wrong.
It ha and that to start a Morris Pratt Institute was foolish and suicidal Others believe directly the opposite. We might go on indefinitely and illustrate the wonderfuly divergent views on the part of Spiritualists everywhere, and this aspect of the situation should induce each one to deal tenderly and compassionately with the opinions of others, and never to fortify one's own position with a BARBED WIRE FENCE the secret chamber in nature where that might seriously endanger the life our loved ones are and have been livand happiness of others. So far as the ing, being, progressing, just as they did Morris Pratt Institute is concerned, let handle any meetings the association it be sustained exclusively by those who are in harmony with its teachers, its pupils alone, and who want the us, to hand down this information, but branches of a common school education taught there with Homiletics, Bible Exegesis, Evolution, Physical culture, etc. The present studies can be taught as well probably by the present corps of spirit friends, no doubt, knowing they teachers as anybody else on earth. We still were living, wondering why their repeat, let the Morris Pratt Institute be | earth friends could not see and know. sustained exclusively by the scholars in attendance, just as a spiritual meeting is sustained by those who attend the same, and not by wholesale begging.

But common humanity, tenderness of soul, sympathy for the suffering, wornout mediums, and respectable decency and common sense require that our sick, disabled and worn-out mediums be placed in comfortable circumstances, and that they be PLACED FIRST EV-ERY TIME when one is making a do-

Moses Hull on the rostrum IS SU-PERB; Mattie E. Hull on the rostrum and in the lyceum is MOST EXCEL-LENT, and Clara Stewart as a worker in our cause IS EFFICIENT and desirable, and many would say, LET THEM THERE REMAIN; but YOU are not your "brother's or sister's keeper," and the widest latitude in the work must prevail, without any barbed wire fence put up to endanger life or liberty. The little colored medium on the West Side, in Chicago who believes in the Bible, who admires the great Master Jesus, and reverently worships the God of that ancient book, and who is sublimely honest, has her following, and must be kindly tolerated by those who hold opposite views. She is one of the hundreds of differentiations in Spirwork out their own salvation. Tolerance, kindly thoughts, loving, tender feelings for suffering humanity, and a desire to extend a HELPING HAND to those in distress, should be the underlying foundation of every human soul, in all the various cults and

"Invisible Helpers." By C. W. Leadbeater, the noted Theosophist lecturer and writer. Very interesting. Price 55 cents. For sale at this office. "Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J. Howard Moore. An address before the Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price, 25

The Rostrum. We often receive word from our speakers, especially in California, that the lectures are poorly attended, unless the speaker has a platform medium on the rostrum, advertised to "follow with readings," also stating that all the seances and circles, "especially the fake circles," are well patronized, and by those who never attend a lecture or take a Spiritualistic paper.

This is no new complaint by any manner of means, nor is it at all sur-

There are many reasons for this, prominent among which is the fact that nine tenths of the new converts to Spiritualism have come from the churches where they were preached into hell and out again; where they were held over a lake of fire and brimstone for many rears to the final disgust of their sensibilities and to the complete annihilation of any desire to hear some one tell them the right way and the wrong way.

They had been told of immortality or a chosen few who had passed on and were sainted and a few still on earth who were to be. They had been told over and over that after Jesus died he reappeared, and when they found that this was true, and that their wives and babes, their fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters could and would do the same, it is quite natural to suppose they would be elated, and that to see them again or hear from them is much more to their liking than to sit and listen to some one tell of it.

Those who are not ready for the philosophy will have to feed upon the phenomena until they aspire differently, and truly we ought to be glad we can furnish a good quality of each for the hungry world. This cannot be remedied, as Spiritualism must go to each in the manner he or she is best prepared to receive it.

There are those who can accept these truths through a logical presentation of the hypothesis. They do not need the phenomena, because something has told them for a long time that man had a soul and that it did not die at the decay of the form. These people can be reached with words that would be as naught to the other class.

Most people want to know the fact and when they find it are too elated to give it up for a time, and some want to cling and hold to their loved ones with out regard for the desire of those loved ones to go on a little higher. They know not the hindrance they might be to their progress.

We have the philosophy and the phenomena or we have no tangible truth.

The philosophy is beautiful and appeals to the soul of man because it is of the soul, but the beautiful in all its warmth and sweetness will not reach some people like plain, cold facts.

There is less chance for deception from the lecture platform than from the seance room or even the platform test phase, but we cannot yet do without the phenomena though the genuine be almost obscured by the false. Let our good speakers be not alarmed; these matters will adjust themselves as the new converts become satisfied that there is something out beyond the physical manifestations that is sweet and beautiful, and that will endure.

Sometimes an old-timer is found to be living and watching in that phase for the loved ones, but they are few equiped Common Schools, High Schools and growing fewer as they see the and Academies that dot all the eastern | chance they are creating for deception, and most of the western states, are and as they at last realize that to hold their friends to that physical plane is

It hasn't been very long since the doors between the two world were thrown open to permit our loved ones to talk with us, and people must be excused for standing upon the stepstone gazing up into the mystic deep for a glimpse at some dearly beloved face, or listening for the voice that was once so dear.

Fifty-five years are but few; the time is not very distant when we look back to the evening the little girls found the key and unlocked the door and found upon this old earth, but free from the form. Because we did not understand her methods Nature did not pause to tell worked on and on and left these intricate problems of soul for soul to solve, With this great secret locked within her mother breast her wheels of progress have been kept revolving, our and down here people hoping and be lieving in a future life, without special evidence. Perhaps these conditions of drawing, straining from above and reaching from below to unite souls across are the cause of the open doors. Now let them swing open from both sides and trust to the same force of aspiration, inspiration and eternal right to prevail as it ever has in time. Because we do not like certain conditions is no indication that they are not for the best under the circumstances. We should not turn our backs upon anything that has an educative and uplifting influence in its general line of work. Our cause needs the staunch old phenomena (if the false timber can be replaced by the true), and it needs the philosophy and the world needs Spiritualism. We must furnish it.

Carlyle Petersilea.

Just how it happened that The Progressive Thinker was not notified at the time of the passing of this beloved friend and brother and prominent figure in the columns of this and other Spiritualist papers, is more than we can pause to fathom.

His music and his stories will live in the minds and souls of the Spiritualists of the world many, many years, even after the face and form are forgotten. He was truly a grand man and a Spiritualist in the highest sense of the word, and we doubt not that if he can read these words in spirit he will say he cares for no higher tribute

The spirit world was as great a reality to him as was the earth sphere, and loved to linger upon the threshold and talk with the friends on both sides. His stories will be greatly missed from the columns of the Spiritual press by many warm admirers

"Death, Its Meaning and Results." By J. K. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting volume, of decided value. A narrative of wonderful psychic events in the author's experience. Cloth, 500 pages, illustrated, $1.25.
"Meatless Dishes." Very useful.

Price 10 cents.

THE CASE CLOSED. The Pratt Institute Question.

is about the best way to get the consensus of opinions upon the questions of most vital importance to the cause.

The Progressive Thinker, as a repre-

one the course he should pursue, but must assume to weigh all public movements proposed or established under the care and protecting and supporting discussion in a harmonious way arrive

the recent discussion has been carried on both sides of the question rather than weary the patient readers, and with this issue close the discussion from the general Spiritualistic public, only permitting such deliberations as are carefully weighed upon either side,

Spiritualism and The Progressive

Spiritualism has attained such a standing in the religious world as to create much inquiry after its literature, and while there is a great variety of books and pamphlets already in the market, upon the various subjects within the scope of the Spiritual philosophy.

a niche in the spread of the philosophy

the nominal price of one dollar a year-two cents a week-certainly within the reach of every man or woman in the ranks of Spiritualism, and still how many thousands who profess to believe in our beautiful philosophy there are who take no Spiritualist paper or book

Extend the Circulation of The Progressive Thinker.

with this conclusion, based upon tion, extending over a period of many years, it is but natural that we bend every effort in the direction of making the circulation of The Progressive Thinker so large that its valuable contents may be a lamp to the feet and a light to the pathway of many thousands

Different Conditions Must Be Met.

The Progressive Thinker must not only be made to suit one condition or degree of mentality, but must come in touch with everything and everybody in and out of the ranks. The knowing old Spiritualist must find food for his advanced mind, he must be made to feel that the paper always has a warm spot in his soul, and that he is one of the fathers of the cause and its earnest

co-worker; the novice, the neophyte, must be taken by the hand and made to feel heartily welcome in our society; he must be lifted gradually from his A B

Cs out and up from his embryonic state as rapidly as his possibilities and receptivity will permit; he is weak, and comes floundering out of the darkness of bigotry and superstition, out of the blindness of early dogmatic education; or, perhaps, out of the blankness and be stimulated and inspired to seek for Privileges That Must Be Allowed.

The brother or sister in the far East, hrough its columns, must be allowed to visit the co-worker in the far West;

they must get acquainted into fellowship; swap experiences; exchange views and educate each other; all the various phenomena, the wonderful and astounding new developments and the old-established phases have equal hearing. No doubt the fraud ofttimes comes in for its share of innocent comment, owing to the utter impossibility the false intuitively, and the inability of our correspondents upon the premises to discover the true status in each

The Highest Aim for the Whole Truth

These, and hundreds of other maters, must be acted upon impartially, unbiased and fair, regardless of opinions or criticisms; with but the highest motive and aim for the whole truth-the whole cause. Upon this point we are willing to leave our work to be judged by the readers of The Progress-

'A' Variety Required.

The time was when the philosophy of Spiritualism filled everybody with wonder and awe, and a lecturer could get year, at a little less than cost.

ive Thinker.

of the editor to discern the true an something above.

chaotic state of materialism, and must more than it reaches to-day.

treating upon the subject?

of its contents first.

Thinker.

by prominent workers only.

arms of Spiritualists, and by at possible conclusions.

MEDIUMS HOMES. When the discussion of the utility and fullity of the Morris Pratt Insti-tute was opened in The Progressive It is a Vindication of the Course of The Progressive Thinker in Protesting Thinker it was not without a forecast Against Levying Contributions on of the arguments pro and con it would Spiritualists for the Morris Pratt Inincite, and therefore we are neither stitute, While a Mediums' Home and surprised nor exasperated and we hope Fund for Their Support Are Needed. our correspondents and our readers have enjoyed the mental repast. This ther statement concerning the work of the N. S. A. in relieving the necessities of such worn and aged mediums as it is able to care for. As is well known, the attempt on the part of this association sentative of Spiritualism, dictates to no to gain funds enough to build and furnish a Mediums' Home, proved futile, not enough came to this office to make it possible to even secure a suitable building for such a home, and as the mediums would have to be clothed and fed—as well as sheltered—which would call for much money annually In this spirit, for the greatest good to the board of trustees deemed it expedi the whole cause as we have seen it, ent to turn the available funds into a mediums' relief fund, from which needy, sick or aged mediums could re on. We have withheld many articles ceive monthly aid—as far as possible. As has been stated, the sum of twelve dollars per month is paid towards the support each, of several veteran mediums. In consideration of their feelings we have refrained from publishing their names, yet a call is made for us to do so, and it does seem but just that the donors should know to whom their benefactions are given. Therefore, without in the least wounding their sensibilities, we may state that those as sisted from the mediums' relief fund of the N. S. A. at present are. Mrs. Jennie Lord Webb-one of the earliest and for there is a demand for something still old-time medium in public work; Mrs. better, something more relevant to the M. E. W. Wright, in Southern Califor nia, seventy-four years old, for over forty years a public trance medium; great question of Death; the future state; the voyage between physical life she has given health, time and means and the life eternal. In a great measto the cause without stint, and Mrs. ure has The Progressive Thinker filled Mary C. Morrill, of New York, aged helpless and an old-time medium wel known for her good works for manof life here and hereafter. For several years we have issued an eight-page kind. She has for months been in the weekly edition-equaling about 160 care of the First Association of New pages of the ordinary book size—at > service of humanity; it would be a crime for the Spiritualists to let them suffer; it is not charity that we give the fund, but a just recognition of their work for humanity.

There are books and books, profound, and explanatory of certain occult forces, theories of the hidden and analysis of the knowable things of this and the future state of existence, but The Progressive Thinker, with its multifarious accumulation of communications, goes to its thousands of readers. freighted to the brim with good things; goes as an old friend, whose coming is anxiously looked for once a week; and blessed to give than to receive." whose smiling face gives value to the In addition to these, two other aged longing heart that yearns to get hold one, by relatives removing her to Call-fornia for treatment, and one taken to We are forced to the conclusion that, at the time. We also cared for that for the highest spiritual unfoldment of grand worker, Carrie Fuller Weatherthe new student of the philosophy, and ford, during her illness, and bore the funeral expense over her remains. Now for the most satisfactory edification of and then, a worthy medium gets into the old-time Spiritualists, no other lit- a financial strait, who is usually able erature can compete with a well-edited to care for self; several such were reand rightly managed Spiritualist paper, ported to us last winter-well recomaid, thus enabling them to tide over long experience and critical observa-

> Dr. Henry Slade is cared for at the expense of the N. S. A., fed, sheltered, clothed and given medical care; the world knows that he was for many years a most wonderful medium; he is now a physical wreck. It is requested that no one send him money—in answer to any appeal he may make, as he is not capable of using it judiciously; any money intended for his aid should be sent to the Mediums' Relief Fund at this office, from which he is supported. Within the last few weeks about thirty dollars have been received for the mediums' fund; ten from a gentleman in New York; ten from one signing, "Sympathy," in Iowa, and smaller sums from others; all donors receive an acknowledgement from this office when the address is known here. We have found it injudicious to publish lists of contributors, even the smallest donations are acknowledged and welcomed, we are thankful for them. friend writes that he will give a dollar a month towards this fund; he thinks all Spiritualists should do what they can, and will do so if they see its importance. If these needs and statements do not appeal to them, we know of nothing that will. Heartfelt thanks friends of the mediums. Fifty dollars have just come for the mediums' relief fund, from M. S. A. Burgess, of Haslett, Mich. The donor wishes the gift acknowledged in The Progressive Thinker. Our grateful appreciation goes to him. He is 85 years old and a true Spiritualist. MARY T. LONGLEY.

N. S. A. Secretary 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Washington, D. C.

The Dead and the Unseen

I know that the little transparent film on his Wife's Death.

Why Manufacture More?

a full house; but now there must be ac-companying some of the phenomena to elicit as much enthusiasm or interest Lyman C. Howe writes: "I was espeas formerly. Upon the same principle are the people liable to tire of one kind of food or one kind of literature, and as proof of the appreciation of our variform headlines, taking selections, both from original copy and reproductions, and of the special issues, in striving to prevent the monotony of sameness to our readers, we have an exceeding healthy subscription list. And still, with our constant application to all these duties, and the extra work that naturally thrusts itself upon a man in any business, we offer to the public an additional premium book each

RELIEF FUNDS-A STATEMENT FROM THE N. S. A.

O that old Bible! What a hold it has upon the minds of some people and even when they have come into knowledge of all its errors, its contradictions, its natural fitness and adaptability edge of all its errors, its contradictions, its false claims, its obscenity, its vilecoupled with effort that insures success To the Spiritualistic Public-Dear Friends:--It seems timely to make fur-forty years a powerful physical medium; she is totally blind and has been an invalid for years; she is in Massachusetts. Mrs. T. E. Kendall, also of Massachusetts, helpless and aged, an

These are all deserving mediums whose lives have been spent in the them in the pension they receive from

They are truly grateful for the aid thus received. Their letters are full of thankful expressions, and the spirit of benediction breathes in them. To quote from a letter from one of these beneficiaries—which is a type of all—"I have been suffering so dreadful I could not write before. Writing exhausts me terribly. Sister, no human language can ever express the deep-felt gratitude of my soul for what is being done for me; I am thankful to all who are helping me; I thank you, and through you, the N. S., A." Much more is written in a similar strain. Surely, "It is more mediums who were on our list last year, have been taken from our care, a hospital. Report was made of them the trouble. It is not necessary to give their names—these are on record at this office.

to all contributors, they are indeed the which covers the pupil of my eye is the only wall between her world and mine, cannot see her, I cannot feel when I to welcome me as she always did. I can only hope that when I go through may hear her coming step upon the other side. That her death was so beautiful and calm and full of faith as it was, gives me no consolation, for it was only that rare texture of her life continuing to the very end, and makes me feel all the more what I had and what I have not.—James Russell Lowell cially interested in Mrs. Longley's letter. That many of the ablest speakers of the old type are left unemployed, while second, third and fourth-rate novices are called to fill their places, with the most superficial, common-place talk. is significant, and does not indicate a demand for intellectual and scholarly speakers. If the Morris Pratt School can create a demand, it will serve a valuable purpose; but so long as there is an oversupply of first-class speakers. unemployed, why should we have schools to manufacture more?"

MRS. GLARA WATSON'S ARRAIGNMENT OF THE BIBLE.

Deploring the Thoughts of Its Being Taught Even With the Liberal Interpretations in the Morris Pratt Institute.

Thinker, Clara Stewart, secretary of the Morris Pratt Institute, deplores the fact that Spiritualist speakers have at tacked the Bible and old religions, and among the very brightest and best are claims the reason that some veteran many self-made ones whose schooling workers are without employment is, consisted of just what our common high "that they have used the old method of school afforded. Natural ability and ef-

But what a benighted set of ignoramuses Spiritualists would appear if they did not attack the antiquated old book. Did Spiritualists not attack the Bible and the fame of some of these self-eduthey would be unworthy to be classed cated ones is known throughout the with the progressive element of socie- great Empire State. ty; certainly in these days if we did not attack the Bible we would be behind Pratt school question is waxing warm. the times, for the higher intelligence of and interesting. Editor Francis is to the age is bombarding it from all sides, be commended for his courageous and even the advanced, progressive, words and for opening the discussion up-to-date Christian ministers are firing of the matter. their fusiliade of criticism and condemnation against the ramparts of ignorance, superstition, bigotry and fear; spiritual, mental and even physical ondage, that has been built upon it by ral and supernatural cords that have del." I suspect its in Mr. Hull's Bible. shackled the minds and souls of humanity, and rend asunder the bonds of a ting the high place himself and then fixcruel priestly power that has lacerated ing salaried places for all his own? the quivering flesh as well. Not attack the Bible!

cate the right of woman or of tender childhood—of women to be the possessor of herself, soul and body, and the right to control the functions thereof her right to education and equality with man, or of children to be reared under the hand of kindness instead of the brutal rod. We cannot advocate the monogamic form of marriage. cannot plead for a republican form of government. We cannot teach the sciences, astronomy, geology, chemistry, two teachers can run it, why have five? etc. We cannot do any of this without its proving an attack upon the Bible; and now is it essential that Spiritualists should support a school to teach our coming workers how not to attack the Bible in the good old way? The secretary of the Morris Pratt Institute thinks that the Bible should be slide" in the pastor's absence! Terriused by Spiritualists as a means of defense for Spiritualism.

No! a thousand times no. Spiritualism is too pure and exalting, too grand, ennobling, beautifying and practical to need the impure, the vile and impractical to uphold it. What would we think if our writers acter of the book that the Morris Pratt Institute would use to build Spiritualism upon. It is true there is some good teaching in the old book, but the seas of pollution one must wade through to find it, is enough to corrupt the mind if not strongly fortified against evil, ere the good is found Let us have literature free from the Let us have literature free from the Liust want to get so I can speak pieces taint of immorality, absurdity and in at entertainments." Another said: consistencies as our text books. Let us have literature that breathes only the pure, the kind, the merciful, the good, to place in the hands of our young.

Spiritualists not attack the Bible! It may be kindly said to the secretary of the Morris Pratt Institute that had the Bible the Institute of which she forms a part could not exist. Had not a Martin Luther rebelled against the Romish power, we might now all be in the clutch of the "Abysmal Monster." If there had been no Bruno, no Vol taire, no Paine, no Ingersoll to attack the Protestant form of religion and its Bible, the Spiritualism of to-day would be impossible, for we would all be under the power of the intolerant Protestant church.

PROGRESS IS BORN OF PROTEST. All reforms have come because some one had courage to attack existing error and forms of oppression, and surely in the future as in the past Spiritualists should do their part in the battle of demolishing error, and we need no schools to prevent it. Mrs. Stewart urges sup port of the school "that others may learn the lessons that have made Mr. Hull the teacher [of Bible] he is." To the critical observer this hardly seems necessary when the same avenues through which Mr. Hull learned Stainless ever in act and thought his lessons, the same sources of information from which he obtained his knowledge, ARE OPEN TO ALL.

I am informed that Mr. Hull is not in possession of that all-important qualifi- Void of pity and, full of greed, cation as a teacher (from the school standpoint) that of a college education. It is said he was just an "exhorter" in A brewer of quarrels, a breeder of hate but that hairbreadth is as effectual as into the ranks of Spiritualism, and he the Christian church before he came the space between us and the sun. I has become the teacher he is because he applied his mind to a study of the come home that she comes to the door | Bible with such helps, no doubt, as were at his command, and then coming into the study of Spiritualistic thought, no the last door that opens for all of us, I through a Spiritualist institute, for there were none, but studying Spiritualism through its literature, through lis-tening to and debating with able Spiritualist lecturers, through investigation of its phenomena—coming into this knowledge he was enabled to apply it to the scripture to suit his taste, put ting a Spiritualistic interpretation upon portions thereof just as a Methodist puts his interpretation thereon, a Calvinist his, a Presbyterian his, a Unitarian his, etc., and with all and above all he placed his natural ability as a teacher at his command and this is the secret of his success.

I heard Mr. Hull say two years ago at a would-be ordination of an applicant for Spiritualistic ministerial honors in this city, that a sound such po-sition, with other qualifications mentioned, must be "apt at teaching."

And Mr. Hull may be able to impart all his knowledge of the Bible to the students at Whitewater, and if natural ability to teach is wanting, they will never be the teacher he is, and if they possess aptness to teach or speak they can do as Mr. Hull did, study a little cents.

ness, its cruel, heartless, immoral, in- along any given line, and while our lawness, its cruel, heartiess, immoral, inconsistent teaching, they still cling to yers, physicians and specialists of it as though it were an angel of light.

In a late issue of The Progressive their special lines, yet all have not at the light that the special schools as she claims.

The Manus Prott Institute deployes the We have in James town a goodly sure. fort out of school did the rest.

One of these self-made ones is now county judge; one is district attorney; others are corporation attorneys, etc.,

Surely the interest in the Morris

Do we need the school? is the ques-

To be sure the institute makes a nice resort for the distinguished Hull fam-lly, for has it not been fitted up in fine of the hoary past. Did Spiritualists not wouldn't like to live there? The Pay. antagonize the Bible they would be recchio Educator (the Institute magazine) reant to truth, to high manly and wo of February, 1903, gives the list of manly duty; they would be false to teachers as follows: Moses Hull, Mattie those noble souls of spirit life who in-Hull, M. Florence Johnson (Mr. Hull's augurated, and with the co-operation of daughter), Alfarata Jahnke (Mr. Hull's mortals have carried forward the daughter), and A. J. Weaver, and thus grandest movement of the age, Modern it will be seen that four out of the five Spiritualism. Without an attack upon teachers are Hulls, and why not? Is it the Bible they would be untrue to the not honorable for a man to provide for message of Spiritualism which is to his household? Somewhere it is remake free! to break the chains of corded that "a man who will not procreedal bondage! to sever the unnatu- vide for his own is worse than an infi-And who can blame Mr. Hull for get-

But really, Mr. Editor, who runs the chool? According to reports the most Nothing pure or true, good or lofty of the teachers and some of the officers can be advocated without antagonism have been absent lecturing a good porto the Bible. We cannot advocate so tion of the time. With Mr. Hull crosscial purity, individual or home purity, ing and re-crossing the continent to temperance, sobriety, honesty, upright please people who want to hear him ness, truthfulness! We cannot advo-"talk Bible," with Mrs. Hull serving outside societies here and there, with the secretary traveling over the States "soliciting" funds for the school and possibly securing aid sufficient to pay traveling expenses, and with Mrs. Jahnke, a resident of Chicago, not at the school, so I am informed. With this state of things, it appears that the running of the school must devolve largely upon the superintendent and the other remaining teacher, and if Is the teacher living at Chicago getting her forty dollars per month? And how can that high-up moral church connected with the school flourish, with its pastor roaming the country over begging along to keep it alive? What if ble catastrophe to contemplate. I note President Barrett's reply to questions and am impressed with his view of a high standard of admission to the school, requiring the students to be high school graduates; but how far removed is this idea from the standards now in vogue there. As set forth by that have given us our abundant and the secretary, the students are those elevating literature had mixed it freely who have not even been through the with the low and vulgar, that which appeals to the passional and brutal nawith the method of Mr. Hull's Training School at Lily Dale camp, which school was merged into the Whitewater effort Indeed no standard was required at the Dale, but any one was taken. And furermore I know that many of the students there never thought of taking the rostrum as speakers. When questioned by the writer one student said, 'Oh, no, I do not expect to be a speaker. "No, I never could be a lecturer. I am here for the aid it may be to me in my (country) school teaching." Another said: "It is pastime for me." Another had been trying for years to be a medium and thought maybe she could be "developed," and so on, and if the Pratt no one in the past attacked religion and Institute continues it would be well to ascertain the motive that prompts at tendance. The articles from Drs. Peebles and Conger on this important question were rich. CLARA WATSON. Jamestown, N. Y.

D. W. Hull and Our Common Schools.

Our good brother, D. W. Hull, speaks disaparagingly of our grand public school system. The fact is, in every school there is a "dunce," and Mr. Hull must have met them alone. Abraham Lincoln only attended a very common school for a few weeks, yet he stands to-day the most illustrious of all our Presidents. Our Common and High Schools are the pride of our country.

TWO WOMEN. know two women; and one is chaste And cold as the snows on a winter waste:

(As a man born dumb in speech errs not.) But she has malice toward her kind-A cruel tongue and jealous mind.

She judges the world by her narrow creed. Yet she holds the key to "society's gate.

The other woman, with a heart of flame, Went mad for a love that marred her And out of the grave of her murdered faith

She rose like a soul that has passed thro' death. Her aim is noble, her pity so broad, It covers the world like the mercy of God.

A healer of discord, a soother of woes. Peace follows her footsteps wherever she goes. The worthier life of the two, no doubt; And yet "society" locks her out. -Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Na-By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. ture. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual rostrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism. The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents "Spiritual songs for the Use of Cir-clos, Camp-meetings and Other Spirit-ualistic Gatherings." By Mattle E. Hull. For sale at this office. Price 10

THEOPENBOOK

Hartford, Conn.

PRAYER.

Our Father who art in heaven, who art on earth. Thou hast spoken to our souls, and they are uplifted towards Thee. Thou hast breathed this life into human consciousness until butreaching thought is asking for Thy voice, our life and law. Oh, Thou who art infinite! We do not encompass Thee in one generation, but we behold Thee everywhere. Thou dost speak to us in a language that sounds through the universe; with an intelligence that is building itself higher and higher about us; Thou dost speak to us through the varied scenes of life; through all the changing seasons; through all Thy wondrous handiwork. And we thank Thee, our Father, for every gift that opens to our souls more clearly Thy presence and Thy law and Thy life. We thank Thee for everything that is about us, whether it be in shadow, or whether it be In shine that Thy law speaketh. Thy presence unfolds itself to our consciousness, and Thy law reveals itself to our intelligence. Oh! High Minister upon the heights! Whose love aboundeth for ever; whose loving kindness shines throughout the universe; whose mercy enfolds us. Come to us. Speak to us of divine truth. Tell us the glad story of the his law. Tell us of truth. Tell us of peace. Tell us of life. |Tell us of divinity, until we shall behold the divine spirit in our lives, and speaking through our deeds one to another, during the remainder of our life here and the life forever.

After reading a part of the fifth chapter of Matthew and a poem, Mrs. Russegue said

I have selected for my subject this afternoon a part of the 8th verse of the 10th chapter of Revelations: "Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth." The angel of wisdom, of intelligence, of truth, of God stands upon the sea and the earth, and in his hand is an open book, that all may read therefrom and grow wise and strong, true and loving, pure and holy, divinely like the Master. The angel is here, everywhere about you, and the book is eternally open. It is ppen for you to read, and upon its pages is the marvelous story of life; the wonderful story of truth; the divine law of the universe. It is based upon that eternal rock of science. Our law knows no changes save unfolding, knows no limitations, no boundary. Cannot be circumscribed by prejudice. Cannot be fettered by ignorance. Cannot be overshadowed by opinion. Science is the corner-stone upon which rests .nll law. It is the foundation upon which abides all truth. It is the recording angel of all wisdom, and it is the giver of light, and peace and happiness.

It is the language through which we interpret all the mysteries that surround us in nature. It enfolds the meaning of all law and furnishes the instrumentalities through and by which we are able to learn the intrinsic value of truth; we can learn the demonstration or uses of any law that is presented to us for our observation. It is the wisdom of the ages that is growing up about us. It is the cosmical law of the universe that is unfolding its pages to our understanding. It is the mighty Word of God that is rolling on and on through the souls of men and leaving there its illuminated track.

It is the beauty, the grandeur, the glory of divinity that Is speaking through its pages to the understanding of the races. The intelligence of the present day is bringing to the front the great truths that belong to nature, and their close kinship to the principles that gave human life.

The kingdom of matter has been held as apart from the kingdom of spirit. We have conceived of this natural world as the abiding place of sin, and of the world above the sky as the abiding place of spirit. Without the one the other recognizes no development. Without the one there is no such thing as demonstrable law. Without the world of substance that we can grasp, and see and hear, and bring to our sensibilities while in the body, we can have no knowledge of the truths that are waiting to reveal themselves to our understanding.

the plant, and it grows; it comes to the animal, and it walks; It comes to the man, and he thinks." He thinks, and what is the result of it? The moment a man begins to think he begins to grow, he begins to expand; his soul enlarges itself; his heart is quickened; the pulses of thought are exhibitated deeds, in loving kindnesses, and in a spiritual brotherhood; hay by day until the world grows more and more luminous as the fruit thereof.

Of the earth about us—we change the contour constantly. The sky is revealing her mysteries; all the inequalities of nature are recognized as useful. We know when light is started from a distant planet; but for the vibrations we call "twinkling" the light would never reach us, but because of these vibrations, because they differ from each other, they bring to us the glory that the planet reveals to us. It is said that it requires 24,000 years for the light of Sirius to sift its way down to earth. Twenty-four thousand years to convey to us the image of that planet that twinkles in the Bky, whose radiance we all admire as we look upon it. Twenty-four thousand years vibrating through the ether to bring to us the glad story of the luminous world far away.

How many years has it required to bring to us the wonderful story of eternal life? Look at man as he has grown up out of the vertebrae, up to the man of to-day, and see what he is, where he stands, what his relations to nature are, how his life has unfolded. The wonderful mystery entered his soul and see what the record has been, his progress. his growth, how it has revealed itself to him as he acquired klnowledge. As his consciousness could accept and remember that knowledge the front brain gradually strengthened. be gradually lifted his face to the sky, his soul aspired, his spiritual nature unfolded to the love of the Almighty, and at last to the consciousness of his spiritual nature.

So the world has matured from the chaotic state of this planet to a high appreciation of the deific life. The book put of which we read, we love it, its pages and its revelalions, and as our comprehension gradually grows beyond the boundary we cast upon it the shadow of our own intelligence. One hundred years ago a Christian would not have read a book that criticised the scriptures. He would not have read a book that questioned the authenticity of any book within its boundaries. There would have been nothing that would have induced him to see that there could be any mistake. that there could be any fault found in the text or the story, that there could be any inconsistencies, that there could be any injustice. But to-day what is the result? The book that was in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth," has been read of man, and at last he is

There is no creature that knows the finale; there is no creature that can contain all the inspiration of God, all the revelation of his law; all the beauty, the grandeur of his spirit. There is no book that holds it all. For nature, wistiom, and spirit are still writing themselves upon all things.

When (in the long ago) the world was believed to be flat. and it was thought that men could sail out upon the sea, and in a few days find upon its surface something that had been bringing wealth and wonders to its shores, then he thought of this universe as something small. He did not recognize the multiplicity of worlds. He looked upon the starry heavens as revealing only the luminous bodies that should lighten the earth. But when in the Arabian times mathematics was born, men began to calculate the wonderful revelation of nature. Mathematics was born and out of its look upon one another next morning.—Izaak Walton, bosom there welled a knowledge of planetary rules. Men began to recognize the coming of certain planets at certain times. He began to watch the revelations of the heavens; realizing that no two things revealed the same story; that no two conditions revealed the same positions, he then began to wonder what the cause was, and at last understood Putnam.

that law governed their activities, that law was the source of their revelations; that law was the foundation upon which their beauty rested; that law was commanding, and they obeying its behest. At last, out of this grew the knowledge of astrology. In ancient times astrology was not the A Lecture Delivered by Mrs. Helen P. Russegue, of mountebank it became later; it was not applied to foretell the success or failure of men. It was applied to the nature of man as the spiritual side of universal law. It was recognized as an interpretation of the connection between man of the body and man of the spirit. So the world has changed its face, and the world of man has changed its contour, until to-day the wheels have turned back far enough so that now man begins to question what the relations are between himself and the stars that shine over his head. What the conditions are that are joining them, what the influences are that radiate from them, and are being appropriated by man to his everyday life, and product of his thought, the unfolding of his intellect, and the advancement of his sprituality. Until he had learned the conditions, and realized that there was a lesson in the heavens for him to read. The finger of God has pointed his thought to the sky, to read there the law inscribed thereon.

It is a universal truth to day that science everywhere is recognizing a part of these manifestations. Our weather bureaus are telling the conditions of the atmosphere from the positions and relation of the planets to each other. They are outlining what the weather may be one, two or three days in the future with as much accuracy as the coming of a comet may be foretold by an astronomer. Why? Because it is well understood when these comets are in cergrandeur and goodness of God, of the might and majesty of tain positions in the heavens that certain conditions exist. It is observed that the same law that produces these conditions, brings certain results. It is a problem of mathematical truth, and may be as fairly defined as the multiplication table, or the law of division. It is as real to the eye of an astronomer, to a scientific man, to an inquirer into the meanings of nature, as the words from the book that the angel holds in his hand, who stands upon the sea and the earth, that the law there is as accurate in its performance as in the souls of men.

The same law that manifests itself in the heavens, reveals itself to the souls of men, and will, until they are convinced that action is the product of truth by the application of law. Our lives which produce the results, and our relations to each other are being measured. Through the wonderful science of the men of to-day, that is just beginning to dawn upon the horizon, do we discover this fact, that thought is communicating over all the world, when the lips utter no sound and when the voice speaketh not. But thought with its own language embraces the earth. It is holding in its arms every condition of human life. Through its activity it is lifting the world up to higher lives and ideals. Thought is doing its work in our midst whether we recognize it or not. It is performing its wonderful mission, it is healing the sick, it is turning evil into good, it is purifying the world, it is teaching man that he is to live for the benefit of his fellow-

Thought is a marvelous power. Thought knows no boundary. It goes out into the eternity of the future as it has into the eternity of the past, its only measure life, and life has no boundary. Life is not limited. That which you call death is but the threshold of the great doorway of life that leads you up to greater possibilities and higher levels. It is only one step up the ladder of growth which is carrying you into a more glorious country, a higher, a nobler existence. The future reveals itself to us only as we read its pages of the prophecy of our hopes. The future reveals itself to us only as we behold the needs, the wonderful needs of the human mind. No man has ever needed anything in life that he has not attained to a realization thereof through his own activity. The intelligence of man has been the mechanism that has brought forth from nature her wonderful mysteries, her marvelous wealth, her great and noble truths for the good Intelligence, what is it? It is simply the living spirit that is breathing through the organism of humanity. It is only the spirit that cannot die. If you are evenly and harmoniously organized, the spirit speaks to you in harmonious tones. Its melody and sweetness goes out into the world to strengthen the world.

If you are inharmoniously organized then you are not well rounded and the spirit speaketh according to that dissymmetry. If you are belligerent in your feelings, your spirit reathes warfare. If you are loving, tender and sympa Emerson very truly said, "The cosmical element comes to thetic and charitable, your spirit breathes peace, and love to

These are the laws that govern our lives. These are the principles that are acting out from our natures; these the truths that are rearing monuments over all the earth in good these are the laws that are building up temples to the Divine Spirit. See that you make them so pure, so true, so clean, so noble, so perfect, so well-rounded, so glorified, that His love, His justice, His mercy shall speak through you to mankind.

All the emanations from your spirit in the vibrations of thought are of unequal length; they carry the true language of what you are. You are speaking to the world of yourself in your thoughts, in what you believe, in all things you cherish. If the act you send out is full of evil, jealousy and envy, it speaks out the thought of your soul when you entertained it and it vibrates to our souls carrying pain, inharmony and injustice to the world. But if you think sweetly, and lovingly, and in the spirit of Christ; if you are living out this thought, then the world is brighter, it grows more rapidly, it is advancing with longer and easier strides, it is opening the little book and writing on its pages the lives of men, and the Word is the Word of God.

SWEET EVENING.

When Evening sings her farewell song to day, And weeps the last sunbeam upon her breast. Who hath not watched the slow receding ray Expire upon some distant summit's crest?

Who hath not felt, when viewing such a scene. Some strangely sweet, some soul-entrancing power. Some heartfelt balm, breathed in the deep serene, Some "unseen presence," that folds the evening flower

Who hath not leaned their cheek on Evening's breast. While fall the shadows of her soft twilight. And felt the blessing of her calm, sweet rest. Like breath of dew upon a flower of night?

Who hath not pressed her bosom closer yet. To hear some whisper coming through the gloom, Some white-lip'd promise, the heart cannot forget-To hear the voice of "love," re-cross the tomb?

Who hath not felt some conscious inward flow. Some sweet harmonial thrill of rapturous bliss. Some answered call, by which the heart may know. That conscious love survives a life like this?

And who that hath not felt at such a time. The white, Edenic hills could not be far: And learned to hear the music of their chime. And half-believed they saw the "gates ajar?"

When, like this day, I reach life's evening shore. And feel the cool of death's approaching kiss. One boon from heaven I ask: While passing o'er, The hour may be serene and sweet as this. CONSTANTINE CHAMPION. Logansport, Ind.

I love such mirth as does not make friends ashamed to

The greatest virtues shine forth in the midst of suffering and slaughter. The very moment that one loses confidence in God or immortality in the universe, that moment he should be more self-reliant, more courageous, and more solicitous to aid where only human aid is possible.—S. P.

A Communication from Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, on "The Continuity of Life an Eternal Fact."

Blo . Ter. What is immortality? What constitutes Eternity? Is it not the continuity of life, as exemplified in the gradually unfolding and gloridus, active life, which all progressive spirits are ever enjoying in the grand, countless spirit spheres above, where life is one soulful, joyous pean of grateful praise to the all-wise, ever-ruling and guiding creative power which calls all life essence into appropriate, material forms of expression, for soul-culture and necessary growth towards the infinite?

Is it not found in the constantly changing, ever-varying experiences of the human ego, on the different planets, and in higher spheres above? Life! glorious life! ever teeming with vital force, which is ever inhaled in the different stages of development from the central source of all spiritual life, wisdom and power.

Earnest aspiration will quicken and enlarge the inspiration ever drawn from this spiritual fount. Strive, then, with all your hearts, ye who would hasten the time when your souls will be spiritually capable of receiving this enlargement in greater abundance, to awaken your inner natures to this grand, wholesome truth, of the soul's constant and progressive, eternal enjoyment of immortality, in the everpresent Now. Here is a broad field of the grandest, purest, most comforting truths, for the purification, and the uplifting of humanity, spread out before your opening vision! See that you discern closely truth from error, and sift the wheat from the chaff, in your sincere investigations into the realms of God's highest truths. In your earnest searching, the scales will eventually fall from your eyes, as they once did from mine, and you will be startled, delighted, and almost overwhelmed with the bright radiance of the wonderful ocean of pure, beautiful truths, which will meet your eyes at every turn.

When the old, worn-out dogmas of the orthodox faith ceased to comfort and cheer me I then began to delve deeper into the heart of things. Even when upon the earth plane, in my position of Spiritual guide to my church, when I addressed, often, the massive assembly of hearers, even then I realized keenly my incompetency to teach them the highest truth, for I was not then prepared to tell them of my discoveries, to confess the glaring errors I had found in the old teachings of theology.

In fact, I was not strong enough in spirit to give to the world any faster than a few grains at a time, from my newlydiscovered fount of knowledge and inspiration. Many times, since I became a resident of the spirit spheres, have I regretted bitterly my fatal error, my lack of moral courage, that I had not commenced, then and there upon the earth plane to undo the mischief I had ignorantly wrought, in my misspent efforts to feed my congregation with the unsatisfying husks of the old creedal faith—which may have satisfied our forefathers, very true, but which contained not the needed nourishment for this progressive age.

To have the courage of one's convictions! Ah! my friends of earth, deem it not a light matter, to possess that moral courage to retract, to undo the work of a lifetime, and to confess to the whole world the puerile folly of trying to force, any longer, the shadow of a truth upon the multitude, and cowardly hold back the substance, the kernel of nourishing corn or the precious nugget of pure gold you have dis- his article, "Illogical Reasoning," had reference to his own covered. In other words, my friends, "The mill will not grind with the water that has passed."

Live truly to-day, in the ever-present Now; choose from God's granary the right and fitting nourishment which your earnest souls crave for their progressive spiritual unfoldment in God's school of Eternal Life, and begin now to fully enjoy the glorious life of immortality.

Begin to live, here and now, upon the earth plane, in your mortal houses of flesh and bone and blood, the true life of the Christ. And live not foolishly down in the cellars, nor the sub-cellars of your mortal houses, nor far down in the caves of superstition, and ignorance, and blind, unreasoning idolatry and feed your spirits upon the husks of life, thus starving them cruelly and needlessly; but, rather, use your utmost efforts to ascend, and climb higher in spiritual growth and knowledge, and you will then live in the sky-parlors of your mortal houses where you can see and enjoy the golden, invigorating rays of God's bountiful sunshine, and where, happy and secure in the peaceful, daily enjoyment of your higher natures, you will inhale the generous gifts of God's merciful, world-embracing truths, and can then gratefully bestow a portion of the same upon your fellow-men, and help them by the bright, radiant reflection of your life's unselfish goodness, to climb the ladder to the same plane of thought, and teach them to find the way to their own skyparlors of the mortal houses given them on earth.

O'er the vast, never-ceasing stream of restless, surging, human souls, ever eager to enter a higher class in the active school of material existence, on this planet earth, as well as other orbs in the grand, majestic universe, as ruled by the same hand of love and goodness, over this ceaseless stream of progressive egos is ever shed the protecting, invigorating, stimulating and wondrous love of the creator, the Infinite Ruler of this unfathomable universe. Love! Love and Wisdom! twin creative powers of this Supreme Ruler! How abundantly is shed over all lives, the powerful rays of God's love and wisdom! Only look upward, reach out from the depths of your soul in humble, earnest aspiration! Only obey, like little children, the guiding voice within! , Listen closely to the spirit whispers from the unseen realms!

Trust and believe in the Eternal Goodness, and believe that your slightest acts, your lightest thoughts, all your pent-up, heaven-born, struggling desires for help, and comfort and growth, is seen and understood, and encouraged by the radiant, ministering angels surrounding you. The dear spirit friends, who still love and watch over your footsteps, are the ministering angels of the Bible record. How beautiful! How cheering and comforting is the fact of their near presence! and how that fact of spirit return, proves beyond doubt, the Eternal Life of Immortality, which they are still enjoying as spirits out of the mortal form, freed from their earthly environment, thus proving the continuity of life to all progressive souls on earth.

My friends of earth! my friends everywhere, and especially to my clerical brethren all over the world, to ye all do I now proclaim these grander truths, which I have discovered since I became a denizen of this beautiful, harmonious spirit land!

I would that I could now reach the ears and hearts of all, that my burning words might echo, and re-echo, and reverberate in thunder-tones of truth all over the land: that I. from my spirit home above, might hear the fast-throbbing heart-beats of the awakened souls who accept with joy my spirit message, and try to obey the higher voices, which point the way to purer, pobler lives. Arouse ye all, who are fast wedged in the rut of old-time customs, who cling blindly to a worn-out creed; and thus ignorantly shut the windows of your dormant souls to this new birth, which floods the awakened spirit with the golden sunshine of God's highest truths, poured out abundantly upon poor, starving humanity. Cease, my brothers, to dole out meagerly the crumbs of soulfood to the eager, inquiring minds whom you address from your pulpits, Sunday after Sunday! I beseech you, in the name of the loving angels above, give to your hearers the whole truth as fast as you perceive it! Give their hungry hearts the spiritual sustenance they crave!

Else, if you are lax in your duty, if you hold back one ray of truth, and persist in doling out small, meagre crumbs of comfort, where it is within your power to bless with the wholesome, invigorating God's truth, fresh from your divine source of inspiration, then will the day of bitter atonement meet you in this spirit land! When you have "shuffled of the mortal coil," and see face to face, and not "through a glass, darkly," then will the judgment day dawn for you! Then will you meet your own soul face to face, and the piti- best educator.—Mrs. Oliphant.

ful lack of courage you displayed when upon the earth plane, will be a stumbling-block to your spiritual progress in the spheres above.

This truth I discovered soon after my arrival here, Man must work out his own salvation!

He must become his own savior! This is a divine law, which was from the beginning, is now, and always will be! It is Nature's Divine Law of Cause and Effect. When rightly understood, and lovingly obeyed, it will develop a man of earth to a glorious archangel in the highest heavens. For it is only step by step, and round by round on the spiritual ladder of evolution, that any soul can rise in the God-given development which was foreseen and planned evermore by the wise creative principle, and guiding ruler of this majestic universe.

Time and words are both inadequate to the right handling and development of this broad, grand truth, of which I now give you but a faint glimpse in my feeble attempt to teach you some of my well-learned lessons. Some future time I hope to resume my topic, and impart to the world some of of the eye through this grand discovery, when the heavenly wisdom which higher angels from the supernal spheres have blessed my opening vision with comforting answers to my eager queries.

For the first time through this sensitive, I have succeeded better than I hoped, and each succeeding time I control, will be more successful. There is much I wish to impart to the world which is of thrilling interest-my pursuits and researches in the spiritual kingdom, my broader, comprehensive, more active life here in these realms above, and some of the newest discoveries in the repeated lives of the various incarnating egos in the different planetary systems. I will, from time to time, write my letters through this sensitive, and should my good friends of the world desire to read them, they will eventually find their way into public print.

I close, with good wishes to all. Fraternally yours, HENRY WARD BEECHER. Miss Ella F. Porter, Medium, 206 Lenox Road, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Skepticism and Spiritualism.

It seems that my brief observation on "Skepticism Not Always Intelligent," as published in a recent issue of The Progressive Thinker, has struck another snag of opposition in a journal called The Searchlight, published in Waco, Texas, by J. D. Shaw. A marked editorial dubbed "Illogical Reasoning," upon my short article, has been mailed to me, probably by the editor himself.

After quoting nearly correctly, my article which concludes as follows, "But my orthodox Christian, Materialistic, Agnostic and skeptical friends have never witnessed a genuino materialization, and, possibly, I may never witness another. Are we therefore to conclude that I never witnessed one, but was mistaken, deluded, hypnotized, deceived by my own senses?" the editor continues in this wise:

"That is just what we are bound to conclude. As to the meteoric shower of 1883, we have abundance and conclusive evidence, besides that was an event that in no way contradicts natural law. We have all seen meteors, seen them falling, and science has recorded frequent meteoric showers, therefore, it does not overtax our credulity to believe that our parents saw that one of 1833.

"As to the materialization referred to by Mr. Sweringen, the case is quite different. We have none of us seen what are called spirits; we have no authenticated record that such things exist."

I have quoted enough of this Searchlight (?) editorial to give its gist and essence to the readers of The Progressive Thinker. Is it possible that the writer thereof in heading criticism as quoted above? I am very much disposed to leave it bear its own comment. I think I will, with the single suggestion that Mr. Shaw would do well to read up a little on the scientific investigation of the phenomena of Spiritualism, which occur not in contradiction to, or in violation of natural law, but in accord with it, as we become more and more acquainted with the natural laws governing these phenomena. Has not science, and scientific men recorded frequent phenomena, even in recent years, that should not overtax our credulity to believe?

In the case of meteoric showers you accept the "evidence," the "testimony" of scientific men; what business have you to reject the "evidence," the "testimony," of scientific men in regard to the phenomena of Spiritualism? Does not the wick of this intellectual "Searchlight" (?) need trimming? H. V. SWERINGEN.

WOMAN, THE COMING SAVIOR.

So many untaught toilers, treading earth's weary sod, What do they know of things—what do they know of God? His name they know—His holy name—alas! but to blaspheme:

And call on Him to witness sin-on Him, the Pure Supreme! But who has shown His beauty, His holiness, and truth, His majesty, His perfect love, loving them from their youth. He has been pictured to them as one with burning chains. Tortures and fires unending, continuing their pains. A Judge! a Fiend! a Tyrant! cruel and fierce, unkind, Revengeful, furious, jealous, waiting always to bind And thrust them down to torture, unceasingly-for, oh. Hell's fires are painted vividly. All, all are doomed below, This is the God as shown them. Canst wonder if they all Turn steadfastly away from Him, and deeper, lower fall Into the mire and blackness. How can they love or trust A God so full of fury, who never will be just? This is the God as taught them; and these His attributes.

And many of his followers treat these, His poor, as brutes Who have no rights—no feelings, but only live for them To hound, and drive, and harrow-these so-called Christian

But would the "Christ" now own them, did He appear again In human form and visit the "busy haunts of men"? Men who profess His doctrines; who say they follow him? Say, would Christ own the Christians? Is not their light too dim?

This God is pictured to them! O, who will show the "light?" They'd grasp it, oh, so surely, could they but see aright This God, all love and tenderness, all love and goodness; just

To the very weakest. Oh! tell them all to trust His love and tender kindness. He will not torture, ban, Nor thrust them into darkness. He is not erring man, But God! So full of beauty, and truth, and pity mild, Stretching afar his loving arms to each and every child. Show them this God!-oh, show them. They will not turn from Him!

There is no hell! Oh, tell them hell's blazing fires are dim, Quenched with God's love and pity-His purity and truth-His perfect, endless beauty. They'll love this God from youth.

Picture Him as their Father waiting to give them rest, As just, and not a tyrant. So shall thy work be blest. Teach women their importance, their right and proper place. O rouse them from their apathy—the bearers of the race! Not men, but women chosen (who should be meek, yet brave)

To bear, and rear, and shield, instruct, and so to bless and save

The "coming race" from darkness, which now has spread around,

Show them that woman, always, should stand on highest ground.

The place that God first gave her, a help, and not a slave. 'Tis women who must save the world! So courage, and be brave. -The Two Worlds.

Always read with a design to lay your mind open to the

We can do more good by being good than in any other way.-Roland Hill.

The secret of all success is to know how to deny yourself. If you once learn to get the whip-hand of yourself, that is the Restores Eyesight.

"Actina," a Wonderful Discovery Which Cures Diseased Eyes, No Matter Wheth.

or Chronic or Acute, Without Outting or Brugging.

There is no need for outting, drugging of probing the eye for any form of disease, for a new system of treating afflictions of the eye has eminent oculists termed the cases incurable Here are the names and addresses of a few tass cases and the names of the diseases cured: Miss Reed, 500 Prospect Ave., Kansas City, Mo., eyosight restored. Robert Baker, 80 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., blindness prevented. A.O. T. Pon nington, Mass. Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., cutare acts oured. W. W. Lauber, Aledo, Ill., astigmatism cured. R. W. Randall, Chicago, Ill., blinds ness prevented. W. W. Owen, Adrian, Mo. blindness prevented. General Alex. Hamilton, Tarrytown, N. Y., neuralgia of eyes cured. Hundreds of other names can be sent on application, "Actina" is purely a home treatment and self-administered by the patient, and is sens on trial, post paid. If you will send your name and address to the New York and London Elege trio Ass'n, Dept.T. 929 Walnut St., Kansas City Mo., you will receive absolutely free a valuable book, Prof. Wilson's Treatise on the Eye au n Disease in General

710

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinken as printed at the top of the first page right hand corner. If this number con responds with the figures on your wrap per, then the time you have paid for hat expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is advanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to date. Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

KEEP POSTED

In Current Spiritualistic and Occul-News.

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. ophy and the Spiritualistic and Occul phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can at ford to be without the paper. Its prior is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old, Or the World's Progress in Thought. By Moses Hull. An excellent work by this veteran write, and thinker. Price, 10 cents.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two Worlds.

Elevating, Fascinating, Instruc tive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing is exceptionally interesting. She was says: "These characters which have brought out the highest and lowest in different religious beliefs, have moved me, not I them." The whole book is interesting, fascinating, and instructive Price $1.00

A. SCHOPENHAUER ESSAYS.

Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth. 75 cents, "Schopenhauer is one of the few philosopherg who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is; and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life. This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."—Translator.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut. Taken from the Code of 1850, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1835, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in New England. Some extracts from the Plue Laws of Virginia. Price 25 cent*

THE MISSING LINK IN MODERN SPIRITUALISM.

By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family. Interesting and valuable as a history of the beginning of Modern Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Sistors, 478 Pages, 16 illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. History of the Hydesville rappings as related by eye-witnesses; remarkable and well-avtested manifectations; the "exposures," etc. Handsomely bound in cloth, But few copies remaining. Publishers' price, $1.50. We will send the book post-paid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES.

By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggle for life. By Charles Darwin. Gilt top, cloth bound. This book it tag grandest achievement of modern scientifies thought and research. It has passed through many editions in English, has been translated into almost all the languages of Europe, and has been the subject of most roviews, pamphets and separate books than any other, volume of the age. Most of the great solentists of thriange fully support his position. The thought of the look has become a part of the common inheritance of the race, For sale at this office. Price 75 cts.

THE OTHER WORLD AND THIS. A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. 1. New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinces the powers of a trained thinker, both in matter of thought and fine literary style, and capability of thought expression. The subjects are well handled with conciseness and yet with clearness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning Spiritualism and its teachings. Price $1.50.

THE SOUL OF THINGS; Or Psychometric Researches and Discoveries. By Wm. and Elizabeth M. F. Denton. A marvelous work. Though concise as a text book it is as fascinating as a work of facton. The reader will be amazed to see the curious facts here combined in support of this power of the human mind, which will rosolve a thousand doubts and difficulties, make geology plain as day, and throw light on all subjects now obscured by time. Price, $1.50. In three volumes, cloth bound. $1.50 each. Postage, 10c per copy.

Molecular Hupothesis of Nature: The Relation of its Principles to Continued Existence and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism. By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper. 24 cents.

OUTSIDE THE CATES and other tales and sketches. By a band of spirit in telligences, through the mediumship of Mary Theresa Shothamer. An excellent work. Price, $1.00. For sale at this omes.

The Science of Spirit Return. By Charles Dawbarn. A scientific rehe

}} .. GENERAL SURVEY ..

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS, DOINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS.—Each contributor is alone responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor allows this freedom of expression, lleving that the cause of truth can be best subserved thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly understood that our space is inadequate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire to do so. That must account for the non-appearance of YOUR article. WRITE PLAINLY .- We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linotype machine that must make speed equal to about four compositors. That means rapid work, and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other re-quirements being favorable, should be written plainly with ink on white paper, or with a typewriter, and only on one side of the paper.

ITEMS.—Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occupy, and in order to do that they will generally have to be abridged more or less; otherwise many items would be rowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line tem is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the writer. It will not do to say that Secretary or Cor-respondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep copies of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned if we have not space to use them.

Mrs. M. A. Burland holds a meeting each Tuesday evening at her residence, 3019 Vernon avenue, at 8 o'clock. these meetings she gives tests, messages, and answers questions.

C. J. Barnes is now located at Erie, Pa., and is holding some excellent trumpet seances. He goes from there to Lake Brady camp.

The graduating class of the Evanston School were recently offered prizes for the best theses on the question "Why the tax-paying women of Illinois should have the ballot." The first prize went to Florence Stackley and the second to Edward Carter. There were twelve contestants. All the papers were of such a high order of excellence that they are to be published

Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock.

Speaking of a lecture by Mrs. Juliet H. Severance, Wm. Humphries writes: The entire lecture was radical, logical and eloquent, as her lectures always are, and held her audience in close attention to the close, when appreciation was shown by rounds of applause. The Doctor has been in the harness for over forty years, always in the front ranks of every reform movement and I was wondering who would fill the gap when she falls out of the ranks. Keep her busy while she can do such splendid work for education and progress."

Mrs. M. Jenkins writes from Detroit, Mich.: "The Earnest Workers' Society day night, showing the appreciation of kins, of Windsor, Canada, who is the speaker for June."

E. Armburg is at present engaged at Elwood, Ind., and may be addressed at 1515 S. N street.

D. A. Richardson is in favor of phenomena, and would like the N. S. A. to send forth trumpet and materializing

Oscar A. Edgerly writes from Peoria, Ill.: "The work of my guides continues o be successful here in Peoria. The coclety has so far appreciated both lecures and messages that it has re-enaged me for the month of July, conluding my engagement here on July 6. I shall begin my engagement at crand Ledge Camp, Mich., on July 28."

John Mullen, Chicago, writes: "The letropolitan Spiritual Society closed ts meetings for the summer, Sunday, fune 21. The meetings of this society ave been well attended throughout, he hall has been packed to the doors unday after Sunday. Its pastor, Mrs. Maggie Waite, who is known from cean to ocean, and from Canada to the Bulf, has been the magnet to draw the -erowds and on every side is heard nothng but commendation for her noble The speakers who have graced he platform of this society from time o time together with Mrs. Waite, have een well received-among them Dr. Bross, a prominent dentist of this city; on. J. L. Gilray, one of Chicago's leadng lawyers; Mrs. Laura G. Fixen, who has become this society's favorite; Mrs. Anna L. Gillespie from California, those pleasing manner easily opens he door of the church-member to this new thought; Dr. Love, of Portland, Oregon, whose lecture left an excellent impression on those who were fortunate enough to hear him, and many others whose names I cannot recall at this rriting. The work of all has been uplifting and inspiring. We trust when we open in the fall to do more than we done in the past; we hope to exend the society's field of usefulness in :nore ways than one. Those of you The bewail the decadence of Spiritualism would change your minds if you could step into one of our meetings and see the interest that is manifested. 'The philosophy is all right, they say; so is the church's philosophy. If you would spread the glad tidings of great foy don't decry mediumship and mediums and call them Punch and Judy shows, but place upon your platforms cogether with your speakers good reliable mediums who can demonstrate with credit to the cause the truth of our beautiful philosophy.

Eva L. Stewart writes: "The entertainment given June 6, by the First Hyde Park Occult Society was a grand success. The hall was filled and the talent fine. We wish to express our thanks to the following for their kind assistance that night: B. D. Stillman, Mrs. Grace Fraser, H. F. Arnold, and Little Miss Keeler (who is only 8 years old, and a natural elocutionist, Master Randall Kline, Master Clayton Druliner and Miss Hazel Silverhorn, who with no trouble reaches high C. Tests were given by Mr. W. Stansbury, Mrs. Kline and Mr. Keller. Mrs. Kusserow gave us a fine talk. The tests given convinced a number of skeptics and

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

On the 7th Mr. H. F. Arnold spoke for us and held the audience spellbound by his beautiful thoughts. Mr. W. Stansbury spoke a short time on the 14th. He left for New York that evening and after delivering a course of lectures will be with us again. On the 21st, Mrs. Juliet H. Severance gave us a fine address on the Mission of Spiritualism. On July 5, Dr. H. A. Cross speaks. Subject, 'A Spiritual Temple.' All who have heard the Doctor know he is a good speaker, and the subject he has chosen will be very interesting. Success has followed us and those coming seeking truth will get it. Mrs. Kline, our test medium, is with us every Sunday evening, and doing good work by her messages."

Abraham D. Allen writes from Stur-

gis, Mich.; "In Mr. Harding's report of the late June meeting in this city, it is stated that many are opposed to platform tests; that may be so, but I can-not help having faith in Mrs. Carpenter, although I am not a member of any spiritual or religious society. She gave me a real test from the platform at that meeting. She described my sister, whom I hadn't seen for 57 years and who died 45 years ago; she not only described her but gave me her name correctly, and told her relationship to me. Now sir, I am only 27 years in Sturgls Our home was New Brunswick, and no one in Sturgls or elsewhere ever heard all of these her strong and persuasive me describe or even speak of my sister Mary Ann; in fact I had lost all memory of her until it was revived by Mrs. Carpenter on that evening in the Free Church. I could tell of other matters in defense of public tests. My deceased wife was described to me by another lady in the same house a couple of years ago, and other matters, but I shall not trouble you further at present, merely state again that I have faith in Mrs. Carpenter, and that I am not a professed Spiritualist, although her test | this week to keep camp engagements in may be a step toward making me one."

Vine H. Hickox writes: "Spiritualism in Niagara Falls is progressing favorably under the teachings of Mrs. Atcheson, of Buffalo, notwithstanding the many little differences of opinion during the past year among its members. The society has had a struggle but this noble lady medium has triumphed over all difficulties. The society has secured the Maccabee hall for another year, and the membership is on the increase. Why not? The sacred truths of Spiritualism cannot be denied. There should be more harmony among the Spiritualists, but it is to be hoped that harmony will prevail more and more as time rolls on. June 21, a father and son attended the spiritual meeting; they had never been there before. was personally well acquainted with them. The son had lost his wife. She passed away three weeks ago. She left a babe behind with the sorrowing father. Mrs. Atcheson while giving tests of spirit power was led by the spirit to this young man. She described his wife and her sufferings while in earth-life. She says: 'I am with you and the baby. I am now happy. The medium was a perfect stranger to the young man, had never seen him before. This of Detroit are having very successful man, had never seen him before. This meetings. Their hall is full every Sun I well know. All this is good evidence of the philosophy of Spiritualism. e beautiful work of Mrs. M. E. Jen- The truth has been crushed, but is rising again." Will C. Hodge is serving the Psychical Society at Whatcom, Wash, He will make engagements at other points in the state or in British Columbia. He is open for nearby points during the week. He will perform marriage ceremonies and answer all calls for funerals. Address him at Whatcom, Wash.

Mrs. Georgia Gladys Cooley writes from Toronto, Ontario: "June 28 concludes a very successful three months' engagement with the Toronto Spiritualist Association, and every day spent with these good people here will held in happy remembrance by myself. Perfect harmony prevails among the officers and members of this association, producing excellent conditions for the worker, which naturally brings forth their purest and best thoughts. A very appreciative and intelligent class of people fill the hall each Sunday evening, and the souls of speaker and audience have grown nearer to each other with each succeeding meeting. It is with regret on both sides that parting time has come, but the good sisters who follow me, Mrs. M. E. Calvert, of Toronto as speaker, and Mrs. Murtha, of Baltimore as message bearer, will do a grand work, for they are both noble, honest souls and tireless workers for the cause of truth. My next address is

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa." Scribe writes from Detroit, Mich. William John Sanders, son of the late Dr. Wm. B. Sanders, of Boston, long a student of Oahspe, following in the footsteps of his distinguished father, came to Detroit last Wednesday and took the Star and Dawn degrees of the Brotherhood of Light. A brilliantly lighted lodge room and the happy assemblage of Faithists bade him welcome. A most happy surprise was the presence again of Mr. Harry J. Collins, of Chicago, who seeing the lighted lodge room from the street, came up and participated. Brother Sanders, loaded with gifts to convey to his brethren at Arboles, Colo... started on there to enter the colony work. He was given a cordial welcome at Denver by the Brotherhood there, and a most joyous welcome greeted him at the colony, where he will resolutely start in the work of founding Jehovih's kingdom on earth. The society of Earnest Workers have nearly outgrown their hall. The presence of Mrs. Jenkins, of Windsor, for this month has attracted a very large attendance of well-satisfied investigators. Dr. and Mrs. W. Fish invited their friends to their pleasant home, 119 Congress street (also the home of the Star Institute). last Thursday evening. The occasion was to celebrate their wedding anniversary. It proved also to be a most enjoyable and profitable reunion of the mediums, friends and Spiritualists of Detroit. Nearly every guest contributed by song, speech or recitation to the enjoyment of the evening. A beautiful lawn adjoins the house, with trees, flowers, etc., where many of the guests repaired to enjoy the refreshments, music, and the delightful evening breeze."

Speaking of the camp at Clinton, Ia., the Dubuque Times says: "This association embraces within its membership all the states in the Mississippi valley now they rejoice in the knowledge that and is one of the strongest Spiritualist underlying conditions which forces the turing for the different societies. there is life after the so-called death. societies in the world. The associative great mass of people to devote all their and Mrs. Moore will spend the month of

of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

tion owns a beautiful park here, on the bluffs overlooking the city from the west. There are twenty acres in the park and the ground is platted with streets and alleys and resembles a small-sized town, with its numerous cottages and other buildings."

When writing for this paper

TAKE NOTICE.

All books advertised in the columns use a pen or typewriter.

Theodore J. Mayer writes: "I have just finished reading Mr. C. W. Leadbeater's lecture on Magic, White and Black, and find as far as my experience goes, his description of the same wonderfully correct; in fact all of his lectures are very interesting and educating, and I hope that you will be induced to publish them in book form, so as to enable many more to read the beautiful truths expressed therein."

Dr. Beverly writes: "At Lakeside hall last Sunday, there was a regular love feast in the afternoon, opened by Mrs. Loomis, of Boston, who talked on the ethics of Astrology, and demonstrated by readings, to the delight of all. Many mediums were present to give tests to the expectant ones. Mrs. Lindsey, of Grand Rapids, Mich., pleased many by her truthful messages. Mrs. Shreaves. of Cleveland, Ohio, made some good hits, while Mrs. Dr. Fitzgerald, of San Francisco, gave some wonderful psychometric readings. Time would not allow all to speak, but every moment seemed a rich surprise. All are invited to come and enjoy this spiritual panquet, Fifty fans have been donated. Bring your lunch and spend the day."

Mrs. Anna B. Field writes; friends and co-workers in Chicago have peen delighted the past few weeks by a visit from Rev. Anna L. Gillespie, of San Francisco, Cal. To those who have met her intimately and have been favored with her work, it has been indeed a spiritual treat. Her refined and intelligent clientage included many of position and prestige in the social, scientific, literary and religious world. To personality has shown the refining power of her thought. Mrs. Gillespie lectured before the society presided over by Mrs. Maggie Walte, on 'The Message I Bring,' which she handled in her usual masterly style. In the attentive and highly appreciative audience. which overflowed the hall, were three Presbyterian ministers, who heartily united with the friends in wishing that Chicago could be permanently favored with her presence. Mrs, Gillespie left Ohio and Michigan during June and

July,' James Seldon Cowdon, of Washington, D. C., reports that on Friday night, June 19, 1903, while sitting with twenty persons at P. L. O. A. Keeler's, at 918 H street N. W., he received the following message from his sister, Mary Cowdon, who died in Memphis, Tenn., on May 9, 1869: "I am fully alive and conscious. There is no death to the spirit. I am at rest." Also the following from his mother, Sarah Elizabeth Cowdon, who died at Pittsfield, Illinois, on Thanksgiving Day, 1894: "My Dear Son-This is the most wonderful experience I ever had. I don't know whether I am mortal or not. I am between two worlds. Oh! how very strange. Write you further when I can."

Edward Earle writes: "I left San Francisco, Cal., June 1, and have been holding large meetings in G. A. R. hall, corner First and Taylor streets, Portland, Ore., and am pleased to note that the representative people of the city attend Spiritualist meetings. Mayor Williams, who was United States Attorney General under Gen. U. S. Grant's administration, Mr. John H. Mitchell, present United States Senator, Emmett William, the noted lawyer, and many others are deeply interested and attended my meetings last Sunday, where I demonstrated psychic phenomena, independent slate-writing, etc., in full gas light. The First Spiritualist Society is holding free meetings and doing much good. Mrs. Rufus Mallory, well known and loved by all, is doing more charitable work than any medium" on the coast; she not only publishes a newsy monthly paper devoted to the cause, but donates her parlors and has established a free reading-room. Among the workers here at present are Mrs. Ladd-Finnican, Cornelius, Addie Smith. Mrs. Stevens, Miss Francis Parthold, of Chicago, Profs. Foran, Larson, and several others. There is a license here of $15 per quarter, but is not enforced; at least I have not met a Spiritualist that has paid any. Henry B. Allen, known as the boy medium (although over forty years of age). writes me that he is making great arrangements for the camp at Etna, Wash., which opens August 8. I expect to go. Prof. York opens here next Sunda; Beautiful weather here, and the city prosperous." Mrs. Carrie Wolf writes from Louisville, Ky .: "On account of the extremey hot weather we thought best to close our church for the summer months. We met at what is known as Barbers' Ald Hall, beautiful to look upon, but poorly ventilated, consequently very uncomfortable. Our dear little pastor, Mrs. Annie Throndsen, has so endeared herself to her flock that we felt that we could not live without her beautiful advice and grand manifestations of the life beyond, so we arranged to meet at her home, No. 727 Second street. We have had two Sunday evening services with an attendance of about forty. We are trying to get the people interested in Spiritual literature, and will do all in our power for the sale of your good works. Our church is known as the Association for Spiritual Culture. We have a Ladies' Aid every Friday afternoon, and at this meeting we have a genuine good time. The talk and tests by the pastor are second to none; indeed we feel that we are accomplishing a great deal in this grand and glorious truth."

S. B. Weaver writes: "We now live at 207 South Carroll street, South Bend, Ind., and like the city very much. However, we miss the circles held in our home in Logansport, and the liberal sermons delivered by Rev. Hendrik Vossema, of the First Universalist While Brother Vossema is not church. a Spiritualist, he is one of the most fearless social reformers in the pulpit to-day, and wields an influence far beyond the pales of his church. We now realize more than ever what it is to be privileged to listen to a liberal sermon and to have regular sittings in a home circles with those who believe in human progress and are considering social questions from an intelligent point of view and dare to express their convictions. Spiritualism and socialism are the alpha and omega of the problem of life. To give a reading to some soul in sorrow is both a pleasure and a comfort, when you can make their jour. ney brighter, but to change the underlying conditions is the duty of the hour. The mediumship that has been given to my wife is the comforter in our home. But the power and influence time to keeping soul and body together. When each and all must per-form some useful labor, and none can live on hoarded wealth and each and all can devote the required time to in-tellectual and spiritual development, then and then only is true civilization dawning."

ALWAYS GIVE YOUR FULL NAME July at Chesterfield (Ind.) camp, in 1 at Maple Dell, commencing July 25 and AND ADDRESS WHEN SENDING NO-TICES AND COMMUNICATIONS FOR PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE WASTE BASKET.

The Grand Rapids Herald says: "The first meeting of the West Michigan Spiritualist Association will begin at Pioneer Assembly Grounds, at Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids; Mich., on July 4 and will continue through the month of August. Extensive plans are under way for the improvement of the It is the plan of the associagrounds. tion to fit up the place and open it as a resort for Sunday school picnics during the month of June each year. A large dining room has already been fitted up. Mrs. Gertrude Brown of Grand Rapids will have this in charge. Directly back of it a large hotel is to be erected by the association. This will accommodate several hundred guests. It is also planned to erect a monster out-door amphitheatre which will accommodate 2,000 people. A new lighting system has been put in and telephone communication with the city established. The Michigan Stove Company has presented the association with a fine cooking range, which greatly adds to the culinary arrangements."

The Argus, of Sioux Falls, S. D., has the following special from Groton: "For three successive nights Mrs. Carlton Herrick dreamed that her home was on fire. The dream was so persistent that Mrs. Herrick became alarmed and her husband decided to put $1,200 insurance on the furniture. The house the family occupied was owned by another party and was insured for $500... The insurance was taken out two weeks ago, and a few days ago Mr. Herrick left for the first vacation he has had in two years. That same night, the house caught fire from a lamp explosion and Mrs. Herrick barely escaped with her infant child and personal effects. The furniture was quite consumed and the house itself is a total wreck." Little Italy, New York City is greatly excited over the reported miraculous cure of a child, lame since birth, at the shrine of the Saint Calvgero di Sciacca. To-day was the first time the birthday of the saint had been celebrated in this country, and the altar, which was erected on a Broome street corner, was the center of a surging mass of people, with many cripples seeking divine aid among them. The zeal of the worship ers was excessive, men, women and children kneeling on the sidewalk and street. Many were injured in the crush. It was while the parents prayed that the miracle is said to have occurred that cured the lame child and the story of the cure quickly started a steady stream of maimed and suffering as well as healthy devotees toward the porcelain image of the saint. The legend of the saint is that when the people of Sicily were afficted with a scourge, he ascended a mountain and performed innumerable miracles in the cure of the afflicted.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says: "For three consecutive nights, in her dream, a man, woman and child visited Mrs. Henry Slonaker of York, Pa., informing her that great good fortune was soon to be hers. Each successive dream grew more vivid, and a day following the third dream real flesh and blood visitors, a man, woman and child, friends from Adams county, came to the Slonaker home and informed the dreamer. just as the dreams foretold, that she was to share in a large estate left 100 years ago by one Judge Thomas Judge Leonard's will is in tysburg attorney, and provides for the distribution of his estate among his grandchildren or their nearest heirs. The estate includes 600 acres of land on Cape Fear river, North Carolina, with a coal mine on the land, 10,000 acres on Great Egg Harbor, New Jersey, 150 acres on Deep Run river and 350 acres near Princeton in the same state Three other persons living in this city will share in Judge Leonard's estate. These are Mrs. Peter Houser, Mrs. Jonathan Owen and Mrs. Daniel Parker."

Home Life, of White Plains, N. Y. says: "Hypnotized servant girls, docile and tractable, and with never a desire for a day off or nights to themselves, are likely to be furnished soon, if a hint given by the arrest of Lilian Matthews in this city, be taken advantage of at once. Lilian Matthews, when arrested, protested that she was a victim of a man who placed her under a hypnotic spell and then forced her to take serv ice with families needing a good, hardworking girl. Exercising his fiendish power to the utmost, the man with the hypnotic eye forced the young woman to steal from her employers and bring him the proceeds."

Dr. J. M. Peebles has been lecturing to fine audiences at Battle Creek and Muskegon, Mich. Our readers will hear from him on the rostrum when he shall have passed the 100 limit in years. Wm. Eikmeier writes from Great Bend, Kansas, desiring the President of the Delphos camp to announce his name, so that people who desire can write to him for information. A. B. Miller writes from Canton, O.: "H. W. French has served our society this month. We are very well pleased with him and Mrs. French. He is an interesting lecturer and test medium, and a perfect gentleman in every re spect.

Dr. L. H. Freedman writes from San Francisco, Cal.: "I notice here that The Progressive Thinker is being read by everyone, and is destined to succeed all weekly journals of its kind. We return the first week in July to Chicago, for summer camps in the East."

C. W. Stewart, whose lectures in the West have been so highly spoken of, and Mr. and Mrs. Folsom, excellent mediums, passed through the city last week on their way to Grand Rapids. Mrs. Blake, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was in the city last week. Her work here has been well received. Will some good, reliable test medium trumpet preferred, open a correspond-ence with the secretary of the Forest Home camp, with a view to camp work the first ten days or half of August, be-ginning August 2, 1903. Address Mrs.. Ruth Bastman, Mancelona, Michigan, Box 69.

Harry J. Moore writes that he has canceled all his engagements for the month of July. He was prompted to so do because of the serious illness of his wife. He will be at Chesterfield camp from the first of August to the 28th of same month. He expects to be at the Summerland Beach camp, near Columbus, Ohio, the last Sunday of August. and also the first Sunday of September. He will be at Marshalltown, Iowa the second Sunday of September. He will be in the state of Iowa the rest of of mediumship is limited through the the month, probably in Ottumwa, lec-

during the month of July, Address him | Stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio, at Chesterfield, Ind.

Alfred Andrews writes from Yonkers. N. Y.: "I have just been reading Dr. Peebles' splendid article on 'Reincarnation,' etc., in The Progressive Thinker of June 27. Please send me six copies, for which I enclose stamps."

Geo. H. Brooks will speak for the Unity Spiritual Society, of Wheaton, Ill., in the People's Church, on Sunday morning, July 5, at 10:30. He starts for Lily Dale, N. Y., on Monday even-ing, July 6. He will serve as chairman during the two months of its meeting.

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS.

Send in Your Dates and Name of Secretary at Once.

Inquiries are already coming to this office in reference to the various camps. Will the officers of each camp please send at once the correct dates, etc., and also the name of the secretary who can be addressed for programmes and full particulars. The notices that do not contain the names of the secretary or president are incomplete.

Lake Brady, Ohio. Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secretary, Akron, Ohio. Chesterfield, Ind. Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting opens July 16 and closes August 30.

For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Ander-

Forest Home, Mich. The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and closes August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich.,

Ottawa Camp, Kansas. This camp opens July 30, and closes

August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas. The Waukesha Camp, Wis.

This camp opens July 17 and closes August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street, La Crosse, Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis

This camp opens July 30 and coninues to August 9. For full particulars ddress H. W. Henderson, president, Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Secretary, Carbondale, Kansas.

Ottawa, Kans.

Wonewoc, Wis.

The Wonewoc camp opens this year on August 13 and continues to the 30th the possession of William Hersh, a Get- of that month. Address for particulars, Miss Gertrude Spooner, Secretary Wonewoo, Wis.

> Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich. The West Michigan Spiritualist Association will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Pioneer As-sembly Grounds." Meeting opens July and closes August 30. For full particulars address D. A. Herrick, presi> dent and manager, 296 N. Ionia street,

Grand Rapids, Mich. Winfield Camp, Kansas. This camp will be held in Island Park, Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 3, and closing July 13. For full particulars write to Mrs. Maud K. Gates, corner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas.

Marshalltown, lowa. This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars address E. M. Vail, president, Marshall

Franklin, Neb. This camp commences July 17, and

tary, Franklin, Neb. Haslett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 30. For programs continues until August 2. For full particulars address D. L. Haines, secre and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich. Vicksburg, Mich. This camp-meeting is located at Fra-ser's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg. It commences August 2 and closes August 22. For programs send to Jeannette Fraser, Manager, Vicksburg, Mich. Grand Ledge, Mich.

This camp opens July 26 and closes August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich.

Lake Helen Camp, Florida. The Southern Cassadaga Camp-meeting will convene the first of February, and will close the middle of March. For information and programmes, address Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y. The City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association. will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information old Testament Stories Bible Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily Dale, N. Y.

The Lynn - Spiritualists Association

will hold meetings every Sunday, end-ing September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill, 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass.

Saugus Center, Mass.

The Onset Camp. Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

their summer cottage, and Mr. Moore closing August 30. Lucy King, corre-will respond to calls for funerals only sponding secretary. Address with Harmony Grove, Cal.

The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We are expecting a very prosperous camp For particulars address Frank C. Fos ter, secretary, Escondido, Cal.

Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash. The Spiritualists of Clarke county, Washington, will hold their second annual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30. Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington,

Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., president; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N. Y., secretary.

Lake Pleasant, Mass.

This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Albert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos-

Los Angeles, Cal. The Southern California Spiritualist Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal., from August 16 to September 13. Address all communications to W. F. Vose, No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, secretary, or Mrs. Essie Ashby, 1306 East Twenty-seventh street, president.

Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp. It will be held at Blodgett's Landing, N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 30. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums. For programmes, address the secretary, Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N. H., until July 28; after that date, at Blodgett's Landing, N. II.

Camp meeting In Oregon. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spir itualist Association. For particulars, address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Or egon City, Oregon.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A. Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, open August 2 and close August 30. For programmes address Mollie B. Anderson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

Verona, Park, Me. This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president, Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary, desires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenomenal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secretary, 350 Grand River avenue, Detroit,

Rockland, Me. Island Lake, Mich. The Island Lake Camp Association

Daniel K. Tenney's BOOKS

Never-Ending Life,

Jehovah Interviewed,

Or Orthodoxy from Headquarters ... Price, 6 cts. A newspaper reporter goes up to heaven and in-terviews Jehovah, Theology,

Its, Origin, Career and Destiny Price, to cts. One of the best and most comprehensive summing up of the absurdities of the Christian Theology that has ever before appeared. Holy Smoke in the Holy Land.

Price, to cts. Price, to cts.

Susan H. Wixon says: "I have read, first and last, many accounts of Palestine, or 'the Holy Land,' but have never seen anything in that line that pleased me so well as this description by Daniel K. Tenney."

The Plan of Salvation. Price, to cts. In this pamphlet Mt. Tenney shows the absurdity of the Christian "Plan of Salvation" in so clear and plain a manner that any Christian who has a spark of reason left cannot fail to see it. 'Owed" to the Clergy. Price, 6 cts.

An address read before the Free Thought Congress held in Paine Hall, Boston, Nov. 17th, 1899. The Master's Masterpiece, Or the Sermon on the Mount Price, 10 cts.

This is the most thorough exposition of the fal-lacies of this noted "sermon" that was ever be fore published. Modern Theology and Its Ideal Jesus

The absurdities of the reputed teachings of Jesus are here shown up as no other writer has even presented them before, which will convince any honest reader that the most of them are con-

The Hon. Daniel K. Tenney, the author of these books, has been for many years the leading law yer in one of the most distinguished law firms it Chicago, and there is not a more able writer in the Liberal ranks

LIGHT OF EGYPT.

The Second Volume of a Most Valuable Work.

This is the author's posthumous work left in MS. to a few of his private pupils in occultism, and like Volume I. is (a valuable addition and) a library on occult subjects. Spiritual astrology is especially elaborated. Alchemy, Talismans, the Magic Wand, Symbolism, Correspondence, Penetralia, etc., are a few of the subjects treated of in scholarly and masterly manner, showing the author to be familiar with his subjects. You cannot afford to be without it, as well as all his other books. viz.: The Light of Egypt, Vol. I., bound in cloth, $2; paper, $1. The Light of Egypt, Vol. II., bound in cloth only, $2. Gelestial Dynamics, cloth, $1.

COMICALLY INSTANCE.

By WATSON HESTON. BOOK.

Nothing else can so completely upset the old superstitions Old Testament Stories as these vivid and lifelike portrayals of them. They present the old myths in the proper absurdness of their absurdity, ridicule their ridiculessness and in fact hold them up to the light af reason. It is a book of 400 pages with 200 full page pictures it will make you laugh off overy vestige of the old superstitions; a good way indeed to get rid of them. Price, board, $1; cloth, $1.50.

Apogruphal New Testament. Maple Dell Park, Ohio.

The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session

Maple Dell Park, Ohio.

Boing all the Gospels, Epistics, and other pieces now extant, attributed in the first four centuries to Jésus Christ, his apposites and their companions, and not included in the New Testament by its compilers. Price, cloth, $1.50. PUBLICATIONS

HUDSON TUTTLE

A LIBRARY OF SPIRITUAL SCIENCE.

STUDIES IN THE OUTLYING FIELDS OF PSYCHIC SCIENCE.

This work essays to utilize and explain the vast array of facts in its field of research by referring them to a common cause, and from them arise to the laws and conditions of Man's spiritual being. Third edition. Price, 75 cents.

RELICION OF MAN AND ETHICS OF SCIENCE.

ENCE.

Not servile trust to the Gods, but knowledge of the laws of the world, beller in the divinity of man and his sternal progress toward perfection is the foundation of this book. Price, $1. LIFE IN TWO SPHERES.

LIFE IN IWU SPHERES.

In this story the scenes are laid on earth, and in the spirit world, presenting the spiritual philosophy and the real life of spiritual beings. All questions which arise on that subject are answered. Price, 60 cents. THE PHILOSOPHY OF SRIRIT AND THE SPIRIT WORLD. THE ORIGIN AND ANTIQUITY OF MAN, Containing the latest investigations and discoveries, and a thorough presentation of this interesting subject. English edition. Price, $1.

THE SECRETS OF THE CONVENT OF THE SECRETS OF THE CONVENT OF THE SACRED HEART.

This book was written for an object, and has been pronounced equal in its exposure of the diabolical methods of Catholicism to "Unce Tom's Cabin." Price, 25 cents. HERESY, OR LED TO THE LIGHT,

A thrilling psychological story of evangeliza-tion and free thought. It is to Protestantism what "The Secrets of the Convent" is to Cathe olicism. Price, 80 cents. WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM? WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM?

How to investigate. How to form circles, and develop and cultivate mediumship. Names of eminent Spiritualists. Their testimony. Eightpage tract for mission work. Single copies, 5 cents; 100 for $1.25.

FROM SOUL TO SOUL.

By Emma Rood Tuttle. This volume contains the best poems of the author, and some of the most popular songs with the music by eminent composers. The poems are admirably adapted for recitations. 225 pages, beautifully bound. Price, $1.

THE LYCEUM CUIDE. THE LYCEUM GUIDE.

For the home, the lyceum and societies. A manual of physical, intellectual and spiritual culture. By Emma Rood Tuttle. A book by the aid of which a progressive lyceum, a spiritual or liberal society may be organized and conducted without other assistance Price, 50 cents; by the dozen, 40 cents. Express charges unpaid.

unpaid.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS.

For humane education, with plan of the Angell Prize Oratorical Contests. By Emma Rood Tuttle. Price, 25 cents.

All books sent postpaid. Address

HUDSON TUTTLE, Publisher, Berlin Helghts, Ohlo.

ZELMATHE MYSTIC, or White Magic By Alwin M. Thurber. (ceult philosophy clothed in story form; aims to give a better un-derstanding of Magic, black and white. 880 pa-ges, large and plain. Cloth, $1.25. SPIRITUAL SONGSTER.

By Mattie E. Hull. Thirty-eight of Mrs. Hull's iweetest songs, adapted to popular music, for the use of congregations, circles and familes. Price, 10 cents, or $7 per hundred. The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religions, and their influence upon the mental development of the human race. Price,

"THE DREAM CHILD,"

A Fascinating Romance of Two Worlds. By Florence Huntley. Price, cloth, 75 cents. Books like "The Dream Child" spur humanity on to make more and more demands of this nature, and will open up new heights and depths of spiritual knowledge.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Will, I believe, take its place beside Bulwer's "Zanoni" and the "Seraphita" of Bulzac.—Daily Capital, Topeka, Kansas. Although simple and unvarnished with any inflammable descriptions, enthrails the mind to the exclusion of other thoughts, until reductantly the reader closes the last page.—Milmenpolis Sunday Times.

ESOTERIC LESSONS.

This work includes "Personified Un-thinkables," "First Lessons in Reality," and "A Tour Through the Zodiac," tion by all occultists. Price, Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this

> OLD AND NEW PSYCHOLOGY By W. J. Colville. Beports of twenty-four distinct lectures, recently delivered in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and other prominent cities of the United States, have contributed the basis of this volume. Price, $1.00.

> A Few Words About the Devil, And other Essays. By Charles Bradlaugh. With the story of his life as told by himself, and the history of his parliamentary struggle. With portrait. Paper. 50c.

> WOMAN, A Lecture Delivered to Ladies the present status of woman, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. The divine law of true harmonial marriage, etc. Price, 10c.

The Spiritual Wreath.

A collection of words and music for the choir-congregation and social circle. By S. W. Tucker. Comprises sixty or more gems of song. Price 15 cents. COSMIAN HYMN BOOK. A collection of a iginal and selected Hymns for Liberal and Ethical Societies, for Schools and the Home. Compiled by L. K. Washburn. This volume meets a public want. It comprises 288 choice selections of poetry and music, embodying the highest moral sentiment, and free from all sectarianism. Price, 50 cents.

THE SPIRITUAL ALPS

And How We Ascend Them. How to reach that altitude where spirit is supreme and all things are subject to it. By Moses Hull. Price in cloth. 40 cents; paper 25 cts. For sale at this office.

STARTLING FACTS, Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its relations to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and re-ligious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of the confessional; a trenchant showing up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener concerning the methods and spirit, tha moral turpitude and evil works of Romanism. Cloth, 75 cents.

What All the World's a Seeking.

RALPH WALDO TRINE.

Each is building his world from within; thought is the builder; for thoughts are forces,—subtle, vital, irresistible, omnipotent,—and according as used do they bring power or impotence, peace or pain, successor failure.—From Title-page.

The above books are beautifully bound in grav-treen raised cloth, stamped in deep old green and gold, with gilt top. Price, $1.25. For sale at this office.

Psychopathy, or Spirit Healing. A series of lessons on the relations of the spirit to its own organism, and the inter-relation of human beings with reference to health, disease and healing. By the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Rush, through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond. A book that every healer, physician and Spiritualist should read. Price, $1.50.

alleurand's Letter to the Pope. This work will be found especially interesting to all who would desire to make a study of Romanism and the Bitle. The historic facts stated, and the keen, scathing review of Romish ideas and practices should be read by all. Price 28 cents.

The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism, A Menace to American Civilization. By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A trenchant and masterly

This department is under the man agement of

HUDSON TUTTLE. Address him at Belin Heights, Ohio.

NOTE.-The Questions and Answers bave called forth such a host of respondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this bible mania. They are not so forced brevity. Proofs have to be omitted and the ctyle becomes thereby as silly as to attempt its multitudinous ted, and the style becomes thereby assertive, which of all things is to be deprecated. Correspondents often weary with waiting for the appearance of their questions and write letters of in- clety of St. Jerome, with the Pope's ap-

NOTICE.-No attention will be given anonymous letters. Full name and address must be given, or the letters will not be read. If the request be made, the name and the name the name will not be published. The syndicate press: correspondence of this department has "But the most become excessively large, especially letters of inquiry requesting private an-fewers, and while I freely give what-ever information I am able, the ordi-nary courtesy of correspondents is ex-pected. HUDSON TUTTLE.

A Bible Lover: Q. Is not the Bible Society doing a great work in distributing millions of copies of that sacred book among the people of the civilized world and the savages, and would it not be better for you Spiritualists to try and spread your own literature by similar means, than to take up your time in fighting those engaged in this, great into the publishing business and distributed their literature as freely as m'llions of dollars of donations would allow, it would close up the business of practice. The Progressive Thinker has done and is doing single-handed an unparalleled work in this direction. The distribution of six tons of an edition of a single book, after the Divine Plan, is people something to read, who otherwise would have nothing. Its moral teachings in the main are good, although its historic examples are not the best. We would not like our children to take any of them as patterns. Even David and wisest Solomon would be in the penitentiary on several counts, were they of this generation. We are not desirous of having our children ship, he sat down in the crowded rooms read some passages in school. We assigned the immigrants, and being ter had they never read the book.

The Bible distributers are in earnest, and for that at least should be honored. They are so much in earnest they lose their sense of propriety and the comic. As funny a picture as ever was published, is one sent out by the Bible Soclety. The Reverend Doctors do not see anything comic in it, but rather a most solemn lesson. It is a photograph of a great crowd of Africans, wild from nance. agle, sitting and standing, or crowding in groups. The Bible has been translated into their language, and printed copies are being distributed. Big chiefs and pickaninnies with scant clothing are eagerly turning the leaves clack language written down, and its alphabet is as comprehensible to them as wondrous beauty of the scenery to the apes chattering in the trees around Cassadaga lakes. above them. They have the curiosity of children, and less comprehension. They fear the books, as "big medicine," distributed by the African missionaries, and the Home Society urges on the work of distribution as most holy and changes made; one the dropping off of productive of wonderful good. Is it the annual June picnic, which had been really worth the cost? These savages an established feature of the camp for are curious about the book, but how are the past twenty-five years. Another they to understand it? What precious change is in the open air concerts given value is a Bible to an African chief, on Sunday afternoons, in place of lecwho cannot read a word of it, and could tures, which had been the custom in not understand it if he was able to the past few years. But music is a read? The missionaries translated the harmonizer—a much-needed element in Bible into the leading Indian languages, the running of Spiritualist camps. and scattered copies lavishly. These translations are rare curiosities, and over the change of name, both here and

and circulates two million copies a the Mecca of Spiritualism, endeared to year, in over 400 languages. This is achundreds and thousands of hearts, who, complished by voluntary contributions coming in sorrow and despair, obtained of those who are made to believe that here that knowledge which changed there is Christian work in the simple darkness into light, sorrow into joy, circulation of the book. That a savage and sent them away in peace. To such with a Bible in his loin-cloth—he has as these no other name will take the no pocket—is somehow on the road to place of Lily Dale. heaven, while without it he would be going in the opposite direction! The Bible may be the best of books, but what good can come of its circulation among people who cannot read? The learning of twenty centuries has been employed in getting a fair translation attach to these grounds in the future, to of the remarkable book into English, those noble, unselfish souls who pioand now there are a thousand sects, neered and carried on the work here for arising from misunderstanding of its the past twenty-five years, the record texts, and no one is certain if the sense of that work will remain an enduring is accurately conveyed—in fact we are monument for all time. And we hope certain that it is not. What, then, of a tue next twenty-five years will give to translation into African lingo, where the "City of Light" as clean a record, the missionary, a man of mediocre call and one fraught with much good to hupacity, attempts to put the lingo into manity. print from the imperfect understanding he as a foreigner must have of it? printed. When he returned to redeem a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale souls with his precious books, he at this office.

found the language so changed that his "The Commandments Analyzed." By bids accurate translation. A mission other Bible passages, showing great inary in attempting to translate Jesus congruities. Price 25 cents Christ into the vernacular of a western Indian tribe, found the only words he bould use were "Lame Wolf!"

A. B. French. Cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

If eternal salvation depends on the comprehension of hair-splitting defini-tions of doctrines, what will become of an Indian who looks on Christ as "the Lame Wolf?"

Millions annually roll into the till of the Bible Society, and the cry is for more—more, the heathen are perishing or want of Bibles. They are anxiously holding out their hands for Bibles! ome missionaries in China were greatly delighted by the demand of the na-tives for "the Book," and gave all they had and urgently ordered more. Surely, at last, the heathen Chinee was awakening to their voice. It was afterwards found that the leaves made excellent wrappers for fire-crackers and had been so used, and hence the demand was commercial and not a religious want.

Even the Catholics who have through all the centuries kept the Bible away from the people, have been seized with translation into unknown and unknowable dialects, but content themselves with its circulation in Italy. The soquiry. The supply of matter is always proval, is sending out to the common people the Gospels and Acts. It is a many one has to wait his time and place, and all are treated with equal favor. in such ignorance that few can read, and it is perfectly safe to give them

"But the most urgent need now is for those lands where Bibles are as rare as they are abundant with us. It is a startling fact that, throughout Asia, Africa, South America and the island world—that is to say, for the great majority of the human race—the Bible societies are practically the only source of supply for the scriptures."

There cannot be imagined a more refreshing sight than a cannibal reading the Bible. Some of the deeds of Jehovah, as smiting the Midianites, and treading the nations as in a wine press, until the blood flows like the red juice of the grape from crushed myriads, will be delightful as a breakfast on missionary, and should he be told as a com-A. This correspondent does not fully comprehend the import of the advice he has given Spiritualists, for if they went the multiple of the fiesh and drink the blood of their crucified and drink the blood of their crucified god; nothing could prevent his becoming converted and a staunch adherent of the congenial faith!

Send Bibles to the South Sea islandthe Bible House. It is good advice, most excellent advice, and the N. S. A., so far as means warrant is putting it in and "a market will be opened" for the jim-cracks of civilization. Men will want stove-pipe hats and whiskey, and the women frilled skirts and cosmetics.

The missionary and his Bible will something worthy of mention. The dissomething worthy of brass brangles, glass brilliants, red tribution of Bibles is helpful in giving cotton, fine combs, and hair oil. If soap could be added it would carry the hope with it, of the godliness of cleanliness. But such a hope would be as vain as to expect a Hottentot to comprehend the mathematics of the trinity. Bibles distributed at home? How do they do it?

We had a German boy. He said when he came over and landed from the from the "Songs," and from St. Paul, with a sensual relish, which proved the book had influenced their minds for not help orying. A lady saw him, and came and gave him a warm hand-grasp, a consoling word? Oh, no—she gave him an English copy of the New Testament, of which he could not read a syllable!

This Bible distribution is a waste of time and money and it is incomprehensible how people of ordinary intelligence can be so befooled by the clamor of those who engage in it as a business and depend on their dupes for suste-

Fair Lily Dale.

Beautiful as ever. Hills, valleys and lakes all attesting their appreciation of the tardy June sunshine, lay a panoof the books. They never saw a book rama of beauty the eye never tires of before. They never had their click gazing upon. Each succeeding year seems to add more and more to the wondrous beauty of the scenery him. She had the neuralgia no more.

As usual, at this season of the year the camp-grounds, or as now called, "The City of Light assembly grounds, present quite an active appearance as Tons and tons of Bibles are sent and the usual preparations for the coming meetings are going on. There have been one or two notable the Indian tribes instead of being con- abroad. Lily Dale had become a houseerted have become extinct.

The American Bible Society prints every land and clime it was known as "You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will, But the scent of the roses will cling

'round it still." Whatever of success or failure may MARY WEBB BAKER.

"Voltaire's Romances." Translated These dialects (they cannot with pro- from the French. With numerous ilpriety be called languages) are so lustrations. These lighter works of the changeful and fleeting, that it is said brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enthat a missionary in South America emy of the Catholic church, are worthy translated the Scriptures into an In- of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and dian tongue and came home to get it romance are combined, with the skill of

W. H. Bach. The Commandments are The poverty of these languages, for not only analyzed, but contrasted with Gleanings from the Rostrum." By

"How Shall I Become a Medium," Fully Amswered

In 'Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle. Price 35 cents. Send to Mr. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, O.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Psychic Phenomens, Obsession, Morris Pratt Institute, Etc.

There are two or three little matters I want to talk about, and I believe I will bunch them together, and put them all under one head. Many things I had thought important have passed out of

Psychic Phenomena,

Under this head, Miss Nora Batchelor, of Ashland, Ore., published an essay several weeks ago, that should be put into tract form for free distribution. It would be the most efficient tract that has yet been published, and do much more good than any tract or pamphlet circulated by the National Spiritualists Association. I have long been a reader after Miss Nora Batchelor, but never knew where she lived till I hap-pened in her city, Ashland, Ore., last winter. I hoped while there to meet her, but the weather was bad and I missed the opportunity.

Obsession. There has been much written from time to time on this subject. The latest is from Brother Nicholas, of Summerland, and remarks by various writers commentary thereto. I have in my time met a great many obsessed persons, and I do not remember of one who was not relieved almost immediately. I find in a majority of cases that the obsessing spirits are not viclous or wicked, but merely undeveloped persons who passed to the spirit world in ignorance of the truths of Spiritualism and the law of psychic phenomena. They have mostly been at tracted to the person on account of some quality in their natures and the peculiarity of their magnetic aura, often much as a young man becomes enamored to a young lady, and finds himself too weak to keep out of her presence, even when that presence is repulsive to her. Many of these weak spirits also become entangled in the magnetic effluvia of a person and do not know how to extricate themselves even if aware of their condition, which they seldom are. These conditions occur generally outside of the ranks of Spiritualism, or with persons who do not attend Spiritualist lectures or read Spirscolded one of these spirits, or talked in any other than a kindly manner to them. As an illustration of my manner will give a couple of instances: No. 1. A young lady, who was said to act queerly, in consequence of which she had been sent to the insane asylum in Kansas, but after a time returned to friends, not being considered violent or dangerous. In the asylum, however, she had been badly maltreat ed, at which times she was unconscious probably completely entranced by the spirit, who undertook to defend her against imposition, and I found her very sore and tender to a touch, when she came into my hands. She was introduced to me at the close of one of my meetings over a year ago, and alhough she shook hands with me, she resisted any further attentions. I then said, "I want this spirit to go with me and I will do you good. I have no disposition to harm you and I am anxious to help you all I can." I probably went on to tell him something of his condition, and that too constant presence in the lady's company was injurious her. I then treated her at her home a few times to cure her of the bruises she had received in the asylum, but she was well from that time. No. 2 was a case of a parishioner of mine who found herself unable to attend my lectures on account of facial neuralgia. I visited her and found her in bed, but did not remain long and did not examine her, taking it for granted that she was really suffering with what she thought was neuralgia. day I went there and it was revealed to me that she was suffering from the presence of a poor spirit who had shot himself in the eye, the ball going out of the top part of his head on the same side it went in, which gave that neuralgiac pain on that side of head. I then talked kindly to the spirit and invited

But there are cases, I will agree, which are more difficult to treat. One I met in franklin, Neb. While talking with Chas. Davis, a young man came in and was treated by hypnotization.
While the treatment was in process i saw a colored man by the young man, who I learned afterwards was one of those unfortunate creatures, nearer a brute than man, who had been burned to death in Texas, only a few months previous. The boy was thrown onto the ground apparently with epilepsy, and as the spasm left him, he invariably committed a nameless act upon himself. It shows the folly in sending that class of creatures to the spirit world before their lustful natures have been burned out. I have but little hopes that such spirits can be reached by kindness, yet it would be well enough to try it, for if you succeed you may save some other person who may be victimized by him after being expelled from one person. I believe this boy was finally relieved, or taken away from the spirit. I have known several insane people who were merely ob-sessed, and one of the objects of Spirit ualism should be not only the relief of these poor victims, but also the salvation of the obsessing spirits themselves. The California State Spiritualist Association.

Brothers J. Munsell Chase, and Jones, vice-president and secretary of the State Spiritualist Association of California, are working very earnestly to get that state thoroughly organized Not having the means to put missionaries in the field, they go out on Sundays where they can find an opening and do the work themselves. Organizing is hard work, and sometimes thank-less. I undertook it in Kansas not quite two years ago, and was out sixteen weeks and received $25 above ex-And while I was out my business suffered at home, the boys in my office both leaving. Then I went to the state meeting at cost in traveling expenses and room rent and board of $15.19, and received $10 from our grateful friends. Besides this I had contributed to the state association $15.
Verlly it costs the workers in the cause of Spiritualism much more than it does anyone else. Brothers Jones and Chase would never have permitted me to be to all that expense alone. The Morris Pratt Institute.

Brother Francis asks some very per-Thinker of June 13. That is, they are pertinent considering the present status of Spiritualism. They would not be if Spiritualists were characterized by the same zeal they manifested a quarter of a century or more ago. There are several reasons for this want of zeal. The first is that the financial conditions have been changed. Everybody was prosperous. Now only a very few are prospering, and those who are, are many of them of an unfeelbrought a blessing to them, has relieved them of a fear of the hereafter, and they care nothing or almost nothing for others, whether they get the light or not. A third reason is that Spiritualism has been almost emasculated of its religious phase, by deputying it of its spiritual aspect (Scarpe telling in the spiritual aspect telling in the spiritual aspect (Scarpe telling in the spiritual aspect telling in the spirit spiritual aspect. Fortune telling, in-structing one "how to gain the love of the one they most desire even though miles away," or telling people whether their companions are true to them, is not Spiritualism, and drives the spiritually-minded people away from us. Another reason is that many of those old veterans have some to another shore, and the younger people are intoxicated with the spirit of the age.

Some of Brother Francis' questions would indicate that he has not been a close observer of the results of our modern school system. There is not absolutely one out of five who has graduated in our pregent school system that understands the plainest principles of orthography. I know what I am talking about, for I have had several of them to come to me to learn the printers' trade, and I never yet found one that knew the meaning of a syllable or that could rightly divide a word when it was necessary to do so. During the war with China a number of college stu-dents roomed at my house, and I was frequently required to assist them with their studies, and among these studies was history, but they were too busy in history of sometime ago that they had no time to read the papers, look at the maps, or in any other way find out the cause of the war or its progress or anything about the causes of that war. met one of the professors, and I criticised their methods, telling him that now was the time to fix that matter in the minds of the pupils. He replied, "Oh, that will come after awhile." don't know what he meant by that. The last I knew of the school it hadn't come, I suppose because it hadn't yet got into their text books. The facts are that most of the teachers are only booked people with no original ideas of their own, and they prate their parts to the pupils as parrots prate their little phrases. The scholars turned out of our colleges are not excellent recom-mendations of these institutions. Only now and then one that ever utilizes his learning outside of book-keeping, and those who do are original characters who would not submit to being confined to any curriculum. Out of all the college graduates very few if any would be capable of expressing anything but the most common platitudes, and the few who could would owe very little of their ability to the schools, and they would have been more effective had their studies been directed on broader lines. I would like to see public teachers or those who desire to become such have an opportunity to fit themselves for the business, and that is not attainable as rule in our school system of these times. We aim to make men apes, not men. D. W. HULL. EDUCATIONAL EFFORT.

Wise and Efficient means of Propaganda.

To the Editor: leYour editorial in No. 707 of The Progressive Thinker, "Education All Right," in my opinion, is timely and worthy of consideration. Beyond a plainistatement there are no embellishments, for, facts, and your concise statement of the circulation of spiritual papers and magazines, coupled with liberal estimate, of the number of Spiritualists, certainly is food for thought, and will afford an opportunity for many to more, correctly estimate the success of the manifold labors being performed, and in their own minds wonder if we are not working in accord with the old tread-mill philosophy. Years of investigation have convinced me, that no man, be he prelate, potentate or slave, but when presented with the most obtuse facts of the spiritual phenomena, and while through ignorance opposing it; yet in his heart from a selfish motive (if no other) he desires it to be true. Organization for years past has been the watchword, and in view of the sublime and demonstrable truth which our cause represents, a truth in which ev ery individual holds an equitable inheritance, we are forced with regret to say that labor has not been crowned by flattering success. An individual joins a church ostensibly to save his own soul, and through that blind theory—call it selfish, if you wish-he is held in submission to the mandates of the powers that be, and the more faith, the more liberal he is in maintaining the organization. While on the other hand Spiritualism s a science, a growth, a development of the soul, a gradual broadening of the intellect, which in time, in a manner enables the individual to grasp or comprehend some of the truth of his own being. He soon realizes that he is a portion, or an infinitesimal part of this incomprehensible universe, and that old Dame Nature sustains no losses, and most too frequent the purse string ightens with the knowledge.

No man likes to be deceived, and as soon as he is able to comprehend that he has a selfhood over which priestcraft has no control, the poor, weak worm is transformed into glorious manhood, and he recognizes only the dictation of his own mind.

Individual thought is the mainspring and source of the development of the mind; and in this age selfishness is mainly the attractive force which holds societies together; and as there are no souls to save, hence Spiritual societies must necessarily be maintained through humanitarian principles; a commodity

the world is not overtaxed with. In the history of man, every era has had various problems to face and overcome, and the great lever, the unfailing medium through which all reforms have traveled, is public sentiment, and in all reformation public opinion has been and must be molded or shaped into form in harmony with the tenets of the cause

With the individual even virtue without respect has no value, and our cause in the past and is to-day suffering for the want of that common respect which all truth should command, and in that condition, sarcasm and innuendoes impart a subtle influence which confounds the wise

founds the wise

In the minds of many, Spiritualism has reached the age and growth, that it can with assured safety and bold stride cast behind the fledgling condition. Yes, with an impregnable armor of truth and equiped as no other cause has ever been, as naturely envelopedia. has ever been, as nature's encyclopedia. demand from the intelligent in every walk of life a rational hearing.

The pulpit and the press are largely controlled by the edlat of public opin ion, therefore in wisdom it behoove the spiritualists of this country as philosophers to study this question well and make use of the avenues open to them leading to the intelligence of the masses, and adopt an aggressive campaign on those lines.

Practical application brings practical results, and an educational campaign through the public libraries of our land, its especial advocates, and from a distant view our cause is relegated to the same level that an intelligent Spiritualist would the advocacy of the coming or second coming of Christ.

Books are permanent teachers, require no defense, and the influence arising from the knowledge imparted to each community will be a growth that cannot be neutralized by press nor pulpit, the results will not only be farreaching, but every stake driven will be permanent, and act as a practical guide-board to all seekers after truth. True as you say, there are books that treat upon the principles of Spiritualism from every conceivable standpoint that would give the masses the broadest possible insight into this grand philosophy of life, and teach them at their home firesides.

Go to the cemeteries next Sunday and observe the tears shed over the cold graves, then ask yourself, is not grief and flow of tears for the so-called dead, and I know that the work which I am advocating is by the direct inter position of those in the advance. And in the rough, without preliminaries, the ideas are to organize a national spiritual library association, with representation from every state and community if possible, whose labors shall not end until every public library is well stocked with spiritual literature

This is practical and the very tonic our cause needs, and with a slight expense can be made a grand success. Each community, I am satisfied, whether they may have a society or not will with proper presentation pay for their own book, and take pride in so doing. I say this understandingly, as from former communication have ceived many letters commending some general library plan, with liberal offers of assistance. While at home I have consulted every Liberal and Spiritual ist I have had the pleasure to meet and am glad to say, that without meet ing one dissenting voice.

Now, friends, since the advent of Modern Spiritualism, there has never been a move for the upbuilding of our cause, but what has found and had to contend with a strong opposition. Can't we all bring our minds to agree upon the utility of this subject and with one grand and united effort place our cause where only respect is known?
D. C. MONTGOMERY.

Akron, Ohio.

PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE.

[Obituaries to the extent of ten lines only will be inserted free. All in excess of ten lines will be charged at the rate of fifteen cents per line. About seven words constitute one line !

Mrs. Mary Hoag, wife of Allen Hoag, passed to spirit life, at her home in Chicago, May 30, at the ripe old age of 76 years. She was a devout Spiritualist and a loving wife and mother. She leaves four children, two sons and two daughters. She brought her family up to believe and know that all die in the body, live again in the spirit. Mrs. Richmond officiated at the funeral, assisted by Mrs. J. Lindsey, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Passed to a higher life, from his home in Florence, Ohio, Nicholas Boatz, in the 71st year of his age. He was born in the Grand Duche of Luxemberg, and came to this country in youth and has been an exemplary citizen. funeral was held in the Methodist church Birmingham, Ohio, on June 17, Hudson Tuttle officiating.

Mrs. Electa M. Foster passed to the nigher life, June 4, from her home at Watseka, Ill, aged 75. She was an ar dent Spiritualist and loved by all who knew her. The services were conducted by Margaret E. Skeels, of Onarga, Ill., assisted by the Rev. Ferrell, or Watseka. COR.

On the night of June 17, Thomas J. Lowry, of Williamsport, Pa., changed his residence from earth to the Summerland. Mrs. Lowry had some remarkable experiences with spirits while she belonged to the Methodist church, which led her husband out of book are four in number: Dr. W. H. Reed. who is called the chemical confirmation.

The principal contributors to the book are four in number: Dr. W. H. Reed. who is called the chemical confirmation.

The principal contributors to the book are four in number: Dr. W. H. Reed. who is called the chemical confirmation.

The principal contributors to the book are four in number: Dr. W. H. Reed. who is called the chemical confirmation. ualists. Her mediumship and the messages from the unseen have been a There are numerous others giving a few great comfort to her in this trial, as incidental and mostly personal messages from during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations of the during his three sages or dissertations on scientific, philadelegation of the during his three sages or dissertations of the during his three sages or they were to him during his three months' illness which prepared him for the change. As he requested she wired me to come to conduct the last rites, on Sunday, June 21. His going was peaceful and the outlook before him pleasant. He has been a prosperous business man and has many warm friends. He will be missed, but not mourned as lost, by his life companion, who knows of his continued life and silent presence and companionship.

Since their conversion they have been regular visitors to Lily Dale and enjoyed the spiritual feasts annually served there. In this as in thousands has been admirably done that the cabinet and the finished picture handed to one of the circle and filed with excellent taste. There are no dogaway by the seceretary.

"It is but just to the secretary to say, that his work has been admirably done that his work has been admirably don Mercy L. Mathewson, wife of J. W. in kind, in thought and style with those to which their active lives in this world were devoted—in literary character as the age of 77 years, 4 months and 5 different here as in their works extent feedering of these self-retiring, literal rendering of these self-retiring, literal days. She leaves an aged husband, on our book-shelves.

"The Spiritualist press and its constant admiration. It adds but theirs

Passed to spirit life, at 1200 Pennsylvania avenue, Canton, Ohio, Hillard R. Corey, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corey. They had the sympathy of a large circle of friends and the knowledge that the bud of promise will forever bloom in the realm of endless day. Services conducted by the writer.

J. WILLIAM BRIGGS.

"Origin of Life, or Where Man Comes From." "The Evolution of the Spirit from Matter Through Organic Processes, or How the Spirit Body Grows." By Michael Faraday. Prince 10 cents. For sale at this office,
"Mediumship and Its Development,

"Healing, Causes and Effects." By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Price 50 cents. 'Spirit Echoes." By Mattle E. Hull.

LIFE BEYOND DEATH

The World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as o Whether It Can Be Demonstrated as o Fact.—To Which Is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

BY MINOT J. SAVAGE, D. D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considers the agnostic reaction from the extreme "other to reaction from the extreme "other to reaction from the extreme "other lows" which it replaced which lows. and observe the tears shed over the cold graves, then ask yourself, is not the world hungry for knowledge of this grand truth. Yes, the world is ready for the knowledge, but intellectually, through environments and early education are hedged in.

All of our literature of which we are so justly proud, and will demand respect and admiration from all people, is wholly emanation from the spirit side of life. Yes our friends over there, have done and are doing their part in have done and are doing the respect to the considers the probabilities are consideration of the society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which, as he admits, fall short of demonstration. The volume includes a consideration of the Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which as he admits, fall short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which as he admits, fall short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which as he admits, fall short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which as he admits, fall short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality probabilities which as head the includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality primitive Ideas—Ethnic Beliefs—The Old Testament and Immortality—Paul's Did Test

Svo. Cloth, 842 Pages. After a review of the beliefs held in holds, as a provisional hypothesis, that work of the Society for Psychical Re- for Psychical Research and the Immorsearch and also an appendix giving tai Life—Possible Conditions of Anothsome of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage periences and Opinions.

For Sale at this Office. Price $1.50. Postage 10c.

History of the GHRISTIAN RELIGION to the Year 200.

BY CHARLES V. WAITE, A. M.

Fifth Edition-Revised, with Much Additional Matter in Appendix A standard and reliable history of the historical research in matters of face earlier period of the church, giving wholly ignored by the regular church facts that are not found in the so-called historians, and throws a bright glare of histories written by churchmen. This light on points heretofore carefully latest edition has been carefully and shrouded in darkness. thoroughly revised, and it is a reliable thoroughly revised, and it is a reliable magazine of facts, such as the honest strongly bound in cloth. Price $2.25, inquirer wants. It opens up to the information for sale at The Progressive Thinkes yestigator and student a wide field of office. vestigator and student a wide field of office.

GELESTIAL DYNAMIGS.

Being a Normal Course of Study in the Astro-Magnetic Forces of Nature.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE LIGHT OF EGYPT," "THE LAN-QUAGE OF THE STARS," ETC.

A magnificent and complete course of Astro-metaphysical study, embodying Vital Principles of Life, Mental Force, Sickness and Disease. With the only true and really Scientific method of treating the sick successfully. Mental Healers, Meta-physicians, and all who practice the Healing Art Divine should give "Celestial Dynamics" a thorough and impartial study, and thus learn the real cause of their frequent failures. No Astro-Student can afford to be without this work, if he would understand the Meta-physics of Astrology. This work was specially prepared for publication to meet the demands of a large and very earnest class of people who cannot afford to pay for a regular course of instruction under a qualified teacher. And those will can afford this privilege will find the work an invaluable text-book to their studies. The Price is One Dollar Only, and is within reach of all who seek

RENDING THE VAIL

A Most Remarkable Book Concerning the Existence of Man, and All Things, and All Being

It Was Written by Materialized Forms at the House of J. H. Pratt, Spring Hill, Kansas, William W. Aber Being the Medium.

"Rending the Vail" is pronounced by and various kindred questions. All Col. R. T. Van Horn, of Kansas City, these are treated, some of them very, Mo., as a most remarkable work. That fully, but all rationally understandable. judge, we will say that he has been a to many, knotty subjects, are freely and member of congress for four sessions, fully discussed.

tributors are just now discussing a character to the book and inspires connumber of questions as to the nature of stant confidence in the integrity that spirit, of spirit return; the want of from the first page to the last enhances

Coi. Van Horn is fully competent to Also phenomena, inspiration and such,

Thomas Paine and Michael Faraday. corrected, or criticised by those present

ery, and the laws of cosmos or nature in fact the entire field of human thought. The limitation seemed to be only that of the spectators to ask questions.

"In addition to this mass of messages, there are in the book about sixty illustrations—44 of them portraits. These were drawn by a form standing out in the room at a dear the formula of the manufacture of the manufactu served there. In this as in thousalus of other cases, Spiritualism has been away by the seceretary.

"What will attract the attention of the carrier is that the bereaved family. Nothing else can substitute it. LYMAN C. HOWE.

"What will attract the attention of the carrier is that the topics treated by Prof. Denton, Thomas Paine and Prof. Faraday, are following"—stating whether it was oral in kind in thought and style with those or in writing.

different here as in their works extant rendering of these extraordinary hapagreement between those returning as the respect and interest of the reader."
to conditions in their present world; the limitations—that the organism of the Wail," is for sale at the office of The medium imposes upon communication, Progressive Thinker. Price $1.75.

BEYOND THE VAIL

A Sequel to "Rending the Vail."

The two volumes together as a record the experiences of spirits in both world of practically obtained facts demon-their own account of their lives on and either spoken audibly or written in full view by the form. There is not an foundly philosophical comments of the automatic or trance message in the controlling spirits of the scances. Prof. William Denton, Thomas Paine, Dr. W.

and How to Mesmerize to Assist Devel strating the claims of Modern Spirit earth and their progress after death to and How to Mesmerize to Assist Development." By W. H. Bach. Especially useful to learners who seek to know and vinique and overwhelming.

There is not an another progress after death to their present condition of freedom from earth conditions. The narratives are instructive and total tensely interesting, instructive and content in the claims of Modern Spirit earth and their progress after death to their present conditions. The narratives are instructive and content in the spirit of the spirit of

are many or them or an united through the public ingranes or our man, ing misanthropic class, as soulless as no cause has ever been able to the corporations to which they belong the corporations to which they belong the corporations to which they belong adopt, must from the very nature of the suthor's latest and choicest things command respect.

This preity volume contains fifty-seven of the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the presence of the circle by a full form metaphysics. There are no books in expense. Neatly bound in cloth, and with materialised spirit arist.

The opposition to Spiritualism we all partials of the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the presence of the circle by a full form metaphysics. There are no books in expense. Neatly bound in cloth, and with materialised spirit arist.

The opposition to Spiritualism we all partials of the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the presence of the circle by a full form metaphysics. There are no books in expense. Neatly bound in cloth, and with materialised spirit arist.

The opposition to Spiritualism we all partials of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the originals of which were drawn It is illustrated by several engravings, II. Reed and others—covering, law,

The New Movement.

The Best and Grandest.

Write us today and let us tell you all about it. It will cost you but a two cent stamp. The move-

PLEASE

Let us tell you about the

NEW MOVEMENT

Ayou are busy getting ready to go to camp-meeting write anyhow to 66 Highland ave., Newtonville, Mass.

CREMATION.

A Common Sense and Sanitary Method.

To the Editor: -One of the most neglected questions that needs the attention of progressive people, says Walter Collins in the February number of the Free Thought Magazine, is funeral reform. "The very first and most important step is to quit burying human bodies. Man is the only animal of his size that is permitted to pollute the earth in the very locality that others of his kind live and move and combat the evil influ ences of the retarded decay of the 'dear departed.

The brute creation on their native heath do these things better than the boasted 'lords.' When one of their kind dies, they leave it, and the locality severely alone, until the sun and air, worms and vultures have completed their work towards returning it to its original elements.

With the animals that man keeps in slavery he does better than by his brethren. Nearly all of the horses and mules are converted into glue, fertilizers, or 'canned beef' for foreigners or soldiers, and what few are not utilized in some way are buried in the country, usually in an isolated place, where the deleterious effects are reduced to a minimum. Cows, sheep, liogs, man eats which is somewhat better than burying, but not much. Dogs and cats are small enough to be readily absorbed by the soil, and thus are enabled to enrich plant life.

"As these modes of disposal are not adapted to the human family, there is but one manner of disposition that but one manner of disposition that meets sanitary requirements, and that common sense pointed out to our ancestors in the dim ages of the past, far be-principles of public speaking. A course yond the earliest traditions that have in the Whitewater—or a similar school, come down to us, and that is, crema-would develop the latent qualities needtion.

As soon as man learned to make a or lead him to a point where he would fire, he worshiped it, and next in imbecome aware of his lack. portance to keeping himself warm and cooking his meals, he burned the bodies of his dead as a sanitary precaution, but when priestcraft got a foothold, it was called 'glving them back to God,' strated that when a fool passes the gate but the effect remained the same, of properly disposing of the contaminating into a philosopher; that death changes poisons of decaying flesh, and it was, in | sinners into saints. Death is not a fact, returning them to nature.

With most all nations excepting the Chinese, who are ancestor worshipers, and believe a body sleeps and is preserved by burial, cremation is practiced as far back as history and tradition gives any knowledge or clue, and until religion began to interfere in the affairs of men, it remained a rational custom, but as the belief in the resurrection of the body became prevalent, the priests denounced cremation as 'thwarting the will of God,' and with the rise of that absurd doctrine, came the decline of cremation, and that class of be lievers became burial worshipers, and are yet wedded to their bigotry, because it is 'time-honored,' which in religious matters is synonymous with musty or mildewed. They fear to dishonor the dead, as if such was possible; a person that slanders the dead, or otherwise shows disrespect, dishonors himself only, and the dead are only honored or dishonored by their own life. It is these false notions of dishonoring the dead to which I wish to attract attention."

When a person is dead, what need is When a person is dead, what need is presents. The titles are, "Character, there for a preacher? No matter what Building by Thought Power," "Every may be said in the way of prayers, it can in no wise affect the deceased. Yet such is tyrant custom. Every victim high-toned spiritual character and of such is tyrant custom. Every victim that goes to the chair of electrocution, is attended by a priest. Every murderer who sends some innocent victim back to God," "unsaved," is ministered to by a priest, and generally of the "Cosmian Hymn Book." A collection Catholic persuasion. "Though your of original and relected hymns, for libsins be as scarlet, they shall be as white eral and ethical societies, for schools as snow; though they be red like crim-son, they shall be as wool."

and the home; compiled by L. K. Wash-burn. This volume meets a public son, they shall be as wool."

Is it any wonder that crime is on the want. It comprises 258 choice select increase, when immunity from punish-ment comes from God's Holy Book? The the highest moral sentiment, and free Bible that contains this comforting assurance is found in every home-millions of money being wasted in its dis-semination, and the end is not yet.

But I started out to voice the sensible remarks of Walter Collins in regard to our unhealthy mode of disposing of "dead" human bodies. Cremation is demonstrated to be feasible, and it is hoped that in a populous city like Chicago, examples will soon become so numerous that sentiment will no longer rule, and common sense will take its place and cremation become one of the leading reforms of the twentieth century.

C. H. MATHEWS.

tury. C. H. M. New Philadelphia, Ohio.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

If you have got rheumatism or kidney trouble, I can cure you or no pay. For full particulars, send your name and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure catarrh and rupture without the use of medicines.

"Poems of Progress." By Lizzie Doten. In this volume, this peerless poet of Spiritualism may be read in her varied moods, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe." It is a book to be treasured and richly enjoyed by all who love genuine poetry, and especially by Spiritualists. The volume is tastily syinted and hound, Price $1.

At War With the Church.

Some Spiritualists seem to have specially bitter, vindictive, aggravated and eruptive hatred for the church and for anything that so much as squints in the direction of modern church methods. They seem to have shut their eyes to all that is good therein and are apparently firm in the opinion that all ministers are either hypocrites or criminals. To speak a word concerning either is to invite an infuriated attack. I am not an apologist for any church or ministerial crimes, errors or mistakes; nor am I an apologist for any church The churches can take care of themselves. A man at my elbow remarked the other day that last Sunday there were over 1400 persons in his Sunday school. Poor, dying church! And great is Spiritualism, which cannot muster in the same city a Sunday-school or lyceum with an attendance of fifty!

Clara Watson thinks Spiritualism were better off without any recruits from the church! Moderation, thy other name surely is not Clara Watson. Some of the brightest minds, the sweetest, most lovable personalities, the most useful and unselfish lives have been "recruits" from the church. I have read of a few, and have met some, and as I write there come to mind such names as S. B. Brittan, Jesse B. Ferguson, Samuel Watson, Stainton Moses, J. M. Peebles, Moses Hull, B. F. Austin, Harrison D. Barrett, Dr. H. V. Sweringen, N. F. Ravlin, Thos G. Newman, F. A. Wiggin. I think they form a goodly company. Have they not each and all contributed somewhat to Modern Spiritualism? And this is but a tithe of the number.

The number of bigoted preachers who denounce Spiritualism and mediums is becoming smaller constantly; and, I dare say, in comparison with the whole number, will compare favorably with the Spiritualist villifiers of churches and preachers, which I believe are less numerous than heretofore.

There is a wide difference between demolishing an erroneous doctrine, exposing its weakness, and denouncing the character of those who happen to believe that doctrine; but some of the so-called Spiritualists seem unable or unwilling to make this distinction. But their number, it seems to me, is likewise decreasing, which is cause for congratulation.

Mrs. Watson means well; but, then, so does Moses Hull! It seems to me those who have argued in opposition to the school at Whitewater have mainly set up straw men and then proceeded to display their logical acumen in demolishing them. It might follow, as a logical conclusion, that because all the veteran speakers are not employed at good salaries to-day, a school for the training of young speakers is not needed. But to show this, a fuller statement of the question is demanded.

To my mind, it is not so much a question whether the aspirant for platform work would appreciate the school. The question is, will the Spiritualists at large appreciate and uphold it? Will the societies encourage it?

To illustrate: We have in this city a society that has recently opened its platform to all mediums and speakers who will work for it—by invitation of the officers. A Mr. Blank has been speaking there for some time each Sunday evening. He has been treated with special consideration, as if he possessed the qualities of a public teacher of Spirvery good opinion of his own ability.

If all spirits were wie, no schools would be needed. Mediums would not need education, possibly. But it has not yet been satisfactorily demonmint that transmutes the base ore of material existence into a spiritual coin of infinite perfection. But the doorway of mediumship that swings alar for a high intelligence, also swings open at the approach of one from a lower condition of spirit life.

All of which considerations lead me to observe that the skilled musician may create musical sounds on a "horsefiddle," but he would probably prefer a Cremona violin, if he had a choice. WALTER P. WILLIAMS.

Washington, D. C.

"Mark Chester; or a Mill and a Million. A Tale of Southern California."
By Carlyle Petersilea. A pure psychic story, elevating and reformatory. Paper covers, 40 cents. Cloth, 60 cents. For sale at this office. The Commandments Analyzed, price 25 cents. Big Bible Stories, cloth, 50 cents. For sale at this office.

"The Life Booklets." By Ralph Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful little books, finely adapted for holiday helpral purpose. Proce 35 cents each. "The Great Roman Anaconda."

from all sectarianism. Price 50 cents. For sale at this office.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Nature." By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual rostrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism. The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents.

"Spiritual Fire Cruckers, Bible Chestnuts and Political Pin Points." By J. S. Harrington. A pamphlet containing 79 pages of racy reading. Price 25 cents. For sale at the office of The Progressivé Thinker.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail." By Chas.

B. Newcomb. Excellent in spiritual suggestiveness. Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this office. "Heligious and Theological Works of Thomas Paine," Contains his celebrated "Age of Reason," and a number of let

"Age of Reason," and a number of letters and discourses on religious and the ological subjects. Cloth binding, 480 pages. Price $1. For sale at this office. "A Conspiracy Against the Republic." By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc. A condensed statement of facts concerning the efforts of church leaders to get control of the govemment. An important work, Paper, 25 cents. Fer sale at this office,

THEY BOTH MEAN WELL. Safe Investment for Spiritualists.

Money Invested in Dr. Peebles' Company Will Draw Hand some Dividends From the Day of lavestment. Your Stock Will Also Double in Value

if Held a Few Years.

THE WISE INVESTOR WHO SUCCEEDS

Are you looking for a good and SAFE investment that will pay you handsome dividends from the start, and will, at the very least, double your capital in a year or two?

If so, it will be well for you to investigate the investment opportu nity offered by Dr. Peebles Institute of Health. Some months ago Dr. Peebles and his associates incorporated their medical business at Battle Creek, in order to secure certain legal protection granted incorporated companies. Believing that the earnest co-operation of the Spiritualists of the country in this great work would add still further to the wonderful growth and success of the company, the doctor and his co-workers have decided to place a portion of the treasury stock in the hands of the Spiritualists throughout the country. A large amount of the original block of stock offered has been taken, but there are a few hundred shares to be sold at the original offer before the price advances, so if you are interested write at once for particulars.

interested write at once for particulars.

You do not need to be wealthy to share in the doctor's company; the small investor is just as welcome as the large. The man investing $50 or $700 will use his influence for the company just as will the one investing many thousands, and it is the good wishes and support that is desired more than the money.

A small amount properly invested where it will draw good dividends and continually increase in value is worth many times the same amount if allowed to lie idle, or put away in a bank where it will draw only 3 or if allowed to lie idle, or put away in a bank where it will draw only 3 or 4 per cent at best.

Money invested in Dr. Peebles Company to-day under his present offer will draw handsome dividends from the first, and, in addition thereto, the stock will increase in value so that at the end of two years at most it will be worth two or three times what you paid for it.

If you have any amount above $10 you can spare for investment, write for full particulars at once. Seven per cent dividends are guaranteed from the first, and much larger ones can be expected after the first.

teed from the first, and much larger ones can be expected after the first year. Address

DR. J. M. PEEBLES, Chairman, Box 2421, Battle Creek, Mich.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS.

It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice be given us, so and other measums, who will from time that inquirers may not be mislead. We want new notices of all meetings being held here in public halls at the present time.

The sumportant when a meeting is conducted by 3. It has a will be measums, who will from time to time address the meeting and give tests and spirit messages. Meetings will be held in Temperance Hall, 330 West Sixty-third street. All are invited

Church of the Spirit Communion, Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 8 p. m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt at 8 p. m. Messages by H. F. Coates and others. Plenty of good music. The Spiritual Research meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in

Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue. Good music and singing. All are in-The Spiritualistic Church of the Students of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday evenings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schumacher, pastor. Church of the Spiritual Forces holds service at Thurman Club Room, corner of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 8 p.

m. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Isa Cleveland. Third Church of Progressive Truth would develop the latent qualities need-ful to make him an effective minister, p. m. Lecture and tests by the Rev. Mrs. Schaeffer, at Van Buren Hall, Cali-fornia avenue and Madison street. Good music and singing. All are invited to attend. During June the Englewood Spiritual Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and messages at 8 p. m. sharp.

Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, where truth-seekers and investigators, as well as Spiritualists can enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening. First-class speakers. Tests and messages by carefully selected mediums. Excellent music by (Blind) LeRoy Drake. Mrs. May Elmo, medium.

The Progressive Society holds serv Burling street, every Sunday at 8 and 8 p. m. Lectures delivered in English p. m. Lectures delivered in English Price 25 cents.

"A Plea for the New Woman." By An address delivered beices at 183 E. North avenue, corner good music at all services. A Spiritualist Temple has been at this office. Price 10 cents. opened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belmont avenue. Services held every Sunas an Event in Life." By Lilian Whitevenings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue. Price $1.

The Brotherhood of Spiritual Truth Society meets Sunday at 8 p. m. Services conducted by J. K. Hilles and wife to attend and co-operate.

The First Hyde Park Occult Society holds regular meetings every Sunday at Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, be tween Monroe and Kimbark avenues. The best talent available will be secured to give interest at every meeting To spread the truth is the object of this society. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 E 55th street, where: all communications should be addressed.

Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock.

MYSTERIES OF THE SEANCE, and Tricks and Traps of Bogus Mediums -A Plea for Honest Mediums and Clean Work By a Life-long Spiritualist. Lunt Bros., Publishers, Boston, Mass. Price, 25 cents. The above pamphlet, if widely circulated, will have a tendency to drive the to encourage those who never resort to trickery in their work to advance the cause of Spiritualism. Every genuine medium—and there are hundreds of them—will rejoice to learn that many methods adopted by the fakes are lucid-with adopted by the fakes are lucid-with illustrations. Price cloth, $1.50. cause of Spiritualism. Every genuine ly explained, and that, too, by a Spiritwallst. This pamphlet will arouse a healthy condition of the investigating mind, and it will then be prepared to search for the truth and more fully realize it when found. It will be an aid to the honest, painstaking investigator, it will assist the skeptic in seeing lt will assist the skeptic in seeing wherein the truth lies. It will prevent those who are seeking genuine spirit communion from being deceived and swindled. This pamphlet published by at this office. Price 25 cents.

by other good speakers. Tests and May Collins. An address delivered begood music at all services.

May Collins. An address delivered before the Ohio Liberal Society. For sale and Thursday evening at 8 ing. One of Miss Whiting's most sugo'clock. Tests and music at every sergestive, intensely interesting, spiritual books. It is laden with rich, thought-Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday ful spirituality. For sale at this office. HOROSCOPES Scientifically accurate and reliable. Captain G.W. Walrond, 1510 Glenarm St., Donver, Col., Est 1850.

MRS. G. PARTRIDGE, Well-known Readings personally or by mail, $1. Squestions 25c Accurate work. 2751 W. Lake st., Chicago.

THUMPET MEDIUM DESIRES BUSINESS COL-1 respondence with single gentleman; a materializing medium preferred. Address Miss S.L.Aber, 131 charlotte av., Detroit Mich.

TRUTH OR TRADITION,

Or The Separation of Myths, Fables and Legends of Religion from its Vital, Ethical and Spiritual Truths. The MSS. of this critical, original, startling and important book, now complete. I desire some one to help me to print, produce and place it on the market. A liberal and profitable interest in the great sale of the work will be allowed. Address C. F. SHORT, Station H., New York City.

A Tried and True Medium, Olairvoyant, Intuitional and Prophette. Has consented to give readings by mail for a limited time, to earnest inquirers who are seeking for evidences of a future life. Full readings and three questions answered, by mail, $1. Where date of birth is sent, will give an Astro-Paychic Delineation also. Send own handwriting. Address, MRS. E. DE FOREST.

179 Albion St., West Somerville, Mass.

Bangs Sisters, PHENOMENAL MEDIUMS. independent state and paper writing sittings daily.

Spirit Portrait Work a Specialty. Readings by mail. Send four cents stamps for booklet. 334 W. Adams, Chicago. Telephone Ashland 1919.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS.

THE SPEAKING DIAL.

A Wonderful Spiritual Invention

Annie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind sister, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earliest mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with $1, and I will try and get reply by independent writing or whispers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Milford Mass.

DR. J. S. LOUCKS the oldest and most successful Spiritual Physician now in practice. His cures are

THE MOST MARVELOUS f this age. His examinations are correctly made, address call who seed him name, age, sex and lock f hair, and six cents in stamps. He desant task for any leading symptom. A clairvoyant desant leaf only. He positively cures weak men. Address J. S. LOUCKS, M. D.,

F. N. FOSTER.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHER, Gives sittings by mail. Send for circular giving terms, etc., to Lock Box 215 Brooklyn, N. Y. TESTIMONIAL:

F N. Foster. Chicago.—My Dear Sir:—Received my photo some days ago, I recognized three of the four faces at sight, and they were recognized by the rest of my family. I want a half dozen copies. Yours for truth, H. V. Thompson, Justice of the Peace.

DON'T READ THIS.

Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading; symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trial will convince you. Nervous exhaustion and lost vigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundreds can testify. Send name, age, sex, complexion and its cents in stamps, and receive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth dollars to you. Address,

FRANCES L. LOUCKS, Lock Box 1214,

MOLLIE FANCHER, The Brooklyn Enigma.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE communion from being deceived and swindled. This pamphlet published by Lunt Brothers, Boston, Mass., is for sale at this office. Price 25 cents.

"Love—Sex—Immortality." By Dr. W. P. Phelon. For sale at this office.

THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH. Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuier. Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume might well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar Interesting style in which French writers excel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the needs of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable idea in Spiritualism," and regards as proved "the fact of communication between superhumans and the inhabitants of earth." Price, $1.50.

AN ASTONISHING OFFER

Send three two-cent stamps, lock of hair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free by spirit power.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker,

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker.

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE. My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:--I want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good.

MARY JANE PEARCE. Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21,

Mrs. Dobson-Barker-Kind Friend:-As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I will write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treatment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer. Respectfully, MINA M. YANG.

Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902.

Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker-Dear Sister:-I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am hap-py to say I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I was sick twenty-five years. I still remain your friend, AMANDA R. GREEN.

You Can Have Metica Pebble LENS GOOD EUCSIGHT Spectacles. For lifteen years I have been fitting and spirit assistance. Sonding spectacles by mail to people that live in all parts of this mindane world. If you want the best spectacles by inall to people that live in all parts of this mindane world. If you want the best spectacles write for flustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also howyou can by Me be fitted at Your Own Home. For 5 cents to pay postinge. Will send sample of magnetized compound, sufficient for 40z of eye water. Cures sore eyes, strengthens wank eyos. If requested will send photo of Spirit Yarma.

8 Evanston Ave., Chicago, Ill.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

by return muil, and I will

Forward Free of Charge, Valuable Information,

of Interest to All. O WALTER LYNN,

855 Grove St., Oakland, Cal. The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religious, and their influence upon the material development of the human race. Transcribed at the request of a band of ancient philosophers. Price 10 cents.

A GREAT BOOK.

THE HULL-JAMIESON DEBATE.

One of Unflagging Interest Throughout -It Should Be in the Hands of Every Spiritualist and Freethinker.

This book, containing nearly 500 closely printed pages, should have a million circulation. Price $1. It is chockful of rapid-firing ideas, and is the ablest debate, on both sides, ever published. Send for it.

THE TALMUD Selections from the contents of that ancient book, its commentaries, teachings, poetry, and legends. Also brief sketches of the men who made and commented upon it. By H. Polang. 850 pp. Price, cloth, $1 VEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Lectures by the Swami Vivekaanda, on Raja Toga; or Conquering the Internal Nature, and other subjects; siso, Patanjail's Yoga Aphorisms, with commentaries and a copious glossary of Sanskrit terms. Revised and enlarged, 12mo., Cloth, 81,50. Raja Yoga is an ancient system of Indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and perfection. Swami Vivekananda became a familiar figure in several American cities during the three years following the Parliament of Religious at Chicago; he was cordially received in America, where the breadth and depth of his teachings were soon recognized. His teachings are universal in their application. The book is cheap at $1.50. For sale at this office.

Healer and

Gifted Psychic. HEALTH RESTORED By Common Sense Methods

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Aliments.

OBSESSION CURED.

For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name, sex and own handwriting.

READINGS AND BUSINESS AD. VICE $1.00 and two stamps.

Address 855 Grove St., Oakland, Ca. L

Write for Circular

JORY'S TONIC TABLETS

A True Nerse Tenic and Blood Builder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Debility and the various forms of nervous and physical depression, Melancholia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver. Weak Kitineys, Chronic Backache, poor circulation, poor apportite, poor sleep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the tone of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. 50 doses, 75c; 100 doses $1.25] Postage prepaid. Postage prepaid.

Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC

For Constipation, Headache, Etc.

Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Healthy
Action of the Bowels. 86 tablets, 25c. Postage
prepaid. Prepared only by H. M. JORY.

Manufacturing Chemist. 6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor All. Philosophy of This work contains a graphic Spiritual Intercourse. account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Pheips, Stratford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the tost of many years. Cleth, $1,20; postage 10c.

MAHOMET His Birth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Gib-bon. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberal Classics. It is conceded to be historically cor-rect, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents.

THE AGE OF REASON.

By Thomas Paine. Being an investigation of True and Fabulous Theology. A new and com-plete edition, from new plates and now type; 186 pages, post 8vo. Paper ﷺ; cloth. 50c. THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I .-- The Pentateuch.

Comments on Conesis, Exodus, Leviticas, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Devercux Riake, Rev. Phebo Hanaford, Clara Bewick Colby, Ellen Battella Deltrick, Mrs. Louisz Southworth, Ursula N. Contacted and Brands E Bayes

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE .-- PART II. Judges, Kings, Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation. The comments are keen, bright, spicy, full of wit, the work of radical thinkers who are not ignorant of the higher criticism. There is not a doll page in either of these books, but each its a galaxy of the bright minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 50 cents.

ITS ATTAINMENT OF Womany form and features Beauty The cultivation of personal beauty, based on Hygiene and Health Culture, by twenty physicians and specialists, and edited by Albert Turner. A valuable book for women and therefore for the whole world. Price in elegant cloth binding, $1.00. For sale at this office.

Christs of the Past and Present.

By MOSES HULL, A comparison of the Christ-work or Mediumship of Biblical Messiahs and the conditions they required, with similar manifestations in Modern Spiritualism. This is a good work to study for arguments with which to meet the very common orthodox question, "Why do you always require conditions for your spiritual manifestations" Cloth bound, 85 cents; paper 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Were You Born Under a Star?

A complete exposition of the science of Astrology, adapted from the Four Hooks of Ptolemy, the Astronomer on the art of Reading the Stars, with many illustrations. By A. ALPHEUS, Scoretary of the Astrological Society of England and America. Handsonely bound in cloth, gilt top, with beautiful designs stamped on side and back, Price $1.00. For sale at this office.

The Religion of Science,

By Dr. Paul Carus. Ver thoughtful and interesting. Price, 25 cents.

Dr. Coffee's famous 80-page illustrated book on "The Eye and Its Diseases," will be sent to every reader of this paper who has any disease of the eye.

Dr. Coffee's Mild

Medicines Cure

at Your Home

Cataracts in one month.
Beums and inflammation in one month,
Glaucoma in one month.
Granulated Lids and Wild Hairs in

All Ulcers and Inflammation in one month.

Paresis of the Optic Nerve in one month.

Weak and Congested eyes in one month.

His book gives instructions on how to diet, how to take physical exercise, how to bathe properly how to breathe properly, and how to keep in perfect health.

Tells how to make Woak Eyes Strong and throw away your glasses in one month.

month.

It tells all about Dr. Coffee's Mild.
Absorption remedies and how 90,000 people have been restored to sight by using them.

Scums, Scars, Ulcers, Inflammation and all Diseases or Weakness of the eyes at your own home without visiting a doctor. This book tells the complete story of how thousands of people afflicted with diseased eyes and blindness have cured their eyes and been restored to perfect sight by Dr. Coffee's mild home remedies. Write to Dr. Coffee today and you will

This book has pictures of all kinds of diseased eyes. It tells you how you can cure yourself of Cataracts, Glaucoma, Granulated Lids, receive this book and his professional opinion An Eye Cured of Cataract by Dr. Coffee, of your case free of charge. Over one thousand blind people have been restored to perfect sight by using $5 worth of Dr. Coffee's absorption

Henry C. Laub, of Denison, Iowa, was blind with catanted furtight oye thirty years. Was cured with one inhabithis treatment of Dr. Coffee's remedies.

Alir. Abnie B. Moore, of Etem, N. C., 38 years old, was custed of parcels of the optionerve by one month's treatment of Dr. Coffee's remedies.

Alir. Henry D. Volcht, of Hamburg Wis, son was blind with cataracts on his eyes and was restored to sight with one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve by one month's with one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve by one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve by one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve bouter without my classes than with them since using one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve bouter without my classes than with them since using one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve bouter without my classes than with them since using one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. S. Bouter Bear of the optionerve bottom of the optionerve bottom with the optionerve bottom with the optionerve bottom with the miscone using one month's treatment.

Mrs. H. W. Wynne. Crockett, Tox., says. "You cared my little girl of soum and inflammation of the oyes, and blindness. One month's treatment cured her."

James Troutman, of Raymondsville. Mo. says. "my six years old child had soum on the oyes, wild hairs and inflammation and was nearly blind. One month's treatment cured her."

James Troutman, of Raymondsville. Mo. says. "my cycs were weak. Had constant beadacine and pains in them.

Harry Burvell, of Barin, Wyo., says: "I can see as perfect.

Sam Cook. of Harrison, Ill., says: "I was almost blind from form inflammation. A month of your Absorption Treatment cured her."

James Troutman, of Raymondsville. Mo. says. "my cycs were weak. Had constant beadacine and pains in them.

Mrs. Harvell, of Barin, Wyo., says: "I can see as perfect.

Sam Cook. of Harrison, Ill., says: "I was almost blind from form inflammat home remedies. Read what some of them say:

Dr. Coffee's remedies cure all manner of eye diseases and blindness. They can be used at home by anyone who can read instructions and they restore sight perfectly without visiting a doctor. Write to Dr. Coffee and tell him the condition of your eyes and he will send you his book and professional opinion absolutely free of charge and tell you how to cure yourself at home, if you can be cured. If you cannot be, Dr. Coffee will tell you so frankly. WRITE TODAY FOR YOURSELF OR FRIEND. Address

dr. w. o. coffee,

812 Good Block, Des Moines, Iowa.

PROGRESSIVE I

One number of The Progressive Thinker is often worth one dollar ... it is sent one

The Progressive Thinker is the great Educator of the Present Age... Induce your neighbor to subscribe for it.

SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

VOL. 28.

OHICAGO, ILL., JULY II. 1903.

NO. 711.

IS A PSYCHOLOGICAL CRIME POSSIBLE?

Are Hypnotism and Mediumship a Psychic Process Destructive of Individual Life?

A book containing most startling conclusions from the admitted facts of hypnotism and mediumship and the law of retributive justice, has been published by the Indo-American Book Co. It is styled "The Great Psychological Crime."

It is a work of supreme importance to sensitives and mediums if its claims are true, and no publication could more profitably engage the serious and careful consideration of all Bpiritualists.

The author, who was prepared by an extended study and physical and psychical training to enter the realms beyond the vail of mortal sense and sight, claims to know that the process of modern hypnotism and mediumship is a process destructive of individual life. Hypnotism is defined as in its essential nature a subjective psychic process. That, "its most direct and essential results are related to and registered upon the soul rather than upon the body." In this claim lies the fundamental basis of reasoning by the author, and the pregnant truth or the error of his claim.

If the process of control by the hypnotist is a psychic process, and its most direct and essential results are registered upon the soul rather than upon the body, it is of supreme importance to be aware of the fact and to understand the nature of psychic law and development.

All intelligent persons must allow that self-mastery, the complete control by the individual of all desires, mental pow ers, must, necessarily for this have entire freedom of choice, and independence of will. If any psychic process can weaken and ultimately destroy this mastership of the individual soul, it is certainly a destructive principle.

'The author's definition of a psychological crime, is, "A crime against the intelligent soul or essential entity of man." He quotes largely from various writers on hypnotism. One quotation is from Prof. De Lawrence, as follows: "Suggest to a subject that in ninety days from a given date he will come to your house with his coat on inside out, and he will most certainly do so." The author then says: "The deep and ominous importance of this will be better understood and appreciated when the fact known that after a subject in a state of profound hypnosis has thus been given a command to be executed at a future date, and is then awakened, he retains no memory or knowledge of what has occurred during the hypnotic sleep.'

He immediately goes about his own affairs in a manner that would lead the most learned psychologist to infer that he is entirely free from all hypnotic influence and in a perfectly normal condition. Notwithstanding this, when the appointed time arrives for the execution of the post-hypnotic "suggestion" or command he goes and does the thing suggested, or commanded to be done, with absolute obedience. Moreover the perfectly natural manner in which he conducts himself through it all would lead any observer who did not know the facts, to infer that he was impelled by his own independent self-conscious and rational volition."

hypnotic relation once established, continues indefinitely. Not only this, it continues even though the hypnotist may have entirely forgotten both the subject and the incident in the meantime. It continues regardless of the will, wish, memory or knowledge of either party or of both. It continues unbroken and unabated until both shall come to recognize the law they have thus violated, and shall of their own volition unite in a mutual effort to restore themselves to a normal relation."

"With these established facts in mind, those who know that there is a life beyond the grave as well as those who believe there is such a life, will readily understand and appreclate the horrible truth that even physical death is, of itself no barrier to the operation of this subtle and mysterious power when once the hypnotic relation has been fully en-

The author places hypnotists in three general classes: Those whose motives and intentions are good—as the scientist and physician; those whose motives and intentions are indifferent: the social entertainer: the chronic experimenter; and those whose motives and intentions are bad; those who make it a business for gain; those who employ it as a means of power whereby to achieve individual ambitions, and those who use it as a subtle means and method whereby to commit unusual crimes in such manner as to avoid detection and evade the just penalties of the law."

The author arraigns hypnotism chiefly through the testi mony of writers who have experimented as hypnotists, and those who advertise as teachers of the process of hypnotism

From these demonstrations and claims the conclusions of the author that hypnotism is a destructive process, because it robs the individual subject of self-consciousness, of independent choice, of reason and volition, are not easily ref

The writer in entering upon the treatment of mediumship admits all the claims of intercommunion between the disembodied and the fleshly-clothed dwellers of the earth plane The satisfaction to the doubter of proof that there is a life beyond the grave, the comfort to sorrowing hearts of renewed communication with loved ones who have passed from sight, and that a certain amount of information concerning the life beyond has been given, is admitted without reserve. .The writer then states that, "from the standpoint of Natural Science all these disputed questions are of such secondary and indifferent importance as to be for the most part, irrelevant and immaterial in the light of the known scientific results." And that, "the position from which the subject is to be here considered entirely transcends the objective view of all these matters, and deals with the principle of Nature which lies back of the factitious phenomena of mediumship."

From the inorganic mineral up through the vegetable and animal to the human it is claimed each has a duplicate ethereal form. That upon the forced disintegration and dissolution of the physical stone its finer ethereal body, or duplicate remains intact for a comparatively brief period of time During the time it remains intact this ethereal body of the stone is visible with perfect distinctness to one whose sense of sight is keen enough to observe it."

The continuity of this ethereal form increases in duration up through vegetable and animal life. But "the animal in due course of time disappears from the spiritual plane of the

This is the first suggestion that continuity of forms of life on the spiritual plane does not signify immortality. Then in the claim that follows is suggested the peril of subjection to the control of any other than the will and reason of the individual entity, and the mighty suggestion that the individual entered upon the spiritual plane of existence must ACHIEVE IMMORTALITY BY EFFORT

It is claimed that, "In the spiritual life man's ability to persist and advance from lower to higher planes of existence is commensurate with his own independent control of all his individual faculties, capacities and powers, and in response to his independent, self-conscious and rational volition and desire to so persist and advance."

After a chapter rehearsing the different phases of mediumship the claim is emphatic that "mediumship is hypnotic." The analogous conditions are clearly stated. Mediumship is therefore, according to Natural Science, a destructive process to individual life.

"Briefly summarizing, the mediumistic process is, for all practical purposes identical with that of mesmerism and hypnotism with the exceptions noted. The process is, under all conditions and circumstances, a subjective, psychic process. This is true regardless of the form of mediumship established, the character of phenomena presented, or the degree of control exercised. The principle back of the process is the Destructive Rrinciple of Nature in Individual Life."

The author then states at this point that, "In order that his position shall not be misunderstood, nor his motives misinterpreted, the writer desires to state in the most explicit terms possible.

"That he is not a medium.

"That he never has been a medium.

"That he never has been hypnotized.

"That he never has been mesmerized. "That he never has been a subject of psychic control in any form, degree or manner whatsoever. "That notwithstanding these facts he has developed the ability to exercise his spiritual sensory organism independently, self-consciously and voluntarily at any time. "That the method by which this power has been acquired and the process involved in its exercise are as different from those of mediumship, mesmerism and hypnotism as the principle of affirmation is different from that of negation, or as construction is different from destruction." And he adds, "That under competent instruction any man of equal intelligence, courage and perseverance, and a right motive, may accomplish the same results, provided he have the time, opportunity and faculties for carrying on the work."

In treating mediumship as "a martyrdom" the writer first efers to the fact (well known to Spiritualists) that the denizens of the lower spiritual spheres nearest to the earth, are the undeveloped mentally and morally, the ignorant, vicious and depraved, those who are still subject to the depraved passions and appetites.

Consequently mediums whose will power has become veakened by subjection to spiritual intelligences are liable to become subject to the influence and control of these earthbound spirits.

Then the writer proceeds: "There are religious zealots and enthusiasts upon the spiritual side of life as well as here. They recognize the desirability of educating the great world of humanity upon the physical plane to a knowledge of the of the utmost importance in their influfact that physical death is but the beginning of another life. Just so the Christian ministry of earth recognize the same thing and devote their efforts to its accomplishment.

"Mediumship opens a comparatively easy method of bringng the two worlds within Spiritual controls who have this purpose only in view do not consider that the mere matter of method is of vital significance or importance Many of these understand and fully recognize the destructive nature of the mediumistic process. but they do not understand the remedy for it.

"Moreover, to them the sacrifice of a few thousand mediums annually, seems a small thing as compared with the supposed benefits to accrue to humanity in general therefrom. They know that thousands of missionaries of earth are annually suffering martyrdom to carry the cross of Christ into heathendom. Why, then, should any one seriously object if they add a few more individuals to the number of candidates

This statement which is not inconsistent with the qualities and experiences of human nature, and the religious nature, especially, suggests an answer to a question that presents itself in connection with the claim that the mediumistic process is destructive; why disembodied intelligences whom we would class as good should subject earthly instruments to the peril of such process.

In regard to mediumship and morality the writer declares that, "In just so far as mediumship exists at any given time, it deprives the medium of the ability to exercise every ong of the faculties, capacities and powers of the mind and soul upon which his individual responsibility depends. Inasmuch as mediumship slowly but surely destroys the individual power of self-control, its inevitable tendency is toward ani-

Nothing can be of more importance to every intelligent person than to learn how to use one's powers and capacities to the growth of individuality. There is but one question to be answered in regard to hypnotism and mediumship in order to determine if the process is destructive.

This question is, are the powers and capacities of soul veakened, and can they at any stage ultimately become paralyzed by the exercise of the process? Knowing that individual character and growth can only be attained through individual moral responsibility, here and now, we may reasonably infer that further advancement on spiritual planes must be achieved through the exercise of the same inde-

The movement called Modern Spiritualism has released many souls from mental and spiritual bondage, and brightened the struggling mortal pathway. But if the martyrdom of mediumship is not the so only way to relate ourselves to the realms of spiritual existence, Spiritualists first of all people should try to find the better way. It is a mighty truth that each individual soul is first of all responsible to itself to attain, achieve, and become.

The Great Psychological Crime is second in the Harmonia Series. The first volume is The Harmonics of Evolution, by

All persons who esteem human soul and individual life and responsibility above all other values and considerations, will be glad to have read The Great Psychological Crime.

LUCINDA B. CHANDLER.

Those who desire the above work, "THE GREAT PSY CHOLOGICAL CRIME," can secure a copy by addressing The Progressive Thinker office. Price $2. The price of "HARMONICS OF EVOLUTION," by Florence Huntley, is $2.

Every sin is a mistake, as well as a wrong-A. Maclaren. True faith seeks to ascertain a knowledge of the truth.

Grant me to become beautiful in the inner man, and that whatever outward things I may have may be at peace with those within,-Plato,

VIEWS OF A SPIRIT.

In Reference to Material and Spiritual Activities.

To the Editor:-Englosed I send a communication from the spirit world, by a friend of mine here. Black River Falls, Wis.

The Spirit Message.

Life in its elements consists of force, activity, change. Wherever there is stagnation, inertness and immobility, there can be no active life. Forceful, coherent, intelligent activity and change are the attributes of God and are the necessary antecedents of all coherent and intelligent life; and there is no life, lowever humble, whether animal or vegetable, but that has more or less coperence and intelligence in it. All life. all force and activity is continually producing a higher and more intelligent type of life. All growth is upward to a ligher and more complex standard.

Force, activity, life is self-existent and eternal and what is for convenlence of designation, called matter, is a mere manifestation or rather the product of force, the mere outcome of acivity. From these generalities it folthe beginning, if there ever was a beginning, and will remain forever and ever because there can be no end. In the bright universe of God there is a general and there is an individual life, and without the former the latter could have no existence. The former must have had existence first, and the latter has been evolved by the progress of countless ages as a higher manifesta-tion of the growth and development of the spirit.

What, then, is human life? It is life letached from the mass of general life; it is life on a more enlarged and higher scale than general life. It is made up of the aggregation of the individuals who constitute its molecules. It is the highest form of life possible on earth. The individual life develops the soul, and makes it fit for celestial life. There can be no life without activity, and activity means attrition with other individuals and conditions which surround uman existence. Without this activty the soul could never be fitted for the great possibilities in store for it. With it has a life within itself and for itself which could not otherwise exist.

These labors in the incarnate life are ence upon the after life. They form the groundwork upon which the edifice of our spirituality must rest. On earth the seeds are sown which must blossom in heaven.

attributes of spirituality. It is heaven born. It is God-like. Love of God and humanity, pure sex love and love for all of the creations of Omnific power, lift up the soul and fit it for after life.

In the happy but ignorant days childhood the human family thinks but little of the world beyond. In after years the spirit gradually reaches out o the unknown, to a future life which shall be eternal and which shall be a refuge from the ills to which flesh is heir. As human beings advance in life. the life beyond becomes of more and more importance. Glimmering light comes from heavenly shores, which becomes brighter and brighter as humantv approaches the grave.

The witnesses of the hereafter are mostly mute, yet they teach, in a manner that cannot be impeached the existence of the soul forever, after the grave shall have been passed and forgotten. The incarnate soul cannot think that the loved one who has passed the portals of death is annihilated. It intuitively believes that it has gone to that glorious clime which knows no winter, to live forever. This intuition comes from God. It inheres in the soul. It silently teaches the immortality of the spirit. The individual soul cannot conceive the idea that it is possible for it to cease to exist; it cannot look upon itself otherwise than as an heir to eternal life. This intuition has been implanted in each soul by the great Omnific power as a standing testimony of immortality. When these evidences are noted and understood, they furnish to poor humanity all of the proof required of the persistence of life.

Life is progressive; it advances higher and still higher planes, and so it must continue throughout eternity. As time goes on there will be more intimate relations between the earth and heaven. In other worlds, the souls of the incarnate will become more en rapport with the souls of those who are dead to earth. On earth enough will be known of heavenly conditions to give courage to the weary. The two worlds will never come together. They must remain forever apart, yet-closely connected. Death, a very small but important step, must ever exist between the two. But instead of being regarded dread, death will be more and more regarded as merely the emancipation of the soul from the tolls and sorrows of the earth.

Make the best of life you can, and by this I mean cultivate your soul. How mean the possession of wealth, how triffing the distinction of human honors appear at the grave of They count for nothing here or may be worse than nothing. The pure and intelligent soul, imbued with love, is sure to be encircled by the overstretched arms of angels on its arrival in heavenly domains Truly the pure in heart shall see God as he is. Those who have flung away their lives on earth in pursuit of earthly wealth and distinction, must not be disappointed in not enjoy ing those high felicities here which they have not earned and for which they are not fitted. As one sows so shall he reap, is a truth as clear as the noon-day sun here. As the soul makes up its record on earth so shall that record be when it arrives here. Merit is sure of its reward, but the undeserving will not receive rewards to which they are not entitled.

That life is best which conforms to

MOTION.

Life and Mind Are Only Motion.

Wise men despise not the cradie they were rocked in. Fond memories clus ter around it. They perceive the fact that the child prophesies the man; that the blossom presages the rose; that decayed vegetation is the parent of the diamond; that the song of poetry intro duced the logic of prose; and that with out the mental culture of the religious institutions there would be no present-day science. Ancient philosophy was naturally lim ited in resources. Moses, the great Jewish law-giver, advanced intelligence a long step forwards. Plato continued the evolving motion. He simplified theology and amplified nature. Jose phus made less new discoveries, but aided in the preservation of the knowledge of man's ways of unfoldment. The mind was not arrived at complete knowledge.

It is now demonstrated that all life is one. In every kingdom of nature it is the same, differing only in differentiation of expression.

It is found to consist wholly of mo tion. Its sensitive phase is explained by reference to the explosions of chem ical elements when definitely united lows that there can be no such thing as Chemistry is a definite department of the destruction of life. It existed in universal motion. Growth and disinte-Chemistry is a definite department of gration are terms expressive of other forms of motion. Emerson says there are but a few minutes that an apple is at its best. He might have called it a millionth part of a second with nearer approach to truth, for between growth and decay there is no interval of time; the motion is continuous. It is demonstrated that color is produced by varying velocities of motion. It is already common knowledge that sound, heat, light and electricity are only forms of motion. Force is still another highly concentrated form. The transmutation of the elements from mineral successively into earth, vege table and the animal, is all motion. So-called natural law is motion, exact motion. The term natural law is but one of convenience. The natural law is pregnant with causes and effects, either ever changing into the other. Substance contains the inherent principles of motion; the varying arrangement of substance causing varying movements of motion, and consequent Substance and motion are the foundation of all we see or know. All nature is circular. Not a tissue of the human body but that is built on principles of curvature. Man, lost in an open field, travels in a circle

Mind is but another manifestation of substance and motion, in special, definite form. The latest, most advanced psychology demonstrates this. Mind is heavenly bodies is no more exact than mind motion. Each thought is a perfect response to the force immediately preceding it. Metaphysics is no onger a recognizable quantity. It is lost in psychology.

Drummond's "Natural Law in the Spiritual World" is a phase of progress out of mysticism. God is absolutely perfect motion. This constitutes the full definition. The definition that "God is Love." is so very limited. Love is only one of myriad motions. Motion includes love, while love includes but a fraction of motion. The term religion is a form of motion of the so-called mind that is denominated aspiration and worship of the force greater than man. Emerson again says, man seeks good ends he is strong by the whole strength of nature." This is a beautiful compliment to the psychological demonstration that nature and man are one. That "God and I are one," in this light, is reconciled with the perfect discovery. A causeless God the world will still enjoy. It has A causeless been said that, "for so great a design there must have been a designer." Why not say, "the design itself always was"? If so-called nature is not a great power great enough to satisfy every aspiration of religion and worship, the alternative still remains of worshiping the anciently supposed greater power. In the light of present-day knowledge it cannot be rationally denied that the whole universe is an ever-working living system of motion. There is now an absolutely perfect theology, easily understood, and readily adapted to all departments of human activities. A new heaven and new earth are not far to E. W. BALDWIN. Madison, Wis.

MYSTICAL MUSIC.

The sweetest music heard by mortal sense is naught compared to that beyond our

The concord of a purer atmosphere Where worlds leave off and fairer spheres commence: And yet sometimes in spite of air so

Our spirit ears in higher moments hear That wondrous harmony, now faint now clear Until we long to leave our earthly tents.

wise: 'Tis heard when loving spirits meet and It comes when Sorrow's burden bends the knee.

This music sounds in saintly souls and Though half its drowned in sighs: But, best of all, it comes at last to rend The veil of sense and set the spirit free. -Ella Harcourt.

the purposes of the creation of man. Bnough has been written to demonstrate the great truth that to live in harmony with the laws of God, to love the author of our being and all things of his creation, is the only way to earn a crown of glory which shall endure

Keep good company and you shall be of the number.—Herbert

FROM CALIFORNIA.

THE VENERABLE J. S. LOVELAND HAS SOMETHING TO SAY.

He Alludes to the Bible in No Uncertain Manner, and Gives His Views of Bible Exegesis.

The "Important Questions" addressed the N. S. A., in a recent Progressive Thinker, are so appropriate and to the point that every Spiritualist should carefully ponder them, not in reference to the Morris Pratt Institute, but to the question of education in general. The regrettable thing about this institute is, that its getters-up did not see the alignorance at a premium. Also, that the Holy the old superstition, that the Holy Fraternity. There is no need of the Ghost was the sufficient educator, was Pratt Institute, for there already exists ignorance at a premium. Also, that difference only, that they had many ghosts or spirits as the educators, intead of one.

majority of Spiritualists regard the Bible as an antiquated, fabulous book, and the presentation of Bible Exegesis as one of the leading studies would be ample reason why they would not aid in its support.

show in the first place, that such an institution is uscless.

1. It is not pretended that the ordinary branches of education can be better, or more cheaply taught there than vate institution, voicing the notions of at our common and high schools; nor, that the students will be more free from sectarian influence. On the contrary, the cost will be more, and the students will be constantly drilled in sectarianism, than which nothing can be much worse.

2. Nor is it pretended that any new method of education will be adopted. ve thinkers, are to be followed at the Pratt Institute. The only suggested addition is the holding of seances as other method?

am compelled to say that the Exegetical give Brother Hull the greatest credit themselves, unsought upon public for his great labor and his intense sin- tention. cerity in his system. But that does not in the least change my conviction, and that of thousands of others, of the utter uselessness of an institution to teach Bible interpretation. What is the object? It is to show that From the land where the lotus blooms, Bible stories and Bible names are cononce, that the first thing demanded is Whispering softly, I come to thee. to show that these stories are true- Open thy lattice, love, that they detail facts. Does Spiritualism do this? By no means. On the And I'll sing the song love, contrary, it demonstrates that some of them are the merest fabrications. For instance, the story of the hand-writing on the wall, found in the Book of Daniel Now the facts are (1) that no Daniel ever wrote the book at the time of the alleged events... It was written some centuries later. (2) THERE NEVER WAS ANY KING BELSHAZZAR, son of Nebuchadnezzar, hence there never any writing at the feast of such a king. To make use of such a story knowing the facts, is dishonest. To do so ignorantly is to expose one to con- I've roamed o'er the desert hot and dry, tempt. If any one says such facts ought to be known, I reply that any Spiritualist should be ashamed not to Of the caravan to escape the rain know them. Read Researches in Ori- Of the fatal sand storm on the plain. ental History, by Dr. G. W. Brown; Dr. White, our late minister to many; and Draper's Intellectual Development of Europe, and you will need no more interpretation of the English Bible. In a history of Comparative Spiritualism it would be allowable and necessary to embrace Jewish and Christian mythology. But no more so than Greek, Hindoo, Persian, Chinese and Babylonian. 4. But the uselessness of such an institution is apparent from the fact that the New Education has an institu-tion, more accessible and far superior to what the Pratt Institute can be for vears to come. The Ruskin University near Chicago, which is "a combination of twelve schools and colleges with an aggregate enrollment of 2.500 resident and 8,000 correspondent students, and a faculty of 250 professors and instruct ors," is the world center of the New Ed ucation.

the old style of the three Rs, the new program is the three Hs—the Hand, the Head and the Heart; and its primary postulate is, that there can be no true education which does not include them all. It declares that "LIFE WITHOUT LABOR IS A CRIME." Hence, the industrial department (the Hand) includes a printing press, laundry, kitchen and dining-room, water and shipping plant, gardening on a city market scale, and a number of factories for the production of articles of use, which enables the students to earn their board and lodgings. Unification of the three Hs is pra liced by ignoring in all the work of the university all alleged scientific fences between the material and the spiritual all theological fences between sacreand secular; all sociological fences beween aristocrat and democrat, and the thousand and one artificial fences, many of them double with devil's lanes between, which have divided and subdivided body and soul and spirit, physical and mental and moral classes and massés into separate cages like so many wild beasts in a menagerie, destroying the unity of life and reducing it to mere being. Here is the chance for an integral education, a part of which pays your expenses, without any drill in sectarianism. And you are not confined to a dozen fellow students and three or four instructors, but you mingle with thousands and share in the instructions of competent specialists in all departments of study and work. You learn most certain failure before them. It how to earn your living as well as scimost certain failure perore them. It would seem that they ought to have known that, so far as the great body of Spiritualists were concerned, education who will establish the co-operative who will establish the commonwealth—the Brotherhood of the something better and cheaper. 5. Another reason why this institution should be regarded by Spiritualists Again, they ought to have known that as useless to them, is the fact that they have no control of it. The N. S. A. is reported with $15,000 on hand, but declining to render any assistance to the indebted school. That shows that the N. S. A. is not responsible and does not consider the Pratt Institute of any special consequence, or it would render some help. It regards it as a private or personal affair, and of no special use to the movement. And so long as the vate institution, voicing the notions of one or two persons, and not controllable by any organized Spiritualist body, it will fail to subserve any purpose for the general progress of the movement.

6. In conclusion, I have only to add that anything, in the form of a or sectarian movement in Spiritualism, is doomed to failure. Anything less than universal, all-comprehending in The old methods, rejected by progress principle and practice, does not belong to the spirit movement and will never enlist the aid of advanced spirits in either sphere of existence. part of the course of study. Had the Natural Brotherhood of Humanity be promoters presented a new mode of ed-ucation, they might well have chal-promoters presented a new mode of ed-practical leadership in the world's lenged the Spiritualist fraternity to fol-thought and action their position, and we shall need no Bible Exegesis to 3. But the distinctive feature of the build up a cause. It will build itself, new institute is Biblical Exegesis. Ex- and the educated minds of the world egesis means explanation, interpretation. Has Spiritualism any recognized method of interpretation? Is it women will enter Spiritualism work instead of orders the spiritual state of the exponential factors of the work women will enter Spiritualism work insteas four sections and any recognized and recogniz the allegorical method of Origen, the just as fast as they are wanted, and no correspondential one of Swedenborg special school can force them any faster with its literal, spiritual and celestial than they are wanted. There has meanings; the Catholic method with never been any lack of such workers the pope as final authority; the literal but there has been and still is the woemethod of Protestantism as influenced ful lack of demand for their employment.

Now, my dear brothers and sisters of In answering these questions, and the Pratt Institute, please study out without the slightest disparagement, I some method by which a demand for educated and cultured speakers can be system of the Pratt Institute is the created and I will guarantee that a sup-Moses Hull method, and that it emply will be forthcoming without waitbodies very largely the extremisms of the Second Advent school of thought or any other. They already exist, but want to be distinctly understood that can get no hearing unless they force J. S. LOVELAND. Summerland, Cal.

THE WIND.

I come, I come: firmatory of the spirit phenomena of The land of the sphinx I call my home, to-day. Any person will perceive, at I fly o'er the desert, and over the sea,

That I may come through, That's in my heart for you. I've been out on the deep at play,

And flashed in and out and wandered all day. I've seen the leviathan, way out in the sea. And watched the flying fish in his play,

The sunset, and the clouds As they sailed through the sky, And the rain drops, too, As they dimpled the sea And I've a story from all for thee.

I've seen the sand in the simoon fly, And watched the struggle, all in vain Warfare of Science With Theology, by Where the nightingale's song lingers long on the air, > date grows fair. The sick man greets me with delight, As his fevered brow I touch at night. For I am the wind, so full and free, And I've been out on the deep all day, And have brought back to the land with

In the land where the palm and the

Some of the freshness of the sea ELNA M. SWERINGEN. Fort Wayne, Ind.

ANGELS.

There are angels and angels-a num berless host Of beautiful butterfly things; But the angel that pleases my fancy the

Is the one without wings Instead of representing education in The sweet kitchen angel, who sings as she plies Her work for the palate's delight.

Is fairer to me, mong her cookies and pies Than one feathered for flight.

O! dear household angel! the lovellest and best! We know that your home is on high; And a fear lurks within us that you like the rest,

May take wing and fly! Let us cherish these dear ones, and bless Nature's plan

For such precious companions thro The mother, the sister, the sweethear of man-

Ah, yes! and his wife! S. HAYFORD. Turtle Bayou, Texas,

Zurilda Wellington.

Her Life in Two Worlds. The Lifting of the Vells

BY MRS. M. PASQUIER CURRAN, MEDIUM, ST. LOUIS, MO.

CHAPTER X .-- Continued.

He then called for Salma, a young ind beautiful woman to come to him, and in a few moments she was at his explain to her your work." This beautiful woman gazed at me for a moment, then, throwing her arms around me for protection and strength, bade me go with her. I do not know in what direction we went, but the atmosphere was so different from what I had strange. Looking at me with the most

"Fear not; I will care for you with a mother's loving care. That you may have a proper understanding of my a spirit, you must first learn why I came here as a teacher, also something of my earth life, its trials passed. I was born in France, during the reign of Louis Phillippe. My father was a court officer; my mother a peasant girl of great beauty. In one of my father's travels through the country he saw my mother tending the flowers in of earth, and ye will hear the garden and became enamored of her great beauty. Knowing that if she discovered his rank and title she would shun him, he disguised himself as a sold me to a heartless, inhuman task loth to return with Reuben to continue search of more revealed truth. master, as his toy and slave, for my my mission in aiding earth's children. beauty. I was like my mother in Reuben said: beauty, with my father's noble (?)

brow. Years of pain and sorrow rolled by, and I sank deeper and deeper in the gulf of ruin until finally I passed from our return that they might learn of our return that they might learn our return that they might learn of our return that they might learn of our return that they might learn of our return that they m earth, but not from earth life.

tion was burned until a refinement of my entire being was accomplished. All "My life on earth was such a mistake" that was debasing and soul-destroying in relation to the true application of was in my nature—an inheritance from my father. The eradication of this to the utmost degree was necessary to the perfection you see I have attained. Beperfection you see I have attained. Between the design of the spirit world, and during this period in the langed of the spirit world, and during this period I had watched over my dear friends on earth with tender care. In one of my control of the spirit world, and during this period in theology's net, that the tangled perfection you see I have attained. Begotten by a father's lustful passion, and at a time when he was reveiling in infamy, I was stamped with his depravity, which clung to me as my very life. Do the teachers of earth know anything about what they preach when they preach when they preach redemption through an infamy p they preach redemption through an incomplete the preach redemption through an incomplete the preach redemption through an incomplete the process of the proc dark life. In this wretched state I poured out my soul to God in prayer, a bishop in the Church of England Thou art the awakener to life—thou art and an angel of light came to me and dried my tears with her white robe. Oh, said I, what must I do to be saved Reuben then said: from this wretched state?' and the angel answered:

within. Thou must atone for the error whole. This is the basis to build upon, of thy earth life in works of charity and love. Purge thyself until thou art free the longings of the human heart, for it for when this freedom comes to thee, links all to God. Man is not a creathou wilt feel the divine within rising thou wilt feel the divine within rising above earth's conditions; it is thou and the store who must work out this free thou alone who must work out this free-

"Will not the redemption work of Jesus Christ avail me?" I asked, and her reply was: 'No, a thousand times no. You must you must follow in his stens.

'I had been reared in the church of Rome, whose baseness and falseness had only added to my guilt. My soul was burdened, and I sought help to do this work of reformation. This is my mission. Look at those little waifs, cut from the parent stem. These I gather agent, subject to laws, and that at the was not lawful man should know, and to my arms and till the immortal germ bar of his conscience he will be held rewithin them with a mother's care. You see I am fitted for this work by rude him to the pure. Teach the young to As the pages of the past were unfolded this school there are many branches or grades and each one takes the place assigned by the law of attraction. There are those who were not wanted by their Great Cause; that he ever was hid in world—prefigured by the arisen Christ, parents; the unborn, who, like the small seed in mother carth's bosom, will ever be able to reach Infinity. Yet tality. Although his Christ had been must be watered and wooed by the there is a great prompter in the soul shrouded in mystery and hidden bedews and the sun's warm breath, to put that will ever urge him on and on in neath the folds of formula and dogmas, forth their leaves and blossoms. take these germs and care for them unsent as angels of love to darkened homes to cheer and guide their parents in earth life. Oh, that mortals could comprehend the power they possess. and develop that power for good, to aid them in their heavenly mission while on earth. The wisdom of God in devel- life in motion; that the power of truth it is taught in the sphere of knowledge, is a subject too vast for the comprehen-

We had now returned to Reuben, and Salma bade me adieu.

The breath of the infinite soul breathed on matter that it might be individualized and evolved through the many gradations that are necessary to a perfect growth in the knowledge of our godlike abilities, will take eternity of each individual; that he, to a degree, to unroll, and I blessed God for such a parental home and birth as had been

CHAPTER XI.

Wisdom's Sphere. f visited other spheres with Reuben. spontaneous. They are the natural promptings of the soul, moved to action by the vibrations of an invisible, uncomprehended power, to love God with all the heart; but no words are uttered,

God, as a personality, I have not seen. Reuben told me that God will be the unsolved problem of eternity. Here the gleamed in this life. Teach man to worinhabitants do not look for a personal ship but one God only—the supreme in-Christ; but all acknowledge one sull many and return to the supreme to the suprem Christ; but all acknowledge one suin man and nature; and that the soul is yearning soul plead in vain? Will the preme power, and obey the command of the temple of this God power. Jesus to love God and "thy neighbor as to this condition of spirituality are from with him—and what can he give in ex- gloom rested on me, and I stretched my luse."

by doing the will of God; by this I mean ward day by day," said Reuben, as he the unfoldment of the divine in man. In bade me begin my mission.

been in that it caused me to feel all. Here our reasoning powers and been in that it caused me to feel all. Here our reasoning powers and been in that it caused me to feel all. Here our reasoning powers and been in that it caused me to feel all. beautiful eyes I had ever beheld, which seemed to flash a depth of love, Salma said:

Salma seemed to flash a depth of love, Salma is eternal. There is an was able to make on a minister who inspiring power that lifts us upward to ward where the light of truth and love his teachings. My silent steps had not never declines; where we may see God been heard by him, nor had he felt the in the freshness of our youth. He hath ethereal touch of my hand on his brow not chosen a few, neither bath he blinded the eyes of the many. Here the siand the privations through which 1 lent influence of a mother is felt. Her thought to place before his hearers on prayers fall like dew on the flowers, that her child on earth may feel God's love warm his heart. It is these mothrealms, that are sending the streams of love earthward. Listen, ye weary ones

"Now I lay me down to sleep,

I pray the Lord my soul to keep." A feeling of deep reflection came over peasant and sought her in marriage, she being ignorant of the true state of through the higher spheres, he leading she being ignorant of the true state of affairs. Not until after my birth did the truth dawn upon her, and when it did, her spirit sank beneath the load of dwell there, but had been permitted to accompany him. My soul expanded as "Is this God speaking to me?" her spirit sank beneath the load of shame he had brought upon her. Not long did she survive the shock, and I was left in my infancy to the shame he had bequeathed me. Of my early life I know but little, and that little was want feet. To no human mind can I picture feet. To no human mind can I picture on me, and my proud, arrogant father dwell in the ligher spheres, and I was blood and courtly bearing, and these cl- this condition will produce a joy and ements made me very attractive to that inhuman monster, for his love, so-called, was only lust. My father did this to hide his shame, and I was taken

This condition will produce a joy and bondage of creeds and beauty. Do you now kindle the fire of indwelling light may idvine love afresh in your soul that you that freedom, I said.

This man's mind we spirit of inquiry tooks.

"But the brand of infamy was on my breath of his love as it fell on me like a

"What an awakening this new life Elon ought to be familiar with all contravels. This surprised me, as I thought was to me! Years were spent in a reditions of life in the various spheres, formatory school and the fire of purga- but this was not the case. In explana-

Let it be remembered that Flon was when he dwelt on earth. Elon is the the conqueror! Fear and terror have name he bears in his mission work.

"Hear my instruction that ye may and a grand truth. It ought to satisfy mind from theological errors, which warp the soul. Fear not to speak the truth. None can progress until they have correct ideas of God. God is love. Instill this potent power in the mind and it will cast out fear. The laws of purge yourself. Jesus led the way, and God are love, and no love is ever lost; it will produce a quickening of the divine to him had been the awakener of all the energy in man. Teach the young to powers of the mind-those faculties think and act aright under all condi- that had slumbered or been lulled by tions. Tell them that memory is the theology to repose, trusting in faith recording angel, and that the records of alone; but now he could see that knowlyouth are the strongest either for good youth are the strongest either for good or evil. Teach man that he is a moral mysteries which theology had taught it sponsible; that purity of life will admit of man's redemption by man himself. confact with earth's dark scenes. In record no act that will have to be to him he could trace the finger of God erased after they have left the shores of on every line and discern the steps of his search to learn more of God. these undesired babes are template the vast fields of knowledge that are spread out before him, that he may see God in them, but that the illimitable is beyond his conception; that he is revealed only in His works; that great truths lie close around him, and to open his heart to them; that love is oping the plan of man's redemption, as will lift him above all evil. Teach all to pray to one universal power that is called God, or the eternal, and to aspire to a noble life; that prayer will draw the soul nearer to god.

"Teach man to read God's message of love to him in the rose, the lily and the sparkling dewdrop as it trembles on the weighed him down. Realizing this leaf. Teach man that he must redeem himself; that each soul is its own savior; that personal holiness is the duty can control his own destiny by calling out his God-given powers; that there is set before him life and good, and that the law of attraction will hold him to his proper sphere; that no one can escape the consequence of a violated law. "Teach that God does not speak to man as of old, in a burning bush, but through the lips of the redeemed ones in this one praise and adoration are of earth—those of thine own household; nor is he asking a burnt heifer or a lamb as a sacrifice; but that you have a contrite heart. Stimulate the divine that is within to realize its divinity, my Calvary. Zurilda, it was you who that the light of God may illuminate rolled the stone from my sepulchre; it their paths. Go ye to those who hunger for the bread of life and feed their mire of spiritual darkness and set them souls with the knowledge you have on the rock of eternal truth. You all parts of the earth and lived there in | change for his soul? Teach man that all ages. Here the mission of Jesus to the departed ones are close to him; earth is understood in a spiritual sense, that friends are whispering to him not as the Christian church teaches it; words of hope and love day by day, and that is at variance with the divine char- that their love is for all time; also that de. Said he to her:

"Take this child to your nursery and plain to her your work."

The heaviful woman gazed at me flower and fruit. Divine love is manified the stream of God's love broaden and flower and fruit. Divine love is manified deeper in your heart as you lead fested in the lives of all who dwell here, the souls of earth's children heaven-this there is a union and a strength of action to promote the highest good of testimony of truth in the soul, but he all. Here our reasoning powers and who lives for himself is dead to that voice and is clouding his own sun.

> as he delved among the musty lore upon his table in search of some new power in my soul to its very depths, and I could awaken in him a responsive chord. As these words fell on his ear he said:

> "Oh, that I could lift the veil that hides divine things and look into the mysteries of the future! Whence comes this desire for that hidden knowledge that is now surging through my brain?"

> Again I said: The voice of the divine spirit is the testimony of truth to the soul, but he who lives for himself is dead to that voice and is clouding his

You have sown the wind, and will only reap the whirlwind, I said. "Has not God revealed his will to and sorrow. Shame and disgrace was the transcendent beauty of those who revelation with his blood?" he asked, as man, and did not Jesus seal this divine he turned the pages of the Bible in Not by his blood, but by the precepts, he divine principles, that he taught "Harmony is a heavenly state and and lived. Release thyself from the bondage of creeds and dogmas, that the indwelling light may lead you into spir-This man's mind was troubled, and a

this to hide his shame, and I was taken from my native land and debased by the higher spheres I could read God's I fed the flame of truth until he was spirit of inquiry took possession of him. this man until, in despair and dread, I mighty truths that flashed in dazzling freed from error. This was my first tribed from him. blessed God that he had been born anew-born of the spirit.

A new life is now in the world, and tides of spiritual thought are sweeping the errors of the past away. It comes to all, and all may be touched by its wand. There need be no desolate or vacant places in the family now, for leath is set aside and life brought face to face with all.

Years of earth's time had passed

"Oh, thou mystery of mysteries! departed, and my loved ones are standing before me, face to face!"
When he recognized me, he said:

answered:

'Redeem thyself, for thy redeemer is the same source, of which God is the deemer. Thou art indeed my savior, my redeemer. Thou didst reveal to me the exdeemer. Thou didst reveal to me the exhaustless fountain of knowledge, of immortal life, and God hath led me through the wilderness to Pisgah's Mount. The seeds that you sowed have burst into bloom. This is indeed the resurrection and the life!"

The bishop was a man of strong and leep feeling, and when his mind was diected to any subject of importance he weighed and examined it until he had a positive knowledge of its true value, thus he was able to solve the vital substance of all that was of value. Death he was not long in arriving at the plan and stained with a martyr's blood for "Teach man to think more; to con- the truth he bore, yet the living Christ came forth from the tomb in new form. In tracing the light of immortality that was the Christ spirit from all eternity, and which did not arise from the tomb, he could now spell out the mission of Zoroaster, Buddha, Confucius and Christ, and sum up from their testimony that they were but the witnesses of the indwelling light in man. In looking back over the years he had spent on earth he saw the barriers he had labored to sustain in the dogmas that did not satisfy the soul's desire for truth.

truth, he saw that under the cross, as souls unquenched? I have risen to under the crescent, blood was shed at mountains crowned with glory and have the behests of jealous fanatics. As he bathed in a sea 62 balmy breezes that viewed these things he said: 'Wisdom has builded her house: she does not apply to me. Oh, God! I was mine, yea, more Whose shall she praise thee for the hour of death; that be on the resurrection morn? I have the house of clay in which I dwelt is dis-often asked myself, and will she be unsolved, and that I now feel the breath of thy pulsing through my being. Could of the spirit are awakened. I now know was you who took my feet from the hangs between us now."

mire of spiritual darkness and set them "Yea," said the bishop, "God hath also warned me by a higher voice to promptings of love that burn in my hands in vain to my loved ones and called them o'er and o'er by name that they might close their arms around me—yet there are other desires and other yearnings to be fuidiled."

"ishop Sutherland," I said, "there is not a desire that is not a good but not a desire that is pure and good but God will, grant, God is the author of all good, and from him all good comes. You are now in a condition to feel your need and to desire more, and this yearning of the soul will be the magnet that will draw you, nearer to God." To this he replied: hen; for out of the mouths of babes and sucklings shall On one of my visits to my earth home

he accompanied me, and when he saw my father in his desolation and unspiritual state he was amazed. Miss Agnes was reading to my father from the prayer book such comforting passages as seemed to fit his case, but he bowed his head and wept, saying, "Me have ye bereaved; all things are against me." "Ah," said the bishop, "earth is but the breath of woe and pain; sad voices are on each breeze."

"Bishop," said I, "the human spirit was placed on earth to meet with trials and overcome them; to rise out of its darkness and attain to the purity and whiteness of the lily. This we must do ourselves. You and others taught my father to rely on another and trust in the purity of that other; see, now, his sad condition.".

"Ah, yes," said he, "man is his brother's keeper when he exercises his powers over him, and thus we, as teachers and guides, do. I am now taking my first lesson in true knowledge. What a child I am, and what a dream earth life is! See how the human mind is played upon by the forces in nature."

"Come with me," I said, "and see if you can learn another lesson." ward, the golden rays from the setting sun rested on the valleys, while the brooks murmured praises, and anthems went up from the broad spreading oak, resounding through all nature. Melody and harmony made this a fitting hour to draw near to those we love on earth, and I sought Albert in his retreat. As I approached him he lifted his head from the book he was reading, while a joyful smile wreathed his countenance.

Then he said: "I feel the breath of an angel fanning childhood hours when I stretched in arms in darkness to meet my loved ones gone before. Just there [pointing could say: Father, it is finished. This triumph led me out into the broad of browledge and from the prompter, and I do not plead in vain. I feel, soft arms closing about me, voices are speaking torme, and peace steals within my bosom.'

Then he looked up to the blue sky, and said, "Thousands may be looking on us, loved ones are near, and the dear ones left behind in darkness are not forgotten. From the realms of glory they see us and love us more. Angel heaven. She plucked the thorns from my path and planted the flowers of undying affection in my soul, spiritualizing my nature and enabling me to over

While Albert was speaking the bishop

"The things which are seen are temporal, but things which are not seen are eternal—are real. Love is the breath, breathed from the lips of God on the souls whom he hath bound to and the cup of love is let down to the gether for all eternity. I now perceive lips of mortals. I have often poured the injustice done and the wrong your | the oil of love into your bruised heart, father was forcing on you—and I was and have wiped from your aching brow aiding him, led on by ambition. I have the dew of unrest that fell from the been tracing the breath of the Infinite soul as its silver cords twine their fibres around your souls, and have watched each key as it strikes in unison these cords, uniting two distinct entities in one indissoluble union. The marriage covenant is a spiritual blending of two souls as one by the law of attraction, each being drawn toward the other, and this bond will resist all other influences—the two mingling as one in mind and spirit. The law of adaptability is not understood by the inhabitants of earth, hence the misery and crime entailed upon each other and the offspring. When man undertakes to controvert the laws of God, or set at naught the law of attraction, he must of necessity suffer. Men trample with impunity on the most sacred rights and feelings of our natures by teaching that God is the author of all unions, without regard to fitness or adaptability, and that he commands this bond to stand for all time."

While the bishop spoke he seemed to be under a new power, and to feel the depth of this truth and realize the beauty of marriage as a spiritual sym-

A song now fell upon his ear-A song which did his spirit fill: And to his soul her voice was clear, From o'er the distant hill.

He sighed and wished him there. "A dream of heaven which I knew-of yore but at its birth riven; oft have I heard thy dear name and voice in the preeze. In my soul a new fire is kindled or re-kindled," said the bishop; then he stood as in meditation, until a form approached him, when he exclaimed: "Ch, blessed be thou of my soul, Ethel my love! God hath restored thee to me in thy glorified state. This is more than my fondest dream ever thought could be realized. Hath Then there came to him the not the passage; through the grave brought thee forth in renewed beauty and new life, and kept the fire in our swept downfifrom your house above but this howr thou hast returned to me hath hewn her seven pillars-but this untouched by the hand of time-all that changed, or can the redeemed in heaven feel the throbs of earthly love again? There are true images of bliss born in the soul, never to be erased. I have found what I have sought; now there is no veil over the future."

"We shall never be quite alone, you and I," said Ethel, "but as we were on earth, so shall we ever be. This is the realm of the real; no veil of separation recompensed my soul with a full measure of love. Like the Hebrew of old I have tried to have no other gods, have broken the old fighs and old hopes, and crushed out many desires, but this love

Ethel gazed at him compassionately | TO WOMEN WHO DREAD MOTHERHOOD! for a moment, then said: "James Sutherland, when we parted at the rectory and I gave up my young life as a sacrifice to the wishes of your ambitious father, all hope fled from my heart, and in utter despair and grief I became ungrateful to God and mourned that he had endowed me with such strong and tender feelings and allowed me to twine the fibres of my soul around one of his chosen vessels. What, then, was life to me? Nothing, and I prayed that I might die, for as a sacrifice my life on earth had been given. Yes, as of old, fire seemed to come down from heaven and burn my offering. But from that silent altar there has ever gone forth an incense of purification that has led you, as you journeyed through earth life, to your present soul development, like the pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night. With what bitterness of soul have I stood by your side and lifted your drooping spirits when the waves of adversity rolled over you. It was I who lifted from your shoulder that clerical robe which designated you a bishop in the Church of England—a robe which hung like a pall of darkness over your hung like a pall or darkness over your spiritual development. Oh, the long years I labored to bring you to where you now stand. Like a priest at the soul's altar have I stood. You could never have come forth to this degree of development and he specialled in your development and be sustained in your spiritual growth without the rough contact with matter. God has permitted you to unfold in the mould of matter manipulated by angel hands. Have I been idle? No, but have tolled for the captive in the cabin and the palace, and would have dashed from your hands the uplifted chalice that symbolized a martyr's death to truth. James, I have knelt at many altars-at Allah's, Vishnu's, Brahma's, Jehovah's, but there is It was evening's quiet hour, and nature was radiant with garments of spring, shedding her perfumed breath soul's altar, where soul speaks to soul of praise abroad. A dazzling light of in an inaudible tongue. And canst thou splendor fell on the towering mount find out God? What can ye know of ains as they lifted their brows heaven. Him? The dream of infinity rolls outword forever, and you, with others who chanted peans to the Man of Sorrows, have not seen the living Christ that dwells within; at the border line your faith perished. Millions have come through the same channel to where I now stand. Ah, at every step of my pilgrimage I could trace faint lines of the infinite, breathed on my soul, for I had been purged in the fire of purgation ere I left the mortal form. Entombed in matter and immured in earthly things, my spirit struggled through darkness my brow, and memory brings back my as do the flowers to raise their gorge-childhood hours when I stretched my ous heads, until I felt the divine within church, whose spires pointed heavenward but to mock the teachings of the Man of Sorrows, to push the Magdalens into the gutter and cry out, I am holier than thou! Ah, James, these things will eat into the conscious soul as each one judges him or herself in the light of the spirit world.

"Yes, you and all others who have led the pilgrim of adversity in the wilones cross the nortal to meet and greet derness of dogma and creed on earth, us. She is here; I feel her presence. must go back to earth and unbind these Did only John and Paul see the heav- slaves to these dogmas and creeds as ens open? Why do men shut their eyes | well as to your model of God. Can you and steel their hearts against God's recognize the simple and sublime teachmessengers and bar out the loved ones? | ings of Jesus with the solemn pomp of I can see the outstretched arms of an the priest who, in stately ceremony, gels to-night, and feel a magnetic thrill | waits upon the Lord in temples made of love in answer to my human need. It by hands, and who claims that a sacred was Zurilda who led me to living fountains that my soil might dripk of the water of life and feed on the bread of in the teachings of Jesus. How, then can you make your thirty-nine articles? Does salvation belong to temples framed by hands? No! Your office as shepherd and bishop of a parish did not allow you to let your inner life be known, and you often smothered the dilistened with closest attention; then he vine flame of guidance that was burning said:

| vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burning said: | vine flame of guidance that was burn noiseless feet into the chamber of the soul and, as a silent guest, read the hid den record there. There are heart strings played upon by angel hands, clouds of unrequited love. "James, did you indulge the delusion that the marriage contract, held by your church as an ordinance of God was strong enough to hold such a com-bination of elements as were contained in you and Celia-the woman whom you took as your wife? Time is the crucible that tries those bonds, and separates such substances as will not combine. The innate elements in our be ings are governed by the law of affinity -mutual attraction that forms a union. as in chemicals. The adverse conditions that swent around your earth life were brought about by the ambition and avarice of your family. I need not say more on this subject than to call your attention to your son Louis, who possesses elements in his being that will not harmonize.'

Then turning to me, Ethel said: "Zurilda, you were plucked as brand from the fire by angel hands." (To be continued.)

A Constipation Cure

That Actually Cures. is Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine. It is not merely a relief. It permanently cures any kind of a case of constipation, no matter of how long standing. It is not a purgative nor an irritant cathar-These simply lash and hurt the bowels and bring but temporary relief. The condition left behind is worse than the first. Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine does just the opposite. It is tonic laxative of the highest order. It tones, strengthens and gives new life and vigor to the bowels. Only one small dose a day removes all the causes of the trouble, and leaves the bowels well and able to move themselves without the aid of medicines. It cures dyspepsia, kidney and liver troubles, indigestion, headaches, catarrh of the stomach, and all other diseases and conditions growing out of a clogged condition of the system. Try it free. A sample bottle for the asking. Vernal Remedy Co., 166 Seneca Bldg., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all leading druggists.

"Talmagean Inanities, Incongruities inconsistencies and Blasphemies; a Review of Rev. T. DeWitt and Rev Frank DeWitt Talmage's oft-repeated attacks upon Spiritualism." By Moses Hull. For sale at this office. Price ten cents.

"Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental Suggestion." By Newton N Riddell. A most excellent work for all who have the care or training of chiliren. Price 65 cents. "Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth."
By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of a strong, logical thinker, on a deeply important subject. Price, cloth, $1. "Never-Ending Life Assured by Science." By Daniel Kent Tenney. strong and conclusive argument from the basis of science. For sale at this office. Price 6 cents. "The Light of Egypt." Volumes 1 phy. Price $2 per volume. For sale at this office.

information How They May Cive Birth to Happy, Healthy Children Absolutely With-out Pain-Sept Free.

Ser Pain—Seat Free.

No woman used any longey dread the pains of shild-birth, or remain childless. Dr. J. H. Dye has devoted his life to relieving the sorrows of women. He has proved that all pain at childbirth may be entirely banished, and he will gladly tell you how it may be done absolutely free of charge, and your name and address to Dr. J. H. Dye, Box is beafalo, N. Y., and he will send you poplaid, his wonderful book which tells how to give birth te kepty, healthy children, absolutely without paint free, how to oure sterility. Do not delay, but Schot oday.

SPIRITUAL HARP A collection of Vocal Music for the Choir, Congregation and Social Circles. By J. M. Peebles and J. O. Barrett, E. H. Bailey, Musical Editor.
New edition. Culled from a wide field of literature with the most critical care, free from all theological bias, throbbing with the soul of inspiration, embodying the principles and virtues of the spiritual philosophy, set to the most cheerful and popular music (nearly all original) and adapted to all occasions, it is doubtless the most attractive work of the kind ever published. Its beautiful songs, duets and quartets, with piano, organ or melodion accompaniment, adapted both to public meetings and the social circles. Cioth, $1.25; postage, it conts.

Maitese Watch Charm. Mailess Watch Charm.

PRIONS:—Badge Pin. $1.50: Lapel Button. $1.50: Stuniower Brooch, $4.00: Maltese Charm. $5.00: Maltese Pendant, $5.00. This Jowelly needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL.

BY J. CLEGG WRIGHT.

This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of mind. Bound in cloth, $i. For sale at this office.

DEATH ITS MEANING and Results.

By J K Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting narrative relating a scries of wonderful psychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, illustrated, $1.25.

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth By Prof. W. M. Lockwood,

A masterly presentation of an important subject. A powerful argument along new and scientific lines, establishing on a scientific basis the fact of the continuity of personal individual conscious scifuod after laying asido the physical body. A book of rare value. With several fine illustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous A pamphlet of 82 pages, com

Conspiracy piled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains disclosures relative to a villatuous plot to overthrow our free government. Price, 15 cents ROMANISM Is a passibiled of 80 pages, in EXPOSED reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Protostantism. A concise little pamphlet. Price 15 cents. Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers.

Spirit World Associate of King's College, for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE SOUL TITS NATURE, RE-LATIONS AND EX-PRESSIONS IN HUMAN EMBODIMENTS. Third edition now on sale. Price $1.00. This is one of the best books given by the guides of Mrs Cora L. V. Richmond.
They are really lessons, published primarily, as a book of reference for those who have been members of the classes receiving them. This volume is a careful compilation from reports of lessons, containing the bases of the teachings.

Modern MODERN CARPENTRY PRED T. HODGBON FRED T. HODOBON A Practical

Just Published By Fred T. Hodgson, M. O., A. A.

The well-known Technical writer. It is one o the best works ever turned out by him. Co ously illustrated with diagrams and figur making the most intricate problems simplified and easily understood. Price, $1.00.

DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis. An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents.

The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.
A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J.
Colville. Limp closh, 50c.

A Conspiracy Against the Republic By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS.

It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet is written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents. ANCIENT INDIA, its Language and Religions. By Prof. H. Olden-berg. Paper, 25 cents. Apollonius of Tuana Identified as the wonderful communication, explaining how his life and tenchings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents.

COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 cents.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED. The imost important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sincere hope that you are earnestly looking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration if such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you, and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful perusal. Price, $1.50.

Talleurand's Letter to the Pope. This work will be found especially interesting to all who would desire to make a study of Romanism and the Bible. The historic facts stated, and the keen, teathing review of Romish ideas and practices should be read by all. Price PR cents.

FORCE and Matter By Ludwig Buech-book. A profound work upon a profound sub-ject. Price, cloth, $1.00.

The Religion of Spiritualism. Its Phonomena and Philosophy. By the Rev. Samuel Watson. This work was written by a modern Savior, a grand and noble man. Price, $1.00. A valuable book for the money.

ASTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M.D. Avaluable contribution to the current discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plansiphere (a representation of the celestial sphere upon a plans with adjustable circles), truces most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facts given possess great value, the illustrations rare and curious. The book is bound in only one style—heavy boards. Price 81.

Views of Our Heaveniu Home.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by en press. If you do not receive your order promptly by mail, inquire at the express

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in their

Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premium Books unless you send in with your ore der a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker.

Remember, please, that the safes? way to make a remittance is to secure a postal order.
Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER TERMS. You must send $1 for The Progressive Thinker when you order on more premium books. Please one or more premium books. Please bear this in mind. Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing divect with this office, instead of through a news agent.

Every person who sends in a yearly subscription to The Progressive Thinker can have until further notice, the two following books for 25 cents each: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Seers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Prosent," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exceedingly valuable, and though widely ilfferent, each one fills an exceedingly important niche in the literature of Spiritualism.

If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents. If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is

We have TEN Premium Books only, and you can select from them as follows: Any three of the ten Premium Books

you may order, price $1.10.

Any four of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.50. Any five of the ten Premium Books you may order, prico $1.80. Any six of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.10. Any seven of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.35.

Any eight of the ten Premium books

you may order, price $2.65. Any nine of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.90.

Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced are sent out, all postago prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following is

TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS FOR $3.10.

he list:

1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1. 2-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 8. 4—Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism. 5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occult-

The Next World Interviewed. 7-The Occult Life of Jesus. 8-A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands. 9-The Religion of Man and Ethics of

10-Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present. Read This Carefully Before Re-

Remitting. When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are elevating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar for The Progressivo Thinker. These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10, a price which modern machinery and enterprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. Sending out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter. In conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, illustrating the great bargain you are getting—a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plans.

CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science":
"Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 8. The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select among our list of premiums.

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

The clear and very interesting account of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that tragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corrupion that exists in that church, and its iniquitous methods and aims.

It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic American, and by every one who would be well informed concerning the evil works and designs of the Romish hierarchy. it is a large volume of 282 pages.

Sales II., She

Bables Dying in Infancy May Hereafter Be Saved.

The Presbyterian General Assembly recently convened at Los Angeles, Cal., and revised their creed. Predestina tion—On this dogma the creed remains unchanged, but sets forth the fact that the chapter is held to be in harmony with God's desire for the salvation of all men and that no man is condemned except on the ground of his sin.

Infant damnation-The declaration as adopted sets forth the doctrine that all infants dying in infancy are included within the election of grace and are therefore saved.

Now let us briefly investigate the Presbyterian creed as recently amend-First. God predestinates a part of the human family to eternal torment before they are born, and he takes as much pleasure in eternally burning those whom he has elected and foreordained to be sent to hell as he does in saving the few he elected to salvation. Second. It is every man's own fault that he is damned. Again. Man is conceived in iniquity and born in sin because of Adam's fall; all men should be damned and all are in the power of Satan, but God plucks a few from the burning "for his own good pleasure." The number to be saved and the number to be damned was definitely fixed from the beginning and cannot be increased nor diminished." God calls on all men to repent but elected from before the foundation of the world just who would repent and who would not.

Great doctors of divinity see justice and logic in this, but the writer sees ally contradiction and gross injustice, If a father were to chain his child to a stake, put shackies upon him, bind him so he could not move, then command him to get up and come to him, and threaten if he did not, he would burn him up, that father would be regarded as a fieldish monster, and he would be such; but these foreordination clergymen represent God as infinitely more unjust and malignant than such a parent. The mortal body would soon be consumed and the outraged child released from suffering.
In the case of the Presbyterian God

he is not satisfied to annihilate the child unborn he predestined to be burned, but tortures him throughout

But our friends of the cruel creed have finally taken one advanced step. Prior to this Los Angeles meeting, tender babies were sent to hell "for God's good pleasure," but hereafter they shall be saved. That discovery will be hailed with delight by Presbyterian mothers whose tender babes now die

I am glad of that, but as I think of the unutterable anguish suffered in the from all that is gross and unspiritual, past by affectionate mothers who were taught that "God held non-elect infants in the tongs of his wrath and plunged them into eternal burning while they splt venom in his face," I cannot suppress an emotion of deep sympathy for those mothers; and pity and indignation toward Calvin and Jonathan Edwards and other early theologians whose minds were so beclouded and whose sense of justice was so distorted that they promulgated the illogical, unjust, and fiendish doctrine of total depravity and the election of part of the human family to eternal punishment.

The world of mankind progresses slowly—oh, so slowly, and the clergy brings up the rear. This is so because they worship the past; all revelation from their standpoint ended two thousand years ago: the writings of the ancients are infallible; hence they have always opposed inventions and new discoveries, and broader conceptions of religion. Years ago the laity of the Presbyterian church repudiated infant damnation, but the clergy until now, refused to eliminate it from the creed. Let all the liberal-minded rejoice that even the ministers can be compelled by the intelligences of the masses to occasionally take a forward step. The pews, after a long and hard struggle have forced the pulpit to abandon the dogma trine of total depravity, election and dation stones of their theological sys-R. A. DAGUE. Alameda, Cal.

WHAT ARE TEARS?

These are the blown spindrift that is lashed from the face of the waters That cover the Soul with Care; These are the children of Sorrow, these are the sons and the daughters Sped forth from thy house, Despair! Spray that is flung on the desolate cliffs from the deeps of the sea-sources To lie, like a veil, on our biers;

Children that follow the plumes and the step of the stately black horses; mourners, sure comforters-Tears! -Will H. Ogilvíe.

Tears.

Tears are but the blessed raindrops from a dark and clouded sky: They are water to the spirit that with sunlight has gone dry; They are dewdrops, sweetest moisture to the verdure of the soul; Just a needed irrigation from life's flowing fountain bowl.

When the soul is full of sorrow and the heart bowed down in woe, There is such sublime fruition in a tearful overflow. When the cloud of anguish hovers o'er the spirit deep in gloom, Gentle teardrops are so welcome to hope's smothered, hindered bloom. Ah! sweet, blessed tears of heaven flowing o'er life's lonely vale, Slake the thirst of passioned nature when some awful woes prevail. Next to sleep and rest and joy are tears a healing balm, And to a spirit tempest-tossed they always bring a calm.

Little teardrops are a blessing to a soul that cannot rise,

They bring back a little sunlight to the cloudy, murky skies. So refreshing and reviving to the withered leaves of life: So consoling, so composing to the mind in pain and strife. DR. T. WILKINS.

"Beyond the Vall." A Sequel to "Rending the Vail." Being a compila-tion, with notes and explanations, of narrations and illustrations of spirit experiences, spoken, written and made by full-form materializations; setting up a scientific and personal verification of "What We Shall Be," and a code of ethics, requisite to the most speedy realization of the highest and purest fe-licity attainable in the future life. A very remarkable book. Large, octavo, 500 pages. Price, $1.75. "Just How to Wake the Solar Plexus." By Elizabeth Towne. Valuable for health, Price 25 cents,

SLOWLY PROGRESSING. | IMPORTANT MATTER FROM OUR FOREIGN EXCHANGES

BOURNE. AUSTRALIA.

Praise for Mr. Leadbeater.

broader than that occupied by the somewhat hackneyed themes of Reinears and eyes, in Theosophic oratory and literature. Mr. Leadbeater's lectures are interesting; he speaks as one who knows, though he does not tell us how his knowledge was obtained or does he claim inspiration; the charm in in his undogmatic tone, and in the kindly and tolerant way in which he refers to others holding different views. Among the latest which have reached us is one entitled "Life After Death— The Heaven World," published in The Progressive Thinker, (Chicago), January 12, which is particularly interesting as showing the rapprochement of Theosophy towards Spiritualism and defect in the plate. the broadening of its teaching during the past twenty years, especially during the past decade. Twenty years ago it was authoritatively affirmed that Spiritualism had no philosophy, and that its manifestations were due to not the spiritualism to the spiritualism had no philosophy, and the spiritualism had no philosophy and t that its manifestations were due to pisachas and elementaries, and, with the exception of a very low order (including suicides) and Nirmanakayas (or adepts) who had transferred themselves to the spiritual plane, the average human spirit neither could, or desired, to communicate with its friends on the earth plane; the inference being that all the reputed spirit teachings and communications were worthless. Since the publication of "Fragments of Occult Truth," in which the foregoing affirmations appeared, the spirit world and actual apirit communion has been gradually recognized by enlightened Theosophists, and the lecture we have before us might, with the excision of only a few lines, have been published as a Spiritualistic one. It affirms heaven as a condition rather than a locality-the uplifting of the consciousness to a plane of existence consonant with the highest aspirations of the individual—this is the teaching of cul-tured Spiritualists; and after explaining how this takes place subsequent to the dissolution of the earthly body and translation of the ego to the astral plane, where it commences to withdraw itself the speaker says: "The whole astral life is in fact a constant process of withdrawal, and when in the course of time the soul to it in just the same way as he did to ralist, having affirmed that he obtained the physical plane. This is to say he at Hudson's the portrait of his mother, casts off his body of that plane, and leaves it behind him while he passes on to higher and still fuller life." Here we have progress in the spirit world and apparently, by the context, a re-embodiment; but not in the gross -matter of this world, for the ego is referred to as the man "waking gradually," and though the astral world has been one of intense vividness and reality this higher world is more intense; ator. 'this in a world in which every being must, from the very fact of his consciousness there, be enjoying the highest spiritual bliss of which he is capable—a world whose power of response and the figure was unknown to him. to his aspirations is limited only by On returning home, he learned that the his capacity to aspire." And yet a little portrait was that of the wife of Mr. Bonfurther on it is hinted that we have to her. This gentleman was informed turn back and retrace our steps to this through a medium, by his wife, that if grossly material world, merge our he would go to Mumler's he would obselves into an earthly form, and lose tain a second portrait. He did so, and our personal identity and memory of it was strikingly like the first. M. Deall this bliss. We cannot take the hint, lanne projected both these and a phoso do not entertain it but pass on to where the speaker tells us of more her life-time upon the screen, and the cheering and soul satisfying things, resemblance between all three was very of "infant damnation." The next great contest will probably be over the docloved ones in this grander life, whether reprobation, and endless torment. The amid all this unimaginable splendor clergy may be expected to fight for they will look in vain for the familiar these precious doctrines to the last faces without which all would to them These constitute the chief foun- seem vanity? And the answer is un qualifiedly in the affirmative. "The friends will be there without the least shadow of doubt, and far more fully far more really, than ever they have been with us yet." Thanks for this, Mr. Leadbeater, thanks for this Spiritualistic jewel, one of the brightest and most precious in the spiritual diadem; set it in your Theosophic badges, it will comfort many a bereaved one. He tells us, too, of Bach, of Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Handel, Mozart and Rossini, who are there "not dead but full of vigorous life, and ever pouring forth far grander strains, for more glorious harmonies than they did on earth." If this is Theosophy, we give it a whole-souled welcome, and will not object to a few doctrines that are not obligatory. Such good news about the "world to come," with the knowledge that the enoyment of it must be earned by good living in this one, will have a tendency to elevate mankind and give him a foretaste of the world referred to, which Andrew Jackson Davis calls the Summer Land. Spiritualism in Brazil.

We find in the "Revista Espirita," Spiritual which is published every month at Porto Alegro, in the State of Rio Grande, in the Republic of Brazil, the report of an address upon Spiritualism. which Senhor Luiz de Franca Almerda Sa delivered at the request of the Historical and Geographical Institute of Professor Marzorati, contributed to by Brazil, to the members of that association. In this discourse, the learned other highly educated writers, and is speaker gave a great deal of information with respect to two Indian tribes, the Charentes and the Caraes Apinages. inhabiting the valleys of Araguaye and Tocantis, who are, and appear to have been for many centuries past, devout of Spiritualism. And the lecturer men-tioned that in the house of His Excel-Indian medium named Guido, who lived another on true religion, by A. J. An in the sierras of Matto Grosso, had drew (Andrew Jackson Davis), is brillnever had the slightest instruction in | iant with noble and genial ethico-moral drawing or painting; and died at the aspirations." early age of ten years.

The mere fact that a scientific society solicited a well-known Spiritualist to address it on such a subect is a very significant one, as showing how much more liberal and progressive the Brazilians are than the people of Australia. We observe, in a recent edition of the 'Reformador," of Rio Janeiro, that the sum of £1,140 has been already subscribed for the issue of a centenary and £400 for that of a popular edition of the works of Allan Kardec, in Brazil. Nowhere does Spiritualism appear to e making more rapid advances than in Spanish and Portuguese South America.

Photographing the invisible. for the Study of Psychic Phenomena." but it will serve. recently organized in the great hall of HARBINGER OF LIGHT, MEL- the Agricultural Society in Paris, a lecture with lantern illustrations by M. Gabriel Delanne. It attracted a brilliant audience. From a condensed report of the lecture, which appears in the January number of the "Revue Scien-Mr. C. W. Leadbeater, a prominent

Mr. C. W. Leagneater, a production tinque et morate du spiritable, de English Theosophist, who is touring row the following passages; merely English Theosophist, who is touring America, has been lecturing there on a variety of subjects akin to Theosophy and Spiritualism, covering a field far thing he says to a respectful hearing, the says to a respectful hearing. took care to quote no instances of spirit carnation, Karma, and the Secret Doctrine, which so frequently meet our gentlemen of unimpeachable integrity, and such as were sustained by contemporary testimony.

He dealt in the first place with the researches of Mr. Beattie and of Dr. Thomson. Mr. Beattie is a photographer who has retired; and wishing to how it can be verified, nor in any of assure himself of the reality of these phenomena, he secured the co-operation them lies in the heauty of his diction, Butland, and the experiments took of one of his friends, a medium named place in the studio of M. Jotsy, which was placed at his disposal. The dark room of which Mr. Beattie availed himself was constructed especially for the purpose, and allowed of his obtaining three negatives from the same pose, which excluded, in case of an abnormal luminous impression the objection of a > them cloudy figures, invisible to the naked eye, but sufficiently real to mask obects which were behind them. The medium and Mr. Josty, frequently described beforehand the appearance of these fluidic clouds, and the photographic plate invariably confirmed the reality of their visions. The luminous force seemed to emanate from the stomach of the medium. (And here the present writer will interpose a few words which may throw some light upon the locality of this emanation. Many years ago, when seated in Dr. Motherwell's circle, he asked the spirit of Dr. Elliotson to explain the purpose and uses of the suprarenal capsules in the human system; and he immediately replied, "They are reservoirs of mag-One saw very clearly, thanks to the projections, that form of energy which not only produces an impression on the photographic plate, but equally moves the table.

M. Delanne exhibited the two photographs obtained by Col. de Rochas with M. Gailhard, director of the Opera, when his subject, Lena, was in a state of trance. One can very well comprehend now that if the spirits have a capacity capable of reflecting, they can give their image by a process analogous to that which is obtained by means of ordinary light.

The orator recalled the fact of Dr. who had been dead for many years, and that it was recognized by his brother and his wife, both of whom were prejudiced against Spiritualism. Dr. Thomson, of Edinburgh, likewise obtained a portrait of his own mother who had died 40 years previously, and which was identified not only by himself but by her brother who was still living. In this case, Dr. Thomson was the oper-

Mr. Bromson Murray was apprised that if he would sit at Mumler's in New York, there would come, on his own portrait, that of a spirit wife. He did so, tograph of Mrs. Bonner, taken during

"Medlumship."

This is the title of a new monthly review of experimental Spiritualism and of the moral and psycho-physical scinces, edited by Signor Enrico Carreras, of which the first number has just reached us. It is published at No. 43 Via Aurora, Rome. The title (La Medianita was adopted in deference to the wishes of some influential friends in Genoa, and because this seems to have been the designation of a famous book from the pen of Dr. Paolo Visani-Scozzi, which is said to have had a large sale He both in Italy and other European countries; but which we have not been fortunate enough to fall in with.

Signor Carreras announces himself as convinced Spiritualist; and he is evidently one of the best kind, because he tells us that his convictions on the subject were "acquired after long years of struggles and doubts and after an accurate examination of the most important phenomena" of the science. His faith rests upon observed facts, and he intends to remain, he says, in the field of experiment, and only to publish communications and reports of phenomena which have been obtained under such conditions and subject to such rigorous control as to ensure their genuineness; for he agrees with Allan Kardec that Spiritualism must be either scientific or

"As Others See Us."

It is pleasant and encouraging to find ourselves thus spoken of in the "Luce e Ombra" of Milan, which is edited by gressive cities in Northern Italy: "The Harbinger of Light is likewise a monthiy review in the English language of a somewhat more accentuated spiritual tone (that the Psychishe Studien pre believers in all the fundamental truths viously noticed), but always written with great acumen and nice choice The scientific part is not neglected lency General Mello Rego, the walls of but occupies a larger space, and in the his reception room are decorated with a December number the first place is due number of artistic and beautiful de to an excellent lecture by Dr. Peebles signs, executed under impression by an on the psychic forces in healing, and

> "On Earth Peace, Good Will Toward Men."

The following excerpt is from an ar ticle in the last issue of The Progressive Thinker, referring to the Bible:

"It were time to lay aside the cold book...(it is) a history of the bloodiest ages of the past and the sooner the world loses all trace of those things the sooner will come 'peace on earth and good, will toward men.'"

Such is the beauty and potency of thousands of passages in the "old book" that even those who ("lay it aside" quote them while condemning it. Bro. Under this title the "French Society Wilkins' quotation is not quite exact,

W. F. PECK.

St. Louis, Mo.

SCIENCE: =

Startling Advance oin othe Same.

achievements of the nineteenth century, especially in the domain of applied science and invention, it seems certain that they will be far surpassed by those of the century just begun. The discoveries now foreshadowed by investigators in various fields promise to carry scientific research into an unknown realm beyond the horizon now bounding human knowledge If the past has been concerned with the revelation of new forces and their possible uses the future is to disclose the secret of those forces and the part they play in the scheme of nature. If the investigations recently undertaken by Prof. Loeb and others promise to lay bare the secret of life itself, the disclosures now made by Prof. and Mme Curie of France in connection with the new substance, radium, promise to revolution-ize the world's theory as to the origin, nature and evolution of the material

In the new substance, radium, together with the similar substances, poonium, actinium and uranium, the scientists seem to have discovered properties more mysterious and wonderful than those once attributed to the magic preparations of the alchemists. Radium, it has been proved, will emit rays of energy continuously and spontaneously for an indefinite length of time. Preparations of radium left in a dark room for a period of two years have remained luminous, losing none of their power to give of light by virtue of some property in themselves. Like the X-rays, the energy emanating from radium is capable of penetrating through dense and opaque substances and producing images on a photographic plate. Objects have thus been radiographed after having been wrapped in heavy rugs and placed in a trunk, the whole process being conducted in a room from which all light had been excluded.

Marvelous as are the properties belonging to the substance, they are less important than the new theories to which they point. The old theory of science which regarded atoms as indivisible units of matter has to give way to a new theory in which each atom is conceived of as a system of infinitely smaller units mysteriously kept in motion—a reproduction on an infinitesimal scale of the same phenomena and the same forces which govern the infinitely greater bodies of the universethe fixed stars and their circling planets-in their movement through unending space.

To show with what vast strides science is progressing one has only to compare the nature of the problems suggested to-day with those under discussion ten years ago. Such achievements as the X-ray and the wireless telegraph were unknown then. To-day they are accepted facts. Now comes radium and with its discovery the probability of a revolutionary change in the whole philosophy of the scientists-Chicago News.

Spiritualism vs. Skepticism. Since Brother W. F. Jamieson has seen fit to attack my position on the subject of skepticism in its relation to Spiritualism, it may not be amiss to keep it before the readers of The Pro-Progressive Thinker a little longer. Brother Lyman C. Howe, in a letter to this paper, published in its last issue (June 27), asks some very pertinent questions bearing upon this discussion, which should have occupied a more prominent place in it than was given to it. Fearing it may have escaped the notice of many readers, I will reproduce it.

"Lyman C. Howe writes from Fredonia, N. Y.: 'I read Prof. Jamieson's donia, N. Y.: 'I read Prof. Jamieson's comments on Dr. Sweringen's view of skepticism, and saw the same tendency so common among the class of critics who have nothing to affirm. and are who have nothing to affirm, and are forever beating about the bush for something to talk about without saying anything. I like Jamieson, but he seems to have lost his balance in his search for annihilation. Dr. Sweringen's rejoinder in the last Progressive Thinker, impresses me as logical, consistent and forcible. Hyper-skeptical negations are often as absurd and illogical as any religious creed. Does Prof. Jamieson require personal observa-tion of all facts before he accepts them? Did he ever see a murder committed? Does he think there ever was one? Did he ever look at Venus through Ga ileo's telescope? Does he believe that Galileo did? or that he ever had a telescope? Did he ever witness the fall of a meteoric rock? Does he believe there ever was one that visited the earth? Dr. Sweringen's position seems to me well taken and impregnable."

Right here, in this connection, let me quote the words of a scientific writer, who, like Brother Jamieson, was not a Spiritualist:

"The man who denies the phenomena of Spiritualism to-day is not entitled to be called a skeptic; he is simply ignorant, and it would be a hopeless task to attempt to enlighten him. But I shall attempt to explain their origin on other grounds than the supposition that they are caused by the spirits of the dead. In other words, I admit the the dead. In other words, I admit the alleged phenomena but deny the alleged cause."-Thomson J. Hudson (Law of Psychic Phenomena, page 206.)
The difference between Mr. Jamieson

and Mr. Hudson, then, is that the former is a skeptic in relation to the occurrence of the phenomena, and, therefore, likewise to their cause, and the latter is skeptical in regard to their alleged cause only. Think of it! Two skeptics on the subject of Spiritualism; the one rejecting, the other accepting its phenomena as genuine. The latter skeptic calls the former skeptic "ignorant" and thinks "it would be a hopeless task to attempt to enlighten him. Well, let these skeptics fight it out among themselves. H. V. SWERINGEN.

Trembling for Sinners. Robbie belonged to a severely orthodox family. He was taught "to fear nothing and trust God. He often heard his grandfather remark that, he "trembled for sinners," and this expression saved Robbie in an hour of need. One night there was a terrific thunder-storm. Robbie stood it as long as possible, then fled to his mother's room. "Robbie, are you afraid?" asked she.
"No, ma'am."

"You know, God can take care of you as well in the storm as at other times?" "Oh, yes!"

"Then what are you shaking for?" "Mother, I was thinking of sinners, and I thought'I would come down and tremble with you for them."-Exchange. "Right Generation the Key to the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth." By and man's highest aspirations. A plea for justice and equality in all the relations of life between men and women. Cloth. 75 cents; lentherette, 50 cents.

Dr. M. E. Conger. An appeal to reason

"The Kingship of Self-Control." By "The Kingship of Self-Control." By Wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape duty, the supreme charity of the world, the revelation of reserve power, etc. Price 30 cents. For sale at this office. Progressive Thinker.

Christianity-Spiritualism and Skepti-Wonderful as were the scientific The Christian has insisted all through the ages that faith is sufficient. When Spiritualism came half a century ago it proclaimed the necessity for knowledge. On that issue thousands, aye, millions, left the church and became Spiritualists.

The sermon and the Sunday-school drilled the idea into the human mind that on the question of future conscious existence the present generation needs no knowledge; but has an unquenchable thirst for faith, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." This is the corner-stone of Christian theology. Upon it rests innumerable absurdities. Your thorough-going Spiritualist does not predicate his Spiritualism on the Bible; upon the story of resurrection of Jesus Christ; upon Enoch's flight to heaven; upon Elljah's automobile journey to the skies; upon the "return" of Moses and Elias. All that, he knows, is "hear-say;" he knows that millions of "parents" have been "mistaken, deluded, hypnotized, or in some way ceived by their own senses." Can this be denied? They have frequently been mistaken, "deceived by their own senses," while witnessing natural phenomena, how much more by "spiritual?" No skeptic says it follows that our parents were deceived about everything. My attention is called to two questions.

"1. My parents observed in November, 1838, a meteoric shower. I have never witnessed such a spectacle. Am therefore to infer that my parents never did, but were mistaken, deluded, hypnotized, or in some way deceived by their own senses?" No. Now, show me the logical connection between that and Number "2. I have witnessed a genuine ma terialization." Millions witnessed the meteoric shower, an astronomical fact about which there is no doubt. When it comes to materializations a few, here and there, "witness" them under circumstances which cast doubt over all. Thousands of Spiritualists reject mate rialization as unscientific, unproved.

But I am told: "My description of it eaves no room for the most insignificant, technical, skeptical quibble. It cannot be explained in any other manner than that I am deliberately falsifying in making it, or that it is true as represent it."

As I said in a former letter: "I do not question his veracity." On the other hand it does not logically follow that what he claims is true. Some of the worst mistaken people I ever knew were those who were certain that they could not be mistaken. A distinguished lecturer in Boston recognized his own departed wife fully materialized, would swear it was her. He admitted afterwards, "that his senses were completely deceived." I have known people who had such unbounded confidence in a medium, especially a trusted relative, that "overwhelming evidence" to the contrary weighed nothing! They trust, in that case, in the erson, not the manifestation.

It is not safe to be always sure. I am lad that Spiritualists reject the infallibility of the pope; but any Spiritualist who says he cannot be mistaken about the cause of the phenomena of Spiritualism makes a pope of himself. Robert Dale Owen, one of the noblest men that ever became a Spiritualist. was just this kind of a pope for a short time. He declared that it was a physical impossibility for any human being to simulate the "Katie King" he saw so "precise," he said, were the "conditions" that he not only "saw and heard" her, but "four or five hundred others"

"precise conditions." I trust I have fractured no law by writing a "disquisition" upon skepti-cism, faith, knowledge—especially since our good friend Sweringen in his second letter admits their importance and necessity. As the great distinction between Christianity and Modern Spiritualism was that the latter was based upon present day revelations, while Christianity perpetually points to the past; its injunction for centuries: "Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." But Spiritualism has emphasized the necessity for direct revelations now, and that the "Book of Revelation" should never be closed. No man's testimony, even when he knows he is not "deliberately falsifying" (and no one would intimate that either Owen or Sweringen would bear false witness) is equal to direct revelation from a spirit. Nor does it follow that because the witness is perfectly honest that his testimony is infallibly true. I am one of those who think that Spiritualists are as sincere, or truth-loving, as any class on the globe

W. F. JAMIESON. Cincinnati, Ohio.

from PILES

We want to send a trial of our famous PI-CO-DIA olument FREE to every reader of this paper. PI-CO-DIA olument soothes the worst case of Piles quickly. Takes out the inflammation and gives immediate relief. We have taken 10,000 samples from our laboratory for distribution to all readers who suffer from Piles. We know we have the only certain cure for EVERY KIND OF PILES. —bleeding, itching, burning, aching, protruding—every kind—no matter if chronic—and we are willing to send samples of our magic olument to Pile sufferers everywhere. Carronic sufferers are particularly urged to write for samples.

The PI-CO-DIA treatment as a wholerestores yttality aud strength to the muscles

stores vitality and strength to the muscles of the rectum and that is why it cures where all else has failed.

PI-CO-DIA Is a Guaranteed Cure Here is a testimonial from a prominent business man, "I had bleeding piles and ulcerations, and was bleeding profusely when I began treatment. This stopped the second day of the regular treatment. I used the treatment faithfully for six weeks and have been completely cured of all my rectal troubles. FRANK L. CODY, Cleveland, O." Simply send us your name and address. Trial of the oliment is mailed prepaid. Costs you nothing. We also send a Valuable Book on Piles Free Gives more facts about the cause and cure of Piles than any similar book yet published. Sent free to anyone inquiring for free sample ointment. Write to-day. The relief is immediate for every case of Piles.

F. H. WALKER & CO.,

Wilson Bidg., Chicago.

Reference—Merchauts Loan and Trust Bank.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Nature." By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual rostrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism. The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents.

KNOWLEDGE VS. FAITH. HAY-FEVER ASTHMA Kola Plant.

A New and Positive Cure for HAY-Fever and Astrima has been found in the Kota Plant, a rare botanic product of West African origin. So great are the powers of this New Remedy that in the short time since its discovery it has come into almost universal use in the hospitals of Europe and America for the cure of every form of Hay-Fever and Asthma. Its cures are really marvelous. Men, women and the hospitals of Europe and America for the cure of every form of Hay-Fever and Asthma. Its cures are really marvelous. Men, women and children who have been given up as incurable are being restored daily to perfect health by the use of Himslya. Thousands of letters attesting its wonderful cures have been written the importers, but limited space prevents a detailed list. Read what a few have to say, proving that Hay-Fever and Asthma can be cured;

Hr. Frederick F. Wyatt, the noted Erangelist of Abiten, Texa, writes Jan. Bist, Himslya permanenty cured him of Hay-Fever and Asthma. He strongly recommends to sufferer. Dr. W. H. Yali, a prominent physician of Bt. Louis, Mo., writes March 8th, that he used Himslya on six different Hay-Fever patients last Fall with satisfactory results in every case, Mr. A. L. Clark, Bpringfield, Mo., writes Jan. Ed. Was a sufferer of Hay-Fever and Asthma. He strongly recommends the sufference of Hay-Fever and Asthma. Mr. J. B. Ayle, Estherville, Iowa, writes Feb. Strong, Mr. B. Himslya completely cured me. Mr. Geo. C. Dye, Marletta, Ohio, writes Jan. Edit, I was cured artersoversly cars suffering with Hay-Fever and Asthma. Mr. J. B. Ayle, Estherville, Iowa, writes Feb. Strong, Ind., writes March 8th, Has Eva Freston, Petersburg, Ind., writes Mr. E. B. Hune, 135 Archina after barred with Hay-Fever and Asthma after physical with Hay-Fever and Asthma after physical writes and the physical field. Dr. J. R. Duneau, the oldest physician of Crawfords Hills, Ind., writes Jan. 25th, Has Physician of Crawfords Hills, Ind., writes Jan. 25th, Its my duty to tell all I can of the great virtue of Himslya. Rev. J. L. Coomba, Martinsburg, W. Va. writes to thus Work Work Work Ord, July End, that it cured him of Asthma of 80 years' standing.

Hyou suffer from Hay-Fever and Asthma in any form,

The World's Sixteen Saviors, Or Christianity before Christ. By Kersey Graves. New and startling revelations in religious history which disclose the Oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts and miracles of the Christian New Testament, and furnishing a key for unlocking many of its sacred mysteries, besides comprising the History of Sixteen Oriental Crucified Gods. This wonderful and exhaustive volume will, we are certain, take high rank as a book of reference in the field which the author has chosen for it. Princed on white paper, 389 pages. New edition, revised and corrected, with portrait of author. Price $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

INVISIBLE HELPERS

A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Standpoint.

This work, "Invisible Helpers," written by O. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and suggestive throughout. It treats of the "Universal Belief in the Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story," "Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Devond." The work is neatly bound in cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible. One hundred and forty-four propositions, theological, moral, historical and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scripture, without comment. Price, 15 cents.

CONFLICT Between Religion and Science.
Just the book for progressive thinkers. A book that is very interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper.
Price, cloth, $1.75. HEALING, Causes and Effects, with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 50 cents.

POINS of the Life Beyond and Within, voices from many lands and counnever die." An excellent selection. Edited and compiled by Giles B. Stebbins. Cloth. $\epsilon$.

Works of Thomas Paine tains Spiritualism, considering it the complement of primitive Christianity.

A new edition in paper covers with large clear type, Fiftieth Anniversary of Modern Spirite Age of Reason.....25 cts. Common Sense 15 cts.

This is a splendid opportunity to secure these standard works, as the price is within the reach of all. For sale at this office. THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN

-AND-THE CONFESSIONAL

BY FATHER CHINIQUY.

This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex-Priest, whose character is above reproach, and who knows what he is talking about. Kverybody should read it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chap-ters:

CHAPTER I.

The Struggle before the Surrender of Womanly Selfrespect in the Confessional. Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the Priest.

Priest.

CHAPTER III.

The Confessional is the Modern Sodom.

CHAPTER IV.

How the Vow of Celibacy of the Priests is made easy by Auricular Confession.

The highly-educated and refined Woman in the Con-fessional—What becomes of her after uncondition-al surrender—Her irreparable Ruin. CHAPTER VI.

Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Marriage and Human Society.

CHAPTER VII.

Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civilised Nations? Does Auricular Confession bring Peace to the Soul?

ChAPTER 1X.

The Dogma of Auricular Confession a Sacrilegious

Imposture.

CHAPTER X.

God compels the Church of Rome to confess the Abominations of Auricular Confession.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and France.

France.

Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Priest of Rome, must Question his Fentient Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00.

W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 50 cents. NOMAN: Four Centuries of Progress, thinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1893. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c. received long communications from spirit guidance, and its designed to develop mediumship. Many, by its use, have received long communications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail

BY CHARLES B. NEWGOMB, Anthor of "All's Right with the World." Cloth 270 pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with "All's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank of the Metaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have seen cheered and strengthenned by him will welcome another book by tha wise teacher whose words of help are doing so much to ask other world better by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail"

is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing ealled life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be in demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

The Christ Question Settled.

Jesus, Man, Medium, Martyr. A symposium by W. E. Coleman, J. S. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Moses Hull, J. R. Buchanan, B. B. Hill, Rabbi I. M. Wise, Col. Ingersoll—and what the spirits say about it. By J. M. PEERLES, M. D. Whether this book settles the question or not it will be found eminently entertaining, and brings together a mass of evidence to establish the historical character of Jesus. A large volume. Price. Coth. $1.25.

AUTOMATIC WRITING, So-called with other psychio experiences. By Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portrait and specimen pages of the writing. Hand-comely bound in cloth. Price, 81. Postuge, 100.

DR. J. M. PEEBLES' Most Important Books.

REDUCED PRICES.

What is Spiritualism? Who Are These Spiritualists? and What Has Spiritualism Done for the World? By J. M. Peebles, M. D., M. A. An excellent book to put in the hands of inquirers. Coth, 75 cents.

Did Jesus Christ Exist?

Is Christ the Corner Stone of Spiritualism? What Do the Spirits Say, About It? Wm. Emmette Coleman vs. Hudson Tuttle on Mahomet and Jesus. To which is appended a controversy, Arthur J. Owen vs. J. M. Peebles, on the origin of the Lord's Prayer and Sermon on the Mount, and an exhaustive paper by Wm. Emmette Coleman on the Historical Origin of Christianity. Paper, 15. cents.

Three Journeys Around the World. A large, handsomely bound octavo volume, 500 pages, finely illustrated, describing the Pacific Islands, New Zealand and Australia, India and her magic, Egypt and her pyramids, Persia, Ceylon, Palestine, etc., with the religious manners, customs, laws and habits of foreign countries. Price, $1.50. immortality,

And the employments of spirits good and evil in the spirit world. What a hundred spirits say about their dwelling-places, their locomotion, their social relations, infants, idiots, suicides, etc. Price reduced from $1.50 to $1. Postage 12 cents. Paper 50 cents.

Seers of the Ages.

This large volume of 400 pages (9th edition), treats exhaustively of the seers, sages, prophets and inspired men of the past, with records of their visions, trances and intercourse with the spirit world. This is considered a standard work, treating of God, heaven, nell, faith, repentance, prayer, baptism, judgment, demoniac spirits, etc. Price educed from $2 to $1.25. Postage 15 c. Spiritual Harp.

A book of 300 pages, containing songs, hymns and authems for Spiritualist societies and circles. The words are afire with progress. It contains the choicest longs and music by James G. Clark and other reformers. Reduced from $2 to $1.25.

Dr. Peebles' Three Jubilee Lectures. A most elegantly bound pamphlet of pages, giving Dr. Peebles' lectures delivered in Hydesville, March 31, 1898, in Rochester, and later in London at the International Congress of Spiritualists. These lectures, illustrated, are racy, meaty and scholarly. Price 85 cents.

The Christ Question Settled.

A symposium by Hudson Tuttle, W. E. Coleman, Rabbi Wise, Col. Ingersoll, J. S. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. R. Buchanan and Dr. Peebles. This is a handsome volume of nearly 400 pages, and treats of Jesus, Mallomet and the gnostics. What the Talmud says about Jesus. Antiquity unvelled. Child marriage in India. Col. Ingersoll's agnostiism. What the spirits through W. J. Colville, J. J. Morse, Mrs. Longley, Mrs. Everlit, Mrs. Hagan-Jackson and other mediums say about Jesus, etc. Price $1.25.

A Critical and Crushing Review By Dr. Peebles of the Rev. Dr. Kipp's five lectures against Spiritualism. This crisp and critical reply of the Doctor, while repudlating spiritism, and all frauds connected with the subject, susualism. An elegant pamphlet containing an account of the exercises at Rochester and Hydesville, N. Y., at the celebration of the Fiftleth Anniversary of Modern Spiritualism. It contains the addresses of some of the most noted speakers present. It contains the picture of the Hydesville cottage, wreath, etc. Price, 15 cents.

Death Defeated, or the Psychic Secret

of How to Keep Young. This book goes to the foundation of things-health, the laws of health, the foods to eat, the subject of marriage, who should marry and who should not marry, the causes of divorce, the proper time for conception, gestation, the termining of sex, animal flesh-eating, what Herodotus, Hesiod, Homer, Pythagoras, Shelley, Graham and others ate, the foods that produce long life and how to live "immortal" on earth, etc. This book is written in Dr. Peebles' usually clear, crisp style, and attracts the reader from the very first through its facts, logic and convincing arguments. Very handsomely bound in cloth.

Price $1. Vaccination a Curse and a Menace to Personal Liberty. This finely illustrated volume of between three hundred and four hundred pages, by Dr. Peebles, treats exhaustively of inoculation, cow-pox and calflymph vaccination from Jenner's time to the present. It tells how the cowpox pus poison is obtained—how the vaccine virus, while causing many deaths, sows the seed of eczema, pimpled faces, cancers, tumors, ulcers and leprosy. It gives a history of the several years' battle against vaccination in England, Parliament making it "optional" instead of compulsory. This book should be in every school library and family. Price $1.25.

Dr. PEEBLES' Pamphlets and Books

In the World Celestial. By DR. T. A. BLAND.

"It is inexpressibly delightful."-Hon. C. A. "It lifts the reader into enchanting realms."— Wedleal Gleanor.
"Is in tebecly interesting."—Rev. Minot J.

"It is intebsely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Sarage.
"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorable, the assounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it contains."—B. O. Flower, in the Arena.
"It will give us courage to pass through the deep ahadows of death to the sun-lit clime of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.
"Everybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a moss beautiful romance of two worlds."—Banner of Light. Light.
It is Printed in elegant style and bound in cloth and gold. Pric $1.00.

The Mystic Thesaurus,
Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical secrets of Astral Truth and Occult Art. By Willis F. Whitzenead, Editor Agrippa's "Natural Magic." The book treats of The Symbol of the Cross. Spiritual Gire, Inspirational Conception, Initiative Exposition, The Astral Brethprinced, Message of the Brotherhood, The Magic Mirror, and Celestial Companionship. It is a good text book for students of the Mystle, and will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA, According to Old Records. By Dr. Paul (A translation made from Japanese, und auspices of the Rev. Shaku Soyer, delog the Parliament of Religions. Was pub in Japan. Price 61.

Batered at Chicago Postoffico se second-class matter TERMS OF SUBSORVETION.

REMITTANCES.

Remit by Postoffice Money Order, Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It costs from 10 to 15 cents to get checks cashed on local banks, so don't send them unless you wish that amount deducted from the amount sent. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Loomis Street, Onicago, Ill.

TAKE NOTICE.

At expiration of subscription, if not re-newed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sent for extra numbers. If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers supplied gratis.

Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, always give the address of the place to which it is then sent or the change cannot be made.

SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1908.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE.

of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spirit ualist Association.

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to answer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giving date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC. All money in donations or collections intended for the N. S. A. Mediums' Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not directly paid to our authorized mission aries, who can show a missionary certificate of later date than October, 1902. No other is authorized to collect money for this association. Contributions, large or small, are gratefully accepted.

N. S. A. Becretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Wash-

A Bridge Between Mind and Matter. As set forth in the Chicago Chronicle, the address delivered by Sir William Crookes at Berlin, before the international congress for applied chemistry, has furnished all branches of science material for animated discussion. Sir William entitled his discourse "The Realization of a Dream." For nearly a century, he said, men of science had been dreaming of atoms and molecules and speculating as to the origin of matter. Now they admit the possibility of resolving the chemical elements into simpler forms of matter or of refining them away altogether into ethereal vibrations or electrical en-

The lecturer discussed the existence of electrical atoms or electrons, the constitution of X-rays and their passing through opaque bodies. He expressed the opinion that the spontaneous dissociation of radium suggests a doubt of

That science itself is beginning to scoff at all science grows more apparent with the progress of investigations. Sir William Crookes declared that theories are useful only so long as they admit of the harmful corelation of facts into a reasonable system. "Directly a the theory must go or it must be revised to admit the new fact." New views of atoms, electricity and ether which came in with the ninevalue?" All recent experimentation converges toward a question which has been the clear light, a possible relationship between mind and matter.

Students of electricity are disposed to recommend patience in the development of that force as a promise of dis closure concerning the origin of both mind and matter. The pursuit of this belief has led even chemists into mists as dense as London fog and almost as palpable

A German scientist, Ostwald, claims that he has discovered the bridge between mind and matter, a bridge "which covers the chasm between force and substance." and "which is of a nature sufficiently manifest to embrace the totality of our experiences, the interior as well as the exterior." This idea or bridge he terms energy.

It has been demonstrated, Ostwald claims, that there is an immaterial factor, one endowed with neither weight nor mass, which in a quantitative way is just as unchangeable as the mass and weight of material substances and which, exactly like these, can undergo qualitative transformations of all kinds material things is not unlimited, but rather, by the chemical law of the preservation of the elements, is confined to very definite limits, energy may be converted from every one of its forms into every other and its power of transformation is therefore unlimited.

Herein exists a fundamental advantage of this idea as compared with that of matter, since in this way it acquires the property of comprehending in a uni form fashion the whole domain of the corresponding phenomena.

Ostwald holds that every change which takes place in the outer world and every process may be described by a statement of the kind and amount of energy that has undergone conversion. he declares to be particularly true of the processes by which the ap paratus of the senses is put into activ-

Such processes may never be reduced to exchanges of energy as between the outer world and the apparatus of the senses. He believes it possible to subordinate to the idea of energy the totality of psychical as well as physical phenomena. This opinion is undoubtedly, entertained by Sir William Crookes and it is the "sensations."

apparently the conviction of this latest school of scientists that the new metals, the wizard metals, radium and uranium, will supply the demonstration of the theory. But up to the latest reports from either the world of mind or the world of matter no proof having the slightest bearing upon the subject has

If all vital force were reducible to electrons and all matter were reducible to an electron the origin of life would remain as abysmal a secret as ever. Where did the first electron get its electricity?

A Great Psychological Crime Consid-

In connection with every great movement, humanitarian in its nature or otherwise, there frequently arises unpleasant episodes that require careful handling in order to prevent disastrous results. In the natural world, on this planet so densely populated, the same characteristics arise from time to time, and the problems presented are frequently so complex that they transcend the intellect of our scientists and statesmen and remain unsolved. With these intricate problems unsolved many occurrences are regarded as calamities -and calamities they seem to be when the direful results are carefully considered.

We are led to these remarks in consequence of an interview we had with a gentleman who came 600 miles to see us, and whom we will call Mr. X. Having a fine physique, he impressed us very favorably at first sight. He made his important mission known to us at once. He said he was under the control of the illustrious Col. R. G. Ingersoll, and urgently requested us to accompany him to the Sherman House and interview the famous orator.

We cheerfully accepted his invita-

Arriving at his room he produced a rudely constructed planchette, and commenced delivering a message to us.

After quietly listening to the same, and reading some manuscript presented to us, in answer to the medium's earnest appeal we passed judgment on what we had seen and heard. We told the gentleman that the messages purport ing to come from Col. Ingersoll were unworthy of consideration—they were simply puerile-the worst kind of rot, and we tried to reason with him in regard to the matter, but he was impregnable, he was so completely obsessed by some evil influence. The spectacle was most pitiable, and we were powerless to afford relief, so intrenched was the controlling influence in the very fibres of his impressible brain.

Here at least was "A GREAT PSY-CHOLOGICAL CRIME"-a fine brain captured by a vile influence; the will power so weakened that resistance light of something grand, beautiful, elo Japan and India. quent. A once fine mind was complete ly enthralled and the descending pathway leading to misery was entered upon. This presentation of the case is not overdrawn in the least—the man seemed to be a wreck, powerless to resist the pernicious influence of the spirit that had fastened his tentacles upon him, leading him apparently to destruc-cloud it hangs over the world, and interpenetrates all religious sects as well as those who never saw the inside of any church. Obsession, such as manifested by Mr.

X., is more common than generally supposed-as common (or more so) among the churches as in the ranks of Spiritualism.

Rabbi Weil, eminent as an author, fact refuses to be pigeonholed and will prominent at one time among the Jews, not be explained on theoretic grounds | and forcible as a speaker for progressive societies in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, being a sensitive, he has been overshadowed by a pernicious spirit influence, bis brain impregnated with disteenth century are already under suspi- torted vibrations, and he believes that cion in the twentieth. Crookes asks: he conveys a pernicious influence to "Are we not learning the lesson that anyone who comes in contact with him. our researches have only a provisional | He is perfectly harmless and is confined to the asylum at Kankakee.

The cultivation of mediumistic sensi tiveness through the instrumentality of most urgent since the organization of hypnotism, drugs of different kinds. science and upon which neither physics and various other methods, opens a nor metaphysics has yet thrown any floodgate for pernicious influences to enter and exert their very dangerous power, hence it is a fact that insanity is on the increase, the direct result of obsession, arising from the extreme sensitiveness to spirit influence gained in several ways, as enumerated above, by hundreds of people who are in no wise attached to Spiritualism.

Hypnotism as practiced by the various charlatans now traveling over the country is exceedingly dangerous to the subject, and in no wise beneficial. and in many cases leads to insanity and abject servitude to an influence that should be avoided. Spirit control in its higher aspects is regarded by advanced Spiritualists as stration of the correctness of the hyperfectly harmless and healthy, and promotive of spirituality and intellectual growth, and in every way beneficial to the medium, and they will be slow to think otherwise, yet they will greet most cordially any person who can open While the power of transformation in the gateway to the spirit world and present a better way to converse with the denizens thereof than through the present-day mediumship. In this connection we call special attention to an article by a prominent Spiritualist and journalist, Mrs. Lucinda B. Chandler, on the first page of this issue of The Pro-

Shows Good Sense.

A press report states that the Rev. Dr. Briggs recently caused a sensation in the First Methodist church of Austin, Texas, by preaching a sermon in which he repudiated the idea of a hell. He declared the doctrine of a hell was repugnant to good intelligence and had driven such bright men as Robert G.

Ingersoll from Christianity The time is coming and is now near at hand, when sermons repudiating the orthodox idea of hell will cause no sensation, but will be expected as a matter of course, and as a proof of good sense on the part of the preacher. Such repudiations will become so common that the exceptions will cause sets forth that the amoeba is about the lowest form of life. It is but a mass of protoplasm, visible only under the microscope, a single-celled organism, with arms, legs, mouth, or internal organs of any kind, reproducing itself by simple division into two parts, each becoming a separate animalcule. The home of the amoeba is in ponds and ditches. The habits and customs of the amoeba should be of much human interest, as it is one of the starting points, perhaps the real starting point, in the evolution of man, and again because man is an amoebiform organism or a glomeration of amoebae. From this point of view Dr. John H. Flagg, the scientist, had much of interest to tell the Boston Scientific society the other day about the amoeba as the "beginning of mind," for in this protonlasmic microscopic mass all the fundamental functions of mind may be observed. It has, as Dr. Flagg says, the usual animal functions of locomotion, sensation, selection, nutrition, and reproduction, and for this reason he regards it as the beginning of psychic life. It moves without legs by thrusting out one series of pseudopodia in front and retracting others behind. Though without mouth or stomach, it eats by enveloping its food and absorbing it, rejecting everything that is nonnutritious. Though without a nervous system, it shrinks from a needle's point and from the source of light. It calcu lates position and distance. It "dis-charges a shower of darts at its prey while it is still at a distance, and, hav-ing disabled it, approaches and con-sumes it at its leisure." "They retire from their hunting ground to the shelter of a grain of sand, it may be, while they eat, but they have no apparent difficulty in making a straight line back in quest of more food, although the original route of exploration may have been exceedingly devious."

Life Among the Lowly. An editorial in the Chicago Tribune

In a word, in this tiny, invisible microcosm Dr. Flagg finds memory, reason, cunning, intelligence, "a concentrated essence of life." As each of us from highest to lowest, was in the beginning an amoeba, though not an amoeba of the ditch or pond hole, and as all, even the best of us, are but an aggregation of amoebae, it is but meet that we should be interested in this remote ancestor and proud of its general ability, though it may not be of the most strenuous sort. It should be remembered that the amoeba is too little to be seen with the naked eye, and yet, while it has no physical organs and no gray matter, and an extremely limited environment, it is displaying physical and mental vigor of no common order. We have no reason to be ashamed of our protean animalcule, the amoeba

Representative Noblemen of India-

Their Opinion of Missionaries. Prince P. N. Muthuswami Naidu and G. K. Chetty, noblemen of India, and could not be otherwise than feeble, if | wealthy merchants, stopped for a brief exerted at all; the gibberish expressed | time in Chicago, on their way to Vanwas regarded by the medium in the couver, where they expected to sail for

A reporter found them, obliging, affable gentlemen, speaking English perfectly. G. K. Chetty is reported as expressing the following views on the missionaries:

generous. We recognize their religious fervor and zeal and the sublime sentiments which actuate Christian people in sending missionaries to our country, but let me say right here that they are wasting valuable energy and are misdi-Here is one unpleasant feature of recting their efforts. My suggestion spirit control. Like a dark pestilential and the suggestion of a majority of the people of India is that instead of sending missionaries to our country to Christianize us let the Christian people of this country and other lands send missionaries into Russia and other countries professing Christian religion so that they would humanize these Christians. "We are exceedingly appreciative of the kind spirit shown by the people in gathering funds in this and other countries for the people who were starving in our country during the famine a few years ago, but we must also tell them that it did not reach the masses and that it was not distributed in the spirit in which it was offered. The missions were made the avenues through which aid was given to the famine-stricken, but while no stipulation was made by the people who made the donations that the recipients must be Christians the missionaries gave help only to Christians or those who declared an intention of becoming Christians. Is that Christianlike or is it human?" We cannot doubt the correctness of this story, and that the missionaries forgot the graces of their religion and vented their narrow spleen on those who have not been converted to their faith or are not hypocritical enough to say they will become converts. It will be remembered, and not be helpful in bringing India to the reception of a religion which shows such fruitage.

Immortality.

"Mr. Albert H. Walker, in a recent lecture before the students of the University of Michigan, declared that in the 20th century we might find an answer to the question of the immortality of the soul. 'The answer,' he said, 'may be fourid to be in the affirmative, through actual communication with departed souls, or it may be found to be in the negative, by scientific demonpothesis that the spirit or the soul of man is only a name for the electrical and chemical actions and reactions which occur in the body."—News item. When it becomes a question between the demonstrated phenomena of Spiritualism, giving evidence of individual conscious existence and identity after death, and the hypothesis that the spirit or soul of man is only a name for the electrical and chemical actions and reactions which occur in the body, the controversy will be brief, unless it can be proven that such electrical and chemical actions and reactions continue to manifest as an intelligent personality for an indefinite time after the body has returned to dust.

"What Shall We Eat?"

Alfred Andrews, of Yonkers, N. Y., has written a highly interesting and suggestive work on the above subject; No one can read it without having derived special benefit. The data presented along various lines is invaluable. The tendency of the book is along health-lines, presenting facts which all should know. The reall price of the book is 50 cents. Address the author at No. 87 Hawthorne avenue, Yonkers,

"Astral Worship." By J. H. Hill, M. D. For sale at this office. Price $1.

A PAULIST EATHER'S VIEW CREATION VS. EVOLUTION.

Why the Roman Catholic Church Opposca Epiritualism.

The Roman Catholic church has been opposed to Spiritualism from first to last, but has never before squarely expressed the reason for its antagonism. Father Conway, in his new publication, The Question Box, gives authoritative answer of the Paulists.

Because of its doctrines: "Spiritism or the systematic communication with spirits who claim to be departed souls, is merely a new form of pagan necromancy, anathematized by the laws of Moses. The fact of the rapid progress showed the evident weakening of the faith of the various denominations of Protestants who fed it. Its doctrines, learned from spirit manifestations, are given us in detail by leading spiritists like Wallace, Kardec, Crookes, Home, Tuttle and others.

"Spiritism claims to be a religion, although it gives no worship to God, and of spirits of every grade of intellect and morality. Its external worship is the feverish excitement of the uncanny seance, and its priests chiefly women— 'mediums.' It is almost all the work of the devil, for although there are fraudulent manifestations, over and above this there are facts which seem to have overwhelming testimony in their favor and point to diabolic agency. Spiritism pretends to be the final perfection of Christianity although it denies its every dogma and declares that Jesus Christ is not the son of God but merely one of the higher spirits.
"Its history has been marked with end." The only deba How did they begin?

the greatest immorality, as the Mountain Cave, the Klantone, the Sacred Order of Unionists, and the Order of Patriarchs amply prove. Some have argued that this was only an abuse, but we say that spiritism is essentially immoral. It has no worship of God and no eternal sanction of reward and punishment to safeguard morality. Surely such a teaching is not calculated to curb the evil passions of men's hearts.

"Rightly then does the church warn her children against this irreligious, and immoral superstition, which often seems to evidence the power of Satan, and forbid them not only to become me diums, but even to attend the Spiritualistic seances.

We have given full expression to the Holy Father's presentation of the subject, that a thorough understanding of the position of the Catholic church might be gained. That any one capable of answering the question at all, should give the spiritual side so reckless of the truth, is amazing. If religion consists of forms and ceremonies, in the robed priest, holy water and incantations, then Spiritualism is not a religion. If religion is consecration to ideal righteousness, the unselfish doing for others and spiritual excellence, then Spiritualism is the religion of religions

The Unitarians believe that Christ was a man and not literally the son of God, and Spiritualists are no more het-

As for immorality the tree is known by its fruit. There is not to-day a pro-fessed Spiritualist in the prisons of this country. The Paulist Father says there are nine millions of Spiritualists in the United States. The census does not show the religion of criminals. I am informed by an assistant census official that this was omitted because the criminals were so untruthful that nothing "The American people are kind and reliable was obtained. Perhaps, and perhaps because the showing was on the wrong side!

There can be little difference between the criminal conditions here and in England. In a careful report to Parliament, the number of Roman Catholics in prison in that country was 38,581, of Protestants 107,012. The church of England with other sects has a mempership of perhaps twenty millions, and In proportion to the population, Catholics have almost four times as many criminals as the Protestants and the Spiritualists have not one.

Has the history of Spiritualism been marked by immorality? Has it ever subjected, not millions, but a single person to the horrors of the inquisition? Has it burned a Bruno? Imprisoned a Galileo? Instituted houses of infamy under the name of convents and nunneries? Established an order of priests commanded to live in an abnormal and immoral state of celibacy? Taught a doctrine of the dead enabling the priest | mean to say that the vital things, the to wring wealth from the bereaved to gain pardon for the sins of the departed? Not a single truthful instance of im morality of the advocates of Spiritualism is given by the Holy Father who mendaciously makes the assertion. Of the cases given, they were individual tion. efforts made a generation ago and of so little consequence they have been forgotten. They were not outgrowths of Spiritualism but hallucinations of cranks who exploited their doctrines by claiming its protection. "It has no worship of God and eternal sanction of reward and punishnent to safeguard morality." Spiritualism leaves the question

God for each and every one to settle for himself. It is a gross misstatement that it "substitutes in His stead a great crowd of spirits." As for rewards and punishments, being a "safeguard of morality," Spiritualism holds to the unchangeable obligation of doing our duty, and that there is no escaping the consequences by vicarlous atonement.

Talk about the moral influence of a religion which teaches that you may do the most beinous crime, robbery, rape or murder, and by confession to a priest as God's representative, obtain full and free pardon! And this Paulist Father when he stands up in defense of such a religion with slanderous defamation of Spiritualism, should blush in shameful onsciousness of the deceit and falsehood in his heart.

HUDSON TUTTLE. Editor-at-Large, N. iS. A., Washington, D. C. di ed

WHEN STARS SHINE THROUGH, The accidents of wealth and power may leave you far behind: You may see your golden chances go whistling down the wind, But do not be discouraged, there light beyond the blue, And recompense shall find you when the stars shine through. The coldest weather leads to spring; the darkest day must end, Through enemies you learn the truest value of your friend. And if you met with nothing false how could you judge the true? Good fortune will seem brighter, when the stars shine through.

take it right Which ever side you wish for is the one will meet your sight.
And happiness is his who to this precept will be true, And in his darkest heavens let the stars shine through BEATRICE ST. GEORGE.

latence? "The first living being was so simple in organization that it can be said to be no more than living matter or proto plasm. How did it come into exist ence? Was it a miraculous creation of God, or of force?"-Hudson Tuttle reply to A. R. Wallace, in The Progressive Thinker, No. 706.

The above extract presents perhaps

How Did Living Forms Come Into Ex

a question that has never received a final and decisive answer. Life of every variety, both plant and animal, in myriad forms of structure, is in existence on the globe, in her air, land and sea. Whence came this mysterious force called life? How did all these diverse, and yet closely related, forms and organizations come into being? Did an antecedent life and intelligence, which the simple faith of many ages has called God, cause them to appear substitutes in His stead a great crowd in creative acts as the expression of his will in conscious operation? Or did they arise as the accidental result of mindless forces, the unexpected, unforeseen and unpremeditated effect of blind, thoughtless properties of matter? It goes without saying, or almost so that forms of life and organization had a beginning. Mr. Tuttle in his article speaks of the "first form," "first living being," etc. So Darwin, Huxley, Wallace, et al. Science, not less than the old Hebrew Bible, says, "In the beginning." Even the sapient J. S. Love-land admitted that "forms begin and > to offer an answer to this question, viz.: Evolution, by means of properties resident in matter, or special creation. Ernest Haeckel said: "If we reject the doctrine of spontaneous generation we are compelled to accept that of crea-And Mr. Tuttle says: "There tion." can be nothing more assured than that we must take evolution, continuous and uninterrupted, or direct creation." It is admitted by all investigators that unless evolution can be made to solve the problem of origins we are compelled to accept a theory of direct creation. Darwin did in fact hold that God created one, or a few, primary forms after which evolution or development carried forward the work alone. Wallace also, Mivart and other leading champions of the doctrine held there was creative power and control exhibited at intervals, or even continuously. came to be known as Theistic Evolution and was adopted by leading professors and clergymen, such as Dr. McCosh, of Princeton, Henry Ward Beecher, and But Haeckel, of Germany, and Huxley and Tyndall, of England, rejected such a mongrel hypothesis. They saw that hitching up an infinite God with natural law, or mere properties of matter, to work together was an absurdity. If God could create a moneron he could create a man, and common sense insisted that if one solitary form arose that way so did all others. Likewise, if moneron, or a bit of protoplasm, could originate by spontaneous generation, without help of any God or gods, then indeed the entire series of living forms. from monera to homo, could have been evolved without the aid of divine power. Common sense insisted on the dissolution of this absurd Theistic affair. and the poor old team, God and "properties resident in matter," have been unharnessed by all self-respecting thinkers. We definitely say God, or no God, as we happen to regard the mat-

For myself, I believe that God, or ar Intelligent First Cause, created things in the beginning. I do not know it; I simply believe it. And I believe it be cause it is so much more reasonable than the thory of spontaneous generation. It does not require near as much or credulity, to believe in special creation as in the tenets, guesses, speculation and absurd presumptions of the evolutionary hypothesis. like the special creation theory, evolu tion is unproven. Huxley just called it a hypothesis. It is merely a theory, a conjecture, a very much discredited guess about the origin of life and liv ing forms. It has accumulated a mass of very interesting facts, added largely to our knowledge of development and expansion of life, but absolutely it has not established as a fact, one single fundamental principle of evolution. I absolutely essential elements necessary as a basis, are not only not proven but are not capable of proof. Evolution is a pretentious house without a founda tion. It rests on a hypothesis, according to Huxley, and on the wildest speculation according to common observa-To be specific I mention the two fundamental assumptions of materialistic (not scientific) evolution. They are the origin of life by spontaneous generation, and, secondly, the origin of species by means of variation and natural selection. These are the foundation stones upon which the so-called system of scientific (?) evolution rests. Life arose out of a non-living mass by spontaneous generation, and all the different species of plant and animal life arose by slight modifications of one or a few original forms. little variations of form and structure being inherited from the parent, further changed or modified by environment, until a new species, or many of them, were evolved. Thus all life, and every form of life, came into existence without the aid or supervision of anterior life and intelligence, solely by the unguided and accidental operations of "properties resident in matter." It is true the ordinary human being cannot see these wonderful "properties" resident in a clod, a ball of clay, a handful of sand, a speck of iron ore, a grain of phosphorus, by means of which these inert, lifeles and unintelligent substances can all at once, or even in a billion years, clothe themselves with flesh and tissue and, while having neither life nor intelligence, yet manage to endow themselves with both. Won drous "properties resident in matter!" All we need to discern these "properties" is a "scientific imagination. eagle eye of a materialistic evolutionist can see them, and by the side of such an eye as that the poor little Christian eye of faith" is a mole's organ. Atheistic evolutionist cannot imagine a conscious, living, intelligent, creative power at work, molding forms of life and beauty out of plastic matter, endow ing them with varying degrees of life and intelligence drawn from the pre-existing fountain of his own being. No, he cannot imagine that, let alone "see it. But with that trained scientific eye he can see a lifeless clod squirm around on a primal ocean shore, galvanized accidentally by a vagrant current of electricity, becoming alive and the progenitor of every living thing. Credulity could no further go. Blind fanaticism, It is not half so bad a world if one can worshiping a white cow in an Indian temple, is a credit to the human reason when compared to these so-called scientific evolutionists, dirt-worshipers, prostrating themselves before a clod, or a bit of ocean slime, and attributing to it, as did Mr. Tyndall in his Belfast adBoil It Down.

Whatever you have to say, my friend, Whether witty, or grave, or gay-Condense it as much as ever you can, And say in the readiest way. And whether you write on rural affairs, Or particular things in town, Just a word of friendly advice—boil it down. an insoluble problem. At least it asks

For if you go spluttering over a page, When a couple of lines would do, Your butter is spread so much, you see, That the bread looks plainly through; So when you have a story to tell, And would like a little renown, To make quite sure of your wish, my friendboil it down.

When writing an article for the press, Whether prose or verse, just try To utter your thoughts in the fewest words, And let them be crisp and dry; The only debatable question is, A when it is finished, and you suppose Two theories only are seriously held It is done exactly brown, Just look it over again, and then—boil it down.

For editors do not like to print An article lazily long, And the general reader does not care For a couple of yards of song; So gather your wits in the smallest space, If you'd win the author's crown, And every time you write, my friend—BOIL IT DOWN.

—John O. Salmon '-John O. Salmon.

pure exponent of bald superstition, is not to be found in orthodox church, Catholic cathedral, or even in an African voodoo camp, but sitting as president of an association of grave and reverend seniors, yelept Society for the Advancement of Physical Science, devoted to the propagation of the doctrine of evolution, and, incidentally, to sneering at the God-idea. Mirabile visu. Mr. Tuttle says: "It is now taken for granted," etc. I ask him, by whom is it taken for granted? I deny it. A very large and intelligent class of people deny it in toto. Take, for instance, spontaneous generation of life. Can it be shown to have occurred? If so, when? where? Can it be demonstrated now? Has he read of the experiments of Beale, Bastian, Carpenter, Tyndall and others, trying to generate life spontaneously, and of their failure into the courts on the ground that Mrs. to do so? Does not Mr. Tuttle know that never, so far as human knowledge testifies, has life been produced in that way? Hear what Darwin said: "There must have been a time when inorganic their plea than did the contesting heirs, elements alone existed in our planet; and threw their cases out of court, holdlet any assumption be made, such as that the reeking atmosphere was charged with carbonic acid, nitrogenized compounds, phosphorus, etc. Now is there a fact, or a shadow of a fact, ments, without the presence of any organic compounds, and acted on by only creature. At present, it is to us a result absolutely inconceivable." From dicial decree declaring her mind too The Athenaeum for 1863, p 554. And disordered to be trusted with the dispo-Humboldt said, in Letters to Varnha-sition of property were the most firmly gan, p. 117: "What displeases me in convinced on this point. Yet there are leads him to see no difficulty in the organic springing from the inorganic, nay, even man himself from Chaldean mud." in all walks of society who believe precisely the same thing that this woman Quotations from such authorities might | believed.

be multiplied. Will Mr. Tuttle please give us the or a delusion is something that can no name of any reputable physicist who more be established by the ordinary ever secured a specimen of life by processes of ascertaining facts in a spontaneous generation? Is there, as let Mr. Tuttle mention the fact, or even the "shadow." He cannot do it. Spontaneous generation is not possible so preliminary to speaking of people who far as human experiment and investigation have proceeded. But spontaneous out incurring the imputation of insangeneration is absolutely necessary to ity. Any number of intelligent men be"scientific evolution." The only alterlieve rheumatism is cured by carrying native is creation by an Intelligent First a raw potato in the pocket; others are Cause. This Mr, Tuttle rejects and firmly convinced that warts can be driv-

A man has no right to take for granted an unreasonable conclusion which dreds of similar popular superstitions has never been established. Sponta- that seem absurd enough to those who neous generation lacks demonstration. disbelieve them. It is not a fact, or even the shadow of a fact, says Mr. Darwin. Hudson Tuttle raw potato cure for rheumatism regard may take it for granted. Some writers, people who believe they hold interwho never made an original experiment | course with the spirits of the dead as in their lives, may and do take it for crazy, but in argument as well as in scigranted. They write, talk and lecture as if the basic postulates of evolution would have the better of the deabte. So were duly ascertained and demonstrat- far as scientific knowledge goes, it uted facts. But every genuine scientific terly discredits carrying a raw potato mind is aware that they are only un- as a cure for rheumatism, while there proven assumptions. Evolution rests is positive human testimony, however upon a basis of assumption, upon a much we may discredit it, to the effect mere hypothesis, and not upon ascer- that spirits do converse with the living. tained and demonstrable facts. In an- As for negative proof there is none. Be other article I will say something about sides, if the souls of men live after the origin of species. Here, and now, only demand of Mr. Tuttle proof, in the nature of experimental demonstration, or historic testimony as to the fact, of spontaneous generation.

I believe in special creation, but I do not "take it for granted," because I cannot prove it to have been so. Let Mr. Tuttle be a little more modest. Do not take a thing for granted which you can to the living. But this is only presump not to save your life prove to be true. tive evidence. If we call the belief in Believe evolution if you choose, but so such communications insanity, what long as it rests simply upon an un shall we say of the belief in the power proved and undemonstrable hypotheils, do not belittle your position as a warts or whisper away the murrain in teacher and author by taking this cattle? How much less in dignity or flimsy theory "for granted." It is not mental respectability is credence in the granted, and will not be by men of power of some dirty, illiterate fakir to sense, until proven. ELDER H. W. B. MYRICK.

Gentryville, Mo.

"The Great Psychological Crime The Destructive Principle of Nature in Individual Life." This book is destined to create commotion of thought among Spiritualists and hypnotists, and especially for its bearings upon mediumship, which, as being hypnotic in character, is declared to come under at this office. the influence of the Destructive Principle in Nature which tends to the destruction of the soul or essential entity. Florence Huntley's name appears as editor. Price $2.

'Gleanings from the Rostrum." By dress, "the potency of every form of A. B. Frence life." Your true idolater, the Simon this office. A. B. French, Cloth, $1. For sale at

SPIRITUALISM.

Belief in It is Not Proof of Insanity.

When in earth-life, Mrs. M. E. Wal-rath, author of "History of the Earth's devised the bulk of her Formation." property to believers in Spiritualism, thereby ignoring to a large extent several of her relatives who possessed a keen appetite for the good things of this world, and were therefore ready and willing to participate in the distribution of the estate with themselves as principal heirs.

It was found impossible by these neglected heirs to contest the will on any other ground than that of religious faith of the testator. They therefore took the question of probating the will Walrath believed in communion with spirits and was therefore insane. We are pleased to be able to report ing that being a Spiritualist was not a sign of insanity. In editorially reviewing the case, the Oakland Tribune says: "Because a woman believed that she ele- held converse with the spirits of the dead, a great many people regarded her known forces, could produce a living her property by will. It is needless to as mentally incompetent to dispose of Strauss is the scientific levity which thousands of people regularly transacting all kinds of business and moving cisely the same thing that this woman

"Whether the belief is well-founded court of law than can the immortality Darwin insisted, "a fact, or the shadow of the soul, the immaculate conception of a fact, supporting the belief?" If so, or the existence of the Supreme Being. "However, the question of this wo man's mental incompetency is simply hold to far more ridiculous beliefs with "takes for granted" the other hypoth- en away by conjuration; still others treat diseases in horses and cattle with a form of incantation. There are hun-

"No doubt many who believe in the entific demonstration the Spiritualist death, what finite mind is to fix the bounds of their habitations or place limitations upon their movements? "It may be objected of course as in herently improbable that the wise and righteous who have gone before would indulge in the vapid, inconsequential twaddle usually represented as the sum of the knowledge the dead contribute of an unlettered boor to conjure away, foretell coming events or to divine knowledge not accessible to the ordinary human mind?"

The Commandments Analyzed, price 25 cents. Big Bible Stories, cloth, 50 cents. For sale at this office. "Discovery of a Lost Trail." By Chas, B. Newcomb. Excellent in spiritual suggestiveness. Cloth, $1.50. For sale

"Meatless Dishes." Very useful Price 10 cents.

"An Infamous Dynamite Roman Cath; olic Conspiracy Detected and Exposed. 'Romanism Exposed." Two pamphlets by Rev. J. G. White, author of Startling Facts. Price 10 cents each, or two for 15 cents.

A Migh Spirit Visits Earth. = By Har'ais.

To the Editor:—You have suggested that something more never speaks in the first person, but the controls for him—as and conflicting results have no origin in space outside the lit- evening of March 17,1895, when the following was received friend, referred to in my last communication, might be of in-

At the next sitting the controls announced that they were waiting for the "strange spirit," and soon said, "He is here." neither a Hindoo nor a Buddhist, but belonged to a race that he was on earth many were able to talk with spirits face to one reason for his presence now is to watch the indications of such change. The controls said they would be as much interested in his story as we would be, and glad to have him tell of the time he was in the flesh. He says "he has been over there so long that there is no possible way of telling the number of years that have passed. He is the most powerful spirit we have ever seen, and were he to apply his knowledge and power we could not prevent his taking you from us, so that we could not control at all." The controls then gave this account of him, and their own words are given:

"He was a deep thinker and student when on earth, and his mind turned to the problems of labor, and the relief of the laboring man. He invented labor saving machines, and says it was such machines that brought about a condition such as now exists in the world. He was destroyed by an put of work. He says present conditions are similar to those of his day when the laboring classes arose against devices to save labor. He says when the point is reached where one man can do the work of ten, the people are almost in a condition to return to savagery. He has passed through it and knows the conditions. He says the earth has been peopled again. He did not belong to India or China, as the entire are now where continents were and dry land where was

The mission of this "High Spirit," as he is called by the controls, seems to be in our forms of speech, that of an inspector as to the situation of the earth, and its status as a ife-bearing world-or as to whether it has reached its highest capacity as to the production of life forms and the mentality of man, or whether its culmination has yet to come. The controls say that after this mission is fulfilled he will eturn to those who sent him and make his report. And they repeat: "We have never before seen his equal or heard of a similar instance of a spirit coming to the earth plane from one so high as this spirit belongs to. We look for future neetings with as much curiosity as you do."

To make this article of any reasonable length the descripon years."

The necessities of the medium's newspaper work prevented any sitting for three days, and on the 28th this was given. The controls said: "We will write what the strange spirit tells us: He is here to look after the progress of the earth. He comes from the plane where the world builders work and the billions scattered over the universe, a special care is exercised over it by sending one who is capable of judging its it out. This outpouring of the life force resulted in weakening the earth, but it produced the various forms of life as they now exist on the earth. The earliest force given out produced the rank growth of noxious weeds, grasses and turnstances. As the force was expended the grade became aner until man was created and existed, growing more and He returns to watch the planet for a time and will probably more enlightened as the energy of the earth became more remain in the earth plane from time to time during the rest refined. Now, the force is approaching a period where its expenditure shall cease and it will be necessary for the earth to observe. There are mental changes in process of develto renew its life by passing through a period of darkness. opment and he wishes to watch the evolution. At this time All life forms will cease and then will again come a renewal of the force and energy. This has been the experience of earth's people will be, as there seems to be an unconscious the earth for ages and the tendency has been constantly to- conflict between several mental tendencies. I do not know time away in the computation of the earth's existence, but drift of the human mind you will note that it is in a state of may not come for centuries in man's life. Time is of little uncertainty or restlessness as if the controlling mental Importance and a thousand years means nothing in cosmic forces were unable to decide whether the next century should mutations. The spirit has nothing to communicate in the be distinctively a mental one, or whether there should be a matter of the world's history, for he has seen little of it. slow and almost imperceptible growing out of the present This is his first return in thousands of years. He says line of thought and the present form of mentality. You know as he has seen, and when he does reach that stage the very mind appears to expand only to meet the emergencies of the methods used for progress will tend to throw him back to period. Then there are periods when strange ideas flash, barbarism and savagery. Before the world goes into that re forth, when new philosophies are born, when the human mind creative stage man will have lapsed into the brute again and gets turned violently into new channels. Now the indicawill consequently, experience none of the mental agony that tions are that the close of this century will be marked by a would come from the destruction of the earth were it to oc strong departure from old lines of reasoning, and it will occacur now. The earth itself will not be destroyed nor will it sion no surprise among us spirits if there should burst forth be returned to its original constituents. Life in every form a new and a startling philosophy affecting the higher will perish and the new life energy will bring forth new life branches of the sciences. The High Spirit says he will stop forms. When the time comes for the change it will be so here and resume some other night when convenient. Good gradual that it will give no shock to any living being, animal night." or plant. This of the future so far as the earth is concerned. Man's present condition is not so bad that it cannot be remare others growing out of it that are both new and interest idied. The conditions of the earth are such that there must ing. I will condense as much as practicable and you can do be progress toward higher life before there can be retrogres. with it as you please: tion. There will be wars, riots, murders and all the afflicdons which undeveloped minds must bring, but these will grow less instead of more frequent until there shall come a eign of reason. This will be the acme of human existence and when that time comes the spirits of men shall converse tween men who labor and those who employ may never come.

concerned, are almost omnipotent."

"In reference to coming changes in the earth and its interest. As stated, there is in my desk pigeon-holes enough habitants he would have you understand that he does not should suggest to the men of science that each planet will use my own language, although speaking as if spoken by to make a book, but it requires more resolution and industry intend to portend an early change. It will not come, permust of necessity create and to a degree control the very him. On my return to the higher planes I made the report haps, for some centuries. He has been sent on a mission of Here the effort will be made to give you a condensed ac- which you have already had an outline, and when it has been High Spirit asks why should the earth borrow an influence visit. It may be well to here state, if it has not already been count of a very strange occurrence. To be of reasonable accomplished he will return to come forth no more until from another body which it can create itself, and why should stated, that spirits of the high planes come in contact with length, it must be after the method of the reporter—much called by future changes in the condition not only of the it lend a force that could well be used in its own orbit? Why those of the low planes only when sent out on some specific in my own language. But the important matter will be literate but of the entire solar system. He would have you should the earth make tides for other planets and let other mission as in my own case. The message I delivered was erally given. So if the reader will note the quotation marks know that among the great forces at work is one that members of the sun system make tides for it? The High one of encouragement, one not really expected, for among wrecks not only worlds but entire systems, but out of this The report begins July 24, 1894. On that evening the sit- wreck come yet other systems to undergo their wonderful ting was strangely interrupted by a seeming wandering band, growths * * Concerning himself he has little to say, other low such movement. That there is a regular time for ebb so that the control was suspended, and after waiting some than what has been given. He says he came to the spirit and flow is due to the regularity with which the earth moves of civilization could be expected. The result of a close obminutes we were told that a very powerful spirit had come world what the earth people call a learned man, but he found in its orbit and carries the atmosphere with it. It is simply into the circle, and by his presence stopped all work. The he had not touched upon that knowledge which has come to a planet phenomenon which to us is not a phenomenon. controls seemed very much exercised over the appearance him from plane to plane during the thousands of years he of the spirit, and declared he was the most powerful they has been in the spirit realms. For centuries he worked and had ever met, apparently filled with awe and to us almost studied in the earth plane and those close to the earth. The terrorized. The spirit was not communicative, but made it rise came slowly to him as to all spirits, but each was greater there would, in time, be only one system. * * The planet as known that he was passing and became interested in what progress. It would be of little benefit to mankind to give a whole is not fully developed, but the changes will be so they were doing. He said little to the controls, and they did them this knowledge because they are not in position to gradual that one generation will scarcely note them. With not know where he was from, but to them seemed divine, properly receive or appreciate it. The human intellect has Evidently he was from a very high plane. He said that he a barrier and it is beyond this barrier in the wider realms of would come again and give them more information as to spirit intellect that this knowledge even begins to be comprehended. Long as has been his experience he feels he is only on the outskirts of what might be called the great field of eternal existence. How much is beyond him he has no Apparently in answer to some thought, he said he was means of ascertaining. The spirits above him never return to the earth plane. They have passed forever beyond it. lived on the earth long before the historic age began. When The past to them is as unsubstantial as a dream. They know they have existed in flesh and blood; have passed through face. The earth underwent a wonderful change and only a what men call death have risen plane by plane, but it is all Zew survived. From these few have come the races that now a dim memory. A knowledge which lingers like the faint people the earth. He thinks another change is coming, and remembrance of a language we have once known but which has faded from the mind, leaving only the faintest impression. In his long life here he has, of course, seen much of the unknown quantity called space, which no mortal mind has been able to grasp. He has learned that around the great North Star, which to you glimmers as a stationary point in the heavens, are systems of planets grander than the human mind has grasped and greater than any living astronomer can comprehend. Habitable worlds swing in what appears dark space. Huge suns in unrevealed parts of space shine upon and give life to worlds which will never come into impetus to the intellect which no one can comprehend who the reach of earth's largest telescopes. From all these does not know the vast influence excited sometimes upon a worlds pour into the spirit spheres a ceaseless throng of released spirits."

This may be taken as the cosmological feature of the messages. It and what follows is more responsive to inquiries enraged people because his machines had thrown so many from both controls and sitters than otherwise for one of the curious things in these interviews was the questions from the controls apparently more frequent than from the sitters. At this sitting it was announced that the "High Spirit" would leave on his mission and would not return until for some months—that we might expect him again sometime in December. We waited patiently, with no word or intimation by a remnant several times, and is now about ripe for it until the evening of December 19, 1894, when it was announced that he was present. The control said: "As the face of the earth has changed since he was on it. Oceans | High Spirit had been absent I will write for him, embodying his ideas in my own language." And this is what was re-

> "The earth was never in a more progressive state than now. There have been periods in its existence when civilization seemed to have reached its limit and a decline of general intelligence began. But at no other time have so many elements entering into the state of civilization been so thoroughly developed. This applies not only to the remote past but also to the near past-that period which may be described as embraced in the historical records of the human race. The High Spirit says he came to the earth expecting to find indications of a worn-out and practically dying plan-

et. He and those with him have sounded the globe from pole to pole and have caught a glimpse of every race in every zone, and what he has discovered to exist is widely at variive passages must be omitted, and only the sayings of the ance with his former views. He has not found a worn-out are precisely in keeping with that universal law which leads High Spirit given. As to the age of the earth he said: "that planet nor an exhausted human life. On the other hand he every living thing to an end called death. It is with a planet where he belonged they believe the earth to be thirty mill- has found a state of development and a state of vitality that precisely in this respect as with an individual, a worm, a on years old, and that it had been inhabited by man one mill. indicate that this planet called the earth has yet a greater | tree or plant. There is a birth, a growth, a decline, a death. destiny than has come to it. There may be certain changes Yet in this death the planet does not become without its use in its physical features, but these will not interfere with the or wholly extinct as a body. This is illustrated in the moons growth of the planet in the line of developing civilization. that attend planets. But once the decline begins, as the Those who have studied the history of the human race, even high spirit stated last night, no power of spirit can overfor the short time between the present and the age of mythology, will have noticed that the master minds of the centuries has been sent to see how the earth has progressed. The come only as the people advance in intelligence. (This is world that we inhabit being but an infinitesimal one among not definite enough. This is my meaning.) When a great mentality impresses itself upon the world it usually follows that another great mind does not appear until the masses condition by inspection. The spirit who is with us to-day have, in a measure, risen to the mental plane of the other says he has been sent for this purpose and will report back great mind. Hence it is that great philosophers, great poets. to those who sent him. The progress of the earth is not, as and artists do not come forth with the budding of each seayou might suppose, the progress of the people on it, but the son but flower only when the proper time comes. This is growth of the earth itself. The earth is not now growing. It emphatically the age of invention and discovery. The next that the coming of a new planet into a system would throw absorbed life energy for a long period and then began giving age may carry mankind on the forces of these inventions and discoveries into realms not yet dreamed of."

After an interruption by persons coming in on business, the following brief conclusion came: "The condition of the planet was never better. Bub is trees with the animal life that could exist under those cir- not as it will be in centuries to come. This is the verdict the High Spirit, the message he took to those who sent him. of the century. There are changes going on that he wishes it is almost impossible to say what the next mental phase of ward re-creation. The change that is to come is but a short a better word than tendencies. If you will closely watch the present man has not reached a stage of civilization as high there are ages of distinctively physical growth, when the

I might stop here, as one topic seems explained. But there

December 20, 1894. "The High Spirit says he is not a believer in the theory that war and the subjugation of races must continue * * The human race is now in a more pacific state than ever before * * That the long expected trouble bewith men on earth face to face. The progress of spiritual The tendency of the time is to broadening the mind of the lanlightenment is rapidly approaching completion and boring man, and he is fast seeing that what he may do out of tions of the magnifying power of that instrument, but this ing the worst impulses of human nature.—Buchner, world become enlightened. This spirit to us seems divine Spirit has referred to the labor question merely as an incisecause he has reached a plane of thought that makes him dent to illustrate his position as to war  This he would say much smaller spot in space than is shown by the figures of into two classes, according to the sensations of pleasure or almost a god. His powers, so far as the earth or man is especially, that there is coming a time when the inhabitants of the earth will understand their globe better than they now if the knowledge does exist it has not reached his plane. Three days clapsed and on the 28th the following was do, and will know that most of the great puzzles that scien-

tle circle in which the planet spins. The multiplicity of in- | from the control: earth in space and the necessary disturbances that must felt that the earth was dying out, and would soon, as we measure

"So, too, does that force called gravity belong to the earth, physical improvement always comes mental advancement, and when the earth shall have reached its highest state of development there will be no talk heard of barbarians and savages and heathens, but there will be, to a certain extent, one universal civilization. This does not necessarily carry with it the inference that there will be a oneness of intelligence, for that is something which can never be reduced to a common plane, so long as there is a mentality there will be degrees, some men will be more learned than others-for the time will never come when the race will not, to an extent, look to mental leaders in their march through life."

There is one difficulty in arranging these messages. You will note that they must have come largely in answer to questions and are not as in a continuous discourse. I have tried to abbreviate them, but the constant influx of a new idea renders this no easy task. In a communication on Dec. 21, 1894, after referring to the advance of the new century based on the discoveries already made, particularly in the domain of electricity, this was said:

"But the best sign is that which points to the general advancement of the masses. The high spirit builds much on that. With the advancement of the masses there comes an single mind by the combined mentality of a whole people. This is a point little comprehended by the people themselves. But as a matter of fact all the civilizing influences attending the advancement of the earth come out of the masses and are reflected in some one of superlative mental attainment. Thus while the people are constantly following mental leader they are as ceaselessly but unconsciously furnishing him with the very forces that go to make up his superior mentality. When the masses begin to retrograde the bright minds begin to get dim. Now, this to a degree explains why the high spirit puts so much stress upon the word masses. The indication of an advancement in the mentality and even in the physical condition of mankind was one of the first things that impressed the high spirit with the knowledge of the increasing life of the planet. If he had found the people in a lower state it would have been an unfailing sign of retrogression on the part of the planet. When a world like this begins to recede instead of advance it is classed as a dying orb. For there is no power to stay its decline. Now that must appear to you as equivalent to a statement that a planet has a physical death, practically the same as man. On

On the next evening, December 22, 1894, it was announced that the High Spirit was prepared to keep his promise and talk on the earth as regards its physical decay, and the fol-

this we will talk to-morrow night. Good night."

"The coming into existence of a life-bearing planet, its progress and development, its gradual decay and final death, come the law of decay and stay the progress backward. Thus you will observe that one of the unvarying laws of nature, operative on your earth, operates also in the great space in and around earth and in those far-off regions where other suns get their light. Now here is where the high spirit de sires to make an admission that may seem strange to you. He does not know what keeps planets or suns in motion. It is not attraction for that would in time be worn out and weakened. If the law of attraction were applied to all the bodies of space we would find so nicely adjusted a system the entire solar worlds out of balance. The attractive force would be intensified in some parts of the system and that would make chaos of all. Now that planets do move in orbits more or less circular is known even to mankind. How that propelling power is kept up we do not know. It begins with the birth of a world and it lasts so far as we can determine, eternally. The extinction of human, animal and of all life has no effect upon its motion, nor does the disappearance of the atmosphere. If that propelling power were attraction the changes the planet undergoes would affect the nice adjustment necessary to keep it from flying off into space. But here again is something to consider. Some planets move slowly and others rapidly. The attractive force necessary to the orbit of one could not be used for the other. All we know is that every body that moves in space has a movement or motion peculiar to itself. Why that motion does not change and allow the body to fly from its orbit we do not know. Even the high spirit has not yet mastered this secret of perpetual motion. It has been held by some that what is called the drifting of stellar systems is but the falling of those systems in space, and with this has been associated the theory of the force which keeps them turning in an orbit. The high spirit gives this simply as a theory, and would not have it to go out as a fact."

There were several talks up to the last of December, when the high spirit announced his departure, "bearing with him a pleasant memory of his visit." After making his report he expected to return in about two months, or sometime in March. These talks embraced among other things, the Tides, which he insists are due to the earth's motion and movement, as it is well known that "after getting a certain distance into space attractive force is reduced to practically nothing." As to the age of our planet he declined to express an opinion of his own as he had no means of knowing. "It had been long in existence when he came into being on it, and is still young, though he has been in spirit life longer than he can tell" . "" 81

About the sidereal systems supposed to exist in space he said that outside of the known sidereal system lie others, but their distances are not so great as science would indicate. Some of the stars of this system are nearer than many believe. The fact that they do not increase in magnitude under the telescope proves of course that they lie beyond its power, but we have no means of knowing the limita. doctrines and theories of belief, thus fostering and nourishdoes not necessarily indicate that the stars are at such stuastronomers. How many systems exist no spirit knows, or given. It may be well here to observe that the "High Spirit" tific men have been working over for centuries with varying ten weeks, nothing was heard from the high spirit until the all the systems of religion,—Volney.

agencies which seem to have their origin elsewhere. The of which you have already heard on the occasion of a former Spirit says that tides are produced by the movement of the those under whose direction I worked an opinion prevailed servation has convinced me that the earth is not yet fully developed, that the mentality of its people is lower than it will and the law is not universal so far as it applies to every sys. I delivered. I also reported on the tendency of the civilized be before the season of decay sets in. That was the message races to do away with war. My message brought joy, for among those who peopled the earth longer ago than the mind can contemplate still retain something of a desire to see it grow and increase both as to its physical condition and the civilization of those inhabiting it My message was taken to a plane higher than I have yet reached. Where it will end I do not know. It will certainly pass to the highest plane associated directly with earth spirits. That is all now. He will be here some time and when you can sit, may talk."

REMARKS:-This is a favorable point to stop. In compiling the foregoing for The Progressive Thinker, I have only one object-to support by evidence my contention that spirits do not always "talk gossip" on a low plane, but are equal to all demands that may in good faith be made upon them. One peculiarity about these is the concept as to the earth that underlies all that is said—that it is a thing by itself, alive and the reservoir of all-life forms upon it-which in physical and mental development are from itself. And of course rejects all theories that primarily regard it as a "made" world.

It may be well to repeat that these messages were not from trance or inspirational mediumship, but automatic, the medium being an active, wide-awake member of the little circle—the method was explained in my article in your issue of June 13, No. 707. I can only vouch for the integrity of all concerned, and that the messages are simply and only from spirits, through an honest man. And in closing I may be allowed to say that his experience was only with himself, and that for a brief time before his death. He said to me: "I shall test the truth of this by coming to you after I die"-for he knew that was not far off. This promise was fully redeemed and on more than one occasion. And I close this too brief mention by ascribing to my friend what an active life deserved—the character of an upright, intelligent, educated gentleman, and in every relation with his fellows, a true SAR'GIS.

A WOMAN'S PRAYER.

A woman pale, at close of day, Knelt where a dying baby lay. And prayed to God to spare her child From hunger's tortures fierce and wild: O, Christ, thou who didst love the poor, Come near, I pray, my humble door. Thou who didst make the water wine. From fish and loaf bid thousands dine, Give bread this day to me and mine.

For days and days my weary feet Have trudged about from street to street, Where I have begged for work, and bread Until my heart sank down like lead, And oft I wished that I were dead. A hundred times the angry frown Of employer has cast me down, And empty-handed, sick and sore, I've sought again my hovel door.

I've seen my children, once so hale, From want of food grow thin and pale, And now as fades the waning light, My darling's soul goes home to-night. O God! is it for this we're born-To tread the wine-press sad, forlorn, And in a land of greed and gold, Where minds are dwarfed and hearts are cold, Starve like the felons did of old?

There is no famine in the land. Vast riches from thy loving hand Are poured out lavishly each day, Yet he must want who cannot pay. Pay whom? not thee, O Lord, not thee; Are not thy bounties full and free? Pay those who claim the land and gold, And in their clutch earth's treasures hold While millions of thy children slave Or beg for that thou freely gave.

They say this is a Christian land, And church spires rise up tall and grand, While hosts of people meet to pray And bless thee every Sabbath day: Yet e'en within the sacred shade Of chapel dome dire want is laid With vise-like grip on youth and age, 🗼 Until we find our printed page Becomes a record sheet of crime, Despite thy life and words sublime.

O God! If it be true that right Will triumph and at last make might, Then let earth's wrongs be swept away And righteousness shine in like day. Forbid that e'er the sun should rise On starving babes and weeping eyes, Where mothers bent with aching head, Beg for a chance to toil for bread; While greed shuts up his shriveled soul And takes the earth in full control.

Thus Christian mothers kneel and pray, While misery gnaws the heart away; And travesties on Christian love Make angels weep who watch above. But lift your eyes, O child of earth! For righteousness hath here had birth. And nature from her thousand hills Cries out against all human ills. With gentle speech she'll check each sigh And wipe the tears from every eye, Soothe every pain, drive out all care, And answer every heartfelt prayer. San Antonio, Tex. LAURA B. PAYNE.

The ideas of the divinity have been created by the affect pain, love or hatred; the powers of nature, the gods, the genii, were divided into beneficent and malignant, good and Though several sittings took place during the succeeding evil; and hence the universality of these two characters in

BY NO METHOD UNTIL "AC-TINA" WAS DISCOVERED.

Ninety-five per cent of all cases of deafness brought to our attention is the result of chronic catarrh of the throat and middle ear. The air pasanges become clogged by catarrhal deposits, stopping the action of the vipratory bones. Until these deposits are removed a cure is impossible. The inner ear cannot be reached by probing or spraying, rists or physicians to cure. Ear drums are worse than useless. That there is a scientific oure for deafness and catarrh is demonstrated every day by the use of Actina. The vapor current generated in the Actina passes through the Eustachian tubes into the middle ear, removing the catarrhal obstructions as it passes through the tubes, and loos inner ear, making them respond to the slight-est vibration of sound, Actina has never failed to cure ringing noises in the head. We have known people troubled with this distressing symptom for years to be completely cured in only three weeks' use of Actina. Actina also cures asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, weak lungs, colds and headache; all of which are directly or indirectly due to catarrh. Actina is sent on trial postpaid. Write us about your ease. We give advice free, and positive proof of cures. A valuable book-Professor Wilson's 100 page Dictionary of Disease, Free. Address New York & London Electric Association, Dep. T 929 Walnut Street, Kansas City, Mo.

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinker, as printed at the top of the first page, right hand corner. If this number corresponds with the figures on your wrapper, then the time you have paid for has expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is adanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to date. Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

in Current Spiritualistic and Occult

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. The Philooply and the Spiritualistic and Occult phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can af-ford to be without the paper. Its price is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two

Elevating, Fascinating, Instructive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing it exceptionally interesting. She well says: "These characters which have brought out the highest and lowest is different religious beliefs, have moved me, not I them." The whole book is to teresting, fascinating, and instructive

A. SCHOPENHAUER ESSAYS. A. OCHUYLIMAUK COATO.
Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth, 75 cents,
"Schopenhauer is one of the few philosopheri who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life. This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."— Translator.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut. Taken from the Code of 1650, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1655, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in New England. Some extracts from the Plue Laws of Virginia. Price 25 cents

THE MISSING LINK IN MODERN SPIRITUALISM.

By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family. By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family.
Interesting and valuable as a history of the begisning of Modern. Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Bistors. 478 Pages, 16 illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. History of the Hydesvillo rappings, as related by eye-witnesses; remarkable and well-attested manifestations; the "exposures" etc. Handsomely bound in cloth. But few copies remaining.
Publishers' price, $1.50. We will send the book postpaid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES. By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggle for life. By Charles Darwin. Glit top, cloth bound. This book is the grandest achievement of modern scientific thought and research. It has passed through many editions in English, has been translated into almost all the languages of Europe, and has been the subject of more reviews, pamplicts and exparate books than any othic. volume of the age. Most of the great scientist of thirds guilty support his position. The thought of the feed has become a part of the common inheritance of the race. For sale at this office. Price 75 cta.

THE OTHER WORLD AND THIS. A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. 1, New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinced the powers of a trained thinker, both in matter of thought and fine literary style, and capability of thought expression. The subjects are well handled with conciseness and yet with clearness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning Spiritualism and its leachings. Price $1.50.

THE SOUL OF THINGS: San Antonio, Tex.

LAURA B. PAYNE.

When vice prevails and implous men bear sway, the post of honor is a private station.—Addison.

Religion counteracts morality and universal philanthropy in so far as it sets men against each other by diversity of doctrines and theories of belief, thus fostering and nourish.

LAURA B. PAYNE.

Or Psychometric Researches and Discoveries. By Wm. and Elizabeth M. F. Denton. A marvelous work. Though concise as a text book is as fascinating as a work of fiction. The reader will be amazed to see the curious facts here combined in support of this power of the human mind, which will resolve a thousand doubts and difficulties, make geology plain as day, and throw light on all subjects now obscured by time. Price, $1.50. In three volumes, cloth bound. $1.50 cach. Postage, 10c per copy.

Molecular Hupothesis of Nature; The Relation of its Principles to Continued Ex-istence and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism. By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper, 21 conts.

OUTSIDE THE GATES and other tales and sketches. By a band of spirit in telligences, through the mediumship of Mary Therese shelhamer. An excellent work. Price, 61.00. For sale at allis office.

.. GENERAL SURVEY ...

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS, DOINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS .- Each contributor is slone responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor allows this freedom of expression, believing that the cause of truth can be best subscryed thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly derstood that our space is inadequate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire for the to do so. That must account non-appearance of YOUR article.

WRITE PLAINLY.-We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linotype machine that must make speed equal to about four compositors. That means rapid work, and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other re-quirements being favorable, should be written plainly with ink on white paper, or with a typewriter, and only on one side of the paper.

ITEMS.—Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occu-py, and in order to do that they will generally have to be abridged more or less: otherwise many items would be crowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line item is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the writer. It will not do to say that Secretary or Correspondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep copies of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned if we have not space to use them.

Geo. Hamilton Brooks, No. 6600 Normal avenue Chicago, corresponding secretary of the Englewood Spiritual Union, would like to hear from lecturers, with their open dates for the coming fall and winter.

Virginie Barrett writes: "I shall go Virginie Barrett writes: "I shall go tion of our people. A Spiritualist so-Northwest in the first part of July, and tion of our people. A Spiritualist so-clety is being formed. Mrs. Prior was ing my services en route, can address me at No. 1915 Broadway, Indianapolis, ind. I would also open new fields for fall and winter." A meeting was held at Masonic Hall, Butte, Mont., July 3, 4 and 5. G. W. Kates and wife were the principal speakers. For information in regard to Spiritualism in Montana, address W. J. Hicks, Anaconda, Mont., P. O. Box 92.

H. F. Coates writes: "I wish to extend an invation to attend our meetings at Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue, to all church-goers whose meetings have been discontinued. church will hold services each Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m., all summer. Our attendance is good. All are welcome."

W. H. Bach writes from Lily Dale, N. "I note that people are 'regretting the change of name from Lily Dale." There is no change of name from Lily Dale, but it seems impossible to impress that fact upon the minds of some of the people. There is no desire to change from Lily Dale, and it is exceedingly doubtful if it could be changed if it was desired, as the postoffice department requires exceedingly good reasons for changing the name of postoffice. This place has been wn as Cassadaga Camp. There is a village only a mile from us by the name of Cassadaga. That fact was always causing confusion and people were going to Cassadaga and then had to come back here. When the Sunflower was started there was little use of the name Lily Dale, but that name has been pushed to the front by it in order to avoid the confusion, and now it is used almost universally. These grounds are owned by a corporation, the Cassadaga Lake Free Association. It was this corporate name that was changed to the City of Light Assembly. The reasons for this it is not necessary to publish, but one of the principal ones was to avoid confusing Cassadaga village and camp, and also that 'camp' no longer describes this place, as it is a city of homes and beautiful cottages, while the word 'camp' impresses people with the idea of a city of tents. Lily Dale is the railroad station and postoffice, and probably will continue to be as there has not been any suggestion of a change in that direction."

Mrs. Hilbert and Mrs. Bryon will leave Chicago the first week in July for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to be gone a few weeks. From there they go to Van-Wert and other towns in Ohio. They anticipate continuing their journey as far east as New Jersey, expecting to return to Chicago in time to commence the regular services of the Progressive Spiritual church at 183 East North avenue (of which Mrs. Hilbert is the regular pastor), on the first Sunday in Sep-

The Anaconda (Mont.) Standard says: "Efforts are being made to organize a Montana national spiritual association, and to that end a missionary from Boston, G. W. Kates, and his wife, will hold meetings here, beginning next Monday and continuing until Thursday. It is said that both Mr. Kates and his wife are well versed in the theories of Spiritualism, and during their stay in Anaconda they will endeavor to create an interest in its teachings. There are at present 14 or 15 students here, and a few meetings have been held. Nearly all of the eastern states have a state organization, and efforts will be made to bring Montana into line. It is said that Mr. Kates quarrels with no other religion, and is a well-educated man."

Correspondent writes from Elyria, Ohio: "For the closing sessions of our meetings in this city we have been meetings it this critical matter and the splendidly entertained by Mrs. Carrie will continue with us. I have refused curran, of Toledo president of the Ohio all camp engagements owing to ill-Association, who by reason of her good work will always find a hearty welcome in Elyria. Last Sunday the season closed with a lecture morning and evening, by that gifted lady, Mrs. Anna Gillespie, of California. It was her first actual expenses are guaranteed and appearance among us, and to say she captured her audience is not over-

F. P. Bowker and Mary L. Bowker, F. A. Greene and Ida F. Greene and J. W. Wilson are the directors of the Bible Spiritual Society, which was lately incorporated at San Francisco, Cal. The articles of incorporation announce that the society is formed for the purpose of "giving protection to all mediums and ministers of the church and denomination, including clairvoyants, clairaudiants, inspirational mediums and mag-

Mrs. N. H. Fogg writes from Southington, Conn.: "June 17 our annual picnic at Compounce was held, with Mrs. day, had a premonition that another eral noted for their skepticism in times May Pepper speaker and test medium. fire threatened and sent a porter to in past, and many of the best citizens of the gave a good talk on the different vestigate the upper floors of the ketel, ideas or religious views held by Spiritualists, showing that natural law was all the God we would find revealed within our own consciousness."

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that Items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

John Willis, Jr., of Marion, Ind., has located his father, from whom he had been separated thirty years, by a dispatch from Pendleton, Ore., announcing that Willis, Sr., had located a rich gold mine through the guidance of "Lucy," a spirit. The elder Willis is a Spiritualist. He left New England thirty years ago to search for gold in the Northwest. Mrs. C. Wolf writes: "Since writing to you last we have had two successful meetings. Our number increases, and there is certainly a very marked degree of interest shown among the people. I am glad to note that we attract the cul-tivated and thinking people of our city." Mrs. A. E. Sheets writes: "Grand Ledge camp opens July 26, with one of the finest programs, it is said, we have ever sent out. Several good mediums have written us since their issue signifying their intention to be present, as our camp supports mediumship, and there is a strong call for the various phases. A mistake was made in first issue which would have closed the session July 21 instead of the 23d, as it should have been. Send to A. I. Mc-Kelvey for circulars."

C. W. Steele writes from Grand Junction Colo.: "Grand Junction has been greatly favored by a visit from Mrs. Loie F. Prior, who gave two lectures, and one test seance, public, while here, to crowded houses. Her visit has resulted in a great revival of interest in subjects spiritual, and many hundreds are praying for her return. As a lecturer and medium Mrs. Prior stands with the highest in the estimamuch impressed by the unfailing courteous treatment given her by the press portions of the clergy. Grand Junction lies in the extreme western part of Colorado on the line of the Denver and Rio Grande R. R.; has a population of over 5,000 and is growing rapidly, and is specially noted for the luscious quality of its peaches and other fruits grown here. Good, true, honest mediums are always welcome."

Frank A. Nugent writes from Beaver Falls, Pa.: "Sunday, June 14, we held our last meeting for the season, to reopen October 4. Mrs. Emma Nutt-Moore spoke, and so did our president. Then followed soul-readings by the former. Then we had an experience meeting which was very interesting to all. The previous Sunday was Dr. Geo. W. Renner's last Sunday with us previous to going to Chicago, at 515 Steinway Hall, 17 E. Van Buren street. At this meeting resolutions of thanks were passed for the kind and unselfish work that the Doctor had done for our soclety during the past six months. The president, Titus M. Welsh, then spoke publicly to Dr. Renner, thanking him in behalf of the society and endorsing his trumpet and physical mediumship as of merit.

J. S. Gitchel writes: Sunday evening, June 21, Mrs. Francis Wheeler, of La Crosse, Wis., spoke at Rockford, Ill., for the Spiritual Science Society, to a very appreciative audience, the theme of here lecture being, 'Our Spirit Homes,' showing that our future homes would be what we make them now; that in earth life every noble deed and kind word went into the foundations of the homes to be enjoyed in spirit life. At the close of her lecture, in an easy and convincing manner, many messages and tests were given that were not only recognized but will be long remembered for bringing up fond recollections of the past to those who have departed loved ones on the other side. Mrs. Wheeler left many warm friends here and we hope to have her with us again, as she is amply able to grace the plat-form for any society."

Mrs. C. Lee writes: "I saw in a late Progressive Thinker an account of an egg found in a hen's nest in Texas, with writing on it. Some people think such a thing could hardly happen; but I wish to say that I had such an experience myself several years ago. Just a short time before the war between the North and South, I got an egg in a hen's nest, with plain figures on it. They were about an inch long, and were a lighter color than the egg. '61 was the year that the war begun. It was before any one knew there was to be a war. I am sure no one made the figures. I found the egg myself and was greatly alarmed. When the war began we knew what the figures meant. I don't remember how long it was before the war commenced. I think not more than a year. If figures can appear on an egg, why not letters?'

C. H. Figuers writes from Cleveland, Ohio: :"Sunday evening, June 28, I closed my hall for a rest, but will open again Sunday evening, September 6. This is our fourth year at this hall, and the attendance has been very good. We have done our best, and feel that some good has been done-seed sown that has brought forth good fruit, and will bring more to the harvest. During the past season I have christened fifty children and ten adults, and have not missed an evening during the winter, although at times very ill. We feel that the angels have been with us in our work, and have promises that they health, yet will visit many places this summer and hold one-night meetings, returning home the next day. Will go anywhere with a hundred miles of Cleveland, and hold a meeting when my place to hold the meeting secured. I will not do private work while away from home. The West Side Society closed yesterday for the summer, and everybody is preparing for a rest, preparatory for next winter's work." A strange series of premonitions prevented a big fire at Milwaukee. Wis. Max Hoffmann, a Spiritualist, was awakened from his sleep by a warning which he claims was given him from the other world. He went to the Boston store, which was partially destroyed on Friday, and saw smoke coming from an upper window. At the same time the night clerk at the Davidson hotel, which also suffered on Frinic at Compounce was held, with Mrs. day, had a premonition that another May Pepper speaker and test medium. fire threatened and sent a porter to in:

When writing for this paper use a pen or typewriter.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

Then he saw the flames in the store building and telephoned the alarm. Watchmen had been in the part of the store where the fire was discovered five minutes before the alarm was given and saw nothing wrong. E. B. Chamness writes from Alexandria, Ind., in reference to Harry J. Moore: "He has attracted large and intellectual audiences with ever increasing interest. He holds his audience spellbound from start to finish."

W. C. Mann writes from Louisville, Ky .: "The Speed Memorial Temple has discontinued services until September, the last services being held at the residence of Brother Val Speed, on Sunday afternoon, June 21. The two large parlors were taxed to their utmost capacity. Sister Gunawald delivered a lecture entitled, There Is No Death, in a manner showing that she has but few equals, and no superiors. After Sister Gunawald's lecture and a special selection by the choir, messages from the departed ones were given by the Rev. Mary Mann, Sisters Hazard and Eaton, and all were recognized. Sister Gunawald be at Chesterfield at the opening of the camp, to remain six weeks. Mrs. P. A. Hutchinson writes from Alzada, Mont.: "I will tell what has been done in this little corner of Montana. Ten years ago Spiritualism, mediumship and magnetic healing had never been heard of. I stood lonely indeed, with only my children and Mr. Ransom Rathbone, who came here for his health. He had been a strong be-liever before I was born. The good old man now lies in a South Dakota grave. Gradually the truths which have sussustained me through the darkest hours of my life were related to my neighbors by way of simple tests, helping them when sick, for our doctors live 45 miles from here. Then I held circles, even though we live miles apart on our ranches. To-day I bless the powers, the angels, that have helped me on this frontier to comfort the sick and afflicted. One poor fellow committed suicide. Was he to be buried like a dog? I said no, and offered my services. Since then when death enters a home I am sent for. The force of circumstances caused

E. O. Cramer writes from Buffalo, N. Y.: "Having read an article in The Progressive Thinker. No. 709, over the signature of C. H. Mathews of New Philadelphia, Ohio, which he calls 'A Spiritualistic Episode,' I feel that I must write to you corroborating his statement. I am a grandson-in-law of Mr. Edward John Robbins, and I have heard him relate the facts as stated by Mr. Mathews, a number of times. Mr. Robbins passed to spirit life, January 18, 1903, but he has a daughter who is here with me at the present time, and who was personally acquainted with Mrs. Blandy (the medium), also with Miss Flavia Colie, Ira Davenport, Sr., and his two sons (brothers of Mrs. Blandy). arguments. I have never heard of Mr. C. H. Mathews before, and I do not in his account of the episode whether he was or not."

Pierce, Ala.: "I have another supply of are forging to the front, commanding a high and pure nature and of superior | the biggest story in the Bible. I will place and prestige, her send a copy free to any one sending been phenomenal, yet borne, we are imtheir address, with a stamp to pay post-Norman Speight writes: "The annual meeting of the Englewood Spiritual Union, 528, W. Sixty-third street, was held Thursday evening, June 25, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Herbert A. Harrell; vice-president, Mrs. Geo. Hamilton Brooks: corresponding secretary, Geo. Hamilton Brooks; financial secretary and treasurer, D. M. Graham; trustees, T. S. Russell, Geo. Bovik, M. B. Philp. The society has determined on having evening service each Sunday in July and possibly August, of which due notice will be given through the regular channel" Louise E. Zimmerman writes from Elmira, N. Y.: "It has been some time since there has been anything reported from the church of the First Spiritualist Unity Society of this city, although the work is going on steadily as hereto-fore. The semi-monthly socials and suppers still hold interest, as are the truths voiced from the rostrum through the inspiration of Mrs. Von Kanzler. During the months of July and August the church will be closed, allowing the pastor and members the privilege of visiting the spiritual camps and having a period of recuperation preparatory to the session beginning September 6, for another year. There are those among the readers of your paper, especially among the older workers, who will remember the old-time Spiritualist, Mrs. Wm. Hatch, whose home was at one time called the 'Mediums' Home,' because of the hospitality given mediums coming to this city. June 27, being the 81st anniversary of her advent into material form, a number of friends met in kindly greeting at her home in the afternoon, bringing with them a bountiful supply of the viands which sustain the physical demands, also a purse for further needs. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, and after supplying the physical needs, there was a spiritual feast of messages and descriptions of the unseen loved ones who were present, by Sister Von Kanzler and other mediums present, making it a remarkable event which will linger through all time with those present. After an enjoyable evening the guests departed, thanking the hostess and wishing her continued hap-The Students of Nature wish to open correspondence with some lecturer and test medium to take up a few months' engagement with the society. Address stating terms, W. Hassman, No. 340 West Humboldt avenue, or C. Eiterman, 130 North Lincoln street, Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Hamilton Gill, the well known test medium, left Chicago July 3, for

Lake Brady, Ohio. She expects to stay there two weeks, as her brother, Chas. J. Barnes, is also at Lake Brady. The latter part of July and all of August Mrs. Gill will spend at Lily Dale, N. Y. O. V. LaBoyteaux writes from Reading, Mich.: "Mrs. N. M. Russell spent last week with our little band here and gave one public meeting in the opera house on Wednesday evening, which was well attended. A special meeting of the society was held Sunday afternoon over which she presided. In the meantime she gave private readings to twice as many people as she ever did before here, and not a dissatisfied one in the lot; and among them were sev-

AND ADDRESS WHEN SENDING NO ganized by me nearly seven years ago, and upon my return from Alaska I will be with the same society for three or PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE
WASTE PACKETER
WASTE PACKETER

WASTE PACKETER

WASTE PACKETER

WASTE PACKETER

WASTE PACKETER

THEY

four months. I find a great need for first-class work here in the West; the WASTE BASKET.

Rena D. Chapman, secretary, writes: The Michigan State Spiritual Association will hold their annual convention in the Mediums' Home, Lansing, Aug. 11, opening at 10:30 a. m. Large delegations are expected from all parts of the state. The Marcellus Progressive Spiritualist Society of Michigan, had the services of Harry J. Moore, June 21 and 28. Large crowds were in attendance, and all were pleased with the discourses of this talented speaker."

A. A. Averill writes: "Rev. May S Pepper was the attraction at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass., on Sunday, June 28, and that she has not lost her hold on the hearts of the people was proven by the immense audience assembled to greet her. Two thousand people were present at the four o'clock service. Mrs. Pepper delivered a short but very forcible address, followed by a large number of communications that were unusually remarkable for their accuracy. Mrs. Pepper's tests always confound the skeptics; as one gentleman remarked at the close of the service, 'Well, we've got something to think of this week.' Other good speakers assisted at the 11 o'clock and 2 o'clock meetings. The music was especially fine, with H. C. Chase planist and W. H. Atherly, cornetist. Sunday, July 12 Mr. H. D. Barrett, editor of the Banner of Light, will be the speaker, with good mediums assisting."

premium, 'Seers of the Ages,' has been received. I never enoyed more pleasweight in gold to a truth-seeker. Thank you very much for it, and may the great, good and useful life of its author e preserved to continue to bless mankind for many more years, is my sincere prayer.' W. A. Rowell writes: "Last Sunday the West Side Spiritual Society, of Cleveland, Ohio, held a memorial service in memory of our arisen sister, Dr. Nellie C. Mosier, who for many years abored with this society. The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, and draped with our national colors. C. H. Figuers and Mr. me to drift here. Consoling it is to Fred Hayes were the principal speak-know I am a missionary for the cause." ers, both of whom paid loving tribute to ers, both of whom paid loving tribute to the worth and honesty of our arisen sister. Many others in the audience spoke beautifully and feelingly and related many instances of work given through our friend. After the speak-ing, Nellie C. Mosier controlled a lady in the audience, not a public medium, and thanked the friends for the kindness and the love displayed by them. Mrs. Lena Wolf followed the exercises with tests, after which the benediction was pronounced and the hall closed until the first Sunday in September, 1903." R. F. Little writes from Seattle: "We are pleased to announce to our co-workers and the public generally the arrival on this portion of the Pacific coast, of that tireless worker in the cause of Mr. Robbins was an ardent Spiritualist | Spiritualism, Mrs. Loie F. Prior, long for more than forty years and was with and favorably known as one of the Mrs. Blandy about eight years during ablest exponents of our grand philosowhich time he had many good tests. He | phy as well as approved exemplifyer of converted me to Spiritualism by his its phenomena. Mrs. Prior began the good logic; but I have had two tests work of the psychic here in Scattle in a work of the psychic here in Seattle in a since he died which have clinched his local gathering of Spiritualists of humble pretensions, yet of imperishable worth, little thinking that the future know whether he was acquainted with | held in store for her a grand career as Mr. Robbins or not. He does not state psychic and public teacher. Even in this age of rapid progress when "great issues are born and settled in a day," Dr. D. Winegarden writes from when great souls and intellectual giants success has pressed to say, with commendable acknowledgement of, and reliance upon that infinite love and wisdom which never deserts, but always sustains the worthy worker in the cause of human progress. Mrs. Prior occupied the rostrum of the Seattle Spiritual Association, whose hall, though one of the largest and best equipped in the city, was filled to the doors, when it became known that she was to be present. The four lectures given by her, together with the spirit messages at the close of each, were received with marked ap proval by the general public marked an era in the history of this, perhaps, more than ordinarily flourishing society. We hope the good spirits will send more like her to this portion of the vineyard. We have able speakers and workers, and they are doing the work placed before them; but so rapid is the increase in population, and so great the demand for the New Philosophy, that we are much inclined to raise the cry of olden times, 'Come over into Macedonia and help While the harvest is ripe and the laborers are loyal, the field is ever broadening and there is an ever in creasing demand for good talent and effective phenomenal demonstration. The new recruits are doing excellent work but the appearance of the old guard upon the stage of action seems to be especially inspiring." Will J. Erwood, one of Wisconsin's most efficient workers, writes from Waukesha, Wis.: "Will you kindly al low me to call the attention of the readers of The Progressive Thinker to the fact that the Waukesha Camp-meet ing, given under the auspices of the Wisconsin State Spiritualist Association, will open July 17, which is but a short time away. All who are desirous of securing tents and camping privileges should write me at once, addressing me at LaCrosse until July 12, after which my address will be Waukesha The programs are ready, and all who wish a copy of same should send in their names and addresses at once. A most complete and excellent program has been prepared, and no one will make a mistake by coming and spending a month with us. The outing will do you good, and the lectures, messages and entertainments will offer much for the thinkers, Spiritualists and investigators. All Spiritualists who wish to aid the state association, and enjoy themselves at the same time should be in attendance at the camp either a portion or all of the time. One more mat-ter I-wish to call attention to, and that is personal membership. Spiritualists, we need your aco-operation, and you need the state association. Show your interest and faith in this grand cause by rallying around the state association now. Renew your membership, or if you are not a member, become one now.

It only costs one dollar per year." Mrs. Loie F. Prior writes: "I leave Seattle, Washington, July 1, on the teamship Excelsion, for Yakutat, Alaska, and expect to be gone three or four months. I hope to cross the great Muir glacier, and go quite close to Mt. St. Elias. My permanent address while in the far north will be Box 107 Washington, D. C. Sluce leaving the South in March last I have visited and worked successfully in Denver, Leadville and 4, and closes August 30. For full par-Grand Junction, Colo., and Seattle, ticulars address D. A. Herrick, presi-Wash. At the first mentioned cities, 1 dept and manager, 296 N. Ionia street, jorked independently, but here I have Grand Rapids, Mich,

ALWAYS CIVE YOUR FULL NAME | served the First Society of Seattle, orpeople are hungry for spiritual truths. in sending greetings to my many friends, through the columns of your paper, I would add that I hope to return east in 1904, and to take up my work there, in the autumn of that year." The Wisconsin State Spiritualist Asociation has gotten out a very neat and attractive program for the Waukesha camp-meeting.

Arzelia C. Clay writes: "We hear enouraging words for the Grand Rapids Camp at Reed's lake, and hope to visit the grounds in due time. It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Dell Herrick and Mr. Jud Johnson are doing double duty as soldiers in the army of Progression."

Dr. Beverly writes: "Next Sunday evening Dr. Warne, president of the Illinois State Spiritualist Association, will speak at Lakeside Hall. Let all rally to the support of our president, and uphold the truth we are called upon to teach. Lakeside Hall will be kept open all summer, and only the best talent will be represented. Plenty of Spiritualists will not leave the city during the warm weather. All are invited to spend Sunday with us and receive soul food that will benefit them in every-day life. This is the true bread of life, and the people are famishing for the truth that makes them free from disease and poverty."

A quiet wedding was solemnized on the evening of June 30, at the home of Mrs. Jane E, Staner, 1391 W. Madison street, Chicago, by Mrs. Wm. Hilbert, the pastor of the Progressive Spiritual Geo. Adkins writes from South Dather and the pastor of the Progressive Spiritual Church, when the hostess, Mrs. Staner -"Jennie"—was married to Mr. Sylvester E. Adams, of Jamestown, N. Daurable hours in my life than the few I kota. Only a very few persons knew have spent in reading that soul-stirring beforehand of the happy event about to book since its reception. It is worth its take place, and when it was announced at Mrs. Adams' (nee Staner's) regular Wednesday afternoon meeting, it caused much surprise among her great circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will continue to reside at 1391 W. Madison street, Chicago.

Mary C. Von Kanzler writes from Elmira, N. Y.: "The First Spiritualist Unity Society closed its public meetings for this season, June 27. The speaker and some of the more active members will visit different camp-meet. ings during July and August. The next season's meetings will open September 6. There is much interest manifested here, and progression is evident by the well-attended services at the church notwithstanding there are many attractions to amuse the people in the open air, at the different parks in this city as elsewhere, and in other cities."

Secretary writes from Canton, Ohio: The Church of Psychic Research held a very interesting meeting Sunday evening, June 28, and the last for two months. Marguerite St. Omer Briggs, our pastor, was able to be present and conduct a baptismal service, and give the right hand of fellowship to three new members, although quite feeble from an attack of pneumonia. Water as an emblem of purity, and flowers as an emblem of beauty, were used in the service. Dr. J. W. Briggs delivered a discourse on the Philosophy of Spiritualism. Mrs. St. Omer Briggs has been re-engaged when we re-open, Septem-

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS.

Send in Your Dates and Name of Secretary at Once.

Inquiries are already coming to this office in reference to the various camps. Will the officers of each camp please send at once the correct dates, etc., and also the name of the secretary who can be addressed for programmes and full particulars. The notices that do not contain the names of the secretary or president are incomplete.

Lake Brady, Ohlo. Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secretary, Akron, Ohio.

Chesterfield, Ind. Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting opens July 16 and closes August 80. For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Ander-

Forest Home, Mich. The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and closes August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich., Box 69.

Ottawa Camp, Kansas. This camp opens July 30, and closes August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas.

The Waukesha Camp, Wis. This camp opens July 17 and closes August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street, La Crosse, Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis.

Ottawa, Kans. This camp opens July 80 and coninues to August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, president Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Sec retary, Carbondale, Kansas. Wonewoo, Wis. The Wonewoo camp opens this year on August 13 and continues to the 30th of that month. Address for particulars,

Miss Gertrude Spooner, Secretary,

Wonewoc, Wis. Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich. The West Michigan Spiritualist Association will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Pioneer Assembly Grounds." Meeting opens July Winfield Camp, Kansas.

This camp will be held in Island Park Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 8, and closing July 13. For full partieulars write to Mrs. Maud K. Gates, cor ner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas.

Marshalltown, Iowa.

This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars address E. M. Vail, president, Marshalltown, Iowa.

This camp commences July 17, and continues until August 2. For full particulars address D. L. Haines, secre tary, Franklin. Neb.

Franklin, Neb.

Haslett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 30. For programs and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich.

Vicksburg, Mich.

This camp-meeting is located at Fraser's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg, It commences August 2 and closes August 22. For programs send to Jeannette Fraser, Manager, Vicksburg, Mich.

Grand Ledge, Mich. This camp opens July 26 and closes August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich.

Lake Helen Camp, Florida.

The Southern Cassadaga Camp-meeting will convene the first of February, and will close the middle of March For information and programmes, address Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y. The City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association, will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information and programs, address Mrs. Isabel Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily Dale, N. Y.

will hold meetings every Sunday, ending September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill, 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass.

Satugus Center, Mass.

The Lynn Spiritualists Association

The Onset Camp. .Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

Maple Dell Park, Ohio. The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session at Maple Dell, commencing July 25 and closing August 30. Lucy King, corresponding secretary. Address stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio. Harmony Grove, Cal.

The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We are expecting a very prosperous camp. For particulars address Frank C. Foster, secretary, Escondido, Cal. Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash.

The Spiritualists of Clarke county, Washington, will hold their second annual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30 Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington.

Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist Association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., pres ident; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N. Y., secretary.

FOREIGN AGENTS:

Lake Pleasant, Mass. This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Albert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos-

Los Angeles, Cal. The Southern California Spiritualist Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal., from August 16 to September 13. Address all communications to W. F. Vose No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, sec-

Twenty-seventh street, president. Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp. It will be held at Blodgett's Landing N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 30. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums For programmes, address the secretary Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N. H., until July 28; after that date, at Camp-meeting in Oregon. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spiritualist Association. For particulars, address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Oregon City, Oregon.

Blodgett's Landing, N. H.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A., Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, will open August 2 and close August 30. For programmes address Mollie B. Anderson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president, Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary,

Verona, Park, Me.

Rockland, Me. Island Lake, Mich. The Island Lake Camp Association

desires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenomenal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secre tary, 850 Grand River avenue, Detroit,

The Niantic Camp. The Niantic Camp, Niantic, Ct., opens

June 22, and closes September 7. For full particulars address Mary A. Hatch, secretary.

Old Testament Stories & A Unique

By WATSON MESTON.

By WATSON MESTON.

BOOK.

Nothing else can so completely upset the old superstitious Old Testament Stories as these vivid and lifelike portrayable of them. They present the old myths in the proper absurdness of their absurdity, ridicule their ridiculessness and in fact hold them up to the light at reason. It is a book of 400 pages with 200 full page pictures It will make you laugh off every vestige of the old superstitions; 2 good way indeed to get rid of them. Price. board, $1; cloth, $1.50.

POEMS OF PROGRESS. By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable Price, $1.00. THREE SEVENS A Story of Ancient Phelogs, illustrating the Hernetto Palloso-phy. Price, coth, 81.38

THE PSYCHOGRAPH -or-

DIAL PLANCHETTE.

This instrument is substantially the same as that employed by Prof. Hare in his early investigations is its improved form it has been before the public for more than seven years, and in the hands of thousands of persons has proved its superiority over the Planchette, and all other instruments which have been brought out in mitation, both in regard to certainly and correctness of the communications received by its aid, and as a means or developing mediumship.

Do you wish to investigate Spiritualism?

Do you wish to develop Mediumship? Do you wish to develop Mediumship? Do you desire to receive Communications?

The Psychograph is an invaluable assistant. A pamphict with full directions for the Formation of Circles and Cultivation of Mediumship with every instrument. Many who were LSt aware of their mediumistic gift, have, after t. few 'intings, been able to receive delightful messages. A volume might be filled with commendatory 'osters. Many who been with it as an amusing tcy, found that the intelligence controlling it knew more than themselven and became converte to Spiritualism. Capit. D. B. Edwards, Orient, N. Y., writes: "I had solven a converte to Spiritualism is not became converte to Spiritualism. Capit. D. B. Edwards, Orient, N. Y., writes: "I had solven friunds, even from old settlers whose graygether friunds, even from old settlers whose graygether indeed, even from old settlers whose graygether in indeed strue, and proved to me that Spiritualism is indeed strue, and proved to me that Spiritualism is indeed strue, and the communication have jiven my heart the greatest comfort in the severestions I have had of son, daughter, and their mother."

of Mediumship

Dr. Eugene Crowell, whose writings have made his amo familiar to those interested in psychic matters, wifeos as foliows: "I am much pleased with the Fsylingraph, it is very simple in principle and construction, and I am sure must be far more sensitive to spiritual power than the one now in use. I believe it will nearly become known."

Scourcity packed, and sent postage paid from the contribution of t

Becurely packed, and sent postage paid from he manufacturer, for $1.00. Address:

HUDSON TUTTLE, Berlin lieights, Ohio.

ASPHODEL BLOOMS

Other Offerings.

EMMA ROOD TUTTLE

This volume contains a selection of the best poems of this gifted author and storieties on tributed by Clair Tuttle in her charming style. There are feb pages, with six full-page illustrations, including photogravures of the authors and Clair Tuttle. It is bound in blue with all lumnum embossing. Many of the poems are especially adapted for recitations.

The Author needs no introduction to the spiritual public. Her songs are among the best in spiritual literature. Epes Sargent said of one of her poems that it was the equal of anything in the language, and that she was the post of the New Dispensation.

The Mecca says: "Psychic Poems."

That grudte critic. Wm. Emmette Colemant To all bort of good poetry this book is confidently recommended."

Will Carlton: "I have read with great interest."

Sarah Thorne Thomas the Humanitation.

Will Cariton: "I have read with great interest."
Sarah Thorpe Thomas, the Humanitarian says: "A most exquisite bouquet " " the thoughts scho and re-cohe through the deepest recesses of my heart. I have some word of praise for every page."
The author says in the dedication: "To those whose thoughts and longings reach into the those Land of Souls, this handful of asphodels, mixed with common flowers, is offered hoping to give reat and pleasure while waiting at the way stations on the journey thither."

Price, $1.00. For sale by

HUDSON TUTTLE,

Berlin Heights, Ohio.

H. A. Copley, Canningtown, London, Eng. W. H. Terry, Melbourne, Australia. ANGELL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS.

To Advance Humane Education in All Its Phases.

BY EMMA ROOD TUTTLE.

Lyceums and Societies that wish to get up of rating, interesting and paying entertainments can not do better than to have a Prize Contest. The etwire plan, with full directions, is in the book, and may be easily managed. Nothing kindles enthusiasm more quickly than an Angell Prize Contest! Nothing is needed more. Any individual may organize and she in his own town and reap a financial reward. TRY IT! PRICE, 30 CENTS.

> EMMA ROOD TUTTLE. Berlin Heights, Ohio.

STARTLING FACTS, Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its rela-tions to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and re-ligious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of the confessional; a trenchant showing up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener concerning the methods and spirit, the moral turpitude and evil works of Rot manism. Cloth, 75 cents.

What All the World's a-Seeking. RALPH WALDO TRINE. RALPH WALDO TRINE.

Each is building his world from within; thought is the builder; for thoughts are forces,—subtle, vital, irresistible, omnipotent,—and according as used do they bring power or impotence, peace or pain, success or failure.—From Title page.

The above books are beautifully bound in gray-green raised cloth, stamped in deep old-green and gold, with glit top. Price, $1.25. For sale at this office.

LIGHT OF EGYPT.

The Second Volume of a Most Valuable Work.

This is the author's posthumous work left in MS. to a few of his private pupils in occultism, and like Volume I. is (a valuable addition and) a library on occult subjects. Spiritual astrology is especially claborated. Alchemy, Talismans, the Magic Wand, Symbolism, Correspondence, Penetralia, etc., are a few of the subjects treated of in a scholarly and masterly manner, showing the author to be familiar with his subjects. You cannot afford to be without it, as well as all his other books, viz.: The Light of Egypt, Vol. I., bound in cloth, $2; paper, $1. The Light of Egypt, Vol. II., bound in cloth only, $2. Gelestial Dynamics, cloth, $1.

Psychopathy, or Spirit Healing. A series of lessons on the relations of the spirit to its own-organism, and the interrelation of human beings with reference to health, disease and healing. By the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Rush, through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond. A book that every healer, physician and Spiritualist should read. Price, $1.50.

This department is under the man

HUDSON TUTTLE. Medress him at Beilin Heights, Ohlo.

NOTE.—The Questions and Answers have called forth such a host of respondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this forced brevity. Proofs have to be omitted, and the style becomes thereby assertive, which of all things is to be deprecated. Correspondents often weary with waiting for the appearance of their questions and write letters of inaniry. The supply of matter is always several weeks ahead of the space given. and hence there is unavoidable delay. Every one has to wait his time and place, and all are treated with equal

NOTICE.-No attention will be given anonymous letters. Full name and address must be given, or the letters will not be read. If the request be made, the name will not be published. The correspondence of this department has become excessively large, especially letters of inquiry requesting private answers, and while I freely give whatever information I am able, the ordinary courtesy of correspondents is ex-HUDSON TUTTLE.

Mrs. M. B.: Q. I am confounded by the author of "Tricks and Traps," and want to know if there is no genuine materialization, what is left of Spiritualism convincin?

A. If a book were published, describbogus coin, after reading it, would you conclusion, and make the be confounded and ask what is left of ory the only tenable one. the government issue? Would not the description of the counterfeit prove that ness of the presence of spirit friends is there is a genuine currency, the value my strongest evidence—so strong that of which would not be affected by un-limited imitations? Whenever medi-umship is debased to a public show, it brings disgrace on the cause sooner or to the knowledge through psychical no genuine materializations, but grant- nomena. Those convinced by the lating that there are not, there will remain the rappings, moving of physical startling "tests," and are never quite objects, and the vast field of psychic manifestations, as trance, inspiration, spiritual intuition, or sensitiveness, writing and speaking, healing, in fact grow into their faith, or better, knowlmanifestations, as trance, inspiration, so much, that the one small phase of materialization, if stricken out, leaves onstration. a scarcely discernible place. It is in this field that the most spiritual and hence convincing tests are received.

Levi Wood: Q. I have studied with profound interest "Religion of Man," and beg to ask you for further explanation of this passage: "Man is the super lative being; the last, greatest yet in complete effort of creative energy."
The term "incomplete" is what I do not comprehend. Is there anything incom plete on the plane on which it exists? is not the child at one year old, complete as a child of that age, with its capacity to unfoldment one year later, so it is not on the same plane but complete; and at 50 on a different plane and yet complete. Is not a cannibal complete on his plane?

A. The child sets out to become a fully developed man or woman, and is not complete until accomplished. The human race started from the savage state to the highest civilization, and not until that is gained will there be com-Our correspondent limits the meaning of the word in fact gives it a new meaning as pleases himself, and the the applies it to the the word in the their curriculum; but should they fail er their heads especially with husiness passage quoted. The meaning is plain, that man is a creature of evolution, becoming more and more perfect, and is incomplete until the highest point of advance is attained. He may reach physical perfection in this life, but spiritual perfection can only be gained in the life

Until the highest evolution of spirit ual growth is reached he cannot be said to be complete. The passage in question contemplates man as beginning in the lowest organism and evolved to an recognizes completeness only when the end is reached. We may say that the infant is adapted to the arms of its mother, and its requirements are met fully as an infant. We cannot say that it is complete, if we adhere to the meaning of the word which is, "Having no deficiency; wanting no part; * * finished." (Century Dict.) Hence until man reaches perfection in spirit life, we must speak of him as meaning of this word.

S. E. R.: Q. Will you recommend to me a business medium?

A. I most earnestly advise not to consult spiritual intelligences on business matters. The high order have their own spheres of activity. They are not interested in earthly affairs, and hence are not as well qualified to give an opinion as men constantly engaged in the same. If such communications are to be had at all and of value, a circle should be formed by the friends interested, whatever phase of mediumship appears it should be cultivated. Friends interested in the wel fare of the members will be attracted out of personal regard, and may devote time and thought to business objects and express opinions of value. Even then the communications should not be accepted as infallible, but sifted thoroughly, and given no more value than the advice of a mortal.

In asking the value of a certain min-ing stock, the spirit beings consulted are presupposed to have almost infinite knowledge. If they fail in their opin-ions on values, the questioner at once drifts to the extreme, and thinks they are all evil and decleving.
Perhaps nine-tenths of the stocked mines are stocked for sale, and not to be worked. The money is extracted from the pockets of the deluded gulls, and not from the drifts in the mines. There are those who become "business mediums," to sell stock for a heavy commission, by advising their dupes by "spirit messages," to seize the opportu- So show them that you care for them nity to realize vast fortunes. The fortunes come to those who sell, not those who purchase. It is not germain to the movement to degrade it to business purposes. Let Spiritualism spiritualize. rather than intensify the antagonism of Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price 25

Those who seek advantage in this nanner are certain to reap disappoint ment and loss.

There is one method by which as a special service when the need is great, that messages bearing on business are given. It is at the home circle, to which interested spirit friends are atracted, and they voluntarily give the nformation. An eager and selfish deire for wealth defeats itself by attractng intelligences more eager and selfish.

Sincerity: Q. In your opinion, and in your past experience, what is the best and most convincing proof of the continued life beyond the grave, considering the fact that human beings have been seeking proof for ages and ages and are still seeking it?

A. The evidence furnished by Spirtualism is all that is possible, and if this fails there is no alternative but acceptance of utter and complete annihilation of being.

The idea of physical immortality to be gained at some future time, by such perfection of knowledge of living that old age will be circumvented, is a pleasing fancy, but only a fancy. The phys. ical structure may have its decay delayed, but when its objects are accomplished it will perish like a ripened lusk. If we accept the evidences of Spiritualism, then we can take for their value the examples furnished by the nistory of all races of mankind as colateral of this philosophy. I would not separate any one manifestation as most conclusive, but take the whole as mutually confirmatory. The identication of a single rap, proves the existence of spirits after the death of the mortal body; proves that love, affection, intelligence, all that goes to make up the individual character, remains. One rap identified, settles the question for all time.

The same may be said of the moving of inanimate objects by a force that reveals an intelligent, personal identity. The purely psychic phenomena are more elusive, yet taken as a whole, are equally as conclusive. In these we see the manifestations of spirits through the bars of the physical body. Clairvoyance, trance, inspiration, etc., coning all known counterfeit money and tribute facts which strengthen the main conclusion, and make the spiritual the-

To myself, personally, the conscious

We do not admit that there are means rather than the physical pheter, are always seeking more and more satisfied, while those who develop a edge, which to them is a continual dem-

Letter From a Leading Worker.

The Spiritualists should have a school or college where their youth can get an education free from sectarian influences-and where psychic law is taught and mediumship is permited to be exercised. We have hailed the Morris Pratt Institute as a possibility in this direction. It could not be expected to answer all requirements the first year Instead of condemning its infantile failures, we should kindly advise and help it. They who can, should help it financially. There are enough Spiritualists to endow the Institute without suffering from such donations nor denying the necessary amounts to the sunport of mediums who may be in need of help. These Spiritualists can also add liberally to all this for propagandanearly all of which they fail to do now. They who squeal the loudest, as a rule are they who contribute the least. The Morris Pratt Institute has a membership who are called to be in their annual session at the time of this to have a satisfactory course of study, they must be the sufferers, as their school will not be natronized. When the contributing members find the professors of the school are incompetent, they should by all means see competent ones are employed. If they shall so fail, then the Spiritualists will not patronize the school. Let us wait and see further results before we condemn. If the present management of the school fails, then the Spiritualists will have a right to demand a better school. Give them a chance!

One year of effort is not a fair trial for a school that is as yet not fully equiped. All colleges that are success ful have been endowed. No obstacles should be placed in the way of the Morris Pratt Institute Association securing an endowment fund if possible. But we cannot sacrifice all other enterprises in order to secure it. The mediums' fund should have libfincomplete. This correspondent's trouble all comes from confusing the ganda fund should be developed. I feel sure that all this can be doneand that the speakers and mediums will not expect the laity to do it all. Let us all help more and find less fault.

GEO. W. KATES,

BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.

lf you have a gray-haired mother In the old home far away. Sit down and write the letter You put off day by day. Don't wait until her tired stens Reach heaven's pearly gate-But show her that you think of her Before it is too late.

If vou've a tender message, Or a loving word to say, Don't wait till you forget it, But whisper it to-day. Who knows what bitter memories May haunt you if you wait? So make your loved ones happy Before it is too late.

We live but in the present, The future is unknown-To-morrow is a mystery, To-day is all our own. The chance that fortune lends to us May vanish while we wait: so spend your life's rich treasure Before it is too late.

The tender words unspoken The letter never sent. The long-forgotten messages, The wealth of love unspent. For these some hearts are breaking, For these some loved ones wait-Before it is too late,

-Anon. "Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J. Howard Moore. An address before the

"How Shall I Become a Medium," Fully Answered

In Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle. Price 35

Cents. Send to Mr. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, O.

By Dr. Paul Carus. An excellent study of Buddhism; compact yet comprehensive. Cloth, $1.25. In those days, Nerowas in the habit of demanding divine honors and worship to himself, illuminated his gardens at night by burning Christians who had refused to sacrifice to the national gods. These poor victims were wrapped in pedestals all to be fired at one signal. It was our sad duty to visit these disvive; and that the true-hearted will be.

W. P. Phelon, M. D. Price 50 cents.

LILY DALE CAMP.

Preparations for the opening of City of Light Assembly, July8, are nearing completion. The grounds and assembly buildings have all been overhauled, seemingly every crauny and corner passing under review. All the streets and avenues have been straightened and graded, park walks uniformly cut, and grass wholly eradicated, a number of trees removed from many too thickly shaded places to let in the sunlight, while beds and boxes of beautiful flowers appear at various points. The entire auditorium has been painted inside and out: the platform oilea, its front varnished, and its electrie light wires readjusted so as to be mostly out of sight. The platform wings have been cleared of rubbish, and converted into neat dressing-rooms, whose walls above the wainscoting are hung with restful green paper, sur-mounted by a pretty frieze edged with git molding, making a marked contrast to the dingy boards of "ye olden days." The stationary seats have been stained, varnished and fitted with green cushions, the movable settees, chairs, and pedestals all newly painted in neat and tasteful colors. A new canvas curtain has been added to the auditorium, sectioned so as to be adjustable at dif-

audience. "Maplewood"—formerly The "Grand," rechristened by Mrs. Pettengill, has been renovated from top to bottom, repainted and repapered throughout, its carpets and mattresses cleansed and refitted, and white wardrobe curtains added to all the rooms.

New water pipes have been placed, conveying water to the upper floor. The parlor and dining-room have been made especially attractive. The parlor with its rose-decked walls and sun-tinted ceiling, its new furniture, carpet, rugs, and mirrors, will tend to soothe the hungry guest as he expectantly awaits the wooing rattle of the welcome dinner-bell in the spacious dining-room adjoining.

The service of this charming hostelry is expected to be exceptionally fine this season under the management of Leo Manger and wife, who for many years have acceptably served the epicurean appetites of Buffalo.

Like the auditorium and the Maple wood, the Octagon, library building, as-sembly office, bowling alley, band house, bath house and even the swarthy old engine house have all come under the magic wand of feminine taste and improvement, catching inspiration, no doubt, from the new name, City of Light. All of these improvements and many more unmentioned, have been done under the order and direct supervision of President Pettengill, and certainly unbounded credit is due her and her daughter, Mrs. Bates, who as president and corresponding secretary of this assembly, turned heroically last September from the freedom of a social life of wealth and ease, to take up a wearying routine of business cares and obligations. In the absence or pre-engagement of all the other board mempers, these two have promptly assumed all assembly responsibilities, engineer ing and personally attending to all its business details, which have been varied in kind, often annoying in character, and unlimited in number; and yet more business seems to have been accomplished, with fewer board-meetings and less pretension to effort than the records of previous years indicate, when seven strong, able-bodied men with the right of ballot, and all the other concomitants of masculine glory and supremacy were on hand to share the obligations and honors mutually. And this is all the more noteworthy when we recall that both these ladies details. When it is a question of woman's right to the ballot, she is usually ta-booed on the ground of her impracticality, her lack of business ability, but when it becomes an experimental case of "get there Eli," she usually comes to the front, as she has done in this case, and with graceful ease and dignity quietly carries off the honors from the grasping hands of her drowsy brothers. This has been repeatedly proven in all the fields of activity wherein she has expressed. The policy of the present management will be broad-gauged and liberal, recognizing the inherent right of every soul to "life liberty and the pursuit of happiness," but along such lines as shall not infringe upon the rights of any other soul to obtain them. "With charity for all and malice toward none," the great effort will be to promote the spirtual growth of the nation through the higher education and development of its individuals.

Realizing the multi-facets that obtain upon the yet unfinished diamond of humanity, the great effort will be to promote the spiritual growth of the nation through higher education and unfoldment; and as beauty is one great factor in such unfoldment, much care has been taken in that direction, as well as in all others, to largely add to the already lavish expenditures of Mother the life-blood of that noble apostle to Nature on these grounds. All phases of faith and belief will be tolerated and examined with a view to the retention and absorption of only such as shall tend to make the individual better and more useful in the grand purpose of

Many new and attractive features have been added to the program, and efforts will be made to introduce novel and interesting attractions throughout the session. Special care will be taken by the management to select only such evening entertainments as shall be first-class and acceptable in every detail, in the belief that such presentations should be few and meritorious rather than frequent and below par.

The aged and heroic vetteran, Susan B. Anthony, has consented to preside at the Woman's Congress, August 5, and not only "hopes to be clad in her best bib and tucker, but also with the spirit of the work of olden times."

Our grounds afford a multiplicity of ways to "speed the glowing hours with flying feet," as boating, riding, cycling, bowling, fishing, drives, teas, receptions, social, literary and dramatic entertainments, besides all the numerous seances of every kind, added to the regular lectures and classes

JULIA E. HYDE.

"The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism. A Menace to American Civilization." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood, lecturer upon physical, physiological and psychic science. Demonstrator of the moecular or spiritual hypothesis of nature. Scholarly, masterly, trenchant. Price 25 cents. For sale at this office. "Buddhism and Its Christian Critics,"

The Modern Saint and the Christian Improvements the Order of the Day. Saint.

> Saintliness has an double aspect-a negative or passive, and a positive. On one side it is renunciation, acquies-surrender of the victim to a fate, inscrutable, blind aml purposeless; but the voluntary, meek sulfinission to the benevolent will and purpose, that is backed by adequate knowledge. Such is believed to be the submission of Islam, indeed of genuine/smintliness anywhere. Its ingredient is tender, sweet renunciation; a mixture of smiles and tears, now joyous and now sad, very touching and still, in certain moods very strengthening. The saint feels himself in harmony, with the Divine Will, and "One, with God, is a major-ity." But still the servant of the divine will must be active as well as passive, for the will itself is active. Thirty years ago, that leader, rationalist, and accomplished man of letters,

O. B. Frothingham, lectured on the ideal saint, and took the life and character of his friend Charles Sumner as illustrating the modern saint. In his exposition he referred to po-Utical hatred which, fifty years, ago was more rancorous than we have any conception of hate that went all ferent points to meet the needs of the lengths even to that of personal assault. Summer bore it all, not in the spirit of a partisan, or one sustained by private ambition, not like a soldier fighting for a side, but with the composed resolu-tion of one who believed he had caught sight of a great principle, the establishment of which was of more consequence than the private happiness of generations of men." After the assault of Brooks in the Senate, when he was suffering agonies of pain and weakness and hardly dared to look forward to any future but one of hopeless invalidism and imbecility, he declared that he had no regrets—that he would utter the same truths again under the same circumstances! Let those who will call this temper, it was the temper that the best steel takes on when it passes through the flercest flame. This was a modern saint.

With Charles Sumner the supreme will stood for fundamental and complete equity, for the largest realization of human rights, and the generous performance of human duties. He honored his vocation as United States Senator from Massachusetts. He was no politician dabbling in party tricks; not a statesman, using such materials, or men, as he had for the best interests of the common weal. He was a devotee to moral principle, the servant of cardinal ideas, the prophet of political conscience. An impracticable man to party leaders-not to be held by party traditions, but seizing as well could, the interior spirit, of republican institutions and throwing his weight on the side which promised most for Jus-

Now a man who lives for ends like these, who will thus bear and thus do, s a saint. He may be a scholar, as Sumner was, and a man of books, a lover of art, a connoissent in paintings. rich appreciator of the world's good things; all the more, on these accounts, is he a saint, for all the more does he give when he gives himself. We must confess that amid our busy, modern life, the realization of the conception of saintliness should never grow obsolete. The supreme will does not require the individual to annihilate his own will, only to consecrate it. He desires devotion, not slavery. He desires that you become wholly his own, for the blessedness of the service and of the human instrument. Let us compare or contrast this idea of a saint with the devotion of a mar-tyr in the early century. Let one of the historic saints of the first century tell ried us down to the arena, and passher sad story of devotion.

"We had gone to our villa on the banks of Lake Albanus, about ten miles and wild beasts ushered, we now came from Rome. The nurse of our children out hand-in-hand and were led to the was Clite, a slave of mine, a Christian | center by the centurion. We looked up, Christ, lest she be delivered to the tude shouted. We stood close together lions. But as she saw me brokenmy children—all gone—she spoke to out upon us. Oh, it was a fearful hour. me of the life they had gone into—the God willed it should be so, and the me of the life they had gone into—the bright Immortality brought to light in the glorious gospel of the blessed God. It was like water to one who is lost on the desert. It was as life to the dead. The wealth of the world was less than nothing compared with such hopes. We sought out the teachers of this new cult; sometimes in the caverns-sometimes in the catacombs, to listen to the preaching of this living word.
"We visited Saul of Tarsus, in the prison of the Mamertine and there he baptized us in the tank of the prison. my husband's arm was about me held There it was a common sight. The day dreaded by all the disciples came at last, when Paul was to be exhibited in the amphitheatre. We received notice darkness, enraged by hunger and the the amphitheatre. We received notice from the palace of Nero, that the nobility of Rome were expected to be present. It was perilous to be absent and on that dark day we took our seats in the gilded balcony of our rank, which hung over the walls of the arena. sat and witnessed the pouring forth of | the Gentiles.

"It was our custom to leave our home, disguised as of the the poorer class, through the postern gate and thence to the nearest assembly of Christians held in some upper room, or dark vaulted chamber. The word of God was most precious. The words of Christ came home to our souls, trumpet-tongued. 'If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me; for whosoever will save his life shall lose it and whosoever will lose hisblife for my sake shall find it. Whoseever shall be ashamed of me andemy words in this erous and sinful generation, of him shall the son of man be ashamed when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy angels. For what the Woman's Congress, August 5, and a witty note from her assures us she whole world and lose himself—or be a cast-away.' Indeed our oworship was real, and our prayers so dervent and effectual, that heaven seemed open to us. There was much to be done and the life of disciple was it warfare in which there were no exempts. .4 .At home, the life we lived was mall dehanged. We made no feasts and went to none. But it was not easy to lide our change of life from our own lifusehold. The customs of everyday Mfc, were so inter-woven with the pagan and Roman rites, that any failure of compliance with the usages, was at once noticeable. The domestic Lares-or Yamily ghosts, and the Penates—household gods—formed the religious elements of the family worship. When they took their meals some portion was offered to the Lares. When a young bride entered the house of her husband, her first duty was to offer a sacrifice to the Lares—accepting ten these martyrs, thus wrapped up like nobility of the saint and of the faithful rounded by their parents and brothers

Boston, Mass.

J. P. COOKE. and sisters and slaves, all weeping and praying them to consent to pour out a cruise of oil upon the altar before any orulse of oil upon the altar before any one of the gods of the capitol; while nearly enclosed to shrough covered. nearby, enclosed in shrouds covered with pitch, stood those neglected or unknown-nameless indeed, on earth; but whose names were written in the Book of Life. How often have I found them weeping, not for themselves, but for those thus tempted to deny their Savior and prophet Jesus. fatal signal, when the flaming torches of the guards were applied. Then up and down the long vistas of the garden, flames arose and martyrs in charlots of fire ascended to the inner life to the central Throne of Light.

"Oh! it was fearful! A cry of horror rose on all sides from the multitude, which, with the agony of the dying, broke upon the palace walls of Nero, while he, reposing in the arms of the lovely Poppea, listened and smiled; his own joy heightened by the wails and the shricks of the dying martyrs.

The time came for my trial. were denounced by a thieving slave, whose life we had spared. Denounced to the Falamen. This magistrate, a friend, came to see us and to warn. My husband spoke: 'It is true; we are Christians!' He turned to me, asking, 'Are you ready to enter the arena?' I replied: 'My husband and I do not seek martyrdom as some have done, but we will go to the lions rather than be apostates to the faith of Jesus, the truth of the Living Light!' He conversed with us. He tried to have us banished to the Light Within. By Giles B. Stebbins. our estates in Sicily. No avail!

"Belonging as we did to the old fam illes of Rome, our death was just the event which Nero wished for to signalize the birthday fete of his beloved Pop pea. It was decided by him that on that day we should be destroyed by some magnificent lions recently brough to Rome, as a crowning glory to the gladiatorial shows he had planned for the celebration of the day.
"Friends tried to dissuade us. I knew my husband's integrity of soul. As we were lifted above the common people the greater glory gained to the cause of Christ. "The day came. All Rome thronged to the amphitheatre. By order of Nero we were dressed in all the splendor of our rank and led to our wonted seats in the gilded balcony of the senators There for the last time, we witnessed the horrid shows of gladiators killing each other to make a Roman holiday. "The hour drew on apace. The senatorial seats near us were vacated. glanced up the ten benches where saw, pale and anxious, Christ's poor gazing down upon us and I was comforted that we had their prayers that our faith should not fail. The victors were dragging the dead, by hooks, across the arena and throwing them into the cells from which they had so recently issued in the vigor of life. When the arena was cleared, the mayor of the Games, who sat below Nero's seat, called for us to come forward There was a small altar with the statue of Jupiter, and the Flamen in his robes bringing the cruse of oil, he commanded us to make the libation. That was the crisis of our lives. The beautiful Poppea, roused herself and leaned forward to see us make the sacrifice. Nero rose in his seat anxiously expectant His was the flerce look of one expecting us to despoil him of an anticipated pleasure, and most unlike the stare of the lovely woman at his side.

"We made obeisance to the Flamen, next to Nero and Poppea and then of declinature to the Flamen. Nero was roused! 'To the lions!' he shouted, and the cry was echoed on all sides. The centurion came forward and ing into one of the many vomitories, wherein had often seen the gladiators who had feared to avow her faith in blanched with terror while the multiwatching the iron doors of the arena, hearted, and in despair at the death of to see whence the lions would be let acme of angony of that suspense was the fear lest after all we should fail of the grace-of God and be castaways. The time seemed so long! Every act of my life came up before me, my sins flamed up into my face. My only cry was, 'Lord, save, or I perish.' What else could I do. The horrid din of the lifting up of the iron gates, under the seat of Nero, thrilled me through, and as the hungry lions with a roar rushed my husband's arm was about me held me to his side. 'Courage,' he said, ''tis but a pang and life is over!' It was scent of the blood. Their eyes flashed flames that would have blazed across a desert—they cowered beneath the loud cries of the thousands, and stealth-with.

"This taste of blood roused them to frenzy and they ran towards us with lence of the theory of Creation." The terrible roaring. They paused under Two has always been a fateful numthe flery glance of our eyes. It was but Free Thought Ideal says: "We found is for an instant. Our glances could not full of glittering thoughts for thinkers, arrest all three of the lions; and I and the very death warrant of Chrisknew not how it was, but there was a tian superstition shines upon its pages." leaping of lions upon us, a crashing of Potce 75 cents. my bones, and presto, I stood up disembodied of my earthly shell, and robed in light. I was indeed filled with unutterable amazement at the sudden change to the inner life.

about us.

"Nero and Poppea had arisen and were about to return home to their banquet. The crowd were already dispersing, while the lions were flercely feeding, with many growls upon our mangled bodies. We lingered and saw the poor disciples of Christ stealing in behind the gladiators who now came to drive the lions back to their den.

"These loving souls, with fond affection, sought to carry away fragments of our clothing saturated with blood, to be kept as mementoes of our death.

And when they turned up the faces of such as the surface is not interesting works. It is purely a Psychical Romance my husband and myself they were asting works. It is purely a Psychical Romance tonished to see the poor plebelans who to is the surface is the surface for the death of the martyrs of the gardens. So many the martyrs of the gardens So many outshining of a saintly spirit as it is to smother fire with linen garments. The pure light of the life eternal, once kin.

Mother. dled in a recipient soul, may, like the

VARIETIES OF SAINTLINESS ciples and supply them with food and more rather than fewer who live for drink, to whisper the promises of God something beyond their own dignity, for their consolation and support. Of ease, or power, and prove that the true iterarby, enclosed in shrouds covered with pitch, stood those neglected or undown—nameless indeed, on earth; but whose names were written in the Book of Life. How often have I found them reeping, not for themselves, but for hose thus tempted to deny their avior and prophet Jesus.

"Our ministry continued up to the atal signal, when the faming torches of the guards were applied. Then up and own the long vistas of the garden, ames arose and martyrs in charlots of fire ascended to the inner life to the entral Throne of Light.

"Have berries, grapes and peaches a year old, fresh as when pleked. I used the California Cold Process. Do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, Keeps perfectly fresh, and costs put it up cold, Keeps perfectly fresh, and costs minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor an make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and full directions to any of your readers for inherence of the samples, postage, etc. Firancis Casey, St. Louis. Mo.

'lan and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, to Confer and Associate of King's College, or Christian people who would investigate and carn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE OTHER SIDE OF DEATH Scientifically Examined and Carefully Described.

BY O. W, LEADBEATER. A Volume of 500 large pages, treating very nterestingly if Life, Death and Immorfality, Clairvoyance, Spirit Phenomena, Etc, as viewed by an acknowledged and cultivated exponent of Theosophy. Price, $1.50.

Man the Microcosm.

HARMONIGS OF EVOLUTION. The Philosophy of Individual Life, Based Upon Natural Science

As taught by modern masters of law. By Florence Huntley. An exceedingly interesting and distinctly valuable contribution to the literature of evolution, unfolding its laws from the deeper and clearer spiritual aspect, and indicating the defects of the Darwinian theory. Spiritualists and Materialists alike can gain much from its perusal. Price, finely bound in cloth, $2.

THUMBSCREW AND RACK. Torture implements employed in the 16th and 16th centuries for the promulgation of Christianity, with pictorial illustrations. By George E. Macdonald. Price, 10 cents.

In Tune with the Infinite By Ralph Waldo Trine.

By Ralph Waldo Trine.

Within yourself lies the cause of whatever enters into your life. To come into the full realization of your own awakened interior powers, is to be able to condition your life in exact accord with what you would have it.—From Title-Reac.

CONTENTS—I. Prejude; 11. The Supreme Fact of the Universe; 111. The Supreme Fact of lupinan Life; 1V. Fullness of Life-Bodly Health and Vigor; V. The Secret, Power and Effect of Love; VI. Wisdom and Interior lilumination; VII. The Realization of Purfect Peace; VIII. Coming into fullness of power; IX. Plenty of All Things—The Law of Prosperity; X. How Mon Have Become Prophets, Seers, Sages, and Sarjors; XI. The Basic Principle of All Religions—The Universal Keligions: All Entering Now into the Realization of the Highest Riches. For sale at thisoffice, Price, postpaid, $1.25.

The Myth of the Great Deluge. By James M. McCann. A complete and over-whelming refutation of the Bible story of the Deluge. Price, 15 cents.

LILIAN WHITING'S BOOKS

VERY INTERESTING AND EX-CELLENT WORKS.

Kate Field, A Record. Price $2. A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series.

Each $1. After Her Death, New Edition. $1. From Dreamland Sent, And Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale

STARTLING FACTS,

Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its relations to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and re-ligious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of the confessional; a trenchant showing up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener con cerning the methods and spirit, the moral turpitude and evil works of Romanism. Cloth, 75 cents.

"NO BEGINNING."

Excellent Work for Thinkers.

This book, "No Beginning," is by William H. Maple. The Arena says of ily circled around the walls, stopping it: "The argument is unanswerable, to lap up the puddles of blood they met. The book will at once appeal to the reason of every reader, and leave him more amazed than ever at the preva-

A NEW GATEGHISM, BY M. M. MANGASARIAN.

This is a new "Catechism" in the full sense of the "Shiring ones stood by me and welcomed me into that new, unseen world.

My husband was at my side—he folded book or reason. E. P. Powell, the well-known author. me to his heart and there we gazed the reviewer and critic, says: "The remarkable thing about this 'Catechism' is that it tells the truth." It deals with the questions of God. Immortality—the Creeds, the Clergy, the Church, Prayer and Salvation, Jesus and his Teaching, the Growth of the Christian Scriptures, and many other philosophical, scientifi and ethical questions with the utmost candor, courage and clearness. 189 pages. Cloth 75c; paper, 50c were the false brethren of that day, no one but Clite shared our secret; she indeed had the true light."

MARK GHESTER,

A Mill and a Million.

There is, be it recalled, in sincere devotion a diffusive and penetrating efficacy which is felt even if it is not recognized. It is as utterly impossible to suppress the radiance and to veil the counts in the commendation of the commendati dled in a recipient soul, may, like the stars of heaven be a guiding light, though only seen from afar.

The truth must have its witnesses in every age. The forms and modes of saintliness change; but the soul survives. I cannot doubt that it will survives and that the true-hearted will be

BIBLE MARVEL WORKERS, And the wendrous power which helped or made them perform mighty works and utter inspired words, together with some Personal Traits and Characteristics of Prophets, Apostles, and Jesus, or New Readings of "The Miracles. By Allen Putnam. Price, 75 cents.

THE DESCENT OF MAN.

By Charles Darwin. Cloth, gilt top, 76 cents, On its appearance it aroused at once a storm of mingled wrath, wonder and admiration. In elegance of style, charm of manner and deep knowledge of natural history, it stands almost without a rival among acientific works. "AS IT IS TO BE."

A VERY SUGGESTIVE WORK

It Beams With Spiritue Truths,

This is a beautiful book, by Cora Lynn Daniels, and it scintillates with grand spiritual thought. An idea of this work can be obtained by reading the titles of a few of the chapters

thereini`

The Process of Dying; Light and Spirit; The Law of Attraction; Senses of the Spirit; What Is Unconscious Will; Fear; Astrology; The God-Soul of Man; The Drama; A Day in Heaven. Price $1. For sale at this office.

PROGRESSION Or How a Spirit Ad-the evolution of Man. Or How a Spirit Life. Price. 15c.

THE VOICES By Warren Sumner Barlow, The Volces contain poems force. They are most excellent. Price $1.00.

POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE

WISDOM OF THE AGES.

Revelations from Zertoulem, the Prophet of Tlaskanata.

A Mine of Valuable Reflections

and Suggestions. This work was automatically transcribed by George A. Fuller, M. D., a gentleman who stands high as a lecturer and medium. It is a mine of val-uable reflections and suggestions. The paragraphs are short, suggestive and inspiring. Every one of them leads to something higher, grander, nobler. Price $1.00.

THE GOLDEN ECHOES:

A New Book of Inspirational Words and Music,

For the use of meetings, lyceums and home, by 8. W. Tucker. These beautiful songs have already conforted many broken hearts, and it is hoped that they may be heard in every land. Price loc; $1.50 per dozen. For sale at this office.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION. Historical and critical review, with replies to an objection. By G. W. Brown, M. D. Price, 15c.

THE DIAKKA. The Diakka and Their Earthly Victims. By the interesting and suggestive work. It is an explanation of much that is false and repulsive in Spiritualism, embodying a most important recent interview with James Victor Wilson, a resident of Summer Land. Price, 50 cents.

Three Journeys Around the World

Travels in the Pacific Islands, Travels in the Pacific Islands,

New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon, India, and
other Oriental countries. By J. M. Peebles.

A. M., M. D. Ph. D. In this splendid large book Dr. Peebles has concentrated a vast amount of valuable information. It is exceedingly entertaining and readable, and Spiritualism as he found it everywhere in his travels receives due attention, making the book of special value and interest to Spiritualists. 464
large pages, finely bound, at the price of $1.50.

AFTER HER DEATH. The Story of a Summer. By Lilian Whiting. Pervaded with pure and beautiful spirituality of thought. Instructive and helpful to all who love and seek the higher and finer ways of spiritual experience. Price, $1.00.

A Few Words About the Devil, And other Essays. By Charles Bradlaugi. With the story of his life as told by himself, and the history of his parliamentary struggle. With portrait. Paper, 50c.

WOMAN: A Lecture Delivered to Ladles University only. By Mrs. (Dr. Hulburt. On the present status of woman, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. The divine law of true harmonial marriage, etc. Price, 10c.

The Spiritual Wreath. A collection of words and music for the choir, congregation and social circle. By S. W. Tucker. Comprises sixty or more gems of song. Price, is cents.

CUSMIAN HYMN BOOK. A collection of original and selected Hymns for Liberal and Ethical Societies, for Schools and the Home. Compiled by L. K. Washburr. This volume meets a public want. It comprises toolee selections of poetry and music, embodying the highest moral sectiment, and free from all sectarizatism. Price, 50 cents.

THE SPIRITUAL ALPS And How We Ascend Them. How to reach that allitude where spirit is suprame and all things are subject to it. By Moses Hull. Price in cloth. 40 cents; paper 25 cts. For sale at this office.

"THE DREAM CHILD, A Fascinating Romance of Two Worlds. By Florence Huntley. Price, cloth, 76 cents. Books like "The Dream Child" spur humanity on to make more and more demands of this nature, and will open up new heights and depths of spiritual knowledge.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Will, I believe, take its place beside Bulwer's "Zanoni" and the "Seraphita" of Balzac.—Daligation, and the "Seraphita" of Balzac.—Daligation, and the "Seraphita" of Balzac.—Daligation, enthralls the mind to the exclusion of other thoughts, until reluctantly the reader closes the last page.—Minneapolis Sunday other thoughts, until reluctantly the reader closes the last page.—Minneapolis Sunday Times. ESOTERIC LESSONS.

This work includes "Personified Unthinkables," "First Lessons in Reality," and "A Tour Through the Zodiac." This is an interesting production of oc-cult thought and will well repay careful study and meditation by all occultists. Price, Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this

OLD AND NEW PSYCHOLOGY By W. J. Colville. Beports of twenty-four distinct lectures, recently delivered in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and other prominent cities of the United States, have contributed the basis of this volume, Price, $1.00.

ZELMA THE MYSTIC, or White Magic Versus Black. By Alwin M. Thurber. Cecult philosophy clothed in story form; aims to give a better un-derstanding of Magic, black and white. 380 pa-ges, large and plain. Cloth, $1.25.

SPIRITUAL SONGSTER. By Mattie E. Hull. Thirty-eight of Mrs. Hull's sweetest songs, adapted to popular music, for the use of congregations, circles and familes. Price, 10 cents, or 87 per hundred.

The Development of the Spirit

THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL. Series one, two and three. By Lilian Whiting Three choice volumes, each complete in itself in which spirituality is related to veryday life in such a way as to make the world beautiful Price, $1.00 each.

The Science of Spirit Return. By Charles Dawbarn. A scientific rehearsal that is truly interesting. Price, 10 cents.

The New Movement.

The Best and Grandest.

Write us today and let us tell you all about it. I will cost you but a two cent stamp. The movement has already two beautiful Sanitorium.

PLEASE

Let us tell you about the NEW MOVEMENT.

If you are busy getting ready to go to camp-meeting write anyhow to

DR. G. E. WATKINS,

Nellie B. Baade at Home Again.

After an absence of nearly ten months from home, eight months being spent in the Sunny South, actively engaged in teaching the higher Spiritualism, I again find myself in my adopted state, Michigan, but I shall ever look back upon my experiences in the South with the satisfaction earnest effort alone can give. I found many earnest souls in the different cities I labored in, trying as best they know to advance our cause and live up to its teaching. Others seemed more inclined to investigate the phenomena and did not seem to advance much beyond that, but as we all know the phenomena is the fourdation stone upon which we have reared our philosophy, we shall only be too glad to encourage all to investigate in whatever manner is suited to each indi-

I remained in Dallas seven months, and added many to the church. The Sunday-school was our pride, for we loved the innocent children. They were bright, active and quick to understand. A few of the children were natural elochildren to be proud of.

It was with sincere regret that I retraced my steps homeward, but others competent to carry on the work still reduce a bountiful harvest. I like the southern climate and found many genial souls, and hope in the future to resume work in the south again. I wish particularly to speak of the work as carried on by John W. Ring, of Galveston. He has a church in which he conducts services regularly every. Sunday and is working so hard to raise money to pay in all directions will be appreciated, for he seems to be heart and soul in the iciata at funerola conduct marriage Spiritualism and shall endeavor to ried a second wife she remained Any one desiring my services will street, Detroit, Mich.

To day's mail brought me several sample coplies of the Progressive Lyceum, edited by John W. Ring, of Galveston, Texas. It is an able production, as are all the family. She was always and every Spiritual society should suppression to the family of the speak and speak and speak and speak and speak are all the family. port this little paper. It is published in the interests of the young, and no ly-ceum is complete without it. We hope that next fall when the regular meetings are again in session that every one of them will take this little gem, for it contains golden truths which, if inculcated in the minds of the young will eventually bring forth a bountiful har-

I shall never forget my last Sunday in Dallas, when about twenty-five children gathered around me in the lyceum, bringing me the choicest flowers, clasping their arms around my neck, telling me how they loved me, and how much they enjoyed the marching, the music, the recitations, the responsive readings, etc.; nearly every child could answer the questions correctly, both in Mrs. Tuttle's Lyceum Guide and Progressive

My last address was the funeral discourse of baby Florence Reeves, a little foundling these good people had adopt-Two months before I had christened this beautiful bud of promise, but the life-angel came and transplanted it to bloom forever in the paradise of God's love. My spiritual vision being opened, I saw the beautiful spirits as they came around me and one of my guides gave a poem describing its birth into higher life. These scenes remind me of the time when my own children passed to the higher life. At that time I was a Methodist. The minister was unable to tell me of the life beyond and my great sorrow caused me to investigate Spiritualism, which has given me knowledge concerning a future life and as nearly all of my family, parents, sisters and brothers have passed on to the great majority, I feel more anxious than ever to preach this gospel to every living creature who will listen and desires truth. While I live I shall be true to my highest concept of right, so I can look every man in the eye and truthfully say, 'I never led you from the path of virtue, and to the ever weary, 'I never betrayed your confidence,' and the greatest happiness I have ever experienced is the knowledge that the dear spirit guides know my life, my thoughts and deeds, and I shall continue to live for those who love me and the good that I can do.
NELLIE S. BAADE.

"The Truth Seeker Collection of Forms and Ceremonies for the Use of Liberals." For sale at this office. Price 25 cents.

"The Life Booklets." By Ralph Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful little books, finely adapted for holiday presents. The titles are, "Character, Building by Thought Power," "Every Living Creature," and "The Greatest Thing Ever Known." The matter is of high-toned spiritual character and of helpral purpose. Proce 35 cents each. "Spiritual Songs for the Use of Circles, Camp-meetings and Other Spirit-ualistic Gatherings." By Mattie E.

Hull. For sale at this office. Price 10

AN ANSWERED PRAYER.

Dear God, how good to let me see The face of Love in Heaven once more The face that waits to welcome me On that torch-lighted shore, When Life is growing dark enough

To kindle beacon-fires of love!

A new life quivers through me, quick With longing never felt before; But the old mortal life grows sick And ailing to the core: As if 'twere sloughing off the earth, In pangs that gave the new life birth.

Ah, me! the momentary gain Was followed by abiding loss! Bewildered Memory strives in vain To know the vision was-That left no likeness; and that I Know naught on earth to know it by!

Last night unveiled its perfect Star. For one immortal moment seen; To-day the Vision fades afar As it had never been! And yet the glory came to bless

With added sense of preciousness. She would have had me share her calm, But thrilled me with divine desire;

She would have brought me cooling But filled my soul with fire! And, O! Her sweetness almost slew Me, as it pierced me through and through! Eager as Lightning was her glance; And lo! by light of day I find My spirit must have fallen in trance, With that great splendor blind; Her vanished face I shall not see Until she comes to waken me!

O! sighing soul, we must be still, Nor let sad breath the mirror dim, Lest she descend once more to fill My being to the brim; When 'tis again divinely given To see the face of "Love in Heaven. -Gerald Massey.

PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE.

[Obituaries to the extent of ten lines only will be inserted free. All in excess of ten lines will be charged at the rate of fifteen cents per line. About seven words constitute one line |

Thomas Hall passed to spirit life, June 14, aged 59 years. The funeral was held at the home the 16th, Mrs. A. E. Sheets officiating. Mr. Hall had been a resident of Bath, Mich., for many years and was one of the early Spiritualists. Through the twenty-nine years of his physical blindness, he bore with patience and resignation the trials of his affliction. Spiritualism was his solace and comfort. In passing to the presence of his loved ones, the longclosed eyes will revel in the glories of the new day. He was born in Linconshire, Eng. A. E. SHEETS.

My father, Dr. E. Lindner, aged 85 who has written articles for The Progressive Thinker, and only mailed the last one Monday, June 22, passed to his cutionists, and in fact they were all spirit home, at Xenia, Ohio, Tuesday morning, the 23d. He passed over like "one who wraps his cloak around him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.' He loved The Progressive Thinker which is main, and I believe my guides sowed a weekly visitor and will be a great the seeds of truth that later will proaged and infirm. We have had our own beautiful home circles which he has enjoyed. MRS. CHARLES EDWARDS.

Born into spirit realms, June 25

Emma M. Hunt, at Hanover, Ill. She was in usual health on retiring, but arose in the early morning, with a smothering sensation, and before her their indebtedness. I hope his efforts brother, who lives only a few rods away, could answer a summons, she had passed out of the body. It was a great shock and grief to the family, to whom I am now ready to resume work in she had from their early years acted as Michigan wherever called, and will also a mother as well as a sister, their ceremonies, and give readings at home. she passed on, she being the eldest of I have enlisted for life in the ranks of the six children. When her father mar prove true to its interests to the end, them in the old home. Her father went out of the physical a little less please write me at once, at 411 13th than two years ago, she still remaining with the step mother and half-brothers who will sadly miss her genial, helpful presence. She was a faithful, earnest Spiritualist of the non-sectarian type ready to do kindly deeds and speak words of cheer to those in need, and it was touching to see the people, young and old, bring to her bier their last token of appreciation by some floral offering. I never saw such a wealth of flowers on any occasion. Just after the casket with a deep covering of choice blossoms, was resting in the beautifully draped grave and the choir was singing 'We'll never say good-bye in heaven. the clouds parted and a glint of sun shine fell upon the open grave which was most suggestive, and in the closing words was likened to the bright ness of her presence wherever she went Services were conducted by the writer on Saturday, June 27, at the spacious home, all the family being there; a large number of friends being present from near and far.

JULIET H. SEVERANCE, M. D.

True life's commencement occurred for Wm. Rogers, at his home in Read ing, Mich., Friday, June 26, at the age of 64 years. Always an advocate of free and advanced thought he embodied these principles into his everyday life In his passing the Psychical Society of Reading gains its first celestial inhabit-O. V. LABOYTEAUX.

Wm. P. Stone, of Waverly, N. Y. lately passed to spirit life in his 76th year. He was widely known and always made friends wherever he went. He had a wonderful memory and could address people whom he had not seen for years by their correct names. He was generous to a fault and the sympathy of everyone goes to his wife in her be reavement. He had been a firm Spiritualist for thirty years.

Reincarnation.

To the Editor:-I wish to ask the readers of The Progressive Thinker if they do not see in Nature a more accurate analogy to reincarnation, in the foliage which comes in springtime and dies away in autumn, than those Dr. Peebles gives against reincarnation. Does the yellowing corn seek a return to the husk?" etc., (The Progressive Thinker, June 27, 1903). Each spring the tree puts forth its foliage which draws from the atmosphere the forces needed for its growth. In autumn the foliage drops away and the tree rests, so to speak, until again the leaves come forth and another step for ward and upward is made in growth. And so in its season of earth-life the soul puts on the material body through which it gleans the experiences which enable it to grow, and then the body drops away and the soul rests from earth experience until another body is taken on. During the flow of the sap all that the leaves have brought to the tree is gradually absorbed and distributed through the whole of the tree; and so during inter-birth states, as the soul withdraws into himself, all its earth experiences are absorbed, and thus it becomes strengthened and grows. Nortolk, Va

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS.

It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice be given us, so that inquirers may not be mislead. We want new notices of all meetings being held here in public halls at the present

Church of the Spirit Communion, Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 8 p. m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewlit at S p. m. Messages by H. F. Coates and others. Plenty of good music. The Spiritual Research meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue. Good music and singing. All are invited to attend.

The Spiritualistic Church of the Students of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday evenings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schu-

macher, pastor.
Church of the Spiritual Forces holds service at Thurman Club Room, corner of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 8 p. m. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Isa Cleveland.

Third Church of Progressive Truth holds services every Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m. Lecture and tests by the Rev. Mrs. Schaeffer, at Van Buren Hall, California, avenue and Madison street. Good music and singing. All are invited to attend.

During July the Englewood Spiritual Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and messages at 8 p. m. sharp.

Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church
meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall. corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, where truth-seekers and investigators, as well as Spiritualists can enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening First-class speakers. Tests and messages by carefully selected mediums.

Excellent music by (Blind) LeRoy Drake. Mrs. May Elmo, medium.

A Spiritualist Temple has been opened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belmont avenue. Services held every Sunday and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Tests and music at every service.

Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday evenings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue. The Brotherhood of Spiritual Truth Society meets Sunday at 8 p. m. Services conducted by J. K. Hilles and wife and other measums, who will from time to time address the meeting and give tests and spirit messages. Meetings will be held in Temperance Hall, 330 West Sixty-third street. All are invited to attend and co-operate.

The First Hyde Park Occult Society holds regular meetings every Sunday at Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, between Monroe and Kimbark avenues. The best talent available will be se cured to give interest at every meeting. To spread the truth is the object of this society. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 E 55th street, where all communications should be addressed.

Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock. Come out to the camp-meeting of the Second Church of the Soul, every Sunswered and communications given by good mediums. Come and enjoy a day continued during July and August.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

If you have got rheumatism or kidney trouble, I can cure you or no pay. For full particulars, send your name catarrh and rupture without the use of medicines.

THE BIBLE AS REGARDED BY JOHN E. REMSBURG.

In this book there are Eleven Chapters on the Authenticity of the Bible; Thirteen on the Credibility of the Bible: Ten on the Morality of the Bible, with an Appendix of Unanswerable Arguments Against the Divine Origin and in favor of the Human Origin of the Bible. Twenty-six pages of index, enabling the reader to refer in an instant to any authority quoted or argument used by the author.

The tiles of the chapters in detail are, Sacred Books of the World, The Christian Bible, Formation of the Canon, Different Versions of the Bible, Authorship and Dates, The Pentateuch, The Prophets, The Hagioegrapha, The Four Gospels; Acts, Catholic Epistles and Revelation; Pauline Epistles, Textual Errors, Two Cosmogonies of Genesis, The Patriarchal Age, The Jewish Kings, Inspired Numbers, When Did Jehosaphat Die? Harmony of the Gospels. Paul and the Apostles, The Bible and Histony, The Bible and Science, Prophecies, Miracles, The Bible God, The Bible Not a Moral Guide, Lying, Cheating, Stealing, Murder, War, Human Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Slavery, Polygamy, Adultery, Obscenity, Intemperance, Vagrancy, Ignorance, Injustice to Women, Unkindness to Children, Cruelty to Animals, Tyranny, Intolerance, Conclusion, Appendix. .The book makes some five hundred pages, and is printed handsomely on heavy paper, with wide margins. Price

"Love-Sex-Immortality." By Dr. W. P. Phelon. For sale at this office. Price 25 cents. "A Plea for the New Woman." By May Collins. An address delivered before the Ohio Liberal Society. For sale

at this office. Price 10 cents.
"The Spiritual Significance, or, Death as an Event in Life." By Lilian Whiting. One of Miss Whiting's most suggestive, intensely interesting, spiritual books. It is laden with rich, thoughtful spirituality. For sale at this office.

"Poems of Progress." By Lizzie Doten. In this volume, this peerless poet of Spiritualism may be read in her varied moods, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe." It is a book to he treasured and richly enjoyed by all who love genuine poetry, and especially by Spiritualists. The volume is tastily printed and bound. Price $1.

"A Conspiracy Against the Republic." By Charles B. Walte, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc. A condensed statement of facts concerning the efforts of church leaders to get control of the government. An important work. Paper, 25 cents. For sale at this office, "Mark Chester; or 2 mill and a Mill-ion. A Tale of Southern California," By Carlyle Petercilea. A pure psychic story, elevating and reformatory. Paner covers, 40 cents. Cloth, 60 cents. For sale at this office. "Death, Its Meaning and Results."

By J. K. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting volume, of decided value. A narrative of wonderful psychic events in the author's experience. Cloth, 560 pages, illustrated, $1.25.

"The Great Roman Anaconda." By Paper, 75 cents. Oloth, gilt, $1,50. For eals at this office.

HYØWTISM.

VALUABLEYWORKS ON SUG-GESTION.

HYPNOTISM AND SUGGESTION, WHEN RIGHTLY APPLIED BE COME POTENT AGENTS FOR GOOD.

Mental and Moral Culture. Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Culture. By John Duncan Quackenbos, Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, Membest of the New Academy of Sciences, Fellow of the New Hampshire Medical Society, Member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Bear in mind, please, that this book treats of Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Culture. It should be in every family.

A Complete System. Hypnotism, a Complete System of Method, Application and Use, including all that is known in the art and practice of mesmerism and mental healing, prepared for the self-instruction of beginners, as well as for the use of advanced students and practitioners. By L. W. D. Laurence. A good work for anyone to read. Price $1. Paper, 50

Price. $1.25.

The Field of Hypnotism. Hypnotism, by Albert Moll. The author says: "Various recent researches in the field of hypnotism have rendered it necessary to remodel in part the earlier edition of the work. I have brought the history of hypnotism down to the present, and have throughout, I trust, presented the subject in its present state. In accordance with a wish which has been expressed by many, I have especially developed a chapter on the medical aspects of Hypnotism." This is a work of over 400 pages, and is certainly very valuable. Price $1.50. Hypnotism-Its Uses and Dangers. Hypnotism, How It Is Done; Its Uses and Dangers. By James R. Cocke, M. D. Dr. Cocke has hypnotized altogether about one thousand, three hundred and fifty people. The greater part of these were Americans, some negroes, quite a number of French, a few Germans, and a few of the Northern races, such as Danes, Russians, etc. It has been his purpose to illustrate the differences in the hypnotic state as they occur in the various nationalities, and in that respect the work is very valuable. Price $1.50.

Its History and Present Development.
Hypnotism-Its History and Present

Development. By Fredrik Bjornstrom, M. D., Head Physician of the Stockholm Hospital. This being a Swedish production, it will fit into your library very nicely, though you have all the other works on Hypnotism. Price 75 cents.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion Applied in Therapeutics and Education. By Alvan C. Halphide, M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in Hahnemann Medical College. Alliustrated. This work treats of the Antecedents of Hypnotism: the Develonment of Hypnotism: the Develonment of Hypnotism: day in the woods, at Madison street and Desplaines river. Lectures by Mr. notism; the Methods of Hypnotizing; Schaeffer at 2 p. m. Questions and the Phenomena of Hypnosis; the Theory of Suggestion; Suggestion in the Waking State; Treatment in Natural with us in the woods. Meetings will be Sleep; Clinical Hypnotism; Suggestion and Education; Danger in the use of Suggestion; Criminal Suggestion. Really, the work is very valuable.

Rationale of Mesmerism.

Price $1.00.

The Rationale of Mesmerlsm. By and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis A. P. Sinnett. This work, too, is worthy street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure of great praise as it contains the results of the labors of a master mind. It treats of Old and New Theories; the Mesmeric Force; the Real Literature of Mesmerism; Side Lights on Mesmeric Phenomena; Curative Mesmerism; Anesthetic Effects and Rigidity; the Nature of Sensitiveness; Clairvoyance and Mesmeric Practice. Price $1.25.

Suggestion-A Gold Mine. Now we present a work of mar velous utility, one that should be carefully studied. It contains a mine of valuable information. Its title is as follows: Treatment by Hypnotism and Suggestion; or Psycho Therapeutics. By C. Lloyd Tuckey, M. D. In this work, the new method, "Treatment by Suggestion," is exhaustively considered. Every branch of the subject is discussed in a masterly manner. Every healer should have it. Every physician will find it invaluable. Every one who wishes to become proficient in hypnotism will find it a valuable auxiliary in the work. Price $3.00.

Mental Suggestion From the French. Mental Suggestion. By Doctor J. Ochorowicz, Professor of Psychology and Nature Philosophy in the University of Lemberg. Translated from the French. The ablest work, probably, ever published in France on the above subject. It is certainly very valuable and no one can read it without having his knowledge vastly increased. The author says: "Hypnotism is henceforth part and parcel of Science, and Suggestion, which produces most of its wonders, no longer surprises us." Price $2.

An Experimental Study, An Experimental Study in the Domain of Hypnotism. By Dr. R. von Kraft-Ebing, Professor of Psychiatry and Nervous Diseases in the Royal University of Graz, Austria. Translated from the German. This book gives the best German thought on Hypnotism. It will prove valuable in every library. Price $1.25.

If you wish to have a complete library on Hypnotism and kindred sub-jects, purchase the twelve books above mentioned. Indeed in single one of the volumes above named will prove of great value to every reflective mind. For sale at this office.

"Origin of Life, or Where Man Comes From. "The Evolution of the Spirit from Matter Through Organic Processes, or Howethe Spirit Body Grows." By Michael Faraday. Prince 10 cents For sale at this office.

"Mediumship and Its Development and How to Mesmerize to Assist Devel opment." By W. HW Bach. Especially useful to learners who seek to know and utilize the lawsrof mediumship and development, and avoid errors. Price, cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. For sale at this office.

'Spirit Echoes." By Mattle E. Hull.
This pretty volume contains fifty-seven of the author's latest and choicest poems. Neatly bound in cloth, and with portrait of the author. Price 75 cents. "Voltaire's Romances.". Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enbrilliant Frenchman, an invincible enemy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined, with the skill of a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

"The Commondments Analyzed" Dr.

"The Commandments Analyzed." By W. H. Bach. The Commandments are not only analyzed; but contrasted with other Bible passages, showing great inpongruities. Price 25 cents

HOROSCOPES

Scientifically accurate and reliable. Captain G.W. Walrond, 1510 Glenarm St., Denver, Col., Est 1800. MRS. G. PARTRIDGE, Well-known

Readings personally or by mail, $1. 8 questions 25c Accurate work. 2751 W. Lake st., Chicago.

READINGS BY MAIL. Send 25c silver and 2c stamp and leading ques-tion and receive reading by return mail. MISS A M. COLE, Fremont, Mich. 114

A Tried and True Medium. Clairvoyant, Intuitional and Prophetic. Has consented to give readings by mail for a limited time, to carnest inquirers who are seeking for evidences of a fature life. Full readings and three questions answered by mail, $\otin$. Where date of birth is sent, will give an Astro-Psychto Delineation also. Send own handwriting. Address, MRS. E. DE FOREST.

Bangs Sisters,
PHENOMENAL MEDIUMS.

independent siate and paper writing sittings daily Spirit Portrait Work a Specialty. Readings by mail. Send four cents stamps for booklet, 664 W. Adams, Chicago. Telephone Ashland 1912.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS,
Send two dollars, your photograph or lock of hair, and receive three finished pictures from some loved ones that are wating to reach you from the summerland,
Mr. and Mrs. A. Normann.—The three photographs were banded meto-day, and I recognize every face upon them, and I can truthfully say these pictures are genuine, and will recommend you he world, for such evidence Is what proves life eternal, Mrs. Dr. Gregor McGregor.
283 Chicago ave., Minneapolis, Minn.
Address with stamp enclosed and receive proof
MR. & MRS. A. NORMANN,
2721, Elliott av. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE SPEAKING DIAL. A Wonderful Spiritual Invention A Wonderful Spiritual Invention
Gives names, dates and circumstances. Speaks
in various languages; answers mental questions;
convincing the most skeptical. Has come to prove immortality and spirit commandon. Develops all phases of mediumship. Magnetized by powerful spirit band. Read what the late Hon. I. Donnelly said of the Speaking Dini. Dials now, 41:50. Sond for testimontals. Enclose stamp for reply. P. J.
DEMPSEY Inventor, 2817 Columbus ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Anuie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind sister, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earl-iest mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with 11, and I will try and get reply by independent writing or whis-pers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Mil-ford Mass.

DR. J. S. LOUCKS

is the oldest and most successful Spiritual Physician now in practice. His cures are THE MOST MARVELOUS of this age. His examinations are correctly made, and free to all who send him name, age, sex and lock of hair, and six cents in stamps. He docen't ask for any leading symptom. A clairyoyant doesn't need any. He positively cures weak men. Address J. S. LOUCKS, M. D.,

DON'T READ THIS.

Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trial will convince you. Nervous exhaustion and lost vigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundreds can testify. Send name, age, sex, complexion and to cents in stamps, and receive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth dollars to you. Address, FRANCES L. LOUCKS,

Single Meals 50 cents. Open July 1 to Sept. 15.

The Maplewood Hotel FORMERLY "THE GRAND"

Lily Dale, N, Y.

Rates $10 per Week and Upwards. American Plan. Special Attention to Ladles and Children. LEO MANGER, Proprietor. Also Proprietor the Grand Restaurant.

13 W. Eagle Street, Buffalo, N. Y. THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH. Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuier. Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume might well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar interesting style in which French writers excel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the needs of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable idea in Spiritualism," and regards as proved "the fact of communication between superhumans and the inhabitants of earth." Price, $1.50.

THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE.

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lilian Whiting, author of "The World Beau-tiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Fleid, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Cloth, $1.00. Miss Whiting finds the title of her new book in these lines from "Aurora Leigh:

"If a man could feel Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and working-day,
The spiritual significance burn through
The hieroglyphic of material shows, Herceforward he would paint the globe with wings."

The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between the developments of modern science and spiritual laws; to note that new forces, as discovered and applied in wireless as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an unseen realm into which humanity is rapidly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical science the author of "The World Beaution!" continues the same agreement are ful" continues the same argument preful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the constant sense of the Divine Presence, and a truer knowledge of the nature of man and his relations to God tend to a bother morality and increasing flappiand his relations to God, tend to a bigher morality and increasing liappiness. The book is characterized by the same essential style and qualities that have insured for "The World Beautiful" volumes an almost world-wide popularity. OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT-

ING:
Kate Field, A Record. Price $2.
A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Brown. ing. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series. Each $1.
From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems, $1. These books are for sale

LIFE OF THOMAS PAINE! By the Editor of the National, with Preface and Notes by Poter Eckler. Illustrated with views of the old Paine Homestead and Paine Monument, at New Rochelle; also portraits of Thomas Clio Rickinan, Joel Barlow, Mary Wol-stonecraft, Madame Roland, Condorce, Brissot, and the most prominent of Paine's friends in Europe and America. Cloth, 75 cents. MAHOMET, THE ILLUSTRIOUS.

STANDING UP FOR JESUS,

Or what the Editor of the Freethinker's Magazine thinks of him. Price, 4 cents; twenty ave

AN ASTONISHING OFFER

Send three two-cent stamps, loch of hair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free br spirit power.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker, 230 North Sixth St. San Jose, Cali

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker.

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE. My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:-I want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good. MARY JANE PEARCE.

Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21, Mrs. Dobson-Barker-Kind Friend:-

As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I will write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treat-ment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer. Respectfully, MINA M. YANG.

Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902.

Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker—Dear Sister:—I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am happy to say I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I war sick twenty-five years. I still remain your friend,
AMANDA R. GREEN.

You Can Have If you wear Magnetized Melted Pebble LENS Spectacles. For fifteen years I have been fitting and spirit assistance. Sending spectacles by mail to people that live in all parts of this mundance world. If you want the best spectacles write for illustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also how you can by ME be fitted it. Your world. If you want the best spectacles write for Illustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also how you can by ME be fitted at Your Own Home. For 5 cents to pay postage. Will send sample of magnetized compound, sufficient for 4 oz of eye water. Cares sore eyes, strengthens weak eyes. If requested will send photo of Spirit Yarma.

43 Evanston Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MOLLIE FANCHER, The Brooklyn Enigma. An authentic statement of facts in the life of Mary J. Fancher, the psychological marvel of the nineteenth century. Unimpeachable testimony of many witnesses. By Abram H. Dailey. With illustrations. Price, cloth. $1.50.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE ITH WOTEL OF INFORMATION.

Is a most excellent work by Dr. M.L. Sherman, assisted by Prof. W. F. Lyon. Heretofore it has been sold for $\frac{2}{2}$, but the price now has been reduced to $\frac{1}{2}$. It is $\frac{1}{2}$ took that will interest and instruct. It contains 280 pages, and is full of suggestive thoughts. Dr. Sherman was a medium of rare qualities, and his work is a reflection from the celestial spheres.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religions, and their influence upon the material development of the human race. Transcribed at the request of a band of ancient philosophers. Price, 10 cents.

A GREAT BOOK.

THE HULL-JAMIESON DEBATE. One of Unflagging Interest Throughout -It Should Be in the Hands of

Every Spiritualist and Freethinker. This book, containing nearly 500 closely printed pages, should have a million circulation. Price $1. It is chockful of rapid-firing ideas, and is the ablest debate, on both sides, ever published. Send for it.

Contracts in Spirit Life Experiences of Samuel Bowles in the First Five Spheres, Etc. Written through the hand of Carrie E. S. Twing. Paper, 30 cents.

Bible and Church Degrade Woman

Why I Am a Vegetarian. An address delivered before the Chicago Vege-tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price, 25 cents.

Healing, Gauses and Effects. By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents.

Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion. By Sarah E. Titcomb. wirh an introduction by Charles Morris, author of "The Aryan Race." Price, cloth, $1.00.

Father Tom and the Pope. Or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably by Sir Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous ab-count of a rolleksome visit to the Pope of count of a rolleksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom, an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two im-perial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same, Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Three Remarkable Books

"The Divine Pedigree of Man."
"The Law of Psychic Phenomena."
"A Scientific Demonstration of the Fu-The Divine Pedigree of Man, or the Testimony of Evolution and Psychology to the Fatherhood of God. By Thompson Jay Hudson, LL. D. A most remarkable work. demonstrating the existence of the Soul and Future Life. It is scientific throughout. Price $1.50. Dr. Hudson's work on "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" is also valuable. Price $1.50. His "Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life" should be read by all. Price $1.50.

Ghurch and State.

Lhe Bible in the Public Schools; the New "American" Party. By "Jefferson." Third edition; 28 pages. Price, 10 cents.

RELIGION OF THE FUTURE, TO By S. Well. Cloth, $1.25; paper, $0 cents. This is a work of great value, written by one of the keenest, most powerful and most truly religious minds of the day. It is particularly a work which should be put into the hands of those who have freed themselves from the dogmas of orthodoxy and from the dogmas of materialistic science, for it will strengthen the conviction of the free mind that mind and senses are not the whole of life.

The chapters reveal a new method in psychlo and spiritual research. They show vivid glimpses of a stupendous moral cosmos that will supersede moral confusion, that only verifiable tenets can survive, and the childhood period of fath and fancy will be superseded by studyledge and facts.

6. WALTER LYNN

Gifted Psychic. HEALTH RESTORED By Common Sense Methods

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Aliments.

OBSESSION CURED.

For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name, sex and own handwriting.

READINGS AND BUSINESS AD VICE $1.00 and two stamps.

Address 855 Grove St., Oakland, Ca

Write for Circular JORY'S TONIC TABLETS

A frus News Toole and Blood Builder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Debility and the various forms of nervous and physical depression, Melancholia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Weak Kidneys, Chronic Backache, poor circulation, poor appetite, poof sleep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the ton of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. 50 doses, 75c; 100 doses $1.25. Postage prepaid.

Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC For Constipation, Headache, Etc. Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Health Action of the Bowels. 38 tablets, 25c. Postage prepaid. Prepared only by

H. M. JORY, Manufacturing Chemist. 6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor All, Philosophy of This work com spiritual Intercourse, account of the very worderful state and account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Phelps, Stratford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the test of many years. Cloth, $1,20; postage 10a.

MAHOMET His Birth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Gibbon. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberal Classies. It is conceded to be historically correct, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents.

THE AGE OF REASON. By Thomas Paine. Being an investigation of True and Fabulous Thoology. A new and com-plete edition, from new plates and new types 186 pages, post 8vo. Paper way; cloth, 50c.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I .-- The Pentateuch. Comments on Genesis, Exodus, Leviticis, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Devereux Riake, Rev. Phebo Hanaford, Clara Bewick Colby, Ellen Battelle Deitrick, Mrs. Louisa Southworth, Ursula N. Gestefeld, and Francis E Barr.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE -- PART IL Judges, Kings, Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation. The comments are keen, bright, spicy, full of wit, the work of radicalthinkers who are not ignorant of the higher criticism. There is not a doll page in either at these books, but each, is a galaxy of the bright minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 50 cents.

Womanly ITS ATTAINMENT OF FORM AND FEATURES Beauty The cultivation of personal beauty, based on Hygiene and

Health Culture, by twenty physicians and specialists, and edited by Albert Turner. A valuable book for women and therefore for the whole world. Price in elegant cloth binding, $1.00. For sale at this office. THE-

Christs of the Past and Present. By MOSES HULL, A comparison of the Christ work or Mediumship of Biblical Messiahs and the conditions they required, with similar manifestations in Modern Spiritualism. This is a good work to study for arguments with which to meet the very common orthodox question, "Why do you always require conditions for your spiritual manifestations!" Cloth bound, 35 cents; paper 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Were You Born Under a Lucky Star?

A complete exposition of the science of Astrology, adapted from the Four Books of Ptolemy, the Astronomer on the art of Reading the Stars, with many illustrations. By A. ALPHEUS, Secretary of the Astrological Society of England and America. Handsomely bound in cloth, gilt top, with beautiful designs scrupped on side and back, Price $1.00. For sale at this office. The Religion of Science.

By Dr. Paul Carus. Ver thoughtful and in-teresting. Price, 25 cents. TALMID Selections from the contents of that ancient book, its commentaries, teachings, poetry, and legends. Also brief sketches of the men who made and commented upon it. By H. Polang. 850 pp. Price, cloth, $1

VEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Leuris by the Swami Vivekacanda, on Raja Togar, or Conquering the Internal Nature, and other subjects; also, Patanjali's Yoga Aphorlams, with commendaries and a copious glossary of Sanskrit terms. Revised and enlarged, 12mo., Cloth, $1,50. Raja Yoga is an ancient system of Indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and perfection. Swami Vivekananda became a familiar figure in several American of Religious at Chicago; he was cordially received in America, where the breadth and depth of his teachings were soon recognized. His teachings are universal in their application. The book is chose etcl.50. For sale at this office.

FROM INDIA TO THE PLANET MARS.

A MOST REMARKABLE WORK.

Fascinating, Interesting and Instructive.

By Th. Flournoy, Professor of Psy-chology in the University of Geneva. "This is an account of the experiments with the Geneva Medium, Helens Smith, in her trances she lives the dual existence of an Indian princess and of an inhabitant of the planet Mars. Professor Flournoy and his fellow scientists have for more than five years experimented with these astounding physical phenomena."

This is a work of thrilling interest.

HAREZZA Bibles of Marriage. By Alice B. Btockham, M. D. Karczza makes a plea for a better birthright for children, and nims to lead individuals to seek a higher development of themselves through most sacred relations. It is pure in tone and aim, and should be widely circulated. Price, cloth, st.

It has excited great attention in this country and in Europe. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

IOWANS AT WORK.

THE CAUSE THERE.

gression), into one mutual association or brotherhood, who advocate the upbuilding of not only Spiritualism and the philosophy and phenomena thereof, but all of the virtues which are necessary to round out and build up a perfect physical body as well, which will also assist the spirit or Ego to perform its purposes of being. So far as our experiences go, all Spiritualists (perhaps not all Spiritists) believe the fundamentals lieve in the following reforms in government: Changing the medical laws, ital punishment, enforced vaccination, and besides these, many other reforms was held in Oskaloosa, January, 1902, way of organization, except perhaps a better understanding of the benefits to this has been realized through what has already been accomplished, viz.: Seven

Association and one that has not, although that little has been done under

At our last meeting at Ottumwa we were encouraged, and the new officers have determined to try and organize into one mutual association, everyone who believes in the reforms that are generally advocated by Spiritualists,

Liberalists, drugless doctors and honest mediums, and who oppose and disclaim gers, magicians, etc., who claim to be born with veils, sons of seventh daughters, and many others, who are adver tising themselves as representative

Spiritualists, in order to make money.

They love everything except the cause of Spiritualism and its spiritual knowledge and philosophy. We ask you as Spiritualists, can the great public, unac-

Spiritualism of the present day, do otherwise, than conclude that the cause of those represented is like the company it keeps? This class of people are a of the real phenomena, concludes it is all childish tricks or juggling, which only a weak-minded person would accept as evidence of spirit return: but the genuine medium, as well as every Spiritualist, should understand that his cause he loves, demands that all precautions that are within the bounds of rea-from being mulcted of their money.

Now in order to do this weeding out work, there must be an expression of all that are interested. That means an organization, for only by organization

The spirit world wanted such an or ganization and it came ten years ago, as the National Spiritualists Association of America, which is made up of dele gates from state associations, formed on the same principle as the government of the United States. The local societies are represented by their delegates, who make up the membership of tatives make up the membership of the National Association, so the formation socially spiritually or politically, and if we as Spiritualists, spiritual investiga-tors and liberal-minded people ever expect to get favorable notice, from the public or from its officials, there must be organization. Now we ask all Spiritualists and co-workers to help it along by furnishing the funds necessary to organize meetings and lyceums, for the education of our children and young people, so they may know what our knowledge stands for. When this is done and we have regular local societies in all the larger towns of the state and have local meetings at least once a month in all of the smaller towns and seep a dozen or more missionaries at work in each state, Spiritualism will grow and become popular and our young people will not be ashamed to say they are Spiritualists; any more

Spiritualists, wake up and be more social, and get together, and if there are together and talk over matters, join the state association and help them along to the extent of $1 at least. The state association will do you more good than there are seven or more who believe in and have our knowledge, for a local society and send to the secretary of the by-laws, and ask for a charter and befor the officers of the local and state asone or two in your town or village, get than one to say he is a Methodist.

the state association and their represencan the whole be represented.

azinted with the teachings of the present officers were elected.

adverse circumstances.

ed, Greeting:

One number of The Progressive Thinker is often worth one dollar. . It is sent one

The Progressive Thinker is the great Educator of the Present Age... Induce your neighbor to subscribe for it.

SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

CHICAGO, ILL., JULY 18. 1903.

VOL. 28.

W. KATES AND WIFE.

year for that amount.

Report of N. S. A. Missionary Work for the Month of June.

We have had a remarkable month, in many ways, during June. Have held twenty-nine meetings—some of them being the reality in missionary work. We commenced the month at Brainerd, Minn., where we organized a society and chartered the same with the state association, with Mr. A. Ousdahl as the president.

A week was spent at Wheaton, Minn, where we have often labored in a little temple owned by the local society. We had good meetings here and were glad to see that our friends continue so faithful. Miss Annie Leaser has always been a devoted helper here, and we look forward to the time when she will be a prominent worker upon the spiritual

We responded to a call from our friend, Mrs. Myra Woodbury, Abercrombie, N. D., and held a meeting there. The audience was small and very curious. To break down prejudice is a much-needed task in many such communities. It is necessary that we shall be able to occasionally visit them.

Having had repeated calls to Mon-tana, we concluded to visit there for a brief time, previous to our camp engagements in Nebraska and Kansas, instead of going into the flood districts, which had been our intention.

We had immediate acceptance of our services, and went at once to Billings, Montana. There we were received by Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, and enter-tained in their "Cottage Inn," where we were so well cared for that we wanted to stay all summer. People who go to Montana should stop with these friends a while in Billings and enjoy the benefits of this beautiful town. We had good meetings there and organized a local society which will be chartered with a state association that is pro-

Our next visit was to the coal mining town of Red Lodge. Here, Dr. P. S. George, of Lincoln, Neb., is located for the summer as a healer, and is developing a local interest in our cause. He arranged meetings for us and tried hard to get the people interested. Our audiences were small, but select. mixed classes of people living here do not as a rule take much interest in affairs intellectual and spiritual, hence, many of them were afraid that they would see "ghosts" if they attended our meetings. Some smart youngsters made eir own spirit rappings on the outside of our hall, and filled the windows with scared and expectant faces. These were the first Spiritualist meetings held here; but will not be the last, for the friends will hold circles until they can get conditions and ability for public meetings. Returning to Billings, we had a final meeting of great interest, with the attendance very large. A good work here will result, with the earnest little society, led by Mrs. McCormick.

Our next trip was "over the mount ning" to Butte. This is a city where no grass, nor plants will grow, as the smelters flood the country and town with smoke impregnated with arsenic and sulphur. It is a mining-town and filled with a characteristic people who give great prominence to such Industries as saloons, brothels and prize fights. But a large contingent of good people are here, and we have hopes for an earnest spiritual society, which we are trying to organize. It will be com pleted before we leave. We had a splendid Sunday here, with good results, on the 21st. We were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes. In response to a call from Brother W

J. Hicks, late a resident of Iowa, we visited Anaconda and his nice little home in this city of smelters, where sulphursmoke makes one think that hell is being destroyed sure enough. We were more fully convinced that the devil will soon have no material to burn sinners with, when we visited the great Fashoe Smelter located here. We had fairly good meetings here, and organized a local society with Brother Hicks as its

Returning to Butte, we held good meetings there Sunday, the 28th. Mrs. Kates also held a good meeting for ladies only, on Monday afternoon. We remain here until July 6, and will hold mass-meeting of Montana Spiritual ists, July 3, 4 and 5, to organize a state association if possible. And we think it more than probable. We expect to have a good report to make of these meetings. We are now the guests of Grandma M. A. Logue, who, though almost deaf to the world, hears the voices of the spirits. She has been a faithful worker for our cause here, and we hope that she will long be spared to help cheer those who sorrow as she has sor rowed.

Since writing the above, we find that the Butte Miner has been charging Spir itualists, mediums and clairvoyants double their regular advertising rates; and when I objected to such treatment they declined to take our mass-meeting notices at any rates. I have asked for free local notices, as a religious body is usually granted. If they refuse, we will by no means quietly submit. This is probably due to having been misrepre sented here by an unworthy class of medhims, and by the inactivity of the local Spiritualists. They have been discord ant amongst themselves and lost all prestige. The necessity of co-operation is made manifest by every incident of this character. We must join our forces in harmony, no matter who is elected the leader; but a careful choice should always be made. Let us hold devoted allegiance to our cause, and give earn est support to every enterprise that promises to advance its possibilities.

He that does good for good's sake seeks neither praise nor reward, but he is sure of both in the end.—Penn. To dally much with subjects mean and low, proves that the mind is weak or makes it so.—Cowper. He that thinks he can afford to be negligent is not far from being poor.-Johnson,

G. W. KATES AND WIFE.

WAYSIDE JOTTINGS.

Notes of Visits to Various Places.

To the Editor:—It is a long time since I have communicated with your readers, among whom I count many friends, and as I am off for a vacation of two full weeks, I feel at present my time is all my own, and so I send a few Items that may be of interest to some of your many readers.

I left home the morning of the 27th ult., in company with my husband, and went to the lovely little town of Genoa, Ill., where we had previously conducted a series of meetings. The president of the Genoa society, Mr. Orrin Merritt, has journeyed more than his "three score years and ten" in this world, yet is a valued and active worker in our glorious cause. He not only is an executive officer in the Genoa society, but he occupies the honored place as one of the board of officers of the Illinois State Association. On both occasions of our visit to Genoa, we were royally entertained at the home of Mr. Merritt's daughter and husband, Mr., and Mrs. Quandstrong. They are active in the work and in full sympathy with their good father in all he feels to contribute to the cause.

We held three meetings on each occasion of our visit to Genoa; the audiences were made up of many of the most advanced thinkers among Genoa's citizens. It is always an inspiration to meet such people, it calls the best from within us, and we feel, though our ideas may not all be accepted, they are at east, honestly considered.

From Genoa we went to Chicago; there we visited with Mr. Hull's daughers and friends for a portion of the day. I am happy to report that we found Mrs. Jahnke seemingly much improved from her past physical condition, that is, she was feeling much better than at any time during the past year.

Monday afternoon Mr. Hull and I parted company; he returned to Whitewater, and I came east as far as Cleveland, Ohio, at which place I am now visiting with my sister Leeds and fam-

I have passed a most delightful week since I came, as I have met friends and formed new acquaintances, all of whom are engaged in the work of Spiritualism.

On Friday night, the 3rd inst., a reception was tendered me at the residence of my sister by the Social Club. that is named for "Yours truly." It was an occasion to be long remembered. I was a recipient of little gifts as souvenirs of the meeting. On the following Sunday I attended the East Side Lyceum. Although it was the opening day at Lake Brady and an excursion had been arranged to go there, the attendance was about the average, which was something of a surprise to me, especially as he day before was the all of its excitement and weariness. Mr. Willis is the present conductor of the lyceum, and Mrs. Barber is the guardian. Three of the members of the lyceum, Mrs. Sage, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Leeds, had planned a great surprise for the lyceum and especially for Mr. Willis and Mrs. Barber, in the way of the presentation of two beautiful banners, one to the conductor and one to the guardian. They are appropriate and exquisite in design. Ye scribe was delegated done as the spirit prompted. My next objective point is Mantua where our son is settled, and working out as best he can his own fortunes in this world. He has been in practice as a homeopathic physician for two years. and I am glad to say he has never felt the necessity as many do, of catering to the church element for patronage.

to make the presentation which was

My vacation must end about the middle of July, then I go to the Waukesha camp and take up again, solid work. Soon as possible after the Waukesha camp closes. Mr. Hull and myself start for Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Hull attends numerous camps this season. I am under contract to serve the Waukesha camp from the commencement to its close, but if circumstances will allow. I may break away and take to a few other camps as visitor. "How do you like Wisconsin?" is the question put to me in nearly every letter. I can only say, the winter and the spring season were delightful; it is a beautiful country, but it will take more than one lifetime to wean me from the East, my eastern friends, and society and lyceum work as similar to that which had engaged my time so long.

Most endearing letters have reached me at regular intervals from Buffalo, is on the same lines as every great govmany of which are still unanswered. I am encouraged to know the lyceum of grown or accomplished anything, either that city is doing well: I still regard it as my "pet." I shall try in the near future to fill all of my obligations in the way of correspondence. MATTIE E. HULL.

Cleveland, Ohio.

Thy towers arise into the purer air

Shall form a base whereon thy future Once thou hadst deemed them mighty

They were but unfledged wings. And bearing not the ardor of the sun, found too weak For flight, they still may serve to build control Save as a building-place for towers state association for a constitution and And on the past build up the future's come a living thing, ask and express stair. BEATRICE ST. GEORGE.

heart.—South,

REED'S LAKE, MICH.

A GREAT EFFORT TO STRENGTHEN | The Camp Opens With Excellent Prospects.

The camp-meeting at this place opened on Saturday last with the most To Spiritualists and Investigators of Spiritual Truth, and the Liberal-Mindflattering prospects. No more beautiful place for a Spiritualist camp ground could be found, as it is located on the flattering prospects. For the first time in the history of Spiritualism, the attempt is being made to organize the investigators in Spiritnorth shore of the lake, with steam boats and car lines to carry the people ualism, and the liberal thinkers in the great state of Iowa (who believe in pro-from the city of Grand Rapids, one of the handsomest cities in the country. The association, under the efficient management of its president, that tire less worker in the cause, D. A. Herrick, procured the ground a year ago, and with an able corps of assistants, they have worked diligently to get ready for this their first meeting on the new ground. Mr. Gunn, one of the leading manufacturers of Grand Rapids, is one of the leading men of the association, and is bringing his energies and his purse to bear to make a success of the camp.

of Spiritualism, not all just alike, but so near alike there is no usesplitting words over the difference, and nearly all be Saturday being the opening day of the camp, and also the natal day of American liberty, Mr. Willard J. Hull, of Columbus, Ohio, delivered a splendid the manner of treating the insane, the taxation of all property, both church and state alike, and are opposed to capaddress, showing the necessity of Spiritualism to bring about better economic conditions in order that a higher civilization might be attained.

On Sunday forenoon, President Herthat are not necessary to name. Then there is a large majority of investigators rick delivered an address of welcome in the phenomena of Spiritualism who which was followed by short speeches from others, and tests by Mrs. Belle think there ought to be some reforms in Fuller, of Grand Rapids.,
In the afternoon a band concert was the manner of selecting our mediums for public work; that is dishonest men and women who pretend to be honest given by the Woodman's Band of Grand mediums should be weeded out, and the Rapids, and a dedicatory address by Willard J. Hull, which was pronounced only way to accomplish anything permanent in this age is to organize and form by all to be a masterly effort. Tests by associations that are close, and com-Mrs. Fuller. bine our efforts.

The State Spiritualists Association of In the evening, after more hand music, C. W. Stewart gave a short address on Mediumship, and was followed by a test symposium from Mrs. Blake, Dr. Iowa was organized for the purpose above set forth, in April, 1901, at Oska-loosa, Ilowa. Its first annual meeting Knowles, Mrs. Cogmore, of Chicago, Mrs. Coffman and Mrs. Josie K. Folsom. and the second annual meeting at Ottumwa, Jan. 1903, at which time the Over five hundred people were present at the meetings, and the audiences were highly pleased with both speakers has been but little accomplished in the and mediums. Too much cannot be said in praise of the persevering afforts of Mr. and Mrs. Herrick and Mr. Wm. Mcbe derived from such organization and Donald and their assistants who have toiled night and day to beautify the grounds, and prepare for a successful associations who have joined the State camp, and if efficient management and harmonious conditions can; make suc-cess, the Reed's Lake camp will certainy accomplish much for the cause of Spiritualism. C. W. STEWART.

> K when you have paid in $1 a membership for one year will be sent you by the state secretary.

> Our plan of work in Iowa is as folows, and if we have your support hope for success, otherwise it will be almost impossible to succeed:

First, we are going to try to organize circuits for speakers and test mediums. For instance we propose to select four towns of one thousand inhabitants or more, who will promise to pay a speaker one Sunday in a month. We intend to one Sunday in a month. get a speaker who will make this circuit regularly, speaking every Sunday in one of these towns, and during the time they are to make arrangements for side trips to smaller towns, and enthuse and work among the Spiritualists and disgrace to our cause, and the public at others. We want every place with large, who seldom or never see anything seven or more Spiritualists, to organize and take out a charter with the state association; but if you are not strong enough to do that, we ask you to organ ize a local society, and report to the state association. We want to keep in close touch with every Spiritualist in the state.

own interest, as well as that of the We will be in position to furnish missionaries to any part of the state for funerals, marriages or lectures. If you son should be used to protect the public will organize as requested above, stead of employing orthodox ministers for all these duties, we can have our own faith perform such ceremonies. without great expense. If you belong to an organized society you can write to the secretary of the state association for any kind of information in regard to the state work, and keep yourself posted in regard to speakers, mediums. The State Spiritualists Association of Iowa will employ only such mediums and speakers as are recognized by the N. S. A. or the State Associations and hold their credentials. All of the above benefits we promise if you will join us and help with your mite. The officers receive no salary, not one of them, and each one is doing the work for the love of the cause and humanity. Will you help us? Then, after you have joined, if something happens that you do not like, do not do like the little girl who was visiting her little neighbor, take her rage baby and go home, (when she had bomething happen to her that she did not like) but go to the annual meetings, and vote for someone whom you think will do the work better, and if the ones elected will push the work along, the present officers will contribute liberally and work all they can to make a success of Spiritualism, and to bring it before the people in the right-light.

Now as the present officers elected by the state association to push the work, they claim they ought to be assisted, and each and every one who loves our cause ought to come forward and help the present officers fulfill their duty. You will never miss the amount you donate, and the spirit world will bless you. We hear asked. "What do they do with all this money? We would say that no cause can prosper without money. There is a multitude of ex penses attached to every organizationpostage, printing, annual meetings, and in order to get our clicuit system, we shall have to guarantee some of the lecturers and mediums their expenses, es pecially so when they go into the smaller towns to work up these oir cuits and socioties. Nothing can be accomplished in the way of organization without money. Enclosed we hand you two blanks. Fill out the membership blank and send it to the secretary with do a little. If you can spare but, 25 one dollar. Also fill out the slip with and cents at a time, send that along, and all the Spiritualists, investigators, drug-

ORDINATION SERVICES.

Conducted by the President of the Illinois State Association.

A large audience attended the ordination services, held at the corner of North avenue and Burling street, Chi-cago, on Sunday evening, July 5. Mrs. Wm. Hilbert, pastor of the Progressive Spiritual Society, presided, while the la-dies associated with her furnished tasty decorations of potted palms and appro priate flowers for the room. After music, Dr. Hammond opened the evening by reading a poem of Lizzie Doten's and congregational singing followed. President Warne, of the State Associa-tion, who owing to the absence from the state of the vice-president and secretary, made a journey of two hundred and fifty miles to be present on the occasion, spoke upon the meaning of ordination from the stand of Spiritualists, emphasizing the point that it was devoid of all ecclesiastical significance, and was merely a formal and public en-tering into a contract relation between the parties concerned, under the civil law of agency. He also touched thoughtfully upon the performance of the marriage ceremony by ordained ministers of Spiritualism, making clear some of the uncertainties connected with doing so under the statutes of Illinois, in the absence of any judicial interpretations bearing thereon. Mrs. Hilbert then conducted to the front of the hall, Mrs. Laura G. Fixen, Mrs. Jennie Staner Adams, Mrs. Virginia Bryan and Mr. J. B. Hobbs, who rising to their feet, each made affirmative responses to the following questions propounded by President Warne, and later gave their written answers to them for future evidence of their agreement with the state association.

Do you still desire to receive ordina tion to the ministry of Spiritualism at the hands of the Illinois State Spiritualists' Association?

Do you promise faithful compliance with the laws and regulations of said association as adopted at its delegate conventions, or framed by its official board?

Do you understand that your papers of ordination will constitute a contract relation under the civil law of agency between yourself and the association and that they are subject to future annulment, for sufficient cause, by the of-ficial board, after it shall have given you opportunity for a fair hearing upon any charge that may be made against you?

Do you promise to report in writing at least once each year, both to this association and the National Spiritualists Association of the United States of America, all of your acts under and by virtue of your ordination by the first

Do you believe, without doubts, that all men live in a state of conscious existence after the change called death and that they can and do communicate with the inhabitants of earth, under fixed laws governing the material and

Do you promise to show by word and example that it is the duty of every individual to live a moral and upright life on earth, and to enforce the advantage of so living here, by teaching the continuity of life in unbroken succession, and the intercommunication between the inhabitants of the seen and unseen worlds?

Do you in this presence of your fellows in the flesh, and under the eyes of the spirit world, solemnly pledge your sacred word of honor that you will never degrade nor dishonor the commission of an ordained minister of Spirit ualism by simulating conditions of entrancement, or by using either publicly or in private circle, seance or sitting, in formation obtained from human source as though it were given you in clairvoyant, clairaudient or entranced conditions? Do you with like solemnity promise that you will never knowingly, or willfurnish a fellow medium with ingly. any information in your possession for the purpose of aiding him, or her, to practice deception upon anyone, and that you will never yourself resort to trickery of any name or nature, nor encourage, conceal, or apologize for its practice by another medium?

Have you answered each and all of tion, or secret evasion whatsoever?

Each of the candidates was addressed few personal and official words by the president, receiving from his hands a certificate of ordination, granted by the official board, which the Ladies Auxiliary of the Progressive Society supplemented with a beautiful bouquet, expressive of their greetings. Fitting words of acknowledgment of their added responsibilities were spoken by the four, and Mrs. Linn-Howes added words of Godspeed to them. The evening of serious work closed with refreshments of ice cream and cake. GEO. B. WARNE.

 less doctors and Liberalists, except those already on the paper, that you know of in your locality. Send the whole to the secretary, Mrs. Dora C. Crosby, No. 314 East Thirteenth street, Des-Moines, Towa-A genuine Spiritualist is one who professes and regards spiritual things, and maintains his knowledge and philosophy, by assisting others to come into this same knowledge. (Signed) JOHN D. VAIL, DORA C. CROSBY

Executive Committee The above circular letter, with blanks, nave been sent to hundreds of Spiritual ists in Iowa, and they should respond at once.

When a man dies they who survive him ask what property he has left he-The angel who bends over the dying man asks what good deeds he has sent before him.—Mahomet. Slander is the revenge of a coward and dissimilation like defense. John-

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Funeral of Martin H, Wefel, the Drug-San Francisco the Eden of Wizards and gist, at Fort Wayne.

The funeral of Martin H. Wefel, the dred people, nearly one thousand being the services at the burial, which was at Lindenwood, where a much larger consions which the Father has prepared for us. The body, all that is mortal, will the less faith the more superstitious." go back to the dust but the spirit will ascend to the mansions not made with hands. There is happiness for all, not and better the condition of those about this city is so full of credulity, him. This bond of fraternity led him to pitable to the soothsaying charlatan? advocate principles which he thought would lessen poverty, diminish want San Francisco is characteristic, in a and suffering, and make brighter and less degree perhaps, of the entire Westhappier homes of men. He sought to ern territory. Indeed, Americans remove the wrongs and lift the burdens throughout the country are more gulliwas earnest and active. The claim of humbugged. In other respects his opportunities, his friends and

and counsellor. itualism Mrs. Richmond is pre-eminent. a public speaker for the Spiritualists refrain from employing their power of Have you answered each and all of these questions of your own free will and accord, without any mental reservations are delivering addresses that stamped her as a wonder. Since then tions do not drink their own philacters she has spoken throughout this country and get rich, handsome and affectionate and Europe. She is now on the sunny husbands for themselves. side of the sixties and retains her pow does not know what she is going to talk thoughts and supplies the words, both coming to her as an inspiration.

ping, by a News reporter, and questhemes, in her public addresses. These were given to her after she had taken the platform and it was seldom that she ers and her work then was wonderful. time is given to the cause. She left Francisco, Cal. here this morning for her home in Chicago and this week leaves for Maine to attend a great Spiritualist meeting-Fort Wayne (Ind.) Daily News.

Theologies are well in their place, but repentance and love must come before other experiences .- Beecher. Let no man think lightly of good, saying in his heart, it will not benefit me. Even by the falling of water drops a water pot is filled.—Buddha. The smiles of infants are said to be the first fruits of human reason.-H. N.

Hudson.

MOST DEPLORABLE

NO. 712.

Scers.

Californians are not in the habit of well-known druggist, whose death oc-curred on Wednesday, took place yes-terday afternoon, the services being the signs of themselves as more super-stitutions than other Americans, and yet the signs of their excessive credulity held at his late residence, 2923 South are obtrusively visible. San Francisco heid at his late residence, 2923 South Hanna street. There was a very large attendance and the services were fraught with interest, being under the charge of the Spiritualistic society, of which Mr. Wefel was a member, and were conducted by Mrs. Cora L. V. Riching and a Spiritualist leader of retional school with the steek marker find. mond, a Spiritualist leader of national ghostly tips on the stock market, findand world-wide fame. The lower rooms ers by magic means of buried treasure, of the house were crowded and on the clairvoyants and mediums who profess lawn outside there were several hun intimacy with the world unseen and pretend to more than human powers of diin attendance. Mrs. Richmond is the pastor of the Church of the Soul, one of the leading Spiritualist churches, at the leading Spiritualist churches, at Chicago, and came here at the request Chicago, and came here at the request American Commonwealth." "A contrast," he wrote, "is presented by the also made a few remarks and conducted people (those of the western states) to the services at the burial, which was at relapse into the oldest and most childish forms of superstition. Fortune-tellcourse had gathered than at the home. Ing. clairvoyance, attempts to pry by In the delivery of the sermon at the the help of 'mediums' into the book of residence, Mrs. Richmond stood in the fate, are so common in parts of the porch doorway of the sitting-room, West that the newspapers devote a spewest that the newspapers devote a spewhere the body of the dead lay, in such cial column, headed 'astrologers,' to the a position that she could be heard by advertisements of these wizards and pyu.ose inside and outside of the house, thonesses. I have counted in one issue She spoke for nearly an hour. Her of a San Francisco News paper as many words were gems of oratory. Her as eighteen of such advertisements, six thoughts were clothed in language that of which were of simple fortune tellers, was elegant and forcible and she held like those who used to beguile the peasher auditors spellbound. It was a ser ant girls of Devonshire. In fact, the mon to and for the living, the family of profession of a soothsayer or astrologer the departed as well as his friends and is a recognized one in California now, acquaintances, and those who heard as it was in the Greece of Homer. Pospronounced it among the finest efforts sibly the prevalence of mining speculaof the kind ever delivered in this city. tion, possibly the existence of a large immortal soul so that it may enter upon nomenon, which, as California is a higher and larger life in those man- deemed an exceptionally unreligious

There seems to have been no diminu-tion of the proportionate number of soothsayers during the past fifteen perfect, but each one, according to his years. One can see their signs in every deeds and conditions, shall be happy. street. The necessary inference seems Everyone shall have such happiness as to be that they thrive here and that the he is fitted to enjoy and comprehend, people of San Francisco are very generand he has the blessed assurance when ally superstitious. This is a strange in that spirit land of being able to com- and rather a defamatory character to municate with the loved ones on earth. give ourselves, but how can we escape Such is the case, she said, with the obvious conclusion? A phenomedeparted brother. Although called away non that might have been explained in early in life, comparatively, his had been a life filled with good deeds. The world was better and brighter by reason tion in the San Francisco of to-day; a of his having lived in it. He had been metropolis, whose people come from all a dutiful son, a loving husband, a departs of the world and whose average of voted father, a kind and true friend. education is high. Flanked by two great His life had been a busy and useful one. universities, crowded with public and It had been lived in the effort to lift up private schools, how happens it that that weighed down his fellows, to establible than Europeans. We are the great lish brotherhood principles that would consumers of nostrums advertised to bring them up into higher and better possess impossible virtues. We do like planes of living, and in this endeavor he to be humbugged and we are thoroughly perfection is not made for him, but that American people are sufficiently sophishe lived well and performed duty up to dicated. In a business bargain they are his sharp enough. They have a sense of neighbors and those who have watched humor and a quick, keen perception of his daily walks will bear witness. He human character. But let a man prohas gone from among us in body, but claim a new religion, and promise to his spirit will hover around and above guarantee eternal salvation to all comthe loved ones and be to them a guide ers; or let him announce the discovery of "Smith's Harmless Arsenic Consump-Mrs. Richmond, in her address, alludion Tablets," or "Cure-all Pure Opium ed indirectly to the principles of so Pain-killer;" or let him pretend ability cialism and Spiritualism, speaking of to read the future, to point out buried both as teaching truths which were do treasure and to give inspired advice ing much for the benefit of humanity, about love affairs, and he will find us In both of these causes Mr. Wefel had ready and unquestioning believers. Exbeen prominent in life. He had been perience does not make us wise. When honored by the advocates of both and one heaven-sent seer decamps, we athad labored for their advancement, tach ourselves to another. It seems not These parts of her discourse attracted to occur to us why Professor Cheops, attention and in her reference to them Master of Egyptian Mysteries, is good she was eloquent. As a leader of Spir- enough to give tips on stocks or point out buried treasure, for a small fee, She is one of its strongest and most fa- when he might back his own tips or dig vored exponents, and has developed re- up the treasure for himself. Our acute markable powers as a medium and plat- intellects do not wonder why these sevform and pulpit speaker. She began as onth daughters of a seventh daughter

What is put down as characteristic of

The success of so many of these ers in a remarkable degree. In her thrifty dealers in mystery exhibits the public addresses she claims that she power of forceful assertion. If a man asserts a proposition loudly and veheabout when she arises to speak. She mently, repeating it often and acting as claims the inspiration of a spirit guide though he really meant it, he will find in all her public utterances. This numbers of persons to accept his propospirit guide, she says, directs her sition and repeat it to others.

The secret of the fakir lies in assertion. He does not find it necessary to When met last evening at the home support his proposition with evidence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stouder, on Spy and argument. If his proposition is Run avenue, with whom she was stop challenged he meets the challenger by repeating the proposition more positive tioned concerning some of the thoughts ly than ever. If the challenger is still of her funeral address, she said she unconquered, the assertion that he has could recall none of them. She spoke, no faith and is a mere scoffer, possessed she said, from inspiration, the thoughts of an obstinate spirit, will usually carry being suggested by her spirit guides. the crowd and bowl out the challenger. She seldom knew, she continued, her All of us, indeed, hold fast to some beliefs which we have no evidence to supnort, but which we never think of examining. If we have not all our supersticould recall her thoughts. As a child tions we have at least illogical tenets. she met in public debate orthodox lead. Credulity is comprehensive. In some measure it affects every man, East and Since then she achieved national fame West; but apparently it has a wider as a Spiritualist speaker and her entire swing in the West.—The Bulletin, San-

> Let not mirth be thy profession, lest thou become a make-sport. He that hath but gained the title of a jester, let him assure himself the fool is not far > off.-Quarles. In such a world as ours the idle man is not so much a biped as a bivalve.-Horace Mann.

> Who plays for more than he car lose with pleasure stakes his heart.—Herbert.

The innumerable stars shining in or der, like a living hymn written in light, -Willis.

PAST AND FUTURE.

Upon the past build thou the future's When, on the heights of won experi-

No storms can shake them thence. The vanished hopes and dreams thou dost regret pinions, yet They, failing, cast thee down. Thus Toward heights thou darest to seek. What once was, now has passed beyond can be told in this letter, and where

Then front the present with a cheerful soul sociations. If you cannot help much, do a little. If you can spare but, 25 A mun's life - an appendix to his

Zurilda Wellington.

Her Life in Two Worlds. The Lifting of the Veil.

BY MRS. M. PASQUIER CURRAN, MEDIUM, ST. LOUIS, MO.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

While Ethel was speaking a luminous light was emitted from her person, and in this light there were reflected views of her pilgrimage through the many spheres of unfoldment in the world of souls. There I observed mirrored her deep devotion to truth. It seemed as though her whole powers of mind were bent on the discovery and retention of this gem. This is no easy task, for conflicting opinions often cloud and confuse the wisest teachers for a time; or until fully freed from the many er rors that clouded earth life; and it is often a hard task to solve the question

'Yes, yes," said Ethel, with much feeling, "I stood where I could see the benefits of adversity roll their waves and lash my frail bark on a pitiless sea, but the storm is past, and I could comprehend its use and necessity. Resignation was a lesson that my repining spirit had to learn, yet how often did the blistering memories of earth come before me as reminders of the past. I had craved that which the world never gives, and my idealism was wrecked by the billows that break on the shore of the real. James, did you think my spirit would retain no token to fetter my soul to the past; no pulse to beat in the heart you broke-the heart that has clung to you changeless and true to the last: that mourned you on earth and would miss you in heaven? Now these earthly things have gone, and a deep peace and tranquility of spirit have taken their place. I was proud of your awake to duty, although the hopes of rebuked by this child?" the morning lie withered at night. I Reuben replied: "Bishop, you had have aroused your slumbering brain to better take Zurilda as your guide in trying for seventy years to serve God,

"Olf, God! thou didst give this angel child charge over my earth-life, and as a silent monitor she has led my soul to thee, and has guided my feet in the path of eternal life. Mental and spiritual waves of deep thought have often flashed and been reflected from the higher spheres on my human mind that took shape and color, impressing images on my surroundings that others might read; yes, and thoughts, too, that were wrapped in impenetrable oband I found that there was no room for beauty decaying, your hair turning to then, is your work for a time."

the silver of age, and I knew that ere Elon said: "I, too, was a bishop of curv space or time, and can and does long the angel of change would wrap the established church of England, and cupy space or time, and can and does his mantle of life around you that your entered this life with my harness on, rise above material things and record soul might be glorifled. You have only to strive and lovingly obey the prompt- wear the purple, self-righteous, Phariings of the good angel within you, to fulfill your grand destiny. Every aspiring soul is sure of success. Let your ideas represent the highest type of spirituality, and the silent voice, which takes no form of outward speech, will reveal to you the eternal; and in the temple of God which is humanity, you will find many altars. In to these temples you must go to unfold the human spirit. You can reflect the divine presence on these altars, shadow forth its light and glory, and lead the thirsty to will carry no sin offering with you, as you did under the apostolic power, socalled; no sacrifice but the putting resting from their labors, and their away of evil, each one bearing his or her own cross; no burnt offering, but the fire which shall consume error and ignorance that each one has done. Let Brings back each faded form to view; your formula be the robe of charity and meekness and love to God and man. Your thirty-nine articles will be "to do unto others as ye would have others do unto you." You shall have no feast days or Sabbath days, wherein ye day in which ye shall serve and aspire tell me, if you can?"
to know one universal, uncreated power
"Wife," said the rector, "I feel that make a mock, but every day shall be a and presence, that dwells in man and Bishop Sutherland is chanting peans of truth and wisdom in many ways. Then your chanted peans shall resound throughout the blue dome of heaven, and from the angel spheres Wise. 'Thou art worthy' shall return to you. No longings or fears shall fill your soul with doubts, no tears dim your eyes, for you shall hear the God within your soul speaking to you, and through the vista of the past you may see his footprints as he led you. You need no Zoroaster, no Buddha, no standard-bearer, but the rule which Jesus Christ taught ---love to God and man. Fill your lamp with the oil of love to cheer, and engrave upon every human soul kindness

"Go back to your companions; to the cold, hard world. Return love for hate which the wind of reason will blow wield no blood-stained wreath of viviled no blood-stained no b tory Carry with you the flowers and Nor am I his keeper; but I know that fragrance of this clime; they have lived he must now render an account of his you cannot divine their origin. The shipbook that has been sealed is now open; the divine will is written on every page, on the rocks and on the starry dome. What, then, is required of you? Your own soul? God has given you this "to keep. Your Zion is mournful and despolate, and in spiritual darkness. Go leep. Your Zion is mournful and desolate, and in spiritual darkness. Go back to earth and wipe the tears from the sorrow-dimmed eyes of those who mourn; lift the veil between the dead on earth and the living here—then you will be fulfilling your mission. Begin your life anew and from the pages of truth comfort those who hunger for the bread of life, and let the voice of the squl be expressed as a message of peace of squll be expressed as a message of peace of the squll be expressed as a message of peace of the square of the squa the church has forbidden as mysterithough the dim valleys below. As I through the dim valleys below. As 11 the church has forbidden as mysteritold you, we shall not be separated, but must each fulfill a mission—yours is to the earth for a time; mine will be to lead and guide your feet in your earth
lead and guide your feet in your earth work until that is anded, then we will must faculties,

Declesiasticism
thought will be opened to your mind,
and you will be aware of a new process
agery for your child, and a message from Gol to lead you, to the courts above. You have been led by external thought will be opened to your mind,
and now do you look to a spiritual imand you will be aware of a new process
agery for your child, and a message that now restrict you, will fade away as the light of divine things displaces mathings. Think of her as here pleading.

saying:

"These are tears of Joy that well up from my soul; there is a fountain there ioices.

spirit, we must have existed for if we your soul's yearning, you will stand on were a creation, or only had an exist the shore of eternity like a blighted ence from the hour of our birth, that bud. Nay, do this not. View God as would not imply immortality. Jesus not far off, but as a power existing in said that we were with the Father in all things and manifesting his goodness the beginning, and this gives us our in all. Knowing no locality, his presdower and immortality, and we shall execute the all space. Do not confine this list with him to the end. Eternal progression is our destiny, a law of our being. James, you can never compressing anger—this will dwarf the soul. hend the God before whom you bow and Now, husband, for all time hear me. worship, but you may formulate an ideal None can limit the aspirations and and draw an imagery from what you yearnings of my soul, nor can there be can glean in the many spheres that any boundaries set for the limitless demonstrate this power, wisdom and ocean of thought that is ever welling up love; but if you had studied nature in me to know more of life beyond the while you were an inhabitant of earth, grave. I fear no foe but ignorance." and had read nature's revelation in At this point my father turned to the place of man's theology, you could now rector and said: approximate to something near a corme something of the home and employ-rect idea of God. Your soul will tell ment of my wife and child, outline life all that is."

Bishop Sutherland turned to Reuben Bishop Sutherland turned to Reuben and Elon and said: "How shall I undo the greater part of my earth work, spirit to unfoldment and keeping you spirit to unfoldment and keeping you which I thought well done until I was which I thought well done until I was "Mr Wellington" said Mr. Sharp interest again and have unbarred the many things and return to earth. Go and have read the Bible by the light while Ethel was speaking the bishop theology, and undo the errors as far as but I have failed to draw from it the was very attentive, nodding assent to you can. Go to Mr. Wellington, Zuril. life essence that fed my soul, yet there all she said, and then exclaimed: da's father; you were his friend and has been a spiritual nourishment, a diof errors about him; and in whatever called, and you know that it is but the the spiritual interpretation of the Bible awakener of life-a resurrection of was fed to the soul it would be nourfrom dead matter that clouded your ished, and not in doubt and darkness, Yes," said Ethel, "and those images spirit. Death was in the world before as it so often is. When Bishop Sutherof wrong, or errors that we loved so, sin or evil, and is not a penalty of sin, land laid aside his clerical robes, I was hinder our progress most in this life or the fall of man, as you taught. Teach astonished, yet I know that many in the and are the most stubborn to overcome. | man that personal holiness is the duty | church would have followed him if they I struggled long and hard to eradicate of each individual; this will bring him had possessed the courage to do so; the Trinity held by the church in which nearer to God and divine things. Do and I also feel that Mrs. Wise is nearer I was born. My guide allowed me to not outline a God. You must see God right than wrong. Our rector says we room for it. My soul was expanding in you to God, and will be the interpreter and unseen world, but Mrs. Wise seems the browledge of one God, the ottel the knowledge of one God; the attri- and the most potent power you can to have had a bird's eye view of that butes of that infinite power filled me, use is love. This is a solvent of un world, and it is but human for us to and I found that there was no room for known power; it is God's agent—'God wish to know and desire to have that any more gods. Yet there is a trinity is love.' The boundless universe is be question answered, 'If a man die shall mirrored on my soul—it is love, truth fore you, and eternity will not be too he live again?' Mr. Wellington, faith and purity; and these constitute the long to rebuild the temples of God. As will not give the answer."three gods in one, manifesting the attributes, of the infinite soul. The world, you will desire to be a builder for guide of my life here is to do unto oth- God in the physical world. The poor, tryman and was liable to be called upon ers as ye would that they do unto you. forlorn children of earth will need your Then I endeavored to do unto you as aid, and these spiritual temples you you did not unto me; and more so, as build will remain through eternity. the powers of our bodies are limited by your The unfoldment of the human spirit, > Behold me now, stripped of all rights as bishop, divested of any authority. All this availed me naught. You must retrace your steps as I have done."

> > CHAPTER XII.

A Visit to My Earth Home.

It was my accustomed time to yisit my earth home and the bishop accomliving fountains and feed the hungry in panied me. In my father's home sevspirit with the bread of heaven. You eral of the vestry members, with Rector and Mrs. Wise were assembled "Our dear dead," said the rector, "are > works do follow them." 'Fond memory, to its duty true,

How life-like, through the mist of years, Each well-remembered face appears.' "Ah. indeed." said Mrs. Wise. "Husband, were Mrs. Wellington and Mrs. Howard resting from their labors when they imaged their likeness on that can-nature, manifesting to man his love, praise to God and that he has received a great reward as a steward of the "Well, husband, I do not," said Mrs "I can see through a glass darkly that he is now being taught-learning his first lesson of profound knowledge—and is taught by a child."

"Ah," said the bishop, "now I am beng weighed and found wanting." The rector said in a loud tone to his wife: "Judge ye not, lest ye be also as I did; I feel as if I had more room judged."

"Husband," said Mrs. Wise, "many who have been canonized as saints, were we to investigate their lives closely, would surprise us by the life models they left behind. High-sounding titles and brilliant epithets are often chaff ing for us," said Mrs. Wise. responsibility to God for his steward--and I feel that his talent was hid amid formula and creed until Zurilda lifted the veil from his eves." "Wife," said the rector, "you need

When Ethel had finished speaking, I sin and death and the atonement, or the bishop bowed his head and wept, God being reconciled to God. I want to know more of the atonement with God, in knowledge and in wisdom. I believe there are no mysteries. As my mind that I knew not of: myriad streams are expands eternal truths penetrate my flowing from it, and my inner being re- being and what seemed mysteries are but the deep truths of God. Of what "I had not understood the term im- use are our minds? Are they not for mortality as it appears to me now," growth through the endless ages of said the bishop. "To have even been an existing soul and to ever be an im written on, within and without, and mortal being, fills me with over never be full. We ought to know somewhelming gratitude and love inex thing of our future. God did not give pressible to God. Nay, I cannot comprehend this."

us this yearning soul to be hushed or smothered out, and, husband, if you "Yea," said Ethel, "somewhere, as will let the weeds of theology smother you that immortality is stamped upon beyond the grave, the redeemed in heaven." "Mr. Wellington, we dare not peer

'Mr. Wellington," said Mr. Sharp, guide in many things, and wove a net vine strength, that has ever sustained me. I know that man's interpretation degree you were instrumental in fasten. of that book falls short of its object. Ining any supposed truth in his mind, to deed I have often asked myself this the same degree you must assist in the question, when in doubt, 'May not man removal of the same. Remember that be but an ephemeral blossom on the you now have no theories to offer, or ocean of time?" But when this thought doctrinal schemes to lay before the would arise in my mind an inward acpeople; what you now teach will be the cuser would silence it at once. Now truths. You have tasted of death, so I affirm that if the spiritual essence or At this point the rector called on Mr.

> to answer at a higher court.
>
> Mrs. Wise then said: "Mr. Sharp, other realm, when time and space have Bearing the cross of Christ, born to spiritual things. God has given us the unlimited power of our minds for use, see-like, I thought in my church alone and will require of us a return. As I could man worship acceptably to God, look over the church it seems to me like a dry stubble-field—its substance gone. This is because there has been no growth? Because of the boundary lines set by the church limitations that are not to be passed, and I feel humiliated at this.

"Why do we have aspirations and desires? Can we aspire to nothing or to something that is not? We must conceive of something that is higher than we. Images are cast or reflected on our brains; they are fertile with visions that abound in unclouded space. Your little child lies dead before you; farewell, then, to faith. Can you then say, 'Oh, God! thy will, not mine, be done?' Try it-I have. Yes, I have tried it, and my yearning soul has been an swered back, 'There is no death, only change.' Angels have ever visited the earth clothed in immortality. To me me heaven will be no heaven without the sweet voices of my children, and why may not I picture them in my dreams day or night? Do they not help me when my soul cries aloud for them? Yes, the spirit world is peeping in upon us, a cloud of witnesses hang over usthis is the sunlight of my life. I believe, too, that death has no power over affections formed on earth. Reason is now my guide, the free use of which has led me out of theology, or orthodoxy and is protecting me against error. Shall we close our hearts against the knowledge that is knocking for admission? No, verily."

"Well," said Mr. Sharp, "We are now on forbidden ground, but I must confess that it is intensely interesting to me. I to grow. "There is a growth, too, that we ought to have had long ago; we should have eaten of the tree of knowledge. and not allowed others to do our think-"Rector," said my father, "can you not give me one crumb of comfort in regard to my loved ones gone before?" "No." said the rector, "you must use your faith; it is the lamp that will light your path to God." "Husband," said Mrs. Wise, "faith will not bridge over death. Knowledge alone can do this." "Mrs. Wise, how can this knowledge

"Mr. Wellington," replied Mrs. Wise "the law of harmony will bring you work until that is ended; then we will may thunder, but the God in man will terial things—for the foundation of all with you for a recognition of her right-er spheres—you and I, hand in hand, to know where has the loved one gons. Latent powers that are inherent in us banish this thought, nor scorn the Musband, I have heard enough about can then be operated on by our spirits, pleading of the angel child who is now and also be nided by the angel guides who attend us. Absolute power over our individualities is ours, if we attain to a proper knowledge of our soul's requirements. We express, through the mind, the life of the soul and there are reflections cast on our minds from spirit realms. Now, you have had an ideal reflected on your mind in relation to your child, Zurilda. This ideal was spiritual, but misunderstood by you. You not being sufficiently spiritualized. could not recognize the spiritual cast that was reflected. Your not being aware of this, thwarted the efforts made to impress your mind, by forcing on Zurilda other conditions, for there was embodied in her a spiritual expression to he wrought out in her life on earth, but the invisible powers could not show through her the intentions of that expression. Your mind has been governed by physical conceptions. The mind under the power of the spirit, can not be measured, and must at last cope with all the problems relating to material and mental processes. If you turn your eyes to the earth, they will reflect the earthly things and you will never get beyond material things.

"Mr. Wellington, your question involves a world of thought. As I have said, our minds have no limit. Study, then, the law of the mind; go into the realm of the satisfies. realm of the spiritual for yourself, and you will find that your ideal is a spiritual one and that all you had pictured for Zurilda will be mirrored there—and the image reflected will far transcend the picture, drawn by you. I believe you will behold her divine image and hold sweet communion with her ere you pass to the life beyond.

"For memory will come with a gentle hand. And breathe on your soul her

From the immortal land." "Wife," said the rector, "what school of ethics do you hail from now? Your moral principles are good, and the philosophy that teaches man his duty is also good; but you are out on a sea of thought, without a chart or compass, and you have no safe anchorage when you throw faith overboard. Would you not better draw in your lines and furl your sails before a tempest overtakes you? Remember that your sea is rough and that you may have to call on the Master, as the disciples did, lest you perish. "Husband," said Mrs. Wise, "all are not equal in their expression of thought. Some are born geniuses, adapted to one form of thought; some to another; while others are receptacles for divine truths. The seed germs are an immortal base, and the dew of love, distilled by angel loved ones, will bring forth the flower and fruit in due time. Shall close my soul to the truths that are springing up before me, reflected from God? No, I cannot. Our minds are under tribute to the demands of the spirit, and it is the spirit speaking, and the soulesserting its supreme control over our material natures that compel me to utter truth in its essence, for truth can bear the light.

"Husband my ethics belong to no school. Pythagoras, Socrates and Plato, with all the great minds of the past, understood far more than we of to-day; and we ought to accept the soluions they left us to the problems they solved. We are confronted on every hand by a power, a force and a law infinitely beyondous, that remind us of an infinite presence, and we ought to try are remedial. His cold, cast-iron theolto comprehend this power. If we would interrogate nature and take from her heart will beam out from the frozen her deep secrets, we would find that crest, melted by the rays of Divine love universal love and justice rule there. Yes, the atmosphere is full of thought from the accumulated knowledge of arisen minds, and every breath comes laden with wisdom; it is the Scripture of God revealed to man, and if our souls were attuned to spiritual melody, we could hear voices sing to us a new song | is dethroned, and a vacillating Aaron is -a song of redemption from ignorance. If we go into the bowels of the earth Tell him of the ministry of the angels; and take the flinty rock, its lips will tell him of the divine life within and sound an anthem, and the beautiful that it will manifest itself. Tell him of flowers exhaling their fragrance tell of the covenant of love, and the soft wings infinite love; but you and others cry death and damnation to the most perfect work of God-man. "Husband, the veil is rent, the seven seals are broken, and no mediator can now stand between my squl and God. What doth the Lord require, but to deal justly and love mercy? See, I have set before you this day life and good, death and evil-choose between them. I am endeavoring to cope with all the problems of material existence, and of men, baptize them with the fire of will try to read the thoughts of God that are stamped on my soul. Eternal and I will try to carve out the divine symbol of eternal existence that is stamped on my mental nature. I am looking for the fulfillment of this

"Mr. Wellington, I have spoken from the fulness of my soul, that has been touched by an infinite hand and made to feel the peace of God resting there. It is not the sense of sins forgiven, nor is it a peace purchased by the blood of another. No, it is a deep peace, a knowledge of my atonement with God. know that the material world is but a film, through which the spiritual world is shining on us, and that the silen ones surround and guide us. The man in the pulpit talks to us of the hand o God made visible among us, and tells us of the wrath of God, who is only love -for I hear his voice in my soul it cries out for its own; then death is bridged over and the here and hereafter blend. I cannot cease to think: growthful soul must think, must have facts—and truth will reveal them. Life is one long, unbroken chain of being with many links. Once the eternal spoke to man from a burning bush, but now he speaks through the lips many. There is no demand without a supply, and mysdemand is being supplied. The sacred torch is lighting my path, and my song is, 'Nearer, my God, to thee. 711 as My father washvery attentive to what Mrs. Wishisaid, and Mr. Sharp seemed to be overpowered by her "new ideas," as he aptigctermed them. Glancing at the rector, my father said:

"Mrs. Wise, nou are like Samson of old. You are pulling away the pillars of the temple that it shall fall on our eads." yo: 97. "Mr. Wallington," said Mrs. Wise, my strength is toot in the hair of my head, like Samson's, but in the immortal principles I am enunciating; and I do hope that I am among my friends not enemies, as Samson was, and shall have no fear of having my eyes put out as his were. The truth is not concealed disease worse. Use instead Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine. It tones, builds up, gives new strength and vigor, not alone to the bowels but to the whole be-knocking at the door of your heart for admission."

"Mrs. Wise, can you affirm what you are saying is true?" asked my father.

"I can indeed," she replied, "from the word of God, written and revealed in nature as it lies all about us. Mr. Wellington, you admit that we live after the death of the body. The invisible ones are rekindling the fires on our altars and are speaking inspired words to men to-day They sit like stars at the celestilals gates, pleading with us to make our souls the standard authority in determining what is true and what is false, for the God within us shall bring us to judgment, and if acquitted by the inward judge, none other shall have power over us. Mr. Wellington, Zurilda will never leave you in your ungrowthful state, but will bring the bread of life to your hungry soul. Let the love of that angel child, who is now bending over you, shine into your dark life; let its warm rays melt the ice in your breast; draw her nearer to you by the cords of love that bind parent and child. You are concealing deep emotions that are now welling up. Do not let this pass away into a silence that will reproach you. Now that the gate is ajar, thrust it open and bid her and others welcome. Your strong heart craves affection, and you will feel that this triumph over self is a victory. We have but one guide against error-it is the free use of reason; and the purity of our lives is protected by a firm reliance upon God. 'He shall give his angels charge over thee.'"

The bishop was much surprised by his visit to my father. He saw his influence over him had been strong and that he had a work to perform in removing

To this question Reuben replied "You must take down the entire structure of theology and remove its base. In the first place create in his mind a desire to know the future destiny of man the facts in relation to the soul, its re lation to God, and its immortal condi tion; enable him to think and reason for himself; this is the basis on which to build. "He should meditate and then ex press his thoughts, and if his mind is in a receptive state, he will perceive many things that are new to him. Lofty and sublime truths, that are now hidden will come to him in a new light, and if he studies the laws of nature in relation to mind, he will find a fulfillment of all his desnres, and every hope will be realized. As his idol of clay crumbles away, from the ruins there will arise the spiritual courerpart that contains his ideal imaged in a glorified state. Nor will his Christ be on Calvary's Mount, a bleeding sacrifice to plead with God for his redemption, but it will be his angel child who has opened the gate of life, bringing spiritual knowledge to him. She will be his redeemer she is the evening star of his life, and is now twinkling sweetly and calmly in the clear sky above him. The judgment hour will come to him and his buried talent will assert itself. The world and the church will not always applaud and caress him; tares and wheat grow together in every soul; his own ointment will not ease his throbbing pain; wealth and power will hang over him like a millstone; he cannot escape the consequences of his errors. All punishments ogy will be broken and a kind, fatherly that the angels are shedding on him. The Eternal is speaking to man now, in the soul, not in the mount, or in the burning bush as of old "No golden divinity can abide within the soul that has been touched by the

of peace, that cover him; that it is not a voice from the tomb, nor a whisper from the cold marble hall of death, that is falling on his ear, but the arisen spirt of his child in her glorified state. Dissipate the fear of death, turn him from the past, let him look at the present. A voice will murmur in his ear and the chanting music of inspired lips light his future. Go forth and pluck the tares and thorns that you sowed in the minds purgation, and the water of self-regeneration, and purge them with hyssop, progression is the destiny of the spirit, and lo! the spirit of truth shall abide

(To be concluded.)

HER TRANSPLANTED ROSE.

He came to her in the early dawn, And lived in her arms one day, But the little baby soul was tired, It had come such a long, long way.

But a whisper grew at the lips of the world, The sun rode hush'd and high, She looked and caught the eye of God As the sorrowing winds went by; And her heart lay close to the Heart of

While the morning held its breath, Ah, me! the messenger stole so near,

And the name on his wings was Death! And the child, when the summons came at dusk.

Looked up with his eyes of blue Straight into the vision as though "How long I have watched for you!"

breast-And she knew, though her eyes were While this meant torturing grief to her, It was endless peace to him.

Then fell back cold on his mother's

And the flowers they sent to the moth-Withered beside her bed, But her little immortal flower was

She smiled when they called it dead! Frederick Lawrence Knowles.

When You Are All Bound Up and are suffering from indigestion, lack of appetite, foul breath, headache, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and liver complaints you need a tonic laxative, something that will move the bowels quickly, easily and without leaving hurtful effects behind. Never use a purgative or cathartic. They weaken the bowels and system and make the

ing. Only one small dose a day will cure any case, from the lightest to the worst. That means cure, not simply relief only. Most obstinate cases yield gently and easily and the cure is permanenet. Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine is not a patent medicine. A list-of ingredients is in every package with explanation of their action. Write us for a free sample bottle. Vernal Remedy co., 166 Seneca Building, Buffalo, N. Y. All leading druggists sell it.

A collection of Vocal Music for the tion and Social Circles. Hy J. M. Peebles and J. O. Barrett; E. H. Bailey, Music altitor. Now edition. Culled from a wide field of literature with the most critical care, free from all theological bias, throbbing with the soul of inspiration, embodying the principles and virtues of the spiritual philosophy, set to the most cheerful and popular music (nearly all original) and adapted to all occasion, it is doubless the most attractive work of the kind ever published. Its beautiful song a, duets and quartets, with phano, organ or molodic on accompaniment, adapted both to public meetings and the social circles. Cloth, 81.25; postage, is cents.

Malies Watch Chum.

PRIOES:—Badge Pin, $1.50: Lapel Button, $1.50: Sunflower Brooch, $4.50; Maliese Charm, $5.00; Maleese Pendant, $5.00. This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its fance towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and supersition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful pinblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL.

This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of mind. Bound in cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

the errors he had planted. He said, "I am face to face with a problem that will require courage and patience to solve; where shall I begin my work of reform?"

To this question Bauker and the said, "I also religing the free single parameter relating a series of wonderful paychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, illustrated, 81.28

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth By Prof. W. M. Lockwood.

A masterly presentation of an important sub-lect. A powerful argument along new and scien-tific lines, establishing on a scientific basis the fact of the continuity of personal individual con-scious selfuod after laying aside the physical body. A book of rare value. With several fine imustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous Conspiracy A pamphlet of 32 pages, compiled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains disclosures relative to a villatious plot to overthrow our free government. Price, 15 cents

ROMANISM Is a paniphled of 30 pages, in EXPOSED reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Pro

Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE SOUL • ITS NATURE. RELATIONS AND EXMAN EMBODIMENTS. Third edition now on sale. Price $1.00. This is one of the best books given by the guides of Mrs Cora L. V. Richmond. They are really lessons, published primarily, as a book of reference for those who have been members of the classes receiving them. This volume is a careful compliation from reports of lessons, containing the bases of the teachings.

A Practical Manual. breath of inspiration, the golden calf Just Published

> M. O., A. A. The well-known Technical writer. It is one of the best works ever turned out by him. Copl-ously illustrated with diagrams and figures, making the most intricate problems simple, def-inite and easily understood. Price, $1.00.

> DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis. An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents.

The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.

A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J. Colville. Limp closh, 50c.

A ConspiracyAgainst the Republic By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS. It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet is written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents.

ANCIENT INDIA. Its Language and Religions. By Prof. H. Olden-berg. Paper, 25 cents.

Apollonius of Tuana Identified as the wonderful communication, explaining how his wonderful communication, explaining how his life and teachings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents.

COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 cents.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED.

The most important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sincere hope that you are earnestly looking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration If such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you, and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful perusal. Price, $1.50.

Talleurand's Letter to the Pope. This work will be found especially interesting to all who would desire to make a study of Romanism and the Bible. The historic facts stated, and the keen, scathing review of Romish ideas and practices should be read by all. Price 25 cants.

FORCE and Matter By Ludwig Buechbook. A profound work upon a profound subject. Price, cloth, $1.00.

The Religion of Spiritualism. Its Phenomena and Philosophy. By the Rev. samuel Watson. This work was written by a modern Saylor, a graud and noble man. Price, it.00. A valuable book for the money.

ASTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M.D. Avaluable contribution to the current discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plansiphere (a representation of the celestial sphere upon a plane with adjustable circles), traces most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facts given possess great value, the illustrations rare and curious. The book is bound in only one style—heavy boards. Price $1.

Views of Our Heaven'y Home. By Andrew Jackson Davis. A highly interesting work. Price 75 cents. Postage 5 cents. Apogruphal New Testament. Being all the Gospels, Epistles, and other pieces now extant, attributed in the first four centu-ries to Jesus Christ, his apostles and their com-panions, and not included in the New Testament by its compilers. Price, cloth, 81.50.

The Devil and the Adventists. An Adventist attack upon Spiritualism re-pulsed. By Moses Hull. Price, 10 cents.

Practical Methods to Insure Success A valuable little work, full of practical instruction in matters pertaining to physical, mental and spiritual health. Worth many times its cost. Price 10 cents.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by express. If you do not receive your order promptly by mail, inquire at the express office. If not there, notify us at once.

Remember, please that it costs ten cents to get a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. If you send a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. sonal check, add ten cents to the amount sent.

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in their

Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premium Books unless you send in with your order a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker. Remember, please, that the safest way to make a remittance is to secure a Postal order.

Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER

TERMS. You must send $1 for The Progressive Thinker when you order one or more premium books. Please Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing direct with this office, instead of through a news agent. Every person who sends in a yearly subscription to The Progressive Thinker can have until further notice, the two following books for 25 cents each: "The Beligion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Seers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Present," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exceedingly valuable, and though widely different seek one files on exceedingly. different, each one fills an exceedingly important niche in the literature of Spiritualism. If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents.

If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is 90 cents. We have TEN Premium Books only, and you can select from them as fol-Any three of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.10.

Any four of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.50. Any five of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.80. Any six of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.10. Any seven of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.35. Any eight of the ten Premium books you may order, price $2.65.

Any nine of the ten Premium Books

you may order, price $2.90.
Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced are sent out, all postage prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following is

TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS FOR $3.10.

1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1. 2-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 3. 4-Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism. 5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occult-

6-The Next World Interviewed. 7-The Occult Life of Jesus. 8-A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands.

9—The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science. 10—Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present.

Read This Carefully Before Re-Remitting.

When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are elevating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar, for The Progressive Thinker.

These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10, a price which modern machinery and enterprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. Sending out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter.

in conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, illustrating the great bargain you are getting—a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plane.

CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science": "Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 8. The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select among our list of premiums.

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

The clear and very interesting acount of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that ragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father, Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corruption that exists in that church, and its iniquitous methods and aims.

It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic Amerwell informed concerning the evilworks and designs of the Romish hierarchy. It is a large volume of 832 pages, Price, $2.25.

NATIONAL SPIRITUALISTS' ASSOGIATION

OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

National Rifles' Hall, G Street Northwest, Near Ninth,

October 20, 21, 22 and 23, 1903,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE REGENT, WASHINGTON, D. C. Cor. Pennsylvania Ave, and Fifteenth Street, Near Executive Mansion and Opposite U. S. Treasury.

for delegates and all attending the conheid at The Regent, Monday, October vention. Ask your railroad agents for 19, at 8:30 p. m. tickets on the certificate plan, for one Admission to business sessions of fare and a third for round trip, for Na- convention is free to the public. The tional Spiritualists Convention. These grand evening meetings of lectures, tickets must be indorsed by special rail- tests, and musical exercises -will be road agent at convention the last day of twenty-five cents to all but delegates, convention and by the N. S. A. Secre- who will be admitted on presentation of

Headquarters during convention will All Spiritualists are invited to be be The Regent, corner Pennsylvania av-present. MARY T. LONGLEY, Important business will be acted upon at these sessions. Business sessions will be special—$2 per day, large room, will open daily at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. two persons in a room. Single room, At 7.20 and avening grand public for one person $2 50 per day. These At 7:30 each evening grand public for one person, $2.50 per day. These meetings, with addresses, spirit mes rates include first-class board. Those sages, singing, music, etc, etc. Among taking advantage of the same are exthe most gifted lecturers and mediums pected to remain during full convention, expected to be present and participate while all who travel on certificate tickare Dr. N. F. Ravlin, Mrs. H. P. Russegue, ets must remain till noon of the fourth J. J. Morse, of England, May S. Pepper, day. As a certain number of certificate Margaret Gaule, Mrs. Z. B. Kates, Mrs. tickets must be guaranteed to the rail-G. G. Cooley, and others to be secured. roads, delegates and visitors are re-All Spiritualists should attend this conquested to come by them. The N. S. A. reception to visitors and delegates, to Special certificate rates on railroads which all friends are invited, will be enue and 15th street, near Treasury Building. The rates at this hotel for HARRISON D. BARRETT, President.

M. V. S. A. CAMP.

Mt. Pleasant Park Offers Fine Attractions.

The simple announcement that the time is near at hand for again opening the camp at Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, is sufficient to thrill its many patrons with pleasant memories and great anticipations. The meeting begins, August 2, continuing daily until

Some of the best talent in the Spiritual ranks has been engaged, and it is only to hear from our platform such speakers as H. D. Barrett, W. J. Colville, Mrs. Helen Russegue, Moses Hull, Prof. W. F. Peck and Miss Elizabeth Harlow that one can fully realize what the real philosophy of Spiritualism means. Mrs. Fond friends have perished, like au-Cooley, J. Homer Altemus, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Folsom will voice the messages from the platform, thus demonstrating their own high grade of

The park was never more beautiful Hath fled forever-oh, give me rest." than at this season. Its trees, grass and plants are in fine condition, while its attractive cottages and cozy tents are charmingly inviting. And just here I might make special mention of the tent life which many prefer because of its novelty, its freedom and its fresh air. By writing to Mr. J. C. Blodgett, Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, a tent can be erected and awaiting your arrival, at a cost of $1.75 to $5 per week. Cots, comforters, chairs and all paraphernalia necessary to make a complete outfit can be rented at an additional small cost,

Body and o'ertaxed mind to healthful ease unbent.

Camp concerts, dances, afternoon teas and other amusements are furnished for the enjoyment and entertainfinent of the campers, to say nothing of the various phenomenal seances which breast, are held each evening in the different cottages, thus making Mt. Pleasant Park one of the liveliest and most attractive camps of the west.

The dining-room is under the management of F. E. Bills, which is a guarantee that even the most fastidious will be pleased with the meals. A new restaurant is being erected where meals will be served, and hot coffee, fresh fruits, Is there no bower by its soft light blest? ice cream, etc., can be obtained at all I pine for freedom—oh, give me rest!" hours. In fact a well-stocked grocery "Faith bringeth rest," says the child of store is here connected and foods of all kinds can be purchased so reasonable as to make the living cost-less than in your own home.

The Diamond Jo line of steamers grants a rate of one transportation fare There is a balm for the weary soul, for the round trip from all points between St. Paul and St. Louis. A frip on For our Father sayeth in accents blest, one of these fine steamers is of itself a Oh, come unto me, I will give you rest!" choice pleasure.

The Western Passenger Association has not yet determined the exact rates, but it is expected they will have deticulars, write the secretary, MRS. M. B. ANDERSON, Clarksville, Mo.

"The Great Psychological Crime.
The Destructive Principle of Nature in Individual Life." This book is destined to create commotion of thought vidual Problems and Possibilities." By among Spiritualists and hypnotists, and Wm. George Jordan. Another valuable especially for its bearings upon mediumship, which, as being hypnotic in character, is declared to come under the influence of the Destructive Principle in Nature which tends to the declared in struction of the soul or essential entity. by Rev. J. G. White, author of Startling Florence Huntley's name appears as ed. Facts. Price 10 cents each, or two for 15 cents.

rills:

"Oh, let me rest," says the child at play, "I'm weary of sporting the live-long day; I've chased the bee o'er the breezy hills, And followed the course of the dancing

I've turned a wreath of the brightleaved flowers, The fairest that grew in the woodland bowers:

But the dew is gemming the violet's crest. And the bee and the bird from their

"Oh! let me rest," says the child of grief "To the spirit weary, oh, bring relief; 've sought for peace through the changing years, But the past is dim with the mist of tears: tumn leaves, And a dirge-like music the wind harp weaves, And the light that shone o'er a soul once blest,

'Oh, let me rest," is the orphan's cry, And pale lips part with a plaintive 'I dreamed of pleasure, but childhood years Were crowned with sorrow, and draped in fears; precious treasure was mine awhile, balm for sadness, a mother's smile; But never more on her gentle breast, Shall my head be pillowed, with love to

'Oh, let me rest," says the man of toil, "I've searched for treasures the cold "And in the unquestioned freedom of I have jewels bright from the distant damp soil; mine.

And the social blessings of song and wine: A crown of pearls on my brow is set, But my heart is wasting with vain re-

'Tis a worthless treasure—oh, give me rest!"

"Oh, where is rest," says the gray haired sage, As he reads with wonder the holy page: "A toll-worn pilgrim I've sought it long; Doth it only dwell in the poet's song? And must the shadows of eve that close O'er weary mortals bring no repose?

God, As he meekly kisses the blighting rod 'And its Eden-blossoms of beauty dwell, In the heart that can whisper, "All, all 'is well!"

A rock of refuge, a blissful goal; Oh, come unto me, I will give you rest!' Shirley, Mass. BELLE BUSH.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Nacided by the next issue of The Progress-Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual ros-For announcements and further partrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism. The book is commended to

ORGANIZATION.

The Necessity of it Plainly and Conclu-

People who have always been fed upon the crumbs of faith and crusts of superstition, who have partaken of the poorest quality of bread as a represenlative of the flesh of the "Redeemer," should not be too severely criticised and censured for not believing in the philosophy of Spiritualism. It is rather too large and square a meal for their delicate digestive organs,

It is like awaking from an awful nightmare to behold a world of real peace and beauty.

There is a sweet bewilderment that comes with the awaking from the awful dream of old theology into the sunlight of Spiritualism, that often makes the new convert over-zealous, over-credu-lous and an easy prey for the rascally charlatans who are ever on the trail of progress and increase of our member-ship. These should be watched and calmly reasoned with, and taught that perfection must not be expected from the spirit side or from the earthly side; that as we are at death so we enter upon the duties and experiences of the new and higher life; that it is necessary to be cautious in the search for absolute truth even in Spiritualism; that it is easiest to be duped in the search for evidence of spirit return through the more maryelous phases of manifestation; that the phenomena so clearly resemble, in part, the work of the prestidigitarian that the latter is often substituted for the genuine phenomena.

It is well to establish a class in connection with every society and have instructive and interesting books or parts of books read, or essays of an instructive character composed for the occasion and invite new converts in and have them take part and get interested in the philosophy in connection with the usual psychic readings so much sought at the meetings.

It may be well enough, as a rule, to present to the orthodox attendants of our public meetings the ridiculousness of their position, but it should be remembered that Spiritualism opposes error, not persons,

If an orthodox brings his Bible with him we will repair it. If an agnostic comes in, only doubting, we will prove our claims and give him hope.

We have many "fads" to which people can become attached according to their bent, and still be Spiritualists in the true sense of the word.

While we have a "Declaration of Principles" for the world to look upon to distinguish us from other religious bodies, to subscribe to them or to even endorse them in toto is not compulsory. Anyone who becomes convinced of the truth of spirit return, which also proves continuity of life, may be considered a full-fledged Spiritualist. We are organized because in organization is strength and the purpose of our organizing is progress and protection. Legal organizations can demand legal protection of legal rights, and un-organized our mediums have ever been subjected to the persecutions of unmerciful bigots who gloated over "stamping out a spook shop," arresting mediums indiscriminately, but wherever we have been organized we have occupied the position as a religious body and gained a victory.

It is true, as we have become better united the laws have by our persecutors been made more stringent and in some states prohibitory of the practice of mediumship for money. But through or-ganization into religious bodies with salaried mediums and speakers we could give Spiritualism to the public and overcome the oppressive and prohibitory side of the persecution, under the Constitution of the United States. It may be possible to restrict the practice of mediumship as a business transaction, but as a religion, never.

This work until all laws against the practice of genuine mediumship are either wiped from the statutes or rendered inoperashed to a finish. tive and null by supreme court decis-

If we are worth anything to the advance thought of the world; if we are worth anything to the world as advocates of religious reform, as representatives of a truth; as presenters of proof of future existence, we are indeed worth struggling for the advancement and protection of our organizations and every true phase, physical, ethereal, psychic, inspirational, etc., should be supported and presented to the world.

It may be true, it is true, that there are avaricious spirits surrounding many of our mediums, scheming, watching, planning and advising beyond the limit of honesty, but the spirit world as whole has no special desire for man's financial advancement, except, perhaps, to make a prosperity that will reach into the upbuilding of universal brother-hood on earth; and although this may have to outride the waves of selfishness, tyranny, bigotry, greed, war and devastation, to win, if the eternal powers of right and justice operate through the spirit of man in the form and free, it will eventually come.

Thoroughly organized, the Spiritualists, co-operating with the spirits, one looking after the material and the other the spiritual side of matters, ought to be able to advance much more rapidly and with greater stability than ever before.

Flock around our missionaries and aid them in this good work. DR. T. WILKINS.

Skepticism Not Always Intelligent. For some reason or other, my innocent little article on the above subject in The Progressive Thinker a few weeks ago, drew fire from Bro. W. F Jamieson's intellectual arsenal. real funny that he would let a little thing like that get him so stirred up. I was aware that he posed as a skeptic and as a materialist, having purchased and read his debate with Rev. Moses Hull on the subject of Spiritualism, but had no idea that he would pay any attention to what any far lesser light than our own Moses would have to say that would in the least antagonize him apparently or really.

It seems to me that materialism is rapidly losing its influence upon the thought of the day. Huxley, Tyndall and Spencer who were supposed to be materialists, have stoutly repudiated materialism, and the recent researches of such scientists as Hodgson, Hyslop; James, Crookes, Wallace and others, have knocked from under it any props it may have had.

But to return to our subject, I remark that skepticism is not always a mark of intelligence. Hypnotism, telepathy, wireless messages, etc., are now said by scientists to be established facts. But personally, I have never seen them demonstrated. Am I therefore to infer that hey never have been demonstrated, or that those who have demonstrated them were simply mistaken, duped, deluded, crazy, deceived by their own senses? H. V. SWERINGEN.

"Meatless Dishes," Very useful, Price 10 cents.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Concerning the Demeanor or Disputants,

"Careful discussion in a harmonious way."—The Progressive Thinker. In the same number (July 4) Mr. W. F. Peck says: "The most deplorable and discouraging feature of these discussions is the dogmatic and unkind criticisms that so many prominent Spiritualists make of ideas and movements that do not meet their approbation. Discussion is, or should be, freely indulged, but in the spirit of a truth-seeker and not of the dogmatist." "I love debate and discussion, but when I read the intemperate and un-kind things that are too often indulged toward each other by people in our ranks, my heart sinks with apprehension for the success of our cause."

At the close of one of the most stormy sessions of Congress, its closing hour, Speaker David B. Henderson said: "I have seen beautiful and instructive things on this floor, sharp, able, feeling debate, and debate, gentlemen, is the foundation and sustaining power of American liberty."

The public will learn, in time, that illtemper should have no place in debate. Let it be sharp, spicy, humorous, but good-natured. "People must learn to discuss religious differences without resorting to strife," says Rev. J. H. Paton. Because some cannot govern their own temper, when hard-pressed, they decry debate. Every debater should practice the principle so finely stated by our great author, W. D. Howells: "Kindness and gentleness are never out of fash-John Wesley remarked: "It is far easier to despise, at least seem to despise, argument than to answer it." Said J. D. Morrell, author of "History of Modern Philosophy": "Discussion is the very bulwark of truth—the only antagonist of dogmatism—the only hand-post that points us perpetually along the pathway of moderation, which is most commonly the path of truth." Is that not true? Wherever free speech is smothered despotism reigns, in a church, in a nation, or in a news-

John Milton asked this question: "Is it a fair course to assist truth, by arrogating to himself the only freedom of speech, and stopping the mouths of others equally gifted?"

In by-gone ages Christians practiced the broad principles of debate. Trench, in his great work on "Study of Words," pithily states:

"This historic fact that the church of Christ planted itself first in the haunts of learning and intelligence."

Mark well the why! He answers: :

"Another, morally more important, that it did not shun discussion, feared not to encounter the wit and wisdom of this world, or to expose its claims to the searching examination of educated men, but, on the contrary, had its claims first recognized by them, and in the great cities of the world won first a complete triumph over all opposing powers."

Is it possible that since Christianity has become popularized it has grown weaker? Is science gradually undermining its foundations, this religion, which (in its early career) "did not shun discussion"? Does it now find its faith so feeble, and skepticism so strong, that it piteously begs' to be "let alone"? Will it continue to refuse courteous controversy:

I am in hearty accord with every man nd woman, Spiritualist; Christian, or heathen, who earnestly, actively favors free discussion, concedes a full, impar-tial hearing to the "other side."

But always it should be harmonious, kind, truth-seeking. I have met a few clergymen who pose as intellectual pugilists and imagine that abuse, offensive personalities, dogmatic assertion (in a word, ungentlemanly conduct) will win them victory, which appears to be the height of their ambition. The quality of a debate depends upon the debaters. There are crabbed, ill-natured controversialists; but why charge upon debate the fault that can be traced directly to the unhappy temperament of the individual? or, mayhap, the evil influence of the times?

"Demosthenes, contending against Philip and his hired advocates, thinks no excess of vituperation too violent, no term of abuse too big for the mouth of his anger."

As your Prof. William Crookes observes, this is the "spiteful, bad old style."

John Milton, an almost perfect author, "twin brother of Shakspeare" in genius; glorious John Milton, blind, but clear-seeing, blazed the way' (Puritan though he was) two hundred and fifty years ago for American freedom and in dependence. Patrick Henry, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Thomas Jeffer son, Thomas Paine, Ethan Allen, the Lees, and many others, lighted their lamps of liberty by the resplendent light of Cromwell's adviser. Had England listened to the wisdom of Milton she would have been a republic to-day. It must not, however, be forgotten, as A. J. St. John tells us, that Milton lived in an age when "Abuse was constantly mistaken for logic." Says this author, St. John, "It was generally, in those times, considered a man's duty, when engaged in any important controversy, to blacken and vilify his adversary to the utmost extent of his capacity; but of a man so great and wise as Milton, better things might have been expected. He yielded, however, to the influence of example, and to the temptations of the subject." The result is coarse, offensive language in his prose writings. Milton's antipathies were fierce. True, the spirit of the times was flerce, those turbulent days of the Commonwealth. Disputants had not yet learned that etiquette should always accompany erudition. Nor have some yet learned that lesson, if Brother Peck is right, and I think he is. I believe it was Dr. Young who said, "Every author lives or dies by his own pen, and that the unerring sentence of Time assigns its proper rank tosevery composition and to every criticism, which it preserves from oblivion." in

The model controversialist is the embodiment of good nature, suavity, gentleness, refinement. His panoply is self control; his grand aim Truth. critic who is worthy the name must be loyal to truth.

Some suppose that disputants should never employ the weapon of Ridicule, just as our forefathers imagined that the sermon should never sparkle with wit-and it didn't! Those were haleyon days for Doctor Dry-as-Dust. Dullless and depth were conceived to be twins.

Wit, sarcasm, ridicule (not of persons) have their part in purifying the mental atmosphere. As the lightnings play around the mountain tops, so the keen flashes of sarcastic speech light up the grandest and highest thoughts. The reasoning organs and mirthfulness are and have witnessed more peevishpess in the pulpit and vindictiveness on the lecturer's platform than ever existed among men who pleaded for truth on opposite sides face to face.

Controversy has taught me the invaluable lesson of a genuine charity. My Christian friend, I concede, has as good a right to advocate his views as I have to dissent from them. He is fully justified in propagating them in every honorable way. I have no right to deny to my Catholic, or Jew, pagan neighbor the inestimable blessing of free speech. Further: It is my duty to uphold him in this right of free speech though I may not agree with him in a single opinion. Americans should be on their guard and never let this fundamental right slip from their grasp.

I cordially agree with those Spiritualsts who declare with John Stuart Mill: 'All silencing of discussion is an assumption of infallibility."

W. F. JAMIESON.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

WHAT WE CLAIM FOR SPIRIT-AULISM.

An Address Delivered by Dr. W. T. Nichols, Before the California State Spiritualist Convention, June 28. Horace Greeley was once asked if he and time to write a short article on a certain subject.

"No," he replied, "but I have time to write a long one." So, having but a few minutes to speak at this time, I have attempted to pack a large subject into a few short sen-"Thou wert the noblest Roman of them all." Thus spoke Antony of the lead Caesar. So we as as Spiritualists, beholding

Spiritualism enthroned among the galaxy of religions, can with truth exclaim, "Thou art the noblest religion of Spiritualism in fact is the progenitor of all religions, for each had its origin in a belief in some kind of future exist-Spiritualism is founded in, and is an expression of, the highest manifestations of life and consciousness, and all else, whether it be religion, philosophy, or science, has its roots deeply imbedded in the basic principles of Spiritualism. Full and continuous life.

Clear and comprehensive conscious-Incontrovertible demonstrations truth.

Unselfish and universal love.

An all-enfolding and unswerving jus-

Continuous and eternal progression. Communion between the two worlds. These are among the grand gifts of Spiritualism to man, although he has never yet attained to the fullness of their measure; yet there they have stood on the shores of eternity, ever shedding their illumined rays through the shadows of earth.

But the man of the past, has been so tossed by the vicissitudes of circumstances on the ocean of material life that he has beheld them only as the gleams of a beacon light. Catching glimpses of a continuous life, he has woven them with the fanta-sies of his imagination and peopled the earth with fairles, goblins and devils. Seizing a few rays of love, he has tarnished them with the turbulence of his passions-created revengeful monsters, and called them Gods. Perceiving gleams of spiritual consciousness, he has jumbled them in a labyrinth of superstition. Beholding fragments of truth, as they flashed through the mists, he has crystallized them in a medley of religious vagaries.

by his own littleness, and dotted the world with tyrants. But Spiritualism, the synonym of life and love—the herald of liberty, truth and justice, with the light of eternal consciousness on her brow, has infused evolutionary man with its involutionary forces, that he is fast taking his right ful place in the kingdom of nature, for those who are touched by the spirit of an all-comprehending consciousness are no longer slaves to circumstances, fears. ignorance and superstition, but are kings in the universe of mind, conscious of their ability to survive the grasp of lisease, the rack of tyrants, the crash of worlds, aye, and of death itself.

This knowledge of man's continued existence and intercommunion is the greatest boon ever bestowed upon the yearning heart of a suffering humanity, and this glorious knowledge it is the blessed privilege of Spiritualism to bear to every longing soul of earth.

And the message bearers of these choice gifts to man, what of them?

A high development of his or her spiritual faculties and an organism responsive to universal spirit consciousness Passive attention to all that is above them, and positive resistance to all that s beneath them, and above all, a strict adherence to truth as enunciated by the higher spiritual intelligences, or as messages of love, remembrance, or advice of the arisen loved, to mortals. There is nothing so fraught with importance to humanity as continuous life. and the sacred relations existing be tween the so-called dead and the living; and there is no position on earth so delicate or responsible, as that of mediator

As Caesar suffered greater wrongs from his pretended friends than from his avowed enemies, so Spiritualism has received more vital stabs from her incompetents and hypocritical friendsthe Judases-than from all her other traducers.

The public is somewhat to blame for this, however, as many people expect a medium to reproduce all the seeming wonders of a Herrman or a Kellar, and too often desert the meetings of tried and honest workers, to patronize some sensational advertiser, who promises to materialize an elephant, or to make piano dance on the point of a needle! In a measure to overcome this condition of things, and to purify and uplift the cause is the aim of the California State Spiritualists Association, as it is that of all the other states and of the National Association.

And it is a duty to Spiritualism, to the spirit world, to self, and to the public that every speaker, every medium, and every believer in the grand spiritual philosophy shall aid them in this great work, that Spiritualism may take its rightful place in the world, and be recognized by all peoples in all places, not as something to amuse and mystify, but as a reliable channel of communion with the loved ones gone before, and as pre-eminently, the noblest religion of them all.

"The Kingship of Self-Control." By Wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape next-door neighbors.

I have held more than one hundred Price 30 cents. For sale at this office, and fifty debates, and have seen, with a "Buddhism and its Christian Critics." very few exceptions, more charity, kind-ness, good-will, politeness in the arena of controversy than anywhere else ex-cept the drawing room of the cultured, For sale at this office;

Kola Plant CURES

AND ASTHMA.

ASTHMA.

Free. The African is Nature's Positive. Cure for Hay-fever and Asthma. Since its recent discovery this remarkable botamical product has come into universal usefu fithe Hoopitals of Europe and America as an unifalling specific cure for Hay-fever and Ashma in every form. Its cures are really maryelous. Br. J. B. Baers, the oldest physician gravitous witle, Ind., writes Jan. Stin. I feel it my duty Trawford I I can of the great virtue of Himslya. Dr. W. H. Will sprominent physician of St. Louis, No., writes Haveb St., that he used Evangolist of Abileno. Texas, writes Jan. Stir, the need Evangolist of Abileno. Texas, writes Jan. Stir, that Himslya permanently cured him of Hay-fover and Ashma and strongly recombined in the fundamental stir, the final ray completely cured lim of Hay-fover and Ashma and strongly recombined to bufferers. Mrs. M. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Craby, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Strong and St. H. A. Scott, Strong

The World's Sixteen Saviors Or Christianity before Christ. By Kersey Graves. New and startling revelations in religious history which disclose the Oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts and intracles of the Christian New Tostament, and furnishing a key for unlocking many of its sacred mysteries, besides comprising the History of Sixteen Oriental Crucified Gods. This wonderful and exhaustive volume will, we are certain, take high rank as a book of reference in the field which the author has chosen for it. Printed on white paper, 380 pages. New edition, revised and corrected, with portrait of author. Price $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

INVISIBLE HELPERS

A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Stand-

This work, "Invisible Helpers," written by C. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and suggestive throughout. It treats of the "Universal Belief in the Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story,"
"Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Beyond." The work is neatly bound in cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible. One hundred and forty-four propositions, the ological, moral, historical and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scripture, without comment. Price, 15 cents.

CONFLICT Between Religion and Science. Just the book for progressive interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper. Price, cloth, $1.75.

HEALING, Causes and Effects, with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 50 cents. POLMS of the Life Beyond and Withir.
Voices from many lands and countries, saying. "Man, thou shalt never die." An excellent selection. Edited and compiled by Giles B. Stebblus. Cloth. $1.

Works of Thomas Paine A new edition in paper covers with large clear type,

Faintly responding to the regnant principle of justice, he has measured it sale at this office.

This is a splendid opportunity to secure these standard works, as the price is within the reach of all. For

THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN

-AND-THE CONFESSIONAL. BY FATHER CHINIQUY.

This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex-riest, whose character is above reproach, and who shows what he is talking about. Everybody should read it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chap-

CHAPTER I.

The Struggle before the Surrender of Womanly Selfrespect in the Confessional. CHAPTER II.

Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the Priest. Priest.

CHAPTER III.
The Confessional is the Modern Sodom.

CHAPTER IV.
How the Vow of Ceilbacy of the Priests is made easy by Auricular Confession.

by Authorist Contession.

The highly-educated and refined Woman in the Confessionsi—What becomes of her after unconditional surrender—Her irreparable Ruin.

Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Marriage and Human Scolety.

Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civilized Nations?

ized Nations?

CHAPTER VIII.

Does Auricular Confession bring Peace to the Soul?

CHAPTER IX.

The Dogma of Auricular Confession a Sacrilegious Imposture. God compels the Church of Rome to confess the Abominations of Auricular Confession. Auricular Confession.

CHAPTER XI.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and France.

France.
CHAPTER XII.
Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Priest of Rome must Question his Penitent. Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00.

MEDIUMSHIP and its DEVELOPMENT, and how to Mesmerize to Assist Development By W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 50 cents. WOMAN: Four Centuries of Progress, thinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1803. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c.

PSYGHE is the invention of a practical medium, under spirit guidance, and is designed to develop mediumship. Many, by its use, have received long communications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, 81, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail

BY CHARLES B. NEWGOMB, Author of "All" Right with the World." Cloth 270 pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with "All's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank of the Metaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have seen cheered and strengthened by him will welcome another book by this wise teacher whose words of kelp are doing so much to take the world better by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it. "Discovery of a Lost Trail" is a simple study of that strango and beautiful thing called life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be in demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office. The Christ Question Settled. Jesus, Man, Medium, Martyr. A symposium by W. E. Coleman, J. S. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Moses Hull, J. R. Buchanan, B. B. Hill, Rabbi I. M. Wise, Col. Ingersoll—and what the sphits say about it. By J. M. FEERIS, M. D. Whither this book settles the question or not it will be found eminently entertaining, and brings together a mass of evidence to establish the historical character of Jesus. A large volume. Price cloth $1.25.

AUTOMATIC WRITING, So-called with other psychic experiences. By Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portraft and specimen pages of the writing. Hand-somely bound in cloth. Price, it. Postage, 10c.

Out of the Depths Into the Light.

By Samuel Bowles: Mrs. Carrie E. S. Twing, modium. This is a very interesting little book, and will be appreciated from start to fluish by all. who wish to gain spiritual information.

Price & cents.

DR. J. M. PEEBLES Most Important Books.

REDUCED PRICES.

A'hat is Spiritualism? W Are These Spiritualists? an What Has Spiritualism Done for th World? By J. M. Peebles, M. D., M. A. An excellent hook to put in the hand of inquirers. Coth, 75 cents. Did Jesus Christ Exist?

Is Christ the Corner Stone of Spirk ualism? What Do the Spirits Sa About It? Wm. Emmette Coleman va Hudson Tuttle on Mahomet and Jesus To which is appended a controvers. Arthur J. Owen vs. J. M. Peebles, on th origin of the Lord's Prayer and Sermo on the Mount, and an exhaustive pape by Wm. Emmette Coleman on the Hi torical Origin of Christianity. Paper, 1

Three Journeys Around the World. A large, handsomely bound octavo vo ume, 500 pages, finely illustrated, o scribing the Pacific Islands, New Ze land and Australia, India and her magil Egypt and her pyramids, Persia, Cey lon, Palestine, etc., with the religiou manners, customs, laws and habits of foreign countries. Price, $1.50.

immortality, And the employments of spirits good and evil in the spirit world. What hundred spirits say about their dwelling-places, their locomotion, their social relations, infants, idiots, suicides, et. Price reduced from $1.50 to $1. Pos age 12 cents. Paper 50 cents.

Seere of the Ages.

This large volume of 400 pages (9th edition), treats exhaustively of the seers, sages, prophets and inspired mer of the past, with records of their via ions, trances and intercourse with the spirit world. This is considered standard work, treating of God, heaves hell, faith, repentance, prayer, baptis u hell, faith, repentance, prayer, baptis u judgment, demoniac spirits, etc. Pringeduced from $2 to $1.25. Postage 15 d

Spiritual Harp. A book of 300 pages, containing songs A DOOK OF 300 pages, containing songs hymns and anthems for Spiritualist so cleties and circles. The words are aftr with progress. It contains the choices songs and music by James G. Clark an other reformers. Reduced from $2 to

Dr. Peebles' Three Jubilee Lectures. A most elegantly bound pamphlet o 22 pages, giving Dr. Peebles' lecture delivered in Hydesville, March 31, 1898 in Rochester, and later in London a the International Congress of Spiritual ists. These lectures, illustrated, arracy, meaty and scholarly. Price 3

The Christ Question Settled. A symposium by Hudson Tuttle, W. . Coleman, Rabbi Wise, Col. Ingersoll J. S. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. R. Buchan an and Dr. Peebles. This is a hand some volume of nearly 400 pages, and treats of Jesus, Mahomet and the gnostics. What the Talmud says about Jesus. Antiquity unveiled. Child mar Jesus. Antiquity unvened. Unid marriage in India. Col. Ingersoll's agnostations. What the spirits through W. J. Colville, J. J. Morse, Mrs. Longley, Mrs. Everitt, Mrs. Hagan-Jackson and other modiums say about Large at other mediums say about Jesus, etc.

A Critical and Crushing Review By Dr. Peebles of the Rev. Dr. Kipp's five lectures against Spiritualism. This crisp and critical reply of the Doctor while repudlating spiritism, and all frauds connected with the subject, sus tains Spiritualism, considering it the complement of primitive Christianity. Price 25 cents.

Fiftleth Anniversary of Mod

ualism. An elegant pamphlet containing an account of the exercises at Rochester and Hydesville, N. Y., at the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of Modern of the Fitteen Anniversary of Modern Spiritualism. It contains the addresses of some of the most noted speakers present. It contains the picture of the Hydesville cottage, wreath, etc. Price, 15 cents.

Death Defeated, or the Psychic Secret of How to Keep Young.

This book goes to the foundation of things-health, the laws of health, the foods to eat, the subject of marriage, who should marry and who should not marry, the causes of divorce, the proper time for conception, gestation, the determining of sex, animal flesh-eating, what Herodotus, Hesiod, Homer, Pythagoras, Shelley, Graham and others ate, the foods that produce love life are the foods that produce long life and how to live "immortal" on earth, etc. This book is written in Dr. Peebles' usually clear, crisp style, and attracts the reader from the very first through its facts, logic and convincing arguments. Very handsomely bound in cloth,

Price $1. Vaccination a Curse and a Menace to Personal Liberty, This finely illustrated volume of between three hundred and four hundred pages, by Dr. Peebles, treats exhaustively of inoculation, cow-pox and calflymph vaccination from Jenner's time to the present. It tells how the cowpox pus poison is obtained—how the vaccine virus, while causing many deaths, sows the seed of eczema, pimpled faces, cancers, tumors, ulcers and leprosy. It gives a history of the several years' battle against vaccina tion in England, Parliament making it "optional" instead of compulsory. This book should be in every school library and family. Price $1.25.

Dr. PEEBLES' Pamphlets and Books

In the World Celestial.

By DR. T. A. BLAND. "It is inexpressibly delightful."—Hon. C. A. "It is mean reader into enchanting realms."— Windle.
"It lifts the reader into enchanting realms."— Modical Gloanor.
"It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J.

"It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Savage.
"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorship, the astounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it contains."—B. O. Flower, in the Arona.
"It will give us courage to pass through the deep shadows of death to the sun-lit ollme of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.
"Everybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a most beautiful romance of two worlds."—nner of Light.

Light.
It is Printed in elegant cocloth and gold. Pric $1,00

Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical socrets of Astral Truth and Occult Art. By Willis F. Whitehead, Editor Agrippa's "Natural Magic." The book treate of The Symbol of the Cross, Spiritual Gifts, Inspirational Conseption, Initiative Exposition, Tao Astral Brotherhood, Magasage of the Brotherhood, Tho Magic Mirror, and Celestial Companionship. It is a good text book for atudents of the Mystic, and will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA, According to Old Records. By Dr. Paul Carus A translation made from Japanese, under the auspices of the Rev. Shaku: Soyer, delegate the the Parliament of Religious. Was published in Japan. Price, $1,

Published every Saturday at 40 Loomis St

J. R. FRANCIS, Editor and Publisher. Entered at Chicago Postoffice as second-class matte

TERMS OF SUBSCHIPTION. THE PROGRESSIVE TRIBERS Will be furnished until further notice, at the following terms, invariably in advance: yarianiy in muvanos.
Ono year,
Bix Months.
Thirteen Weeks,
Bingle Copy,

REUITTANCES. REMITANCES.

Remit by Postoffice Money Order, Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It costs from 10 to 15 cents to get checks cashed on local banks, so don't sond them unless you wish that amount deduced from the amount sent. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Louis Street, Chicago, Ill.

TAKE NOTICE. (2) At expiration of subscription, if not re-newed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sant for extra numbers.

23" If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers supplied gratis.

Whenever you desire the address of your spor changed, siways give the address of the lace to which it is then sent or the change can-

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1903.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the column of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spirit ualist Association.

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to answer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giving date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights, Ohio.

The New York Sun Has Something to Say on Psychical Science.

with Dr. Wallace, Sir W. Crookes and a few others, has stood in opposition to the great majority of scientific men in his attitude towards the obscure psy chical phenomena known popularly under the names of telepathy, clairvoyance, Spiritualism and so forth. As president of a section at the meeting of the British Association twelve years ago, he urged his colleagues to recognize and investigate these phenomena, pointing out that they were not less real or less important than other phenomena at one time held to be without the re gion of science but now earnestly studied by the most orthodox. For example, he cited the abnormality of hypnotism, multiple personality and the nature of disease. These, he said, were once ignored, and similarly to-day men of science hung back from whole fields of inquiry, content in the helief that they were not fit for investigation. One of the great difficulties in such investigation was this, that the relation of life to energy was not understood. We had to world," but no proper place had as yet been found for it in the science of physics. This difficulty has again and again been alluded to by Sir Oliver Lodge in carefully weighs evidence from every ment he is in the depths of a contro-beyond the comprehension of the general reader. At the last meeting of the Society for Psychical Research the late Frederic Myers' monumental work on "Human Personality" was the subject of discussion, and Sir Oliver Lodge took occasion to reassert his attitude and to hail Myers as a man of science and the first to evolve a reasonable comprehensive scheme involving much that had hitherto passed under the title of "occult." In the pages of Nature he states the case in even stronger terms. Granting that Myers lacked technical training, "I would point out," he writes, "that men not professionally scientific have had a profound influence on scientific progress before now, and if I were to seek for an analogy to the effect which I expect these volumes will have upon the devel opment of the psychical sciences, would liken it by anticipation to the effect of the 'Novum Organon' upon the physical sciences. Francis Bacon was a man of letters, not a scientific man, but he recalled all educated men to the pos sibility of exploration by experiment and observation, and so cleared the ground and paved the way for the general acceptance of the results of Gilbert and other great and truly scientific men of the same and subsequent eras, whose pioneering work might else have been lost in a mist of dislike, disbelief and obscurantism. Myers has shown that obscure psychical phenomena can be legitimately investigated by observation and experiment, and can be regarded as part of a sufficiently comprehensive scheme of natural knowledge; him, then, I liken to Bacon."

Dr. Walter Leaf, discussing the same work at the meeting of the Society for Psychical Research, offered this objection, that the conclusion drawn by Myers in favor of the survival of personality after bodily death was precisely op posite to that which he himself would draw from the evidence. Oliver Lodge answered that conviction was not to be expected or, perhaps, even desired. Myer's conclusion has been nonularly selzed and over-emphasized till many think that an easy credulity was his characteristic attitude. But even the physicist, Sir Oliver observed, was often twitted for believing in the reality of an ether, which to the onlooker was a bare hypothesis. "This, however, was," he went on to say, "one of the cases, and there were several, where the onlooker did not see most of the game; where the man in the street, with all his conspicuous ability, was not an ultimate authority." It was difficult, he added, for such a man to realize "the strenuously-acquired, full-bodied certitude, or the clear-visioned perception, and what one could hardly help calling, in some sense, knowledge," which might be possessed by the trained man of sci ence by soaking his mind in a subject for years, "by continually thinking unto it" in Newton's phrase.

"Healing, Causes and Effects." By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Price 50 cents. "Discovery of a Lost Trail." By Chas. B. Newcomb. Excellent in Bpiritual suggestiveness. Cloth, $1.50.; For sale at this office.

The Progressive Thinker. | A STORM GENTER

Ranks of Spiritualism.

In all ages of the world and in all conditions of society, there have been certain Storm Centers, and the startling events therein evolved, now constitute universal history. A Storm Center may not only occur in the world of matter in the physical realms, but in politics, in religion, in science and in governmental affairs -in fact in all the diversifled affairs of life these Storm Centers are continually arising, and through their influence the world is being gradually raised to a higher plane, or, perhaps, may be debruid thereby.

See the great slaughtering battles of the world-Storm Centers-changing the destiny of nations.

Every national election is a Storm Center, from which new conditions

There was a Storm Center at Waterloo when Napoleon lost his prestige, and Europe no longer trembled at the mention of his name, and a Storm Center when our Revolutionary War occurred, and another when the South seceded from the Union, and still another when our armies marched into Cuba.

These Storm Centers are merely the outbursts or expression of various potent forces, whether acting in unison or in conflict. A great author may induce a Storm Center that will cause an entire nation to vibrate. That was accomplished by the illustrious Mrs. Stowe in her "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and was the harbinger of the freedom of the slave.

The world would never progress without these Storm Centers. They have arisen continuously in Spiritualism. The free-love movement, inclining to bestiality and rottenness, swept over its ranks in a Storm Center that nearly for a time disrupted our cause and gave it a black eye which lasted for some For many years Sir Oliver Lodge,

> We now have a new Storm Center, and its vibrations and internal mutter-Ing can be distinctly seen and heard. We allude to "A GREAT PSYCHOLOG-ICAL CRIME," lately issued from the press, Mrs. Florence Huntley, a cultured author, lournalist and profound thinker, being its editor, but in no wise its author. He, as yet, is UNDER COVER, exercising a prerogative that belongs to every American citizen, and for which course we have not the data whereby we could accurately judge him -either with praise or censure. But brushing aside that thought we can only view the work as a new Storm Center in the ranks of Spiritualism, and which will create a far greater sensation than the famous work by Dr. Hudson, wherein the "subjective mind" played such an important part.

The author claims that he has discovered "A Great Psychological Crime" in our ranks, and yet he does not always inscribe any criminal intent or design on the part of those who are at one end recognize in life a guiding and directing of this psychological crime—the vicprinciple "disturbing to the physical | tims. That there exists such a thing as A Great Psychological Crime, we can not for a moment doubt.

The really critical wise man, one who the meantime, and at the present mo- point of view, and who only desires to arrive at the truth, will direct his atversy over "Psychophysical Interactention to every Storm Center that may tion," a controversy that has gone quite arise, and endeavor to arrive at the actuating cause thereof, and the effect that will invariably follow. As an illustration of A Great Psychological Crime, in the Storm Center that has been evolved, the author states that some years ago an acquaintance of his. a lady of unquestioned intelligence and moral character, became interested in the study of Spiritualism. She was finally developed into an excellent trancespeaking medium. Her controls, however encouraged her to believe that under their domination she might become a world-renowned 'magnetic healer.' They held up before her the two most powerful motives or incentives possible in her case—the love of humanity and the gratification of vanity. She was led to believe that in the capacity of a great 'healer' she would be a blessing to humanity and at the same time be able to gratify her vanity, the lavish expenditure of unlimited wealth.

> "These proved sufficient motives and inspirations to command her willing and active co-operation. She adverhumanity according to the usual methods, and soon succeeded in the establishment of a large and lucrative pracher patients, among whom a number of remarkable cures were soon reported. It shortly developed, however, that her methods of treatment were offensive to her lady patients. - This became so procontrols she ultimately confined her practice to 'gentlemen only.' This was > but the prelude to her complete ruin. "Step by step she was led onward and downward by her controls until her 'magnetic treatments' became only another name for the indulgence of the most depraved passions of human nature. While under complete trance control she delivered learned lectures to her patients on the subject of the great law of magnetic exchange, which her controls alleged was at the basis of all therapeutic processes.

> "Cunningly and with consummate skill it was developed that the patient needed and must have the magnetism of his medium, and the medium in turn needed and must have the magnetism of the patient to sustain her in her work. This was but an even exchange, and was demanded by the great law of sophistry that the sex relation was God's divinely appointed institution by and through which to effect this 'magnetic exchange."

> "As might be anticipated, the natural reduct of all this was an abandoned exemplification of the doctrine of Free love. By both precept and practice this nedium under domination of her controls, became an exponent of that blighting and destroying fallacy. As a perfectly natural result, Spiritualism in general and Spiritualists in particular were compelled to share the burden of moral turpitude for which her deprayed and degenerate controls alone were responsible. "Leading Spiritualists defended themselves against the charge of 'Freelove' upon the ground that the entire organization of Spiritualism could not justly be held responsible for the sophistries or the deliberate wickedness and depravity of a few 'bad mediums.' Here again the innocent and defenseless medium is made the scapegoat to carry the sins of her false and vicious controls into the wilderness," and who will say that in this case there has not been "A Great Psychological Crime" committed? In this Storm Center book—A Great differentiation and that, too, in the ranks of Spiritualism, to add to the endless variety already existing, and which have proved a distracting and often disheartening puzzle to every thinking mind in our ranks. "In the ranks of Spiritualism," we say, for the author of A Great Psychological Crime IS A SPIRITUALIST IN ITS BROADEST AND THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE SENSE, if a firm, unwavering belief and actual knowledge that the denizens of the spirit realms can communicate with those still on earth plane, constitute a person one. But right here the differentiation sets its impressive seal. He claims that a spirit obsessing, conrolling or influencing a medium as set forth in the horribly distressing case related above, is committing A Great Psychological Crime, and in that respect Spiritualists will certainly agree with him. And right here the differentiation shoots off impressively, and assumes that mediumship generally comes under the head of A Great Psychological Crime, inasmuch as the medium surrendency of which in all cases is more or realms can be carried on far better by those who have the requisite knowledge, without allowing a spirit to assume any control whatever of one's own temple, the human organism. As we said last week, and repeat again, that spirit control in its higher aspects is regarded by advanced Spiritualists as perfectly harmless and healthy, and promotive of spirituality and intellectual growth, and in every way beneficial to the medium, and they will be slow to think otherwise, yet they will greet most cordially any person who can open the gateway to the spirit through the present-day mediumship.

author of A Great Psychological Crime is the central figure of some of the very brightest minds, and they are quietly and unobtrusively working along humanitarian lines, curing cases of obsession that the Spiritualists and their very best healers and mediums could in no wise relieve, and they, through their teacher, are in constant touch-they claim-with the spirit realms, and that, too, without the aid of mediumship in any sense whatever, and how that is accomplished will be eventually given to the world, hence we say that this modmost important Storm Center that has portance, that will persist, no doubt, in spite of all opposition.

Preparing for an Emergency.

Anthony Maitre, secretary of the Na tional Federation of Catholic Societies. addressed the State Federation meet ing, held in the hall of the Catholic Knights of Columbus. He stated as the chief reason for the existence of the national federation and the state federation, which are auxiliaries, the necessity for bringing the Catholics of America together to prepare for an emergency. He said that the federation must be a harmonious body, non-no litical, and must demand such recognition as 12,000,000 Catholic Americans 6.000.000 Catholic Filininos and 1.000.000 Catholic Porto Ricans are entitled to re-

The meeting was composed of dele gates from various parts of the state representing 3, 274 members.

The nature of the "emergency," and the nature of the preparation therefor, are not definitely stated. And the "rec ognition" they consider Catholics en tised herself to the world of suffering | titled to receive, is also left to be surmised.

Be their numbers more or less. Catholics are entitled to no more right, under tice. At first both men and women were our form of government, than any other sect, great or small, and that consists simply in protection in religious and secular freedom.

But it is the genius of catholicism as administered by its church authorities, nounced that under the guidance of her | to strive to dominate all things, religious, secular, social, political, educational, moral, etc. This movement of Catholic societies portends further united and concerted effort to undermine and . weaken our public schools, or else catholicise for one thing, and to solidify Catholic effort to dominate-in politics. It aims to extend the power of the Catholic church in all available directions and by all available methods. And history shows that in the matter of methods, in the past, that church has not scrupled to use the weapons of war and bloodshed to accomplish its pur-

In view of the Catholic preparations, it would be the part of wisdom for non-Catholics to "prepare for an emergency.'

Readers, Take Due Notice.

No one can intelligently review "A Great Psychological Crime" without the 'equilibrium of forces.' Thence it | first carefully reading the book, hence conditions are complied with.

> "Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of a strong, logical thinker, on a deeply important subject. Price, cloth, $1. "Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J.

> Howard Moore. An address before the Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price, 25 cents.

ARTICLES FROM THE EDITOR-AT-LARGE.

NATIONAL SPIRITUALISTS' ASSOCIATION. | THE STRANGE FEATS OF MODERN MAGIC.

According to the self-accredited critics, the National Spiritualists Association has been dead or dying since the hour the author, Brander Matthews, with self-sufficiency and asserof its birth. Scarcely anything mentionable they have not tion which can be described only by the slang word, "gall," asserted as affecting it. Opinions and advice have been shows to his own satisfaction, that Dr. Oliver Lodge in his freely expressed without the asking, and the carnest work address as president of the Psychic Research Society, is uners have found obstacles constantly thrown in their way.

For a time wreck seemed certain on the Charybdis of the his investigations of psychic phenomena. "Infinite Mind" which had been inadvertently inserted in the statement of principles. "Oh, the awfulness of endorsing Houdin a story about the appearance of this magician before such a belief as that there is an Infinite Mind! Seize it and the Court of Louis Philippe in 1846, and of an astonishing tear it to pieces!" Psychological Crime—we have another

The student of nature cannot but see on every side the expression of mind; the result of intelligent plans and ingenious devices. If we say it is a part of matter, that matter and mind are co-existent, we are only using what others call

Jupiter, Osiris, Allah, Jehovah, God, Force, Energy, Mind. While this controversy was going on, the great issues were kept in abeyance; a fog-bank of words rolled up in the

And then came the Scylla of the creed scare! The goblin creed would surely get us "if we did not watch out." It was the purpose of the leaders to fasten a despicable creed, a binding creed on Spiritualists. What was this creed? A statement of principles, that is to say, an expression of all members of the Association, and subject to revision or complete change at the hands of any subsequent convention. Is t just to call such a statement a creed?

A statement of principles is essential, for every association must have something fangible to present to the world for the motive of its being, and for which it stands pledged. That made by the first convention has been revised by each | the package to depart, and raising the bowl, a turtle dove succeeding, until it is a fair and general expression of the belief and purposes of the great body of Spiritualists.

The carping about "Infinite Mind" or "Intelligence." has drifted into other channels. One writer opposes the free publication of tracts, etc., and advises that the money be given to extend the circulation of the spiritual papers. And dove. The key opened the box, the handkerchiefs were ders his own exclusive personality to other wants the money given to endow a spiritual school, and the use of another—a spirit—the ten- another to furnish homes for mediums and the aged. Others had placed the package there in 1786 that this trick might think it folly to send out missionaries. A prominent writer | be performed. less damaging and destructive to it, and of the old time, in a fine strain of scholastic criticism, picks that communication with the spirit the name to pieces, declaring "spiritual" a misnomer and ignorantly chosen, and wants "spiritism" in its place-poor, little, narrow, abortive "spiritism"!

Some there are who think a spiritual school a great want. Others that the present colleges are as good for Spiritualists as for any one.

Others demand that the means go to the founding of chartable institutions.

Well, the treasury has a few thousand dollars which has been conserved for the most urgent and practical uses. It is of the places designated on three cards. He well knew that not because there is opposition to the building of a university | the king would not select the candelabra as it was too easy, or asylums in every city, that the funds have not been used and he equally well knew that he would not have the pafor such purposes. It requires some millions of dollars to tience to wait for a search to be made at the distant dome of build a college like Harvard or Cornell, and to the first cost the Invalides. The orange tree was near and yet difficult. of asylums must be added the constant expense of mainteworld and present a better way to con- nance. If those who desire these things will put up the mill- them and by a method well known to conjurers, forced them verse with the denizens thereof than ions, their demands will be executed. At all events, it is use on the king. Having thus designated the place, Houdin went less to speculate and contend over what should be done with | to his table and exchanged the package for one exactly like We desire to say right here that the money not in the treasury.

And after all, who are these who object and criticise the Association? Those who have shown the deepest interest, had already made himself familiar, and concealed the box in and labored for its success? Or has it not come mainly from which he placed it. Houdin kept his audience amused by those who have stood without? Its bitterest enemies could side talk until his son had ample time. Then he placed the do no more with all their hatred, than these professed package under the glass bowl, and rapped on it and com-heavy and precious load, by what he judges the best road, the wonderful find made. and hurries at such gait as he thinks he can endure. No one assists him in packing or shouldering his burden, and he de of Home. He was invited into the homes of people like Serparts alone. After awhile, when he reaches the mountain geant Cox, William and Mary Howitt, J. C. Hall, and before steeps, he meets many stragglers who gather around him and the courts of Louis Napoleon and the Czar of Russia and are prolific of suggestions. "Why did you not start earlier? never a shadow of deception rested over him. He had no Why do you not go with the crowd? What is your idea of paraphernalia or confederates. The manifestations did not carrying your load on your right shoulder when you ought to always come, failing when he most desired them. The story ever occurred in the ranks of Spiritual- strap it on your back? Why do you not carry imitations of of these wonderful phenomena is given in "Incidents of My ism, a differentiation of world-wide im. the old style of goods? Why do you take this difficult road Life," which is as authentic as the words of Houdin. How when the other is smooth by long travel? Go our way and different were the manifestations of Home, will be seen in when you arrive."

> The weary man with honor only can say, "If you do not wish to assist me, have the honesty to stand aside and let me go my way to the place I intended."

The association has had to meet the open opposition of its enemies and carry the heavy burden imposed by its professed friends. Its methods may not be the best, but they have won a reasonably fair success. Those who have actively engaged in the work, are assured that a gain has been | top and then came gently down to its original position. Mr. made, though not perhaps in the full measure of their desire | Home felt something on his head and found it was a leaf. or expectations.

A great number have read the free literature sent out who would never have seen a line of it otherwise. Thousands have listened to the missionaries who would never have heard a word of the spiritual philosophy. These devoted workers have for a nominal salary, given their time and strength to the cause, and the societies they have organized are centers of influence uniting individual effort for common gain.

In ten years the association has grown into vigorous life. It has a splendid home at the Capital. It represents state feet above the height of the table." and local societies, and stands before the world as the representative of Spiritualism. If you are a friend of this movement; if you really desire to help it onward, do not stand fault-finding at the best efforts of others. If you can do better, join its forces and put your plans in practice as members and integral parts of the association. If you desire to stand say that the phenomena were all carefully examined and outside, and while professing deepest concern and sympathy, tested." It was after dinner. "Mr. Home said, I am growindulge in criticisms, which to say the least, are unfraternal, that also is your privilege. A brake is as necessary as a motor to a car-in its way.

The Association will live and grow in influence, because consolidation of individual efforts is essential for the best We carefully measured the extent of the elongation against individual growth. The organization in conjunction with the the wall. It showed eight inches." press, may become a great power for the extension of the spiritual philosophy of life here and hereafter.

carry with it but it is not obliged to reject what is valuable festations, and these instances are given, not as unique, but simply because held by other systems.

Spiritualism is a universal ecclesiasticism, gathering the from the devices of the common juggler. good and true from all religions, science and philosophy, reaping the harvest of the world's best. The creed of the association is demonstrated truth wherever found, and its object is the promulgation of this truth, for the betterment of its members and the world. HUDSON TUTTLE. de lla

Editor-at-Large N. S. A.

History is blography on a large scale.—Lamartine. Justice is the constant desire and effort to render every man his due.—Justinian. For a nation to love liberty, it is sufficient that she knows it; and to be free, it is sufficient that she wills it.-Lafayette. I have never in my recollection written or spoken words was but a natural step to develop the no criticism of the same will be admit- to an acquaintance, from indignation at the supposed wrongs ted to our columns, unless the above he had done me, for which I have not afterwards been deeply ashamed, if-not inconsolably sad.—S. P. Herron,

10 in

> I want every school-house to be a temple of science in which shall be taught the laws of nature, in which children shall be taught actual facts, and I do not want that schoolhouse touched or that institution of science touched by any superstition whatever. Leave religion with the church, with vidual heart and man.-Ingersell.

Scribner for May has an article on this subject in which scientific in his methods and unsound in his conclusions in

To prove this, he cites from the autobiography of Robert trick he there performed. By this he intends to show that the manifestations through the celebrated medium D. D. Home were also tricks, but less wonderful.

Houdin describes the trick and its performance, but like a true magician, covers it with mystery. He was given six days to prepare and make his arrangements. After the usual program, Houdin asked for six handkerchiefs from the ladies present. These he rolled into a package and placed on his table. He then passed blank cards, requesting each one to write thereon where he or she desired the handkerchiefs to be taken. After he had gathered the cards, he went to Louis Philippe and asked him to select three and then decide which one should designate the place where the handkerchiefs should be transferred.

The first said, under the candelabra; the second, in the dome of the Invalides; the third, in the box in which an orange tree was growing, the last one to the right, in the garden. The king selected the last. Houdin went to his table and placed a glass bowl over the package. After awhile he tapped on the bowl with his wand and commanded had taken its place. Sentinels were at once sent to guard the tree and the gardener called and ordered to search at the roots. He returned with an iron casket, eaten with rust. The king tried to open it but found it was locked. Houdin told him to take the key tied by a ribbon to the neck of the there with a parchment signed by Cagliostro, saying that he

This is the trick that a writer who rates himself so superior to Dr. Oliver Lodge that he feels qualified to crush him with an off-hand criticism, compares with the manifestations of Home as being more wonderful and "better authenticated," and "more abnormal." That is, Houdin was a confessed deceiver and Home was nothing more.

This trick of the magician, to one unacquainted with the art of legerdemain, is inexplicable and yet it is so simple that it is childish when explained. Houdin's son was his assistant. Before the performance the magician wrote the names When he gathered the cards he introduced the three among it in the "servant" or drawer. The real package was given to his son who at once hastened to the garden with which he manded it to go to the designated place. Then the king hur-A man sets out on a journey to a distant city, carrying a ries sentinels to the orange tree, the gardener is sent for and

Compare this with the least manifestation in the presence we will keep you company if you will give us all you have the following instances taken at random. They are on the authority of a correspondent of the Spiritual Magazine, youched for by the editor and nine members of the circle. The seance was held in a room into which the full moon poured its light.

"The window blind then commenced to move up and down -no one near it, evidently to tone the light; and while we were remarking the singularity of the phenomena, and how high it went, all looking at it, suddenly it sprung up to the Suddenly a leaf of a geranium was taken and dropped into the lap of a lady sitting at the table. After a pause, Mr. Home said he felt that he was about being lifted up; he moved from the table and shortly he said, 'I am rising," but we could not see him; "they have put me on my back." 1 asked, "Will you bring him as much as possible toward the window, so that we may see him?" and at once he was floated with his feet horizontally into the light of the window so we all saw his feet and a part of his legs floating on the air like a feather, about six feet from the ground, and three

This feat of levitation occurred many times and was carefully observed by men used to observation, and all saw it as absolute, and unaccountable.

The elongation of Mr. Home's body was never imitated by any magician. As described by Mr. Jenkins: "Suffice it to ing taller, and then the remarkable phenomenon of elongation was witnessed. It was repeated three times. The first time Mr. Home lengthened to about six feet, nine inches and then shortened below his normal height to about five feet.

It must be borne in mind that during these manifestations he was in an unconscious trance. Two volumes by himself Very little of the old forms and beliefs can the association and one by his wife, are filled with equally remarkable manifor the purpose of showing how entirely different they were

Almost every phase of manifestation came in the presence of Mr. Home. He sat with his friends without the least preparation. He had no apparatus. He disliked dark circles, holding that a light sufficient to make everything distinct, was not opposed to spirit power. He scorned to receive pay, and his seances were always free. He went to the court of Russia unknown except for his remarkable faculty. and by sterling worth of character won his way to the es teem of the highest officials. He married the cousin of Alex. Aksakof, Chancellor, and the Czar stood god-father to his son. No magician ever attempted to perform these manifestations under like conditions. Their bungling imitations were not even passable counterfeits.

> HUDSON TUTTLE, Editor-at-Large N. S. A.

Design, represented as a search after final cause, until we ome to a first cause, and then stop, is an argument, I contess, which in itself brings me no satisfaction,—Newman.

I believe that the best way to save the soul is to feed the body. I have more faith in one bag of potatoes given to the poor than I have in forty prayers asking God to clothe and feed them. We cannot always estimate grief from the the family, and, more than all, leave religion with each indi- amount of crape worn, nor by the height of the monument at the grave of the dead .- M. Babcock.

HEALING OF DISEASE.

Some Radical Thoughts From an Octogenarian,

The article in The Progressive Thinks er of June 13, page 8, copied from the Chicago Journal, upon the Pennsylvania Superior Court decision against the healing of disease by prayer, should, in my opinion, not go unchallenged, as the writer pronounces every one who does not admit the wisdom thereof an unreav sonable person, and him, who denies the value of medical and surgical science, a fanatic. He says "it seems incredible that there are many people in the world who by any twist of religion or reasoning deny the logic of this opinion, yet it is a fact that such people do exist in large numbers," etc. The writer of this article has evidently great faith in his own judgment, yet he fails to recognize the great difference between surgery and the practice of medicine.

Surgery, which has taken great strides in boldness of execution during the last few years, may justly be called a science, and is of inestimable value to the human family, though much of it is mechanical expertness, acquired and perfected solely by constant practice. It does not claim that by uniting a wound and preventing ingress of matter, or by excision of some diseased tissue it is performing a cure, but is simply assisting nature, which alone can heal both animal and vegetable iniuries.

The cure of disease by drugs, on the other hand, is a profession. The attending physician professes to cure the sick by administering drugs, well-knowing that almost all of them-yes, let us say all, have in his own and others' practice proved unreliable and disappointing. that a great majority of his patients would have got well without his treatment, and if he is honest with himself, that some did recover in spite of it.

It is true, the knowledge of the basic sciences of medicine, anatomy, physioloby, chemistry, hygiene with much of observation and experience, enable the intelligent physician to benefit sick mortals more than any one else, and should be employed in time of sickness, but when he makes his patient believe, as is almost universally done, that his life depends upon swallowing a certain drug, at certain stated hours, he teaches what is false and besmirches himself and his high and noble calling. As in external, so in internal disease, it is nature that cures and the empirical and unnatural drugs increase rather than allay the existing disturbance. And their baneful effect does not even stop here. but instills into the minds of ignorant mortals the unfortunte belief that health, which depends mainly upon the control of our vicious appetites and passions and a harmonious state of the mind can be secured and preserved by swallowing certain nostrums.

Who can tell how many lives have been made permanently wretched by stimulants and anesthetics, administered by physicians to allay some temporary pain or discomfort? The fact remains, that so far drugs, with a few, but doubtful exceptions, have done vastly more harm to the human family than good. Such being the case, and who but interested parties will deny it, the management in sickness by the doctor should be that of the captain of an ocean steamer, who, while unable to stay the storm-tossed waves, guides his ship to a harbor of safety. sels are lost in spite of his skill, and some lives will be lost, that should not, but fewer by far. I claim, than under the administration of unnatural, empirical and irritating substances, styled medi-

I have never since the war of the rebellion, when I saw so much harm done by doctors, who had not yet lost faith in drugs, employed a physician or taken any medicine, during any of my dis eases-three of which were of weeks' duration and nigh unto death-aside from what any intelligent nurse knows when and how to administer, and have under this tentative treatment reached the ripe age of 84 years and over, with a fair prospect of several years more, while others in my neighborhood, with the same disease, about the same time, with attending physicians galore, have ever since been resting peacefully in the grave.

Take your choice. And what, may the reader ask, is your method of cure? If the predicate. that nature alone possesses the power to heal wounds, and repair diseased or gans of the body, is correct, then that power is possessed to a certain degree by every mortal, for he is a product and a part of nature. That he does possess t, and that it can be developed and enlarged by will power, has been proven to me during the last few years, beyond any reasonable doubt, in numerous in-

I do not intend to fight the battles of Prayer Healers, Christian Scientists, etc.. for I do not believe their methods to be correct, but their rejection of lrugs is sound and true.

The writer of the Journal speaks of the marvels of medicine, which has been gradually developed for many centuries, and says he, a cult (of fanatics) deserves no recognition that steps in with the wave of the hand as it were and attempts to overthrow the whole system. Where and what is this marvel? Under all the different schools of medicine (itself a proof that it has not yet earned the honorable title of science) men get sick as they did hundreds of years ago, and as many die in infancy and middle age. If statistics should disprove the correctness of a part of this assertion, the improvement is surely not caused by invention of more efficacious nostrums, for all are sooner of later rejected and displaced by new ones whose fate will be the same, but by better understanding of the laws of health and our superior environments With higher and more practical education of the rising generation these will be still more improved, hygiene better observed and mankind will be freed from many forms of disease to which they are now subject. Let me assure the writer of the Journal that the syst tem as now practiced, will in time be overthrown by these despised anti-drug healers, who are the sappers and mine ers against this fortified castle of humbug. Then will cease the upreasons able hue and cry by ignorant and finan cially interested officials at the death of every patient who dies under prayer of mind treatment, while no notice taken of those who die under the hands of the regular faculty.

Xenia, Ohio. E. LINDNER.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC All money in donations or collection Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not di rectly paid to our authorized mission aries, who can show a missionary cen tificate of later date than October, 1902 No other is authorized to collect money for this association. Contributions large or small, are gratefully accepted MARY T. LONGLEY,

N. S. A. Secretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Wash ington, D. C.

MOSES HULL'S REPLY TO CRITIQUES ON THE MORRIS PRATT INSTITUTE.

To the Editor:-At the annual convention of the Morris Pratt Institute Association there was a vote passed, "That we ask our president, Moses Hull, to write and publish in the Spiritualist papers, an article correcting some of the errors concerning the Morris Pratt Institute and its work."

As a critique is, according to Webster, "a critical examination, dissertation or analysis of a thing," it is only by courtesy that many of the fulminations published with the apparent design of injuring the Morris Pratt Institute, and crippling its work, can be called critiques.

I may be permitted to preface my remarks with the statement that anonymous letter writers are neither brave nor wise—their effusions receive no attention from me. Occasionally, for amusement I read parts of such letters before committing them to the flames. Honorable ladies and gentlemen are never afraid nor ashamed to place their names to their offusions.

Paul was not far wrong when he said, "We can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth." The most of the guns which have been turned against the Morris Pratt Institute have been wrongly loaded; the danger from such is at their breech-never at the muzzle. When the smoke of battle has cleared away the Morris Pratt Institute will be found standing as firm as the rock of Gibraltar, and as serene as the sphinx of Egypt. Every word said against the Institute will eventually strengthen it in its work.

We have recently had our annual convention and meeting of the board of directors. All marveled at the work done by the Morris Pratt Institute both educationally and financially. The debt which "hangs like an incubus," is already reduced to seven hundred and fifty-five dollars and thirty-four cents. The building is in repair, and, with the exception of two or three bedrooms, is furnished throughout. Is it possible that those who began less than two years since, and have raised about six thousand dollars, and put the most of it in on improvements of the property, are after all that effort to be wither killed or scared by an "incubus" of less than eight hundred dollars. Those who thus judge our workers know little of the stuff of which they are made. The credit of the Institute is to-day good for ten times the amount of its indebtedness. Those who know it the best will trust it the

The supposition that the board of trustees can be held for the debts of the Institution is pure imagination, and has no foundation in fact. This I say after consulting the best lawwers in the state.

The students which some writers have represented as only six, and others as only ten, were fourteen in number. Our catalogue, just out, and which anyone can have for the asking, gives the names and addresses of each one of them. The publishing of this catalogue was the driving of a stake from which to measure. From a class of only fourteen in 1902-3 to one of that many hundred in twenty to fifty years is an excellent showing. 'The school under proper management, and with the co-operation of those who need it, will grow in that or a greater ratio. Opposition based on ignorance of what the school is and does, will, like a mad serpent sting itself to death. If we have all the students who have promised to be here the next term we shall have over fifty. We, however, count no students until they are on the grounds.

Our captious critics all seem to be "friends," at least they say they are. Who was it that prayed, "God deliver me from my friends"? Well these "friends," who have undertaken to write the school down, in order to save a home for poor mediums, have evolved the most of the facts which they use. out of their own inner consciousness. Very few of them will wash.

If Mr. Francis' questions had not been quite thoroughly answered by Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Peck, I twould take them up seriatim. As it is, I will only refer to a few points. With regard to the "large committee of learned Spiritualists" to get up a curriculum for the school, I vote yes, every time. Will Brother Francis please select that committee? I have only one favor to ask, that is, let that "Committee of learned Spiritualists" be composed of tnen and women who have interest enough in the Morris Pratt School, to, at least become members of the association which is responsible for its existence.

One anonymous writer, from Waukesha, wants the books of the institution overhauled. Our books have ever been of a Spiritualistic teacher."—Geo. F. Perkins. tonen to the public; it is only thirty miles distant. Why hid not he or she ask to see our books before rushing into print with insinuations? This party will search a great while before he or she finds a cent of his or her money misappropriated. Very little has come from Waukesha, and that not from anonymous writers. The interest of this writer is, no doubt, wholly on behalf of others.

Mrs. Clara Watson, who again joins the crusade of faultfinders, "once upon a time," through the columns of The Progressive Thinker, selected better men for the officers of the Morris Pratt Institute, than those who now fill that position. I seconded her motion and offered to help her elect them; but, alas! her interest was not deep enough to induce her to become a member of the Association, nor to do anything in Its behalf beside to put up an occasional growl at its workers. One man, who favors Brother Francis' "large committee," was "once upon a time," so much interested in a school that he assisted it with a cool three hundred dollars. If his interest had not run out, that man would be an excellent one to put on as chairman of Brother Francis' "large committee of learned Spiritualists." His interest in this school has not yet reached deep enough to lead him to assist, by as much as one cent, to aid those who are sacrificing their all to make this school a success.

This man ought to be teacher of the Homiletic class. He is the man to tell that class just how high to raise the hand when one pronounces the word God. As he decides that the Morris Pratt Institute is no more needed than "the fifth wheel to a wagon," perhaps his interest will hardly justify his taking a position on Brother Francis' committee. Doctor's interest is on the rapid decline. On Nov. 7, 1902, he wrote me a beautiful letter, one that I prize highly; in that letter he says, "I am deeply in sympathy with your educational movement, which centers in Whitewater, and I can see only success in that line of work so needful." [As needful "as the fifth wheel to a wagon."]

Good for our grand old Brother Peebles. What a pity that his interest did not last until warm weather set in. He might have helped us.

As to the question about what the public schools teach, and do not teach, that is nothing here nor there. Mr. Francis knows, and others ought to know, that in the public schools few of the studies are elective. In a few cases students may take their choice between two studies, neither of which is needed to fit our students for their work. I submit that it is not just to refuse students the lessons they may need to fit them for their work unless they take a four years' course in a curriculum not desired. There are many studies which may be important to others and yet not necessary to fit a person to work on our platforms. Besides that, our most important studies are not taught in the public schools. Even if they were, we have and expect to have students who could not be admitted into the public schools. I think that if Brother Francis will visit our school next fall or winter he will find students there between forty and sixty years old. Such can find no place in our grammar schools non in our

*Brother Harrison D. Barrett writes an able article. The only real point of difference between him and the managers of the Morris Pratt Institute is where he says, "I can see no objection to making the standard of admission to a Spiritual. Istic school a very high one, even requiring that the pupils should all be high school or academy graduates ere they sought admission therein."

Here is one of the very few places where Brother Barrett and I part company, I see no reason why we should eterthrough no fault of their own, falled to get such as educa. In the equipment of platform teachers, the Morris Pratt tion as is now offered to the young people of America. The training school is no necessary to their acquirement. principles of grammar, rhetoric, and many other common school studies, can be taught in the Morris Pratt Institute as well as elsewhere. Why cannot those who are beyond the high school age come and learn these necessary branches? Will Brother Barrett or somebody else tell us? We work for such and invite them to our school. Please, some of you critics, show us wherein we are wrong.

The editorial in The Progressive Thinker which questions my sanity may be more than half right; on that point I will offer no defense. What I said that leads the editor to think that I have "run off the track of common sense," is, however, true. We are to-day losing ground everywhere because of the ignorant platitudes in which many of our speakers deal. Good old Father Conger thinks that I have "hauled fifteen millions of Spiritualists over the coals." That all depends on two things; the first is, whether our pretended statisticians are correct in reporting the number of Spiritualists in the United States, and the second is whether Brother Francis was correct in his estimate that Spiritualists, in order to care for our old and worn-out speakers and mediums, let the Morris Pratt Institute go to the wall. If the number of Spiritualists should fall some fourteen millions short of the fifteen million estimate, or rather the guess of those who report the numbers, or, if Spiritualists should find themselves able to assist our few worn-out workers, and at the same time take care of the Morris Pratt Institute, then the "hauling over the coals" applies to the supposed statisticians, and to Brother Francis' guesses-not to Spiritualism. I know Spiritualists of the United States do not number two miliions, and I know that they are both able and willing to care for worn-out workers, and assist in preparing others to do the work of Spiritualism. Hereafter, I will have to label my "goaks," as Artemas Ward said, so that Brother Conger can understand them. I will now say that true Spiritualists will sustain the Morris Pratt Institute, and will at the same time care for all deserving mediums.

Brother Francis thinks we should select and send to school those who have an aptitude for the work they are expected to do. So do I. Now I will ask Brother Francis: Do you know one young gentleman or one young lady who is adapted to the work and who needs an education? If so, select and send such a person along; if not, write to Brother W. F. Peck; he knows of several. I know many such, and have thus far, at my own expense kept one in the Morris Pratt Institute. I shall continue to do so. Will Brother Francis, through The Progressive Thinker, and otherwise, encourage others to follow that example. If so, and if others will fail into line and do such a work, we will be compelled to double the capacity of our school buildings as well as to look out for more teachers.

If Brother Peebles will give us a little financial aid I will give him the pledge of the managers of the Morris Pratt Institute that our Homiletic class will not be subject to the charges he brings against the one in which he graduated. If Brother Conger, or Sister Watson will each send a student or two I will enter into bonds that this shall not be a sectarian school

Come, you great Spiritualistic reformers, do something more than to stand back and object. You misrepresent yourselves; you have talents for something higher and better than that. The work you are now doing is beneath you. Take hold of this educational work, and thus gain the right to file your objections.

Let us unite and make the Morris Pratt Institute what it should be, the equal of any school in the world. I am ready and willing to step down and out of it, if you desire; will you step in or see that others take hold and do the work needed? If you will, I promise to contribute not less than one hundred dollars per year to assist you in your work. I further promise to visit the school occasionally, so that when I complain I will know what I am talking about. Now if you refuse to take hold of this work, please do not stand outside and put the brakes on the wheels of educational progress.

EDUCATE, BUT DO NOT QUENCH.

'The Letter Killeth, but the Spirit Maketh Alive."

'An educated medium may enhance his value as a teacher; but a book worm without mediumship, depreciates the value

"The public worker needs the education of our earthly schools, as well as the education that comes direct from spiritual sources, to properly equip him for public work,"-Jas. C. Underbill.

"There is not absolutely one out of five who has graduated in our present school system that understands the plainest principles of orthography."—D. W. Hull.

"Out of all the college graduates, very few, if any, would be capable of expressing anything but the most common platitudes."-Ibid.

"Nothing pure or true, good or lofty can be advocated without antagonizing the Bible * * * Spiritualism is too pure and exalting, too grand, ennobling, beautifying and practical to need the impure, the vile and impractical to uphold it."-Clara Watson

"What we most need is more internal spiritual lives and less external show and aping. The thinkers havn't any more use for a sectarian college than for churches and their rotten deceptive methods."-Dr. M. E. Conger.

"There should be a spiritual side to all instruction; and in my experience of seven years as a teacher of district and high schools, I am in a position to declare that the spiritual impress is largely wanting."—Harrison D. Barrett.

"Educated Spiritualists have for years deserted the aver age Spiritualist meeting because of the illiteracy of the speakers, and their cry has been for educated teachers. If the public schools could furnish them why have we not had them?"-Clara L. Stewart.

"Is it necessary to a large class of students as mediums and speakers for the platform, when we have our veteran workers, cultured, refined, logical and eloquent, who are vainly seeking remunerative employment? * * * I also believe that any sensitive or medium who wishes to improve in grammar, rhetoric, deportment, can do so without the necessity of attending college or other public institutions."-Mary T. Longley.

"We must rally around the flag of Spiritualism and do what is best for the good of the cause."—Will J. Erwood.

"In my estimation the grandest thing about our philosophy is that we are allowed to think freely * * * * and above all to remain untrammeled by creedalism."-Ibid.

These excerpts from the writings of leading thinkers who have expressed their views on the Morris Pratt School, and kindred subjects, in late issues of The Progressive Thinker. are, I think, representative and impressive.

A critical survey of these outlines will give the thoughtful observer a fair estimate of the attitude and trend of thought dominating this brilliant symposium. There seems little left to be said on the subject; but much, perhaps, to be digested. A tout ensemble of these varied expressions may be helpful as a means of concentration, and a short summing up of the various views contributed from the bright minds so vigorously differing yet so generally agreeing on the most vital questions. With one accord education is endorsed, and Spiritualism sustained. Bad grammar and worse logic are deplored, especially when they are made conspicuous upon the spiritual platform. The Bible does not appear to have many worshipers in this symposium. The present and future seem to hold the most promise, and inspire the most interest.

While education is admittedly important, it is not indispensable to the exercise of spiritual gifts, and may be an obstacle to the best psychic results. This, of course, depends a good deal upon the kind, or quality, and how attained. But,

The prevailing thought seems to be that this school is a sectarian, theological institution. I do not so understand it. But it is admittedly a "training school." For what does it train? Not, as I understand it, for a theological catechism, or a dogmatic religious creed, but to qualify speakers in the art of expression, to fit them for the ministry of Spiritualism. Is this a necessity for the desired revival, and as a means to attract educated people and interest scholars and thinkers?

I think not. The tendency for the past twenty years has been to give the best speakers and most inspiring orators a second place, and the class of uncultured, superficial, and sensational advocates has been in greater demand.

How the Morris Pratt School is to perform the magical leat of changing the dehiand, by adding to the already overlarge supply of educated speakers, is the conundrum. But, admitting the need of more qualified speakers, how is this school to provide them? There are no trained ministers, who are not naturally inspired orators, that compare with the best speakers on the spiritual rostrum, who depend chiefly, if not entirely upon the moving of the spirit, and who seldom prepare a discourse in advance of its delivery. On this point Brother Moses Hull is heterodox. I have heard him on several occasions say that "no speaker has any right to insult an audience by going before them empty-headed." That "any speaker ought to be ashamed to appear before an audience without having his discourse thoroughly committed and knowing every word he was going to say." But in the audience were several speakers, who almost invariably go on to the platform without even an outline of the discourse they were to deliver. In fact, the best speaking I have ever heard has been this impromptu class and some of them—if not the majority-never had even a liberal common school education, and none of them had graduated from a training school. Where will we find among the trained ministers-except a few of the inspired ones like Beecher, Chapin and Brooksthe equals of Seiden J. Finney, Franklin L. Wadsworth, Mrs. E. L. Watson, Lizzie Doten, A. B. French, Walter Howell, Nellie T. J. Brigham, Mary T. Longley, Mrs. F. O. Hyzer, J. Clegg Wright, Fanny Burbanks, Willard J. Hull, --- Felton, Mrs. M. J. Wilcoxen, Cora L. V. Richmond, Mrs. Russegue, Sarah Byrnes, Elizabeth Harlow, J. J. Morse, Anna L. Gillespie, O. P. Kellogg, Clara Watson, Jennie Hagan Brown, L. V. Moulton, Abbie E. Sheets, W. J. Colville, Harrison D. Barrett, Dr. J. M. Peebles, Addie L. Ballou, George A Fuller, and still the list is not full. A few of these are scholars and have had the benefit of superior schools; but I think all of them are what may be called inspirational; and most of them go before their audiences without being "loaded down with their subject," or even having a full outline of it prepared; and as a rule the less preparation the better the speech, if they have the conditions for free inspiration.

I have heard many of the grammatical breaks, as well as the logical absurdities from the platform and they seriously mar the best efforts; but they are not limited to the ignorant. I have noted them in the prepared speeches of supposed scholars. Just after reading D. W. Hull's remarkable statement that "there is not absolutely one out of five who has graduated in our present school system that understands the plainest principles of orthography," and that "out of all the college graduates, very few if any would be capable of expressing anything but the most common platitudes," I read in the Science News, the views of Prof. Oliver Lodge, on life, and a criticism on the same by Dr. Hobson, of Chester College, Cambridge, England, in which the following oc-

"Considering that the motion of all the parts of any mechanical system are completely and uniquely determinate, by means of the law of energy and other mechanical laws, it seems difficult to understand how room is left for supplementing these laws, or how the psychic can interfere in a mechanical system, without transversing them." Here is a college professor-if, correctly reported-saying "motion are!" As well say "apples-is," "Moses are," "I are." I once heard a college professor and linguist repeat from a lecture he had published, this phrase, "Of they," and he repeated it several times, which left no room for supposing it was a slip

But if college graduates and professors make such blunders, what reason is there to suppose the graduates of the "training school" will do any better?

But I believe the Morris Pratt School grow into something that may be of great advantage to the world. Not as a sectarian college, or "training school," for the purpose of manufacturing ministers that have no demand in the spiritual market, nor to exploit Bible Exegesis, or Homiletics. These might have an incidental place, but the need is for a broad-gauge, high-toned, scientific and classic college, differing from all others in that it should be equal or superior to the best now existing, with the added advantages of a thorough system of psychic study that should include all that is known of the spiritual, and ample facilities for extending this knowledge indefinitely by the most approved methods and scientific thoroughness. But while the exchequer is taxed beyond its capacity for other pressing needs the school can wait.

I do not think the appeal for help to equip a training school will greatly enthuse the pockets of Spiritualists. Not because they are indifferent to the cause, or to education; but because they do not see in the present status of the Morris Pratt School much promise for either,

By all means let us encourage education, not alone for speakers, but for all; but in no case let the fire of inspiration be quenched. The formalities and mechanical discipline for the manufacture of Spiritual ministers, is almost sure to stifle and chill the "spirit that maketh alive," especially when it is dominated with the idea that all platform work must be prearranged, memorized, and repeated, parrotlike, by the properly trained machine. No such mechanical oratory ever equals the spontaneous outpouring of a truly inspired lium. I hope the Morris Pratt School will find the n support, and will evolute into a representative collect will lead all others into the world; for nearly all sci tre dominated by a sectarian spirit.

LYMAN C. HOWE.

TIME'S MYSTIC MEASURE.

Forever and forever does time's "mystic measure" roll. And thus must ever measure all things-all things but the soul! The soul's far-off beginnings unknown to sense or time,

It's glorious destination, the heights of life sublime, Is endless in duration; beginningless the same. A spark of being ever joined with the eternal flame. Full many a thing there is to be gauged by time and space, For everything in nature seems just fitted to its place; All things come in season, all things come most opportune, Nothing ever comes too tardy, nothing ever comes too soon, But all proceed in order from tiny mite to mighty sun, And all must keep their time and place as round and round they run:

And unto each and all doth time allot the proper gauge-To some a moment only, to some a lingering age. She holds the "scales of justice" to all who've lived or died, And none have cause to murmur, for none she's e'er denied: She mother of all the living, builder of all that stands. Destroyer of all that's fallen-all must move at her commands; And thus her "mystic measure" through all things ever winds.

On this earthly side of being all earthly things she binds: She loosens all from thraidom, unfetters all that's bound. But leaves the soul in freedom, its source and end unfound, -0. W. Barnard.

We should impart to others our courage and not our despair, our health and ease, and not our disease.—Thoreau, While there coexist two ways of life so radically opposed nally doom to ignorance those who in their young days, while good grammar and correct logic, are essential factors come properly adapted to either.—Herbert Spencer, as the militant and the industrial, human nature cannot be-

DAMNABLE DOCTRINES.

Presbyterlanism, Ghostly and Black as Ever.

The glad shout echoing through the press a short time since that the Presbyterians in council at Los Angeles, Cal., had by a large majority vote revised their 17th century confession of faith, proved to be a false cry.

The old Presbyterian creed of the Calvinists stands before the mirror of this 20th century in all its ghostly horrors of damnation for the non-elect-damnation for the non-elect infant, partially concealed under the euphonious phrase, "a declaratory statement." This revision committee's declaratory, or explanatory "statement," voted upon and passed at the late Presbyterian convocation in Los Angeles, did not amend or touch the ecclesiastical heart of the Presbyterian creed. This is already causing discussing and dissension in the churches. One of the most distinguished Presbyterian preachers, the Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson, put the case thus squarely: "It (the declaratory statement) is not to be a substitute for nor an alternative to the confession. The old and fine form of subscription to the confession remains without one iota's alteration in word or spirit. We shall still receive and adopt the confession of faith of our church as containing the system of doctrine taught in Holy Scripture. But this brief statement of the "reformed" faith will help all men to a better understanding of what our doctrinal beliefs really are." '

"The revision committee did not recommend any change in the text of the third chapter of the 'Confession of Faith,' dealing with the matter of election, but contented themselves with adding a declaratory statement.

No amount of euphemism can change the meaning of the words, 'By the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestined unto everlasting life, and others preordained to everlasting death."

"So with regard to the article in the tenth chapter, which runs, 'all elect infants dying in infancy are saved.' The straight and simple way would have been to strike out the word 'elect,' and have made the article read, 'all infants dying in infancy are saved.' What the revisers did was to retain the old expression and to explain it, or rather explain it away."

Remember, that these are the words of an eminent Presby terian preacher high up in church propagandism.

The New York Sun in writing of this pretended revision, says: "The Presbyterian agitation over revision during the past fifteen years may be said to have come to nothing deserving of respectful consideration."

"We are told that after the revision had been adopted so unanimously 'half an hour was spent in prayer and praise for the work accomplished'; but the accomplishment does not seem to have been enough to justify any such demonstration of satisfaction by an assembly of intellectual men. Dr. Van Dyke, speaking with great impressiveness, said he wished to make it clear, especially to the brethren of the press,' that this revision does not mean that the Presbyterian church has changed her base one inch."

The Chicago Post, not behind the New York press, thus states the whole case in a nutshell: "The Presbyterian Confession has not been revised even in the changing of a single

The above position requires a clear and condensed statement of the Presbyterian confession of faith. Before me lie the longer and the shorter catechism of the Presbyterians; also the "Constitution of the Presbyterian Church," published in Philadelphia (city of the famous Seybert Commission-a commission that "gobbled" the money without honorably investigating spiritism, as intended by Mr. Seybert).

Here is a portion of the Presbyterian creed, or confession "By the decree of God, for the manifestation of His glory some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting life and others foreordained to everlasting death.

"These angels and men, thus predestinated and foreordained, are particularly and unchangeably designed, and their number is so certain and definite that it cannot be either increased or diminished. "Those of mankind that are predestinated into life, God before the foundations of the world were laid, bath chosen in Christ unto everlasting glory out of his mere free grace and love, without any foresight or faith or good works, or preference in either of them, or any other thing in the creature, as conditions."

After their collegiate course, and when Preshyterian ministers are ordained, they are asked this question by the pres-

"Do you sincerely receive and adopt the confession of faith of this church?" etc. They answer in the affirmative, and the following are some of the doctrines taught in the confession of faith of this church:

"God by an eternal and immutable decree hath chosen some men to eternal life, and also, according to his sovereign nower. He hath passed by and forcordained the rest to dishonor and wrath (page 165).

"The punishments of sin in the world to come are everlasting separation from the comfortable presence of God, and the most grievous torments in soul and body, without intermission, in hellfire forever (page 175).

"At the day of judgment the wicked shall be set on Christ's left hand, and thereupon shall be cast into hell, to be punished with unspeakable torments, both of body and soul, with the devil and his angels forever (the larger catechism, page 219).

The end of God's appointing this judgment day is for the manifestation of the glory of his mercy in the eternal salvation of the elect, and in the damnation of the reprobate. These reprobates shall be cast into eternal torments and be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and the glory of his power" (page 152).

Here, then, we have Presbyterianism straight; that "men by the fall lost communion with God," and so "under his wrath and curse," are "made liable to all the miseries of this life, to death itself, and to the pains of hell forever"-tormented "soul and body in hellfire forever"-the "unspeakable torments of hell with the devil and his angels" and the "damnation of the reprobate." Now, honestly, do Presbyterian ministers believe these doctrines of reprobation, doctrines of damnation in hellfire forever? or do they > "Smooth down the rugged text to ears polite, And snugly keep damnation out of sight?"

They certainly struggle in their sermons to keep "damna tion" out of sight. They are either ashamed or afraid to preach their heaven-dishonoring, suicide-causing doctrines. My venerable grandfather, fearing that he was not one of the "elect," became insane, and on a Sunday morning committed suicide. These Presbyterian doctrines are simply "damnable." J. M. PEEBLES, M. D.

Battle Creek, Mich.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

Woe, woe to the day, and thrice woe to the people, when the religious power can compel the civil.—American Sentinel. The training of men is the greatest factor in civilization. and nature plays the greatest part in it.—H. W. Mable.

Applaud us when we run, console us when we fall, cheer us when we recover, but let us pass on-for God's sake-let us pass on.—Burke.

The attempts which Paley and others have made to solve this mystery [design in nature] by rising from the laws to the cause, are evidently futile, because to the eye of reason the solution is as incomprehensible as the problem.—Buckle.

Nor can I readily perceive the difference in principle between those ministers of the gospel who themselves gird on the sword, as in the olden time, and those who, unarmed and in customary suit of solemn black, lend the sanction of their presence to the martial array, or to any form or preparation for war,—Charles Sumner. 13 P. S.

Restores Eyesight.

Actina," a Wonderful Discovery Which Cures Diseased Eyes, No Matter Whether Chronic or Acute, Without Cut-

There is no need for cutting, drugging or probing the eye for any form of disease, for a ew system of treating afflictions of the eye has ting or Drugging.

of the eye through this grand discovery, when eminent oculists termed the cases incurable Here are the names and addresses of a few test cases and the names of the diseases cured: Miss Reed, 500 Prospect Ave., Kansas City, Mo., eye sight restored. Robert Baker, 80 Dearborn St., Chicago, 111., blindness prevented. A. O. T. Pennington, Mass. Bidg., Kausas City, Mo., catar auts cured. W. W. Lauber, Aledo, Ill., astigma tism cured. R. W. Randall, Chicago, Ill., blind ness prevented. W. W. Owen, Adrian, Mo., blindness prevented. General Alex. Hamilton,

Tarrytown, N. Y., neuralgia of eyes cured. Hundreds of other names can be sent on application, "Actina" is purely a home treatment and self-administered by the patient, and is sent on trial, post paid. If you will send your name and address to the New York and London Elsotric Ass'n, Dept.T, 929 Walnut St., Kansas City. Mo., you will receive absolutely free a valuable book, Prof. Wilson's Treatise on the Eye and

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinker, as printed at the top of the first page, right hand corner. If this number corresponds with the figures on your wrap-per, then the time you have paid for has expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is advanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

KEEP POSTED

In Current Spiritualistic and Occult

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. The Philo-ophy and the Spiritualistic and Occult phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can afford to be without the paper. Its price is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old, Or the World's Progress in Thought. By Moses Hill. An excellent work by this veteran writer and thinker. Price, 10 cents.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two Worlds.

Elevating, Fascinating, Instructive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing is exceptionally interesting. She well says: "These characters which have brought out the highest and lowest in different religious beliefs, have moved me, not I them." The whole book is tateresting, fascinating, and instructive. Price $1.00

A. SCHOPENHAUER ESSAYS.
Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth, 75 cents. "Schopenhauer is one of the few philosophers who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is; and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life. This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."—Translator.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut. Taken from the Code of 1650, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1655, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in Now England. Some extracts from the Plue I awa of Virginia. Price 25 cents

THE MISSING LINK IN MODERN SPIRITUALISM.

By A. Leab Underhill, of the Fox Family.

Interesting and valuable as a history of the beginning of Modern Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Sisters, 478 Pages, 16 illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. Illistory of the Hydesville rappings, as related by eye-witnesses; remarkable and well-attested manifestations; the 'exposures,' etc. Hand-tomely bound in cloth, But few copies remaining. Publishers' price, $1.50. We will send the book post-paid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES,

By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggle for life. By Charles Darwin. Gilt top, cloth bound. This book is tag grandest achievement of modern selentific thought and research. It has passed through many editions in English, has been translated into almost all the languiges of Europe, and has been the subject of men reviews, pamphiets and separate books than any other volume of the age. Most of the great scientists of things fully support his position. The thought of this took has become a part of the common inheritance of the race. For sale at this office. Price 75 cts.

THE OTHER WORLD AND THIS. THE UTIEK WUKLU AND THES. A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. 1. New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinces the powers of a trained thinker, both in matter of thought and fine literary style, and capability of thought expression. The subjects are well handled with conciseness and yet with clearness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning Spiritualism and its teachings. Price $1.50.

THE SOUL OF THINGS; Or Psychometric Researches and Discoveries. By Wm. and Elizabeth M. F. Denion. A maryelous work. Though concise as a text book it is as fascinating as a work of fiction. The reader will be amazed to see the curious facts here combined in support of this power of the human mind, which will resolve a thousand doubts and difficulties, make geology plain as day, and throw light on all subjects now absoured by time. Price. 8i.50. In three volumes, cloth bound, $1.50 each. Postage, 10c per copy.

Molecular Hupothesis of Nature: The Relation of its Principles to Continued Ex-istence and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism. By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper, 24 cents.

OUTSIDE THE CATES and other tales and sketches. By a band of spirit in-telligences, through the medium-ship of Mary Therese Shelhamer. An excellent work. Price, $1.00. For sale at this office.

THE FOUNTAIN OF LIFE.
Or The Threefold Power of Sex. By Lois Watsoker. Price, 50 cents.

.. GENERAL SURVEY ..

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS, DOINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS.—Each contributor is alone responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor allows this freedom of expression, believing that the cause of truth can best subserved thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly understood that our space is inadequate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire to do so. That must account for the non-appearance of YOUR article.

WRITE PLAINLY.—We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linotype machine that must make speed equal to about four compositors. That means rapid work, and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other requirements being favorable, should be with ink on white one side of the paper.

ITEMS,-Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occupy, and in order to do that they will generally have to be abridged more or less; otherwise many items would be crowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line item is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the write. It will not do to say that Secretary or Correspondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep coples of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned if we have not space to use them.

E. J. Bowtell has open time for lecture engagements season, 1903-4. He may be addressed during July and August, Pine Grove, Niantic, Conn. Home address, Box 82. Olneyville, R. I.

Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary of the Southern Cassadaga Camp nt Lake Helen, Fla., has been very ill for some time. She will go East this week for her health. She will answer all correspondence in regard to the camp as soon as she is able.

Charles V. Schmidt writes from Milwaukee. Wis.: "Mr. Max Hoffmann has just closed a very successful three months' engagement with the Unity Spiritual Society and the many old and new friends of the cause regret that the season has drawn to a close. It is certainly a great privilege to be the message-bearer from the celestial realms. and we trust that he may long continue to bring light and comfort to mankind, and lead them onward to a higher and trucr conception of life and its responsibilities."

Dr. Freedman, the excellent Australian healer, and his wife arrived in the city last week from California. enjoyed their visit to the Pacific coast exceedingly well. Mrs. Freedman is a fine test medium. They will go from here to Reed's Lake Camp, Grand Rapids, Mich., where they can be addressed

Dr. Beverly writes: "Lakeside Hall was packed to hear Dr. Beteiro last Sunevening, lecture on the Secrets of Occultism. Every Sunday afternoon and evening the best talent is at the hall to instruct you in the true way of life. We also had a young soldier from the Philippines, who has lately devel-Sunday. All are invited to a union picnic, Saturday afternoon, August 8, 2 p. m., at Jackson Park. Banquet will be served between 4 and 5 p. m. All medisic speaking etc. will entertain you Take Jackson Park car, go to end of the line. Walk east to lake to the German building. The shade is lovely, plenty cises in case of rain. Don't forget this date. Let us get acquainted with the good in each one and enjoy the presence and power of the spirit forces. Bring your lunch. Everything will be free, including lemonade. etc. Astrologers, palmists and psychics of all kinds will answer questions and bring greetings from your angel friends." Thomas Brim, of Birmingham, Eng., ays: "The thought that we have all of us lived before comes quite naturally to a great many people, and yet to oth ers the idea seems to be one that is very hard for them to accept when they first come to think of the matter and to study the wisdom religion. 'Yes, the teaching is very beautiful,' some say, but we have had enough of this life and do not want to come back.' Now, this is not a matter of what we want, or, with our limited knowledge, of what we think we want to do. It is a matter of what is the law and of what is necessary for our evolution.'

Jessie S. Pettit Flint says: "There seems to be a growing tendency on the part of some of our investigators, scientists and divines to accept facts and shrink from conclusions. Many of these same noted gentlemen have been se verely scored (unjustly to our mind) for so doing. It is one thing to believe and another thing to be. A man may believe that a communication comes from a decarnate, accept it fully, and yet that belief does not make him a Spiritualist—any more than a belief in Christ makes a man a Christian. It is the development of the Christ principle within, the unfolding of the spiritual nature, that makes a man a Christian or a Spiritualist, and it is in accordance with the degree of this unfoldment that a man loses his sectarianism, becomes brotherly, charitable and brave. How can a man be brave without the bravery is within him? And this only comes through the unfoldment of the higher or spiritual, nature—a bravery that dares do and be as well as believe, a bravery that stands unflinchingly for truth, whatever the consequences. Belief does not alter truth, but truth does change belief, and it does take good moral courage and high spiritual unfoldment to sometimes avow one's convictions, to boldly step out and say, I am, as well as I believe. Now until a man attains sufficient courage to do so, do not censure

Will J. Erwood writes: "For the last time before the opening of the Waukesha camp-meeting, I would like to call the attention of all Spiritualists to the camp. Nowhere is there to be found a city more famed than Waukesha, nor one that offers greater advantages to the sight-seer and camper. In presenting the talent secured for this camp, our association feels assured that it best to be secured in this country." For casion, with Mrs. Atcheson, Mrs, Reyling, 1 this reason, we feel that no one will noids is state missionary for the adingly.

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

make a mistake by coming to this year's camp. The camp opens July 17, and closes August 17, thus affording a full month's outing. Everything has been done to make this camp attractive and comfortable. The tents are new, and the grounds clean and cheerful The meetings will be held in a large tent, especially designed for such pur-poses. While this is one of the new camps there will be found nothing but that which is the equal of other camps. We have first-class speakers and test paper, or with a typewriter, and only on mediums, and of a class which leaves no question as to its reliability. Among the many advantages is the new bridge across the Fox Rixer, which brings the celebrated White Rock springs within a few minutes' walk of the camp-grounds. Everything that is needed can be found on the grounds. Good tent accommodations; a fine restaurant; refreshment stand; weekly excursions to the points of interest will add to the attractiveness of your visit here. Read over the list of notable workers and mediums who will be in attendance, and then come and enjoy yourself. Among them are Rev. Moses Hull, Mrs. Mattie Hull, Catherine McFarlin, Mrs. S. M. Lowell, Rev. T. Grafton Owen, Miss Agnes Chaffee, Miss Alfa Bullock, Clara L. Stewart and Will J. Erwood. Also Mrs. Eva McCoy and several others whose names do not appear on the programs. Send for program and particulars, or send > at Waukesha, Wis." Dr. G. B. Warne writes: "Mrs. M. E. Burgett, the colored medium, has returned to Chicago from a Topeka trip. and is again rushed with work, at 3156 State street. Her powers of clairvoyance and clairaudience when entranced, are of a high degree. Her friends all hope that she will not allow them to become impaired by overuse, but strengthen them by judgment in the amount of work she tries to do. It is rare to have strangers referred to her get other than satisfaction. Only yesterday a business man, who believed in letting the dead alone, came from a sitting with her, almost moved to tears by the interview with departed members of his own family. Genuine work wears. Mrs. Carrie Wolf writes from Louisville, Ky.: "As so many of our members of the Association for Spiritual Culture are unable to attend the camps, we have decided to continue our meetings during the summer. Our meeting last Sunday evening was a thorough success. Our medium, Mrs. Annie Throndsen, who is also our lecturer, delivered an excellent discourse; subject 'A Search for God.' About forty tests were given, and all recognized. Indeed I think we should feel quite encouraged for the great interest shown. Many of the Spiritualists of our city are going to the camps, with a view of learning more of this beautiful philosophy, and I hope to attend Lily Dale. and Chesterfield, with Mrs. Throndsen."

and secure tent at once. Address me

Dr. G. B. Warne writes: "Some three years ago Associated Press dispatches reported the well-known medium, Adah Sheehan Horman, involved in questionhla h vermed oped three phases of mediumship, and tails of the transaction and result of her is wonderful. He will be with us next trial in court never reached me, or were passed unnoticed. Copies of the Ohio Penitentiary News, of June 27 and July 4, reveal the fact that she is an inmate of that prison. She is editress of Facts, ums are especially invited to come and Frills and Frivolities from the Female enjoy a day of recreation. Special mu- Prison, contributes a thirty-six line poem on the Poor Little Hobo Dog; and on behalf of the female prisoners made presentation of a testimonial to retiring Warden Darby in an address described of water, and room inside for all exer- in another department of the issue as a 'literary and elocutionary gem; poetic gems of her own creation and some borrowed from others, fell in easy grace from the talented lips of the speakers. Old friends and fellow-workers will send only kind thoughts to our sister in misfortune, and hope that this talented woman was more sinned against than sin-

Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond and Mr. Richmond returned from Baraboo, Wis., July, 1, after a most enjoyable visit, and one fraught with great spiritual bap-tism. Mrs. Richmond's guides gave nine public discourses, and held four private meetings. At all of these questions were answered, and at the latter "name poems" were given by, Ouina. Almost immediately on her return to Rogers Park, Mrs. Richmond was called to Fort Wayne, Ind., to officiate at a funeral, July 5. A large concourse of people were assembled to listen to the address. The deceased, Mr. Martin H. Wefel, was a very prominent citizen and a devoted Spiritualist and reformer. Mrs. Richmond's summer engagements are as follows: Cleveland, Ohio, July 9 to 16; Corry, Pa., July 17 to August 7; Mantua, Ohio, August 9 to 16 inclusive; Niantic, Conn. August 23; Onset, Mass., the remainder of August; Central and Western New York (Cuba) September 1 to the 14th. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond will return to Chicago in time for the opening of the regular services of the Church of the Soul, September 20.

Mrs. L. L. Curtis writes from Lake Brady, Ohio: "The Lake Brady Spiritualists Camp Association opened its twelfth annual session, Sunday July 5, in its own home, under a tent surround ed by tall trees and graceful foliage that nature has so kindly decorated the little spot with. In the large assembly sat the contented, those who know the other spheres of life, can talk to the First, and those who desire to be contented through hearing something that tells their own are not lost to them, and can look through the thin veil between them. After the welcome to all to the new home by the chairman, Mrs. Anna L. Gillespie, of San Francisco, Cal., uttered a prayer for the uplifting of Spiritualists and Spiritualism. The assembly then joined the choir in singing 'America,' that is so dear to the hearts of all true Americans. Mrs. Gillespie followed by a talk varied in nature, but each thought presented was a lesson to ner of delivery made all feel happier and better." V. H. Hickox writes: "The First Spir itual Society of Niagara Falls, N. Y., held a mass-meeting in the Maccabee Hall, on Sunday evening July 5. H. W. Richardson, president of the State Association of Spiritualists, and Mrs. Tilcan justly say, "We have some of the lie U. Reynolds were present on the oc-the people of earth, and the kindly man-

When writing for this paper use a pen or typewriter.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

vancement of Spiritualism. Mr. Richardson led off with a short address. His remarks were interesting and instructive. The people seemed to enjoy the words as they flowed from his lips. Then Mrs. Reynolds followed with an earnest and inspiring lecture upon the truths of Moliern Spiritualism-the contrast between that and Christianity on the immortality of the soul or spirit. She held her audience spellbound for nearly an hour. She left a good impression. After the close of her discourse the ceremony of initiating a new member into the society was the next in order. A lady joined the forces, so the good work goes on. Mrs. Atcheson gave a short discourse on the work and trials she has had for a year. She returned to her home discouraged, but the spirit band cheered her on. At times she almost gave up Niagara Falls as hopeless, but she struggled on and on until now she begins to see the way bright for Spiritualism to get a strong foothold upon the solid rocks of old Niagara. She gave four tests that proved correct. That closed the meting with satisfaction to all those who were present."

W. J. Hicks writes from Anaconda. Mont.: "I am very glad to say that we have effected an organization here of a Local, both in Butte and Anaconda, also a state association. We had quite an amount of bigotry to work against, but in spite of it Brother Kates and wife have made a lasting impression on the cities of both Butte and Anaconda, Mont. The churches went so far as to warn the flock not to attempt to attend any of those Spiritualist meetings, as they were dangerous to them, and I was present and heard in one of the churches the statement that all the socalled new thought, such as Mental and Christian Science and Theosophy, were mere rubbish. This will serve to give you a little idea of what has to be done to open the eyes of the people here. One priest came to the door and looked in and saw some of his flock, and went and notified them not to attempt to go there again, and it had its effect, while they are still investigating. It was much about the same the first meetings at Butte, but the last three days and night in Butte, where the state societies were brought together there was a marked improvement, and the hall was filled at all meetings with a very honest lot of people, and the next time that Brother Kates and wife come to this part they will receive a different reception than they did at this time. I wish to ask through your paper for names of any Spiritualists in this state (Montana), so that it will help me get in touch with them, as it is my intention to ask personally every one in the state that are not taking a spiritual paper, to give me their names, so that they may be urged to take one or the other. We are all very thankful to the N. S. A. and its officers for the aid they have extended us in having Brother Kates come out so far to help us. Want of time at this writing prevents me from giving a more complete account of our meet-

The Social World, at Galveston, Tex., says: "The garden at the Spiritualist Temple is well worth seeing. In the first place the Temple, the old St. James' church, is built on the street, with no inclosed yard whatever. Where there is a will there is a way; because there is no yard does not prevent the Temple people from having a beautiful garden. The sidewalk on the Postoffice street side and that facing Fourteenth street is converted into a garden. Today tall sunflower plants covered with flowers border the sidewalk Violet bushes edge the sidewalks there just as they do in private gardens. Sweet peas and vines of many kind are trained gracefully about this free garden. A wood lattice arbor with seats on either side give rest and shade for the passerby. Lettuce and one or two plants from the kitchen garden grow on this sidewalk. The first thought that strikes an observer going this way is: I should think they would be afraid people would pull that lettuce or pluck those flowers.' The garden flourishes on and no vandalism seems ever to touch the public garden snot. Whether it is the quiet neighborhood or the belief that 'We plant that others may enjoy, it matters not, the sidewalk garden is at once pleasing to the eye and an object lesson to the many."

Montana is coming to the front. The N. S. A. missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Kates, held a meeting at Butte that seems to have been a decided success.

A Butte paper says: "Before the meeting closed Mrs. Kates gave some wonderful exhibitions of her clairvoyant powers. In her tests and messages she told several different persons in the audience of things and persons which were supposed to be known only to the parties themselves. She claims to act as a sort of medium for the spirits of the dead to communicate with the living. She even gives names and dates. She told a man in the audience that he had signed a paper to his regret on March 17, 1875, and after studying awhile the gentleman said it was correct. In some instances the names re ferred to by Mrs. Kates could not be recalled by the parties, but she says that if they will inquire and think over the past the names will almost invariably be found to be correct. She says that sometimes the impression upon her is so weak that it is hard to tell exactly what is meant, and in this way mistakes are often made. Mrs. Kates says she has had this power ever since she can remember, and it has grown stronger as she has grown older. She stated that she does not understand it, and that at school the girls called her the 'spookite.' To-day is the last day of the state convention, and from here Mr. and Mrs. Kates will go to other cities in Montana. At the meeting this afternoon Mr. Kates will deliver an address upon the 'Fruit of the Spirit,' and the meeting will begin at three o'clock. In the evening Mrs. Kates will speak, giving a broad delineation of Spiritualism. At each of the meetings Mrs. Kates will give tests and messages." The officers elected are as follows: W. J. Hicks, Anaconda, president; James Kirkpatrick, Dillon, vice-president; Fred G. Spethmann, Anaconda, secretary; Mrs. M. P. Hicks, Anaconda, treasurer; Mrs. M. A. Logue, Butte; Mrs. Della Wormell, Anaconda; Mrs. F. D. McCormick, Billings; A. Laurens, Livingston; James I. Mottler, Great Falls, trustees.

G. W. Kates and wife, N. S. A. missionaries, held meetings in Livingston, Montana, July 6 to 9 and organized a local society. They have the following engagements: Ogden, Utah, July 11 to 15; Salt Lake City, 16 to 19; Aspen Col. 21: Leadville, 22 and 23; Franklin, Neb. camp-meeting, July 25 to August 3; Delphos, Kansas, camp-meeting, Aug. 8 to 16; Vicksburg, Mich., camp-meeting, 18 to 23. Address them accord-

ALWAYS GIVE FOUR FULL NAME sation that he, at least, believes that and address when sending no-tices and tommunications for PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE WASTE BASKET.

C. W. Stewart, whose lectures are always entertaining and instructive, is now at Reed's Lake camp-meeting, where he can be addressed for engagements. Address him as follows: Station F, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Folsom, mediums for tests and physical manifestations, and who have been doing an excellent work in the west, are now at Reed's Lake, camp-meeting, Grand Rapids, Mich. Science or the Bible? What was the size of Noah's ark? Was the deluge

lems that caused the chair at the Methodist preachers' meeting to exclaim in desperation: "Brethren, let us proceed in at least a half-savage manner to dis-universal? These were the knotty prob cuss this subject." Dr. Stephen Bowers delivered his "Scientific View of the Deluge," which proved not to be the exact view of some of his brethren. In re-plying to objections which had been hurled at him in the discussion, at the close of the reading of his paper, he said: "I had no idea I was addressing a lot of skeptics—I thought I was talking to Methodist preachers" Dr. Bowers endeavored to explain that the deluge was universal; that it was one of several and merely a geological outcome. propounded the theory that one-third of the ark was big enough to have accommodated three times the number of specles of animals known to scientists today, and claimed that the size of the ark has always been the chief objection raised against a universal deluge. The discussion that followed was distinctively old and new thought. The older divines advocated Dr. Bowers' method of handling the subject and agreed with him that the Bible's version of the deluge should stand without examination. The younger preachers, many of whom were present, praised the paper, but frankly announced that they didn't believe in it. Rev. Edwin H. Fretz, Rev. G. Fisher and Rev. A. Inwood were unwilling to believe in the deluge as a premeditated act of God to wipe out thousands of people; but rather as an instance of God's ever present offer to the lost to be saved. Rev. Geo. W. White, of Pomona, said: "There is no use to try to infuse modern scientific ideas into the Bible. You can take science's view or you can take the Bible view, and still there will be a question in my mind about the deluge."

R. D. Smeaton, president, and W. A. Rosell, secretary, write: "On the first Sunday in August, 1903, the Progressive Thought Spiritual Society of Cleve land, Ohio, will, in connection with the American Spiritual Religious and Science Union, hold a session meeting at Maple Dell Park, Mantaua Station, Ohio. Good speakers, good mediums and good music will be in evidence. A cordial invitation is extended to Spiritualists everywhere to come and join us. We will use every effort in our power to make the day complete. Those who do not care to bother with a lunch basket will find a good dinner at the hotel on the grounds. A fine programme has been arranged which will be given later on. Make all your arrangements to meet with us. Excursion train leaves Erie depot at 8 p. m. Morning session at Maple Dell, 10 o'clock; afternoon ses sion at 2 o'clock. We hope to see al old friends and many new ones on that day." Frank T. Ripley goes to Washington, Pa., for October. He would like en-gagements for September, November December and January. Address all letters to Chesterfield, Ind., Spiritualist Camp-meeting for July and August.

D. L. Hawkins, of Winchester, O. T. writes: "If those unfortunate individuals who are obsessed, will write me, I be for them to help some other unfortu- Grand Rapids, Mich. nate when opportunity offers."

LILY DALE CAMP.

News From the City of Light Assembly:

City of Light Assembly opened auspiclously, Wednesday, July 8, and although the season is much earlier and longer than ever before, there were more people present than is usual upon opening day. The ground collectors re-ported for this day the names of some two hundred applicants for season tickets, a large increase over previous years.

A merry party of fifty or more couples, besides spectators, "chased dull care away," Wednesday evening at the au-ditorium, to the rhythm of the Northwestern Orchestra, which has a repertoire of new music, and an added touch of interest and musical expression.

Comments of commendation and satisfaction are heard on every hand concerning the neatness, taste and beauty exerywhere exhibited, and an increasing spirit of buoyancy and hope is everywhere manifest among cottagers and visitors to the effect that the attendance and interest will be largely in advance of previous years. An astrologer who has made several accurate predictions in the past relative to this association, gives an unusually fine horoscope for this season. He says in brief: "There will be an abund-ance of spiritual and physical comfort and satisfaction to all who are fortunate enough to visit this assembly this year. Money will flow freely. Strangers will buy cottages. Many people prominent in financial and governmental affairs are due to appear here this year. The fountain of, wisdom will be freely. opened and orators inspired as of old. There will be a start toward the estabishment of one or more beneficent institutions the full purpose of which are not yet defined. This is ordained to be place of instructive recuperation and intellectuality and should be managed by women, etc. I am willing to go on record as predicting more than double the number of visitors of late former years."

On opening day just before the lecture, President Pettengill, clad in a di-aphanous combination of purple crepe de chene, lace and satin ribbons stepped forward and in a few well chosen words of welcome and kindly cheer, made everyone feel at home and happy under the new regime.

Carrie Twing, always popular because of her tender sympathies and kindly nature, gave the opening lecture, upon "Yesterdays and To-days," which was full of pathos and good, advice. She closed with a charming metaphor, saying: "Let us take all the misunderstandings and heartaches of the past and present, and build into a bridge of tears through which the sunlight of forgiveness shall reflect a rainbow of promise upon the future of the City of Light and our noble cause." Thursday, Elbert Hubbard, "Fra Elbertus" of "Philistine" and Roycroft fame, spoke to a large and appreciative audience upon "The All-Round Man. and How to Produce Him," not hesitating to manifest by his trend of converthe chief spot of earth to bring forth such a production in all its glory, is in the Roycroft shops of East Aurora N. Y. J. Clegg Wright was the speaker of Friday, upon "The Soul and its Personallites," in which he claims that the soul expresses in accordance with past experiences and may go back at will to molecular and mechanical attributes, though he did not seem willing to class these various expressions of experience under the trite old name of "Reincarnation. J. E. HYDE.

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS.

Send In Your Dates and Name of Secre tary at Once.

Lake Brady, Ohlo. Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secreary, Akron, Ohio,

Chesterfield, Ind. Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting opens July 16 and closes August 30. For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Anderson, Ind.

Forest Home, Mich. The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and closes August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich., Box 69. Ottawa Camp, Kansas.

This camp opens July 30, and closes ugust 9. For full particulars address

H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas. The Waukesha Camp, Wis. This camp opens July 17 and closes

August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street, La Crosse, Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis. Ottawa, Kans.

tinues to August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, president, Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Secretary, Carbondale, Kansas.

This camp opens July 30 and con-

Wonewoo, Wis. The Wonewoo camp opens this year on August 13 and continues to the 30th of that month. Address for particulars, Miss Gertrude Spooner, Wonewoc, Wis.

Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The West Michigan Spiritualist Association will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Pioneer Assembly Grounds." Meeting opens July 4, and closes August 30. For full particulars address D. A. Herrick, presiwill relieve them of this trouble in short ticulars address D. A. Herrick, presinctice, and all I will charge them will dent and manager, 296 N. Ionia street,

> - Delphos Camp, Kansas. Commences August 8, and continues until August 24. C. J. Ballou, president; H. D. Dwight, secretary.

Summerland Beach, Ohlo.

Summerland Beach Camp, Millersport, Fairfield county, Ohio, 35 miles east of Columbus, opens August 22 and closes September 6. 1903. David Climer, President, 282 West Fifth avenue. Columbus. Ohio: Hattie G. Webster secretary, 55 McDowell street, Colum-

_ Winfield Camp, Kansas. This camp will be held in Island Park, Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 3, and closing July 13. For full particulars write to Mrs. Maud K. Gates, corner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas.

Marshalltown, Iowa. This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars adiress E. M. Vail, president, Marshall-

Franklin, Neb. This camp commences July 17, and continues until August 2. For full par-ticulars address D. L. Haines, secreary, Franklin, Neb.

Haslett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 30. For programs and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich.

Vicksburg, Mich.

This camp-meeting is located at Fraser's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg. It commences August 2 and closes August 22. - For programs send to Jeannette Fraser, Manager, licksburg, Mich.

This camp opens July 26 and closes August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich. Lake Helen Camp, Florida.

Grand Ledge, Mich.

The Southern Cassadaga Camp-meeting will convene the first of February, and will close the middle of March. For information and programmes, address Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y. The City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association, will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information and programs, address Mrs. Isabel Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily

Saugus Center. Mass. The Lynn Spiritualists Association will hold meetings every Sunday, ending September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill, 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass.

The Onset Camp. Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

Maple Dell Park, Ohio. The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session at Maple Dell, commencing July 25 and closing August 30. Lucy King, corresponding secretary. Address stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio.

Harmony Grove, Cal.

The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We are expecting a very prosperous camp. For particulars address Frank C. Fos ter, secretary, Escondido, Cal.

Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash. The Spiritualists of Clarke county Washington, will hold their second an nual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30. Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington.

Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist Association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., president; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N Y., secretary.

Lake Pleasant, Mass. This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Albert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos-Los Angeles, Cal. The Southern California Spiritualist

Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal., from August 16 to September 13. Address all communications to W. F. Vose No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, secretary, or Mrs. Essie Ashby, 1306 East Twenty-seventh street, president.

Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp. It will be held at Blodgett's Landing. N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 30. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums, For programmes, address the secretary, Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N. H., until July 28; after that date, at Blodgett's Landing, N. H.

Camp-meeting in Oregon. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spiritualist Association. For particulars, address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Oregon City, Oregon.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A. Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, will open August 2 and close August 30. For programmes address Mollie B. Anderson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

Verona, Park, Me.

This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president, Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary, Rockland, Me.

Island Lake, Mich.

The Island Lake Camp Association desires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenomenal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secre tary, 350 Grand River avenue, Detroit,

The Niantic Camp.

The Niantic Camp, Niantic, Ct., opens

June 22, and closes September 7. For full particulars address Mary A. Hatch, secretary. Old Testament Stories & A Unique

Comically Illustrated. PICTURE

By WATSON HESTON. BOOK.

Nothing eise can so completely upset the old superstitious Old Testament Stories as these vivid and lifelike portrayals of them. They present the old myths in the proper absurdness of their absurdity, ridicule their ridiculessness and in fact hold them up to the light af reason. It is a book of 400 pages with 200 full page pictures it will make you laugh off every vestige of the old superstitions; a good way indeed to get rid of them. Price. board, $1; cloth. $1.50.

POEMS OF PROGRESS. o By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable Price, $1.00.

THREE SEVENS A Story of Ancient Phelons. Illustrating the Hermetic Philosophy. Price, coth, $1.25.

THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE.

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lilian Whiting, author of "The World Beautiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Field, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Cloth, $1.00.
Miss Whiting finds the title of her

new book in these lines from "Aurora Leigh."

If a man could feel

Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and working-day,
The spiritual significance burn through

The hieroglyphic of material shows, Herceforward he would paint the
globe with wings."

The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between the developments of modern science and spiritual laws; to note that new forces, spiritual laws; to note that new forces, as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an unseen realm into which humanity is rapidly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical science the author of "The World Beautience the author of The World Beautiful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the constant sense of the Divine Presence, and a truer knowledge of the nature of man and his relations to God tend to a bigher morality and increasing happiness. The book is characterized by the mane essential style and qualities that have insured for "The World Beautiful" volumes an almost world relations. ful" volumes an almost world-wide popularity.

OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT ING:

Kate Field, A Record. Price $2.

A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25.

The World Beautiful. Three Beries.

Hach $1. From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale at this office.

Age of Reason, Examination of the Prophecies, etc. Illustrated edition. Post 8vo., 482 pages. Price, cloth, 51.00. MAHOMET; THE ILLUSTRIOUS. By Godfrey Higgins, Esq. This work is one of the Library of Liberal Classics. No author was better qualified to write an impartial and honest life of Mahomet than Godfrey Higgins, and this volume is intensely luteresting. It should be read in conjunction with Gibbon's work. Price, 25 cents.

Paine's Theological Works.

PUBLICATIONS HUDSON TUTTLE

A LIBRARY OF SPIRITUAL

SCIENCE.

STUDIES IN THE OUTLYING FIELDS OP PSYCHIG SCIENCE.
This work essays to utilize and explain the vast array of facts in its field of research by referring them to a common cause, and from them arise to the laws and conditions of Man's spiritual being. Third edition. Price, 75 cents, RELICION OF MAN AND ETHICS OF SCIENCE.

RELIGION OF MAN AND ETHICS OF SOIP
ENCE.

Not service trust to the Gods, but knowledge of the laws of the world, belter in the divinity of man and his eternal progress toward perfectice is the foundation of this book. Price, $1.

LIFE IN TWO SPHERES.

LIFE IN TWO SPHERES.

In this story the scenes are laid on earth, and in the spirit world, presenting the spiritual philosophy and the real life of spiritual beings. All questions which arise on that subject are answered. Price, 60 cents.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF SRIRIT AND THE SPIRIT WORLD,

THE ORIGIN AND ANTIQUITY OF MAN.
Containing the latest investigations and discoveries, and a thorough presentation of this interesting subject. English edition. Price, $1.

THE SECRETS OF THE CONVENT OF THE SACRED HEART.
This book was written for an object, and has been pronounced equal in its exposure of the diabolical methods of Catholicism to "Uncae Tom's Cabin." Price, 25 cents. HERESY, OR LED TO THE LIGHT.

A thrilling psychological story of evangeliza-tion and free thought. It is to Protestantism what "The Secrets of the Convent" is to Cath-olicism. Price, 80 cents. WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM?

With 15 SPIRITUALISM?
How to investigate. How to form circles, and develop and cultivate mediumship. Names of eminent Spiritualists. Their testimony. Eightpage tract for mission work. Single copies, 5 cents; 100 for $1.25. FROM SOUL TO SOUL.

FROM SOUL TO SOUL.

By Emma Rood Tuttle. This volume contains the best poems of the author, and some of the most popular songs with the music by eminent composers. The poems are admirably adapted for recitations. 225 pages, beautifully bound.

Price, $i.

Price, 8i. THE LYCEUM GUIDE.

For the home, the lyceum and societies. A manual of physical, intellectual and spiritual culture. By Emma Rood Tuttle. A book by the aid of which a progressive lyceum, a spiritual or liberal society may be organized and conducted without other assistance. Price, 50 cents; by the dozen, 40 cents. Express charges unpaid.

ANCELL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS.

For humane education, with plan of the Angell Prize Oratorical Contests. By Emma. Rood Tuttle. Price, 25 cents.

All books sent postpaid. Address HUDSON TUTTLE, Publisher, Berlin Heights, Ohio.

THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS

Not Adapted to Modern Civilization, with the Tree Character of Mary Magdalene. By Geo. W. Brown. M. D. Price, 15 cents. For sale at this cifice.

Daniel K. Tenney's BOOKS

Never-Ending Life,

Jehovah Interviewed, Or Orthodoxy from Headquarters ... Price. 6 cts. A newspaper reporter goes up to heaven and in-terviews Jehovah.

Theology, Its, Origin, Career and Destiny ... Price, to cts.

One of the best and most comprehensive summing up of the absurdities of the Christian Theology that has ever before appeared. Holy Smoke in the Holy Land. Price, 10 cts.

Susan H. Wixon says: "I have read, first and last, many accounts of Palestine, or 'the Holy Land,' but have never seen anything in that lines that pleased me so well as this description by Daniel K. Tenney." The Plan of Salvation. Price, to cts.

In this pamphlet Mr. Tenney shows the absurd-fty of the Christian "Plan of Salvation" in so-clear and plain a manner that any Christian who-has a spark of reason left cannot fail to see it. "Owed" to the Clergy. Price, 6 cts.

gress held in Paine Hall, Boston, Nov. 17th, 1899. The Master's Masterpiece,

Or the Sermon on the Mount.... Price, to cto... This is the most thorough exposition of the fal-lacies of this noted "sermon" that was ever be-fore published. Modern Theology and Its Ideal Jesus

Price, 10 cts.
The absurdities of the reputed teachings of Jesus are here shown up as no other writer has everpresented them before, which will convince acy honest reader that the most of them are con-

The Hon. Daniel K. Tenney, the author of these books, has been for many years the leading law-yer in one of the most distinguished law firms in Chicago, and there is not a more able writer in the Liberal ranks

The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism, A Menace to American Civilization. By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A trenchant and masterly treatise. Price, 25 cents.

STARTLING FACTS, Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its relations to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and religious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of the confessional; a trenchant showing up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener concerning the methods and spirit. moral turpitude and evil works of Romanism. Cloth, 75 cents.

What All the World's a-Seeking.

RALPH WALDO TRINE. RALPH WALDO TRINE.

Each is building his world from within; thought is the builder; for thoughts are forces,—subtle, vital, irresistible, omnipotent,—and according as used do they bring power or impotence, peace or pain, success or failure.—From Title page.

The above books are beautifully bound in grav-green raised cloth, stamped in deep old-green and gold, with glittop. Frice, $1.25. For sale at this office.

LIGHT OF EGYPT.

The Second Volume of a Most Valuable Work.

This is the author's posthumous work left in MS. to a few of his private pupils in occultism, and like Volume I. in (a valuable addition and) a library on occult subjects. Spiritual astrology is especially elaborated. Alchemy, Talismans, the Magic Wand, Symbolism, Correspondence, Penetralia, etc., are a few of the subjects treated of in scholarly and masterly manner, showing the author to be familiar with his subjects. You cannot afford to be without it, as well as all his other books, viz.: The Light of Egypt, Vol. I., bound in cloth, $2; paper, $1. The Light of Egypt, Vol. II., bound in cloth only, $2. Celestial Dynamics, cloth, $1.

Psychopathy, or Spirit Healing. A series of lessons on the relations of the spirit to its own organism, and the inter-relation of human beings with reference, to health, disease and healing. By the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Rush, through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L. V. Riehmoud. A book that every healer, physician and Spiritualist should tead. Price, $1.60.

This department is under the man HUDSON TUTTLE.

Actress him at livilin Heights, Ohio.

NOTE.-The Questions and Answers have called forth such a host of respondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this forced brevity. Proofs have to be omited, and the style becomes thereby sertive, which of all things is to be Correspondents often 1 with waiting for the appearance of their questions and write letters of in-The supply of matter is always

I weeks should the constraint of the supply of matter is always

The supply of matter is alway several weeks ahead of the space given, and hence there is unavoidable delay. Every one has to wait his time and matter, or as the only reality; opposed place, and all are treated with equal

NOTICE.-No attention will be given the name will not be published. The correspondence of this department has become excessively large, especially letters of inquiry requesting private answers, and while I freely give whatever information I am able, the ordipected. HUDSON TUTTLE.

Geo. L. Smith: Q. I am anxious to know, if God did not make the world in six days, how it did get made?

A. Directly and ingenuously thinkers of all ages. Every philosopher Every religion begins with a cosmogony, down to the latest agnostic who in a wild way cries out that he knows nothance by the plea of the mystery of godli-We know the story of Genesis is a myth; an attempt to solve the problem to the understanding of childhood of mankind, inwrought with solar myths and phallic worship.

The Indian satisfied himself with the story that the beaver dived to the bottom and brought up mud which he placed on the back of the turtle, and this earth grew, extending until it became as at present, yet supported on posed the giant Atlas carried the world on his shoulders.

All these folk-lore stories are alike to the satisfaction of the child-man. the ages, found the problem awaiting ed clearly in her ears, "Mother, calm them which they were required to solve yourself, and go down to your friends. to make good their claims as philosolamentable. It is a strange anomaly grave. Henry George, an old, whitethat the human mind should take quession, waste its energies thereon, and leave those of practical importance that a flag thereon, and being of a tender, are within its reach.

plainly matter and force-alone have matter. outwrought creation as we find it, deceive themselves with words. Simply fore the passing out of Mr. Rogers,

The material scientist assumes the existence and eternity of matter. Is it superior spirit, intelligence, wisdom and After the stroking had ceased, he awoke power? These may be inseparable from his wife and told her of the spirit presnatter but are as essential as the mater through which they are expressed. We meet with intelligence everywhere. The blade of grass beneath our feet affirms it, and the stars express it in their wonderful revolutions.

There is mind as well as matter, in Nature.

Thus far there has been more contention in giving it a name than in explaining its character. We may call it Buddha, Osiris, Jehovah, Allah, Jove, Zeus, Odin, God, Force, Energy, the Potentialities of Matter, it is all the same; we have not advanced a step in explana-Is not the same unknown power be hind all; moving all; which our finite minds know nothing of in its infinite swing, except as it reveals itself in the moving pictures which come like incomprehensible shadow before our minds? With finite mental powers it is presumptive to attempt definition of this unknown and infinite Mind in Nature It is like our own, but unlike in its personality. Fortunately a full knowledge of it is not necessary for an under standing of the phenomena of the world, and it is a waste of time to attempt to scale the inaccessible heights, or to sound the profundity of the abyss to the foundation of things. What we can know is the processes of growth, or evolution. This has run on lines which are called laws, but care must be taken not to confuse law with force. Law has no power to do or undo. It is the direction in which the unknown power moves: the track on which the car runs, when impelled by the engine.

Every philosopher, every scientist has paused on the threshold between And never can understand. matter and spirit; between a new cos has not yet given a name.

Loveland says, we use the wrong word And then the old landlord went off and when we use Spiritualism instead of

A. Spiritism was used by Kardec. and has been accepted by those European Spiritualists who believe in reincarnation. The English and Americans have uniformly taken Spiritualism as their title. In my own writings this cause the word embraces more than the phenomena; it stands for a philosophy of spirit existence, as well. The Century Dictionary, which is highest authority, makes the words synonymous. The analysis of Brother Loveland in a late number of The Progressive Thinker, is not in accord with this standard We may admire his scholastic ingenuity and hair-splitting nicety of definition, while we laugh at the absurdity of his conclusions. The meaning of words is often quite changed from their original significance, as instance spirit, from the Latin spiritus, a "breathing or blowing," the "breath." It has changed until it stands for a being with ever-enduring personality. When the word spirit is now used a great deal more is intended than "breathing or blowing." We have a philosophy of spiritual things, and hence spiritual in its character. It is a great deal more than a philosophy of spirit, for it embodies ideal spirituality. The definition given in the Century Dictionary is from the standpoint of Spiritualists, and nothing could be clearer or better express their of views.

"2nd. In philosophy, the doctrine of the existence of spirit as distinct from to materialism.

"3rd. The belief that disembodied spirits can and do communicate with anonymous, letters. Full name and ad- the living, especially through the agency dress must be given, or the letters will of a person peculiarly susceptible to not be read. If the request be made, Spiritualistic influence, called a medi um; also the various doctrines and the ories founded on this belief."

In the same manner Spiritualist is de fined as, "One who accepts philosophical Spiritualism; one who believes that intercourse may be held with departed spirits."

In the broad meaning given the word it covers the phenomena, the philosophy and science of the spirit world, in itself and man's relation thereto.

It's a good word. There can be none better. It draws the line sharp, and emphasizes that there can be but two pressed, this question has perplexed the schemes to explain the phenomena around us, the spiritual and material has set out with a scheme of creation. If you are not one you must unavoidably be the other. Spiritism is a poverty stricken word in comparison. belief in the phenomena, which may or ing about it, thereby joining hands with may not spiritualize and carry with them a higher moral philosophy.

MARVELOUS MANIFESTATIONS.

The Departed Spirit Speaks—A Most Beautiful Light at the Grave-The Spirit Vetta Communicates. Our departed brother, Wm. Rogers, has already manifested his new life beyond the grave. A life-long Spiritualist, his avowed purpose was to give evithe turtle's back, as the ancients sup-dence to his immortality if possible The burial of his mortal remains occurred Monday afternoon, June 29. After the ceremony, the weeping widow untrue, yet they answered the question repaired to her room, and lay on her bed for quietude. She had been there The philosophers as they came along but a short time when his voice sound-She did so immediately. But this manphers. The inadequacy of the solu-ifestation is not so marvelous as the one tions of their predecessors was only too that occurred the next morning at the headed ex-soldier and comrade in the tions entirely beyond its comprehen post G. A. R., with Mr. Rogers went to the grave early in the morning to place re within its reach.

If we reject the six days of creation, and wept. To use his own words, it by no means follows that we are obli- "The most beautiful light broke around gated to give an explanation of by me. I can't describe it; words won't whom, when and how the universe came express it, and then William stood by into being. Nor when we reject the my right side and said, 'Don't mourn; story do we necessarily reject the inter- I am happy.' It only lasted a moment position of God. If the theory of evolu- and was gone. I can't understand it. 1 tion be accepted, God is not ruled out, never saw or heard of anything like it. as many understand. That theory sim- Mr. George is an honest old German ply gives the method by which living be whose truth and veracity have never ings were evolved; it does not attempt been questioned. He is not a Spiritualto explain the force or forces back of ist. I do not think he ever read of a the phenomena. Those who assert spirit manifestation. The old gentle-that "matter and its potentialities"— man is considerably worked up over the placing potentialities of matter, force, there was a demonstration for him. or energy in place of God, does not About three o'clock one morning there change the conclusions however brill was a gentle stroking of his face by a iant and confusing the glamor of its sci-entific terminology. pair of hands. Thinking it was his wife, he said: "Why mother, what is the matter?" and the answer came, "It's not existence and eternity of matter. Is it mother, but your daughter Vetta. I not as justifiable to assume that there is have come to soothe and comfort you."

> These unmistakable demonstrations of the truth of our philosophy, coming right at home, are very gratifying to our society.

O. V. LABOYTEAUX. Reading, Mich.

THE MICROBE.

A fool there was, and he swallowed a germ, Even as you and I:

And down in his stomach it turned to a worm-I'm not quite sure that's the medical

But it made the poor simpleton wriggle and squirm, Even as you and I. Of the years we wastel And the tears we waste!

And the work of the head and hand Eelong to this impudent microbe,

This thing you can feel but never can And can never understand. But a fool he was, and his goods he spent, Even as you and I. He fished for that germ till his money And then the old landlord came for his rent

Even as you and I. Oh, the toil we've lost! And the spoil we've lost! And the excellent things we've planned, Are foiled by this impudent mi-cro-be,

This thing you can feel but never can mogony, the moving power of which it The fool was stripped to his foolish hide Even as you and I;

But the germ and the landlord stayed by his side Querist: Q. Is it true that, as Mr. And never let up till the poor devil died:

cried. Even as you and I. Oh. It isn't the shame! And it isn't the blame!

That stings like a white-hot brand. Are foiled by this impudent mi-cro-be, This thing you can feel but never can distinction has always been made, and And never can understand. the preference given to Spiritualism, be-"How Shall I Become a Medi-

In Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle. Price 35 cents. Send to Mr. Tittle, Berlin Heights, O. | Conditions accept the messages from their department of a friends; and many do, in time, leave their outworn, outgrown garments of faith.

A. H. NICHOLAS.

Summerland, Cal.

Summerland, Cal.

Summerland, Cal.

All may joyfully untrammeled thinker. Spiritualists who love deep, clear thought, reverent their outworn, outgrown garments of faith.

Summerland, Cal.

Summerland, Cal.

Summerland, Cal.

A. H. NICHOLAS.

Summerland, Cal.

Summerland, Cal.

um," Fully Arnswered

RELIGIOUS SECTS.

They Are Concomitants of Christianity.

Goodness, resting on the basis of man's religious beliefs makes a wide contrast and conflict in the component parts of goodness. That which is religlous goodness to one class is sacrilege to another. Many believe they are righteous and will be saved, because hey live according to the Holy Bible; but no one can live according to that with-out living many lives. It justifies a man in all the bad things he over did One can live as a murderer "after God's own heart"—another as a bigamist another the life of a celibate-another a robber-another an adulterer, and so

The Bible is a conglomerate mass of errors, contradictions, superstition, morals, fabulous history, which was made up by the ecclesiastical powers. whose purpose was to hold supreme power over the people. They alter, revise and amend it occasionally to suit their fancy, and call it "the unchangeable Word of God."

Religion is a priestly game, Supported by the Pharisees-Carnal and greedy all the same, Scheming for power wealth and ease.' Much of the Bible is clouded in myth and mystery and all of its teachings have been fraught with disastrous results to the human race. It has filled the world with discordant theories and doctrines, and done more harm than all other books combined. It is like a musical instrument on which each one plays his or her own tune.

Each sect regards the Bible a sacred book, and all appeal to it for authority, and each finds in it proof of its own belief, doctrine and church. A sectarian's rendition of the Bible will be in accordance with his sectarian views and every interpretation of it breds discord.

The hundreds of sects and churches are concomitants and factors of the Christian religion which produces them. Some of them are as widely different from each other as black and white, yet the crooked old Bible sustains one as much as the other. The most popular sects have agreed to call each other orthodox, while others, not admitted into the ring, they denounce as "heterodox." Each sect thinks it is the only one that is right.

The devotees of old religion accept the most absurd superstitions without proof and shut up their souls to every fact. Theologians teach that what man believes is more important than what he is or what he knows. They want their votaries to hold the idea of a future life, as they teach it, by faith and hope; but blind faith no longer satisfies inquiring soul. The teacher of theology is sure his pupil is gone to hell of will get there the moment he is able to prove anything pertaining to spirit existence.

Christians have taught the doctrine of another life for centuries without proving it, and threatened all who do not believe it with eternal burning. It is not strange that they reject the truths of Spiritualism in this age, when it flashes so much light on the errors in religion, which has closed the door to made the race dependent for spiritual teachings upon external forms and theological training.

Old religious doctrines are continual ly being modified, approaching toward Spiritualism, which comes to all for the benefit of each and all, to give us knowl edge, to chase away the shadows of death, to change the gloom of the grave into light and joy. Humanity at large will yet come into heritage of the spiritual forces that have been denied them through superstition on the one hand and materialism on the other. We only repeat that which our spirit instructors have an written when we say that, from thousands of intelligent spirits who were once devotees of the Christian religion on earth comes the verdict: "Christianity is a solemn farce—an empty show—a delusion." And we accept this as a true verdict. We can plainly perceive this fact by observation, without going to the spirit world to ascertain.

For centuries the church has done more than anything else to make the world miserable. And it were not so bad if it had stopped at the grave, but the unhallowed influence of false teaching leaps the boundaries of the tomb and fetters the soul in spirit life.

You can learn to unmake any hell you ever have and create for yourself a desirable heaven. Blossoms bloom not so much for eyes to see as because blooming is the loveliest, most natural thing they can do. The methods of knowing how to think and of growing toward it are not prevented by creed, dogma nor prison cell. There never was a creed strong enough to hold a person who had outgrown it. As soon as human lives become aware that they are entitled to exercise any of the spiritual gifts-that these gifts, according to the growth and needs of the human race, will become more and more the possession of humanitythat all that realm that has been clouded by ignorance, superstition and bigotry is being opened as a portion of the legitimate possessions of the human race, the psychic growth of the world will be wonderful. Instead of children being punished or treated by physicians because they have psychic powers, they will be encouraged and strengthened, and people will gradually learn that the possession of psychic gifts is not a veakness but a strength, and the rarest and best possessions of humanity. People will enter into a knowledge of spiritual things; will know that these are a legitimate source of inquiry, and that the human mind may intuitively be opened to receive impressions, teachings from those who have passed away -that this will be no longer sacrilegious, nor sinful, nor forbidden, but will be one of the great strides in human recognition and advancement. After centuries of fighting the imaginary devil, Christianity now confesses that it is an unequal fight and the devil is master of the situation. Satan should be praised and honored for his victory. People cannot be coaxed to church on Sunday to hear the old fables and doctrines reiterated, and so the clergy want more stringent laws to compel the people to attend their ministrations instead of going to places where they go by the thousands to enjoy a few hours once a week after six days of toil. They have had enough of slavish fear and sanctimonious cant, and they want no more "blue laws."

The opposition brought to bear progress nor win back its converts from heir faith. It sets up no superior personage to whom homage is due, and is the only religion that in essence is entirely free from idolatry.

People of all classes have a common bond in Spiritualism-in its revelations, because they accept these facts by proofs to them given. All may joyfully

MOST REMARKABLE

A SPIRIT APPEARS ON THE STAGE.

An Actor's Tongue Cleaved to the Roof of His Mouth.

To the Editor: 1 A few days since while reading "Farmous actors of the Day in America," by Lewis C. Strang, I came across an incident relating to the stage career of the famous actor and tragedian, Joseph Hawdrth, think will prove of interest to the many readers of The Progressive Thinker. As the volume referred to is read by but few, I take it, outside the theatrical profession, it has probably not been read by the readers of the Spiritualist press in general. The author of the book referred to says of Mr. Haworth that he was born in Providence, R. I., on August 7, 1855, but was brought up and educated (in Cleveland, Ohio; that his debut was made in May, 1873, at the Academy of Music in Cleveland, when he played the Duke of Buckingham to the Richard III: of Charlotte Crampton, who gave him an engagement in her company, after hearing him recite "Shamus O'Brien" at an amateur entertainment. After a year with Miss Crampton, Mr. Haworth joined John Ellsler's company at the Euclid Avenue Theatre, in Cleveland, etc., etc. I repeat the words of the author in the above, in order to make more clear to your readers what now follows, in which the author uses Mr.

Haworth's own words, as follows: "I got along nicely enough until the closet scene. [Mr. H. was playing at his benefit performance in 1877, the role of Hamlet to Miss Effic Ellsler's Ophelia.] I had just finished the lines. 'Look upon this picture,' when I looked across the stage, and there stood Charlotte Crampton in her Richard III. costume, glaring at me in exactly the same manner as she glared at me on the night of my debut. Why, the woman had been dead a year! I stood transfixed with horror, and my tongue cleaved to the roof of my mouth. The audience thought it was acting, and gave me round after round of applause. As I looked, the apparition, or whatever you may want to call it, vanished slowly, and for a moment I closed my eyes. When I looked again, the demon-like figure had gone. I was stuck in my lines, and I don't know how I recovered them again; but I did go on through the part mechanically until the end. I was called before the curtain and again at the close. I am not a Spiritualist, and I cannot account for the horrible experience. Call it an optical illusion or anything you will, I shall never forget it. Miss Crampton was buried in a little Catholic burying-ground in Louisville. I remember when I was playing there I her last resting-place." PAUL R. ALBERT. Manager Opera House," Chattanooga, visited her grave. A small stone marks

Hypnotism a Cure for inebriates.

By means of the ienlightened employment of hypno-suggestion, the subliminal self-that principle which dictates what is right and inclines to good—may be brought into active control. It hapindividual spiritual experiences and pens to be a psychological fact that, in state of sleep, either natural or induced by an intelligent physician through ordinary hypnotics, a human being is obnoxious to the insinuation of a belief, impulse or thought which may dominate the waking life, Periodic drink atorms, are usually forecast by significant indications, wellknown to the family and friends of the victim—irritability of temper, unreasonable suspicion, so-described "cranky spells," abnormal restlessness, unaccountable depression. Immediately upon the appearance of these symptoms Immediately the patient should be treated by suggesefore opportunity is given for the craving. Such a subject frequently recognizes his danger and sincerely wishes to be cured. He is tactfully conducted into the subliminal sphere, and then assured that in accordance with his own desire and decree, he has lost all craving for beer, wine and whisky; that alcohol in any form will disgust him, and, as a safeguard, that he cannot swallow it, cannot carry the containing glass to his lips. The society of low companions is tabooed; the pleasures associated with drink and the glamor of the barroom are pictured as meretricious and placed in vivid antithesis to the chaste delights of home life. The physical, mental, moral and eco nomic bankruptcy that accompanies dipsomania is held up before the view of the sleeper, and he is forced to the conviction that begotten of this apprehension has come into his soul an abhorrence for drink and all that it stands for. He realizes the presence of efficiency within him adequate to the enforcement of radical abstinence as the principle of his life, and he is rendered insensible in the future to any such combination of passion and allurement as has usually constituted temptation. So he is led instantaneously to scorn recourse to alcoholic stimulants or to extrinsic exaltation of any kind either for convivial reasons, or in time of depression, misfortune or sorrow, and to depend exclusively, under any mental or physical strain, on the units of energy egitimately manufactured out of the nutritious food, non-intoxicating drinks, air, exercise and sleep, He will always act in response to that suggestional force when it is imparted by a pureminded "suggestionist" who is in genuine sympathy with the inebriate and operates with the courage of his convictions.

J. D. QUACKENBOS.

Russia or United States.

Is it not strange that American wo-men should have to plead and argue with their "men folks" for the ballot, this foundation right in republics? There are no men in the world so kind to women, so considerate of individual women, and yet all constitutional governments establish less sex aristocracy than does ours. Exen Riesia, an abso-lute autocracy, treats the women as well as the men. The peasant woman has equal rights under the law with the peasant man. The individual woman in the United States is the proudest, happiest, best developed and most loved woman in the world. The woman citizen is relatively to the more oppressed. more oppressed.

More oppressed.

I have been a beligver in suffrage for women for more than thirty years. My husband was my first teacher. During the last ten years I have seen so much of the good results, of its operation in the four Western States which are real-The opposition brought to bear ly "free States," that I am getting really against Spiritualism does not retard its impatient with my countrymen that they are so slow in bringing in this political reform. It works good and only good to the public and to women them selves. J. ELLEN FOSTER.

> "The Religion of the Future" By S Weil. This is a work of far more than ordinary power and value, by a bold, untrammeled thinker. Spiritualists, who love deep, clear thought, reverent for truth alone, will be pleased with it, and well repaid by it; perusal. For sale at this office. Price, icoth $1; papers, 50 cents. untrammeled thinker. Spiritualists

The three-days' meeting closed Sunday night, June 28, the vast audience occupying the two large halls of the Burbank. Mrs. R. S. Lillie, Mrs. Julia Steelman-Nichols, Allen F. Brown, state organizer, Rev. W. C. Bowman, Dr. T. W. Nichols, Mrs. M. E. Kratz, Dr. Chesbro, were the speakers of the evening. The large halls were packed Dr. Chesbro, were the speakers of the evening. The large halls were packed to their utmost seating capacity, many people being unable to gain entrance to within hearing distance in the outer Theosophy. Price $1.50. within hearing distance in the outer hall.

Among the gems of inspired thought, flashed from the souls of some of our best workers in the cause, were the following: "For hundreds of years the Christian world has called for Jesus to come and be in their midst, but it was left for the Spiritualists to hear from him."-Mrs. R. S. Lillie. "Among the great needs of the hour is a clearer and a more scientific understanding of what constitutes mediumship-its laws and its realities."-Julia Steelman Nichols, "When the world shall accept the har

monial philosophy in all its beauty, then shall Spiritualism be known for what it s."-Rev. W. C. Bowman. "The light of Spiritualism is an honest medium."—Mrs. Maude Chesbro.

"Spiritualism gives to the sorrowing the comfort which no other religious thought can."—Allen F. Brown. "The fundamental principles of evolution have given to the world-Spiritualism as a rational religion."—Dr. Ches-

"Organization and co-operation shall give to the Spiritualists what our philosophy calls for—the right to think, to learn and to grow."-Edith Nicholas "Surmounting all religions, Spiritualism stands as the noblest of them all."

—Dr. W. T. Nichols. "From the hearts of our converts from orthodoxy, Spiritualism takes the fear of death, and in its stead implants the star of Peace."—Mrs. M. E. Kratz. "Spiritualism calls for sympathy and unselfishness on the part of its adherers."—Mrs. Lettle Allen. "Spiritualism binds all human hearts into one grand demand for harmony." Mrs. M. C. Vlasek. "Co-operation shall give to us the prestige and recognition our grand cause demands."-Ella Wilson Mar-Many were the comforting messages from the higher life, voiced by Julia Steelman Nichols, Mrs. Whitney, Maude Chesbro, Edith Nicholas Cobb, Mrs. Vlasek, Mrs. Horder, Mrs. Kate Haskins, Mrs. Weeks Wright, Mrs. Ella White, Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Essa Ashby and others. The addresses by J. Munsell Chase. editor of the Philosophical Journal, and Allen F. Brown, on organization, incited great interest.

Much credit for the success of the mass-meeting is due the state officials and the officials of the several local societies. C. CHARLES STEWART.

An Appeal for Assistance.

To the Editor: -Last month I was arrested for practicing medicine and surgery, but the judge threw the case out of court, as I was only a magnetic heal-er and psychologist. Then the Board of Health, with a prosecuting witness, had the case taken up again, and again I was cleared. Now they are going to carry it up to the next court in September, and I would like to have all healers in the state help me to make the fight. I am sure I will come out O. K. again, but it takes money to make a fight for your rights. Prof. Weltmer wants me to carry it through all the courts in Illidid in Missouri, but I am not able to do so without help from brother healers on the outside of this city. I am well known in Chicago by many spiritualists and I am sure I will get support from them. I would be pleased to hear from anyone in regard to the case. Address me at the Soldiers Home, Danville, Ill. CHARLES KELLER.

WE ARE ONE.

We must do the best we can, Always toiling in the van, To uplift our fellow-man To higher plane; We must let the sunshine out, Shedding brightness all about, As we tour this earthly route To goodness gain. We must lend a helping hand To the weak who cannot stand: We are members of one band,

A living chain. Life is like an endless sea, Bearing us unceasingly To one common destiny, An ideal goal; As you struggle with the tide. Help the brother at your side

Love will prove a potent guide To lead the soul. Shoals and rapids here we find, Snares and pitfalls catch the blind, Reason elevates mankind Above the mole.

Help to make life's journey sweet. Smoothe the path for stumbling feet, Have a smile for those you meet Upon the way. Mortal life is but a span In Dame Nature's subtle plan

To evolve the soul of man Above the clay. Let the love within you glow Warm as sunshine, pure as snow, Clear as crystal let it flow— It will repay.

Human life should not be drear. Sunshine makes the darkness clear, Sympathy is very dear When we despond. Life on earth should be a dream Brighter than the sunshine's gleam Floating on a waveless stream To the beyond. We are germs of the divine-Cendrils of the living vine Clinging to a mystic shrine With hopes most fond. HENRY M. EDMISTON.

"The Romance of Jude. A Story of the Life and Times of the Nazarene and His People." Through the mediumship of Mrs. M. T. Longley. An intensely interesting book. Neatly bound in cloth and gilt. Only 50 cents. "The Present Age and Inner Life; Ancient and Modern Mysteries Classified and explained." By Andrew Jackson Davis. We have a few copies of this work by the celebrated seer.

this work by the celebrated Cloth, $1.10.

"In the World Celestial," by Dr. T. A. Bland. Interesting, instructive and helpful; spiritually uplifting. Cloth bound; Price $1.

"Talmagean Inanities, Incongruities, Inconsistencies and Blasphemies; a Reliated Properties and Blasphemies; a Reliated Properties and Blasphemies, a Reliated Reliated Properties and Blasphemies and Blasph for health. Price 25 cents.

ECHOES FROM CALIFORNIA

| Fig. and the By Roy. Arthur Chambers. Spirit World Associate of King's College. for Carlatian people who would divestigate and term the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomens. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE OTHER SIDE OF DEATH Scientifically Examined and Carefully Described. BY C. W. LEADBEATER.

Man the Microcosm. His Infinite and Divine Relations. Intuition— The Light Within. By Giles B. Stebbins. Price, 10 cents.

HARMONIGS OF EVOLUTION. The Philosophy of Individual Life, Based Upon Natural Science

Don Natural Science

As taught by modern masters of law. By Florence Huntley. An exceedingly interesting and distinctly valuable contribution to the literature of evolution, unfolding its laws from the deeper and clearer spiritual aspect, and indicating the defects of the Ddrwinian theory. Spiritualists and Materialists alike can gain much from its perusal. Price, finely bound in cloth. $2.

THUMBSCREW AND RACK. Torture implements employed in the 16th and 16th centuries for the promulgation of Christianity, with pictorial illustrations. By George E. Macdonald. Price, 10 cents.

In Tune with the Infinite By Ralph Waldo Trine.

By Ralph Waldo Trine.

Within yourself lies the cause of whatever enters into your life. To come into the full realization of your own awakened interior powers, is to be able to condition your life in scate accord with what you would have it.—From Title-Fage.

CONTENTS—I. Frelude: II. The Supreme Fact of the Universe; III. The Supreme Fact of Human Life: IV. Fullness of Life-Bodily Health and Vigor; V. The Secret, Power and Effect of Love; VI. Wisdom and Interior liumination; VII. The Realization of Perfect Peace; VIII. Coming into fullness of power; IX. Flenty of All Things—The Law of Prosportty; X. How Men Have Become Prophets, Secres, Sages, and Saviors; XI. The Basic Principle of All Religions—The Universal Religion: XII. Entering Now into the Realization of the Highest Riches. For sale at thisoffice, Price, postpaid, $1.25.

The Myth of the Great Deluge. By James M. McCann. A complete and over-whelming refutation of the Bible story of the Deluge. Price, 15 cents.

LILIAN WHITING'S BOOKS

VERY INTERESTING AND EX-CELLENT WORKS.

Kate Field, A Record. Price $2. A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series, Bach $1.

After Her Death, New Edition. $1.

From Dreamland Sent, And Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale

STARTLING FACTS. Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its relations to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and religious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of the confessional; a trenchant showing up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener concerning the methods and spirit, moral turpitude and evil works of Romanism. Cloth, 75 cents.

"NO BEGINNING."

An Excellent Work for Thinkers. This book, "No Beginning," is by. William H. Maple. The Archa says of it: "The argument is unanswerable. The book will at once appeal to the rea-on of every reader, and leave him more amazed than ever at the prevalence of the theory of Creation." The Two has always been a fateful num-Free Thought Ideal says: "We found is full of glittering thoughts for thinkers, and the very death warrant of Christian superstition shines upon its pages."

A NEW GATEGHISM,

BY M. M. MANGASARIAN. This is a new "Catechism" in the full sense of the word. There has as yet appeared in the world of liberal literature nothing like this most wonderful little book or reason. E. P. Powell, the well-known author, the reviewer and critic, says: "The remarkable thing about this 'Catechism' is that it tells the truth." It deals with the questions of God. Immortality-the Creeds, the Ofergy, the Church, Prayer and Salvation, Jesus and his Teaching, the Growth of the Christian eriptures, and many other philosophical, scientifi and ethical questions with the utmost candor, courage and clearness. 188 pages. Cloth 75c; paper, 50c MARK GHESTER,

A Mill and a Million.

This is one of Carlyle Petersilea's most inter-esting works. It is purely a Psychical Romance such as the suthor is noted for producing. You need it in your library for the purpose of lead-ing your romance-loving children out into the light of occultism. Price, cloth cover, 60 cts.

The Rollance of Jude A story of the rine" and of his people. Given Through the mediumship of MRS.M.T. LONGLEY, to Ira C. Fuller, and by him dedicated to humanity. It is enough to know this work came through this excellent medium to recommend it. 174 pages of interesting reading. Price, cloth, 50 cents or The Touch of An Angel Mother.

BY CARRIE E. S. TWING. Her dedicatory lines are sufficient to show the spirit of the book as well as the author, it reads, "Because my own children are all under the tender care of the sngels, and my heart is hungry for the love of the young, I most lovingly dedicate this book to the children of the world." This book is full of soul elevating and interesting thought. Price, cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

ORIGIN OF LIFE

BIBLE MARVEL WORKERS.

And the wondrous power which helped or made them perform mighty works and utter inspired words, together with some Personal Traits and Characteristics of Prophets, Apostles, and Jesus, or New Readings of "The Miracles. By Allen Putnam. Price, 75 cents. THE DESCENT OF MAN. By Charles Darwin. Cloth, gilt top, 75 cents. On its appearance it aroused at once a storm of mingled wrath, wonder and admiration. In elegance of style, charm of manner and deep knowledge of natural history, it stands almost without a rival among scientific works.

"AS IT IS TO BE."

A VERY SUGGESTIVE WORK

It Beams With Spiritual Truths.

This is a beautiful book, by Cora Lynn Daniels, and it scintillates with grand spiritual thought. An idea of this work can be obtained by reading the titles of a few of the chapters therein:

The Process of Dying; Light and Spirit; The Law of Attraction; Senses of the Spirit; What Is Unconscious Will; Fear; Astrology; The God-Soul of Man; The Drama; A Day in Heaven. Price $1. For sale at this office. PROGRESSION OF How Spirit Ad-The evolution of Man. By Michael Faraday.

THE VOICES By Warren Sumner Barlow, The Voices contain poems force. They are most excellent. Price 81.00. POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE.

WISDOM OF THE AGES.

Revelations from Zertoulem, the Prophet of Tlaskanata.

A Mine of Valuable Reflections and Suggestions. This work was automatically transcribed by George A. Fuller, M. D., a gentleman who stands high as a lecturer and medium. It is a mine of valuable reflections and suggestions. The paragraphs are short, suggestive and inspiring. Every one of them leads to something higher, grander, nobler, Price $1.00. THE GOLDEN ECHOES: A New Book of Inspirational

Words and Music, For the use of meetings, lycoums and home, by 8. W. Tucker. These beautiful songs have already comforted many broken hearts, and it is hoped that they may be heard in every land. Price 15c; $1.50 per dosen. For sale at this office. THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

Historical and critical review, with replies to an objection. By G. W. Brown, M. D. Price, 15a. THE DIAKKA. The Diakka and Their Earthly Victims. By the Seer A. J. Davis. A very interesting and suggestive work. It is an explanation of much that is talse and repulsive in Spiritualism, embedying a most important recent interview with James Victor Wilson. a resident of Summer Land. Price, 50 cents.

Three Journeys Around the World

Travels in the Pacific Islands, Travels in the Pacific Islands,

New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon, India, and
other Oriental countries. By J. M. Peebles,
A. M., M. D., Ph. D. In this spieudid large book Dr. Peebles has concentrated a vanamount of valuable information. It is exceedingly entertaining and readable, and Spiritualism as he found it everywhere in his travels receives due attention, making the book of special value and interest to Spiritualists. 464
large pages, finely bound, at the price of $1.50.

AFTER HER DEATH. The Story of a Summer. By Lilian Whiting. Pervaded with pure and beautiful spirituality of thought. Instructive and helpful to all who love and seek the higher and liner ways of spiritual experience. Price, $1.00.

A Few Words About the Devil. And other Essays. By Charles Bradlaugh. With the story of his life as told by himself, and the history of his parliamentary struggle. With portrait. Paper, 50c.

WOMAN: A Locture Delivered to Ladies the present status of woman, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. The divine law of true harmonial marriage, etc. Price, 10c. The Spiritual Wreath.

A collection of words and music for the choir, congregation and social circle. By S W. Tucker. Comprises sixty or more gems of song. Price, it cents. COSMIAN HYMN BOOK. A collection of original and selected Hymns for Liberal and Ethical Societies, for Schools and the Home. Compiled by L. K. Washburn. This volume meets a public want. It comprises 258 choice selections of poetry and music, embodying the highest moral sentiment, and free from all sectarianism. Price, 50 cents.

THE SPIRITUAL ALPS And How We Ascend Them.

How to reach that allitude where spirit is supreme and all things are subject to it. By Moses Hull. Price in cloth. 40 cents; paper 25 cts. For sale at this office. 'THE DREAM CHILD, A Fascinating Romance of Two Worlds. By Florence Huntley. Price, cloth, 75 cents. Books like "The Dream Child" spur humanity on to make more and more demands of this nature, and will open up new heights and depths of spiritual knowledge.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Will, I believe, take its place bestde Bulwer's "Zanoni" and the "Scraphita" of Balzac.—Daily "Capital, Topeka, Kansas. Although simple and unvarnished with any Lriammable descriptions, enthralis the mind to the exclusion of other thoughts, until reluctantly the reader closes the last page.—Minneapolis Sunday Times.

ESOTERIC LESSONS.

This work includes "Personified Unthinkables," "First Lessons in Reality," and "A Tour Through the Zodiac." This is an interesting production of occult thought and will well repay careful study and meditation by all occultists. Price, Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this

OLD AND NEW PSYCHOLOGY By W. J. Colville. Beports of twenty-four distinct lectures, recently delivered in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and other prominent cities of the United States, have contributed the basis of this volume. Price, $1.00.

ZELMA THE MYSTIC, or White Magio By Alwin M. Thurber. Cecuit philosophy clothed in story form; aims to give a better un-derstanding of Magic, black and white. 380 pa-ges, large and plain. Cloth, 81.25.

SPIRITUAL SONGSTER. By Mattle E. Hull. Thirty-eight of Mrs. Hull's sweetest songs, adapted to popular music, for the use of congregations, circles and familes. Price, 10 cents, or $7 per hundred.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religious, and their influence upon the mental development of the human race. Price,

THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL. Sories one two and three. By Lilian Whiting, Three choice volumes, each contlete in itself, in which spirituality is related to veryday life in such a way as to make the world beautiful. Price, $1.50 bach.

The Science of Spirit Return.

and How the Spirit Body Grows, By M. Faraday. Price, 100. For sale at this office.

The New Movement.

The Best and Grandest.

Write us today and let us tell you all about it. If will cost you but a two cent stamp. The move-tent has already two beautiful Santorium.

PLEASE Let us toll you about the

NEW MOVEMENT.

If you are busy getting ready to go to camp-meet-ug write anyhow to

DR. G. E. WATKINS,

66 Highland ave.

LIFE'S SPIRITUAL FORCES.

How Shall We Develop and Utilize Them?

It is a fact that is well established in the minds of all human beings of average intelligence that while they nossess in a greater or less degree the instincts and passions of the brute creation, they also realize within themselves a superior element, and that however it may be oppressed and overshadowed by the animalism of their lives, that higher force is struggling to give expression to its powers and to assume its proper place, which is to dominate the lower. In proportion that the spiritual forces gain the ascendency, the individual or race advances in civilization; and when it is relegated to the background of life. then we see the manifestation of such conditions as the massacre of the Jews in Russia, and the bloody riots resulting from the struggle of the social and industrial forces to adjust themselves and come in harmony with the spiritual nature.

The question, how shall we develop those higher forces that are struggling to give a more perfect expression?

First, there must be a realization that we possess them; that life is something more than to "eat and drink, for to-morrow we die:" that however needful those acts may be for our physical existence, to suppose that they comprise the all of life would leave us far in the rear of understanding the true meaning of existence.

The next step, after we have become conscious of their presence, is to put them to use, to assert their right to their proper place in life's program, which is the foremost where they shall in proportion to their development control the animal instincts and passions. transmuting the forces of the lower nte that can be a ilated by the higher.

This is not the work of a day, year or the period of our material lives. We are not responsible for the use of powers that we have not come into conscious possession of; but after that important event takes place the responsibility increases in proportion to the growth of those higher powers. The world plodded along for ages before it made practical the forces of steam and electricity, and while they have greatly augmented the power that can be utilized in the material world, the responsibility is great that they be used to develop those higher and more subtle forces which, if life is truely advancing, must in time be unfolded. That divine law which has come down through the ages which says that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" is founded on absolute truth. To utilize these mighty forces that have been revealed to human life for any but the most beneficent ends, making them not subservient to the spiritual law for the still higher development of life, will result in their nullification and eventual loss to the race.

The "lost arts" is a fact proven by the explorations made in the ruins of dead civilizations. They were given for beneficent uses and they were prosti-tuted to base ends, and the knowledge and power which they gave to human life was withdrawn until a more propitious time when the race was capable of understanding and properly using them. The modern world has in com-parison to the ancient a most glorious inheritance, the result of the titanic struggle of past ages to overthrow the dominion of the brute and in its place establish the divine human. Are we worthy to be the lawful heirs of such a glorious parentage? It is hoped that we have that high appreciation of our inheritance that will cause us to use it rightfully, for if not it certainly will be withdrawn and given to that age which can appreciate its blessings.

That there are mighty forces waiting to be developed is proven not because we have seen their external manifestations, but because we have felt their silent influence in our lives giving us evidence that beyond our present attainments there is an undiscovered country more glorious, and when we are able to appreciate it, better fitted to become our habitation.

"These perturbations, this perpetual

Of earthly wants and aspirations

Comes from the influence of an unseen star: An undiscovered planet in our sky."

These higher spiritual powers will be given to human life when it is capable of using them. Then the law that governs the operations of nature's great Inhoratory will be understood power will be had to prevent those disastrous floods and drouths and cyclones, before which at present humanity is helpless when those destructive energieš are aroused. "For the race to have under its present phase of development power to control the physical elements to that extent that it could vary the temperature, and produce either wet or dry conditions have to pay trust prices or go without. To assert a belief that in the spiritual evolution of the race power will be de-veloped which will enable it to control the clements may seem to some minds the height of absurdity; while there are others who, reasoning from past developments can see no inconsistency in the assertion that the same power that has brought life up to its present level will continue to endow it with still greater ability to manifest its destiny in a manner that at present scems impossible of comprehension. The modern world is a great surprise party. There is flashed upon us that which to the majority of human beings is some wonderful discovery which upsets all preconceived ideas and takes us into wonderland, and hardly before we recover from our astonishment the sceno changes and we are greeted with another surprise. A generation ago the possibility of producing a light that could penetrate opaque matter, making the interior visible, or of sending intelligent messages hundreds of miles without any visible means of communication, seemed impossible as a trip to the moon. The great question before the world is, what next? We are getting accustomed to these surprises and are anticipating at any moment some wonderful revelations.

If the race is to be capable of understanding the proper use of the discoveries already made, and of the more wonderful ones that are yet in the infinite storehouse waiting to be utilized, its spiritual faculties must be developed proportionally with the intellectual and mechanical; for if not it is giving loose reins to forces that when started it has no power to control and which will prove disastrous to any race that seeks to utilize those forces while neglecting the spiritual part of their life. The Biblical saying is a truthful statement. "Seek first the kingdom of heaven and all these things shall be added unto you." Forces before which at present humanity stands powerless will, through a more perfect under-standing of the laws that govern them,

Believers in the philosophy of Spiritualism know that where communications are desired from the spiritual world that will be of moral benefit to the recipients, there must be harmonious conditions; that while no one has to surrender their individuality they musmove as the heart of one. Who can tell what is possible to be achieved when the race has outgrown the discordant notes that at present are being sounded on the keyboard of life, and the energy that is being expended in antagonizing each other used to build up the waste blossom as the rose. The present age is a revolutionary one; a revolt against the bondage to dogma and creed, and many things that were held sacred, exclusive property of the holy (?) orders, the rightful heirs are found to be the universal humanity, and that the gateway which opens into a broader and more expansive life for the race cannot nevermore be closed to anyone, and over its portals are en-graven in letters of light, freedom for

The fiery furnace has been the pathway up through which life has had to travel to attain to the higher planes of being. The dross of its animalistic condition had to be eliminated. It could not be carried into that spiritual republic toward which it is moving, and as it advances the narrow confines of its former environment is broadened and

HAMILTON DE GRAW. Shakers, N. Y.

Clergymen Get Spiritual Tests. The visit of Nicodemus to Tesus night is paralleled nowadays by doctors of divinity going to dark seances. The late Dr. Byron Sunderland, of Washington, D. C., was a notable example. A friend who was present at the dark circle told me that an Indian girl materialized and addressed the clergyman thus: 'Say, ain't you a soul-saver? You better not let your people know you came again Mr. Keeler declined. A third time the gentleman came and at last obtained consent, provided he himself slates were not seen by Mr. Keeler at the sitting, but the layman present told him that the clergyman was amazed at the result.

There is nothing more convincing of spirit return than independent slate-Sunderland at the dark circle had some slate-writing only a few days ago, which he at once brought to show me. Five slates contained fifteen different communications, five of which were written respectively in German, Spanish, Greek, French and Chinese. The Greek writing was signed in Roman capitals, "SOCRATES." The time consumed in all the writing was just five minutes by the watch—average, one minute to a slate. And on one of the slates, containing a message signed "A. Lincoln," was a striking likeness of himself, apparently in this way. An upright oval spot was whitened with the bit of slate pencil enclosed. Then the dark portions-hair, whiskers, shadows and clothing-were apparently made with lead pencil, not enclosed. To draw such a picture would take at least fifteen minutes' time by an expert artist. But the whole slateful was done in one minute, as affirmed by Mr. Keim, who obtained the slate-writing. Most of the fifteen communications came unsolicited and unexpected, and the signatures

Some time ago, Mr. Keim obtained through a medium in Philadelphia a long communication covering thirtynote pages. The time consumed was not more than fifteen minutes, so that the writing was done at the rate of about two hundred words a minute.

To the Members of the Natural Developing Circle, No Matter of How Long Standing!—There is a special message would be disastrous. The selfish in for you; something to make the heart

DYSPEPSIA. INDIGESTION

We Can Fastilvely Cure Any Case al Stomach Trouble Hat Caused by Cancer. Do Hot Take Gur Word. TEST IT YOURSELF.

tone up the siomach, and make you strong and, healthy as you ever were. We could give you testimontals by the thousands of those we have cured of stomach trouble in all its forms and stages; but they would not be facts or proof to you—only words of thinks and praise. The only absolute proof is in the treatment itself. And believing that a practical test would be more convincing to sufferers than all the testimonials we could print and absolutely prove its great merits, we will send anyone desiring it a full two weeks' trial treatment absolutely free.

If you have stomach trouble and have failed to get relief, write us at once and learn by mactical test what we can de for you. Address Dr. Peebles Institute of Health, Lid., 23 Main Street, Battle Creek, Mich.

PASSED TO SPIRIT-LIFE.

[Obituaries to the extent of ten lines only will be inserted free. All in excess of ten lines will be charged at the rate of fifteen cents per line. About seven words constitute one line.]

Passed to a higher life, from his home in Allegheny, Pa., June 29, Edward Williams, in his 38th year. The funeral services were conducted from his home, by Rev. L. M. Oles, of the Psychic Research Society of Allegheny.

It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice be given us, so that inquirers may not be mislead. We want new notices of all meetings being held here in public halls at the present

Church of the Spirit Communion, Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 3 p. m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt at 8 p. m. Messages by H. F. Contes and others. Plenty of good music.

The Spiritual Research meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue, Good music and singing. All are invited to attend.

The Spiritualistic Church of the Students of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday evenmacher, pastor.

service at Thurman Club Room, corner of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 3 p. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Medical College. 12 Illustrated. Isa Cleveland.

Third Church of Progressive Truth

p. m. Lecture and tests by the key. the Friendmenh of Hypnosis; the The-Mrs. Schaeffer, at Van Buren Hall, Call-fornia avenue and Madison street, Waking States/Treatment in Natural Good music and singing. All are invited, Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and mes-tigators, as well as Spiritualists can enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening. First-class speakers. Tests and messages by carefully selected mediums. Excellent music by (Blind) LeRoy Drake. Mrs. May Elmo, medium.

A Spiritualist Temple has been opened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belmont avenuer Services held every Sunday and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Tests and music at every services.

vice. holds regular meetings every Sunday at Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, be-tween Monroe and Kimbark avenues. cured to give interest at every meeting To spread the truth is the object of this Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Desplaines river. Lectures by Mr. Schaeffer at 2 p. m. Questions answered and communications given by continued during July and August.

For full particulars, send your name and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure catarrh and rupture without the use of medicines.

THE BIBLE AS REGARDED BY JOHN E. REMSBURG.

In this book there are Eleven Chapters on the Authenticity of the Bible; Thirteen on the Credibility of the Bible; Ten on the Morality of the Bible, with an Appendix of Unanswerable Arguments Against the Divine Origin and in favor of the Human Origin of the Bible Twenty-six pages of index, enabling the reader to refer in an instant to any-authority quoted or argument used by the author phat Die? Harmony of the Gospels, Paul and the Apostles, The Bible and History, The Bible and Science, Prophecles Miracles, The Bible God, The Bible Not a Moral Guide, Lying, Cheating, Stealing, Murder, War, Human Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Slayery, Polygamy, Adultory, Obscenty, Intemperance, Vagrancy, Ignorance, Univident to Woman Univident Injustice to Women, Unkindness to Children, Cruelty to Animals, Tyranny, Intolerance, Conclusion, Appendix.

HYMOTISM.

VALUABLE WORKS ON SUG-

HYPNOTISM AND SUGGESTION, WHEN RIGHTLY APPLIED BIG-COME POTENT AGENTS FOR GOOD.

Mental and Moral Culture. Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Culture. By John Duncan Quackenbos, fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, Member of the New York Academy of Sciences, Fellow of the New Hampshire Medical Society, Member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Bear in mind, please, that this book treats of Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Cul-ture. It should be in every family. Price, $1,25.

A Complete System. Hypnotism, a Complete System of Method, Application and Use, including all that is known in the art and practice of mesmerism and mental healing, prepared for the self-instruction of beginners, as well as for the use of advanced students and practitioners. By L. W. D. Laurence. A good work for anyone to read. Price $1, Paper, 50

The Field of Hypnotism.

Hypnotism, by Albert Moll. The author says: "Various recent researches in the field of hypnotism have rendered it necessary to remodel in part the earlier edition of the work. I have brought the history of hypnotism down to the present, and have throughout, I trust, presented the subject in its present state. In accordance with a wish which has been expressed by many, I have especially developed a chapter on the medical aspects of Hypnotism." This is a work of over 400 pages, and is certainly very valuable. Price $1.50. Hypnotism-Its Uses and Dangers. Hypnotism, How It Is Done: - Its Uses and Dangers. By James R. Cocke, M. D. Dr. Cocke has hypnotized altogether about one thousand, three hundred and fifty people. The greater part of these were Americans, some negroes, quite a number of French, a few Germans, and a few of the Northern races, such as Danes, Russians, etc. It has been his purpose to illustrate the differences in the hypnotic state as they occur in the various nationalities, and in that respect the work is very valuable. Price $1.50.

Its History and Present Development.
Hypnotism-Its History and Present

Development. By Fredrik Bjornstrom, M. D., Head Physician of the Stock-holm Hospital, This being a Swedish production, it will it into your library very nicely, though you have all the other works on Hypnotism. Price 75 cents.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion Applied in Therapeutics and Education: By Alvan C. Halphide, M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in Hahnemann Medical College of Hyperceted. This m. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Isa Cleveland.

Third Church of Progressive Truth holds services every Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m. Lecture and tests by the Rev. the Phenomena of Hypnotizing; Mrs. Schaeffer, at Van Buren Hall, Call-ory of Suggestion, Synaschia, Syna and Education; Danger in the use of Suggestion, Criminal Suggestion, During July the Englewood Spiritual Sugretion; Criminal Suggestion.
Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West Really, the Work is very valuable.

Rationale of Mesmerism. The Rationale of Mesmerism. By

Mesmeric Force; the Real Literature of Mesmerlsm; Side Lights on Mesmerle Phenomena; Curative Mesmerism; Anesthetic Effects and Rigidity; the Nature of Sensitiveness; Clairvoyance and Mesmerle Practice. Price $1.25. Suggestion-A Gold Mine. Now we present a work of mar velous utility, one that should be carefully studied. It contains a mine of valuable information. Its title is as follows: Treatment by Hypnotism and Suggestion; or Psycho Therapeutics. By C. Lloyd Tuckey, M. D. In this work, the new method, "Treatment by Suggestion," is exhaustively considered. Every branch of the subject is discussed in a masterly manner. Every healer should have it. Every physician will find it invaluable. Every one who wishes to become proficient in hypnosociety. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 tism will find it a valuable auxiliary in the work. Price $3.00.

Mental Suggestion From the French. Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock. Come out to the camp-meeting of the Second Church of the Soul, every Sunday in the woods, at Madison street and Desplaines river. Lectures by Mr. Schaeffer at 2 p. m. Questions and Nature Philosophy in the University of Lemberg. Translated from the French. The ablest work, probably, ever published in France on the above subject. It is certainly very valuable, and no one can read it without for the second control of the subject. and no one can read it without having his knowledge vastly increased. The good mediums. Come and enjoy a day author says: "Hypnotism is henceforth with us in the woods. Meetings will be part and parcel of Science, and Suggestion, which produces most of its won-ders, no longer surprises us." Price $2.

An Experimental Study. An Experimental Study in the Domain of Hypnotism. By Dr. R. Kraft-Ebing, Professor of Psychiatry and Nervous Diseases in the Royal University of Graz, Austria. Translated from the German. This book gives the best German thought on Hypnotism. It will prove valuable in every library. Price $1.25.

If you wish to have a complete library on Hypnotism and kindred subjects, purchase the twelve books above mentioned. Indeed a single one of the volumes above named will prove ef great value to every reflective mind. For sale at this office.

"Mediumship and Its Development, and How to Mesmerize to Assist Development." By W. H. Bach, Especially useful to learners who seek to know and utilize the laws of media, ip and development, and avoid is. Price, cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. For sale at this office. ff

"Right Living." inBy Susan H. Wixon. The author shows a wise practicality in her method of teaching the principle of ethics. She illustrates her subject with many brief narratives and anecdotes, which render the book more interesting and more easily comprehended. It is especially adapted for use in Children's Lyceum. In the hands of mothers and teachers it may be made very useful. Young and old will be benefited by it. Cloth $1. For sale at this office.

"Religious and Theological Works of Thomas Paine," contains his celebrated

"Age of Reason," and a number of letters and discourses on religious and

Single Meals 80 cents. Open July 1 to Sept. 15.

The Maplewood Hotel FORMERLY "THE GRAND"

Lily Dale. N. Y.

Bates $10 per Week and Upwards. Amer. ican Plan. Special Attention to Ludies and Children.

LEO MANGER, Proprietor. Also Proprietor the Grand Rostaurant.

13 W. Eagle Street, Buffalo, N. Y. A STRO-SPIRIT READING, 10c., Mulled. Prof.

MRS. ANNA FRANCIS 60 ABERDEEN ST. OHI-engo, a naturally rifted medium, will give read-ings by math. Price 60 cents. Three questions 25c

HOROSCOPES Scientifically accurate and reliable. Captain G.W. Walrond, 1510 Glenarm St., Denver, Col., Est 1890

MRS. G. PARTRIDGE, Well-known Psychic. Readings personally or by mail, $1. $ questions 25c Accurate work. 2751 W. Lake St., Chicago.

READINGS BY MAIL. Send 25c silver and 2c stamp and leading quertion and receive reading by return mall. MISS / M. COLE, Fremont, Mich.

FOR SALE.

The cottage belonging to Mr. & Mrs. M. Buchana (the independent letter writers) at Clinton, Ia., camp ground. For particulars address M. Buchana, 679 7th avo., North, Minucapolls, Mino.

NICHOLAS BECKER, Readings by mail, Impressional and Clairvoyant. Description and mames of spirit friends with messages; advice. Instructions for psychic uncoldment. Send own handwriting and $1.00, Dixon, Ill.

YOUR FORTUNE

Typewritten and sent FREE it you will send your birth-date and three stumps for mailing expenses. I have astonished thousands with mywonderfully correct reading of their life, past and future. I correctly reveal your future love affairs, business success, marringe mate atte success, marriage mate etc., and give advice of all affairs. Address, SHAGREN, Dept. T.B. 2152, San Francisco, Cal.

Bangs Sisters,

PHENOMENAL MEDIUMS. Independent state and paper writing sittings daily. Spirit Portrait Work a Specialty. Readings by mail. Send four cents stamps for booklet, 654 W. Adams, Chicago, Telephone Ashland 1912.

THE SPEAKING DIAL.

A Wonderful Spiritual Invention A Wonderful Spiritual Invention Gives numes, dates and circumstances. Speaks in various languages; answers mental questions;
convincing the most skeptical. Has come to prove immortality and spirit communion. Develops all plases of mediumship. Magnetized by-powerful spirit band. Read what the late Hon. I. Donnelly said of the Speaking Dial. Dials now, $1.50. Send for testimonials. Enclose stamp for reply. P. J.
DEMPSEY Inventor, 2817 Columbus ave., Minnenpolis, Minn.

Annie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind sister, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earliest mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with $1, and I will try and get reply by independent writing or whispers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Miford Mass.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS,
Send two deliars, your photograph or lock of hair, and receive three finished pictures from some loved ones that are waiting to reach you from the summerland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Normann.—The three photographs were handed me to-day, and I recognize every face upon them, and I can trathfully say these pictures are genuine, and will recommend you to the world; for such evidence is what proves life eternal, Mrs. Dr. Gregor McGregor.
2834 Chicago ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Address with stamp enclosed and receive proof
MR. & MRS. A. NORMANN,
7721. Filliott av. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

DR. J. S. LOUCKS

Is the oldest and most successful Spiritual Physician now in practice. His cures are THE MOST MARVELOUS of this ago. His examinations are correctly made, and free to all who send him name, age, sex and lock of hair, and six essits in stamps. He doesn't ask for any leading symptom. A claim of the doesn't need any. He positively cures weak men. Address J. S. LOUCKS, M. D., Stoneham, Mass.

DON'T READ THIS. Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trial will convince you. Nervous exhaustion and lost rigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundred scan testify. Send name, ago, sex, complexion and 10 cents in stamps, and receive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth dollars to you. Address,

FRANCES L. LOUCKS,

Lock Box 1214. Stoneham, Mass. THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH, Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuier. Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume might well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar interesting style in which French writers oxcel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the needs of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable idea in Spiritualism," and regards as proved "the fact of communication between superhumans and the inlabitants of earth." Price, $1.50.

A. P. A. MANUAL A complete expose of the principles and objects of the American Protective Association. A book for all patriotic American citizens. Price, 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

"Origin of Life, or Where Man Comes From." "The Evolution of the Spirit from Matter Through Organic Processes, or How the Spirit Body Grows. By Michael Faraday. Prince 10 cents For sale at this office.

'Spirit Echoes." By Mattle E. Hull. This pretty volume contains fifty-seven of the author's latest and choicest poems. Neatly bound in cloth, and with portrait of the author. Price 75 cents. "Voltaire's Romances." Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enemy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined, with the skill of a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

"The Commandments Analyzed." By W. H. Bach. The Commandments are not only analyzed, but contrasted with other Bible passages, showing great incongruities. Price 25 cents "Beyond the Vall." A Sequel to "Rending the Vall." Being a compilaion, with notes and explanations, of narrations and illustrations of spirit experlences, spoken, written and made by full-form materializations; setting up a scientific and personal verification of "What We Shall Be," and a code of ethics, requisite to the most speedy realization of the highest and purest felicity attainable in the future life. A very remarkable book. Large, octavo, 500 pages. Price, $1.75. "Never-Ending Life Assured by Science." By Daniel Kent Tenney. strong and conclusive argument from the basis of science. For sale at this office. Price 6 cents.

"The Light of Egypt." Volumes 1 and 2. An occult library in itself, a text-book of esoteric knowledge as taught by Adepts of Hermetic Philosophy. Price $2 per volume. For sale at this office.
"Love—Sex—Immortality." By Dr. W. P. Phelon. For sale at this office.

Price 25 cents.
"The Life itooklein." By italpa ters and discourses on religious and theological subjects. Cloth binding, 430 pages. Price $1. For sale at this office. "Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental, Suggestion." By Newton N. Living Oreature," and "The Greatest Riddell, A most excellent work for all who have the care or training of child light tened spiritual character and of Area. Trace 65 cents.

AN ASTONISHING OFFER

Send three two-cent stamps, lock of Healer and hair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free br spirit power. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker,

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker.

San Jose, Call

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE. My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:-I want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good.

MARY JANE PEARCE. Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21,

Mrs. Dobson-Barker—Kind Friend:— As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I will write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treatment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer. Respectfully, MINA M. YANG.

Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902.

Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker—Dear Sister:—I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am hap-Dy to Eay I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I was sick twenty-five years. I still remain your friend, AMANDA R. GREEN.

You Can Have Metted Pebble LENS Spectacles. For fitteen GOOD EUCSIGHT eyes I have been futing and spirit assistance. Sending spectacles by mail to people that live in all parts of this mundang world. If you want the best spectacles write for Illustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also how you can by ME be fitted at Your Own Home. For 5 cents to puy postage. Will send sample of magnetized compound, sufficient for 4 oz of eye water. Cures sore eyes, strengthens weak eyes. If requested will send photo of Spirit Yarma.

43 Evanston Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MOLLIE FANCHER, The Brooklyn Enigma. An authentic statement of facts in the life of Mary J. Fancher, the psychological marvel of the nineteenth century. Unimpeachable testi-mony of many witnesses. By Abram H. Dalley. With illustrations. Price, cloth. $1.50.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE Is a most excellent work by Dr. M. L. Sherman, assisted by Prof. W. F. Lyon. Heretofore it has been sold for $2, but the price now has been reduced to $1. It is a book that will interest reduced to $1. It is a book that will interest and instruct. It contains 280 pages, and is full of suggestive thoughts. Dr. Sherman was a medium of rare qualities, and his work is a reflection from the celestial spheres.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religions, and their influence upon the material development of the human race. Transcribed at the request of a band of ancient philosophers. Price, 10 cents.

A GREAT BOOK.

THE HULL-JAMIESON DEBATE.

One of Unflagging Interest Throughout -It Should Be in the Hands of Every Spiritualist and Freethinker.

This book, containing nearly 500 closely printed pages, should have a million circulation. Price $1. It is chockful of rapid-firing ideas, and is the ablest debate, on both sides, ever published. Send for it

Bible and Church Degrade Woman By Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Comprises three essays on "The Effect of Woman Suffrage on Questiens of Morals and Religion." Price, 10c.

Why I Am a Vegetarian. An address delivered before the Chicago Vege tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price

Healing, Gauses and Effects. By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents.

Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion.

By Sarah E. Titcomb. with an introduction by Charles Moiris, author of "The Aryan Race." Price, cloth, 81.00. Father Tom and the Pope,

Or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably by Sir Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous abcount of a rolicksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom, an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two imperial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same, Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Three Remarkable Books "The Divine Pedigree of Man." "The Law of Psychic Phenomena."

"A Scientific Demonstration of the Fu-ture Life." The Divino Pedigree of Man, or the Testimony of Evolution and Psychology to the Fatherhood of God. By Thompson Jay Hudson, LL. D. A most remarkable work demonstrating the existence of the Soul and Future Life. It is edentific throughout. Price, $1.50. Dr. Hudson's work on "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" is also valuable. Price, $1.50. His "Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life" should be read by all. Price $1.50.

Church and State. The Bible in the Public Schools; the New "American" Party. By "Jefferson." Third edition; 28 pages. Price, 10 cents.

RELIGION OF THE FUTURE. By S. Weil. Cloth, 81.25; paper, 50 cents. This is a work of great value, written by one of the keenest; most powerful and most truly religious minds of the day. It is particularly a work which should be put into the hands of those who have freed thomselves from the dogmas of orthodoxy and from the dogmas of materialistic science, for it will strengthen the conviction of the free mind that mind and senses are not the whole of life.

The chapters reveal a new method in psychic and spiritual research. They show vivid glimpses of a stupendous moral cosmos that will supersede moral confusion, that only vorifiable tenets can survive, and the childhood period of fatth and fancy will be superseded by knowledge and facts.

STANDING UP FOR JESUS, Or what the Editor of the Freeblinker's Maga-gine blinks of him. Price, 4 cents; twenty five bookes for 50 cents;

G. WALTER LYNN

Gifted Psychic. HEALTH RESTORED By Common Sense Methods

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Ailments.

OBSESSION CURED.

For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name, sex and own handwriting.

READINGS AND BUSINESS AD VICE $1.00 and two stamps.

Address 855 Grove St., Oakland, Ca

Write for Circular JORY'S TONIC TABLETS

A Itus Nerve Tonic and Blood Builder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Debility and the various forms of nervous and Chysical depression, Meianoholiu, Nervous Dysfepsia, Torpid Liver, Weak Kidneys, Chronic Backache, poor circuitation, poor appetito, poor sleep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the tons of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. 50 doses, 75c; 100 doses $1.24 Postage prepaid.

Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC
For Constitution, Headache, Etc.
Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Healthy Action of the Bowels. & tablets, 25c. Postage prepaid. Prepared only by

H. M. JORY, Manufacturing Chemist, 6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor Aff.

Philosophy of This work contains a graphic account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Phelps, Stratford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the test of many years. Cloth, $1,20; postage 10c.

MAHOMET His Birth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Gibbon. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberal Classics. It is conceded to be historically correct, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents. THE AGE OF REASON.

By Thomas Paine. Being an investigation of True and Fabulous Theology. A new and com-plete edition, from new plates and new type; 180 pages, post 8vo. Paper 2c; cloth. 50c THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I.--The Pentateuch. Comments on Genesis, Exodus, Levitic.is, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Devereux Rlike, Rev. Phebe Hannford, Clara Bewick Colby, Ellen Battelle Deitrick, Mrs. Louisa Southworth, Ursula N. Gestefeld, and Francis E Barr.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE. -- PART II.

Judges, Kings. Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation. The comments are keen bright, spite, full of wit, the work of radical thinkers who are not ignorant of the higher criticism. There is not a doil page in either of those books, but each is a galaxy of the brighs minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 50 cents.

WOMANIY ITS ATTAINMENT OF FORM AND FEATURES

Beauty The cultivation of personal beauty, based on Hygiene and Health Culture, by twenty physicians and specialists, and edited by Albert Turner. A valuable book for women and therefore for the winds world. Price in elegant cloth binding, $1.00. For sale at this office.

-THE-

Christs of the Past and Present. By MOSES HULL,

A comparison of the Christ-work or Mediumship of Biblical Messiahs and the conditions they required, with similar manifestations in Modern Spiritualism. This is a good work to study for arguments with which to meet the very common orthodox question, "Why do you always require conditions for your spiritual manifestations?" Cloth bound, 35 cents; paper 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Were You Born Under a Star? A complete exposition of the science of Astrology, adapted from the Four Books of Ptolemy, the Astronomer on the art of Reading the Stars, with many illustrations. By A. ALPHEUS, Secretary of the Astrological Society of England and America. Handsomely bound in cloth, glib top, with beautiful designs stamped on side and back. Price $1.00. For sale at this office.

The Refigion of Science.

By Dr. Paul Carus. Ver thoughtful and in-THE TALMUI Selections from the contents of that ancient book, its commentaries, teachings, poetry, and legends. Also brief stetches of the men who made and commented upon it. By H. Polang. 659 pp. Price, cloth, $1

VEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Lectures by the Swami Vivekaanda, on Raja Yoga, or Conquering the Internal Nature, and other subjects; also, Patanjall's Yoga Aphorisms, with commentaries and a copious glossary of Sanskrit terms, Revised and enlarged, 12mo., Cloth, $1.50. Raja Yoga is an ancient system of Indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and perfection. Swami Vivekanands became a familiar figure in several American of Religions at Chiesgo; he was cordially received in America, where the breadth and depth of his teachings were soon recognized. His teachings are universal in their application. The book is cheap cells. For sale at this office.

FROM INDIA TO THE PLANET MARS.

A MOST REMARKABLE WORK.

Fascinating, Interesting and Instructive.

By Th. Flournoy, Professor of Psy-chology in the University of Geneva. "This is an account of the experiments with the 'Geneva Medium,' Heleng Smith. In her trances sho lives the dual existence of an Indian princess and of an inhabitant of the planet Mars. Professor Flournoy and his fellow scientists have for more than five years experimented with these astounding physical phenomena."
This is a work of thrilling interest.

It has excited great attention in this country and in Europe. Price $1,50

KIREZZI Ethics of Marriage. By Alice B. Stockham, M. D. Karczza makes a plea for, a botter birthiright for children, and aims to lead individuals to seek a higher development of themselves through most ascred relations. It is pure in tone and aim, and and alm, and anould be widely circulated. Price, cloth, the

For sale at this office.

be intelligently controlled, and what is now so destructive will be directed into useful channels subject to the intelligent will of its master.

places and to literally make the desert

all to enter regardless of sex, race or previous condition of servitude.

made more glorious.

here.' The same informant, happening recently to be introduced to another D. D.. upbraided him for preaching against Spiritualism. Not long thereafter another person persuaded the preacher to have a slate-writing, and called on P. L. O. A. Keeler to make an appointment therefor. Mr. Keeler flatly refused, because the preacher had denounced Spiritualism and Spiritualists in a published sermon. The gentleman came again begging a sitting for the clergyman, but would be present as a witness. So the preacher and the layman came, the former avowing his honest intention to obtain a test. His concealed questions were answered as usual. Then Mr. Keeler catechised him as to what he knew about spirit manifestation. The preacher confessed he knew little save what he learned in the time of Judge Edmonds, who died some twenty years ago. The answers written on the writing. The friend who detected Dr.

were characteristic. WM. HENRY BURR. Washington, D. C.

FREE TEST TRHATMENT Do you suffer

you? We do not miem there, you by giving you a Soda Compound Tablet or some of the other patent "Dysponata" (we will positively and permanently cure you. We will go to the very foundation of your trouble; will remove the causes, strein et then and

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS.

ings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schu-Church of the Spiritual Forces holds

sages at 8 p. m. sharp,
Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana corner Thirty-first street and investigation of the labors of a master mind. It ireats of Old and New Theories; the

Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday evenings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue. The First Hyde Park Occult Society The best talent available will be se-

E 55th street, where all communications should be addressed. Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the SPECIAL NOTICE. If you have got rheumatism or kidney trouble, I can cure you or no pay

The tiles of the chapters in detail are Sacred Books of the World, The Chris tian Bible, Formation of the Canon, Different Versions of the Bible, Author ship and Dates, The Pentateuch, The Prophets, The Haglocgrapha, The Four Gospels; Acts, Catholic Epistles and Revelation; Pauline Epistles, Textual Errors, Two Cosmogonies of Genesis, The Patriarchal Age, The Jewish Kings, Inspired Numbers, When Did Jehosa-would be disastrous. The sense in the stincts are too dominant, and some giad! Write. Address, enclosing two pages, and is printed handsomely on gantle weather trust would be formed, stamps, Mrs. Dr. J. A. Bliss, 3426 Woods heavy paper, with wide marging. Price and if we got any worker we would land Ave. Kansas City, Mo. 713

One number of The Progressive Thinker is often worth one dollar. . It is sent one year for that amount,

Educator of the Present Age... Induce your neighbor to subscribe for it. SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

VOL. 28.

CHICAGO, ILL., JULY 25, 1903.

NO. 713.

WANTS TO KNOW.

Dr. Sweringen Wants to Know How Ministers Can Preach a Future Life and Not Believe in Iti

While on the subject of skepticism in Several issues of The Progressive Thinker, I cannot resist the temptation of continuing it on account of some further developments bearing upon it. I have struck a rich lead in our enemies' domains, the church, and must be careful how I handle it, lest it be closed to me in the future. I will be unable, therefore, to mention any names, dates, particulars, etc. Suffice it to say that I have several true blue friends who are in the orthodox ministry, but who are in the orthodox ministry, but who one. Though one may be tempted to are also, Spiritualists—wholly con- scoff at such portents, many authentic vinced of the truth that there are genuine phenomena in Modern Spiritualism. and who accept them as the most hapwho are ignorant of the truth of Spiritualism, and who oppose it with oldtime but waning orthodox zeal, an expression of their opinions upon the subject, which finally (in some peculiar manner) reaches me. And the intermay they found that the dream was esting feature about such expression is that I get it in black and white over the signature of the writer. This is but another evidence that orthodox Protestantism is not as close a corporation nor as wise or as cute as that of Catholicism. No other church in the world is as well organized or has the control over its clergy and members as the Catholic. The reason is obvious, and I need not dwell upon it. Now, I take from a recent letter written by a presiding elder of the M. E. church, to a brother preacher in the same church, the following extract: about a future life. When Spiritualism so that he might be enabled to make in-raged in the north part of the state vestigations as to whether the dream some years ago, I devoted some time to its study—attended seances every-where, etc. I found that nine-tenths of all the phenomena were fraud. Got so I could perform—do the tricks about as well as the mediums. There is a little basis of fact in telepathy, clairvoyance, psychic force, etc., which will account for everything in the phenomena socalled that is not fraud. We exposed all the mediums at — when I was pastor there * * * There is not any class of phenomena, but has been exposed again and again. Yet people will be duped by skillful mediums. I shall be down to 'We have several men-Dr. Becker, and others, who offer to put up $1,000 that they can duplicate anything in the line of spirit manifestation that any medium can and will do, and thus show that departed spirits have no hand in any of it; but no medium dares accept-the challenge. — Physic Society offer $20,000 if they cannot duplicate anything that any medium can do, and if they cannot show the whole mater to be fraud.

Yours truly, Now, what does the reader think of the foregoing letter as coming from a presiding elder in the M. E. church? He refers to "psychic" in two places, but spells it "physic." It is a mere oversight of course. It will be observed that I corrected it in the first instance, and for the sake of correctness in copy let it go in the second as written.

In regard to his reference to Dr. Becker and others who offer to duplicate anything that true mediums can do, etc. This is simply all rot; it is so decomposed that it smells to heaven. These challenges and banters and bets and wagers will do very well on the turf and among sporting men, but among Spiritualistic, spiritual Spiritualists they are disgusting, low and abhorrent.

Let me see, was not this Dr. Becker the president of the American Anti Spiritualist Society which promised to utterly demolish Spiritualism within a year or two? Did that organization ever have another meeting? Didn't it "die a-bornin'?"

I am not very wealthy, but if Dr. Becker and this presiding elder will come to my house in Fort Wayne, Ind., 633 West Wayne street, and examine some mediumistic work that I have, and duplicate it by trickery, or do the same work in the very same manner in which it was done, I will give Dr. Becker and this presiding elder five hundred dollars cash. Here is a chance for preachers and sporting men to make a raise.

"No medium dares accept the challenge," says our presiding elder friend and brother. This simply proves that he has not yet even scented afar or near the true spirit of true Spiritualism. If I was a medium I would spurn with contempt any challenge or wager to produce phenomena for any person, no matter how anxious I might be to convince others of the truth.

Spiritualism to me is too sacred to be thus reduced and degraded.

Our presiding elder brother observes in his letter that, "There is a little basis of fact in telepathy, clairvoyance, 'physic' force, etc., which will account for every thing in the phenomena so-called that is not fraud."

Good! He is progressing a little bit at least. A few years ago he and his church would not have acknowledged even this much. Now will he please explain telepathy, clairvoyance and psychic force upon any other theory than the Spiritualistic? What is their explanation, their foundation, their cause, their meaning? Explain them, please!

But what has struck me more forcibly than anything else in this presiding elder's letter is the confession he makes in beginning it, that

For some years I was very skeptical about a future life. . When Spiritualism some years ago, I devoted some time to its study," etc. Just think of it! A preacher in the Methodist church very skeptical about a future life which he is supposed to constantly preach! Is not the charge that ministers do not believe what they preach pretty well founded? Did not Bishop Foster write: "However it may awaken surprise, TOLD IN DREAMS.

Prophetic Visions in Sleep Which Have Proved to Be Actual Facts.

It is asserted that the body of the young English girl, the daughter of Col. Lumsden, who met with a mysterious death some time ago, was located by means of a dream. The wife of a fisherman dreamed that the body was to be found lying among the rocks along the shore, and was so impressed with the vividness of her dream that she started out to visit the spot, to, find, unhappily, cases can be called to mind of dreams that have come true

Only a few months ago the strange fulfillment of a dream was revealed at py, cheerful and only proof of a future fulfillment of a dream was revealed at life. These ministerial friends take ad-Bradford. A young mill-hand was killed vantage of an occasional opportunity to draw from their ministerial brethren and at the inquest it transpired that a fellow-workman had told his colleagues he had dreamt the man was dead at the bottom of a shaft, and a comrade replied in jest, "We had better go and see true, for the remains of the mill-hand were in the well.

During a breach of promise case which took place some little time ago an epistle, written by the faithless swain, was produced, in which he stated that he was about to terminate the courtship as there were "no signs of the coal business ever becoming a fact." Pressed to explain this peculiar reason. the defendant confessed that he had dreamt for three night in succession that a rich seam of coal would be found under a field which belonged to the ame church, the following extract:
"For some years I was very skeptical dream that led to his courting the girl, vestigations as to whether the dream was likely to come true or not. His efforts were apparently fruitless, and he decided to break off the engagement. The judge who was trying the case commented scathingly on his motives and the girl was awarded damages. The sequel of this incident was quite romantic. In spite of himself the girl's father was so impressed by the account of the three dreams that he commenced boring for coal in the field, and, incredible as it may seem, the prediction was verified to an extent which brought both himself and his daughter a small fortune. The feelings of the dreamer when pleased to talk with you when I come he heard the news can be better imagned than described.

Last year a boy named Luigi Tiranti. employed in a home for lost children had a dream in which four numbers occurred frequently. He was so impressed dream that he saved up until he had 12 shillings, and invested the whole in lottery tickets bearing the magic numbers. At the drawing, which took place shortly afterwards, Luigi's dream stood him in good stead, to the extent

Two children, daughter of a blacksmith, disappeared at nightfall and search parties scoured the neighboring country throughout the night, but with out success. One of the searchers, who went to bed early in the morning, dreamt that he saw the lost children in a hole at a certain part of some woods. He, along with others, had passed the spot in the search without finding the little wanderers, but such was the impression which the dream made upon im, that he got up and proceeded to the place. He found it covered with brushwood, and on pushing this aside, discovered the children sound asleep. The girls were numbed with the wet and cold, but soon recovered and were safely restored to the anxious parents. Detroit (Mich.) Tribune.

truth demands that we should make the confession that we do not know that death does not end all"?

Now, here we have a presiding elder who investigated (?) Spiritualism because "For some years I was very skep-tical about a future life." According to the result of his investigation (?) of Spiritualism as he describes it, the con-clusion is inevitable that he is just as, if not more skeptical about a future life than he was before he began his inves-Hence, we have a presiding elder who administers the Lord's Supper three or four times a week, a sacrament celebrating the Faith in, and Hope for a future life, of the Christian, who confesses that "he is very skeptical about a future life." Merciful God! What a reflec-I wonder how many presiding elders and preachers in the Methodist church are like him in this respect. would say most kindly and respectfully to all such, that if you do not know of or believe in a future life. you should get down and out of the Christian pulpit and engage in some other avocation of life. You have no business in the Christian pulpit. You are hindering the progress of the church, doing it more harm than good. If there is under heavens any proof of a future existence (and as Spiritualists we know there is) it is your duty to seek it diligently, and when found, preach it to your hunger ing and thirsting and famishing congre H. V. SWERINGEN.

As turning the logs will make a dull fire burn, so change of studies a dull brain.—Longfellow. Experience is by industry achieved, and perfected by the swift course of time.—Shakspeare. The most certain sign of being born with great qualities is to be born without envy.—Rochefoucauld.

The most barbarous, rude and unlearned times have been most subject to tumults, seditions and changes.— Bacon.

The eloquent man is he who is no eloquent speaker, but is inwardly drunk with a certain belief.—Emerson. There seems to be no art of knowledge in fewer hands than that of dis-cerning when to have done.—Swift. A man's life is an appendix to his heart .- South.

MENTAL HEALING VS. GHRISTIAN SGIENGE TREATMENT.

The Systems Elucidated, by Dr. Geo. A. Bacon, Washington, D. C.

Assuming that there is a vital difference between Mental, disease. In this way you remove organic diseases as readily point out clearly the essential distinction between the two of the ang them. systems? Are their positions reconcilable? Viewed from the standpoint of Nature, whose operations are in harmony methods has the greater claim upon the attention of man-

Let us try to state, if possible, the prevailing theory, as we understand it, of the Mental Scientist and of the Christian from Christian science. P. 381. Scientist, respectively.

The former holds, in general, that by virtue of a knowledge of mental phenomena, of mental philosophy—through metaphysical processes, cures are wrought, the sick restored and health maintained. In other words, when through the action of the mind, wisely directed, the various disturbances of the 170.) ever-active, vital, living Principle of Life within the body, become adjusted, normal conditions follow.

Prof. Chas W. Close in his recent work says: "The renewal of health through mental action comes through the silent recognition now at all times, of the invincible character of the human ego and its oneness with the supreme source of all life."

The following various affirmations are by well-known mental scientists:

To live in the thought of health.

To assert the immortal I am! To work in harmony with mental currents.

To realize in its fullness the power of human thought, and by evoking its higher agencies, direct it to healthful ends. Diet should be exoteric, while thought the esoteric means for maintaining and sustaining the normality of relation between matter and spirit.

The recognition of our true selves, with wisdom to apply our own God-given powers.

A knowledge of the laws of Nature governing body and mind enables one to be a health-bearer of vital forces—a restorer of spiritual energy—a veritable messenger of life!

In his chapter on "The Philosophy of Health," Dr. A. J. Day vis says: "The human body is an organization of parts or nizes God-as the source and progenitor of all life, existences particles, each having specific functions to perform, which functions determine the appropriations of motion, life and Spirit, Deity-all one and the same-works through its, or sensation which proceed from out the spiritual fount within His, Hernally established laws, which pertain to every de-

Elsewhere he says: "The Universal Principle of Life Spiritual universe. That even He cannot transcend them, which is associated and incorporated with matter, is mate or violate them, whatever amount of pleading may be done, rial or immaterial—is something or nothing.* * * The human | This Supreme Power, these primal laws, make for good etermind is a motive power—a source of action of manifold influnally—the same yesterday, to-day and forever. Hence the often told of the incident which came is far too sensible a being to be led into ences * * the most practical and actual agent in nature * * * metaphysical teacher or Mental Scientist seeks to conform Matter and mind are not two distinct and independent subflower of creation * * * The invisible spiritual principle is an perception, knowledge and consciousness.

actually organized, individualized indestructible substance. outbirth of eternal principles; all outer manifestations, the miracles. results of the operations of invisible causes."

The preceding expressions from various teachers, seem to embrace the main features held by the several schools of abundant testimony, cannot be gainsaid; for which all conmental or metaphysical healers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

The following extracts are the expressions of Mrs. Eddy as found in "Science and Health"—whose exposition of the matter must be authentic. If these samples convey to the reader any sense of being inconsistent with, or contradictory sumptions of Christian Science, that in belief originates all of each other, or untrue as a statement of fact, he or she must remember that Mrs. Eddy herself says, on page 539: "If one of the statements in this book (S. and H.) is true,

She declares that "No system of hygiene but mine is purely mental. Other theories and systems of so-called mindcure are as material as the prevailing systems of medicine." "Christian Science rationally explains that all other pathological methods are the fruits of human faith in matter." "The so-called laws of health are simply laws of mortal be-

"The sick, through belief, have induced their own stiff joints and cramped muscles."

"Remove belief and fear, and you remove the cause of any

Healing and Christian Science treatment, as claimed by cer- as functional difficulties. Belief that certain states of the tain ultra Christian Scientists, one is led to ask, who will atmosphere produce catarrh, rheumatism, etc., is the cause

If you are a Christian Scientist, exposure to a draught of air while in a state of perspiration, will not be followed by with unchangeable and impartial laws, which of these two chills, dry cough, influenza, congestive symptoms in the lungs or hints of inflammatory rheumatism. P. 288. Bathing and rubbing, to alter the secretions or remove the unhealthy exhalations from the cuticle, receive a useful rebuke

"Treatises on anatomy, physiology and health are the promoters of sickness and disease."

"Knowledge gained through the material senses is only an illusion of mortal mind."

"Natural science is not really natural or scientific." (P.

"That matter is substantial, is one of the beliefs of mortals and exists only in a supposititious mortal consciousness. "The admission that there can be material substance, requires another admission—that matter is self-creative, selfexistent and therefore eternal." "The belief that there is mind in matter contradicts alike

evelation and right-reasoning." "Christian Science deals wholly with the mental cause in destroying disease; its one recognized principle of healing is Mind, and the whole force of the mental element is employed through the science of mind. * * * It claims to employ divine mind alone—used synonymously with Spirit, Divine Science, God, Deity-as the curative principle." But enough—the fundamental proposition of Mrs. Eddy is that, there is no sensation, intelligence or life in matter; that matter is unreal. This is her theoretical piece de resistance, and if reiteration can apparently make a statement true, she has established it—at least in the minds of her fol-

These many quotations, every one of which can be given its page in Science and Health, mark a vital distinction as to specific methods, between mental scientists and Christian scientists: While the metaphysical healer, generally, recogand things, he further recognizes that this Mind, Power, partment of mind and matter within the Cosmic and the to and work in unison with the natural and harmonious oper-* Mind is the flower of matter, as man is the ations of these laws agreeably with his highest sense of their

On the other hand, the Christian Scientist, by a system of * * * All diseases are referable, as to their origin, to the soul mental attitudinizing and personal self-assertion, claims to principle * * * All external effects must of necessity be the secure special privileges from Divine Mind to work physical

That in the name of Christian Science relief is often experienced, cures wrought, and the sick restored, in view of cerned are duly grateful. Personally we are deeply thankful for every case of physical restoration or mental adjustment known to have really occurred. We could wish that there had been even many more authentic and continuous cures, as well as fewer failures, the same as we do toward other kindred systems. But as between the two fundamental asthe physical disturbances which man expresses, or is heir to; and that Deity-by whatever name called-only awaits the asking, through Christian Science formula, to immediately every one must be true, for not one departs from its system restore so-called unreal conditions and annul violated lawis such reductio ad absurdum as to preclude their accept-

However much they may be honey-combed and spoon-fed with personally diluted theology, or with certain Biblical expressions of obsolete significance, they have neither the form nor substance of right-reasoning.

Physical diseases, with their causes and effects, have their remedies, their metes and bounds. But who shall successfully adminiter to those other prevalent afflictions, mental strabismus and spiritual congestion?

Washington, D. C.

GEO. A. BACON.

IN THE OCCULT.

The Spirits of the Dead Do Return.

A few hours before death came to James Moore, the murdered tenor of there occurred a most remarkable incident.

little more than a year old.

His words indicated not only that he thought he saw her plainly, but that he was drawing very near to her-so near that her long separation would soon be at an end.

The thoughtless reader may dismiss the incident as the vagrant vision of a dying brain. But taken in connection with other known facts, it assumes far greater proportions to those whose desire for knowledge causes them to seek to penetrate, if ever so little, the great mystery of the universe-the mystery

The suggestion of the return to earth of disembodied spirits has ever been an enchanting subject. Fakirs and frauds of various kinds have done much to make the thoughtless skeptical, but those whose hunger for truth has ever outweighed the temptation to be cynical, have never ceased to marvel such psychic phenomena as seemed to draw aside the veil from the Unknown. And they have been spurred on in their investigations by the truth expressed by a noted writer that "The supernatural is only the natural not yet understood.' The current issue of the Arena contains an article that is of unusual interest when taken in connection with the

Moore incident. Under the title of "Some Authenticated Ghost Stories," it gives a review of a book written by the about "Human Personality and Its Survival of Bodily Death." "The book," say the Arena, "may almost be said to epitomize the twenty-one years' work of the English Society scores upon scores of descriptions of apparitions and other extraordinary psychical phenomena, many of which far exceed in interest, any invention of the novelist's brain.' The cases mentioned, the Arena declares, have all been carefully investigated according to the rigidly critical for Psychical Research and contains for the purpose of testing their authen-One instance is related of the famous as the sequel of a boyish compact be decisions blindly. nimself and a friend by which solve the doubts which both entertained of a life after death. "While Lord Brougham was taking a furnish food for reflection and discussion in Sweden, the vision of his sion within the family circle and tend to friend, who was then in India, ap-strengthen rather than undermine the peared vividly before him. Later he bonds of family union. learned that his friend had died about pearance of the apparition." Though not the most remarkable in-G. R: Russell Colt an English army officer. The captain told the story himself, which the Arena gives as follows: 'Captain Colt had a very dear broth er, Oliver, who was in the Crimea, and who had written home in rather low spirits. In response, Capt. Colt wrote him a cheery letter, but told him that if anything should happen, he was to appear to him in their old room at Inver many happy hours in boyhood. room was long and narrow, with a window at one end and a door at the other. The bed stood at the right of the win dow, facing the door.

"One night, Capt. Colt suddenly awoke and beheld at his bedside, facing him in infancy for the Great Beyond. the window and surrounded by a phosphorescent haze, the kneeling figure of his brother Oliver. At first he thought It must be a trick of fancy, or the moonlight playing on a towel; but, on looking again he saw the figure, still kneel-

"The captain arose, shut his eyes reached the door of the room. He then looked back. The vision turned its head and looked lovingly at him, and he saw on the right temple a bullet hole, with a red stream flowing from it.

"A fortnight later, he received news that his brother had been shot and killed at the storming of the Redan, and officers who saw the body testified that the death wound was exactly where he

"The storming of the Redan began at

years in arrears of philosophy in its most recent and amazing discoveries, may it not be well for it to allow us to study the religion of those wise men without rebuke or ridicule?

And, after all, are not science and religion one and the same? If we live long enough I believe we will find them so, and all their wonderful discoveries make me feel more and more that the spirit of man is as old as the Universe he has always existed and always will exist.

Before the solar systems were conceived. When nothing was but the unnamable My spirit lived, an atom of the Cause. Through countless ages and in many

It had existed ere it entered in This human frame to serve its little

Upon the earth. The deathless Me of The spark from that great all-creative Is part of that eternal source called

God, And mightler than the Universe Wheeler Wilcox in Chicago

RIGHT TO REPRESENTATION

Criticism on the Legislature.

The Progressive Thinker is the great

Women are of as much importance in the nation as men. It is the mother the Fort street Presbyterian church, who inspires reverence for the Almighty and for their fellow-men in the infant hearts of the future statesmen. It is Opening wide his eyes, as if to pierce the mother who lays the foundation of the invisible, he began to talk to his mother, who died when he was only a our Republic. Should she who has so much to do with the making of the nation be denied a voice in the government?

A goodly percentage of the property of the United States is in the hands of women. Their title to it is indisputable. A woman's right to higher education is just as undeniable. Granted, then, the woman's right to property and education, it would be only just that the tax-paying woman should have suffrage as a means of protecting the one and of using the other.

To have a voice in the government is means of self-protection due to every tax-payer. This principle is the one which the American colonists asserted at Bunker Hill and proved at Yorktown. it is the foundation of our nation. Yet when a woman tax-payer in Illinois requests this privilege it is denied. Although a tax-payer she cannot defend herself and her property by her right of suffrage, merely because she is a woman. A tax-payer is a tax-payer whether a woman or not. All the arguments which apply to men tax-payers having the right to vote should apply equally to women. The greatest protection any man can get from the law is to have a part in forming and making it. The man who heips draw up and pass a bill in Congress or in the General Assembly, is the man who knows to what cases that law late Frederic W. H. Myers, of England, applies, for what purpose it was made and how it will protect him. If the woman is denied the greatest part of the protection of the law, a share in making it, she cannot obtain the equal protection of the law. The State discriminates in favor of the man. The greatest argument of all in favor of this question is, that those who oppose it merely raise objections to be answered instead of presenting logical arguments. It is objected that a woman would be influenced by her husband or brothers. If this were true she would be influmethods of modern scientific research, enced because she thought their views right. Further than this, the average woman tax-payer would not be ruled by her male advisers' political opinion, be-

It is objected that women are prone the one who should die first pledged to make much of trivial things. If they himself to appear to the survivor, if talk of and deal in small matters it is such a thing were possible, and thus only because they have not been allowed to occupy their minds with matters of greater importance. An inter-"Many years later," says the Arena, est in the issues of the nation would

- The ballot is the right of women taxthe time of or a little trior to the ap- payers, 1st, because it is due them in all justice according to the fundamental principles of our nation; 2nd, they are cident narrated in the article, one of fit for it; 3rd, they ought to have it as a the most interesting relates to Captain | means of self-protection, and last, there is no argument against it, and reform inthis regard is not only desirable, but imperative. The present generationwill see this great change effected to the honor and glory of this nation.
MINER RAYMOND.

Evanston, Ill.

www.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments.comments esk House, where they had passed so noon on the eighth of September. The This vision appeared to Captain Colt at a few minutes after 2 o'clock on the morning of the ninth."

> Perhaps James Moore, when he lay dying, did not see the mother who left Perhaps it was only a coincidence that the vision of Lord Brougham's schoolboy friend appeared to him in

> Sweden at the moment that his friend

died in India. And perhaps Captain Colt was only ing, while the rain beat heavily on the suffering from a disordered brain when, suddenly awaking in the night, he thought he saw his brother come to him walked through the apparition, and from the battlefield of the Redan in the Crimea, with blood trickling from a bullet wound in his temple. But if there be no basis except in imagination for these and other equally well authenticated stories, they at least approach the miraculous in seeming to point so conclusively to the ability of disembodied spirits to return to earth. Possibly the fact will never be established that the spirits of the dead can return to earth. Certainly it will never be proved that they cannot do so.

And this is why the Moore incident and the ones that the Arena discusses under the head of "Some Authenticated Ghost Stories" will always possess strong human interest-because they deal with the mystery of death, a mystery that human intelligence has never been able to solve.—Times, Detroit,

THE WORLD.

It's a little world in which to hide, When foolish men do wrong and flee; It's a narrow place and a foot-worn

For him who tries to leave disgrace Behind him and conceal his face From those who in their righteous pride Frown down on his depravity.

It's a big, wide world for those who try To do what righteous deeds they may; Oh, myrlad are the ways that wind

Through unknown scenes where men may find Each day new chances to be kind-It's an endless world for those who vie In clearing wrong and woo away.

-S. E. Kiser

Sleep lingers all our lifetime about our eyes, as night hovers all day in the boughs of the fir tree. - Emerson.

ental religion and philosophy and turn my attention to the facts of the daythe wonderful discoveries of science. and the marvels of the solar system and the things which can be proved.

The philosophers of India were dreamers, I have been told over and over; all their theories of existence were mere poetical imaginings of crude minds, lost in too much solitary introspection. Others, less tolerant, laughed at my interest in what they termed "Heathen Mythology."

Therefore it was with peculiar interest that I read the new discoveries of what is known now as "Radiant Energy" or the "Astronomy of Atoms." This discovery claims and proves that what has been called matter is not matter at all. Let me quote: "The atom is composed of a multitude of infinitely smallstances are made, are not themselves conceived as being matter. Experiments prove that they are purely electric in their nature. They continually give off particles of sufficient abundoms and their reformation in new com-

THE OLD AND THE NEW. These electric atoms, and the energy which moves them, are what the scientific world calls "Radiant Energy," which is all there is of the Universe. Which is all there is of the Universe. At the beginning and at the end of a cycle every street of the universe and moved the control of the universe. Indian Philosophy and Modern Science. Which is all there is of the Universe. Whatever exists is formed and moved by these two principles. Electricity and matter are therefore now known to be one thing, and the only difference beentific men to give up my study of Ori. be one thing, and the only difference be is the Prana which is manifesting as tween one substance and another is the rate of motion in the atom. It is inconceivably slow in some, and inconceivably violent in others. But everything in nature is disintegrating and changing its form, and the old theory of science that matter was stable is proved to be untrue. Now listen to what the philosophers of India said thousands of years ago.

Ten years ago it was my privilege to hear the lectures given on this subject ling similarity. by the Hindoo scholar and Yori, Viva-kananda. (The word Yori mans sim-ply Yoked to the Creator and indicates that a man has given in all other inter-ests to study the secrets of the universe and to bring himself close to God.) In the books of India this is written:

the Akasa which becomes the sun, the moon, the stars, the planets, the animal body, the plants, the minerals. What ever can be sensed is formed of Akasa.

erything becomes Akasa, and all the motion, as energy, as force. The sum total of all the force in the Universe, mental or physical, when resolved back to its original state, is Prana. When there was neither aught nor naught, waen darkness was covering darkness, the Akasa existed without motion."

ling similarity.

The fair mind must acknowledge the prior claim of the philosophers of India to the scientific theory of "Radio Activity," or "Radiant Energy," under anfor atoms, caled electrons, which revolve around each other like the planets. But these electrons, while they constitute everything which has form, the atoms of which all material sub-the atoms of which all material sub-the Alexa which has a constituted by the Alexa which has a constituted at the most powerful spectroscope made."

"By what power is this Akasa manu- ing and determining its future ones. factured into the Universe? By the Since science is so many thousand Anyone who carefully studies the two theories (or rather the two discoveries, Professor Edgar Larkin of Lowes Observatory, in his book, "Radiant Ener-The whole Universe is composed of gy," says: "Matter and energy are all two materials. One is called Akasa. It that have been found during three cen-ago, and, therefore, we may be par-It cannot of itself be perceived. It is too doned if we give some credence to other give off particles of sufficient abundance to prove the fact to us that all atoms of all substances whatever are slowly tending to dissipate themselves, and that in the course of time the whole Universe will thus be changed in its atoms atomic construction, over and over.

Along many incarnations, and to aid in shap-

--- Ella American.

Zurilda Wellington.

Her Life in Two Worlds. The Lifting of the Vells

BY MRS. M. PASQUIER CURRAN, MEDIUM, ST. LOUIS, MO.

CHAPTER XIII.

The Bishop's First Effort to Remove Error. "He went to his own, and they replace of ministration. Religious cere to you as He has always spoken, but he could

The Lord is in His holy temple.". and grouned in spirit. The magnitude called of God as Samuel of old, to minisof his work was Said he: "Did I flit away my earth: life in a vain show, and leave such an in- halo of light mantled his brow, and a the Oriental clime I drew near a beauheritance to my posterity? Ah, yes; 1 convoy of ministering spirits who at tiful temple; its grandeur surprised me heard not the voice of the indwelling tend him said to us, "be ye faithful and and held me spellbound. It was then I Messiah; He was veiled in dogma, my soul did not assert its rightful sover- truth, and we will guide you as you bear wand bore the impress of this temple;

There was much in Louis that deeply souls. beget a son so adverse to my desires; a sway, for you cannot partake of this bitter cup is reserved for me: "Thou food if you do not hunger for it." shalt have no other Gods before me,' objects of worship. Oh, if they could youthful friend, Mr. Wellington; only see the dead, great and small. standing before them and judging them in the light of truth, and find that their names are not in the Book of Life, how would they feel? Lord lead them not into temptation." Elon then said to the Bishop, "Material things rule them now, but the spiritual will take their place in time, You are looking at the effect; the cause is ver cord will flash the glories of this there and must be removed; and if you will study the law under which your son was conceived, you will see that he partakes of the elements that were in the ascendancy at the moment of his conception. There must have been seed forces in one or both of his parents that produced this result. You may look to That love can never lose its own. your ancestors, too, for the predominance of any trait of character, or peder the influence of the least stimulant, for the inception that may take place, rest that the world cannot give." If the graces that adorn and round out not sever." a perfect man, be in the ascendancy, at the hour of inception, that immortal being will partake of the qualities that that this work was the power of the them through their earth-life. the influence of rum, lust and base pas- must now sow new seeds and root up sions, such will cleave to that being old tares that he had planted; that the and debase it. Yet, a greater crime is fire of purgation had been lighted by man guilty of; it is forced motherhood the band who attended him to impress in its many phases. And yet another his mind with the truth of intercomwrong is wasted manhood, producing munion, and to awaken in him sweet deformity mental and moral. These memories of the past-for the judge in will meet the guilty as blighted buds his own breast would bring him in time that have been deprived of an earthly to judgment, but love would draw him experience. Every child will know its to God." own parent, and will know, too, why it was deprived of its earthly experience. tals, for if inherent good, or the soul, be What you see in Louis, your son, that is sought for by the dwellers on earth, you detrimental to his well-being, was trans- will attract to you the good from the mitted. Adverse conditions may have spirit world, and the redemptive work his incention. woven a net of influences round the un- be loosed in heaven." Life and death born, that controlled his destiny. Look go hand in hand, but love is stronger at Jesus the medium; the Holy Ghost, than death, and emits a flame of fire that which is the spirit of truth, overshad-symbolizes the living, everlasting eviowed his mother, and imbued him with dence of God dwelling within. But who that lovely nature that flowed from him among us shall dwell with the devourand fitted him to be a messenger from ing fire? They that walk righteously God to earth. Bishop, this is an ex- and speak uprightly; they shall dwell naustless subject, and needs careful on high. study; it ramifles all branches of society. A man cannot bequeath a richer but there were hours of sorrow as well dower to his child than to endow that as of joy; for the pages of memory that child with an inheritance of spiritual, were unrolled to his mental vision moral and mental ability to unfold its caused his strong nature to break forth God-given powers of mind. If such in mental agony, as the traditional ideas conditions as I speak of attend a child of God, Christ and heaven were rein its incoption, that child cannot go moved from his mind; as he saw the astray. The inhabitants of earth must | Trinity vanishing and his creed being he made to comprehend the evils they discarded; as his thirty-nine articles are impregnating the unborn with. (the work of man) passed away, and his-Look at our reformatory school and see | soul was swept out on a shoreless sea. the deformity that has come to us from of deep thought. Reuben said: the vices of earth life. Love should be the bond that binds man and woman to the environments of earthly things; all gether in wedlock, and no unwelcome must bear the cross for themselves; and child should be born. If they do not de this is why liberated souls are wending sire children, they should not use the their way to earth to assist mortals in organs of reproduction, to their own this work." condemnation, and the many adverse conditions that are entailed on their off- and to whom God only speaks through spring. Many a child's birth is a dire their creed or church, yet who find their misfortune to it, through inherited dis- childhood faith yielding to knowledge, eases and other evils bestowed upon it and a new light dawning, feel that all is by an ignorant parentage. Ah, Bishop, swept away. At first my father shrank we need not go out of ourselves to see from this flood of light, but the voice man's folly and ignorance on this sub of reason came to him, and he could see ject. The iniquities of the fathers are God leading him and the manifest wisvisited upon the children in many ways, and man must be born aright to be ben said: right. These are mountains of truth that arise before me, and for long years be comforted with the mysterious forces I have labored and rested not and have of his own soul." only cut steps by which I may climb to these mountains. I now know that the and my work as a messenger spirit to powers of my mind had not awakened, notwithstanding my efforts to have them do so, until I had passed through that mysterious change we call death. The mightiest and noblest of human work was given to us to do, and see how ill we have done it, by damming up with

The Bishop waved his hand to Blon were but a dream, here are realities. The things which are seen are temporal. ments like Him of old, and wash my their desires, had been crushed by my goodness and truth are the attributes trust in immortality ever be lost to the hands of much of my earth work, if I carly transition; but there was a divine of God, and the divine power operates inhabitants of earth. "I am the truth," could."

say to us, and eaten of the hidden bert's inner life had blossomed forth in manna, we could now wear the white books that were beautiful indeed to name written thereon, which no man central orb around which his mind re-knoweth, save he that receiveth it," volved. Time and pain had set their ceived him not" There was a deadness said Blon; "but let us turn from the mark on him, but they had left their and coldness among them that he could past and grasp the present with a firm charm and written a story on his face, not penetrate. It was the Sabbath, a hold, that we may see God with our fair and beautiful—an index of his puriday set apart for God to meet His chil-souls, and not behold only a blazing fied soul. The fountain of inspiration monies were being performed by Louis, not at Horeb, nor at Sinai; but will brother and one universal power—God his son. The bishop gazed at him for draw near to you and proclaim His pres. in man. a moment, then sighed deeply. The ence to you as you unfold in wisdom, for altar, and the vessels of silver dedition the gifts of the spirit are purchased earth, and have felt the pangs of sorrow cated to God were as mockery to him, with toil; strike out for the ocean of wring their souls at the separation of as sounding brass and tinkling cymbal. truth, it invites your exploring foot-Louis was robed in clerical garments of steps. God yields His secrets for the alize that the cords of affection respond great splendor. Ostentation and dis-asking; knowledge is your savior. play seemed to rule; simplicity and From the eye of truth there is no es good taste were lacking. With a flip cape, and you must indeed work out pant tongue, Louis repeated the words, your own salvation by the law of progression; it is a flat of the Almighty. The Bishop looked like one transfixed, Learn of this child; she hath been dawning upon him. ter unto such as you."

"You that dwell on the earth cannot grieved the Bishop, as he came in closer relation with his daily life. At realize the magnitude of this commistimes he would exclaim, "Whose son is sion, of a messenger spirit. How often he? He cannot be of me. I could not do we come to you, only to be turned

"My work must then be," said the but here are the gods of ambition, ava bishop, "to unbind the slave to dogma whose golden beams will set on many rice, and molten ideis consecrated as and creed. I shall begin with my will he comprehend me? No, but turn from me as I did from you.'

"Fear not," said Elon; "God doeth all things well. Mr. Wellington will see his buried dead in radiant form, in angelic beauty, standing before him, and the angel feet of God's ministering spirits passing up and down Jacob's ladder A strong band attends him, and the sillife on his soul, to awaken images of the past in his heart; then will he yearn to know of his own and will turn his gaze from the dead past to the living present."

That he might know that life is lord of death alone;

The darkness that hung over my culiar quality of the mind at the time of father was rolled back by the band of conception. This law should be under- wise minds that attended him. At stood, and man should not allow himself times he could see beautiful sentences to abuse his God-given powers by any that they wrote on his surroundings for excess of passion, nor should he be un- his thought and meditation, such as, "Our lives here are full of peace and will be ruled by such conditions. Man move theology's musty veil from your is the creator of his child, in the sense that he imparts to that child an inheritance for good or evil. Think of this and the not charge God with your soul." "We wait to greet you in the gardens of God." "The cords of do not charge God with your bad work love that bound us on earth, death can-

This change in my father was a surprise to the bishop, as he had taught surround it, hence you see the necessity | Holy Ghost, and must come direct from of a correct understanding of the law God, forgetting that God works by a law our well-being on earth of our inner being-spirit speaking to and also in the spirit-world. Men are spirit. Reuben told the bishop that the born with the many evils that attend | band was only "preparing the way for him to do his work; that he had been a "Begotten when the Father is under tiller in the vineyard of the Lord, and

This should not be forgotten by morbeen in the ascendancy at the time of will go on. Jesus said: "Whatsoever ye bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, "Again, disembodied minds may have and whatsoever ye loose on earth shall

A new life had begun for my father.

"The soul has the power to rise above

Those who were born in the old faith. dom of man redeeming himself. Reu-

"Man must struggle with himself and A new life had begun for my father him was now done; and I, too, had been. purged in the crucible of purification. It was then that I could see God manifested in his works in a new light. Years of earth time had passed away and I had gained power over material creed and dogma the fountains of living and search amid the vast realms for a seed forces to bring forth good fruit, and said, "It is enough, it is enough, me to feel the very throbbings of the God be restored, with the loving mem-Eternity, Eternity! Our lives on earth divine, as it were, and in this bound-Our salvation is in doing the will of mind, and is wholly unexplainable to light is now breaking on the shores of God; eternal justice is our own all-the mortal, I never lost sight of or for-time. Read to them the gospel of love; knowing self, that will be the sword to got the dear ones of earth. I was in give them a proper understanding of deal eternal justice, and our secret sins communication with them, breathing life, what their rights and duties are stand to condemn us before one judge, heaven's dewy breath of love on them and let them know themselves, which is ourselves. Yes, I would rend my gar when hope had died in their hearts and the culmination of all knowledge. Love,

"Had we heard what the spirit sad to penses the soul that loves him. Alstone on our breasts and have an new read-for truth was his deity, and the day set apart for God to meet the can be the control of dazzling glory."

was not sealed to him; the arisen Christ was the Bishop's accustomed "Yea," said Reuben, "God will speak was there, and in the temples of nature the could worship one Father one worship one Father, one loved ones by the death angel, could re-to the echo from the spirit shore. What shall I say concerning the many spheres in the spirit world that I have visited, and are far remote from the earth? It would be impossible to convey to the finite mind anything like a correct idea of that vast, incomprehensible abode of the many millions of While Reuben was speaking to us a earth's children. In one of my visits to true to your highest conceptions of first discovered that my insignia and the bread of life to earth's famished and while I was gazing at its beauty a radiant form came out to meet me. After bidding me welcome, he said:

"You belong to the past, or your antenatal conditions were governed by a band of wise minds at the hour of your conception, yet your work is in this generation, in this the closing of the nineteenth century of the Christian era, clouds and errors that have darkened the minds of its children. Enter thou in and learn from Wisdom's council, that is now convened."

Here I beheld all nations, tribes and peoples who had ever dwelt on the earth.

"Your insignia will admit you to the sun chamber," said the person with me, and in this chamber you will see reflected the eternal, everlasting power and presence that dwells in all. God, who reads the heart, cares but little about names; it is the purity of the motive that prompts the action. Stand thou upon the broad and eternal basis of justice and truth, and let no one stand between your soul and God. Kindness is a test of greatness, and by this inborn attribute you have con

"Be just and walk humbly with thy God," was written above the archway. The Messianic idea, or the mission of Jesus to earth, was then under consideration; or what method would be mos beneficial to a class of minds not able to reason for themselves. Many were the remarks on this subject, but all concluded that if man had been left to the natural instincts of his mind and had not been hemmed in by creed and dogma, his inherent: power would have sought out and cultivated his God-given abilities in their natural order. "God has left the way open to all without fear or wrath, if they use their reason," said one who seemed to be a "Ah," said another, who leaned upon his staff with bowed head, "that is the central orb around which all our faculties must revolve; and let all see to it that we do not refuse to hear the voice of the indwelling Messiah" and arose with the many and cried aloud: "God of all people, forgive the ignorance of man!"

In this temple all subjects that relate to God, man and nature are analyzed by all who come within its walls; no restrictions are laid on anyone, as to former opinions or beliefs. The manifestations of the spirit in man and nature. and in all worlds and systems are studied in the light of true science, There is a comprehensive understanding of the truths that relate to the spir itual and moral government of God. The term God is not used in a general way, but as the first cause, or the origin of all, and all seem imbued with a feeling of deep reverence for the revelation of this truth. Indeed, this is the place of understanding. So accurate and exact is every thought that is expressed by anyone, that any deformity in the expression of thought, jars and creates in harmony. The science of mathematics is not a speculative one; its branches ramify all subjects. Numbers are mystical points, like the dial plate of a compass. Sounds are musical vibrations floating on the air, creating a melody that formulates speech, that leads to devotion and adoration. The most spiritually advanced people of all ages congregate here, and knowledge is of spontaneous growth, as it were God seems to have made a beautiful provision for ts demand, as all who dwell here desire knowledge, and there are many points here from which to study.

The stony structure of this temple is inlaid with legendary historical volumes, that are revered and speak for themselves; seers behold them and converse with them. The finger of time has written many deep truths on the panels of this temple; mystical symbols that express spiritual truths are engraven there. Here we are taught that every human being is the central soul. or the Deity in man. This is called the sun chamber, because many who congregate in this temple were worshipers of the sun, or the God of day, while on earth. Here there is no personal idea formed of God, but all recognize a supreme governing power, and an intelli-gent force; for the conditions of this sphere denote an uncreated, self-existing power. The next subject for consideration was: "What shall we do with the unborn nations?. This subject surprised me, as I thought that God directed the destiny of all His children. "You must begin with the parents of this day and generation" said one who held the scepter of knowledge in his hand, "by the implantation of proper things so that I could rise in the spirit principles in them; they must have the higher and more perfect knowledge of Old creeds must disappear and the soul God. This spiritual condition enabled be left alone to God, and confidence in ory of Christ; for the hour is, that man less realm of the spirit, where thought cannot be drugged with dogme or vibrates in unison with the infinite creed. A larger knowledge and a fuller temple wherein the dove of sacred love and insuffacion descends. No human and penances will await them. There is a mediator for all, it is not any of the many criciled or historical ones, but it is the affirit of all truth, the comforter that Leties wild would over the the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild would over the desired to the conforter that Leties wild the conforter that the conforter than the conforter that the confo that Jesus said would come. The divine solvent of life is here in your midst The awakener, which is the spirit of truth, his touched with his wand of life the typical resurrection, and the resurrected ones are going to those who live in the imprisoned dust of mortal life and who have not the knowledge of immortality, mortality, mortality, mortality, mortality, more of God's "Every child of earth is one of God's children. The risen Christ is, in Christendom, the symbol of all praise; but do men manifest His teachings? verily, they do not; but have closed up the fountains of life whose waters never run dry; a river of inspiring love that flows forever.

"Oh, the long night of error, and temnests of human passions, that have enshrouded the soul and velled the Christ of God in human tombs.

"What can be said to those in the mortal form, who are blind to the real purposes of life, because tethered by passions and void of understanding Go ye forth to meet the dearth and darkness in your path; let the ministerng voice of the spirit awaken them to conquering of self, the overcoming of hatred, and catch the strains of liberty for the yet unborn. Show mothers and fathers that they are the true saviors of the world, when the Christ spirit is in their unborn. Show those who are to be parents that they must love truth, and implant it in the unborn; that God' will require the fulfillment of their duties as parents, and the development of each and every moral, mental and spiritual faculty. Let them look within for God, in which the soul may see the Divine and have perfect and unbroken trust, and after a few generations of proper parentage there will arise a beautiful humanity.

"The golden age is not a dream, or a myth. When the white sceptre of love, like a magic wand shall touch humanity, intellectual, physical and moral, they surely will become. You should set your aim high; aspirations and prayers should be on your life and in your, heart; love truth as your Deity, and let love be your guiding

When he had ceased speaking there fell around him a cloud of transparent light, and from out that cloud many voices in echo-like sound said: "Thou art worthy,'

While this wise man was speaking, I felt a strange power holding me fast by the hand; but beould not see any forms until this cloud that enveloped the speaker had disappeared, then Reuben's star of seven points that I had seen him wean oncenbefore, appeared. Reuben representsoone of the seven stars and one of the seven golden candle sticks. This number is prophetic, and relates to the cluster of stars in the neck of Taurusi From this temple I went eastward to many the gifts of the spirit are pur-chased with great toil. These saints in light were richly endowed, and I thought of the imperfect characters given some of them by the writers of the Bible. They lived in a time when knowledge did fiot run to and fro as with you and they were confronted with the mysterious forces of their own souls; but virtue and sorrow are seen working out their natural results, and through the principles of harmony in human affection Heaven will be estab lisshed in its fulness. These men bore the highest expressions of God dwelling with man. They have not rested from their lahors are teachings of Jesus on the minds of many, who misunderstood the spirit of His teachings. Do not feel that you have all the knowledge that is in store for you, for as you ascend the spiritual heights, there will be new fields of thought at every turn; subtle mysteries that will perplex you will arise, but the conflict between doubt and error will fade as the light of the spirit falls on you. Life is but a small cycle with you of the earth, and you are rent at times with passion, pain and unrest. Your intellectual and psychical powers cannot obtain complete dominion over your physical environments. It is not possible for you to solve the mysteries of the incorruptible. Mystery and the physical nowers will weigh down on you now, but when you have entered the realm of the spirit there will open an entirely new line of thought. Weird charms and uncanny speculations are now holding the imagination of many spellbound to a mere speculative knowledge. Not as mortals can you obtain a complete victory over the flesh. deal with but dim lights that reflect the real; remember that mind is eternal creative. Bishop Sutherland was teaching my father that truth that he, as a guide, ought to have taught him while he dwelt on earth. If men would only look to the rise of man, and not the fail, they could rise out of the many errors that now darken their lives. Absolute truth never varies, never can: 'With God all things are possible." So in the confidence of truth no storm can wreck your trust in God No ideal can ever be too high to enrich the mind, you must have the mental image before you can receive the external form Will and action, then, is the power by which you can overcome error; goodness is supreme in the universe, and the good in humanity will overcome all wrong. You need not force your nature to unfoldment; but, like the leaf or flower, in a silent growth bring forth your fruit. Heaven's freedom is the highest law. You have set before you life and good; and there is a burnt offering for you—it is the sin of ignorance—that you may see God with the soul, that the cold picture of the dead Christ may go from you and the warm incarnation remain. It is the intensity of your purpose, and the wish for a growthful state that will froduce the desired result. Oh, that the inlightants of earth would only be willing to follow the divine voice that God hath implanted in the soul as a guiding star. In my intercourse with many wise minds it was impressed upon me to re-member that the law of attraction was a powerful agent either for good or evil. This is of dnestimable value as a guide in many conditions of life. The power of mind over mind cannot be comprehended by mortals; you attract to you the good and pure, or the dark and evil. Concentration of thought may produce a great good to the many or a great ca-lamity. Great intensity of purpose will generate a mighty power; therefore see ye to it that your purposes are good. It is a great privilege you enjoy, that so much new light has fallen on your pathway; also that death, in life is set aside and the spirit returns to gladden the mortal. They are not dead, but only risen—only entered upon that wondrous life. We can say this of all who have passed from earth, and return as Jesus truth I, as a messenger, have endearored to record truthfully what I have been taught, and have seen and heard from the people of other religious, such as Egypt, India, Chaldea, Persia, and they declare that the soul, or the divine life, is within all, and is made manifest by doing the will of God, as Jesus taught "love to God and man." This is a living spirituality, that will conquer the evil that surrounds you; and whatever your Christ may be, if veiled in dogma or creed; and whatever form of praise you may have offered to God, if in the temple of stone, or in the temple of nature-let a thanksgiving and tribute of love flow from your hearts to God, for the knowledge of immortal life through the revelation of the spirit and for the recognition of that love that is eternal.

The divine solvent is here in your midst, and you are to take it as the evidence of truth; it is the second and the last coming of the Christ of God. Let your hearts commingle with the heavenly hosts, whose silent feet enter your abodes. Ye are of the house of Israel. of the order of Melchisedec, and have been haptised with the waters of regen eration. Forty years did Israel's children journey ere they reached the promised land, but you have had the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night, to encamp with you, and to lead you on; and the tabernacle within your abode with the Shekinah dwelling with you, and speaking to you from the altar. We have given you truthfully what we have received, and we praise God for the ability to do so. We have made an effort to turn the mind of man from the terror of death and the tomb, and give the promise of eternal life You have not to look to Jerusalem, to Mecca, nor to the far Orient, but only to turn your eyes within to see God. Im mortal life is yours by a divine right; "dust unto dust" is for the outer form. Growth and unfoldment is life, and it contains a power, a discipline, a distinction and a fulfillment of your abilities. All possibilities are contained in your being, and you can express them by a proper development of your facul tiles, with a corresponding faith that all will be fulfilled. If there is proper progression there cannot be any retro-Your earth is not the only field for moral and spiritual probation, and do not try to measure divine justice and heavenly grace. Nature is not content with one blossom, or with giving one voice of spring, or one ray of sunshine; and be ye not content until you bring forth flower and fruit. Faith in the certainty of a future life, and the results of this life on the next should be the constant inspiration of each day to lead you onward and upward. Truth will speak to you in death, and faith will become knowledge. A 'life misspent cannot bring a recompense of joy, for you can feel only those joys won by adherence to right; these all live in the spirit, as spiritual attributes to strengthen you and aid you to grow more helpful to mankind. As the voice of the divine spirit is the testimony of truth in the soul, you should guard well this di-

and metemany of the prophets, apostles vine witness. and seers of Biblical note, who were on We have traced the breath of infinimissions of love. To them God had tude through many spheres, and have yielded His sediets for the asking; but watched its unfoldment as the rays of glory fell on those who were born of The redemptive work begun on this plane will go on and on, widening and broadening as you unfold through the fields of spirit life. You have stood where many are standing to-day, with loss of faith and doubt; but God is speaking to your souls precious messages through the arisen ones. But through all changes, losses and decay, there is the everlasting truth itself in which the soul may have perfect and unbroken trust. At Horeb and on Sinai, God was thought to have drawn especially near to man, but you can hear the tender words of love breathed on you by Just Published | your loved ones. Listen to the assurance, hear the soft echo coming with consolation and hope. All who have loved you and cared for you exist—unchanged. It is not death that has come to them, but the angel of life. You need not look back over a cloudy vista to a time when God walked on earth and talked with men in his human form; the time is now for you to listen to what God is saying to you through His messengers, that are of your own household. Doubtless you may desire to know more definitely about God, Jesus Christ and the Holy Ghost, or the Godhead so-called. But let me say to you that the Trinity (socalled), or a combination of powers with the same attributes, and functional offices, belongs to the earth alone, and is a formula of man's ignorance to mystify and hold the minds of men in subjection to their dogma. This traditional error cannot bear the light of investigation, for it has no spiritual value; nor can it satisfy a growing soul. Oh that man would keep his intellect untrammeled. God is not revealed only in Christ, and Christ revealed only in the church, no; nor have these traditional errors any hold on the spiritually illumined mind; nor have I been taught to regard this other than as a fallacy born of ignorance. And I tell you that I have not seen God, Christ, or the Holy Ghost as personalities, but have seen and felt the ineffable glories that fell on me from the Deity, and have been taught that there is but one only existing power that is called by many names, ac cording to the mental ability of the mind to comprehend something of the power that exists in the universe. Love, wisdom and knowledge flow from one source and you must see God with the soul. Then your burning utterances could not comprehend or express an intelligent idea of this uncreated self-existing power, that men have called by many names. When you become spirit ualized you will not want to retain such a crude idea of that power that bends above you in love.

God is love, and love is life in motion. Hold fast to the eternal presence that dwells with you, and love that gentle One that walked in the common walks of earth life, and whose brow was hathed with heaven's dew on the hills of Galilee; and who hung on the cross (Continued on page 3,)

Constinution Needs a Cure.

A simple remedy only is not sufficient, specially if the relief is brought about by the use of salts, aloes, rhubarb, or some similar purgative or cathactic. They temporarily relieve weaken the bowels and make the condition worse. In constipation the bowels require strengthening, toning, something that will assist them to do their work naturally and healthfullyin short a tonic laxative of the highest order. That is what Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine is. It both relieves and permanently cures by removing the cause of the difficulty. It positive ly oures dyspensia, indigestion, kidney and liver troubles, headache and all other diseases which grow out of sick and clogged bowels. One small dose a day will cure any case, light or bad. It is not a patent medicine. The full list of ingredients goes with every package with explanation of their action. costs notlling to try it. A free sample bottle for the asking. Vernal Remedi 166 Seneca Building, Buffalo, N. Y All leading druggists sell it.

TO WOMEN WHO DREAD MOTHERHOOD!

Information How They May Cive Birth to Happy, Healthy Children Absolutely Without Pain-Seat Free.

Mo woman need any longer dread the pains of child-birth, or remain childless. Br. J. H. Dye has devoted his life to relieving the sorrows of women. He has proved that all pain as childbirth may be entirely banished, and he will gladly tell you how it may be done absolutely free of charge Sendyour name and address to Dr.J.H.Dye, Box lift bandalo, N. Y., and he will send you, postpaid his wonderful book which tells have to give birth to tappy, healthy of children, absolutely without pain; Mso, how to cure sterility. Do not delay, but sethe to-day.

Maliese Watch Charm.

PRIOES:—Badge Pin, $1.50: Lapel Button, $1.50; Sunflower Brooch, $4.00; Maltese Charm, $5.00; Maltese Pendant, $5.00; Thile Jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunflight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL.

This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of mind. Bound in cloth, it. For safe at this office.

DEATH ITS MEANING and Results.

By J K Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting narrative relating a series of wonderful psychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, illustrated, $1.25.

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth

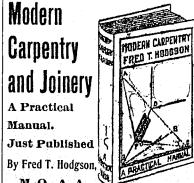

By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A masterly presentation of an important sub-ject. A powerful argument along new and scientific lines, establishing on a scientific basis in fact of the continuity of personal individual con-scious selfhood after laying asite the physical body. A book of rare value. With several fine illustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous A pamphlet of 32 pages, com-Conspiracy piled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains sclosures relative to a villatuous plot to over throw our free government. Price, 15 cents

ROMANISM Is a pumphted of 30 pages, in EXPOSED reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Protestant

Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, London. An excellent book for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE SOUL - ITS NATURE, RE-LATIONS AND EX-MAN EMBODIMENTS. Third edition how on sale. Price $1.00. This is one of the best books given by the guides of Mrs Cora L. V. Richmond. They are really lessons, published primarily, as a book of reference for those who have been members of the classes receiving them. This volume is a careful compilation from reports of lessons, containing the bases of the teachings.

M. O., A. A. The well-known Technical writer. It is one of the best works ever turned out by him. Copi-ously illustrated with diagrams and figures, making the most intricate problems simple, def-inite and easily understood. Price, 81.00.

DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis.

An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents. The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.

A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J.
Colville. Limp closh, 50c.

A Conspiracy Against the Republic By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS. It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet is written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents.

rice, paper, 25 cents.

ANCIENT INDIA.

lts Language and Religions. By Prof. H. Oldenberg. Paper, 25 cents. Apollonius of Tuana Christian Jesus. A wonderful communication, explaining how his life and teachings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents.

COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 conts.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED.

The most important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sincere hope that you are earnestly locking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration' if such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you, and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful perusal. Price, $i.50.

Talleyrand's Letter to the Pope.

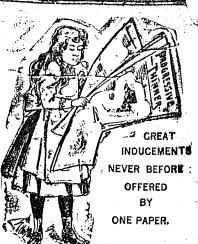

FORGE and Matter By Ludwig Buech-ner. A celebrated ject. Price, cloth, 81.00

The Religion of Spiritualism. Rs Phenomena and Philosophy. By the Rev. Samuel Watson. This work was written by a modern Savior, a grand and noble man. Price, 61.00. A valuable book for the money.

ASTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M. D. Avaluable contribution to the curbustion to the curbustion of the rent discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plausiphere (a representation of the celestial sphere upon a plane with adjustable circles), truess most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facts given possess great value, the illustrations rare and curious. The book is bound in only one style—heavy boards. Price 51.

Views of Our Heavenly Home. 🔻 By Andrew Jackson Davis. A highly inter-sting work. Prica 75 cents. Postage 5 cents. Apocruphal New Testament, Being all the Gospels, Episties, and other piece now extant, attributed in the first four centu-ries to Jesus Christ, his apostles and their com-panions, and not included in the New Testamen by its compilers. Price, cloth, $1.50.

The Devil and the Adventists. An Adventist attack upon Spiritualism repulsed. By Moses Hull. Price, 10 cents. Practical Methods to Insure Success A valuable little work, full of practical in-struction in matters pertaining to physical, mental and spiritual health. Worth many times its cost. Price 10 cents.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by express. If you do not receive your orden promptly by mail, inquire at the express office. If not there, notify us at once. Remember, please that it costs ten cents to get a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. If you send a personal check, add ten cents to the amount sent.

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in their

Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premium Books unless you send in with your order a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker.

Remember, please, that the safest way to make a remittance is to secura postal order. Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER TERMS. You must send $1 for The rogressive Thinker when you order one or more premium books. Please bear this in mind. Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing di-rect with this office, instead of through

Every person who sends in a yearly subscription to The Progressive Thinker can have until further notice, the two ollowing books for 25 cents each: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Seers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Present," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exeedingly valuable, and though widely different, each one fills an exceedingly mportant niche in the literature of Spiritualism. If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents. If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is

We have TEN Premium Books only and you can select from them as follows:

Any three of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.10.

Any four of the ten Premium Books. ou may order, price $1.50. Any five of the ten Premium Books ou may order, price $1.80.
Any six of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.10.

Any seven of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.85.

Any eight of the ten Premium books you may order, price $2.65. Any nine of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.90. Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced are sent out, all postage prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following is he list: TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS FOR $3.10.

1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1. 2—The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 3. 4-Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism. 5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occulta 6-The Next World Interviewed.

7—The Occult Life of Jesus. 8—A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands. 9—The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science. 10-Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present.

Read This Carefully Before Re-Remitting.

When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are ele-vating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar for The Progressive Thinker. These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10. as price which modern machinery and enterprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. Sendng out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter. In conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is: about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, illustrating the great bargain; you are getting-a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plane.

CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! CLUBS! To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science":
"Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "A Wanderer in the Spirit, Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 3. The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

among our list of premiums.

The clear and very interesting acceptance count of the assassination of Abraham. Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that tragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father: Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corruption that exists in that church, and its iniquitous methods and aims.

It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic Amer-ican, and by every one who would be well informed concerning the evilworks and designs of the Romish hierarchy. It is a large volume of 832 pages. Price, $2.25.

Eleventh Annual Convention

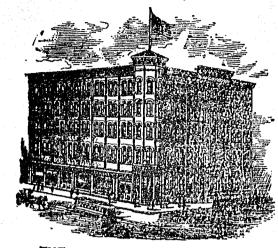

f Auly 25, 2689.

NATIONAL SPIRITUALISTS' ASSOCIATION

OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

National Rifles' Hall, G Street Northwest, Near Ninth October 20, 21, 22 and 23, 1903,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE REGENT, WASHINGTON, D. C. Cor. Pennsylvania Ave, and Fifteenth Street, Near Executive Mansion and Opposite U. S. Treasury.

Important business will be acted upon delegates and all visitors to convention for delegates and all attending the conheid at The Regent, Monday, October vention. Ask your railroad agents for 19, at 8:30 p. m. tickets on the certificate plan, for one fare and a third for round trip, for Na- convention is free to the public. The tional Spiritualists' Convention. These grand evening meetings of lectures, tickets must be indorsed by special rail- tests, and musical exercises will be road agent at convention the last day of twenty-five cents to all but delegates, Prof. Crookes, but that does not alter convention and by the N. S. A. Secre- who will be admitted on presentation of

be The Regent, corner Pennsylvania av- present. enue and 15th street, near Treasury at these sessions. Business sessions will be special—$2 per day, large room, will open daily at 10 a. m. and 2-p. m. two persons in a room. Single room, At 7:30 each evening grand public for one person, $2.50 per day. These meetings, with addresses, spirit mestages already and addresses of the second o sages, singing, music, etc, etc. Among taking advantage of the same are exthe most gifted lecturers and mediums pected to remain during full convention, expected to be present and participate while all who travel on certificate tickare Dr. N.F. Raylin, Mrs. H. P. Russegue, ets must remain till noon of the fourth J. J. Morse, of England, May S. Pepper, day. As a certain number of certificate Margaret Gaule, Mrs. Z. B. Kates, Mrs. tickets must be guaranteed to the rail-G. G. Cooley, and others to be secured. roads, delegates and visitors are re-All Spiritualists should attend this conquested to come by them. The N. S. A. reception to visitors and delegates, to Special certificate rates on railroads which all friends are invited, will be

Admission to business sessions of Headquarters during convention will All Spiritualists are invited to be

MARY T. LONGLEY, Building. The rates at this hotel for HARRISON D. BARRETT, President.

SCIENCE AND FAITH. VERSUS SKEPTICISM.

The Issue Between Dr. Sweringen and Prof. Jamieson.

cupied by Dr. Sweringen. He is amply tiny, and perpetrate a fraud. It is quite for himself to be fully satisfied; and able to deal with all the issues likely to possible this may have occurred with be raised by critical skeptics. But a R. D. Owen. few points in Prof. Jamieson's last (The But I am r

Of course we all know that faith is a line of distinction between faith and of agreement as to make the line of sepeagerly accepted as reliable knowl-count. I edge; and all scientific experiments dethis case. pend upon those very suspicious senses which are so often deceived. Of course Spiritualists do not rely on the accounts of the resurrection of Jesus, Enoch's flight to heaven, "Elijah's automobile flight to the skies," or any other story of the past, which cannot be veri

Present day experiences have the advantage of being verifiable testimony, and often by repetitions and variations tronomical fact, about which there is no which reduce them to scientific certainty.

But, referring to the follower of faith, Prof. Jamieson says: All he knows is hearsay. He knows that millions of parents have been "mistaken, deluded, hypnotized, or in some way deceived by their own senses." But men are hung, electrocuted, "deprived of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" by the testimony of witnesses, who report what they saw or heard, or think they made to reproduce the facts in court to many men of science saw them? reassure the jury. In considering the value of testimony one needs to know something of the character and mental habitudes of the witness. Many are careless, impulsive, and jump to conclusions, and even spurn any suggestion that might add strength to appearances. But there are others who examine critically, observe closely, and decide only after mature consideration of all the

it is said. I am not so sure that he was deceived in the facts he observed when story, but I do not know it is true. he was acting as a critical investigator; did not satisfy my ideas of thorough- identity of any person we may casually

he did not regard the conditions as ab- that the phenomena was not a trick solutely fraud-proof, but said he had performed by the medium. tested them so thoroughly on many occasions that he did not deem it neces in many ways, by cunningly devised sary to impose all the restrictions tricks; but it is possible, yes, easy, with which he had many times exacted be a reliable medium, to put the question

Having settled the facts under investi- there can be no question. Thus his tesgation as unmistakable, without the timony is authority if his word is relipossibility of deception, they relax vigi- able and his intellect normal and calance, and leave unguarded many condi-tions that admit of fraud; but knowing If I mistake not, Prof. Jamieson has that phenomena can be produced with often used in argument the statements all these doubtful places guarded, they reason that the medium does not need to revert to deception, and therefore they infer that they will not. As it is often easier to cheat and give the appearances of genuine phenomena, than to patiently wait and bear the tax upon the nerves and vital resources to get Prof. Jamieson.

the genuine, and perhaps fail altogether, the medium with weak moral nature may take advantage of the relaxed scru-

Progressive Thinker, July 11) tempt my deceived in the last part. I have the But I am not quite sure that he was | ditions. evidence that he stated after all the smoke had cleared away, that there was factor in all scientific as well as relig- nothing in this case that shook his conious study, and some things never get fidence in the facts upon which he had beyond it. But it does not follow, that built. It is also a curious fact as rethere is no value in the accounts of past ported in the Banner of Light at the experience, because people have been time (I think it was in a letter from and still are, frequently deceived by Madam Blavatsky on the Holmeses) their senses. There are various factors that at the very time this sham seance that enter into the character of evidence, and there may be no absolute sonator of Katy King was the actor, the Holmeses held their usual seance, and knowledge. They are close compan- Katy King appeared as usual, and clipions, and so blended at certain points pings from her hair, compared with those taken from her head at previous aration indistinguishable. Upon faith seances, were identical under the microhangs a large share of the science so scope. This is as I remember the account. I would like further evidence in

But Prof. Jamieson is especially exacting that knowledge must substitute faith. If possible to have it so, that would be very satisfactory. But is it so in anything? Prof. Jamieson may know or think he knows, a few things; but he accepts and acts upon faith vastly more than he does upon knowledge. For instance, he tells us that "millions witnessed the meteoric shower, an asdoubt"! Has Prof. Jamieson had personal contact with these millions of witnesses? Has he carefully examined their trustworthy characters as witnesses? Has he questioned, and crossquestioned them as we do many who report spiritual facts? How does he know that "millions witnessed the meteoric shower"? Is not this hearsay evidence? He tells us it was "an astronomical fact, about which there is no doubt." Are meteors real stars? What saw or heard, and rarely is any attempt astronomers testify of them? How has questioned those who did, and critically cross-questioned them? And when their testimony is all in, what is it all enjoyed themselves hugely. but "hearsay evidence"? But Prof. Jamieson tells us shower of stars was an astronomical fact about which there is no doubt.

This statement requires proof. Prof. Jamieson may not doubt it, and he may never have heard a doubt exfacts and appearances. When Dr. pressed; but I think it would be about Sweringen says he "knows," it is a as reliable a statement to say millions question of veracity, or intellectual doubt the story of the meteoric shower, His ability is pretty well es- as that millions witnessed it. I have a tablished, and his honor cannot be ques- thousand fold more evidence of certain psychic facts—even materialization— But Robert Dale Owen was deceived, than I have of that long-accepted story

The Boston lecturer who knew he and I am not sure that he was not de saw his wife materialized, and would ceived by the pretended exposer. I swear to her identity, showed in that would like to know more about that. I very statement an exuberance of imagwas once present at one of those se ination, and unreliable testimony; for ances, and his critical exactions then it is a dangerous thing to swear to the meet in this world. But it might have But he admitted then and there that been safe for him to swear to the fact

People have been deceived, of course, fore.

This is one of the fatal mistakes often

This is one of the fatal mistakes often

Dr. Sweringen may have had conditions, and witnessed facts about which of such scientists as Tyndall, Huxley, Darwin, et al., and put them before his audiences as if there was no question of their authority. But these are men, one of our so-called mediums; whose senses may have deceived them and whose reasonings may have led them away from the truth. In fact we know this has often happened. In reply to some criticisms by Lydia R. Chase about spiritual phenomena, Thaddeus B. Wakeman said that scien tists had settled the question of mind and matter and the causes of sensation and intelligence, and know, that there can be no thought or reason, without the organized brain, and therefore they say that "they know that Spiritualism cannot be true." But some of the ablest scientists in the world testify wise men really know? They believe in matter. They believe that it is eternal. They believe that matter and energy are uncreated, but ever changing in expression. They believe there ether pervading space. They cannot demonstrate it to the other senses.

They believe in atoms and they make a good working basis for chemical theories. But they are unreliable witnesses. They will not testify at every man's bidding.

Does Prof. Jamieson accept the atomic theory of matter? Does he believe in the evidence of the hypothetical ether? Has he ever measured the wave length of violet light? Does he believe it has ever been done? Has he ever measured the distance from pole to pole on the earth? Does he believe anybody has? Has he ever taken the parallax and measured the distance to Venus or Mars? Has he ever stood upon the shore of a river and measured a hundred-acre lot a half-mile away, by means of compass and mathematics? Does he believe any one ever did it?

Now if he accepts statements made by reliable men in science, and takes for granted that what they say is true, why should he question the testimony of such men as Dr. Sweringen, Prof. Crookes, Alfred R. Wallace, Prof. Elliott Coues, and the hundreds and thousands of witnesses who have examined the phenomena of Spiritualism as carefully as they have the phenomena of light and electricity?

Prof. Jamieson hangs to the fog of the past, and institutes comparisons between Jesus, Moses, Elijah & Co., and present-day facts. Now the difference is definite and clear. Those facts of 2,000 years ago, may have been real many of them as reported, and I believe they were. But there is no way to verify them. The present-day phenomena occur in thousands of homes, and miliions have witnessed them, and the evidence is much more direct and conclusive than the story of the meteoric

It is not probable that a million people saw that brilliant display. If they did they have not testified. But it is morally certain that many millions have witnessed various spiritual phenomena, and critically examined them, not once, for a few moments, but many times, and Prof. Jamieson claims to have been one of the observers. His conclusions may differ from Dr. Sweringen, or the facts.

He seems to me a broad-minded, consistent liberal, more rational and less dogmatic than many Spiritualists, or the vast majority of so-called freethinkers and materialists. He is generous towards his critics. He accepts criticism as good-naturedly as he gives it. He asks for knowledge, but he accepts nearly everything but Spiritualism on faith. Why not take that on evidence, as he does the meteoric shower?

I agree with Prof. Jamieson that "no man's testimony is equal to direct reve-lation from a spirit." Of course not. No lover can take the testimony from another that love is sweet, and conjugal felicity the most blessed experience. desire, and make proper effort and con-ditions. Spiritualism offers the opportunity to the whole world, and all may know from least to greatest. But if we would examine the moon through the Lick telescope, we must go where it is and conform to the conditions. If we would know the inspiration of California climate we must get into it, breathe it, bathe in it, inhale its fragrance, and feast our eyes on its varied scenery. But we can accept the statements of friends we know who have been there, and believe that they have drank its sunshine, nestled in its flowery treats, listened to the sobbings of the mighty sea, felt the bracing breezes of its twilight shades, climbed the rugged mountains, and worshiped in charmed grottos and sleeping valleys, and their experience in a measure be comes our own. To cover it all with a veil of doubt, freeze the fragrance of its holy dreams in an atmosphere of repellant skepticism, and shiver in the frigid climate of Agnostic wintery gloom, does not advance the intellect. nor improve the moral instincts that grow and ripen in the summer climate of human love and restful confidence in the testimony of tried and faithful friends

Brother Jamieson, stick to your critical scientific ideals, but come up out of the winter desert and breathe the sweet warm atmosphere of Spiritualism. LYMAN C. HOWE.

Parkland Camp-meeting.

After many years of idleness, the peautiful grounds of the Spiritualists of Philadelphia were invaded by the lyceum and members of the First Associa-tion of Spiritualists, on July 4. The children were taken care of by the officers and made welcome. All had a good time. The early morning was cloudy later in the day the sun came out, and

On Sunday, July 5, we opened the camp with two meetings. The afternoon meeting was for the benefit of the lyceum, and was held in the grove, and was conducted by Mr. A. Groom. speakers were Mr. Adams, Prof. Stevens and Mr. Barry. The mediums were Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs Cutler and Mr. Grosseck. The speakers praised the work done in the lyceum, and spoke in glowing language for it in the future, and implored all Spiritualists to send their children to the lyceum in place of sending them to the church and Sunday school where their little minds were poisoned with the manner those people interpret the Bible, and their bodies dwarfed for want of proper exercise. The mediums gave many good tests. Mr. Grosseck's work of giving each one a test was something of a novel feature. The evening meeting was held in the chapel and was conducted by Capt. F. J. Keffer, an old-time Spiritualist and pioneer in the cause. Mr. W. Rawson's subject was The Needs of the Hour. Mrs. Cutler and Mrs. Snyder gave many tests. Mrs. Snyder gave tests in German and English. The meetings will be carried on during the summer every Sunday. Good speaking from lo-cal talent will be had every Sunday; also an array of mediums. Mrs. Cutler is camping on the grounds; also Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Jennings.

There are over one hundred cottages. mostly occupied by the best class of people W. RAWSON. Philadelphia, Ps.

ods of one of our so-called mediums; one that could produce manifestations from materialization down to type-writing; he had every phase on the calendar, and had dupes many. His name is George Brower; sometimes Charles

Brower. His "guides" guided a colony of these ready-tobelieve anything souls down to South America, (Guatemala), there to find gold in abundance. took what money they had, landed them in a God-forsaken spot—men, women and children. He then refraced his steps to the place where he knew more such dupes were awaiting him, and left the poor fools to see their way clear the best they can. One, an old soldier, who got rid of five hundred dollars of his savings, came back alive to his family. The spirits had advised him to leave The papers made it so hot for the adventurer that he skipped to San Francisco, where, I hear, he is again in his be taken in. Were it not that our cause is brought before the public in such ridicule, I would say, go on. Its the only way some will ever learn. I tried to enlight en the Spiritualists at Summerland camp two years ago that his spirit manifestations were not what he purported them to be, and I had the ill-will of those I tried to help.

questionable work, and victims ready to

Los Angeles is far ahead of Chicago in producing questionable characters. These are the ones who get the harvest while an honest soul, like D. W. Hull, would go hungry. He struck hard lines while here.

I see no way by which this state of affairs can be remedied. Most of our people encourage it by their patronage, and someone there must be to give the marvelous. Just one long term of imprisonment for one of these tricksters would settle the question.

MRS. M. E. KRATZ. Los Angeles, Cal.

THE N. S. A. PRESIDENT. I desire to propose the name of Geo. W. Kates, the well-known Spiritualist lecturer and missionary, as the N. S. A. president for the ensuing year, to be elected at Washington, D. C., at the annual convention to be held next Octo-

In presenting the name of George Whitfield Kates, I am suggesting a name known North, South, East and West, upon whom the mantle of the Methodist apostle, George Whitfield, for whom he was named, has fallen as an earnest zealot and a forcible thinker and orator.

None have done a better work for Spiritualism than has Brother Kates. Since 1865 he has been actively at the front, fighting for truth. He has the fire and zeal of an old-time patriot. Of ms nature have been they who have builded great human enterprises. He is executive, earnest and talented. All that he has attempted for children's lyceums, local societies, camp meetings, state associations and the general cause have been successes. He never has had failures in his public enterprises. As an editor and writer he has been forcible, and carries weight with all he says. Whatever way his works and character may be weighed, he will balance to the credit of the cause of Spiritualism.

Such a man will be a forcible executive of the N. S. A. As its president we may expect a clean and forcible administration. As a trustee of the N. S. A. he has been a careful and trusted adviser. He understands its needs, and has tne good will of his fellow officers. As a delegate in the conventions he has always been a useful advisor; and has projected many of the successful movements achieved by the N. S. A. When lately requested by several friends of the cause to allow his name to be proposed his reply was: "I cannot consent to made a fight for the position; if the Spiritualists want my services, they must call me voluntarily to the posi-W. J. HICKS, President Montana State Association of Spiritualists, Box 92, Anaconda, Mont.

Will the World "Start From Its Hinges"? "Intense anxiety regarding the Pontiff's condition is felt throughout the United States.'

"The Pope is better." "The Pope is worse."

"Cardinal Gibbons is on his way to "The Holy Father passed a restless light. "Dr. Mazzoni still hopes for Pope Leo's recovery.'

"Thousands of Americans pray for His Holiness." These are a few of the headlines of numerous articles filling our daily papers on this all-absorbing subject. can we explain so much noise about a weary traveler nearing the end of his journey? After trotting the soil of our globe for ninety-three years, working hard to make the world believe what he cannot have believed himself, he longs for a well-earned vacation in some higher latitude. But jealous humanity begrudges it to him, trying its best to prolong the agony; be it only for sensational journalism to feed upon—or—who knows, to bring again into the foreground the somewhat antiquated affairs of the church of Rome, and re-awaken the slumbering sympathies of a "progressive world," a large part of which, hatched from the egg of orthodoxy still drags after it some pieces of the broken shell. Pope Leo may have joined his predecessors by this time, but the fact is kept secret, in order to prolong the finale, for political reasons or to avoid serious disturbances(?) Alas! the shadow of extinct worldly grandeur is kept hovering over the Vatican, for the edification of some and the amusement of others. The stage of life needs action and actors.

If we can trust reports, His Holiness has been a good man, an amiable man, who deserves our sincere "Requiescat in Pace!" His only fault was, or is, his in Pace!" His only fault, was, or is, his being "the pope." He also passes for a "learned man," and must in consequence have developed some "thinking apparatus." The question is, how can such a thing exist alongside the "throne of St. Peter?" Explain it if you can! And who will explain the vivid sympathles of Protestant America for "the Holy Stool?"

True, Pope Leo knew how to tickle the vanity of a young nation and profit by it, for the good of Rome. But can he have done still more? Can it be true indeed, that, the church of Rome found under the "Stars and Stripes" a firm foothold for future operations? for its persistent toil to push back the mighty wave of progress?

But we do not care. Let Leo die and let his successor take up the work with renewed vigor! The farther the wave of progress must recede, the more strength it will gather for another on-set towards the crumbling rocks of ancient superstition. They will have to yield to repeated attacks and their very oundations will be washed away by that future tidal wave of progress that is coming to prepare our old earth for a new era of solid civilization. HENRIETTA STRAUB.

'Gleanings from the Rostrum." By A. B. French, Cloth, $1. For sale at this office.

ZURILDA WELLINGTON.

(Continued from page 2.)

for man's ignorance. It was Jesus who opened the tomb and came to man in als resurrected life as we are now coming to you. Spirit life will strip off the tawdry glory of earth, and with it the popular superstitions that held man in ignorance; but it will clothe the soul with the dearest properties of spiritual possessions. Part with all traditional peliefs and carry your hearts to God in prayer, that you may be able to turn from the dead past to the living present, and from the tomb and sorrow to joy and rejoicing. Lift the dark curtain and show the heart-stricken mourners those they love; clasp their white hands and listen to their words of undying love, for that door that John saw opened in heaven has not been closed. Seal not the sayings of this book, but feed ye the many with this bread. Love ye one another.

ZURILDA WELLINGTON.

To the Members of Central Fountain of Light.

Greeting:-It is not for me, as a messenger from the realms of the spirit, to point to you any duty in relation to the truth of that knowledge that has been so abundantly bestowed on you in the years that have passed. Nor need I recall the efforts that have been made by the band to place your feet on the firm and enduring principles which yield right and justice to all people, regardless of race, color or any preconceived opinions that may have been held by you. Oh, look ye well, that the tides of error which often sweep your shore do not wash you away. The underlying principles of all truth are to be found in the realm of the spirit; and they, only they, who search amid the fields of the real, can glean the true and lasting. You will cherish those seasons of friendly meetings as you unfold in the spirit, and the teachings there given will shed a new glory on your paths. There are golden bonds that bind you to them, and a silver thread that inter laces your lives with those who come in such close and endearing relation as guides and teachers, to drop the heavenly manna and bring a fresh baptism of love from the eternal world. They, with you, feel the soft, sweet breath of the summer breeze that fans your brows, and the chill of winter, and they still go on with you hand in hand, that you may not tarry in well doing, nor retrograde when new trials meet you and tope seems to be crushed out.

Try to make your lives accord with the highest teaching that heaven has willed you, as far as in you lies; you can do this by an earnest effort to overcome your weak and repining natures. Let your spirits aspire to the realm where the arisen are now awaiting you. Remember that only as you do well, and nloble here, can you find the beautiful and blessed state that you desire here-

There are promises, prophecies, con solations and hopes for you, and you shall not be left comfortless.

"If yo love me I will come to you," said Jesus-and by that law have we come to you. Reuben's guiding hand led me to you, and I have felt a strong desire to give my little life's story to you through her whom I am now speaking; and if you, as members of the 'Fountain of Light," think it best to let my little history be cast to the winds, I will watch the waves as they break on the shore of time.
Oh, my friends, I am drawn to you by a duty that I must fulfill. As I have told you, I stood where many have stood whose sorrow and loss had no voice-on the fragments of a shipwrecked creed. On that I was bid to build my all; but, my soul could not accept it, for my childish faith had yielded to a larger knowledge and a fuller light; with my soul I had seen God more clearly.

The problems of life are before you, and the first step for you to learn, is to balance the forces in your own being. Rays of light are interpenetrating your world from us, and we are laboring to impart, through this mortal, instruction to you. We see the conflicting currents which belong to the different conditions of human life, but there are sunbeams bursting on you from the summerland, to shield you from wrong and assist you in right; it is the spirit's duty and delight. Into every thirsty, longing soul will be dropped manna from heaven; and every heart shall be baptised afresh from the world of souls.

You have been well taught, and it is your duty to give this bread of life to others. See to it that ye feed the many with this loaf.

ZURILDA WELLINGTON.

Central Fountain of Light is a few chosen earnest souls that banded themselves together in search of truth, and the medium through which this was written was the instrument through which they sought truth. M. PASQUIER CURRAN. St. Louis, Mo.

FREE relief from PILES

We want to send a trial of our famous PI-CO-DIA of the paper. PI-CO-DIA of the paper of this paper. PI-CO-DIA of the paper of the paper. PI-CO-DIA of the paper o The PI-00-DIA treatment as a whole restores vitality and strength to the muscles of the rectum and that is why it cures where all else has failed. PI-CO-DIA Is a Guaranteed Cure

Here is a testimonial from a prominent believes man, "I had bleeding piles and uicerations, and was bleeding profusely when I began treatment. This stopped the second day of the regular treatment. I used the treatment faithfully for six weeks and have been completely cured of all my rectal troubles. FRANK L. CODY, Cleveland, O. Simply send us your name and address. Trial of the olument is malled prepaid. Costs you nothing. We also send a Valuable Book on Piles Free Gives more facts about the cause and cure of Piles than any similar book yet published. Sont free to anyone inquiring for free sample of them. Write to-day. The relief is immediate for every case of Piles. F. H. WALKER & CO., 45 Wilson Bidg., Chicago.

Reference—Merchants Loan and Trust Bank.

INDUCE Your Neighbor to Subscribe for The Progressive Thinker. Now is the time to extend the circulation of The Progressive Thinker. It will contain Occult, and Spiritualistic news with which every one should be

MAY-FEVERACE ASTHMA Kola Plant.

A New and Positive Cure for HAY-FEVER and ASHMA has been found in the Kols Plant, a rare botanto product of West African origin. So great are the powers of this THE KOLS PLANT, Can origin. So great are the powers of this THE KOLS PLANT, Its covery it has come into almost universal use in the hospitals of Europe and America for the cure of every form of Hay-Fever and Asthma. Its cures are really marvelous. Men, women and children who have been given up as incurable are being reatored daily to perfect health by the use of Himalya. Thousands of letters attesting its wonderful cures have been written the importent but limited space prevents a detailed list. Read what a few have to say, proving that Hay-Fover and Asthma can be cured:

Mr. Proderick F. Wyatt, the noted Evangolist of Ability and Children who have been written the important of the proderick of the country of the control of the country of the control of the country of the country of the control of the country of the country selean of St. Louis. Mo. writes March sch, that he used slimaly a on six different Hey-Fover gatients into Yall with eatisfactory results in evolution. Mr. A. L. Chrk. Springfeld, Mo., writes Jan. 22d. Wess. Mr. A. L. Chrk. Springfeld, Mo., writes Jan. 22d. Springfeld, Mo., writes Jan. 22d. White Jan. 22d. And Jan. 2

INVISIBLE HELPERS

A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Standpoint.

This work, "Invisible Helpers," written by O. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and approarity throughout gressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and suggestive throughout. It treats of the "Universal Belief in the Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story," "Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Deyond." The work is neatly bound in cloth and the pulse is 55 cents. cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible. One hundred and forty-four propositions, theological, moral, historical-and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scripture, without comment. Price, 15 cents.

CONFLICT Between Religion and Science.
Just the book for progressive thinkers. A book that is very interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper.
Price, cloth, $1.75. HEALING, Causes and Effects, with the fluer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 60 cents.

POLIS of the Life Beyond and Within.
Voices from many lands and countries, saying, "Man, thou shalt compiled by Giles B. Stebbins. Cloth. $1.

Works of Thomas Paine

A new edition in paper covers with large clear type, comprising;

Age of Reason... 25 cts.
Rights of Man... 25 cts.
Crisis... 25 cts.
Common Sense... 15 cts. This is a splendid opportunity to secure these stand-ard works, as the price is within the reach of all. For sale at this office.

THE CONFESSIONAL

BY FATHER CHINIQUY. This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex-Priest, whose character is above repreach, and who knows what he is talking about. Everybody should read it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chap-

CHAPTER I.

The Struggle before the Surrender of Womanly Selfrespect in the Confessional.

CHAPTER II.

Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the The Confessional is the Modern Sodom

CHAPTER IV.

How the Vow of Cellhacy of the Priests is made easy
by Auricular Confession.

The highly-educated and refined Woman in the Con-fessional—What becomes of her after uncondition-al surrender—Her irreparable Ruin.

CRAPTER VI.

Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Murriage and Human Society. Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civil-ized Nations?

Does Auricular Confession bring Peace to the Soul?

CHAPTER VIII.

CHAPTER IX.

The Dogma of Auricular Confession a Sacrilegious

God compels the Church of Rome to Abominations of Auricular Confession CHAPTER XI.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and France.

CHAPTER XII.

Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Priest of Rome must Question his Penitent. Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00.

MEDIUMSHIP and its DEVELOPMENT, and how to Mesmerize to Assist Development. By W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 60 cents.

WOMAN. Four Centuries of Progress, A Lecture delivered at the Free-thinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1893. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c. PSYGHE is the invention of a practical medium, under spirit to develop mediumship, Many, by its use, have received long communications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, 81, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail BY CHARLES B. NEWCOMB,

Author of "Ail's Right with the World." Cloth 270 pages. Mr. Newcomb made a distinct success with "Ail's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank of the Metaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have seen cheered and atrengthened by him will welcome another book by this which teacher whose words of help are doing so much to aske the world belief by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail" is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing called life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be in demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

The Christ Question Settled. Josus, Man, Medium, Martyr, A symposium by W. E. Coleman, J. S. Loveland, Hudson Tuttle, Moses Hull, J. R. Buchanau, B. B. Hill, Rabbi I. M. Wise, Col. Ingersoll—and what the spirits say about it. By J. M. FEERIES, M. D. Whether this book settles the question or not it will be found eminently entertaining, and brings together a mass of evidence to establish the historical character of Jesus. A large volume. Price, cloth, $1.25.

AUTOMATIC WRITING, [So-called] with other psychic experiences. By Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portraits and specimen pages of the writing. Handsomely bound in cloth. Price, $1. Postage, 100.

news with which every one should be familiar. No other paper published on this earth contains such a vast amount of matter so well adapted to enrich the mind. Send in a subscription now.

"Talmagean Inanities, Incongruities, Inconsistencies and Blasphomies; a Review of Rev. T. DeWitt and Rev France DeWitt Talmage's oft-repeated attack upon Spiritualism." By Moses Hull Rev. Sender 200 and 100 and

DR. J. M. PEEBLES. Most Important Books.

REDUCED PRICES.

Ahat is Spiritualism? Are These Spiritualists? and What Has Spiritualism Done for the World? By J. M. Peebles, M. D., M. A. An excellent book to put in the hands of inquirers. Coth, 75 cents.

Did Jesus Christ Exist? Is Christ the Corner Stone of Spiritualism? What Do the Spirits Say, About It? Wm. Emmette Coleman vs. Hudson Tuttle on Mahomet and Jesus. To which is appended a controversy, Arthur J. Owen vs. J. M. Peebles, on the origin of the Lord's Prayer and Sermon on the Mount, and an exhaustive paper, by Wm. Emmette Coleman on the Historical Origin of Christianity. Paper, 15,

Three Journeys Around the World. A large, handsomely bound octavo volume, 500 pages, finely illustrated, describing the Pacific Islands, New Zealand and Australia, India and her magic, Egypt and her pyramids, Persia, Ceylon, Palestine, etc., with the religious manners, customs, laws and habits of foreign countries. Price, $1.50.

Immortality,

And the employments of spirits good and evil in the spirit world. What a hundred spirits say about their dwell-ing-places, their locomotion, their social relations, infants, idiots, suicides, etc. Price reduced from $1.50 to $1. Postage 12 cents. Paper 50 cents.

Seers of the Ages. This large volume of 400 pages (9th edition), treats exhaustively of the seers, sages, prophets and inspired men of the past, with records of their visor the past, with records of their vis-ions, trances and intercourse with the spirit world. This is considered a standard work, treating of God, heaven, hell, faith, repentance, prayer, baptism, hell, faith, repentance, prayer, baptism, judgment, demoniac spirits, etc. Price reduced from $2 to $1.25. Postage 15 c.

Spiritual Harp. A book of 300 pages, containing songs, hymns and anthems for Spiritualist societies and circles. The words are afire with progress. It contains the choicest songs and music by James G. Clark and other reformers. Reduced from $2 to $1.25.

Dr. Peebles' Three Jubilee Lectures. A most elegantly bound pamphlet of 122 pages, giving Dr. Peebles' lectures delivered in Hydesville, March 31, 1898, in Rochester, and later in London at the International Congress of Spiritual-These lectures, illustrated, are ists. racy, meaty and scholarly. Price 35

The Christ Question Settled.

A symposium by Hudson Tuttle, W. E. Coleman, Rabbi Wise, Col. Ingersoll, J. S. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. R. Buchanan and Dr. Peebles. This is a handsome volume of nearly 400 pages, and treats of Jesus, Mahomet and the gnos-tics. What the Talmud says about Jesus. Antiquity unveiled. Child marriage in India. Col. Ingersoll's agnosticism. What the spirits through W. J. Colville, J. J. Morse, Mrs. Longley, Mrs. Everitt, Mrs. Hagan-Jackson and other mediums say about Jesus, etc.

A Critical and Crushing Review By Dr. Peebles of the Rev. Dr. Kipp's five lectures against Spiritualism. This crisp and critical reply of the Doctor, while repudiating spiritism, and all frauds connected with the subject, sustains Spiritualism. THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN frauds connected with the subject, sustains Spiritualism, considering it the complement of primitive Christianity. Price 25 cents.

Fiftleth Anniversary of Modern Spirit.

ualism. An elegant pamphlet containing an account of the exercises at Rochester and Hydesville, N. Y., at the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of Modern Spiritualism. It contains the addresses of some of the most noted speakers present. It contains the picture of the Hydesville cottage, wreath, etc. Price, of How to Keep Young. This book goes to the foundation of things-health, the laws of health, the foods to eat, the subject of marriage, who should marry and who should not marry, the causes of divorce, the proper time for conception, gestation, the determining of sex, animal flesh-eating, what Herodotus, Hesiod, Homer, Pythagoras, Shelley, Graham and others ate, agoras, Snelley, Granam and others are, the foods that produce long life and how to live "immortal" on earth, etc. This book is written in Dr. Peebles' usually clear, crisp style, and attracts the reader from the very first through its facts, logic and convincing arguments. Very handsomely bound in cloth.

Death Defeated, or the Psychic Secret

Vaccination a Curse and a Menace to Personal Liberty.

This finely illustrated volume of between three hundred and four hundred pages, by Dr. Peebles, treats exhaustively of inoculation, cow-pox and calflymph vaccination from Jenner's time to the present. It tells how the cowpox pus poison is obtained—how the vaccine virus, while causing many deaths, sows the seed of eczema, pimpled faces, cancers, tumors, ulcers and leprosy. It gives a history of the several years' battle against vaccination in England, Parliament making it "optional" instead of compulsory. book should be in every school library and family. Price $1.25.

Dr. PEEBLES' Pamphlets and Books

In the World Celestial. By DR. T. A. BLAND.

"It is inexpressibly delightful."-Hon. C. A. "It is inexpressing windle, "Is lifts the reader into enchanting realms."— Medical Glepnor.
"Is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. "It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Savage.
"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorship, the astounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it contains."—B. O. Flower, in the Arena.
"It will give us courage to pass through the deep shadows of death to the sun-lit clime of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.
"Everybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a most beautiful romance of two worlds."—Banner of Light.
It is Printed in elegant style and bound in cloth and gold. Pric $1.00.

The Mysic Thesaulus,

Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical secrets of Astrai Truth and Occuit Art. By Willis F. Whitzenbad, Editor Agrippa's "Natural Magic." The book troats of the Symbol of the Oress, Spiritual Gitts, Inspirational Conception, Initiative haxposition, the Astrai Brothespicol, Initiative haxposition, the Astrai Brothespicol, Initiative haxposition, the Astrai Brothespicol, Initiative haxposition, the Magic Mitror, and Celestial Companionship. It is a good text book for students of the Mystic, and will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA. According to Old Records. By Dr. Paul Carus. A translation made from Japanese, under the auspices of the Rev. Shaku Soyer, delegate to the Parliament of Religions. Was published in Japan. Price, 81.

The Progressive Thinker.

Published every Basurday at 40 Loomis &t. J. R. MRANCIS, Editor and Publisher.

Entered at Chicago Postoffice as second class matter.

TERES OF SUBSCRIPTION. Variably in advance.
One year.
Six Months.
Thirteen Weeks.
Sots
Sots Thirteen Weeks,
Single Copy,
DEMITTANCES.

Reinit by Postoffice Money Order, Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It costs from 10 to 15 cents to get checks cashed on local banks, so don't sond them unless you wish that amount deducted from the amount seat. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Loomis Street, Chicago, Ill.

TAKE NOTICE.

At expiration of subscription, if not re-newed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sent for extra numbers. If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers supplied gratis.

Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, always give the address of the place to which it is then sent or the change can not be made.

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1903.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE.

All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spiritualist Association.

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to answer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giving date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC. All money in donations or collections intended for the N. S. A. Mediums' Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not directly paid to our authorized missionaries, who can show a missionary certificate of later date than October, 1902. No other is authorized to collect money for this association. Contributions, Contributions, large or small, are gratefully accepted.

MARY T. LONGLEY,

N. S. A. Secretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Wash-

Readers, Take Due Notice.

No one can intelligently review "A Great Psychological Crime" without first carefully reading the book, hence no criticism of the same will be admitted to our columns unless the above conditions are complied with.

A Great Army of Endeavorers.

The greatest undenominational religious order in the history of Christianity has been holding an international convention at Denver. No further testimony as to its cohesive power or its evangelical enthusiasm is needed than the fact that twelve thousand delegates from all countries and climes greeted the distinguished founder of the society at its meeting in the Colorado city.

The growth of the Society of Chrisacter, to its happily chosen name, or to all of these influences, is of little consequence compared to the fact that it represents a mighty force for good citizen- of Mr. Clason's house ship in this country. It is also one of the great recruiting agencies of the churches. During the past year it is estimated that 175,000 Endeavorers became active members of the churches. In November, 1902, there were 62.194 societies, with a membership of 3,700,000, chiefly in the United States and Canada. It has a large membership, however, in Australia, Great Britain, China, India and Japan.

Perhaps the thing that has given the society its greatest vitality and popularity is the word "Endeavor." The secular world is attracted to it and the Christian is inspired by it. It is suggestive of earnest and purposeful aspiration. There is no cant or dogma or bigotry about it. It has no pharisaical flavor. Almost any man can "endeavor" to be something better than he is. This is the potency of it-a confederation of right-minded persons-not of the "holier-than-thou" sort-who are deavoring to exemplify in practical life the simple precepts of Christian faith. In the above, as set forth by the Chicago Record-Herald, there is no sectarianism; though originating in the Christian church, the only thing re-quired is to "endeavor" to be better, and do better. It is a wonderful power for good in many respects.

Mind, Matter and Ether.

As stated by the Chicago Chronicle, contemporary scientists are making much ado over the proposal that mind and matter are composed of the same substance and that the substance is the universal ether.

A Japanese who has recently written a volume entitled "Ideals of the East," writes: "For India has carried and scattered, the data of intellectual progress for the whole world ever since the pre-Buddhistic period when she produced the Sankhya philosophy and the atomic theory."

Part of the atomic theory thus originating is that the universal ether is the common constituent of mind and matter, which it bridges and identifies.

Huxley was of opinion that the chief business of science in every era is to refute the errors of the science of the pre-

The particular business of the science of the passing hour appears to be to revive antique rejected theories and to deck them out with new names.

Among all contemporary abstract discoveries, however, the only one of indisputable truth appears to be the dis covery that there is nothing new under

It does seem strange that the scientific thought, so called, of to-day, is carried away back to the precincts and boundaries of prehistoric ages, as the outcome of the advanced thought of the present. That modern science should land our scientists where the ancient Hindu philosophers were in the remote ages of the pust.

D. For sale at this office. Price $1.

Has This Dog an Immortal Soul? The Chicago News informs us that truth about the Bible." Bozzie II., the "mind-reading" collie that barked President Rooseveit's age, is of the matter. It would make an exceldead. She passed away recently at the lent text-book to be used by the Bible home of her owner, George B. Clason, students in the Morris Pratt Institute. 50 Bryant avenue, and the whole Clason in connection with Moses Hull's book houshold is in mourning. Bozzie II. be- on the Higher Criticism. It gives in longed to a large and illustrious family.

wish that someone should

It is a book we can heartily recom-

This portly volume is for sale at our

An Acknowledgment.

evangelist, in an interview with the

"Yes, there is an apostasy along

The movement of unhelief and infidelity inaugurated by Bradlaugh in England seems to have spent its force. Many of "The most dangerous sign of the ing has been one of criticism and deand are in turn yearning for the Bible and the old faith. In Edinburgh, the movement, we had the most enthusias-

This seems like a very striking acknowledgment for an evangelist of world's fame. And he proposes to coun-

About once in a certain number of thusiastic exhorter produces a religious or psychologic wave that seems to sweep over the land, and for a time, usually a short time, the whole world zeal, a renewal of the holy spirit in man, and at the bidding of this great mesmerist or hypnotist everybody wants to pray and shout, and they

This is called a revival, and this is what the Rev. Torrey says of his methods: "Preaching the gospel in a direct way. Lecturing on faith and infidelity.

Calling upon the people who profess conversion to make an open confession of Christ. Great insistence upon personal work. Open air meetings, and meetings held in great factories and in-song and singing the gospel, led always by Mr. Alexander, who is a wise, conseweak and barren of all spiritual re-

"Half of the failure, the useless, pow-primarily to the fact that the congregations do not pray for their ministers as they ought. I am not defending the ministry because I am a minister, but hecause it is the truth. I will tell you how the churches who have poor ministers can get new ones. Let them pray for their ministers and God will renew erless just in proportion as they neglect is the truth. 'that the average minister does not devote five minutes a day to prayer, and that the average church member does not devote as much as three minutes.' If this is true, and I have no doubt but that it is, it is the secret of more failures in Christian living

Dr. Torrey is said to be a powerful speaker, with a strong voice and fine physique and an enthusiast in his call-ng and has a fine singer, Mr. Alexander, to aid him in his revivals, a la

Christianity has ever had to adopt such tactics on stated occasions or sink

There is nothing substantial and permanent about the doctrines taught by these evangelists and nothing lasting in the effects of their wave of prayer and song. A year or two suffices to make it appear in the dim past as a beautiful wave only and of little value to the thinking, reasoning, calm, matter-of-fact resident clergy, who, no doubt are glad it came, because their membership

Meditation, reflection, thought, analysis produce apostasy in the church. When people are left to think and reason out the old Bible problems they are bound to pull away from the vagaries

brary and his study, and even his con-

The minister drones away in his

"Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth:"

"Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J.

Howard Moore. An address before the important subject. Price, cloth, $1.

usual manner and many of his auditors

snore just the same as if Dr. Torrey and myths of the old superstitions and and contributions increased a little.

into a state of lethargy akin to death.

Moody and Sankey of the past.

than ony other one thing.

"A minister or a congregation is pow-

"Some one has sald, and I suspect it them and make new men of them.

crated man."

sults?" he said:

prayer.

teract all this apostasy with prayer.

tic meetings.'

Rev. R. A. Torrey, the great orthodox compact form about all the information extant concerning the Bible. being herself the most remarkable of her clan. Her mother, Bozzle I., was office. Price $1.25. owned by Mr. Clason, and her grandmother, Boz, was owned by W. H. Harris, of Michigan, who gave Bozzie I. to Mr. Clason.

A sister of Bozzie I. is owned by John Rev. R. Keene Ryan relative to the A. Drake, and when she was told of her present waning power and apostasy of accomplished niece's death she gave ev- the present-day clergy, says: ery indication of doggish grief. Her tail drooped and she slunk to a corner, some lines. There is a decline in faith refusing to be comforted. A son of along other lines, but I believe that this Bozzie II. is owned by Kermit Roose old world is growing better day by day velt.

Bozzie II. has been voted the most versatile dog in the world. Scientists the halls that were used for their meetwho have made her a special study, ings have either closed up or changed statemen and diplomats before whom into halls in which the gospel is being she has performed, united in singing preached. Some of the old infidel lecturers are now preaching the unsearchher praises, though the scientists were able riches of our Blessed Lord. forced to admit that they could not make her acute faculties conform to times to me, as I view and study the reany of their theories regarding the men. ligious horizon, is unbelief and error, tal acumen of animals. A professor of as it is being Columbia university spent a whole once taught by Tom Paine, Straus and week with Bozzie II. about a year ago, Renan is now substantially taught and and was forced to admit that she had preached by men who profess to be reasoning faculties and deductive pow- ministers of the gospel. er and her apparent proclivities for But this movement, too, seems to mind-reading he was completely at a have spent its force. The era now closloss to explain.

Bozzie's most baffling performance Bozzie's most baffling performance struction. But the people have grown from the point of view of the scientists tired of the so-called higher criticism, was that of telling the ages of visitors to her master's home. The visitor would be told to think of his age and di- very center of this higher criticism rectly Bozzie would begin to bark, making a sound for each year the man had lived. She was never known to be at fault. Besides this she apparently pos sessed a mathematical faculty of being able to do difficult sums in addition, subtraction and even division without hesitation and without making a mistake. If told to cross the street and years Christianity, with the aid of some pick out the fifth tree from the end of great magnetic personality, some enthe block she would count the trees as she walked along, stopping and putting her paws against the right tree.

Bozzie I. was considered a wonderfuly intelligent animal, but her daughter, though living only to half the mother's seems ablaze with fervor and religious age, far surpassed her in accomplishments. Bozzie II. was probably the only trick dog that was ever entertained in the white house, certainly the only canine that ever was allowed to "guess," if know not why. guessing it may be called, the president's age. Mr. and Mrs. Clason to visit the president last year, taking the wonderful collie with them, and Bozzie on her first presentation to the chief executive told him his age to his face and then told Mrs. Roosevelt how old she was. The president and his family were delighted, and diplomats were invited to meet Bozzie. When the Clasons returned home Mr. Clason received a letter from President Roose stitutions. We make a great deal of velt, thanking him for the treat of seeing Bozzie perform, saying that the collie was the "most wonderful and noteworthy dog he had ever seen." Roosevelt sent Bozzie a collar on which o In reply to the question, "Whose fault was engraved, "Bozzie II., from Mrs. is it that so many of the churches are Theodore Roosevelt."

Mr. Clason is grief-stricken over the demise of his pet, which was only 31/2 years old. Although he attended her during her last hours of life he could not bear to look upon her when she was

"I don't know whether you will understand these tears or not," said Mr. Clatian Endeavor has been remarkable. his pet's accomplishments, to wipe his Whether it is due to the personality of its founder, the Rev. Francis E. Clark, to its broad and undenominational charshe made more friends than any child could. She would never leave my sight when I was in the house.' Just then a little girl ran by the front

"Bozzie is dead, little girl," called out Mr. Clason.

The child stopped in her run and then walked slowly and soberly up to the front porch. "Is she?" she said, rowfully, and then she turned and said,

I must run and tell mamma." "The children all loved Bozzie," re marked Mr. Clason.

Bozzie was taken iil and taken to Dr. White's dog hospital. But finding that the best dog physicians could no nothing for his pet, Mr. Clason removed her to his home and nursed her through her dying hours himself.

She was put in a handsome coffin and buried beside her mother in the Clasons' back yard.

Another Notable Book.

Ingersoll said: "Somebody ought to tell the truth about the Bible."

The efforts of Bible defenders and apologists in all time have been colored and warped by strong bias in its favor. viewing it as the veritable word of God that must be believed and sustained as the hope of the world, necessary to man's salvation for time and eternity. On the other hand, unbelievers and infidels, so-called, have fought against all this rippling wave is soon forgotten the book with weapons largely forged in when the minister gets back to his lithe shops of illiteracy and ignorance. The amount of literature, pro and gregation seem like nails driven into con, on the Bible is absolutely appalling: spective place, dressed in the latest and its value, taken all in all, is in in- fashion. verse ratio to its quantity—great bulk, little worth. As to the Bible itself—it is of importance mainly in these days because of the superstitious hold it has on the large transfer the superstitious hold it has on the the superstitious hold it has on the previously. minds of so many people. Because of this, it cannot be entirely ignored by arouse the sleepy old religions to a thinking people, however little weight state of activity and a sense of Christhey attach to it in respect of its intrin-tian duty. They forget.

Higher Criticism has played cyclonic navoc with the old-time orthodox ideas of the verbal inspiration and historical By Brof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of infallibility of the Bible, and what was a strong, logical thinker, on a deeply aforetime labeled sheer infidelity is now held by ministers of high standing for the fact that Mr. John E. Remsburg has cents. written a book in which he aims, with learning and plety.

Howard Moore. An address before the In this connection we call attention to Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price, 25

"Meatless Dishes." Very useful. marked success, to fulfil Ingersoll's Price 10 cents. The Great Psychological Crime

These

This is an epoch making book, and will create no end of discussion in the ranks of Spiritualism. Every Critical thinker will want to read it in order to keep posted as to what is going on. It will prove a veritable Storm Center in our ranks. "Astral Worship." By J. H. Hill, M. It will be sent to any address for $2.00.

A Great Storm Center.

SPIRITUALISM SWEPT BY A CYCLONE.

An Imperative "Halt!" Is Galled on Spiritual Mediumship.

Psychical Death Involved in the Process and Practice of Hypnotism and All Phases of Mediumship.

"The Great Psychological Crime," in tain on the part of the medium, the nature of its affirmations and con[18]. As far as the phenomen the nature of its affirmations and conclusions presents a distinct challenge to notism have been thus far developed clusions presents a distinct challenge to notism have been thus far developed clusions presents a distinct challenge to notism have been thus far developed clusions presents a distinct challenge to notism have been thus far developed clusters. While meadumsnip is at all clusters and under all conditions and circumstances a subjective process and inand mediums in particular. ing the destiny of hypnotists, and the

"A great psychological crime is such cess upon those of the hypnotic sub-a crime against the intelligent soul of ject." man as deprives it of any of the inalienand mediumship.

tains, holds and exercises control of the vidual Life. will. voluntary powers and sensory ortwo parties during the continuance of the hypnotic process.'

suggestion as a factor in healing. The author affirms that hypnotic the grave, "for the laws of spiritual life and exclusively human are: are but a continuation of the laws of life upon the physical plane." But to go on with the definitions-ment of the book: person who voluntarily controls the selection. will, voluntary powers and sensory or 4. Independent, Self-Conscious and ganism of a person in the physical Rational Will or Volition. will, voluntary powers and sensory or-body,

"Mediumship is the process by and vidual immortality. through which a spiritual intelligence obtains, holds and exercises control of faculties, inherent and essential in huerless churches and ministers, is due continuance of the hypnotic process.

"A comparison of this definition with of Death—the Second Death that of hypnotism, discloses the fact It is, indeed, the hypnotization of a physically embodied individual by a operation of Nature's Destructive Prin
It is indeed, the hypnotization of a of his being, invokes upon himself the sonal being.

It is not to spiritually embodied intelligence."-p. ciple, and enters upon the dow outside spiritual intelligences, in just came.' that far the process involved and the relation thus established are mediumistic and therefore subjective.' It is to be noted that the author of the Soul." yields assent to the phenomena of Spiritualism as veridical facts wrought by cal Crime. spiritual intelligences. This is in strong conceded facts of Spiritualism, the work essays umship because of its injurious and soul destroying results upon the medium and the "control"—in other words. the hypnotizer and the "subject."

"Ethically considered" says our author, "there are but two fundamental principles in Nature. In their relation to individual life the one is constructive, or what we are accustomed to regard as 'normal,' and the other de structive, or 'abnormal.'

Hypnotism is declared to be destruct the principle at the foundation of mediumship, it follows that mediumship is sweeping. not constructive but destructive in its tendencies and results. significant facts," as follows:

"1. Hypnotism involves a relation-

Mediumship does the same thing.
"2. A hypnotist controls the will and voluntary powers of his subject. A spiritual hypnotism may enter into the spiritual control does the same thing to conditions or powers of clairvoyance his medium.

"3. In the development of hypnosis waves are good things to in a negative or passive condition and claim that in the cases wherein hypnosurrender himself to the will of his hypothesis and does not enter, it is not mediumnotist. The medium is required to do ship. It is thus resolved into a matter the same thing and surrender himself of definitions:

In my own experience, I listen clair They go to > seen fully stablished the medium sustains the same relation to his control. The same is literally true in the develgains ease and facility in the establishment of hypnotic control, this subject loses his own power of resistance. A medium loses the power of resistance to the will of his controls under the same fingers, just sufficiently to keep it in an analytic position and it will more add to opment of mediumship.

swopt away, and the subject becomes a tism. This method of writing is very helpless instrument, bound, under a bondage of the soul live an irresistible is sund which he alone, without the consent and co-operation of his hypnotist, —she simply locally holds the pencil in an upright position as it moves along.

The Bresent Age and Inner Life; Ancient and Modern Mysteries Classified and co-operation of his hypnotist, —she simply locally holds the pencil in an upright position as it moves along. This work by the celebrated seer. Cloth, $1.10.

the most thoughtful consideration of they are identical with the phenomena hypnotists, Spiritualists in general, of mediumship. It is a notable fact, however, that up to the present time of the medium, this does not mean that If its affirmations are correct, and its mediumship has produced a greater valefinitions accepted as true, its conclu- riety of phenomena than hypnotism, sions are of vital import to Spiritual and some which hypnotism has not thus ism, and of terrible interest as affect.

"9. The physiology of mediumship results of hypnotic mediumship.

The work starts out by defining: "A hypnotism. The action of the mediumpsychological crime is a crime against istic process upon the three brains and the intelligent soul or essential entity nervous organism of the medium is identical with that of the hypnotic pro-

The author claims that the mediumable rights, privileges, benefits, powers latic process is, under all conditions and or possibilities with which God or Na circumstances, a subjective, psychic process; that this is true regar And such crime is affirmed to be in the form of mediumship established, volved in the practice of hypnotism the character of phenomena presented, Hypnotism is defined as "The process the principle back of this process is the by and through which a hypnotist ob Destructive Principle of Nature in Indiganism of his subject. Also the psychic relation which exists between the mental domination and control? the ances of the property of the prop swer is a decided negative.

Omitting some of the connecting Hypnotism is proved, upon the evi- links that form the author's chain of dence of hypnotists themselves, to be reasoning, we here remark that he trol of his own individuality to any an abnormal state, unnatural, and claims that in the spiritual life man's therefore contrary to Nature's pur ability to persist and to advance from ever; his self-hood is a sacred thing; The author wisely discriminates best discriminates best ween Hypnotic Suggestion and Independent Suggestion, and shows the faculties, capacities and powers, and is seat of my personality and usurp the seat of my self-hood, with or without weakness and falsity of the claims put in response to his independent, self-conweakness and raisity of the claims put in response to his independent, soil con-forth concerning the therapeutic use- scious and rational volition and desire and no one has a right to seize the fulness of hypnotism, while fully act to so persist and advance. This view, reins, to drive me whither he will, even cepting the use of real or independent of course, renders immortality conditional.

The author finds that among those power is effective even after the death specific and individual capacities, faculof the subject. It follows him beyond ties and powers which are distinctively

1. Self-Consciousness, as distinguished from mere consciousness. 2. Reason, as distinguished from for upon these hinges the whole argumere intelligence.

3. Independent Choice, as distin-"Control.—A spiritually embodied guished from automatic or involuntary

It is these which enable him to intel-"Medium.-A physically embodied ligently co-operate with Nature's Conperson, whose will, voluntary powers structive Principle, rise above the operand sensory organism are subject to the ation of Nature's Destructive Principle, will or domination of a spiritual con-persist Indefinitely upon the spiritual planes of life, and thereby achieve Indi-

All of these powers, capacities and the will, voluntary powers and sensory man character, are violated by the proorganism of a medium. It also includes cess of hypnotism and mediumship, so the relation which exists between the that those who practice these things two individual intelligences during the fall under the sway of Nature's Destructive Principle and are in the way

"By the surrender or abuse of his inthat mediumship is nothing more and telligent faculties, capacities and pownothing less than spiritual hypnotism. ers, man violates the constructive law path of life, the ultimate destination of arguments, its citation of corroborative

"This is 'The Second Death."
"This is 'Spiritual Death.' "This is Psychical Death, 'The Death

"And this is-The Great Psychologi-

From this necessarily incomplete and contrast with the special pleading, the imperfect presentation of the salient bald assumptions, and the self-stultify- points of this volume, it will be seen ing assertions that characterize Hud- that it is a work of more than ordinary son's "Law of Psychic Phenomena," in importance—and it extends a distinct its endeavor to disprove the spirit challenge to the most serious and source of spiritual manifestations. In thoughtful consideration of Spiritualist this book the reality and genuineness of thinkers and mediums. For myself, I spiritual phenomena, as such are fully would desire to call to it the attention onceded.

Conceding and affirming the claimed Spiritualism, as Hudson Tuttle, Dr. Peebles, Prof. Loveland, Charles Dawto establish the undesirability of medi- barn, Prof. Lockwood, Sar'gis and other philosophical thinkers. Whether they accept or reject its statements and conclusions, they will find it a work of absorbing interest and worthy of their most thoughtful attention. The claims and conclusions of this book will appear startling to the mass of Spiritualists.

It will, of course, be doubted and de nied that the author's definitions are correct, and that his conclusions are entirely warranted. It will appear as ive or abnormal, and hypnotism being though his definitions were too narrow and exclusive, and the conclusions too

Is it a fact that all mediumship is based on hypnotism-that without hyp-The author calls attention to "certain notism in some degree there is no mediumship? Such seems to be the au thor's claim, and if he is correct in this ship between at least two individuals. It will be hard to avoid his sweeping

Personally, while not denying that and clairaudience, in some instances, i is not necessarily the fact in all cases. the subject is required to place himself. Perhaps, however, the author would

In my own experience, I listen clair-"41 After hypnotic control is fully es- audiently to spiritual voices precisely tablished the subject becomes a mere as I listen to the words of a physically instrument for the execution of the hypometric person, and there is no more notist's will?" After mediumship has hypnotism in the one case than in the other; I am not passive or negative, but as intensely active and positive as one "51 In the development of hypnotic can be;; not "under control" in the least. control the process becomes easier for degree, but weighing and consciously the dominating intelligence (the hype accepting or rejecting the spirit's words notist) at each, suggeeding subjection, precisely in all respects as if the words were uttered by one in the fiesh. But "6. In exact rath as a hypnotiat of a spirit, perhaps I am not a medium. then, if I am not under hypnotic control conditions and in exactly the same ra- upright position,, and it will proceed to tib.

"T. In the development of hypnomind, sud she in no degree under hyptism, where the sittings are frequent notic control, mentally or otherwise, and persistent, a point is seen resolted Now, is she a medium, or is she not? where all of Nature's barriers for the R not, what is it to be called? If she is protection of individual intelligence are a medium, sile is one without hypno-swept away, and the subject becomes a tism. This method of writing is very variably results in a surrender and sacrifice of individual powers on the part all psychical development is mediumistic, on the contrary, quite the reverse is true.

So that, what he condemns is what Spiritualists generally would call hypnotic mediumship, or mediumship which the medium is under the hypnotic influence of a "control,"

And he also declares that there may be, and is, a process of psychical development which is not abnormal, not hypnotic, but strictly natural, and as such it is in harmony with Nature's Constructive Principle, and its result is Immortality. How far hypnotism may be used or practiced, or whether it may properly be used at all, is a matter for serious or the degree of control exercised. And question and grave doubt—and this whether by physically embodied or by spiritual "controls." A person under hypnotic control is certainly in an ab-To the question, is there any form of normal condition, and is not in that ers and faculties which of right pertains to him as an intellectual, moral, responsible individuality.

lower to higher spheres of spiritual ex-not even a highest archangel from temporarily. As for the therapeutical uses of suggestion, there is no necessity for inducing a hypnotic condition, for the healing benefits of suggestion can be secured without even the least degree of hypnotism.

Some persons who advertise largely as "professors" and teachers of hypnotism make claims that prove themselves to be consummate rascals or unconscionable villains. If their claims are false, they are rascals and swindlers; if their claims are true, they are villains of blackest dye for teaching such diabolical lessons as they adver-

The student and practitioner of therapeutical suggestion will find matter of valuable thought in the pages of this hook.

It will readily be perceived by the intelligent reader, that this volume is of tremendous import in its bearing upon Spiritualism and mediumship. definitions and conclusions are correct, mediumship, in the sense in which he defines it, must be discarded and wholly discontinued, in the individual interest of mediums themselves—as a soul-destructive, individuality-destroying pro- with his own. Do mediums the extinction of the entity as a per-

Again, on p. 150: "In just so far as a physically embodied individual is subject to the domination and control of into Nature's elements from which he arguments, its citation of corroborative facts, its earnest and powerful reasonings, will create a cyclone of agitation among thoughtful Spiritualists. ings, will create a cyclone of agitation among thoughtful Spiritualists. Out of the agitation of thought, good will come, and Spiritualism will not be harmed by the lashing of the waves of the great ocean of Truth and Being. JAS. C. UNDERHILL

"The Great Psychological Crime" is or sale at the office of The Progressive Thinker. Price $2.00.

MY MOTHER. Who prepared this form and spirit to become a child on earth?

Aye, who plucked me from the silence of this universe at birth? Who once furnished my wee body the nourishment required? Who once worked around and over me when flesh was weak and tired?

My Mother. Who once used to look down on me as ! lay upon her breast, With a smile that gave her baby such a perfect sleep and rest?

Who once sat when I was alling close beside my little form, With a love so true and tender that it kept my body warm?

My Mother. Who sat rocking and a singing when her heart was filled with woo: When her deeply saddened spirit feared a little one must go? Vho sat sewing or a knitting by the tal low candle light, That her children on the morrow migh be nearly clothed aright? My Mother.

Who in youth time of my travels washed and combed me for the school. And forgave me each infraction of the strict, oft-broken rule? Who once spanked me when 'twas need ed, with a warm and loving hand, That her beneficial precepts I might plainly understand?

My Mother. Who advised me when the universe came dimly into view, That the grandest gift to mortal is Who uplifted all my motives while the budding time was on.

early manhood dawn? My Mother. Who remains for aye the closest to my soul as angel guide.

And will cling and aid through trouble, let whatever may betide? Who will all my yearnings gather to her soul of love and care, And will meet me some bright morning in the spirit over there? My Mother.

Who will teach me the first lessons of my spiritual birth? le who taught me my first lessons on this grand old rolling earth. My Mother:

Dr. T. Wilkins, in The Progressive Lyceum.

IT IS MADE DIRECTLY TO SPIRIT.

"A Great Psychological Crime" Critically Considered.

Where are Loveland, Lockwood, Tuttle, Sar'gls, Dawbarn, Sweringen, Bar-rett, the Hulls (Willard and Moses) and the host of writers upon the lessons of Spiritualism, who so often illumine the pages of its periodicals? We have a challenge for them from the author of The Great Psychological Crime, in these words: "Have leading Spiritualists the intelligence and the courage to take this step, and the perseverance to maintain it?" The departure referred to is outlined in this language:

"Whenever, if at all, Spiritualism shall abandon the subjective process of medlumship and plant itself squarely, firmly and unequivocally upon the fun-damental principle of independent, spiritual self-development, the day of ite trials shall cease, but not before."

This is not the first voice heard in the wilderness of perplexity crying: Grow your own soul. Inspirational teachers upon our platform have, before this volume appeared as a candidate meriting thoughtful attention, urged men and women to become their own mediums by developing their inner pow-

Our author concedes that mediumship s a demonstrated fact, and admits its phenomena, but believes the latter can be retained while the former is abandoned. His plan of securing this reformation is by discarding all spirit controls. He claims to have succeeded in doing so, but reserves an elucidation of the method for a subsequent volume. So we must wait anxiously to learn whether the "ghost" can be downed and the play of Hamlet still go on.

Disclaiming that he is, or has ever been a medium, we can but ask if he is merely playing upon terms, for he tells us upon page 245 that he was able to see the controls about an unfortunate Mr. W., again on page 266 that he saw the "angels" that attended a noted revivalist, both in public and private manifestations. If such sight came from unfolding the latent potentialities of his own soul it still demonstrates the existence and work of spirit intelligences, We will be glad to see the evidence that his powers in this line are wholly of himself.

How will he convince us that he is not used in some degree by controls he fails to note and yet retains his own consciousness?

What do other clairvoyants see about him at moments of his uplifting? He objects to controls because they weaken the will, voluntary powers and sensory organism of the medium and yet acknowledges there are thousands of non-professional mediums not unfavorably affected, because they give so little attention to their psychic nature. The professional medium is the one endangered. Shall we, therefore kill all mediumship, or by earnest study of the problem seek to definitely establish a DANGER LINE beyond which the individual medium should not venture? Statistics are given to show the unfavorable effects of controls upon professional mediums, which are grouped into six separate classes. tells us, for instance, that "over seventy per cent develop inordinate vanity, while ninety-two per cent become more or less egotistical," upon what number of separate cases does he base his conclusions—five or five hundred? A bill of particulars should be filed by him for our enlightenment and another's deductions may even then be at variance cess, involving the loss of immortality, any more vanity or egotism, than the same number of any other class of humanity thrown into a corresponding It is not too much to say that this remarkable book, with its strongly stated read his statement that in no instance does the process develop marked individual improvement from a moral standpoint, I recalled a very recent case where a gentleman abandoned the business of a saloon keeper, because of his acceptance of Spiritualism and became an inspirational speaker. This volume belongs to the class of books of which Bacon said: "Some few are to be chewed and digested." It leads every reader up to the question: What are the dormant possibilities of my soul-life?

I believe it will have an epoch-making effect upon Spiritualism.

Pure and simple in diction, it be comes almost a classic. It deserves repeated readings when the mind is not enervated by an environment of humid heat and under conditions when mental concentration is most perfect. Its pages, and even paragraphs, tempt one to loiter by the way in thought. Its tone is admirable for its courteous consideration of the tenets dear to Spiritualists, and it champions mediumship by referring to it, very truly, as martyrdom. Edited by Florence Huntley, its real author conceals his identity and is known only to a limited circle under the mysterious title of an adept. Its study of the psychology of church revivals is excellent and its statement of the reasons for the methods adopted by Spiritualists in developing circles is enjoyable. One regrets that it could not be furnished for a more popular price than two dollars. Fellow Spiritualists, here is a book worth the reading—a nut meaty enough to pay for its cracking.

GEO. B. WARNE. Religious Bellef Made a Test.

The Presbyterian General Assembly which met at Los Angeles, did what is not allowable by the Constitution of this country for any religious body to do--it appealed to the prejudices of the people to have the Senator from Utah expelled from the Senate. It charges him with polygamy, and ahetting crime and paying his allegiance to the First Presidency and Apostate, and being "a reproach to the honor and dignity of the American Senate." Mr. Reed Smoot was elected to the Senate by strictly legal methods, which And implanted seeds of justice at the cannot be said of all senators. He claims to be law-abiding. The contrary is assertion. His moral character is not impeached, nor his more than average ability. He must be sacrificed be cause of his religious faith.

If Utah has not done away with polygamy as agreed when taken into the Union as a state, it behaves the government to see that this is done. When a Senator is chosen by her legislature to represent the state at the National Caphis religious views are not in the hands of other sects, to decide on his eligibility.

If it is ascertained without doubt that Mr. Smoot is a polygamist and lawbreaker, the Senate will care for its own rights without the impertinent suggestions of bigoted religionists. Mormonism may be all wrong from a Presbyterian standpoint, or from any other, and so is Presbyterianism from a Mormon. The preachers must learn that a man's religious views are not to be

Use and Abuse of Psychic Rowers.

TRAINED AND UNTRAINED MAN-PSYCHIC POWERS— tion. The Astrologer ascertains the position of the stars at viously by ordinary canons of justice have passed into quite never under any conditions be employed for any selfish or TIVENESS-SENSITIVENESS MISUSED.

of the astral body, or even in many cases those ences the real proficiency lies in the capacity to balance the which is so frequently exhibited in public—that which makes yet the statement has not conveyed to him any very real or speak of persons as 'psychic" generally means nothing them; and I am sure that many practitioners of these arts On the other fand there is no doubt that mesmerism may be more than that they are sensitive—that they sometimes see are aided in such decision by impressions which come very or hear more than the majority of people around them are much nearer to psychic faculty. To these last perhaps we as yet able to see or hear. Though it is of course true that might permit the name of psychic power, but hardly to the this sight is a power of the soul, it is equally true that all the sciences themselves; so that I think we may put them on one powers which we display in physical life are also powers of side for the purposes of our lecture. It sometimes happens the soul, for our bodies, whether astral or physical, are after that one who practices some of these arts is in the habit of all only vehicles. What is commonly termed "psychic receiving impressions and communications from some astral power" is then only a very slight extension of ordinary fac- entity-impressions which very greatly assist him in judging ulties; but the expression is also sometimes used to include accurately from the facts put before him. In that case onother manifestations which are as yet somewhat abnormal viously such success as he may attain is not in consequence among men, such as mesmeric power, or the power of mind of his own psychic powers, but of the additional discernment that of a surgical operation. We shall find many accounts cure. Since the will is undoubtedly a quality of the ego, and which ordinary astral faculty gives to his departed helper. since that is the motive force both in mesmerism and in In the same way it does not seem to me that mediumship mind cure, I presume that we can hardly object to the appli-should be recognized among psychic powers, or indeed concation of this term psychic power in these cases. Very often sidered properly a power at all. The man who is a medium telepathy and psychometry are considered to come under the is not exercising power, but is on the contrary abdicating his same head, although these in reality merely indicate a some rightful possession of control over his own organs or prinwhat unusual sensitiveness to impressions from without. In ciples. It is essential for a medium that he should be one reality all of these powers of the soul are inherent in every whose principles are readily separable. If he is a trance or son of man, though they are developed as yet only in a few, a writing medium, that means that any astral entity may and are working only very partially even with them, unless readily take possession of his physical body and utilize either they have had the inestimable advantage of definite occult the hand or the vocal organs, so that he is simply one who

TRAINED AND UNTRAINED MAN.

In my lectures upon Clairvoyance I have very often had to draw a decided distinction between the trained and the untrained man. Until we come to examine the matter practically we can have very little idea what an enormous difference the definite training in the use of such powers really makes to the capacity of the man. Practically all those of used for the various operations of the seance. In any or all whom we commonly think of as psychic in this occidental country are entirely untrained. They are simply persons who possess a little of this higher faculty, which has been born in them as a consequence of some efforts which they have made to attain it in past lives—possibly as vestal virgins in ancient temples, or possibly as practitioners of less desirable forms of magic in medieval times. In most cases in this life they have used such powers somewhat blindly, or perhaps have made no conscious effort to use them at all, but have rather been satisfied to accept whatever impressions came to them. In India, and in other Oriental countries, these things have been scientifically studied for very many centuries, so that there any one who shows signs of such development is instructed either to repress its manifestations altogether, or else put himself under the definite training of those who thoroughly understand the subject. The Indian mind approaches these problems from a totally different point of view. To the Hindu more sensitiveness seems an undesirable quality lest it should degenerate into mediumship-a condition which he regards with the utmost chorror. To him these powers of the soul do not seem in the slightest degree abnormal; he knows that they are inherent in every man, and so he is in no way surprised at their occasional manifestation. But he knows also that unless carefully trained and kept in perfect control they are very liable to mislead their possessor in the early days of his experi-

The Indian student knows what he is doing in regard to these matters, for they have all thoroughly classified thousands of years ago. There are many teachers in India who will take a man and train him quite definitely, just as here a man might be trained in athletics or in the practice of some science. You will readily realize therefore that in Eastern countries the whole thing is systematized in a way very different from that which prevails among us. All of those whom here you call psychic and clairvoyant would be regarded in the East as not very promising pupils. Indeed I believe that many of the Oriental teachers would rather not undertake the development of a man who has already some small amount of these psychic powers, because it is found that such a man has usually much to unlearn, and is far that future will be a very fearful one and a very dark one. learn to see when and how people need help, and to disting rious responsibility which it involves. more difficult to manage and to train than one in whom as If, on the other hand, as these powers develop men learn to guish the way in which it can most successfully be given. East they have a thorough comprehension of all these things, and therefore fewer mistakes are likely to occur among them; for with them a man is trained in the use of his faculties from the first, and the possibility of error and miscalculation are clearly explained to him and therefore he is naturally far less likely to fall a victim to them. We know very well how in our Western countries clairvoyance has a bad reputation, by reason of the fact that there are many pretenders to its possession who are constantly unsuccessful and blundering in their efforts. There may be some of these who are simply and entirely impostors; but I imagine that the majority have really some very partial dewelopment of this faculty, although they have often entirely misunderstood even the little that they have. Certainly no man in the East would ever come before the public, or be if, as may be hoped, we shall do somewhat better than they, very far on the way, so that he had passed beyond all possibility of the ordinary gross errors which are so painfully common among so-called clairvoyants here. If you grasp this fact, you will at once see how great is the difference between the trained and the untrained, and how very little re-.liance is usually to be placed upon the latter.

I know that most psychics among us feel themselves to be infallible, and consider that the messages and impressions which reach them come always from the very highest possible quarters; but the truth is that a very little common sense and study of the subject would show them that in this they are mistaken. No doubt it is to a certain extent gratifying to one's subtle self-conceit to suppose that one has the exclusive power of communication with some great archangel; but if one will but take the trouble to read the literature of the subject it will soon become apparent that many hundreds of other people have also had their private archangels, and have nevertheless been very frequently grossly mistaken. Of course no trained man could possibly fall into such an error as this; but then as I have said the vast majority of our psychics in Europe and America are simply entirely untrained. Some of them may receive a certain amount of guidance from dead people-"spirit guides," as they are often called-but it is very rarely of a definite and practical kind, and it usually tends much more towards mediumship and general sensitiveness than towards the gain of definite control and self development.

I doubt very much whether any large number of our occidental psychics would for a moment submit themselves to the kind of training which the wiser teachers of the East consider necessary. There a man has to try persistently, patiently, over and over again at the very simplest feats until he succeeds in producing his results neatly and perfectly; he is expected to build up his knowledge of higher planes step by step from those with which he is already familiar, and he is not encouraged in lofty flights which take sophical view with regard to mesmerism and mind cure, so is to be obtained only from recognized schools of occultism and combinations is an exceedingly interesting one. A list his feet away from the bed-rock of ascertained fact. Our that I need not now repeat myself with regard to these sub existing under the guardianship of the great Brotherhood; of these colors with their signification is given in the book

USES AND ABUSES-MIND CURE-CLAIRVOYANCE- any given moment, and from that he casts his horoscope or other hands. It is quite quanton to see advertisements in personal object. work. In the same way the Palmist simply observes the can be very readily dispossessed by a dead man. If, on the other hand, he is a materializing medium, whether the materializations are perfect and visible forms, or merely invisible hands which touch the sitters at the seance, or play musical instruments or carry small objects about, then the quality which he possesses is simply that etheric or even physical matter can very readily be withdrawn from his body and of these cases it will be seen that the medium's part is to be passive and not active, and that he may very readily be seized upon and obsessed. So that it is very evident that ho cannot be described as possessing or using a power at all, but simply as able to assume a condition in which he can very readily yield himself to the power of others.

PSYCHIC POWERS.

It would seem then that we may reserve the title of "psychic" powers for the definite use of will or of the astral or etheric senses-that is to say that we may include genuine and controlled clairvoyance, mind-cure, mesmerism, telshall speak later; but we will take the conscious exercise of for the few among us at present. It is by no means uncom- this case the very appearance of evil. mon to find men who have considerable mesmeric capability: and a very fair number of persons possess a good deal of curative power along various lines; but still as compared to the total population these are only a very few. The unconscious powers are possessed by all of us, and all of us are using them to a greater or less extent.

To those then who possess and employ these conscious with regard to all such matters, and that is the rule of per-These are truly powers of the soul; they are connected with seriously deceived, and by his wild predictions and descripthe advancement of man and with his higher development, tions to bring the whole subject into discredit with those which demands their whole attention. Consequently there and it is for that higher development only that they should who do not understand it. But for one who uses this power are always very many minds within our reach which are be employed. That is a very important point for the person with common sense and without self-conceit, in a scientific liable to be considerably affected by the thoughts which impossessing these powers to bear in mind; it is the only absolutely safe rule that can be made for their use.

These are in all cases glimpses of the future of the human use them for the uplifting and the helping of the race, then By its means he can often see where a kind word is especitells us that in the remote past there was a mighty race thought can be sent with the certainty of immediate result. which possessed those powers to the full; but that race, as a appeared. We of the fifth root race must also in our turn pass through the same trial, we must inherit the same powers. Their occasional appearance among us now is an earnest of the time when they will presently become universal, when they will be widely understood and widely accepted.

The great question is whether having followed our predecessors so far, we shall follow them to the end, whether when we have developed these powers as they did, we also tain that we shall also follow them in their destruction. But great deal of good in the world and may gain spiritual adif there shall be a larger proportion who will use these powers for the good of mankind as a whole, then it may be that the doom can be averted, and that the common sense and public feeling of the majority will condemn and curb their and who use their powers intelligently, it is certain that we must begin now; now that these things are as yet only in we must put away altogether the idea of exploiting them for the ignorant leads them to employ every additional advantage which they think they can gain, in order that they may make a little more money, that they may obtain a little more advancement or a little more fame for the wretched personal self. The dawn of these higher faculties must never be corrupted by such thoughts or such feelings as these.

We must remember that these higher powers involve higher responsibility, that the man who possesses them is already in a different position, because he is already coming within reach of higher possibilities in many directions. We that more is to be expected from us. Obviously

USES AND ABUSES.

In previous lectures I have already explained the Theoence and so get himself appointed to some place which he is of their own foolish credulity. Once more I repeat that there birth; but in the case of a really definite form, a clear cut k. c, because in all of them the theory is that the results are obviously unfitted to fill, or perhaps succeed in having money is one, and only one, absolutely safe rule with regard to the potained by deduction from matters of fact and of observa- given to him or left to him as a legacy when it should ob- use of all these higher faculties, and that is that they shall sets up his figure, and after that it is supposed to be a mere the papers of those who profess to teach mesmeric influences matter of calculation to discover what influences are at avowedly with the intention that it shall be used in ordinary Strictly speaking psychic powers mean the powers of the lines of the hand and then gives his delineation according to way get the better of the unfortunate man who came into the few to those others which all of us possess and are using, soul because this word psychio is derived from the Greek the accepted rules of his science; and the same is done by contact with him in the way of trade. It is at once obvious even though we may be entirely unconscious of them. The rather to imply what we in Theosophy should call the powers ration of the skull. Of course I know that in all these sci. must certainly class with them that use of measuring power Many a man has heard vaguely that thoughts are things, and very usefully and profitably employed for curative purposes. As I explained in my lecture on that subject it is usually possible to withdraw from a patient such pains as those of utilizing the senses of the mental body, he looks out through headache or toothache by means of a few passes without put. them at the mental bodies of his fellows, he will see how ting him into a trance condition at all. Indeed I imagine that a very large number of the ills to which flesh is heir could be cured in this way without the use of the trance. This latter should be used very sparingly, because it involves domination of one man's will by another. Perhaps the plates which I have published in "Man Visible and Invisof its successful employment in such cases in the works of Dr. Esdalle of Calcutta, and Dr. Elliotson of London,

MIND CURE.

One may see equally readily how easy it would be to misa means of making money; and it seems to me that where and that this vibration produces two distinct results. First ever that is done there is a terrible danger of impurity in the of all, like all other vibrations, it tends to communicate itself motive and unscrupulousness in the practice. I know that to any surrounding matter which is capable of receiving it; it will be said that those who devote the whole of their and thus, since the surrounding atmosphere is filled with time and strength to the curing of others must themselves mental matter, which is very readily set in motion in reobtain their livelihood in some way, and that in this respect sponse to any such impulse, the first effect produced is that mind cure stands on the same level as ordinary medicine. of a sort of ripple which spreads out through surrounding I do not feel myself able to agree with this latter contention. space, exactly as when a stone is thrown into a pond ripplea In the case of the ordinary doctor we all know that he has will be seen to radiate from that centre along the surface of passed through an expensive training in order to fit himself the water. In this case the radiation is not in one plane only to deal with the especial needs of the human body; and we but in all directions, like the radiation from the sun or from all realize what it is that we are buying from him—the ser. a lamp. It must be remembered that man exists in a great vices which his skill and experience enable him to place at sea of mental matter, just precisely as we here on the physiour disposal. But the mind-curist is often entirely ignorant, cal plane are living in the midst of the atmosphere, aland has undergone no preliminary training whatever; and in though we so rarely think of it. This thought-vibation, thereany case he is using a power which cannot be measured upon fore, radiates out in all directions, becoming less powerful in the physical plane, because it belongs in reality to some proportion to the distance from its source. Again like all thing higher and less material. If such a practitioner has other vibrations, this one tends to reproduce itself wherever no means of his own, and is devoting the whole of his time to opportunity is offered to it; and as each variety of thought is the work of curing diseases, there can be no objection to his represented by its own rate of vibration, that fact means that accepting any gift that a grateful patient may wish to make whenever this wave strikes upon another mental body it will to him in recognition of the help which he has given; but tend to provoke in it vibrations precisely similar to those it certainly seems to me that to fix a definite charge for serve which gave it birth in the first place. That is to say from ices of this nature is eminently undesirable and contrary to the point of view of that other man whose mental body is the whole spirit of occult teaching. This is a matter which touched by the wave, it tends to produce in his mind a epathy and psychometry. A great deal of unconscious psy- every person must decide with his own conscience; but thought identical with that which had previously arisen in chic power is also being constantly exercised, and of that I it is assuredly a most dangerous thing to introduce any ele- the mind of the thinker. The distance to which such a ment of personal gain into the utilization of powers which bo thought-wave would penetrate, the strength and persistence powers first. The conscious exercise of these powers is only long to these higher levels. It is certainly better to avoid in with which it would impinge upon the mental bodies of oth-

CLAIRVOYANCE.

All this is true also of clairvoyance. Most undoubtedly any faculty of that nature which a person possesses may be used for good in a great many ways. For one who possesses and the distance to which his voice can penetrate depends this faculty higher worlds lie partially open, at any rate upon its strength and the clearness of his enunciation. In sometimes, and therefore this power may be used to learn. exactly the same way the strong thought will carry very psychic powers I would say that all of them may be used and For this purpose it is necessary that the clairvoyant should all of them may be abused, so that it is very necessary that make a very careful study of the literature of the subject, in great care should be exercised with regard to them. There order that he may see what others possessing this faculty strength. But just as the speaker's voice may fall upon is a very good general rule which is universally applicable have previously learnt; that he may be guided by their expended by their expended by their expended have previously learnt; that he may be guided by their expended have previously learnt; the may be guided by their expended have previously learnt; the may be guided by the learnt; the may be guided by the learnt; the may rience and may avoid the pitfalls into which some of them in pleasure, so may a strong wave of thought sweep past fect unselfishness. If those who possess such powers are have fallen. Naturally a clairvoyant who does not study the without affecting the mind of a man if he is already deeply using them in any way for personal gain, whether it be of subject, who makes no effort to verify his visions and to commoney or of influence, then that is distinctly an abuse, pare them with the experiences of others, is liable to be very personal gain from it, it may be a source not only of very great pleasure but also of great advancement. Not only may race. If these higher powers which will one day come to he obtain knowledge for himself—knowledge which he can chic power which we all possess, which we are all constantly everyone of us are to be used by each man for himself, then also pass on to his fellow man, but by its means he may also that future will be a bright and a grand one. Our record ally needed, where a loving, comforting, strengthening The clairvoyant has at least a little more power for good whole used them wrongly, and in consequence that race dis. than his fellows if he will only watch for opportunities for using it, if only he will think always of helping others rather sands of people possess within them latent germs of evilthan of gaining anything for himself. Beautiful possibilities open up before us when we think of the power that will be in the hands of all in the not far distant future; the man who is to some extent clairvoyant now is beginning already to reap a little of the harvest of power for good which will come to very factor which awakens a germ into activity and causes us all as the race advances. So that the clairvoyant who is it to begin to grow. Later it may blossom out into thoughts thoroughly unselfish and whose additional powers are careshall abuse them as they did; for if we do that, then it is cer. fully balanced by strong and robust common sense may do a vancement for himself in the very act of helping his fellow

It is not difficult to see that this is a power that may be terribly misused. The additional information about others which it puts in the hands of its possessor may be employed, employment for selfish purposes But if that is to be, if we and unfortunately is employed sometimes, for personal gain, are to have this larger proportion of those who understand for the gratification of curiosity and even for the levying of blackmail. You see from this how essentially necessary it goodness to follow hard upon the other vibration and so far is that the clairvoyant should possess the characteristics of as may be, undo any evil which it may have done. seed among us we must begin by using them unselfishly, and a gentleman, and where he belongs to the class which in Theosophy we call the first-class pitri this is of course the case, the sake of the lower self. There is already very far too But unfortunately clairvoyance may be acquired by less degreat a tendency in this direction; the grasping avarice of veloped souls who do not possess the instincts of the man of delicate feeling, as you may very readily see by some of the disgraceful advertisements which so frequently appear in our papers. There you will see persons quite shamelessly announcing that they are prepared to put clairvoyant power (such as it is) at your disposal in order to help you to obtain ling our thought and of keeping it always at the highest level an unfair advantage over your fellows in some speculationthat they will help you to rob other men under the pretext of gambling or of betting on horse racing. In this way they are pandering to the lowest passions of man, they are descending from what should be a higher and purer realm into the understand this very readily in other and more purely physi. foulest mud of the most degraded physical life. Nor are cal matters, and none of us would think of regarding the ret these the only offenders, for you will often see announcesponsibility of the savage when he commits a murder or a ments from those whor profess to teach clairvoyance or oc. in all directions; and they know how very readily it responds robbery as in any way equal to our own if we should fall into cult science of some sort in return for so many pounds or so to the influence of the human thought, and how every imthe same crime. That is simply because we have a greater many dollars. These unscripulous practitioners are able to pulse sent out from the mind-body of man immediately live and to flourish simply because the public is as yet ensame thing is true with regard to the question.

You may take it as an absolutely certain rule that no true octoody.

To may take it as an absolutely certain rule that no true octoody. There may be infinite variety in the color and shape that however, yet taken money for occult teaching or information of such thought-forms, or artificial elementals, as they are tirely ignorant of the strue conditions of all such teaching. mation. The moment that a man advertises—the moment sometimes called. Each thought draws round it the matter that he takes money for any service which professes to be of which is appropriate for its expression and sets that matter an occult nature—that moment he brands himself as having into vibration in harmony with its own; thus the character of jects. It is very easy to see how the former might be mis and every pupil of these is absolutely, forbidden to take which I have just mentioned, "Man Visible and Invisible," injured if they were made to work laboriously at self-control used—how it might be employed with great facility to domit money for the use of any psychic power. So that all these and a number of colored drawings of various types of In the way it is always exacted as a matter of course in all nate the mind of a person and so to influence him unduly to people condemn themselves, and bear this condemnation on thought forms will be found accompanying Mrs. Besant's arfavor the operator. One hears sometimes of such cases in the very face of their announcements; and if they flourish ticle on the subject in Lucifer for September, 1806. In very I suppose that many people would include among psychic which a man desiring to obtain a position, or another one deland grow fat upon the property of those whom they deceive, many cases these thoughts are merely revolving clouds of powers Astrology, Falmistry and Phrenology. I think, how siring to obtain money, will exercise undue mesmeric influthe sufferers have only themselves to thank for the results the color appropriate to the special idea which gave them definite meaning. When he is fortunate enough to have developed clairvoyance to the level of the mental plane he will be able very fully to bear testimony to the enormous importance of the truth which is expressed in that statement. If, thought manifests itself at that level and what results it produces. It is in the mental body or mind of man that thought first manifests itself; and it shows itself to clairvoyant vision as a vibration arising in the matter of that body. From ible" it may be seen what is the appearance of this mental body to the man who is able to see it-or rather what is indicated there is an attempt to present in section and on the physical plane something of the higher and far grander and wider impression which is really made on the sense at that higher level by the appearance of that body.

A Lecture Delivered bv C. W. Leadbeater.

POWER OF THOUGHT.

If a man thinks while the clairvoyant is watching him, the use the power of mind cure. It is often employed simply as latter will see that a vibration is set up in the mental body ers, depends upon the strength and clearness of the original thought.

The voice of a speaker sets in motion waves of sound in the air which radiate from him in all directions, and convey different religious beliefs, have moved his message to all those who are, as we say, within hearing:

me, not I them." The whole book is tahis message to all those who are, as we say, within hearing; much further than the weak and undecided one; but clearengrossed in some other line of thought. Very large numbers of men, however, do not think very definitely or strongly except when in the immediate prosecution of some business pinge upon them; and we therefore are very distinctly responsible for the thoughts which we send out and for the efexercising; and yet how few of us ever think of it or the se-

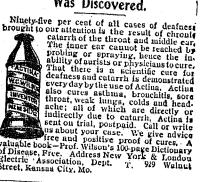

Inevitably and without any effort of ours every thought which we allow to rest within our minds must be influencing the minds of others about us. Consider how frightful would be the responsibility if this thought were an impure or an evil one, for we should then be spreading moral contagion among our fellow-men. Remember that hundreds and thougerms which may never blossom and bear fruit unless some force from without plays upon them and starts them into activity. If you should yield yourself to an impure or unholy thought, the vibration which you thus produce may be the and words and deeds of evil, and these in their turn may injuriously affect thousands of other men even in the far distant future. We see then how awful is the responsibility of a single impure or evil thought. Very much harm is done in this way, and done quite unconsciously; yet there is no doubt whatever that a heavy responsibility lies upon the man who knows that he ought to have purified his mind, but has neglected-to do so. If it should ever happen to us, then, to have an impure or evil thought arising within us, let us hasten at once to send out a strong and vivid thought of purity and

Most happily all this is also true of good thought as well as of evil; and the man who realizes this may set himself to work to be a veritable sun, constantly radiating upon all his neighbors thoughts of love and calm and peace. This is a very grand psychic power, and yet it is one that is within the reach of every human being-of the poorest as well as the wealthiest, of the little child as well as of the great sage. How clearly this consideration shows us the duty of controlwhich is possible for us!

That, however, is only one of the results of thought, Our clairvoyant watching the genesis of this thought would see that it not only sets up this radiating and divergent vibration, but that it also makes a definite form. All students of Theosophy are acquainted with the idea of the elemental clothes itself in a temporary vehicle of this essence. Thus it

(Continued on seventh page.)

By No Means Until "ACTINA" Was Discovered.

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinker, as printed at the top of the first page, right hand corner. If this number corners are the first page, and the first page. esponds with the figures on your wrapper, then the time you have paid for has expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is advanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

in Current Spiritualistic and Occult

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. The Philo-ophy and the Spiritualistic and Occult phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can afford to be without the paper. Its price is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old, Or the World's Progress in Thought. By Mos Hull. An excellent work by this veteran writ and thinker. Price, 10 cents.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two Worlds.

Elevating, Fascinating, Instructive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing is exceptionally interesting. She well says: "These characters which have teresting, fascinating, and instructive.

A. OCHOYLIMHOUK LOOHIO.
Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth, 75 cents.
"Schopenhauer is one of the few philosophers who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is; and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life. This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."—

Mailess Waich Charm.

PHICES:—Badge Pin, $1.60: Lapel Button, $1.60: Banflower Brooch, $4.00: Maitese Charm, $6.00: Maitese Pendant, $5.00. This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWER BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut, Taken from the Code of 1650, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1655, as printed in a compilation of the to 1855, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in New England. Some extracts from the Flue Laws of Virginia. Price 25 centr

THE MISSING LINK MODERN SPIRITUALISM,

By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family. By A. Lesh Underhill of the Fox Family. Interesting and valuable as a history of the beginning of Biodern Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Sisters. 478 Pages, is illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. History of the Hydesville rappings, as related by eye-witnesses; remarkable and well-atteated manifestations; the "exposures," etc. Handsomely bound in cloth, But few copies remaining. Publishers' price, $1.50. We will send the book postpatid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES,

By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggic for life. By Charles Darwin. Gilt top, cloth bound. This book it as grandest achievement of modern scientific thought and research. It has passed through many editions in linglith, has been translated into almost all the langeriges of Europe, and has been the subject of mer. reviews, namphets and separate books than any oth, volume of the age. Meet of the great scientists of thirds grainly support his position. The thought of third ook has become a part of the common inhericative of the race. For sale at this office. Price 78 cts.

THE OTHER WORLD AND THIS. IHE OTHER WORLD AND THIS.

A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. 1. New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinces the powers of a trained thinker, both in matter of thought and fine literary style, and capability of thought expression. The subjects are well handled with conciseness and yet with clearness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning Spiritualism and its teachings. Price $1.50.

THE SOUL OF THINGS:

Or Psychometric Researches and Discoveries. By Wm. and Elizabeth M. P. Denton. A marvelous work. Though concise as a text book it is as fascinating as a work of fletion. The reader will be amazed to see the curious facts here combined in support of this power of the human mind, which will resolve a thousand doubts and difficulties, make geology plain as day, and throw light on all subjects now obscured by time. Price, $i.50. In three volumes, eloth bound, $i.50 each. Postage, 100 per copy.

Molecular Hupothesis of Nature: The Relation of its Principles to Continued Existence and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism. By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper, 24 cents.

OUTSIDE THE CATES and other tales and sketches. By a band of spirit in-telligences, through the mediumship of Mary Thereas Shehamer. An excellent work. Price, $1.00. For sale at this office.

Out of the Depths Into the Light. By Samuel Bowles; Mrs. Carrie E. S. Twing, modium. This is a very interesting little book, and will be appreciated from eart to finish by all who wish to gain spiritual information. Prior 55 cents.

.. GENERAL SURVEY ..

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS. DUINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS.—Each contributor is alone responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor allows this freedom of expression, belleving that the cause of truth can b best subserved thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly understood that our space is inade-quate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire to do so. That must account for the non-appearance of YOUR article.

WRITE PLAINLY.-We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linetype machine that must make speed equal to about four compositors. That means rapid work, and it is asserted that all converses. and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other requirements being favorable, should be written plainly with ink on white paper, or with a typewriter, and only on one side of the paper.

ITEMS.—Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occu-py, and in order to do that they will nerally have to be abridged more or less: otherwise many items would be crowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line item is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the writewill not do to say that Secretary or Correspondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep copies of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned if we have not space to use them.

Clara L. Stewart writes: "Josie K. Folsom and husband, noted test and trumpet mediums, will be at the Waukesha camp from July 17 to July 30."

The Record, of Elwood, Ind., says: "The camp at Chesterfield, the rendezvous of the members of the Indiana Association of Spiritualists, has been elegantly prepared for the opening, Thursday, July 16. Spiritualists from all over the state have begun arriving at the beautiful camp and will take up their abode on the grounds until after the camp has closed for the season. Every cottage at the camp has been engaged, and as the opening date is not two weeks hence, they are now being occupied, and the express cars on the Union Traction line are moving a great deal of household supplies to the camp.

Chas. A. Kiehl writes from Williamsnort. Pa.: "No doubt a great many of the Spiritualists of this country have expressed their choice as to who is best fitted for the office of president of the N. S. A., and I wish to suggest the name of our good brother, Mr. G. W. Kates, believing him to be entitled to attention and consideration, in the efforts his friends are making in his behalf." H. F. Coates writes: "Sunday, July 12, was a kind of red letter day with the Church of Spirit Communion that meets at Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. A fine summer day, and cool, so that physical comfort obtained as well as that the soul was fed. There was a fine audience in the evening; and in addition to our usual musical pro-Jones, followed by a vocal solo by the vonshire, Brownell street, Suite 5." veteran Spiritualist and singer, Mr. Cole, both of which were appreciated nois State Spiritualist Association, is and applauded. christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, of Englewood, the ceremony being performed by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt, with flowers and water, administered in his own original and unique way to the satisfaction of all. Immediately at the close of the ceremony a duet lullaby was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Sherk, followed by the address of Dr. Hewitt on 'Spirit Influence and Human Responsibility in the Conduct of Life.' which was listened to with intent interest. After the address spirit presence was demonstrated by Miss May Cummings and H. F. Coates. the tests being many and clear, giving satisfaction to all present. Our meetings, both afternoon and evening, will be continued all summer, and as most of the other societies have closed for the season, the public is cordially invited to Kenwood Hall, where we keep the altar's sacred fire—the spirit's inspiration active the year round.

The First German Spiritualist Society of the West Side, 590 S. Ashland avenue, Chicago, celebrates the 15th grand picule Sunday July 26, 1903, in Reisig's Grove (Riverside). English and German lectures, and also tests or messages will be given. Admission 25 cents. All are invited. Take Metropolitan L to 48th avenue, and then La Grange car to grove.

Dr. Louis Schlesinger writes from Hampton, Iowa: "I have been the means of opening the eyes of many honest investigators in this city. Strange to say, they never had a visit from a medium previous to my com-

Dr. Geo. B. Warne, president of the Illinois State Spiritualist Association writes: "Mrs. Nora E. Hill, of 750 Madison street, Chicago, holds ordination papers issued by the Illinois State Spiritualist Association under date of January 20, 1897, and signed by the then president, G. L. S. Jenifer. No official board of that organization has ever had occasion to either question their legality, or consider their revocation. All statements of a contrary nature are absolutely unfounded.'

G. B. Bicknell writes from Decatur, Ill.: "Chas Winans, who has been traveling in the East, through the states of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, returned to this city, July 12, for the purpose of taking a much-needed rest from his labors, before proceeding to Mt. Pleasant camp, at Clinton, Iowa. During his visit here he will give a few seances for full form materialization at the request of his friends. The Spiritual Association of this city is continuing to hold its weekly Sunday night meetings at the residence of Mrs. India Hill. These meetings are open to the public and are conducted by Mrs. Hill, who speaks under inspiration and closes with messages and tests. Thursday night meetings have been discontinued during the months of July and August."

P. J. Barber writes from Santa Barbara, Cal.: "Go on with your good work; it is fully appreciated by every true Spiritualist. After reading The Progressive Thinker they are distributed to those who, I think by investigation, will develop as Spiritualists. I have been for over thirty years endeavoring been for over thirty years entertyoring the inights who have to increase our membership. I have think for a moment of blaming the singing by noted singers who have the commandments Analyzed, price singing by noted singers who have the passed away many years ago, who contents the ranks and Lord, as he will always do the best he passed away many years ago, who contents. Big Bible Stories, cloth, 50 passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed, price the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed are the passed away many years ago, who contents analyzed are the passed away many years ago, who contents and the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, who contents are the passed away many years ago, where the passed away many years ago, where the passed away r will be. I will soon be 73 years of can under the pircumstances. Again, age, and I hope very soon to realize the truth of our precepts. A new society of Spiritualists has recently been organized here. Mr. Baker, Mr. Rundle and Dr. Rush are among the older members. Mrs. Rood, a talented and highly re spected lady, is taking the lead among the ladies. Professor Gray has aroused much enthusiasm."

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

The Star of Indianapolis Ind has the following from Summitville, Ind.: "Charles Riggs, a barber, says that a house on East Mill street, recently occupled by him, is haunted if ever a house was subject to spiritual visitations Riggs says the doors of the house will not stay shut at night, and that even the keys turn in the locks and the doors swing open within a few minutes after having been closed. Three times in one hour the other night, Riggs says, he got out of bed, closed the doors and that within five minutes each time they clicked and he found them ajar on each occasion. Other tenants bear Riggs out in his assertion. A short time ago a man by the name of Baldwin lived in the house, but his tenancy was brief owing to the 'hants,' as he said. Riggs followed Baldwin and one week was enough for him. M. Woods then tried the house, but he and his family left yesterday. Houses are scarce in Summitville, but the Mill street house will likely remain empty indefinitely. There are now all sorts of stories going around regarding the strange carryings on within its rooms."

Dr. P. S. George writes: "I would like to have some good trumpet medium come to Red Lodge for the summer. I have rented a four-room house, all fur-nished nicely, and I will see that the visit is both pleasant and profitable while here. The climate is delightful; no flies, no mosquitoes, no hot weather, cool nights, dry climate-no finer place in the world to hold seances. This invitation applies to the sterner sex. As I am alone I want company. Write me at Red Lodge, Mont." Mrs. Alice Baker, lecturer and message medium, of Cleveland, O., writes: "I have been lecturing Sundays during June to appreciative audiences. Master Milton Baker was with me one Sunday, and attracted a good audience. Spiritualists in Lorain have followed the Methodist belief and fallen from grace as far as organization is con-cerned. I was called one evening in June to Wellington, Ohio, to hold a meeting. It was a grand success in every way. The lecture and messages from the angel world were enthusiastically received. I can yet see the tears trickling down the cheeks of many as we gave them names, descriptions and messages from their loved ones. One woman, a strong Methodist, wept, saying, 'Oh, how I have longed to have some evidence that my child yet lived. and I would meet him again. Now I have received that evidence.' I expect to be in Wellington again soon. I will answer calls for meetings and funerals, at reasonable rates, within one hundred gramme, an instrumental solo by Mrs. I. | miles of Cleveland. Address The De-Vice-president Freeman, of the Illi-

> Then followed the just now trying to figure out how he can do the handsome thing by the secretary, Ella Johnson Bloom, who was recently driven nearly to desperation by an oversight on his part. Three applications for ordination had been forwarded for the judgment of the non-resident members of the board, on which prompt action was desirable. After unusual time had elapsed without their return. It was learned they had never reached Brothers West and Hammond, while Brother Merritt had acted on and dispatched them with promptness. The secretary then opened urgent correspondence with the Bloomington member, without response. She summoned the president to take a hand, which resulted the same as the boy's attempt at drowning out the rat, the water did not return, nor the rodent come out, but the hole was still there. Finally the justly dissatisfied petitioner consented. to sign new blanks, the balance of the board passed on them, the ordinations were held and then the original papers suddenly appeared, accompanied by a line from Col. Freeman that he was called to Louisiana May 26, on business, and unexpectedly detained there until July 11. He failed to advise headquarters of his whereabouts and left no one to look after his home mail. Secretary Bloom has to bear with her official associates' ready censure on questions of judgment, but was wholly innocent of any dilatoriness in this matter. If you owe anyone a grudge secure their election as an officer of a Spiritualist organization. Your revenge will be sweet. provided they accept the position.

C. W. Smart writes from Denver, Col.: "That good wife of mine who has not been in spirit life three years, comes and talks with me three times each week. She brought the great Talmage to show him how the spirit and mortal can talk together. He thought it was all trickery. He was probably thinking how he tricked the American with his sermons that purported to be delivered in England, and were printed broadcast throughout the land as coming by ocean telegraph, which I now understand to be false. I knew beforehand that he was coming, and had several questions written out to ask him. Among others, I asked him if he had met that wickedest of men, Bob Ingersoll? He replied, yes, and he found him more Christ-like than anyone he had met. So I have christened him 'Di-vine Bob.' That is what I believe him to be. I have told him so. He thanked me for it. Since then I have obtained two spirit photos of him, taken at different places. He has talked to me on several different occasions, and regretted that I was not competent to take it down as it was uttered by the me-

E. T. Dickenson writes: "I see that the Christian Science people have been having convention at Boston, and have mounted up so far ahead of Spiritualists that they have really got a 'corner' on prayer. One paper reported that a Ne-braska man said he had been cured of rattlesnake bite in fifteen minutes, by prayer. This was a wonderful streak of from your angel friends." luck-lucky in calling on the Lord at the right time; that is to say, when in the right frame of mind. For as every instructive times imaginable. First, in one knows many cases of this kind slip spirational speaking on subject taken through the fingers while no one would

When writing for this paper use a pen or typewriter.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

Buffalo man told of putting on thirty pounds of much-needed flesh, by Christian Science, but whether the length of time consumed in materializing the meat was eighteen months or only four minutes and a half, was not stated. Again, a child of George Sanborn, of St. Joseph, Mo., swallowed a safety pin and treated by Christian Science, suffered no ill effects. When the pin was swallowed it was open, and ten weeks later it was recovered, snapped. That was a long and tedious research, but I suppose it was perfectly satisfactory all round. If I understand it, this last mentioned phenomena occurred in 'total darkness.'

Dr. P. S. George writes from Red Lodge, Mont.: "Mr. and Mrs. Kates held public meetings at the opera house here June 16 and 17, with fair audiences, being the first meetings of the kind ever held in Red Lodge. I have had many inquiries since their departure, when we were going to have another meeting. If the citizens had had some conception of what Spiritualism was, many more people would have attended. I have heard all kinds of expressions as to what constituted Spiritualism. The Methodist minister here undertook to demolish Spiritualism as soon as Mr. and Mrs. Kates had departed. He dug up the old familiar fossil, the 'Witch of Endor.' I did not hear his sermon, so l called on him the next day and asked him what he said. He informed me that he did not deny that Spiritualism existed, but God forbid it, and if he wanted us to know the future he would reveal it to us. I called on him with the intention of challenging him for a public debate, but when I heard his story witches, I made up my mind it would be a waste of time to debate with one so illy informed, even on the subject of the Christian religion. I was invited to attend a private meeting a few days ago. The friends who invited me did so in order that I would meet an old lady of the Seventh Day Advent church, who was to lead the meeting. When she was through I was called on to address the meeting. After my address I hurriedly went away on business. Some friends informed me that the old lady said I was the very Devil, and wanted to know what I thought about it. I told them that I felt very thankful to the old lady for the information. The Adventists have been very active since Mr. and Mrs. Kates have been here."

Harry J. Moore writes from Chesterfield, Ind.: "I would like to have you state that my wife has suffered from a severe attack of bronchitis, with slight congestion of the left lung, and that she is slowly recovering (which is largely due to the nursing and good care given her by her mother, Mrs. Gehring), and that it is our intention to spend the winter in either California or Colorado in order that she may ultimately recover, if such a thing be possible. We wish also to thank the many friends who have written us sending their kind thoughts and best wishes and expressions of hope that my wife will soon be enjoying the best of health."

Phil T. Davis writes from Butte, sionary work. So far they have done nobly. They have organized societies at Butte, Anaconda, Red Lodge, Livingston and Billings. July 3, 4 and 5, meetings were held in Butte at the old Masonic hall for the purpose of organdeath does not end our existence; that Ohio Day at Lily Dale. spirits do return. Sister Kates' lectures and tests were grand. They have to good speakers. The Butte Progressive Society wishes to hear from firstclass lecturers and test mediums wishnot doing much will come to Montana, they will do well. We wish to hear from first-class lecturers. Apply to Butte Progressive Spiritual Society, or to my address, Box 805." A press dispatch from Fond du Lac Wis. to the Chicago Examiner of recent date, shows that the fools are not all dead yet: "The Rev. J. D. Van Doren one of the best known clergymen in this city, has created a sensation by swearing out a warrant for the arrest of 'Professor' Baldwin, a clairvoyant, who has fled to parts unknown. Dr. Van Doren claims that he made a deal with the 'professor' by which which the latter was to restore him to youth for $25 He was sixty when the agreement was made, and after several 'treatments,' it is said, he began to feel like thirty. The clairvoyant, it is charged, then secured $100 in gold, which he was to place in a belt and produce further won ders. When the clergyman next visited the office, however, Baldwin was missing, and so was the belt."

Mrs. E. M. Dole, one of Chicago's best mediums, is now at Lily Dale. She will remain there about two weeks, and then return to her home, 1680 N. Clark street

Dr. Beverly writes: "At Lakeside Hall, next Sunday, we expect to have J. J. Morse, of England. He is a lecturer of world-wide reputation, and with his daughter gives some fine demonstrations of spirit power. They are on their way around the world, and you will have a rare treat if you attend. Dr Beverly is demonstrating that the weather has no effect upon earness seekers after truth, as the hall is crowded every Sunday evening. Mr. Chistians, author of a book on palmistry will give a short talk every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock conference. All are invited to a union picnic. Saturday afternoon, August 8, 2 o'clock, at Jack son Park. Banquet will be served be tween 4 and 5 p. m. All mediums are especially invited to come and enjoy a day of recreation. Special music, speaking, etc., will entertain you. Take Jackson Park car, go to end of the line

Walk east to lake to the German building. The shade is lovely, plenty of water, and room inside for all exercises in case of rain. Don't forget this date Let us get acquainted with the good in. each one and enjoy the presence and power of the spirit forces. Bring your lunch. Everything will be free, includ ing lemonade, etc. Astrologers, palmists and psychics of all kinds will answer questions and bring greetings

J. G. Hoffman writes: "On July 12 we had one of the most enjoyable and instructive times imaginable. First, infrom the audience; second inspirational last, but not least, spiritual baptism which was perfectly elegant. Services are held by Mrs. Burland, formerly Mrs. Jeffries, at 77 east Thirty-first street, every Sunday at 3 and 8 p. m. Those having heard Mrs. Burland before, and knowing of the talent back of her can not help but appreciate the treat in store for them. All are welcome."

ALWAYS GIVE YOUR FULL NAME AND ADDRESS: WHEN SENDING NO-TICES AND COMMUNICATIONS FOR PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE WASTE BASKET.

Ellis Jones writes about the pamphlet. "Mysteries of the Seance." etc.: "! vish every gullible person would send to The Progressive Thirker for a copy of this little book. Price 25 cents. It s certainly an eye-opener for those who accept everything performed by tricksters claiming psychic powers to be genuine. While reading the useful little book I was struck, however, with one or two omissions—the case where the medium sits with one committee-man on each side, and a cover drawn over all of them, hands appearing, etc., is very good, but there is still a simpler trick which is very common. The medium, usually a female chooses a per son to sit on each side of her; each places a hand on her knee, and she places her hands upon theirs. The covering is then drawn over all, except their heads. Of course it is easy to free her right hand, which then appears at the openings over her head. she can write ballots, ring bell, thrum guitars, etc., at will. Strange as it may seem, this trick has been played upon son, Ind. many very intelligent sitters."

LILY DALE.

Notes From the City of Light Assembly.

The City of Light Assembly is just entering its second week of public ex-pression under fair skies and a general feeling of good will to all, suggested continually to the audience by a mam moth scroll hanging conspicuously over the front of the stage, bearing the words, "With malice towards none and charity for all." This thought, which is being earnestly put forth and acted by the president and many of her co vorkers-a leader among whom, on this line is Carrie Twing—must in time bear abundant fruit, the blossoms for which are already appearing, as all seem to feel and very many speak of the noticeable spirit of harmony and rest prevailing.

The lectures thus far seem to be unusually fine in point of erudition, rhetorical and grammatical finish, points which have not always been thought of special importance by some of our speakers and teachers of the past, Clegg Wright's discourses on "The Evo lution and Experiences of the Human Soul," call for especial thought and an alysis.

Pioneer Day, for which Carrie Twing was chairman and speaker, filling her role beautifully and touchingly, was filled with pathos and tender reminis cences for the many brave workers who one by one are stepping silently before the "crystal bar" to await their reward.

Ohio Day, the 15th inst., was one of the brightest and most varied in thought and interest vet occurring. Re-Mont.: "The N. S. A. sent Brother G. W. gret was expressed that it came so Kates and wife to Montana to do mis- early, as but few Ohioans were yet upon the grounds, but a symposium comthe rostrum by the chairwoman, Mrs. Carrie Curran, of Toledo, Ohio, gave forth such a volley of witty, interesting and instructive ideas concerning their izing a local society and state associa. state and the cause, that the wonder tion. July 5, the state association grew as to what must be the spiritual elected officers: W. J. Hicks, our es- calibre of the whole state, if a chance teemed brother, president; Mrs. Hicks, culling evinced such brain and ability. treasurer; Fred Spellman, secretary— So many good words were said for the all of Anaconda. Our local society Conneaut Spiritual Society, relative to Conneaut Spiritual Society, relative to Columbus, elected Mrs. Morrison, president; Gran- its harmonious relations and conseville Cranston, vice-president; J. H. quent steady progress and increase in Jackson, secretary, and your humble numbers that an invitation was extendquent steady progress and increase in servant, treasurer. Brother Kates dem. ed to this organization to come next onstrated in a very able manner that year, enmasse, to aid in celebrating

Willard Hull was the speaker of the day and his trenchant wit, satire and opened up a new field for labor here. sound sense and advice kept the audi-Speakers and mediums have given ence to a high pitch of appreciation and Montana the go-by; now the field is open | applause. His subject was "Facing the Twentieth Century," and he grappled in a masterly and conclusive manner with the many perplexing questions of the ing engagements. If mediums who are day along economic, political and religious lines. James B. Townsend, president of the Light of Truth, in the morning's symposium, struck a responsive chord, in ev-ery heart with his "running fire" of wit and wisdom. His enthusiasm over the fine management and cordiality everywhere manifest in the City of Light Assembly bubbled up like a soda fountain in appreciative expression. This is his first visit, but he says it will not be Next Sunday, the 19th inst., is Buffalo Day, and a chorus of 100 Swedish Singers is expected from Jamestown to add interest to the occasion.

Various classes are in session. Clegg Wright on "Soul Evolution"; W. J. Colville, "Mental Science and Healing"; Miss Wilson, of Washington, "Physical Culture"; Jennie Rynd, Boston, has a "Mystic Circle." There are various evening entertainments weekly; three Forest Temple services daily, besides the regular conferences and thought ex-

The speakers for next week are Willard Hull, W. J. Colville, Susie Clark, Tillie Reynolds, F. A. Wiggin. New York State Day is Wednesday, 22, H. W. Richardson, chairman. Carrie Twing and Tillie Reynolds, speak-ers. J. E. HYDE.

MY CREED.

This is my creed: Who strives in all things to live firmly And lift unshrinking eyes upon the Speaking kind words of hope and comfort, to, The weary ones, along life's dusty way, way, wath nor torments dire ;

And calmly trusts God's mercy in his need Such shall attain the heaven of his desire. 4

This is my creed. This is my creed: 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass. Never to doubt His love who made the world. Nor deem one soul, however frail and weak, Can stray beyond His sheltering hand, though hurled Through desperate doubts. To know

His love will seek And claim the souls His mighty will gave birth. To know each true cry He will truly And lose no soul from all this teeming earth. This is my creed. BEATRICE ST. GEORGE.

The Commandments Analyzed, price

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS.

Send in Your Dates and Name of Secre tary at Once. Lake Brady, Ohio.

Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secretary, Akron, Ohio. Chesterfield, Ind. Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting opens July 16 and closes August 30

For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Ander-

Forest Home, Mich. The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and closes August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich.,

Ottawa Camp, Kansas. This camp opens July 30, and closes August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas.

The Waukesha Camp, Wis.

This camp opens July 17 and closes August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street. La Crosse. Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis.

Ottawa, Kans.

This camp opens July 30 and continues to August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, president, Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Secretary, Carbondale, Kansas.

Wonewoc, Wis.

The Wonewoo camp opens this year on August 13 and continues to the 30th of that month. Address for particulars. Miss Gertrude Spooner, Secretary, Wonewoc, Wis.

Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich. The West Michigan Spiritualist Association will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Ploneer Assembly Grounds." Meeting opens July and closes August 30. For full par ticulars address D. A. Herrick, president and manager, 296 N. Ionia street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Delphos Camp, Kansas. Commences August 8, and continues until August 24. C. J. Ballou, presi dent; H. D. Dwight, secretary. Summerland Beach, Ohlo. Summerland Beach Camp, Millersport, Fairfield county, Ohio, 35 miles east of Columbus, opens August 22 and closes September 6, 1903. David Climer, President, 282 West Fifth avenue, secretary, 55 McDowell street, Columbus, Ohio. Winfield Camp, Kansas.

This camp will be held in Island Park, Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 3, and closing July 13. For full particuner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas.

Marshalltown, lowa.

This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars address E. M. Vail, president, Marshall town, Iowa.

Franklin, Neb.

This camp commences July 17, and continues until August 2. For full particulars address D. L. Haines, secretary, Franklin, Neb. Haslett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 30. For programs and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich. Vicksburg, Mich.

This camp-meeting is located at Fraser's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg. It commences August 2 and closes August 22. For programs send to Jeannette Fraser, Manager, Vicksburg, Mich.

Grand Ledge, Mich. This camp opens July 26 and closes August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich.

Lake Helen Camp, Florida

The Southern Cassadaga Camp-meet ing will convene the first of February and will close the middle of March For information and programmes, ad dress Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y. The City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information and programs, address Mrs. Isabel Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily Dale. N. Y.

Saugus Center, Mass. The Lynn Spiritualists Association will hold meetings every Sunday, ending September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill,

The Onset Camp. .Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

Maple Dell Park, Ohio. The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session closing August 30. Lucy King, corresponding secretary. Address with stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio.

Harmony Grove, Cal. The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We ire expecting a very prosperous camp. For particulars address Frank C. Fosker, secretary, Escondido, Cal.

Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash. The Spiritualists of Clarke county, Washington, will hold their second annual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30. Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington.

Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist Association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., president; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N. Y., secretary.

Lake Pleasant, Mass.

This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Alpert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos-

Los Angeles, Cal. The Southern California Spiritualist Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal., from August 16 to September 13. Address all communications to W. F. Vose, No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, secretary, or Mrs. Essie Ashby, 1306 East

Twenty-seventh street, president.

Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp. It will be held at Blodgett's Landing, N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 30. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums. For programmes, address the secretary, Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N. H., until July 28; after that date, at Blodgett's Landing, N. H. Camp-meeting in Oregon.

The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spir tualist Association. For particulars. address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Oregon City, Oregon.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, will open August 2 and close August 30. For programmes address Mollie B. Anderson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president, Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary,

Verona, Park, Me.

Island Lake, Mich. The Island Lake Camp Association desires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenomenal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secretary, 350 Grand River avenue, Detroit,

The Niantic Camp. The Niantic Camp, Niantic, Ct., opens June 22, and closes September 7. For full particulars address Mary A. Hatch, secretary.

"An Infamous Dynamite Roman Catholic Conspiracy Detected and Exposed." "Romanism Exposed." Two pamphlets by Rev. J. G. White, author of Startling Facts. Price 10 cents each, or two for 15 cents.
"The Kingship of Self-Control."

Wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape duty, the supreme charity of the world, the revelation of reserve power, Price 30 cents. For sale at this office. "Buddhism and Its Christian Critics." By Dr. Paul Carus. An excellent study of Buddhism; compact yet comprehensive. Paper, 50 cents. Cloth, $1.25. For sale at this office. "The Majesty of Calmness, or Individual Problems and Possibilities." By

Wm. George Jordan. Another valuable little work. Price 30 cents. For sale at this office. "Death, Its Meaning and Results." By J. K. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar. An absorbingly interesting volume, of decided value. A narrative of wonderful psychic events in the author's experience. Cloth, 560 pages, illustrated, $1.25. "A Conspiracy Against the Republic."

By Charles B. Waite, A. M., author of History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200." etc. A condensed state ment of facts concerning the efforts of church leaders to get control of the government. An important work. Paper, 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Old Testament Stories & A Unique Comically Illustrated. # PICTURE

By WATSON HESTON, BOOK.

Nothing else can so completely upset the old superstitious Old Testament Stories as these vivid and lifelike portrayals of them. They present the old myths in the proper absurdness of their absurdity, ridicule their ridiculessness and in fact hold them up to the light af reason. It is a book of 400 pages with 200 full page pictures It will make you laugh off every vostige of the old superstitions; a good way indeed to get rid of them. Price, board, $1; cloth, $1.59. POEMS OF PROGRESS.

By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable. Price, $1.00. THREE SEVENS A Story of Ancient Phelons. Illustrating the Hermetic Philoso-phy. Price, coth, $1.25.

The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism. A Menace to American Civilization. By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A trenchant and masterly treatise. Price, 25 cents.

What All the World's a Seeking. RALPH WALDO TRINE. Each is building his world from within; thought is the builder; for thoughts are forces,—subtle, vital, irrestatible, omnipotent,—and according as used do they bring power or impotence, peace or pain, success or failure.—From Title-page.

The above books are beautifully bound in gray-green raised cloth, stamped in deep old green and gold, with glittop. Price, $1.25. For sale at this office.

LIGHT OF EGYPT.

The Second Volume of Most Valuable Work.

(a valuable addition and) a library on popularity. occult subjects. Spiritual astrology is occuit subjects. Spiritual astrology is especially elaborated. Alchemy, Tallsmans, the Magic Wand, Symbolism, Correspondence, Penetralia, etc., are a few of the subjects treated of in a scholarly and masterly manner, showing the author to be familiar with his subjects. You cannot afford to be without it, as well as all his other books vis.: The Light of Egypt, Vol. I., bound in cloth, $2; paper, $1. The Light of Egypt, Vol. II., bound in cloth only, $2. Celestial Dynamics, cloth, $1.

Psychopathy, or Spirit Healing. A series of lessons on the relations of the spirit to its own organism, and the interrelation of human beings with reference to health, disease and healing. By the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Rush, through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond. A book that every healer, physician and Spiritualist should read. Price, $1.50.

PUBLICATIONS

A LIBRARY OF SPIRITUAL SCIENCE.

STUDIES IN THE OUTLYING FIELDS OF This work essays to utilize and explain the vast array of facts in its field of research by referring them to a common cause and from them arise to the laws and conditions of Man's spiritual being. Third edition. Price, 75 cents.

RELICION OF MAN AND ETHICS OF SCI-Not servile trust to the Gods, but knowledge of the laws of the world, belief in the divinity of man and his eternal progress toward perfection is the foundation of this book. Price, $1.

LIFE IN TWO SPHERES. LIFE IN TWO SPHEMES.

In this story the scenes are laid on earth, and in the spirit world, presenting the spiritual philosophy and the real life of spiritual beings. All questions which arise on that subject are answered. Price, 60 cents.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF SRIRIT AND THE SPIRIT WORLD.

THE ORIGIN AND ANTIQUITY OF MAN. Containing the latest investigations and discoveries, and a thorough presentation of this interesting subject. English edition. Price, $1.

THE SECRETS OF THE CONVENT OF THE SACRED HEART.

This book was written for an object, and has been pronounced equal in its exposure of tha diabolical methods of Catholicism to "Unco Tom's Cabin." Price, 25 cents.

HERESY, OR 1 FD TO THE LIGHT

HERESY, OR LED TO THE LIGHT. A thrilling psychological story of evangeliza-tion and free thought. It is to Protestantism what "The Secrets of the Convent" is to Cath-olicism. Price, 30 cents.

WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM? WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM?
How to investigate. How to form circles, and develop and cultivate mediumship. Names of eminent Spiritualists. Their testimony. Eightpage tract for mission work. Single copies, 5 cents; 100 for $1.25.

FROM SOUL TO SOUL.

By Emma Rood Tuttle. This volume contains the best poems of the author, and some of the most popular songs with the music by eminent composers. The poems are admirably adapted for recitations. 225 pages, beautifully bound. Price, $1.

THE LYCEUM GUIDE.

For the home, the lyceum and societies. A manual of physical, intellectual and spiritual culture. By Emma Rood Tuttle. A book by the aid of which a progressive lyceum, a spiritual culture different society may be organized and conducted without other assistance. Price, 56 cents; by the dozen, 40 cents. Express charges unpaid.

ANGEL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTEST RECITATIONS. For humane education, with plan of the Angell Prize Oratorical Contests. By Emma Rood Tuttle. Price, 25 cents.

Address HUDSON TUTTLE, Publisher, Berlin Heights, Ohlo. THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS

Not Adapted to Modern Civilization, with the Trre Character of Mary Magdalene. By Geo. W. Browth, M. D. Price, 15 cents. For sale as this conce. Daniel K. Tenney's BOOKS

Never-Ending Life, Assured by Science Price, 6 cts.

The best scientific argument in favor of a fu-ture life that has ever before been made. Jehovah Interviewed. Or Orthodoxy from Headquarters ... Price. 6 cts.

A newspaper reporter goes up to heaven and in-terviews Jehovah. Theology, Its. Origin, Career and Destiny Price. so cts.

One of the best and most comprehensive summing up of the absurdities of the Christian Theology that has ever before appeared.

Holy Smoke in the Holy Land. Price, to cts. Price, to cts.
Susan H. Wixon says: "I have read, first and last, many accounts of Palestine, or the Holy Land, but have never seen anything in that line that pleased me so well as this description by Daniel K. Tenney."

The Plan of Salvation. Price, 10 cts. In this pamphlet Mr. Tenney shows the absurdative of the Christian "Plan of Salvation" in so clear and plain a manner that any Christian who has a spark of reason left cannot fail to ace it.

"Owed" to the Clergy. Price, 6 cts. An address read before the Free Thought Co. gress held in Paine Hall, Boston, Nov. 17th, 1899. The Master's Masterpiece,

Or the Sermon on the Mount Price, to cts. This is the most thorough exposition of the fal-lacies of this noted "sermon" that was ever be-fore published. Modern Theology and Its Ideal Jesus

The absurdities of the reputed teachings of Jesus are here shown up as no other writer has ever presented them before, which will convince any honest reader that the most of them are consummate nonsense.

The Hon. Daniel K. Tenney, the author of these books, has been for many years the leading law-yer in one of the most distinguished law firms in Chicago, and there is not a more able writer in the Liberal ranks

THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lillan Whiting, author of "The World Beautiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Field, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Cloth, $1.00.
Miss Whiting finds the title of her new book in these lines from "Aurora

Leigh:"
"If a man could feel feas Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and working-day,

The spiritual significance burn through

The hieroglyphic of material shows, Herceforward he would paint the
globe with wings."

The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between the developments of modern science and spiritual laws; to note that new forces, as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an un-seen realm into which humanity is rap-idly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical sci-ence the author of "The World President ence the author of "The World Beautiful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the con-stant sense of the Divine Presence, and a truer knowledge of the nature of man and his relations to God tend to as and his relations to God tend to as beginning morality and increasing happi-This is the author's postbumous work samo essential style and qualities that left in MS. to a few of his private pu-pils in occultism, and like Volume I. is ful" volumes an almost world-wide have insured for "The World Beauti-

OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT-ING: Kate Field, A Record. Price $2.

A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browne ing. I'ri'e $1.25.
The World Beautiful. Three Series.

From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale at this office. Paine's Theological Works.

Age of Reason, Examination of the Propheries, etc. Illustrated edition. Post 8vo., 48 ages. Price, cloth, $1.00.

MAHOMET, THE ILLUSTRIOUS,
By Godfrey Higgins, Esq. This work is one of the Library of Liberal Classics. No author was better qualified to write an impartial and honest life of Mahomet than Godfrey Higgins, and this volume is intensely interesting. It should be read in conjunction with Gibbon's work. Price, 25 cents.

This department is under the man

HUDSON TUTTLE. Address bim at Bellin Heights, Obio

NOTE.-The Questions and Answers spondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often if they have been reincarnated, or had a clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this forced brevity. Proofs have to be omitted, and the style becomes thereby assertive, which of all things is to be deprecated. Correspondents often weary with waiting for the appearance of their questions and write letters of in-The supply of matter is always several weeks ahead of the space given, and hence there is unavoidable delay. Every one has to wait his time and place, and all are treated with equal

NOTICE.-No attention will be given anonymous letters. Full name and address must be given, or the letters will not be read. If the request be made, the name will not be published. The correspondence of this department has again. become excessively large, especially letters of inquiry requesting private an-twers, and while I freely give what-ever information I am able, the ordipary courtesy of correspondents is ex-pected. HUDSON TUTTLE.

Mrs. Addie Bright:: Q. In how far does the mind of the medium affect the

A. There is possible a condition in which the control is so overmastering that the mind of the medium has no influence on the communications. This, however, is rare, and allowance must be made for this source of error. A musician may use an instrument with a defective string, but the note that string gives he will be unable to produce. If the instrument is not attuned, he will strike discords at most unexpected mo-We should not condemn the Instrument because not adjusted to harmony, nor the skill or intentions of the

J. U. Eames: Q. How many changes or revisions has the Bible passed through since it was first com

A. Of the Old Testament, the first and most noted version is the Septuagint, (B. C. 285). It is made conspicuous by the fabulous story of the seven ty-tw elders sent by the high priest to do the work. In 430 Jerome made a translation for the "common people," and hence called the Vulgate. It met at the time violent opposition, but became adopted and is now the version of the Roman church. At the invention of printing, the text had become so corrupt by repeated copyings that it was found impossible to get a correct copy, and Pope Sixtus V. (1598) decided by his right as Pope, what the text should

The same difficulty had to be met when the New Testament had to be fixed in type. One of the first efforts of print ing was the Greek Testament. The Erasmus published a text two years later. These two compared with manuing, until the Elzevir (1641) which was "received text," until 1812, when German scholars sought to "restore" the "original." The Bible was said by scholars to be written in "bad Greek," a fact accounted for by the more recent theory that it was first written in Latin and translated into Greek, after the Greek language had become modified Friend Myrick asserts that in infinite from the classic tongue.

Numerous attempts to produce a perfect translation of the Bible into French and German were made, and there was That worlds were created by God's equal activity to secure an English translation that would be accepted as infallible as the original.

John Wickliffe made the first, in 1384. He labored under the great difficulty of the text and the rudeness of the language into which he translated it. To be understood, his Bible would have to be translated into modern

Tyndale made the next attempt, and was more successful, though burned at the stake for his labor. There was a great variety of versions. Coverdale translated the Old Testa-ment, the "Mathews Bible," the "Great Bible," Cranmer's Bible, the Geneva Bible, the Bishop's Bible, the Dougy Bible (Catholic), in fact such a confusion of Bibles, that in 1604, King James was appealed to, and appointed a commission of 54 learned men, to produce a version satisfactory to all. done, and the English parliament reported that it "was the best in the world." How these courtiers and sycophants knew is not recorded. It has remained the sacred text, and salvation, or damnation made to rest on its meaning, although scholars have well known that many of the so-called vital doctrines of contending sects arose from blunders in compilers and translators. A revision was proposed by the convovation of Canterbury in 1870 which was entered into in England and America by the best Biblical scholars. Notwith-standing the superstition for the old version, which forbids a perfect rendering into modern speech, the last attempt is a praiseworthy advance. Yet this new version will never become "the Bible." It is not the Bible the missionaries carry, or the clergy take their texts from; not the Bible printed by the ton by the Bible House. Half the charm and influence of King James Bible is its quaint and obsolete phraseology. Put in Modern speech, and its sacred character is lost.

Mrs. C. El. Mackley: Q. The spirit authors of "Psychic Science" disprove reincarnation and pre-existence. In another book these doctrines are maintained. How can we reconcile such opposing statements, claiming such high differences of opinion in the spirit bound; Price $1. world, as there is in this life. If a spirit "The Romance of Jude. A Story of of a pronounced Roman Catholic should the Life and Times of the Nazarene and communicate, we should expect the His People." Through the mediumship tenets of that church would be sus of Mrs. M. T. Longley. An intensely intained, and a materialist would confirm teresting book. Neatly bound in cloth. the belief entertained while here. If and gilt. Only 50 cents.

the old belief in the omniscience of spirit beings is eliminated from mind, there will be none of these diffi culties to contend with.

Too much is expected, and we are surprised because a spirit who in this life, we would not take as authority, does not solve the most pro-found problems. We ought to be able by our own reason, to decide these questions of reincarnation and pre-existence. They have afflicted India for thousands of years, and brought stagnation and mental death. Her people are now es caping from the miasmatic bog, and en deavoring to cast the dogmas aside and it is strange that at this moment western civilization is taking it up, and ardent devotees are finding in these ef have called forth such a host of re- fete doctrines priceless pearls of wisdom.

pre-existence. If memory has not re-corded a vestige of the past states, how can a spirit know more on this subject than while in the physical body?

The attempt has not been made to harmonize the system of spiritual philosophy which is contained in the writings given to me, with that from other sources, by means of discussion. It is often quite impossible for me to give any further explanation of passages, which are perplexing to readers and to which they call my attention, from the fact that I cannot recall the authors and conditions under which the writings were received, and thus start at the same point and go over the ground

It stands as written, and the demand is no stronger to harmonize it with other communications from the spirit world, than with the writings from the mortal side. As long as minds are educated differently, and occupy widely different standpoints, there will be varying views and opposing ideas.

D. Edson Smith: Q. At what date vas the Bible formulated as a book? Is it the oldest book in the world, as asserted by its believers?

A. No one can tell when the Bible became a Bible. The Old Testament is composed of all the writings extant among the Hebrews at a date uncertain. Its sacred character came from the su perstition entertained by all primitive people that writing of any kind is sacred, because the written word speaks.

The book of Job is probably among the oldest writings, but the Book of the Dead of the Egyptians is thousands of years older. The Vedas of India are unknown centuries more ancient. The tablets unearthed in ancient Assyria covered with cuniform characters are "writings," to which the books of the Bible are as yesterday.

Delevan Bates: Q. Please give a sketch of Allan Kardec. Are his Book on Spirits, and Book on Mediums good authority?
A. Allan Kardec is the pen-name of Leon H. D. Rivail, a French writer of mediocre intelligence and style. imagination made up all other deficiencies, and he had a novel method of for-tifying its wildest flight. He seized on the time-old notion of reincarnation, which in his vivid fancy became a new speculation. He then gathered around him sensitives or mediums, who were perfectly under his suggestive control, and received from them messages, or answers which were a return of his own thoughts, as echoes respond. He was the dominant and controlling spirit. With this understanding of his methods, it goes without saying that the books he has published are of no higher authority than his own unrestrained

SPONTANEOUS GENERATION.

To the Editor: -A communication by H. W. B. Myrick, published in your paper of the 11th inst., states with some zeal that spontaneous generation never ated by the Great First Cause. That a ticle prompted the following thoughts:

There was ne'er generation sponta neous: holy grace,

And life by his word instantaneous. I'm a searcher for knowledge-not the ories bare-

And hence interpose the inquiry: What were God's antecedents?—his life line declare,

Ere he built Sol, Conopus and Lyra? Was he "growed" like black Topsy, as Harriet has told?

Did he leap from Jove's head like wise Pollog? Was he sea-foam-constructed, like Venus of old?

Was he loving and genial-or callous? But pause: At his advent no Jove had been born-

No sea cast its foam on the shingle, Vast nothing fill'd night that was hopeless of morn, There was naught with dense silence to mingle.

Did he sigh for a mate in the solitude Poor Nothing! your longing is hopeless: Miss Nobody shrinks from your wooing with fear, And hides in great nowhere; the scopeless. n philosopher's lexicon all obsolete Are the terms "chance" and "accident" buried.

cause must be sought for each movement and feat, Howe'er they be tangled and varied. Friend Myrick is silent, but never de-

A partial response may be gathered. Common sense and plain reason united God never was mothered nor fath-

Thus we know that in spite of his scholarly thought, Friend Myrick needs soft malediction--- ered.

God's birth was spontaneous, his parentage naught, Or his being a priest-laden fiction.

J. CLEMENT SMITH.

Topeka, Kansas. "In the World Celestial," by Dr. T. A. A. The only explanation of all such contradictions is that there is the same helpful; spiritually uplifting. Cloth

"How Shall I Become a Medium," Fully Answered

In Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle: Price 35 cents. Send to Mr. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, O.

THE USE AND ABUSE OF PSYCHIC POWERS

(Continued from fifth page.)

and often very beautiful shape will be assumed. If the thought be purely intellectual and impersonal-for example if the thinker is attempting to solve a problem in algebra or geometry—then his thought forms and waves of vibration will be confined to the mental plane. If, however, his thought is of a spiritual nature, or is tinged with love and aspiration or deep unselfish feeling, then it will rise upwards from the mental plane and will borrow much of the splendor and glory of the Buddhic levels above. In such a case its influence is exceedingly powerful, and every such thought is a mighty force for good which cannot but produce decided effect upon all other mental bodies within reach, if they contain any quality at all capable of response. If, on the other hand, the thought has in it something of self or of personal desire, at once its vibrations turn downward, and it draws around itself a body of astral matter in addition to its clothing of mental matter. Thus then is a thought form capable of acting upon not only the minds but the astral bodies of other men-that is to say, capable not only of arousing thoughts within them but also of stirring up their feelings, Here once more we see the terrible responsibility of sending forth a selfish thought or one charged with low and evil magnetism. If any man about us has a weak spot within his nature—and who has not?—then this selfish thought of ours may find that weak spot and develop the germ into poisonous fruit and flower. Once more, purely good and loving thoughts and feelings will project their forms also, and will act upon other men just as strongly in their way as did the evil in the contrary direction; so that this opens before us a sphere of usefulness, when once our thoughts and feelings are thoroughly under the control of the higher self.

THOUGHT FORMS.

It may be useful for us to think a little more closely of this thought-form, and to note its further adventures. Often a man's thought is definitely directed towards some one elsethat is to say, he sends forth from himself a thought of affection, of gratitude, or unfortunately it may sometimes be of envy or jealousy or of hatred towards some one else. Such a thought will produce its radiations precisely as would any other; but the thought form which it generates is imbued with the definite intention, as it were, and as soon as it breaks away from the mental and astral bodies of the thinker help to put it right, it goes straight towards the person upon whom it is directed. and fastens itself upon him. It may be compared not inaptly to a Leyden jar, with its charge of electricity. If the man towards whom it is directed is at the moment in a passive condition, or if he has within him active vibrations of a character harmonious with its own, it will at once discharge itself upon him. Its effect will naturally be to provoke a specially sensitive will often meet with much that is unpleas vibration similar to its own if none such already exists, or to intensify it if it is already to be found there. If the man's is impossible for the vibration to find an entrance, the thought form hovers about him waiting for an opportunity to discharge itself.

Unfortunately, however, at our present stage of evolution the majority of the thoughts of men are probably self-centered, even when not actively selfish. They are often very heavily tinged by desire, and in such cases they not only descend into and clothe themselves with astral matter, but they also tend to react upon the man who set them in motion. Many a man may be seen surrounded by a shell of thoughtforms, all of them hovering closely about him and constantly reacting upon him. The tendency in such a case is naturally to reproduce themselves—that is to say, to stir up in him a repetition of the thoughts to which he has previously yielded himself. Many-a man feels this pressure upon him from without—this constant suggestion of certain thoughts; and if the thoughts are evil he frequently thinks of them as tempting demons goading him into sin. Wet they slory, and that through him it may manifest to those whose are none the less entirely his own creation, and thus, as ever, man is his own tempter.

Note on the other hand the happiness which this knowle edge brings to us and the enormous power which it places in our hands. See how we can utilize this when we know (and who does not?) of some one who is in sorrow or in suffering. enough sorrow and worry in the world; do not therefore self-We may not be able to do anything for the man on the physicianly add to it by mourning over your own share of the occurred and that the universe was credical plane; there are often many reasons which prevent the giving of physical help, no matter how much we may desire to do our best. Circumstances often arise in which our deavor to throw off the depression from yourself, so that you physical presence might not be helpful to the man whom we wish to aid; his physical brain may be closed to our sugges you cannot yet attain to the height of positive joyousness. tions by prejudice or by religious bigotry. But his astral and Along this line also there is a great and splendid work for mental bodies are much more sensitive, much more easily impressible; and it is always open to us to approach these by waves of helpful thought or of affectionate and soothing feeling. Remember that it is absolutely certain that the results must accrue; there is no possibility of failure in such an effort or endeavor to help, even though no obvious consequence may follow on the physical plane. The law of the conservation of energy holds good just as certainly at this level as it does in our terrestrial mechanics, and the energy which you pour forth must reach its goal and must produce its effect. There can be no question that the image which you wish to put before your friend for his comfort or his help will reach him; whether it will present itself clearly to his mind when it arrives depends upon first of all upon the definiteness of outline which you have been able to give to it, and secondly upon his mental condition at the time. He may be so fully occupied with thoughts of his own trials and sufferings that there is little room for any new idea to insinuate itself; but in that case your thought simply bides its time, and when at last his attention is diverted, or exhaustion forces him to suspend the activity of his own train of thought, assuredly yourn tlops which work most readily in the higher types of astral will slip in and will do its errand of mercy. Exactly the same thing is true at its different level of the strong feeling of affection and friendliness which you may send out towards and intensified within himself such vibrations as belong esa person thus suffering; it may be that at the moment he is too entirely occupied with his own feelings, or perhaps too much excited to receive and accept any suggestion from without, but presently a time comes when the faithful thought-form can penetrate and discharge itself, and then assuredly your sympathy will produce its due result. There are many cases where the best will in the world can do nothing on the physical plane; but there is no conceivable case in which either on the mental or the astral plane some relief cannot be given by steady concentrated loving thought. The phenomena of mental cure show how powerful thought may be even on the physical plane, and since it acts so much more easily on the astral and the mental we may realize very vividly how tremendous a power is ours if we will but exercise it. Remember always to think of a person as you wish him to be; the image which you thus make of him will naturally act powerfully upon him and tend to draw him gradually into harmony with itself. Flx your thought upon the ally into harmony with itself. Fix your thought upon the good qualities of your friends, because in thinking of any quality you tend to strengthen its vibrations and therefore to intensify it. It can never be right to endeavor to dominate the thought and the will of another even though it may be for what seems a good end; but it is always right to hold up before a man a high ideal of himself and to wish very strongly that he may presently be enabled to attain it. In this way your steady train of thought will always act upon those you love; and remember that at the same time it is acting upon yourself also, and you can utilize it to train thought power within yourself, so that it will become ever stronger and more definite.

If you know of certain defects of vices in a man's character, then send to him strong thoughts of the contrary virtues, so that we may by degrees be built into his character, Never under any circumstances fiwell upon that which is evil in him, for in that case also your thought would tend to intensify that evil. That is the horrible wickedness of gossip and of scandal, for there we have a number of people fixing their thought upon the evil qualities of another, calling to that evil the attention of others who might perhaps not have observed it; and in this way, it the avil already exists, their folly distinctly acts to increase it, and if as is often the case, its so texist, they are doing their best to produce it. As A Chance to Make Money

There is another psychic quality which all of us possess in 1. There is another psychic quality which all of us possess in a sping degree, and that is the quality of sensitiveness to im. A BOOK Of Great Merit. pressions. You know that we all receive these impressions at various times. As yet they are only imperfect and by no means always reliable, but nevertheless they may be noted and watched carefully, and used as training towards the development of a more perfect faculty. Many a time they may be useful in telling us where help is needed, where a loving thought or word is required. When we see a person we may sometimes feel radiating from him the influence of deep depression. If you remember the illustration in that recent book of mine of the man who was under the influence of depression you will recollect how entirely be seemed shut in by BY O. W. LEADBEATER. it, almost as effectively as the miser was shut in by his prison-house of self-centered thought. If you recollect that most impressive picture you will at once see what it is that your thought can do for this man. It can strengthen his vibrations and help him to break these prison bars, to throw off their terrible weight and to release himself from the heavy load that surrounds him. If you have received the im pression of depression from him, be sure that there is some reason for it, and that this is an opportunity for you. Since man is in truth a spark of the Divine, there must always be that within him which will respond to your strong, calm lov ing thought, and so he may be reassured and helped. Try to put before him strongly the feeling that in spite of his personal sorrows and troubles the sun still shines above all, and there is still much for which he ought to be thankful, much that is good and beautiful in the world. Often you will see the change that is produced and this will encourage you to the change that is produced and this will encourage you to try again, for you will learn that you are utilizing these psychic powers which you possess-first your sensitiveness in discovering what is wrong and then your thought in order to SENSITIVENESS MISUSED.

Yet this faculty of sensitiveness also may be misused. case in point would be if we allowed ourselves to be depressed, either by our own sorrows and sufferings, or by coming in contact with depression in others. The man who is ant to him, especially if his lot is cast in a great city, or in the midst of what is called modern civilization; yet he should mind is so strongly occupied along some other lines that it | remember that it is emphatically his duty to be happy, and to remember that it is emphatically his duty to be happy, and to resist all thoughts of gloom or of despair. He should try his best to imitate on the higher planes the action on the physigal plane of the sun, which is so glorious a symbol of the Logosia Just as that pours out its light and life, so should the try to hold a steady, calm, serene center from which the The Myth of the Great Deluge grace and the power from on high may be poured out upon his fellow-man. In this way he may become in very truth a follow-worker with God, for through him and through his reflection of it this divine grace and strength may reach many, whom directly it could not reach. The physical sun floods down its life and light upon us, yet there may easily be caverns or cellars into which that light cannot penetrate directly; but a mirror which is upon the earth and upon the level of the cavern or the cellar may so reflect these glorious rays as that they may reach to the innermost extremity and fispel"the gloom and darkness. Just so it sometimes happens that man may make himself into a mirror for the divine eyes would otherwise remain blind to its glory.

Trouble and sorrow come at times to us all, but we must not selfishly yield ourselves to them, for if we do we shall inevitably endanger others; we shall radiate depression around us and intensify it among our friends. There is always rouble and the sorrow, but rather range yourself on the side of God who means man to be happy—set yourself to enmay radiate at the least resignation and calmness, even if everyone of us to do, and it lies close to our hands if we will but raise them to undertake it.

Another way in which it would be possible for us to misuse this qualification of sensitiveness would be to allow ourselves to be so repelled by the undesirable qualities which we sense the confessional; a trenchant showing in men whom we meet, that we should be unable to help them when an opportunity is offered to us. Every good and pure person feels a strong sense of instinctive repulsion from that which is coarse and evil; and from this undoubted fact a good deal of misapprohension has arisen. If you met some one coarse and vulgar you would feel that sense of repulsion; but you must not therefore conclude that every time you feel the sense of repulsion you have necessarily met with that which is terribly evil. If we regard the matter simply from the material level, the reason for the strong repulsion between the man of pure mind and the man whose thoughts and feelings are impure is simply that their vibrations are discordant. Each of them has within his astral body some thing at least of matter of all the levels of the astral plane, but they have used it very differently. The good and the more amazed than ever at the prevamatter, whereas the man of impure thought has scarcely utilizedthat part of his astral body at all, and has strengthened and the very death warrant of Christian infensified within himself such vibrations as belong es. pecially to the grosser type of matter. Consequently when these two come together their vibrations are utterly inharmonious and produce a strong sense of discord and discomfort. So they instinctively avoid one another, and it is only when the good man has learnt of his duty and his power to help that he feels it incumbent upon him to try, even though flibe from a distance, to influence his inharmonious brother,

We have, however, to remember that two persons who are in every way equally good and equally developed may never theless be very far from harmonious. Although the difference hetween them may not be so extreme as that which we have instanced, it may nevertheless be quite sufficient to produce a decided sense of inharmony and therefore of repulsion. It is therefore by no means safe to decide that, when we feel a distaste for the society of a certain person, that person is therefore necessarily wicked. This mistake has so very often been made by good and well-meaning people that it is worth while to emphasize it somewhat strongly. It Certain indication that here is one to whom we can be useful, certain indication that here is one to whom, we can be useful, and will readily absorb from us and learn from us. But The Ronalce of July A story of the constitutions it is also possible for us to oversome this feet. nevertheless it is also possible for us to overcome this feeling of repulsion, and where there is no one else to give the needed help it of course becomes our duty to do so.

All then should try to realize these psychic powers which they already possess, and realizing them should determine to lee them wisely and well. It is true that the responsibility is great, yet let us not shrink from them on that account. If many are unconsciously using these things for evil, then all the more is it necessary that we who are beginning to unall the more is it necessary that we who are beginning to understand a little should use them consciously and for good reads. Because my own children are all under the bullence them with careful study and with sound common world. This book is the hardes, and my heart is to balance them with careful study and with sound common world. This book is the children of the world. This book is the children of the sonse. In that way we shall avoid all danger of misusing the children of the world. This book is full of soul elevating and them; in that way we shall prepare ourselves to use other. to balance them with careful study and with sound common them; in that way we shall prepare ourselves to use other and greater powers as they come to us in the course of our evolution to use them always for the furtherance of the areat Divine Scheme and for the helping of our fellow-man.

Nan and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, or Carlettan people who would investigate and carn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

HE OTHER SIDE OF DEATH Scientifically Examined and Carefully Described.

A Volume of 600 large pages, treating very necrestingly if Life, Death and Immertality, Clairveyance, Spirit Phonomena, Etc, as viewed by an acknowledged and cultivated exponent of Theosophy. Price, $1.60.

Man the Microcosm. His Infinite and Divine Relations: Intuition— The Light Within. By Giles B. Stebbins. Price, 10 cents,

HARMONIGS OF EVOLUTION. The Philosophy of Individual Life, Based Upon Natural Science

THUMBSCREW AND RACK, Torture implements employed in the 16th and 16th centuries for the promulgation of Christianity, with pictorial illustrations. By George E. Macdonald. Price, 10 cents.

In Tune with the Infinite By Ralph Waldo Trine.

By Ralph Waldo Trine.

Within yourself lies the cause of whatever enters into your life. To come into the full resilization of your own awakened interior powers, is to be able to condition your life in exect accord with what you would have it.—From Title-Page.

CONTENTS—I. Prelude; II. The Supreme Fact of the Universe; III. The Supreme Fact of Minman Life; IV. Fullness of Life—Bodily Hoaith and Vigor; V. The Secret, Power and Effect of Love; VI. Windom and interior Illumination; VII. The Realization of Perfect Peace; VIII. Coming into fullness of power; IX. How Men Have Become Prophets, Seers, Sagea, and Saviors; XI. The Basic Principle of All Religions—The Universal Religion: XII. Entering Row into the Realization of the Higheot Riches. For sale at thisoffice, Price, postpaid, $1.25.

By James M. McCann. A complete and over-whelming refutation of the Bible story of the Deluge. Price, 15 cents.

LILIAN WHITING'S BOOKS

VERY INTERESTING AND EX-CELLENT WORKS.

Kate Field, A Record. Price $2. A Study of Hilzabeth Barrett Brown-ing. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series.

Each $1. After Her Death, New Edition, 31. From Dreamland Sent, And Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale

STARTLING FACTS, Deeds of Darkness Disclosed

This work devotes special attention to Auricular Confession and its relations to sacerdotal celibacy, convents, monasteries, morality and civil and religious liberty. It is intended to be an embodiment of facts and documentary evidence of the pernicious influence of up of Romanism, based upon standard Catholic authorities; an eye-opener concerning the methods and spirit, the moral turpitude and evil works of Romanism. Cloth, 75 cents.

"NO BEGINNING."

An Excellent Work for Thinkers.

This book, "No Beginning," is by William H. Maple. The Arena says of it: "The argument is unanswcrable. The book will at once appeal to the reason of every reader, and leave him Two has always been a fateful num-Free Thought Ideal says: "We found it

A NEW GATEGHISM,

BY M. M. MANGASARIAN. This is a new "Catechism" in the full sense of the word. There has as yet appeared in the world of lib eral literature nothing like this most wonderful little book of reason. E. P. Powell, the well-known author, the reviewer and critic, says: "The remarkable thing bout this 'Catechism' is that it tells the truth." It deals with the questions of God. Immortality—the Creeds, the Ciergy, the Church, Prayer and Salvation, Jesus and his Teaching, the Growth of the Christian Beriptures, and many other philosophical, scienting age and clearness. 183 pages. Cloth 750; paper, 500

MARK GHESTER, OR

A Mill and a Million.

tine" and of his people Given Through the mediumship of MRS.M.T. LONGLEY, to Ira O. Fuller, and by him dedicated to humanity. It is enough to know this work came through this excellent medium to recommend it. 174 pages of interesting reading. Price, cloth, 50 cents.

or The Touch of An Angel Mother.

BY CARRIE E. S. TWING.

ORIGIN OF LIFE

And the wondrous power which helped or made them perform mighty works and utter inspired words, together with some Personal Trails and Characteristics of Prophots, Apostles, and Jesus, or New Readings of "The Miracles, By Allen Putnam. Price, 76 cents.

THE DESCENT OF MAN.

By Charles Darwin. Cloth, glit top, 75 cents.
On its appearance it aroused at once a storm of mingled wrath, wonder and admiration. In elegance of style, charm of manner and deep knowledge of natural history, it stands almost without a rival among scientific works.

"AS IT IS TO BE."

A VERY SUGGESTIVE WORK

It Beams With Spiritual Truthe.

This is a beautiful book, by Cora Lynn Daniels, and it scintillates with grand spiritual thought. An idea of this work can be obtained by reading the titles of a few of the chapters therein:

The Process of Dying; Light and Spirit; The Law of Attraction; Senses of the Spirit; What Is Unconscious Will; Fear; Astrology; The God-Soul of Man; The Drama; A Day in Heaven. Price $1. For sale at this office.

PROGRESSION Or How a Spirit Ad-The evolution of Man. By Michael Faraday.

POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE. By Lizzie Doten. These poems are truly in-spirational and as staple as sugar. Price 5, 00.

WISDOM OF THE AGES.

Revelations from Zertoulem, the Prophet of Tlaskanata.

A Mine of Valuable Reflections and Suggestions. This work was automatically transcribed by George A. Fuller, M. D., a gentleman who stands high as a lecturer and medium. It is a mine of valuable reflections and suggestions. The paragraphs are short, suggestive and inspiring. Every one of them leads to something higher, grander, nobler, Price $1.00.

THE GOLDEN ECHOES:

A New Book of Inspirational Words and Music.

For the use of meetings, lyceums and home, by S. W. Tucker. Those beautiful songs have already conforted many broken hearts, and it is hoped that they may be heard in every land. Price 15c; $1.00 per dosen. For sale at this office.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION. Ristorical and critical review, with replies to n objection. By G. W. Brown, M. D. Price, 150, THE DIAKKA. The Diakka and Their Earthly Victims. By the Interesting and suggestive work. It is an explanation of much that is false and repulsive in Spiritualism, embodying a most important recent interview with James Victor Wilson, resident of Summer Land. Price, 60 cents.

Three Journeys Around the World

Travels in the Pacific Islands. ATAVOIS IN LICE PACING ISlands,

New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon, India, and other Oriental countries. By J. M. Peebles, A. M., M. D. Ph. D. In this splendid large book Dr. Peebles has concentrated a vast amount of valuable information. It is exceedingly entertaining and readable, and Spiritualism as he found it everywhere in his travels receives due attention, making the book of special value and interest to Spiritualists. 464 large pages, finely bound, at the price of $1.50.

AFTER HER DEATH. The Story of a Summer. By Lilian Whiting, Pervaded with pure and beautiful spirituality of thought. Interesting the pervaded with pure and beautiful spirituality.

A Few Words About the Devil, And other Essays. By Charles Bradlaugh, With the story of his life as told by himself, and the history of his parliamentary struggle. With portrait. Paper, 50c.

WOMAN: A Lecture Delivered to Ladies the present status of woman, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. The divine law of true harmonial marriage, etc. Price, 10c.

The Spiritual Wreath. A collection of words and music for the choir, congregation and social circle. By S. W. Tucker. Comprises sixty or more gems of song. Price, 15 cents.

COSMIAN HYMN BOOK. A collection of original and selected Hymna for Liberal and Ethical Societies, for Schools and the Home. Compiled by L. K. Washburn. This volume meets a public want. It comprises 258 choice selections of poetry and music, embodying the highest moral sentiment, and free from all sectarianism. Price, 50 cents.

THE SPIRITUAL ALPS And How We Ascend Them. How to reach that altitude where spirit is suprema and all things are subject to it. By Moses Hull. Price in cloth. 40 cents; paper 25 cts. For sale at this office.

"THE DREAM CHILD,"

A Fascinating Romance of Two Worlds. By Florence Huntley. Price, cloth, 75 cents. Books like "The Dream Child" spur humanity on to make more and more demands of this nature, and will open up new heights and depths of spiritual knowledge.—Ella Wheeler Wilcx. Will, I believe, take its place beside Bulwer's "Zanoni" and the "Seraphita" of Balzac.—Dally Capital, Topetas, Kansas. Although simple and unvarnished with any inflammable descriptions, enthralis the mind to the exclusion of other thoughts, until reluctantly the reader closes the last page.—Minneapolis Sunday Times.

ESOTERIO LESSONS.

This work includes "Personified Un-thinkables," "First Lessons in Reality," and "A Tour Through the Zodiac." This is an interesting production of oc-cult thought and will well repay careful study and meditation by all occultists. Price, Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this

OLD AND NEW PSYCHOLOGY By W. J. Colville. Beports of twenty-four distinct lectures, recently delivered in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and other prominent cities of the United States, have contributed the basis of this volume. Price, $1.00.

ZELMA THE MYSTIC, or White Mag.:
By Alwin M. Thurber. Cecult philosoph. clothed in story form; alms to give a better ur derstanding of Magic; black, and white. 880 pages, large and plain. Cloth, $1,25.

SPIRITUAL SONGSTER. By Mattle E. Hull. Thirty eight of Mrs. Hull's sweetest songs, adapted to popular music, for the use of congregations, circles and familes. Price, 10 cents, or 87 per hundred.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religious, and their influence upon the mental development of the human race. Price, 10 conts.

THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL. Series one, two and three. By Lillan Whiting, Three choice volumes, each com, lete in itself, in which apiritually is related to varyday life in such a way as to make the world beautiful. Price, 81.00 each.

The Science of Spirit Return.

The New Movement.

The Best and Grandest.

Write us today and let us tell you all about it. It will cost you but a two cent stamp. The movement has already two beautiful Sanitorium.

PLEASE

Let us tell you about the NEW MOVEMENT.

If you are busy getting ready to go to camp-meeting write anyhow to

DR. G. E. WATKINS,

66 Highland ave., Newtonville, Mass.

LAKE BRADY CAMP.

The Work is Going Forward Very Successfully.

This July 12, is the second Sunday at the new Lake Brady camp. The day opened mist-encumbered, obscuring the sun's rays, and continued so through the day, with occasional showers. This necessarily prevented many from venturing the trip from surrounding towns to attend the meetings; however, this was unnoticeable for the large tent was well packed with a most intelligent audience.

The writer never having heard Mrs. Anna L. Gillespie, the speaker of the day, was most thankful for the treat, as was every listener to her two lectures here to-day. Mrs. Gillespie has a bright, poetical mind, beautiful in language pictures, most pathetic, a good understanding in human nature, well versed in the knowledge of Spiritualism, charming personality, and is withal a magnetic speaker, holding her audience from start to finish.

She so endeared herself during her two weeks' stay that all were loth to have her go; however, she assured us that sometime during the winter months she would be with us again, if not certainly next season. Speaking of messages, I will say that I have never heard what seemed more like spirit talk. They were given as though the departed were at her side vying with each other to make themselves known to their friends in the audience. Some messages were so beautifully sent that it brought the tears to our eyes, while now and then others so humorous as to make us laugh through our tears. Not one but was recognized with many as we meet at these places cannot be conducted properly to the fullest sucthe more the better. I could not but to these souls, entire strangers to this new knowledge to them, bewildered some to hear from their loved ones on the other side. Why, one message to these people will do more advertising in their community than all the talks, these tests, and the opportunity should not be lost. At these meetings there should be some one making it known and taking subscriptions for The Progressive Thinker, the best medium of its kind to lead these anxious souls along, on and up. I have not known of any one doing this here as yet, sorry to say. But this will, I hope, be attended to from now. All, everyone should read, read, get knowledge, when you can get such a paper as The Progressive Thinkone dollar a year. This one paper if taken regularly and read properly keeps anyone in the front rank. No excuse these good times.

books and papers. The road has now been opened to these hungry souls after

A word about the ladies of the camp It has often been said and with truth, that "without women in the churches there would be no church." Just so right here, there would be no Lake Brady camp but for these indefatigable workers. They donate their money, give their time and labor freely, and then extend to every stranger a hearty welcome, and make you feel that true Spiritualism is more than mere words: May the kind spirits on the other side be with these ladies in their noble work for the good of mankind.

The treasurer, Mr. Keck, suggested to kindly mention to all who had made promises last fall, they might come forward now and redeem themselves. The society having done its share in purchasing the grounds free of all debts and on a solid footing, but now needs the then promised cash to go on with the necessary improvements. Will all kindly come forward and be one with the society in the furtherance of its good work?

Notwithstanding the two past opening Sundays have been rainy, the cashler, Miss Merrill, states the gate receipts are considerably in excess over last year for the same days.

The Lake Brady Spiritualists Association is on the right road towards suc-H. L. TOBIEN. Cleveland, Ohio.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa. We again beg to announce the fact that Mt. Pleasant Park camp-meeting will begin August 2, and close Aug. 30 It is pleasing to know that the interest in improvements on the camp is on the increase, and that its sphere of influence is ever broadening thus convincing even the casual passer-by of its great possibilities. Some of the best speakers and medi ums have been engaged for the season.

and a spiritual feast is the anticipation of thousands.
The Dlamond Jo line of steamers grants a rate of one transportation fare for the round trip from all points between St. Louis and St. Paul, The scenery along the river line is most enchanting, and may truly be, termed fleeting glimpses of nature's unspoiled magnificence. The Western Passenger Association has granted a rate of a fare and a third 30, 31 and August 1, and thereafter on Tuesday and Friday during the contincance of the meeting, good to return for three days after the close. A certifi-cate must be taken with each ticket purchased. And where parties travel over more than one road the tickets should be bought to the junction point and from there another one should be purchased, taking a certificate with each ticket. These rates extend from all points in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri.

Mt. Pleasant Park Camp has been the solace and comfort of thousands whose souls were yearning for spiritual food. It has been the message-hearer of countless numbers from the world of inyisibles. Join us, friends, and let us make it the radiating center of the West. For further particulars address the secretary,

MOLLIE B. ANDERSON. Clarksville, Mo.

Wonewoo Camp-meeting.

To the Editor:-Will you kindly grant me space in your valuable paper in which to tell your readers something of the Wonewoo camp-meeting to be held at Wonewoc, Wis., from August 13 to 31 inclusive. All arrangements are now complete for this meeting which bids fair to be the best ever held on these grounds. The talent procured is of the highest class, and embodies all phases, from philosophical to phenomenal. Some of the very best speakers and test mediums in the country will be here, and a rare treat is in store for all. The camp-grounds are most picturesque, and are particularly well suited meetings of this character. Situated as they are on a table-land nearly two hundred feet above the level of the town, and overlooking a most beautiful valley, they have an atmosphere all their own. Here the camper is free from the annoyances so often found in camp grounds which are differently sitnated. An abundance of shade is provided by the numerous pine and oak trees, and a well 150 feet deep supplies an abundance of pure, sparkling cold water, which is equal to any found anywhere,

Being on the main line of the Northwestern Railroad, there are numerous daily trains, affording fine facilities for reaching the camp which is not more than two blocks from the denot.

The programs are ready, and in them will be found full particulars of the camp, as well as the names of the fol lowing well known workers—Georgia Gladys Cooley, Rev. T. Grafton Owen, Mrs. Catherine McFarlin, Mrs. Edna Ford-Pierce and Will J. Erwood. Aside from these there will be in attendance several well known phenomenal mediums, among them Mrs. N. M. Hardy, of Minneapolis, who will present the various phases of phenomenal work. J. S. Maxwell, the well known president of the Minnesota State Association, will be present and take an active part in making the camp a success. Other prominent Minnesota workers who will be present are Mrs. J. P. Whitwell, Mrs. Asa Talcott, Mrs. John Sauer and several more of the leading workers of the northwest. From the above it will be seen that nowhere is there a finer array of talent. Come and hear them. Write

MISS GERTRUDE SPOONER. Secretary W. W. C. A. Wonewoc, Wis.

PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE.

[Obituaries to the extent of ten lines only will be inserted free. All in excess of ten lines will be charged at the rate of fifteen cents per line. About seven words constitute one line]

Passed to spirit life, at St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Bessie Harris Chalfont, forthanks. I must say that lectures on Spiritualism to a mixed audience such font had endeared herself to a wide circle of friends and relatives by reason of her beauty, great accomplishments and cess and worth without these messages, pleasant disposition. The funeral services were conducted at the residence notice the joy and pleasure that came of S. Grant Harris, by Rev. M. D. Shutter, of Minneapolis, with singing by Prof. and Mrs. Paul Zumbach, and the interment at Oakland cemetery.

> Passed to her spirit home, from her residence in Linden, Ind., Mrs. Minnie Thomas, wife of Wm. C. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas had been confined to her bed for eleven weeks of cancer of the stomach. She was 63 years old. Some thirty years ago she was developed as a fine trance and healing medium, and held seances regularly for a number of years, but of late years she had to abandon them on account of ill health. Funeral services—were held at her home, on July 15, and her body was laid away in the beautiful I. O. O. F. cemetery at Darlington, Ind.

WM. C. THOMAS.

Mrs. Lena Strong, of Summerland Cal., passed to the higher life on the morning of July 4, with hemorrhage. The deceased was 70 years old and for merly a resident of Boston, Mass. She was a firm believer in the communion of spirits, a subscriber of The Progressive Thinker, from which she derived great comfort. She leaves a sister and nieces in Boston to mourn her depart-ure. BISHOP A. BEALS.

Passed to spirit life, at Summerland, Cal., July 2, 1903, Miss Lora Leona, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper, aged 28 years, 6 months and 20 days. Miss Cooper had been an invalid for some time, but able most of the time to keep about, attend to her studies as a medical student, and take life with all its frictional mixture, optimistically hopeful and cheerful, having attained to an exalted department in the spiritual or divine wisdom school of philosophy. She was well educated, a proficient teacher and a practically useful and enjoyable factor in the Order of Rebeka, that important complement to the I. O. O. E., a branch of which is located in Marshal, Iowa, where she resided some time. Her earth birth-place was Strawberry Point, Clayton, county, Iowa. The parents were with her when the transition took place. The burial exercises were held July 3. The Rebekas of this city, Santa Barbara, having in charge the matter, brief services were rendered at the house by the writer, and the order officiated at the grave, for which the friends extend sincere thanks.

M. E. TAYLOR. Santa Barbara, Cal.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Nature." By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual rostrum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spirtualism. The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents. "Just How to Wake the Solar Plex-us." By Elizabeth Towne. Valuable for health. Price 25 cents.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail." By Chas.
B. Newcomb. Excellent in spiritual suggestiveness. Cloth, $1.50. For sale at this office

"Death Defeated; or the Psychic Se-

DYSPEPSIA. INDIGESTION

We Can Positively Cure Any Case of Stemach Trouble Kot Caused by Cancer. De Hot Take Our Word. TEST IT YOURSELF.

dyspepsia.or stom-ach trouble in any form? If you do why not let us cure you? We do not incan file.p you by giving you a Soda Compound Tablet or some of the oth-compound Tablet or some of the other of some of the other or some of stomach trouble in all its forms and stages; but they would not be facts or proof to you—only words of thanks and praise. The only abacher or of is in the treatment these or some of the other or some of the or some of the other or some o they would not be facts or proof to you-only words of thanks and praise. The only absolute proof is in the treatment itself. And believing that a practical test would be more convincing to sufferers than all the testinonials we could print and absolutely prove its great merits, we will send anyone desiring it a full two weeks' trial treatment absolutely free.

TREATMENT

If you have stomach trouble and have failed to get relief, write us at once and learn by practical test what we can do for you. Address Dr. Peebles Institute of Health, Ltd., 23 Main Street, Battle Creek, Mich.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS.

It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice be given us, so that inquirers may not be mislead. We want new notices of all meetings being held here in public bails at the present

Church of the Spirit Communion. Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 8 p. m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt at 8 p. m. Messages by H. F. Coates and others. Plenty of good music. The Spiritual Research meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue. Good music and singing. All are invited to attend.

The Spiritualistic Church of the Students of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday evenings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schumacher, pastor.

Church of the Spiritual Forces holds

service at Thurman Club Room, corner of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 3 p. m. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Isa Cleveland. During July the Englewood Spiritual Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West

Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and messages at 8 p. m. sharp. A Spiritualist Temple has been opened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belmont avenue. Services held every Sunday and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Tests and music at every ser-

Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday venings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue. The First Hyde Park Occult Society nolds regular meetings every Sunday at i Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, between Monroe and Kimbark avenues The best talent available will be secured to give interest at every meeting. To spread the truth is the object of this society. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 E 55th street, where all communications should be addressed,

Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock. Desplaines river. Lectures by Mr. Schaeffer at 2 p. m. Questions angood mediums. Come and enjoy a day

Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, where truth-seekers and investigators, as well as Spiritualists can enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening. First-class speakers. Tests and messages by carefully selected mediums. Excellent music. Mrs. Mary Dixon and her daughter Cora, the "Child Wonder." always in attendance to give readings between the meetings. Also free demonstrations by C. A. Beverly, M. D.,

SPECIAL NOTICE. If you have got rheumatism or kid ney trouble, I can cure you or no pay. For full particulars, send your name and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure catarrh and rupture without the use of medicines.

THE BIBLE AS REGARDED BY JOHN E. REMSBURG.

in this book there are Eleven Chapters on the Authenticity of the Bible; Thirteen on the Credibility of the Bible; Ten on the Morality of the Bible, with an Appendix of Unanswerable Arguments Against the Divine Origin and in favor of the Human Origin of the Bible. Twenty-six pages of index, enabling the reader to refer in an instant to any authority quoted or argument used by the author The tiles of the chapters in detail are,

Sacred Books of the World, The Christian Bible, Formation of the Canon, Different Versions of the Bible, Authorship and Dates, The Pentateuch, The Prophets, The Hagioegrapha, The Four Gospels; Acts, Catholic Epistles and Revelation; Pauline Epistles, Textual Errors, Two Cosmogonies of Genesis, The Patriarchal Age, The Jewish Kings. Inspired Numbers, When Did Jehosa phat Die? Harmony of the Gospels, Paul and the Apostles, The Bible and History, The Bible and Science, Prophecies, Miracles, The Bible God, The Bible Not a Moral Guide, Lying, Cheating, Stealing, Murder, War, Human Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Slavery, Polygamy, Adultery, Obscen-ity, Intemperance, Vagrancy, Ignorance, injustice to Women, Unkindness to Children, Cruelty to Animals, Tyranny,

Intolerance, Conclusion, Appendix. The book makes some five hundred pages, and is printed handsomely on heavy paper, with wide margins. Price

To the Members of the National Developing Circle, No Matter of How Long Standing!—There is a special message for you; something to make the heart glad! Write. Address, enclosing two stamps: Mrs. Dr. J. A. Bliss, 8435 Wood land Ave., Kansas City, Mo. 718

"The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism. A Menace to American Civilization. By Prof. W. M. Lockwood, lecturer upon physical, physiological and psy chic science. Demonstrator of the molecular or spiritual hypothesis of nafor the round trip on the certificate cret of How to Keep Young." By J. M. | ture: Scholarly, masterly, trenchant. blan, Tichots to be purchased on July Peebles, M. D., M. A., Ph. D. Price 31. Price 25 cents. For sale at this office.

HYMOTISM

VALUABLE WORKS ON SUG-GESTION.

HYPNOTISM AND SUGGESTION, WHEN RIGHTLY APPLIED BE COME POTENT AGENTS FOR Mental and Moral Culture.

Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Culture. By John Duncan Quackenbos, Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, Mamber of the New York Academy of Sciences, Fellow of the New Hampshire Medical Society, Menber of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Bear in mind, please, that this book treats of Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Cul-ture. It should be in every family. Price. $1.25. A Complete System.

Hypnotism, a Complete System of Method, Application and Use, including all that is known in the art and practice of mesmerism and mental healing, prepared for the self-instruction of beginners, as well as for the use of advanced students and practitioners. By L. W. D. Laurence. A good work for anyone to read. Price $1. Paper, 50 cents.

The Field of Hypnotism. Hypnotism, by Albert Moli. The author says: "Various recent researches in the field of hypnotism have rendered it necessary to remodel in part the earlier edition of the work. I have brought the history of hypnotism down to the present, and have throughout, I trust, presented the subject in its present state. In accordance with a wish which has been expressed by many, I have especially developed a chapter on the medical aspects of Hypnotism. This is a work of over 400 pages, and is certainly very valuable. Price $1.50. Hypnotism-Its Uses and Dangers. Hypnotism, How It Is Done; Its Uses and Dangers. By James R. Cocke, M. D. Dr. Cocke has hypnotized altogether about one thousand, three hundred and fifty people. The greater part of these were Americans, some negroes, quite a number of French, a few Germans, and a few of the Northern races, such as Danes, Russians, etc. It has been his purpose to illustrate the differences in the hypnotic state as they occur in the various nationalities, and in that respect the work is very valuable. Price $1.50. Its History and Present Development. Hypnotism-Its History and Present Development. By Fredrik Bjornstrom,

M. D., Head Physician of the Stock holm Hospital. This being a Swedish production, it will fit into your library very nicely, though you have all the other works on Hypnotism. Price 75 cents.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion.

Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Suggestion Applied in Therapeutics and Education. By Alvan C. Halphide M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in Hahnemann Medical College. Illustrated. This work treats of the Antecedents of Hypnotism; the Development of Hyp-notism; the Methyds of Hypnotizing; the Phenomena of Hypnosis; the The-ory, of Spiggstion; Spiggstion in the Waking State; Treatment in Natural State: Clinical Hypnosisms Suggestion Sleep; Clinical Hypnotism; Suggestion and Education; Danger in the use of Suggestion; Criminal Suggestion. Really, the work is very valuable. Price $1.00

Rationale of Mesmerism.

The Rationale of Mesmerism. By A. P. Sinnett. This work, too, is worthy of great praise as it contains the results Second Church of the Soul, every Sun-day in the woods, at Madison street and treats of Old and New Theories; the Mesmeric Force; the Real Literature of Mesmerism; Side Lights on Mesmeric swered and communications given by Phenomena; Curative Mesmerism; Anesthetic Effects and Rigidity; the Nawith us in the woods. Meetings will be ture of Sensitiveness; Clairvoyance continued during July and August.

Suggestion—A Gold Mine.

Now we present a work of mar velous utility, one that should be carefully studied. It contains a mine of valuable information. Its title is as follows: Treatment by Hypnotism and Suggestion: or Psycho Therapeutics. By C. Lloyd Tuckey, M. D. In this work, the new method, "Treatment by Suggestion," is exhaustively considered. Every branch of the subject is discussed in a masterly manner. Every healer should have it. Every physician will find it invaluable. Every one who wishes to become proficient in hypno-tism will find it a valuable auxiliary in the work. Price $3.00.

Mental' Suggestion From the French.

Mental Suggestion. By Doctor J. Ochorowicz, Professor of Psychology and Nature Philosophy in the University of Lemberg. Translated from the French. The ablest work, probably, ever published in France on the abovo subject. It is certainly very valuable, and no one can read it without having his knowledge vastly increased. The author says: "Hypnotism is henceforth part and parcel of Science, and Suggestion, which produces most of its wonders, no lønger surprises us." Price $2.

An Experimental Study.

An Experimental Study in the Domain of Hypnotism. By Dr. R. von Kraft-Ebing, Professor of Psychiatry and Nervous Diseases in the Royal University of Graz, Austria. Translated from the German. This book gives the best German thought on Hyp. notism. It will prove valuable in every library. Price $1.25.

If you wish to have a complete library on Hypnotism and kindred sub-jects, purchase the twelve books above mentioned. Indeed a single one of the volumes above named will prove of great value to every reflective mind.

"Mediumslip and Its Development, and How to Mesmerize to Assist Development." By W. H. Bach. Especially. useful to learfiers who seek to know and utilize the laws of mediumship and development, and avoid errors. Price, cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. For sale at this office. In "Right Living." aBy Susan H. Wixon. The author shows a wise practicality in her method of teaching the principle of ethics. She illustrates her subject with many brief narratives and anecdotes, which render the book more interesting and more easily comprehended. It is especially adapted for use in Children's Lyceum. In the hands of mothers and teachers it may be made very useful. Young and old will be benefited by it. Cloth $1.. For sale at this office.

"Religious and Theological Works of Thomas Paine," contains his celebrated "Age of Reason," and a number of letters and discourses on religious and theological subjects. Cloth binding, 430 pages. Price $1., For sale at this office. "Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental Suggestion." By Newton N. Riddell. A most excellent work for all trical term or phrase. Price 25 cents. who have the care or training of child "Healing, Causes and Effects." By dren. Price 53 cents. W.P. Phelon, M.D. Price 50 cents. dren. Price 65 cents, ingle Meals 50 cents. Open July 1 to Sept. 18.

The Maplewood Hotel

Lily Dale, N, Y.

Rates $10 per Week and Upwards. Amer ican Plan. Special Attention to Ladies and Children

LEO MANGER, Proprietor. Also Proprietor the Grand Restaurant. 18 W. Eagle Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

ASTRO-SPIRIT READING, 10c., Mailed. Prof. J. Hilling, Sees, Gen. Del., Boston, Mass.

MBS. ANNA FRANCIS. & ABERDEEN ST. CHI-engo. a naturally sifted medium, will give read-ings by mall. Frice 50 conts. Three questions 25c. HOROSCOPES

Scientifically accurate and reliable. Captain G.W. Walrond, 1510 Glenarm St., Denver, Col., Est 1890 MRS. G. PARTRIDGE, Well-know Readings personally or by mati, $1. Squestions 25. Accurate work. 2751 W. Lake st., Chicago.

READINGS BY MAIL. Send 25c silver and 2c stamp and leading question and receive reading by return mail. MISS A. M. COLE, Fremont, Mich.

FOR SALE. The cottage belonging to Mr. & Mrs. M. Buchanan (the independent letter writers) at Clinton, Ia. camp ground. For particulars address M. Buchanan, 679 7th ave., North, Minneapolls, Minn.

YOUR FORTUNE

Typewritten and sent FREE if you will send you birth-date and three stamps for mailing expenses I have astonished thousands with my wonderfull correct reading of their life, past and future correctly reveal your future love aftairs, business dependent slate and paper writing sittings daily. Spirit Portrait Work a Specialty. Readings by mail. Send four cents stamps for booklet, 654 W. Adams, Chicago. Telephone Ashland 1912.

Bangs Sisters, PHENOMENAL MEDIUMS.

THE SPEAKING DIAL. A Wonderful Spiritual Invention

Gives names, dates and circumstances. Speaks in various languages; answers mental questions; convincing the most skeptical. Has come to prove immortality and spirit communion. Develops all phases of mediumship. Magnetized by ownerful spirit band. Read what the late Hon. I. Donnelly said of the Speaking Dial. Dials now, $1.50. Send for testimontals. Enclose stamp for reply. P. J. DEMPSEY Inventor, 2817. Columbus ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Annie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind sister, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earl-iest mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with $i, and I will try and get reply by independent writing or whis-pers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Mil-ford Mass.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS,
Bend two dollars, your photograph or lock of hair, and receive three finished pictures from some loved ones that are wating to reach you from the summerland. from the summerland,
Mr. and Mrs. A. Normann.—The three photographs were handed me to-day, and I recognize every face upon them, and I can truthfully say these pictures are genuine, and will recommend you to the world; for such evidence is what proves life eternal, Mrs. Dr. Gregor McGregor.

283 Chicago ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Address with stamp enclosed and receive proof MRs. A. NORMANN, 2721, Elliott av. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

DR. J. S. LOUCKS

Is the oldest and most successful Spiritual Physician now in practice. His cures are THE MOST MARVELOUS of this age. His examinations are correctly made, and free to all who send him name, age, sex and lock of hair, and six cents in stamps. He doesn't sak for any leading symptom. A clairvoyant doesn't need any, He positively cures weak men. Address J. S. LOUCKS, M. D.,

DON'T READ THIS

Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trisl will convince you. Nervous exhaustion and lost vigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundreds can testify. Send name, age, sex, complexion and ill cents in stamps, and receive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth dollars to you. Address,

FRANCES L. LOUCKS, Lock Box 1214, Stoneham, Mass.

THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH, Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuler. Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume might well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar interesting style in which French writers excel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the needs of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable idea in Spiritualism," and regards as proved "the fact of communication between superhumans and the inhabitants of earth." Price, $1.50.

A: P. A. MANUAL A complete expose of the principles and objects of the American Protective Association. A book for all patriotic American citizens. Price, 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

"Origin of Life, or Where Man Comes "The Evolution of the Spirit from Matter Through Organic cesses, or How the Spirit Body Grows." By Michael Faraday. Prince 10 cents.

For sale at this office. 'Spirit Echoes." By Mattle E. Hull. This pretty volume contains fifty-seven of the author's latest and choicest poems. Neatly bound in cloth, and with portrait of the author. Price 75 cents. "Voltaire's homances." Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible en-emy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined, with the skill of a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

"The Commandments Analyzed." By W. H. Bach. The Commandments are not only analyzed, but contrasted with other Bible passages, showing great incongruities. Price 25 cents
"Beyond the Vail." A Sequel to

"Rending the Vail." Being a compila-tion, with notes and explanations, of narrations and illustrations of spirit experiences, spoken, written and made by full-form materializations; setting up a scientific and personal verification of "What We Shall Be," and a code of ethics, requisite to the most speedy realization of the highest and purest felicity attainable in the future life. A very remarkable book. Large, octavo, 500 pages. Price, $1.75.

"Never-Ending Life Assured by Science." By Daniel Kent Tenney. strong and conclusive argument from the basis of science. For sale at this office. Price 6 cents.

"The Light of Egypt." Volumes 1 and 2. An occult library in itself, a text-book of esoteric knowledge as taught by Adepts of Hermetic Philosophy. Price $2 per volume: For sale at this office. "Love—Sex—Immortality." By Dr. W. P. Phelon. For sale at this office.

Write 25 cents.

"The Life licexiete." By Raich Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful little books, finely adapted for holiday presents. The titles are, "Character Bullities in "France or "Character or "Character

AN ASTONISHING OFFER

Send three two-cent stamps, lock of Healer and hair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free br spirit power.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker, San Jose, Cali

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE.

My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good.

MARY JANE PEARCE. Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21,

Mrs. Dobson-Barker-Kind Friend:-As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treat ment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer. Respectfully, MINA M. YANG.

Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902.

Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902. Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker-Dear Sister:—I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am happy to say I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I war sick twenty-five years I still remain your friend,

AMANDA R. GREEN.

You (an Have Metted Poblic LENS Spectacles. For fitteen years I have been fitting and spirit assistance. Sending spectacles by mail to people that live in all parts of this mundane world. If you want the best spectacles write for fillustrated Circular, showing styles of frames and prices, also how you can by ME be fitted at Your Own Home. For 5 cents to pay postage. Will send sample of magnetized compound, sufficient for 4 oz of eye water. Cures sore eyes, strengthens weak eyes. If requested will send photo of Spirit Yarma.

45 Evanston Ave., Chicago, 111.

MOLLIE FANCHER, The Brooklyn Enigma.

An authentic statement of facts in the life of Mary J. Fancher, the psychological marvel of the nineteenth century. Unimpeachable testinony of many witnesses. By Abram H. Dailey. With illustrations. Price, cloth, $1.50. THE GOSPEL OF NATURE Is a most excellent work by Dr. M.L. Sherman, assisted by Prof. W. F. Lyon. Heretofore it has been sold for $2, but the price now has been reduced to $1. It is a book that will interest and instruct. It contains 280 pages, and is full of suggestive thoughts. Dr. Sherman was a medium of rare qualities, and his work is a reflection from the celestial spheres.

The Development of the Spirit After Transition. By the late M. Faraday. The origin of religions, and their influence upon the material development of the human race. Transcribed at the request of a band of ancient philosophers. Price, 10 cents.

A GREAT BOOK.

THE HULL-JAMIESON DEBATE. One of Unflagging Interest Throughout -It Should Be in the Hands of Every Spiritualist and Freethinker.

This book, containing nearly 500 closely printed pages, should have a million circulation. Price $1. It is chockful of rapid-firing ideas, and is the ablest debate, on both sides, ever published. Send for it.

Bible and Church Degrade Woman. By Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Comprises three essays on "The Effect of Woman Suffrage on Questiens of Morals and Religion." Price, 10c.

Why I Am a Vegetarian. An address delivered before the Chicago Vege-tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price,

Healing, Gauses and Effects. By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents.

Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion. By Sarah E. Titcomb. wirh an introduction by Charles Morris, author of "The Aryan Race." Price, cloth, $1.00.

Father Tom and the Pone. Or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably by Sir Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous abcount of a rolicksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom, an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two imperial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Three Remarkable Books "The Divine Pedigree of Man."
"The Law of Psychic Phonomena."

"A Scientific Demonstration of the Fu-ture Life." thre Life."

The Divine Pedigree of Man, or the Testimony of Evolution and Psychology to the Fatherhood of God. By Thompson Jay Hudson, LL. D. A most remarkable work. demonstrating the existence of the Soul and Future Life. It is scientific throughout. Price $1.50. Dr. Hudson's work on "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" is also valuable. Price, $1.50. His "Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life" should be read by all. Price $1.50.

STANDING UP FOR JESUS, Or what the Editor of the Freethinker's Magazine thinks of him. Price, 4 cents; twenty-five copies for 50 cents.

LIFE OF THOMAS PAINE. By the Editor of the National, with Preface and Notes by Peter Eckler: Illustrated with views of the old Palne Homestend and Palne Monument, at New Rochelle; also portraite of Thomas Cilo Rickman, Joel Barlow, Mary Wolstonecraft, Madama Roland, Condorce, Brissot, and the most prominent of Palne's friends in Europe and America. Cloth, 75 cents.

Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful little books, finely adapted for holiday presents. The titles are, "Character Building by Thought Power," "Every Living Creature," and "The Greatest Thing ever known." The matter is of high-toned spiritual character and of helpful purpose. Price 35 cents each, "Handy Electrical Dictionary." A practical handbook of reference, containing definitions of every used electrical term or phrase. Price 25 cents, "Healing, Causes and Effects." By J. M. Peobles and J. O. Barrett, E. H. Bailey, Musical Editor. Now edition. Culled from a wide field of literature with the most critical care, free from all theological bias, throughing the principles and virtues of the spiritual philosophy, set to the most chrical term or phrase. Price 25 cents, "Healing, Causes and Effects." By J. W. P. Pielon, M. D. Price 50 cents, with piano, organ or moloicon accompaniment, adapted to all cases and the social excepts. The control of the contro

6. WALTER LYNN

Gifted Psychic. HEALTH RESTORED By Common Sense Methods

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Ailments;

OBSESSION CURED.

For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name, sex and own bandwriting. READINGS AND BUSINESS AD

VICE $1.00 and two stamps

Address 855 Grove St., Oakland, Ca 1

Write for Circular

JORY'S TONIC TABLETS

A true flore Tonic and Bleef Builder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Debility and the various forms of nervous and Chysical depression, Mclaucholia, Nervous Dystepsia, Torpid Liver, Weak Kidneys, Chronic Backache, poor circulation, poor appetite, poor alcep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the tone of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. St doses, 76; 100 doses $1.22 Postage prepaid.

Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC

For Constipation, Headache, Etc.

Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Healthy Action of the Bowels. 38 tablets, 25c. Postage prepaid.

Prepared only by

H. M. JORY,

Manufacturing Chemist.

Manufacturing Chemist 6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor All, Philosophy of This work contains a graphia Spiritual Intercourse. account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Phelps, Stratford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the test of many years. Cloth, $1,20; postage 10a.

MAHOMET His Birth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Glbson. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberal Classics. It is conceeded to be historically correct, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents.

By Thomas Paine. Being an investigation of True and Fabulous Theology. A new and com plete edition, from new plates and new type 186 pages, post 8vo. Paper 250; cloth, 50c.

THE AGE OF REASON.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I .-- The Pentateuch. Comments on Genesis, Exodus, Leviticis, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Devereux Riake, Rev. Phobe Hanaford, Clara Bewick Colby, Ellen Battelle Dettrick, Mrs. Louisa Southworth, Ursula N. Gestefeld, and Francis E Barr.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE.--PART II. Judges, Kings, Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation. The comments are keen, bright, spley, full of wit, the work of radical thinkers who are not ignorant of the higher criticism. There is not a doil page in either of these books, but each is a galaxy of the bright minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 50 cents.

Womanly ITS ATTAINMENT OF FORM AND FEATURES Beauty The cultivation of personal beauty, based on Hygiene and

Health Culture, by twenty physicians and specialists, and edited by Albert Turner. A valuable book for women and therefore for the whole world. Price in elegant cloth binding, $1.00. For sale at this office. -THE-Christs of the Past and Present

By MOSES HULL, A comparison of the Christ work or Mediumship of Biblical Messiahs and the conditions they required, with similar manifestations in Modern Spiritualism. This is a good work to study for arguments with which to meet the very common orthodox question, "Why do you always require conditions for your spiritual manifestations?" Cloth bound, Scients; paper 25 cents. For sale at this office.

25 cents. For sale at this office. Were You Born Under a Star?

A complete exposition of the science of Astrology, adapted from the Four Books of Ptolemy, the Astronomer on the art of Reading the Stars, with many illustrations. By A. ALPHEUS, Secretary of the Astrological Society of England and America. Handsomely bound in cloth, gift top, with beautiful designs stamped on side and back, Price $1.00. For sale at this office.

By Dr. Paul Carus. Ver thoughtful and in-teresting. Price, 25 cents. Selections from the contents of that ancient book, its commentaries, teachings, poetry, and legends. Also brief sketches of the men who made and commented upon it. By H. Polang. 850 pp. Price, cloth, $1

The Religion of Science.

VEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Leurs by the Swami Vivekaganda, on Raja Yoga; or Conquering the Internal Nature, and other subjects; also, Fatanjali's Yoga Aphorisms, with commentaries and a copious glossary of Sanskrit terms. Revised and enlarged, 12mo., Cloth. $1.50. Raja Yoga is an ancient system of Indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and perfection. Swami Vivekananda became a familiar fagure in several American cities during the three years following the Parliament of Religious at Chicago; he was cordially received in America, where the breadth and depth of his teachings were soon recognized. His teachings are universal in their application. The book is cheap stell. 50. For sale at this office.

FROM INDIA

TO THE PLANET MARS. A MOST REMARKABLE WORK.

Fascinating, Interesting and Instructive.

By Th. Flournoy, Professor of Psy-chology in the University of Geneva-"This is an account of the experiments with the 'Geneva Medium,' Helene Smith. In her trances she lives the dual existence of an Indian princess and of an inhabitant of the planet Mars. Professor Flournoy and his fel-low scientists have for more than five years experimented with these astounding physical phenomena."
This is a work of thrilling interest. It has excited great attention in this country and in Europe. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

KAREZZA Ethics of Marriage. By Alice B. Stockham, M. plea for a better birthright for children, and nims to lead individuals to seek a higher development of themselves through most sacred relations. It is pure in tone and aim, and should be widely circulated. Price, cloth, it.

One number of The Progressive Thinker

CHICAGO, ILL., AUGUST I. 1903.

The Progressive Thinker is the great Educator of the Present Age... Induce your neighbor to subscribe for it.

SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

VOL. 28,

A STUDY OF SOUL.

is often worth one dollar ... It is sent one

The Soul Machinery and its Motive Let Brotherly and Sisterly Love Con Power.

As there is a mechanism of the body

there is one of the soul, but to be under stood from the standpoint of causes The soul's mechanism may be re garded as an effect, so far as being a creation of nature's impulses; but abso lutely considered, they are simply these impulses epitomized—thus causal in their relation to the body. That "thoughts are things" has already become an established and generally accepted truism. But the "things" referred to must be understood as vibrations-forces or influences imperceptible to the physical senses. If cognized at all, it is through a like agency that generates or impels them. As soul or mind vibrations they can only be sensed by the soul or mind prima-rily, though extending themselves from the solar plexus (the conducting link between soul and body) throughout the nervous system to the brain for interpretation. Practice or very active soulvibration makes this appear as one impulse, and we term it intuition or discernment-also termed the "sixth

But whether a sixth sense or the first soul sense manifested externally is indifferent. It exists, and as such a factor it may be analyzed. First, there is the operator-the projector of the thought, feeling, emotion or impulse. Next, the recipient-one the active, the other the passive agent.

What effect the operator's imparting has on the recipient is generally better known to the latter than the former, because people largely send forth thoughts without further consideration and never know whether they have reached their destination or have been returned-though to know the latter one must be as intuitive or sensitive to such vibrations as the one to whom the thought or impulse has been directed But it also frequently happens that the one addressed is also oblivious to any thought-wave centered on him. In that case it is soul or mental force wastedlost in the psychic atmosphere surrounding mortals, but from which other sensitives call inspiration for comment, meditation or dissertation. Nothing is ever destroyed that has a causal or physical source—good or evil. The latter may be neutralized by good, but until then it exists as an entity—a power or influence. To what degree an evil thought or impulse may affect a sensitive depends on his power of resisting evil or the natural affinity such an impulsion has for his own composition of thoughts, impulses and emotions.

f-which implies that he ates them-his soul's mechanism is of the order to invite samples of the oil or fuel it is employing in its operations. If the reverse, it naturally resists the force with the same degree that it intrudes, and it often recoils on the progenitor. Now, if the latter be sensitive, he first feels a disturbance, is then puzzled; and, if in the habit of analyzing these things or momentarily wondering what is interfering with other meditation engaged in, the culprit thought re-enters. Not as a good creation, but as a vibration not in accord with the nucleus of his life's cause (the soul). If this reminder of it re-animates his ill-feling it simply grows within him and may become bane to his physical existence—such thoughts or felings vitiating the blood and finally surrenders him to the tender mercies of some disease. If, on the contrary, he feels repentant, the evil in it is neutralized and it allies itself to the soul as a harmonious vibration. Thus two vicious persons, combat ting each other with poisonous thoughtvibrations, need no interference. They will lay each other by disease or pain in due time. Mutual well-wishing is thus a very commendable and healthful

If he sends forth such thoughts him-

Besides intuition or discernment, there are other soul-faculties or senses forging their way to the exterior consciousness-these being psychometry or clairsentience, clairvoyance and clairaudience. Now, if intuition be classed as a sixth sense, we may enumerate the last-named as the seventh. eighth and ninth. But we are more inolined to believe that the physical senses are but material expressions of the same existing as soul senses, and that man is developing or unfolding into a higher state—the so-called "spiritual gifts" being the first manifestations thereof.

In that case the soul's mechanism may be built on the same principle that the body's is, and its machinery may be operated in like manner, but manufactured from substances not materialthough not immaterial in the sense of nothingness.

Power, force, motion is something or given impetus by something; and as the soul gives forth impetus it must be something substantial to generate or create it.

Not all the substances in nature are cognizable to the physical senses; nor are yet all known. So far we have no instrument subtle enough to record feeling or human emotion. But like that thought-reader, the wireless tele graph, and clairvoyant, the X-ray, some thing may be invented to reveal a man's momentary feelings—a sort of mechan ical psychometrist or automatic sensi

Sensation, emotion and thought are credited by material science to the of man's will-power has not yet been lo cated. As it does not operate in the form of a sense, perhaps even psychic science will find it difficult to locate unless it will be a combined action of the soul senses and thus existing as a law or universal influence or power, as law exists in space; or it be the soul itself or the principle in the same which gives motion to the rest of the machinery-thus its motive power or life's cause. As such, of course, it is beyond finite comprehension—beyond the pale of our soul's vibrations-consequently not within reach of our imita-

BROTHERLY LOVE.

either. Jesus and Jamieson resemble each other. I do not mind confessing in this public manner, that I love the ladies, purely, spiritually—so far, I may be eligible to membership in the Spir itual brotherhood. "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor." Because we differ about the nature of man and the value of evidence is no reason for personal enmity. When I am trying to help Spiritualists to clearer views of truth and they are doing their best to open my materialistic eyes to see the glory of their spiritual philosophy, brotherly occupied a more prominent place," and for fear it may have escaped some reader's notice published it again! "It's lickin' good, Sal; buy you some." I leave all such matters to the editor, who does his part when he provider space in a free press. But I am deeply affected by such a manifestation of Da vid-Jonathan love. With seeming elation Brother Sweringen tells us that, according to Hudson, Jamieson is ignor I could bear this affliction with the fortitude of a stoic were it not for the calamity which follows, for Hudson asserts "it would be a hopeless task to these two brethren have attempted the hopeless task! I did think no Spiritualist would consign me unpityingly to an orthodox hell! Why is my condition Brother Sweringen answers: Because I am a skeptic and Hudson is a skeptic and we two skeptics differ. "Think of it!" says our as tute critic Only the week before The Progressive Thinker had an able editorial enum erating twenty important points of difference among "openly acknowledged" Spiritualists; but our brother has found two skeptics who differ on one point—"think of it!" I did not before suppose that either skeptics or Spiritualists were expected to think alike. Brother Francis speaks of the wonder fully divergent views on the part of Spiritualists everywhere." He sems to be glad of it. So am I. Does not the fact that this people differ with each other, and freely express their diverse views, prove their love of mental free-Hence, they should never receive criticism as a personal affront.

Brother Sweringen again quotes Hudson: "I admit the alleged phenomena study from a new standpoint. But as but deny the alleged cause." Spiritual- Sar'gis announces himself as without won't work the sum, but it was amid a There is a great deal of the "alleged' phenomena which they themselves pronounce counterfeit. Spiritualists are better informed than Hudson. They are weeding out a mass of "alleged phenomena," to their credit be it spoken. The careful Spiritualist seeks first to be

When Hudson says, concerning the phenomena, "I shall attempt to explain their origin on other grounds than the supposition that they are caused by the spirits of the dead." that is my position exactly; so Brother Sweringen was mistaken in regard to my views. I leny no clearly proved phenomena. When Mr. Crookes, the eminent scienist and Spiritualist, whose methods of experiment and argument are almost faultless, is accused by his opponents of being "entirely ignorant," nothing whatever," I need not expect to Spiritualists are justly proud has in ment of phenomena ever offered. He has well said, "The supremacy of accuracv must be absolute." Here is where many Spiritualists fail. Said he. "The first requisite is to be sure of the facts." No observations are of much use to the student of science unless they are truthful and made under test conditions: and here." said the Professor. "I find the great mass of Spiritualistic evi-

These letters pave the way for what will have to say upon "Immortal Life"

www.marrows.ma tion by any mechanism constructed on terfeiting or imitating. Like will, it is a soul quality; and crowned by a third in its originality-namely; reason, consciousness, intelligence per se-the termed, that is known to itself.

has qualities or principles that are beyond analysis or understanding; and if only soul can understand soul, perhaps it will require considerable more perfection in these principles to inherit the Inspiration may lend a cue to one. Happiness may lend a cue to what we erm love. But we have no analogue by which to measure the human will. If we could lift ourselves "by our bootstraps" or overcome the law of gravity as we do in dreams, we may be able to formulate some idea of it. But if it constitutes our cause of being, we will have to sift to the bottom of self to find -probably an impossibility. Meanwhile let us be content to regard it as the steam or motive power which con-

Lyman C. Howe says: "I like Jamie-son." You simply can't help it! And the ladies, bless 'em, they can't help it love should continue. Brother Sweringen highly commends the letter of Mr. Howe which highly commends his, and says "it should have attempt to enlighten him"-and yet "hopeless?"

sure that the phenomena really occur.

Prof. Crookes, of whose "Researches" dence to fail." So do I.

and "Spirit Communications." W. F. JAMIESON.

Cincinnati, Ohio.

. material basis. Love is another infinite force or priniple not within the possibility of coun--still more remote from reproducing power or force, or whatever it may be

Besides a mechanism, then, the soul light wanted.

trols the machinery of the human soul. ARTHUR F. MILTON.

And whether you climb up the mountain or go down the hill to the valley, whether you journey to the end of the world or merely walk round your house. none but yourself shall you meet on the highway of fate.-Maeterlinck. Sorrow is a kind of rust of soul which every new idea contributes in its passage to scour away.-Johnson

Charleston, S. C.

Religion and Science.

At first in fear, then anger, then surprise, We gazed on Science when, from out the night Of superstition, shot the daring light. Of her bold torch across the darkened skies.

Some hateful fiend, men deemed her, in disguise, A foe to all things dearest in our sight, This austere figure, clothed in coldest white, The whole face shrouded save the brow and eyes.

To sneer and taunt, to brutal blow and thrust, She made no answer, passing on her way, A purpose in her eye that seemed divine, And now she drops her mantle in the dust, And, standing radiant in the breaking day— Behold, Religion, beautiful, divine.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

COSMIC VISITORS.

Charles Dawbarn, on the Revelations by High Spirits.

What might be called "Revelations by Sar'gis," as recently given to the readers of The Progressive Thinker, are very interesting, almost fascinating. He opens a new field in "spirit return," and his two articles are not merely suggestive but demand most careful consideration by the student.

There is nothing in the facts open to criticism, for with Sar'gis playing the part of reporter we may accept the facts as veridical. He abstains from offering either opinions or inferences of his own, so that the careful reader must perforce take the tales told by these cosmic visitors and determine their value for himself without help from

This is somewhat dangerous, for we are told of pigeon-holes stuffed with in-terviews with these visitors, enough for Sar'gis announces himself as without resolution and energy to asking for more before we commence our study of their lesson to mortals. We are first introduced to a medium who plays the part of an automatic writer, almost to perfection, wielding his pen in the editorial den of a news paper whenever free from its constant interruptions. Sar'gis, and apparently another of the same ilk, are his interested companions, and the records are carefully saved. The medium, we are told has "passed on," and a part of these records, now nine years old, are now seeing the light for the first time. The recent extraordinary claim by Prof. Wallace that our little planet is not only the center of the universe, but the only speck gifted with human intelligence, seems to have disturbed the serenity of Sar'gis, and inspired him with sufficient "resolution and in dustry' to "edit and compile" so much of the recorus as are contained in these two articles. With so much by way of preface, we now turn to our study of the narrative itself. We have first a band of cosmic visitors from some distant planet of a fartale of their travels. Their report is they have failed to find human intelligence, similar to their own, on any planet or sun in mighty Cosmos, until they cursed-by humanity, and these so far apart that they can hardly ever be neighborly.

We would like to stop here for a moment and point out to those visitors that the space they traversed may not be so empty of intelligence as they imagined. Being themselves human, the capacity of their senses was strictly limited, like our own. The tremendous gap between their sight and hearing, if like ours, would permit innumerable worlds and universes of intelligent peonles, though totally invisible and intan gible to them as they traveled. This natural fact they seem, like Wallace, to ignore, and perhaps, also like him, may have fancied their own speck of a planet the center of creation, and the darling of divinity. And as spirits must also have their own limitations this separation by vibration leaves life within life as a certainty throughout cosmos. So our cosmic visitors, if they would make their chase a success, must learn to look within or without their own limitations. The writer is, at this point, sadly impressed by his own ignorance: How these Cosmists can automatically write the American language, and even, as we shall note further on, play the interpreter for "High Spirit" is for him an unexplained puzzle. As the medium's mind is not supposed to be centered in his fingers there does not seem chance for telepathy.

Thought may be creative but to assume its power to create a knowledge of a foreign language is going further than the most ardent telepathist would sanction. The writer feels that he has here the support of the whole Psychical Society, Brothers Podmore and Hodgson included, when he declares his un belief in any such power of thought. So he simply, does not know how it is done, but must wait until Sar'gis once again delves into his pigeon-holes and produces further records.

any real value to mortals they must those within.—Plato.

play the part of teachers to our ignorance. We wait for our first lesson, and probably should have continued waiting, when we are startled with the advent of another visitor. He is reported as filling the first arrivals with awe at his power, and "terrorizing" them so that the procedings had to stop until they had become acclimated to his pres-

The writer is quite willing to experience a thrill of this awe, but somehow it won't come. This guest of our little planet may be a cosmist now, and worthy of the name of "High Spirit," but, unlike the other visitors he is of our own kith and kin—nothing the mat-ter with him except that he has grown too big for earth garments. He was a common mortal once, just like Sar'gis and the writer, but that was in the remote past when almanacs, were unknown, and the era was labeled. H. C.

The first visitors became interpreters for him, though, once again, how they learned his language and translated it into ours by thought power, reterviews with these visitors, enough for a volume. Of course, such reports if pigeon-hole filled with records can expublished, might necessitate their plain. He lived here so long ago, he compile and edit them," it is useless our had alas the same problems, for they killed him as an inventor of laborsaving machines which were tionable to the "unions" of that era How they solved those problems perhaps the pigeon-holes can tell.

Like the tales of Atlantis, his brief statements cannot be contradicted, for the world of his day lies, he says, at the present bottom of the ocean. We learn that our poor planet had an attack of chills and fever which shook her babes out of their cradle, and is liable to another attack pretty soon. We are obliged to pass this by, for we can neither prove nor disprove it. We are waiting anxiously for some solid fact we can enroll in our next encyclopedia. That fact comes at last so that Sar'gis and the writer find themselves in a class which is learning all about how tides are manufactured by Mother Nature.

We are taught that it has all been mistake to suppose tides are occasioned by the attraction of sun, moon or any other influence. Attraction is itself a nursery tale, and has no existence. We are taught that it is the motion of the off sun, making their appearance and planet on its own axis that upheaves using the medium's hand to tell the the waters. We presume the fact that sun and moon appear to pull and push wofully condensed, but we learn that just as the tides roll in and out is a mere coincidence. Still we have here a statement of fact which when sented to the present jury results in a verdict in favor of our old teachings. We must decline to accept High Spirit's statement as veridical. Still as we have not got to the bottom of that pigeon-hole it won't do to be too positive. The writer confesses he is longing for further information-"re incar nation"—that this awesome cosmist must know all about from his personal experience; yet, alas! until we are sure he, is right about the tides we hesitate to ask him. Cosmic truth may be unsuited to our little intellects, and it may be very wise to keep it pigeon

This "High Spirit" claims to be sent as a reporter for his sphere. He goes round gathering facts with which make up his celestial "copy." innocently supposed that High Spirits would have developed powers superior to the book and pencil of a reporter. We had imagined them as divinely endowed with a clairvoyance that could see and an intellect that would know of matters and things beneath them. Is it not just possible that we herein get a glimpse of the mighty power of suggestion over even High Spirits, and that the editor medium was thus himself shaping this whole communication out of his own dreams and experience? Whatever may be our opinion of High Spirit and his interpreters, this experi ence is undoubtedly spirit communication of the first class, automatic and without price. What more could mortals desire? We are compelled to reply that we still seek something proveable and useful from the invisible, other than the grand facts of human immortality and spirit return. And we seek in vain. CHARLES HAWBARN. San Leandro: Cal.

To have a respect for ourselves guides our morals, and to have a deference for others governs our manners.-

Grant me to become beautiful in the inner man, and that whatever outward roduces further records. inner man, and that whatever outward these cosmic visitors are to be of things I may have may be at peace with pions of continued life.

whence it came.

question—has the rap been authenticated? I believe that electro-magnet ism and the forces of nature residing in all matter and passing from the circle rial substance that gives off the "rap are sufficient to account for the "rap" and our overcredulous desires

The philosophy of Job is the philosophy of thousands of the world's fear-less thinkers to day: Man is of few days; he cometh forth as the flower and is cut down; he withereth as the grass at noon-day; he hath no pre-emi nence (as to eternal life) above the beast; he dieth; he decays; he continu-

Brother Jamieson and I doubtless ost confident spiritist for th most confident spiritist for the boon of eternal life; but that does not assure it to us. The knowledge that has come to the psychic sensitives (?) who read The Progressive Thinker has not come to us; we have sat in circles and the "angel bands" have never deigned to give us a scintilla of proof that any spirit had returned to us, nor, so far as we can know to any other human being. It is it necessary then, in order to satiscan know, to any other human being.
Of course, we are too charitable, too polite to question the honesty or the sincerity of those who think they have. And now all this is but preliminary to asking of the sensitives (mediums) who read The Progressive Thinker, to share their evidence with us, and in all fairness you can do it, if your philosophy is anything more than a belief; and this is the means that I propose by which I may know the truth, and by which you may-if it is a possible thing to dospirits is possible. edge obtained from any incarnate and convince a doubting Thoomas? you can, I shall have no right to remain an agnostic. I am sure I long to be a believer. N. B. FREELAND.

And her eyes grew wide with fear Mamma, hurry, there's the whistle; I'll be late if I lie here. See that wheel above the window!

Mamma, I'm so tired of working; And I'm such a little girl. Can't I have a dolly, mamma Like the one I saw one day?

See, how fast the spools are spinning Faster, faster! Oh, my head! No, I couldn't help it; no, sir! Please, I didn't break the thread!

Stop the wheels and let me go! Mamma, quick, the wheels will kill me Stop it! Oh. it hurts me so! Then the Angel paused no longer.

aminer. True statesmanship is the art of changing a nation from what it is to SKEPTICISM VS.

A Doubting Thomas Asks for Evidence.

LIGHT WANTED.

To the Editor:—I have been a reader of The Progressive Thinker, a tireless investigator, and a student of the oc-cult for many years. I esteem the philosophy of Spiritualism as the most beautiful dream that has ever inspired the hopes or quickened the longings of mankind. I have been a thoughtful reader of the authors who are the highest, most gifted exponents and cham-

I am still a psycho-gnostic. I still cling to the hopes of life in a spirit realm so exquisitely expressed by that peerless agnostic, Robert G. Ingersoll: "In the night of death hope sees a star, and listening love hears the rustle of a wing." But "hope and faith" are not evidence, and while the world would doubtless be benefited and mystified by cherishing this "brilliant illusion" of a future life in spirit spheres, yet belief does not change a truth, and I cannot escape the calmly considered conclusion that analogy of reasoning seems to lead me to-that as every material entity disorganizes and is again absorbed into the universe or realm of matter whence it came, so, too, the life or spirit entity, at death, is absorbed into the universal spirit or realm of forces

Mr. Hudson Tuttle whom I profound y reverence and admire, in one of his 'Answers" in The Progressive Thinker n answer to a question of mine, said that the question had been the concern of sages and philosophers of all the ages; and as it seemed to me he fairly admitted that if we only considered the reason of the matter, the grave ended our individuality; but said he, one "authenticated rap" annulled the cold philosophizing of these fearless and honest thinkers; but, ah, there is the of sitters into the table or other mate-"proof" of immortal life and not wholly calm imaginings lead to willing delu-give me proof that communication with Let any medium who has no personal knowledge of me-and without knowling, send me a spirit message and the name of the spirit that sent it, that I knew in earth life. Surely the "conditions" are not unreasonable; there are those in spirit life—if there be such a thing—that have known me; they should be willing to send me a message. Let it come through The Progressive Thinker, and it will be a convincing test to all its readers. Don't over-whelm the paper with a "flood" of them. Just one will convince me. Will youcan you, make a longing soul happy Anadarko, Okla.

"LIKE A TRAMPLED FLOWER."

Like a trampled flower she lay there, In the cabin on the hill; Jennie's sick," said Tom, her brother, To the foreman of the mill.

Tossing in her restless fever. On a blanket soiled and torn, Lay this work-worn child of sorrow, Eight sad years since she was born Then her feverish fancy wakened.

What a big one! See it whirl!

Are there mills in heaven, too, mamma? Won't God let me run and play?

'Oh, my finger's caught! It's bleeding!

Fanned her with his cooling breath, Pouched her tiny heart and stopped it, Soothed her with the peace of death Herbert N. Casson in the Chicago Ex-what it ought to be.-W. R. Alger.

Skepticism Not Always Intelligent. Brother W. F. Jamieson has again contributed a very readable and interesting article for The Progressive Thinker, and with the permission of the editor of this truly liberal paper, I propose to stay right with him-that is, as close as I can get to him on the original subject, viz., "Intelligent Skepticism."

Brother Jamieson in his replies has so scattered his mental forces upon various foreign subjects, i. e., "faith," knowledge," "Christianity," "Bible," "Infallible pope," "Elijah's automobile ride," etc., with the hope that in a great profusion of shot he may hit something omewhere, that it is a little difficult to maintain to him controversially, the proper juxtaposition.

Brother Jamieson now answers no, to my "meteoric shower" question, then challenges me to show its logical connection with my next question in regard to the materialization I witnessed. He says, "Millions witnessed the meteoric shower, an astronomical fact about which there is no doubt." Let me turn skeptic for a while on this point.

How does Brother Jamieson know that millions witnessed that meteoric shower? How many of those millions can he name who personally witnessed it? Did Brother Jamieson himself witness it? Does he know personally, any person who did? How does he know that it is an astronomical fact and that there is no doubt about it? Do those showers occur so frequently that it is impossible for the great masses of people of the present to doubt their occurrence? How does Brother Jamieson know that those who claimed to have witnessed that meteoric shower were not deluded, deceived, humbugged, hypnotized or in some way mistaken What does he know of his own personal knowledge of that meteoric shower? Is ne not, in accepting it as true, relying wholly upon "hearsay" evidence, or upon history? Is "hearsay" evidence or history, scientific or profane, always rue and reliable? Is he presuming to ely on history and "hearsay" evidence n regard to meteoric showers, and at he same time reject history and "hearsay" evidence concerning materializa-

Have not men, women and children, "millions" of them in all ages of the world claimed to have seen apparitions, materializations, etc.? Is not history, both sacred and profane, ancient and modern, replete with instances of this character? The only difference beyearn and long as earnestly as the tween the two spectacles is that in the case of the meteoric shower, the "millions," if Brother Jamieson is correct in

Is it necessary then, in order to satisat one and the same time should witness one, even though he himself should be left out of the number of spectators? Brother Jamieson says: "Thousands of Spiritualists reject materialization A solemn spell lights up the crimson as unscientific unproved" therefore, prove that materialization is unscientific, unproved? Millions of people rejected the possibility of two persons talking with each other a thousand miles apart, as "unscientific and unproved," lit is it? Thousands of people of the present day have never talked through phone but does this fact render the tele phone "unscientific and unproved" History and science inform us of the occurrence of meteoric showers. History and science inform us of the occurrence of materializations, apparitions and other Spiritualistic phenomena, to deny which, according to a scientific writer who was not a Spiritualist (Hudson), does not entitle one to be called a skeptic, but ignorant.

Brother Jamieson says: "It is not safe to be always sure"; and yet, he is so sure about meteoric showers, that he says, "there is no doubt about them." How does he know there is no doub about them? May he not be one of "Some of the worst mistaken people I ever knew were those who were certain that they could not be mistaken," to quote his own words?

Brother Jamieson, it seems, cannot resist the temptation to talk or write about the distinction between Christianity and Spiritualism, repeating the fact as if it was not abundantly proven to be a fact, that Modern Spiritualism is based upon present day revelations, while Christianity is founded exclusive ly upon supposed facts of ancient his While this is not exactly the subject under discussion, it may not be amiss to notice it briefly.

Spiritualism is not only based upon present day revelations, but upon all ancient revelations which are supported and made reasonable by present day revelations. The materialization of Moses and Elias in ancient times, does not seem very improbable to one who has witnessed a materialization in mod-

"No man's testimony," says Brother

Jamieson, "even when he knows he is not deliberately falsifying, is equal to direct revelation." And yet Brother Jamieson has sufficient confidence in the testimony of men concerning mete oric showers to accept it as true with out a doubt. Blessed be Brother Jamieson who has not seen a meteoric show er, and yet believes they have occurred "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed." I claim this blessing most emphatically in various and numerous instances. Indeed, I look upon Paul's definition of "faith" as be ing one also of "knowledge." "Faith," says Paul, "is the evidence of things unseen." If we acquire knowledge from "evidence," then I know that I have been in communication with deceased friends, although unseen for the "evidence" of their presence as impressed upon my mind and reason

NO. 714.

through the sense of hearing alone, is simply indisputable. Brother Jamieson further observes; "Any Spiritualist who says he cannot be mistaken about the cause of the phe nomena of Spiritualism makes a pope of himself." And I say that any Spirit-ualist who will acknowledge that he is mistaken before he is satisfied thereof, or before it is proven that he is, makes an ass of himself. Most of my questions in former articles, Brother Jamieson has ignored, Fearing he may have overlooked them, will reproduce them I. Have not the phenomena of Spiritualism been established by evidence, proof and testimony on the part of both scientific and unscientific men and women? 2. Is it necessary that every man, woman and child, or "millions" of spectators at one time should witness a materialization as a common, everyday fact, in order to prove the truth of mate-rialization? 3. Cannot evidence or testimony odcasionally take the place of proof? 4. Can we dispense absolutely with estimony and evidence in the investigation of Spiritualism even though we have here and there absolute proof of its truth? 5. Had it not been for Faith, Belief and Hope, would the proof of the phenomena of Spiritualism been established to-day? That that truth is established is acknowledged by non-Spiritualists, those who, like Hudson, accept the phenomena, but seek to explain them on other grounds than the Spiritualistic. 6. Does the need ever and anon of testimony and evidence in Spiritualism prove that there is no proof in it for its

7. Does the fact that Spiritualists indulge in Faith and Hope when those graces scaffold for the time, their investigations, prove that they have not entered the realm of knowledge of the truth of Spiritualism?

8. Will not "moss-covered facts" answer a most glorious purpose in the developing of present-day demonstra-tions? Will not "moss covered facts," together with the facts which have accumulated since the days of the Fox sisters, support both "living witnesses" and "dead authorities"? May it not be just barely possible that Brother Jamieson is not absolutely infallible in his skepticism upon the subject of Spiritualism? Is he not posing as the pope in the propaganda of skepticism? He should be very careful of his skeptical attitude. Many things are known to be true to-day that a few years ago were ridiculed as impossible The consideration of this fact has rendered the public non-committal upon, if, indeed, it has not induced it to entertain the present current proposition to hold ication with the people of the planet Mars. It is remarkable how the hearty laugh of ridicule of the infallible skeptic is sometimes suddenly and humiliatingly metamorphosed into a most insignificant, sickly smile, bearing a striking resemblance to an

H. V. SWERINGEN. tion point. Fort Wayne, Ind.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET. Lo! down the west the sun sinks calmly As the hushed upon a mother's loving breast:

and visions of the past jostling pass me bv— The familiar faces, the dear ones I loved best. Twas thus I saw the selfsame scene long ago.

Before my life was weighted with cares and woe. The same sun rose and faded in the But now, alas, how changed the heart's unrest-

Ah, the mystery shall we sometime know? Oh, who can solve the riddle of life's hopes and fears? The hold we have on Memory's longspent years. The fond friendships grown cold apart That leave the seared leaves of autumn in the heart Forgetful of our loving smiles and tears. Oh, years that pass that come and go, They seem so fair, we loved them so We range the past and see love's gladsome smile Come back again as though it would be-

Our sorrow and the old-time love bestow. Sometime a change will come alike to When the fond sweet look, the loving

Will flash from God's immortal skies. And sunrise glint the Morn where life's sunset dies, Where unkind words our hearts no longer pall.

BISHOP A. BEALS. Summerland, Cal.

THE LAUGHTER OF THE CROWD. Let him not hope to do great deeds Who fears that other men may laugh

The bravery he shows who leads A host to battle is not half As great as is his fearlessness Who dares, though others laugh, to

Who has the strength and will to press Ahead, well knowing that the high, Shrill laughter of the scoffer rings;

Who, hearing them, builds on or sings, Men laughed at Alexander ere The world had come beneath his sway; They laughed at Byron, who could dard

To still keep on his chosen way. Since man first sought success crowd Has laughed to see the anxious try, And only they have won who, proud

And brave, have made the laughten Who suffers men to laugh him down Must not expect a victor's crown.

-S. E. Kiser.

OGGULT MYSTERIES.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS IN THE OCCULT REGIONS.

Incidents That Require the Attention of the Thoughtful, DREAMS RESULT IN ACTION.

Dr. J. M. Buckley on Nightmare and Somnambulism.

plest form is seen when persons talk in I to relate it to you." their sleep. They are plainly asleep and dreaming, yet the connection, ordinarily broken between the physical ordinary asying that a dream was involved. the mind, is retained or resumed in ordered the monk said that he had whole or in part. It is very common dreamed that the prior had killed his for children to talk more or less in their -the monk's-mother, and that the sleep; also many persons who do not outraged spirit of the murdered woman usually do so are liable to mutter if had appeared to him demanding satisthey have overeaten or are feverish or faction for the horrid deed, "I was are otherwise ill. Many who do not transported with such fury," the monk fancy that they have ever exhibited the is quoted as having said, "that—so it germs of somnambulism groan, cry out, whisper, move the hand or foot or head, man, into your apartment, and finding halply in connection with ideas pass. ing through the mind. From these in- knife. Thereupon I woke in a fright, somnambulism reaches frightful intentempt, and then thanked God it was recently perpetrated murders, have mitted, exhibiting at the same time even killed their own children, have the cuts that had been intended for carried furniture out of houses, wound him. Whereupon the monk is said to up clocks, ignited conflagrations. A carbave fallen at his superior's feet, weeppenter not long since arose in the night, went into his shop and began to file and know what act of penance he should saw, but the noise of the operation undertake. The prior answered that awoke him. The extraordinary feats of he could not impose punishment for an somnambulists in ascending to the involuntary act, but he informed the roofs of houses, threading dangerous monk that in the future he would be places and doing many other things excused from performing the holy ofthey could not have done while awake, fices at night. have often been described and in many he added, "that the door of your cell cases made the subject of close investi- shall be bolted on the outside when gation. Formerly it was believed by you retire every evening and not many that if they were not awakened opened until we assemble to our family they would in process of time return to matins at break of day." their beds, and that there would not be any danger of serious accident happening to them. This has long proved false. Many have fallen out of win stances are given of essays and articles dows and been killed, and though some of various sorts that have been written have skirted the brink of danger safely during sleep, and one especially inter-the number of accidents to sleeping esting story is told of a French semi-persons is great. "Essays have been written by somnambulists. A young lady, troubled tinued to write, though a card was held and anxious about a prize for which she between his eyes and the paper on was to compete, involving the writing of an essay, arose from her bed in sleep and wrote a paper upon a subject on page he had written and he continued which she had not intended to write at work, apparently revising what had when awake, and this essay secured for already been set down, making correcher the prize."

Philosophy of Nightmare.

Concerning "nightmare" the same writer says "Nightmare is something so terrible that its very name attributes on "Somnambulistic Freaks" of two its origin to the devil. The meaning of young men, one of whom was named mare is an incubus, as of a spirit which Roberts and who settled in one of the torments persons in sleep. In night smaller towns in Michigan at the close mare the mind is conscious of an impos- of the civil war. The two friends sibility of motion, speech or respiration, across the chest and an awful vision of noticed about Roberts until the friend impending danger. • • In the city of suddenly discovered that he could car-Philadelphia a lad, having been excep- ry on a conversation with his chum tionally healthy, was attacked with after the chum had to all appearances nightmare when 14 years old. After a gone sound asleep for the night. The

Nobleman Robs Magpl's Nest.

the physical powers are in a state of intense activity in somnambulists. The case is related by Horstius of a young nobleman who lived in the citadel of Breslau and who used to steal out of his window during his sleep, muffled in a cloak, and by great physical exertion ascend the roof of a building, where one night he tore in pieces a magpie's nest, wrapped up the young birds in his cloak and then returned to bed. the following morning he related the experience as having occurred to him during a dream, and he could not be convinced that it had actually happened until the magples in his cloak were shown to him.

Monk Tries to Kill a Superior.

"The somnambulist," one authority says, "is a dreamer who is able to act his dreams. This we learn from those exceptional cases in which the somnam bulist in waking has remembered the details of his dream." In illustration the writer repeats a story told by Brillat-Savarin in the "Psychology of Taste." of the experiences of the prior of a Carthusian monastery.

The prior in question was M. Duha gel, and his story was as follows: "We had in the monastery a monk of melancholic temperament and somber character, who was known to be a somnam, bulist. He would sometimes in his fits go out of his cell and return into it directly, but at other times he would wander about, until it became sary to guide him back again. Medical advice was sought and various remedies administered, under which the par oxysms so much diminished in frequency that we at length ceased think about them.

"One night, not having retired to my bed at my usual hour, I was seated at my desk examining some papers, when the door of the apartment, never kept locked, opened, and I beheld the monk enter in a state of profound somnambulism. • • His eyes were open, but fixed. In one hand he held his cell lamp, in the other a long and sharpbladed knife. He then advanced to m bed, on reaching which he put down the lamp, and felt and patted it with his hand, to satisfy himself that he was right, and then plunged the kniffe, as if through my body, piercing even the mat which supplied with us the place of a mattress. Having done this he again took up his lamp and turned around to retrace his steps, when I observed that his countenance, which before was contracted and frowning, was lighted up with a peculiar expression of satisfaction at the imaginary blow he had struck. The light of the two lamps burning on my desk did not attract his Actice. Slowly and steadily he walked! back, carefully opening and shutting

"Somnambulism," Dr. J. M. Buckley agitated at the question and answered: writes in an article on "Dreams, Night-mare and Somnambulism," "in its sim-it would give me the deepest pain were gans and the images passing through untary and was a mere illusion. Thus plainly in connection with ideas pass you in bed there murdered you with a cipient manifestations of no importance horrified at having made such an atsity and almost inconceivable complications. only a dream, and that so great a crime had not been committed." The prior Somnambulists in this country have remarked that the act had been com-"And I give you notice."

Writing in Sleep.

Numerous well-authenticated innarian, who was discovered writing a sermon while sound asleep. He conbetween his eyes and the paper on which he was writing. A blank piece of paper was then substituted for the tions at the spot which corresponded exactly to places on the written page.

Recalls "Dr. Jekill and Mr. Hyde." Still another story is told by a writer of the civil war. The two friends found employment on a farm and dreadful sense of pressure roomed together. Nothing peculiar was attacks his father slept with him, room the two occupied was on the for the purpose of awakening him if ground floor and had only one window, there should be occasion. One night which opened on the lawn at the side the father was startled by the voice of of the house. One night, after the usthe boy crying in terrified tones, 'Pop! ual conversation between the chum Pop! I am afraid!' He felt the hand of who was awake and Roberts, who was his son nervously clutching his wrist. asleep, Roberts suddenly leaped from Then the boy fainted and died instant, his bed, made a dash for the window The post-mortem examination and was gone like a flash. The comshowed a clot of blood about the heart, panion followed, gave chase through caused by paralysis, due to fear. There is reason to believe that such instances | the river, but unable to find his friend, are numerous enough to make night- came back, thinking he had been mare worthy of serious medical investi- drowned. A searching party was organized, but before the party was sent out, Roberts was back in his room and in his bed asleep, none the worse for a Various writers give numerous inci- midnight swim. Night after night these dents showing that both the mental and midnight excursions were continued, the route taken varying with the impulse of the sleep-walker. During the day all memory of the experiences of the night before were obliterated from the young man's mind, but at night, after falling into his first sleen would recount the adventures of the previous night.

During the day this Michigan Jekyll and Hyde was conscientious in manner and in deed and quiet and conservative in speech; at night he was conscience less and his conversation recked with profanity. His friends, finding that he neither came to harm nor did injury to others, and finding 10 and 15-mile tramps over hill and dale somewhat fatiguing, let him go his own gait, but one evening as several of them were awaiting his return from one of his sleen walking expeditions, he suddenly dashed into the room, carrying a mus ket that was ordinarily kept in the barn. He pointed the weapon at his employer, saying at the same time, "Not a word, or I fire!" Quick as a flash the musket was lurched from his grasp and fortunately no harm was done to anybody, as the employer had been afraid that something of the sor might happen and had removed the charge from the weapon only a few hours before. The young man was sub sequently given medical treatment and sleep-walking habits.—Baltimore Sun. A PRAYER.

ultimately recovered entirely from his

Give me a faith that makes men crave More than the boon of endless bliss. The willingness to serve and save Their fellows in a world like this.

A faith that does not cry, and cry, "O God! be merciful to me!" But rather yearns to do and die That others may be strong and free

A faith that cannot all be crammed And shaped to fit dogmatic mould, That knows no fear of being damned, But shrinks from being hard and cold

That dreads far more than wrath to The sense of failure to do well, The cowardice that makes one dumb

In presence of a present hell.

That dreams far less of pearly gates And golden streets beyond the skies Than of the death of human hates, The downfall of all earthly lies.

want no upper seat above, Nor shining crown with stars im-pearled, But just to know my life and love Made this a little better world.
-Robert Whittaker.

IN DREAMLAND.

VICTIMS OF DREAM SLAYERS ARE

Cases of Record Which Apparently Justify Maloney's Defense-Somnambulists Not Convicted by Juries-Un-Not Held Responsible for Deeds.

Baltimore, Md .- The claim made by Frank Manoley that he shot and killed his wife while dreaming that he was being attacked by a burglar has brought forward persons who tell of many cases of record which justify the plausibility of his defense.
Isaac Lobe Strauss, Baltimore lawyer, says there are in legal books of references many instances in which the defense was established. "A case in point," Mr. Strauss said, "is that of Bernard Schmedmaizig, who awoke at midnight and imagined he saw a fearful spectre threatening him. He called out twice, "Who is that?" Receiving no answer and acting under the delusion that the spectre was advancing on him, he selzed a hatchet at the bedside and attacked it. When full consciousness returned he found that he had killed his wife. He was charged with murder, but was acquitted on the ground that he was not conscious of his actions at the time.

Killed His Child.

"Another case is that of Simon Frazer, who was tried in Scotland in 1878 for the murder of his child. It was proved that he lifted the child from bed and dashed its head against the wall, The defense was that the deed was done while he was in a state of som-nambulism. He dreamed that he had seen a wild beast jump into his bed and had attacked it. The court instructed the jury to find that he had killed his child while unconscious of his actions, by reason of his condition as a somnambulist, and that he was not responsible for the deed.

"There is a similar case of a day la borer who killed his wife with a wagon tire, the blow being struck immediately upon his being aroused suddenly from a profound slumber. The evidence showed that the accused man was seized, when waking, with a delusion that a woman in white had snatched his wife from his side and was carrying her away. His agony of mind was so great that his whole body was covered with perspiration. It was determined that there was no doubt of the defendant's irresponsibility."

Mrs. Katherine A. Taylor, superintendent of the Nurses' Training School of the Hospital of the University of Maryland, recalled the following instance of somnambulism:

Slew Her Mother.

"The daughter in a Boston family, while in a sleep-walking state, shot and killed her mother, with whom she was sleeping. As I recall it, the name of the family was Ward. I think they lived on Tremont street, and the case took place about fifteen years ago. The daughter was acquitted after a rigid trial, in which it was proved that the daughter's relations with her mother were of the tenderest nature."

While Mrs. Taylor was directress of nurses at the Medical and Chirurgical Hospital in Philadelphia she discovered a nurse whose night gowns were always torn and jagged rents near the feet. It was explained that since childhood the young woman had walked in her sleep. The other nurses pinned her in bed each night by fastening her gown to the mattress with safety pins. Her efforts to relase herself were sufficient to awaken her. The utmost efforts to overcome the habit proved fruitless, and Mrs. Taylor gave her a room-mate in my earthly house. The talk was rial universe, with its countless worlds as an additional guard.

Minister "Played Horse."

Dr. John S. Fulton, secretary of the State Board of Health, says: "I vividly recall an experience I had some years ago with a Methodist divine who occupled a room with me during a visit in Dorchester county. We both retired and my room-mate was soon asleep. During the night I was awakened by a sound and discovered that I was alone in bed. The divine was cantering about the room on his hands and knees for all the world like a circus horse. Thinking he was ill, I sprang out of bed and laid hands on him and plied him with questions. After a struggle lasting several minutes I succeeded in awakening him. Although the weather was cold, the divine was perspiring freely. He said he had dreamed he was surrounded by flames and was running around the room to find some place of escape.

Sam Appleby, a Baltimore editor. went with the crew of the Baltimore Athletic Club to Saratoga in 1896. He slept with Prof. Doyle, athletic structor of the club. As they went to bed Doyle sald, "Say, Sam, what would you do if a bear or a catamount should come through that window?"

"Crawl under the hed and let you get a hammerlock on him," was the reply. Prof. Doyle laughed and both dropped

Suddenly there was a commotion. Doyle leaped up in bed, planted his knees on Appleby's chest, got a vicelike grip on both arms and with his extraordinary strength, was on the verge of breaking the newspaper man's arms.
"John, John, wake up!" Appleby screamed. Doyle leaped from the bed to take a firm grip. Appleby disengaged one arm and struck Doyle. This awakened the latter. He said he had gone to sleep with the idea of a bear coming through the open window. He fancied he had remained awake to catch the bear if he came. Suddenly he saw the bear, as he thought, and pitched into him.—New York World.

A Perfect Regulator of the Stomach and Bowels is Vernal Saw Palmetto Berry Wine. It promptly relieves and permanently cures all weaknesses, irritations, inflammations, obstructions or diseases of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, liver and prostate gland. It will restore perfect health and vigor to any person afflicted with general debility or nervous debility. It cures constipation so that it stays cured by removing the cause of the difficulty. Only one small dose a day will cure any case, no matter how light or of how long standing. it cures by toning, strengthening and adding new life and vigor to the intestines, so that they move themselves healthfully and naturally. All such conditions as dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, chronic indigestion, constipation, Bright's disease, diabetes, inflammation of the kidneys, catarrh of the bladder, irritation or enlargement of the prostate gland, torpid liver, pain in the back, female weakness and female irregularities begin in clogged bowels. They are cured by Vernal: Saw Palmetto Berry Wine. Try it. A free sample bottle for the asking. Vernal Remedy Co., 166 Seneca Bldg., Buffalo,

For sale by all leading druggists.

"Healing, Causes and Effects." By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Price 50 cents.

An Interesting Chapter of Spiritual Experlence.

Born on the earth of illiterate parents, I grew it in the basement of a large tenement house; that is, I made conscious of Their Actions, They Are I learned many things, but little of speak to show you how to some it is to come here and know nothing.

I was carly faught that to steel was an accomplishment in which few excelled, and that schools, and like places, were only for those of wealth and afflu-ence. Bred and born in an atmosphere of crime it is not to be wondered at that I became one of the most venturesome men of the place. But all things will come to naught as you will see. One day while in my early manhood I made a slight miscalculation in a deal and was soon sentenced to imprisonment. Of those long, lonesome days I cannot talk; the first time I ever attended a meeting was while there; something said, appealed to my better nature and I thought seriously of leading a different life. By and by I was released, and my good desires soon faded away, as my old friends gathered round me.

To hasten—one day I was on the river, the boat capsized and I cast anchor on the spiritual shore. Now my real trouble began; first, I would not believe I was a going that man I went believe I was a spiritual man. I went to my old friends, they did not hear nor see me, although I shouted and stood against them. I felt sure they had lost their sight and hearing; but I did not become discouraged, but stayed right with them. At last after many days (years, it seemed to me), my friends discovered my earthly body, and not knowing what they were talking about, went with them to view the sorry sight. They recognized it by some thing, I know not what, and all of a sudden I discovered I was dead! dead! and yet as much alive as ever I was.

"Alas!" I cried, "how can such things be? Why did I not know something of this before?" My desire to be with my friends had left me, and I cried aloud in my loneliness. I had no idea of the stubbornness of the spiritual world, I could not understand the spiritual part of myself, as it were. My one desire, after I found out the truth in regard to my being dead to my friends, was to have some one to talk to me, and show me where I might make a home, as that seemed to me to be all I ought to do. And here as well as in earth life, if you wait long clough, and have the power watt long clough, and have the power within you to attract or draw to you, your desire, you will be successful.

So by and by, I cannot tell just how long—we have eternity here, not time—there came to me an elderly man and I felt he would be good to lean on, but I was missible to he only wented I should was mistaken, he only wanted I should work for him, and I refused. Work wasn't in my life just then. But after this little episode, I fell in with a party of friends and we went to a house where one said there was to be a meeting. We were fate, or so it seemed to me, and I am glad each day for that meeting, because I heard and saw some good things. First, I saw some spirit-ual people there that were tall, and clad in white raiment, and I heard them tell of the land beyond, or the place from whence they came. Surely in my heart must have been a great desire to go forward-to make something of myself. As I listened I discovered they were not talking to each other but to earth people. And again I was glad-I remem bered how barren my earth life seemed to me, and how much I would have enjoyed hearing such words while I was tell me more about his home and how to get to that land. They seemed to me to be of a supehave found they were only men and wotribulation and made their robes white, and spirits strong, by flery trials; at last the talk was ended, and I hastened to speak to the man that to me seemed to hold the future in his grasp. He only smiled, and said, "My good sir, are you willing to do as you are bidden, to learn of me, and sometime come to my home so far away?" I made haste to answer that his

"wishes would be my law could I but leave all things and go to the land be yond. "Not so," said he, "here for a time you must abide, and learn as much as you can, and when these people, mean ing the ones of earth, gather again will be with them and so shall you, and you may tell me of the helpful things you have done in the meantime." My desire was to follow him, but I also wanted to stay, and I am glad I obeyed him from the beginning. Time rolled along, at least for earthly people the many temptations I had, the hard looks and cross words that were given me were as nothing when compared to the new light, and love for all good things that was gradually filling heart; I tried to make people say kind things, to help some one, I would find safe places for blind spirits to stand on. until some of their friends could be found; I hunted for friends for many a lonely spirit; I organized a "lodge" where we talked over the things we would hear concerning the land beyond us, and how to live so that we might reach it. Truly though born in a base ment in the wicked city of London I am one of the children of the Father of Light, and am taught and cared for by His people. I amnot begin to tell you of the many things that happened during those years suffice it to say it is hard work to be good and do good living on the earth orifirst plane; continually surrounded by all kinds of spirits, except good ones. They—the spirits of light-tome at times, but more often they send their messages down by impression, and when a great strong spirit does come so close earth, and among us, quite a sensation is created as I workedchard, thever for a moment I think add Inllowmy aim to relax; I was determined to leave this place, and also to fit myself to decome work like I had seen dones! Knowing how muchexperiences that one spirit of light had done for me, I made up my mind to do the same for others, and to this end I worked. Some people say, and it is a truth, it is hard to be good and do good mong people that have no desire to be other than evil. To live a good, pure, unselfish life in a hut far in the mountains, or in a convent, is no credit to any one. The credit belongs to the man or woman that mingles with the world and through all its temptations, and sorrows, lives a life of purity, and godliness; and so it is here, to live a life above the desires of most of the earthbound spirits, and yet help them, is a credit to us.

But I have digressed. At last one day my friend, and teacher, as I love to call him, called me to his side and said. You have proven yourself worthy to leave this plane, and you may have your choice, you may go to the next plane and work among the spiritual people there, or you may remain here, this office. Price $1.50.

I decided to go to the second plane, being assured I would find plenty of work to do. Of my journey I will only mention the swiftness with which I arrived there, and how much more beau-tiful than I ever dreamed of was the second plane; yet people are not con-tented there, the desire is great to advance, but nothing is done in haste in value to hy inner, or hidden self; I the land of light and wisdom; so we lived—I was also aware that some day I must die. Of my earthly life I must can, and work more gealously to hasten can, and work more zealously to hasten our departure from the "tent town." My stay on this plane was long, and in some ways wearisome, but I made many friends and had the satisfaction of greeting some of those I had left on the earth, or first plane.

No doubt to you of earth, the words earth and second plane are strange, but to us they are as familiar as the different cities and states on the earth plan-et are to you. You think the earth is a beautiful world; so it is, but "eye hath not seen nor hath it entered into the heart of man" the beauties of the spiritual world; and I can only tell of the beauties to what we call the third plane, as here at this writing I am. And did I not know by experience how much more beautiful this place is than the others, I fain would remain throughout eternity. I am busy and happy, and when I think of my earth life and where I am now, by my own desire to advance, I am ever grateful to the Power that has all people in His care, and does guide and direct His own. I want this little sketch to show you that our world is a world of progress and that we make our own destiny, by deciding for good or evil. There are many pitfalls for the new-born spirit that has no teaching of the spiritual world, and it is hard to know just which way to go, and whom to trust, when you awaken from your last sleep and find yourself surrounded by an army of people, trying to persuade you to go here or there. Not all have that experience, some may be as I was-alone: but each has some thing to contend with if they are not fitted to immediately leave the earth or first plane. To many people of earth this will sound strange, and I do not wonder, but because you have not yet arrived here and seen for yourself, is no reason my words are void. often grow almost discouraged after having tried so faithfully to portray some of our work and manner of living to earth, to find we are making but little headway in the battle for our wel beloved cause. But as we are assured that all things are good when we work for truth, and justice, we grow more patient, and strive to acquire more strength of the spirit, to better handle the perverse ones of earth. In the faith, that some day I shall see the ones who may read these lines, I bid you go forward and faint not. MADAME ROBERTS.

The Dalles, Oregon.

Self-Evident Truths.

Nothing could be more self-evident than that time and space had no beginning, and could not possibly have any ending.

And, from all that we can see, it is clear that all things are under immutable, unchangeable, never-varying law. Law that always was and always will be, exactly the same; yesterday, to-day and forever; law that has no variableness or shadow of turning. God, Nature and Law are one; a trin-ty that cannot be separated; a trinity that constitutes a unity. The finite can comprehend but little of the Infinite. It is better that it is so. Man will always have something to learn. We clearly perceive that through His immutable laws, God governs the matevery interesting, and I was only anx-ious for it to end, that I might speak to racy that there is not a second's variastrong white spirit and have him | tion in a thousand years. And we are satisfied He controls the moral and spir itual universe with the same accuracy Imperfect man makes laws and rerior race of people, but since then I peals them. Under man's government many transgress and are not punished men who had come up through great Some are not found out, some are pardoned, some punished who are not guilty.

Not so under the administration of the infinite ruler. Every soul gets just what he earns; just exactly what he de-

There is no sin except in transgressing the law; and there is no possible escape from the result of a transgression: "It is easier for heaven and earth to pass than for one tittle of the law to fail."

God's laws are immutable. They never change. They are never amended, suspended, set aside, repealed or overruled. There is no higher court that can decree them unconstitutional. The supreme court is always in session. The verdicts are perfect and exact justice. The penalty or result for each transgression is fixed; and the only possible escape is through ceasing to transgress. Under the administration of God's government, there is no such thing as failure to convict when guilty; no such thing as commutation or setting aside the verdict; in a word, no pardon. God did not make a law to punish man's physical body if he get it into the fire or under the water, and then be persuaded to annul the effect or result. God did not create a hell, either in this world or any other, to punish the lying, thieving, hating, revengeful miscreats who wrong their fellow beings and then let them go scot free if they do a little formal begging. Hell, whether in this world or the world to come is simply the suffering, wretchedness and misery that comes as a result of sin or transgression of law and the only escape from it is through ceasing to sin, and becoming good and honest and virtuous and true. what is right, which is being righteous. Every thought, act and deed is under law. And we must simply get in har mony with the law or suffer the result of a discord.

God is not partial or vacillating. No respecter of persons or things. could not punish one and pardon another who is equally guilty.

Every effect is the result of some cause; Every result is the effect of God's laws Duluth, Minn. JOHN T. DOW.

"Invisible Helpers." By C. W. Lead heater, the noted Theosophist lectures and writer. Very interesting. Price 55 cents. For sale at this office.
"The Religion of the Future.". By S Weil. This is a work of far more than ordinary power and value, by a bold untrammeled thinker. Spiritualists who love deep, clear thought, reveren for truth alone, will be pleased with it and well repaid by its perusal. For sale at this office. Price, lcoth $1; pa per, 50 cents.

"The Spiritual Significance, or, Death as an Event in Life." By Lilian Whiting. One of Miss Whiting's most sug gestive, intensely interesting, spiritual books. It is laden with rich, thought ful spirituality. For sale at this office

"Heliocentric Astrology or Espentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris from 1830 to 1910." By Yarmo Vedra, For sale at

and help the people of earth and do WEDANTA PHILOSOPHY.

Lectures by the Swami Vivelexanda, on Raja Yoga; or Conquering the Internal Netwa, and cher subjects; also, Fataniali's Yoga Aphorisma, with commonstarters and a copions glossary of Sanskrit terms, Revised and enlarged, Ismo. Oloth, $1.00. Raja Yoga is an analest system of Indian Philosophy, and one of the four chief methods that the Vedanta Philosophy offers to obtain freedom and porfection. Swami Vivelantic Sanskrit and Sanskrit Raja Sanskrit and Sanskrit Sanskrit and Sanskrit Sansk Malless Watch Charm.

PHICES:—Badge Pin, $1.60: Lapel Button, $1.50: Sunflower Brooch, $1.00: Maltese Charm, $5.00: Maltese Pendant, $5.00: This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWERL BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. As the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

BODY AND SOUL. BY J. CLEGG WRIGHT.

This volume consists of a course of lectures delivered in the trance state, and is certainly no small contribution to the study of the soul. It is a good work to open the eyes to the difference between the deductive and inductive process of office.

DEATH ITS MEANING and Results.

By J K Wilson, of the Pennsylvania Bar.
An absorbingly interesting narrative relating a series of wonderful psychic manifestations occurring in the writer's experience. Cloth, lilustrated, $1.25.

A MASTERLY WORK. Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth

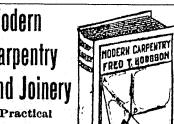

By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A masterly presentation of an important sub-lect. A powerful argument along new and seten-tific lines, establishing on a scientific basis the fact of the continuity of personal individual con-scious selfhood after laying aside the physical body. A book of rare value. With several fine filustrations. Cloth, $1.00.

An Infamous A pamphlet of 32 pages, com-Conspiracy piled and published by the late Rev. J. G. White, author of numerous anti-Catholic works. It contains disclosures relative to a villainous plot to over throw our free government. Price, 15 cents

ROMANISM Is a pamphled of 80 pages, in EXPOSED reply to Prof. David Swing, Priest Cashman and Dr. Withrow, and is principally in defense of Protestant ism. A concise little pamphlet. Price 15 cents.

Man and the By Rev. Arthur Chambers, Spirit World Associate of King's College, London. An excellent book for Christian people who would investigate and learn the facts of Bible teachings as well as modern spirit phenomena. Price, cloth, $1.10.

THE SOUL . ITS NATURE, RE-LATIONS AND EX-PRESSIONS IN HU-MAN EMBODIMENTS. Third edition now on sale. Price $1.00. This is one of the best books given by the guides of Mrs Cora L.V. Richmond. They are really lessons, published primarily, as a book of reference for those who have been members of the classes receiving them. This volume is a careful compilation from reports of lessons, containing the bases of the teachings.

A Practical Manual.

Just Published

The well-known Technical writer. It is one of the best works ever turned out by him. Copi-ously illustrated with diagrams and figures, aking the most intricate problems simple, def ite and easily understood. Price, $1.00.

DEATH and the AFTER LIFE By A. J. Davis. An instructive and interesting work for all to read. Price 60 cents.

The Law of Correspondence Applied to Healing.
A course of seven practical lessons. By W. J.
Colville. Limp closh, 50c.

A Conspiracy Against the Republic By Charles B. Walte, A. M., author of "History of the Christian Religion to the Year 200," etc. Price, paper, 25 cents.

ALL ABOUT DEVILS. It is enough to say this 50 page pamphlet is written by Moses Hull. Price 15 cents.

ANCIENT INDIA Its Language and Religions. By Prof. II. Olden berg. Paper, 25 cents.

Apollonius of Tuana Identified as the wonderful communication, explaining how his life and teachings were utilized to formulate Christianity. Price 15 cents.

COMMON SENSE By Thomas Paine. A Revolutionary pamph et, addressed to the inhabitants of America in let, addressed to the inhabitants of America in 1776, with explanatory notice by an English author. Paper, 15 cents.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED.

The most important revelations concerning the true origin of Christianity. Reader, in bringing to your notice "Antiquity Unveiled," it is with the sineere hope that you are earnestly locking for the truth, regardless of any other consideration. If such is the case, this advertisement will deeply interest you and after reading this brief description you will doubtless wish to give the work a careful perusal. Price, $1.50.

Talleurand's Letter to the Pope. This work will be found especially interesting to all who would desire to make a study of Romanism and the Bible. The historic facts stated, and the keen, scathing review of Romish ideas and practices should be read by all. Price 85 cents.

FORGE and Matter By Ludwig Buechbook. A profound work upon a profound subject. Price, cloth, $1.00.

The Religion of Spiritualism. Its Phenomena and Philosophy. By the Rev. Samuel Watson. This work was written by a modern Savior, a grand and noble man. Price, $1.00. A valuable book for the money.

ASTRAL WORSHIP By J. H. Hill, M.D. Avaluable contribution to the current discussion of religious problems. The author by illustrations and a plansiphere (a representation of the celestial sphere upon a plane with adjustable circles), traces most of the myths which lie at the base of Christianity to their origin in sun and star worship. The astronomical facts given possess great value, the illustrations rare and curious. The book is bound in only one style—heavy boards. Price 81.

Views of Our Heavenly Home. 🖫 By Andrew Jackson Davis. A highly inter-sting work. Price, 75 cents. Postage 5 cents. Apogruphal New Testament. Being all the Gospels, Epistles, and other pieces now extant, attributed in the first four contu-ries to Jesus Christ, his apastles and their com-panions, and not included in the New Testament by its compilers. Price; cloth, $1.50.

An Adventist attack upon Spiritualism re-pulsed. By Moses Hull. Price, 10 cents. Practical Mothods to Insure Success. A valuable little work, full of practical instruction in matters portaining to physical, mental and spiritual health. Worth many times its cost. Price 10 conts.

OUR PREMIUMS.

BEAR IN MIND.

Remember, please, that we send many of our Premium Books by express. If you do not receive your orden promptly by mail, inquire at the express office. If not there, notify us at once.

Remember, please that it costs ten cents to get a personal check cashed at a bank in Chicago. If you send a personal check, add ten cents to the amount sent.

Remember, please, that we have only two books which we send out now for 25 cents each. We cannot allow you to select any other book or books in their Remember, please, that you are not entitled to any of these Premlum Books unless you send in with your order a year's subscription to The Progressive Thinker. Remember, please, that the safes way to make a remittance is to secure a postal order. Read our Premium Offer, AND DO NOT WRITE TO US FOR ANY OTHER TERMS. You must send $1 for The Progressive Thinker when you order one or more premium books. Please bear this in mind.

Remember, please, that mistakes and trouble may be avoided by dealing direct with this office, instead of through a news agent.

Every person who sends in a yearly, subscription to The Progressive Thinks er can have until further notice, the two following books for 25 cents each: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science," by Hudson Tuttle, and "Seers of the Ages, or, Spiritualism Past and Present," by Dr. J. M. Peebles. Both exceedingly valuable, and though widely, different, each one fills an exceedingly important right. mportant niche in the literature of Spiritualism. If you order only one book, and that one neither of the books mentioned above, the price is 50 cents. If you order two books, and neither of them the above mentioned, the price is 90 cents. We have TEN Premium Books only, and you can select from them as fol-Any three of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.10.

Any four of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.50.

Any five of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $1.80. Any six of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.10. Any seven of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.35.

Any eight of the ten Premium books

you may order, price $2.65. Any nine of the ten Premium Books you may order, price $2.90. Lastly all of these TEN valuable Premium Books here announced are sent out, all postage prepaid, for $3.10, a price never before equaled in this country or Europe. The following is the list: TEN REMARKABLE BOOKS

FOR $3.10. 1-The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 1. 2—The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 2. 3—The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World, Vol. 8. 4-Art Magic, or Mundane, Sub-Mundane and Super-Mundane Spiritism.

5-Ghost Land, Spiritualism, Occult 6-The Next World Interviewed. 7—The Occult Life of Jesus. 8—A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands.

9—The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science. 10-Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present. Read This Carefully Before Re-

Remitting. When you send in your subscription to The Progressive Thinker, carefully look over the books which you desire in this list, and their price, and send for them. They are very valuable. They are intensely interesting. They are elevating in tone and will do you good. In remitting do not fail to enclose a dollar for The Progressive Thinker.

These ten books, substantially and elegantly bound, and printed in the neatest style of the printer's art, will be furnished to our subscribers for $3.10, a price which modern machinery and en erprise has rendered possible in The Progressive Thinker office only. Sendng out these books, however, at the prices we do, does not reduce the price of the subscription of the paper, apparently or otherwise, a single cent, for that cannot be afforded for less than one dollar per year, in view of the fact that we publish such a vast amount of reading matter. in conclusion, bear in mind that the postage on these ten premium books is about ONE DOLLAR, leaving this office only $2.10, illustrating the great bargain you are getting-a bargain the like of which was never known before on this material plane.

CLUBSI CLUBSI CLUBSI CLUBSI To Clubs of ten or more we offer the following terms to each one: The Progressive Thinker one year, and ONE of the following books, $1.15: "The Religion of Man and Ethics of Science": "Seers of the Ages, or Spiritualism Past and Present"; "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands"; "The Encyclopedia of Death, and Life in the Spirit World," Vol. 8. The one who gets up the Club will be entitled to the paper one year free, and any two of the books he may select among our list of premiums.

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

The clear and very interesting account of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, with the inciting causes of that tragedy, will serve to excite renewed interest in the great work of Father Chiniquy, entitled "Fifty years in the Church of Rome." In this book he exposes in the minutest details the corruption that exists in that church, and its iniquitous methods and aims.

The Devil and the Adventists. It is a book of absorbing interest, and should be read by every patriotic Amerlcan, and by every one who would be well informed concerning the evilworks and designs of the Romish hierarchy. It is a large volume of 832 pages. Price, $2.25.

Eleventh Annual Convention

NATIONAL SPIRITUALISTS' ASSOCIATION

OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA,

National Rifles' Hall, G Street Northwest, Near Ninth,

October 20, 21, 22 and 23, 1903,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Cor. Pennsylvania Ave, and Fifteenth Street,

at these sessions. Business sessions will be special—$2 per day, large room, will open daily at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. two persons in a room. Single room, At 7:30 each evening grand public for one person, $2.50 per day. These meetings, with addresses, spirit mes rates include first-class board. Those sages, singing, music, etc, etc. Among taking advantage of the same are exthe most gifted lecturers and mediums pected to remain during full convention, expected to be present and participate while all who travel on certificate tickare Dr. N. F. Ravlin, Mrs. H. P. Russegue, ets must remain till noon of the fourth J. J. Morse, of England, May S. Pepper, day. As a certain number of certificate Margaret Gaule, Mrs. Z. B. Kates, Mrs. tickets must be guaranteed to the rail-

Special certificate rates on railroads which all friends are invited, will be for delegates and all attending the con- held at The Regent, Monday, October vention. Ask your railroad agents for 19, at 8:30 p. m.

Headquarters during convention will be The Regent, corner Pennsylvania av- present. enue and 15th street, near Treasury

Building. The rates at this hotel for HARRISON D. BARRETT, President.

N ear Executive Mansion and Opposite U. S. Treasury. Important business will be acted upon delegates and all visitors to convention G. G. Cooley, and others to be secured. roads, delegates and visitors are re-All Spiritualists should attend this conquested to come by them. The N. S. A. reception to visitors and delegates, to tickets on the certificate plan, for one Admission to business sessions of fare and a third for round trip, for Na- convention is free to the public. The tional Spiritualists' Convention. These grand evening meetings of lectures, tickets must be indorsed by special rail-tests, and musical exercises will be road agent at convention the last day of twenty-five cents to all but delegates, convention and by the N. S. A. Secre- who will be admitted on presentation of their cards.

All Spiritualists are invited to be MARY T. LONGLEY, CREATORS MANY.

Infidel Questions-The Mosaic Fable-Story of Creation on Another Planet powers there came respiration and cirand Theory of Creation.

In the early settlement of Kentucky preaching to his congregation said, "God made de fust man out ob clay and define the carried out of the grotto and walked upon the fair land, already loaded with natural An infidel thinker in the audience inquired, "Brudder Jones, who built dat fence? Jones replied, "Sambo, set down,

An' don't you disturb dis meetin' by askin' infidel questions." That colored man's ideas of creation were about on a par with other old religious fables that god-worshipers accept in faith; and they don't want to be disturbed by any infidel questions. Of all stories of creation the Mosaic account is the most absurd. Christians in meaning account is the most absurd. believe that the whole human species on earth sprung originally from Adam and Eve, created by a male God. They are credulous enough to believe any. thing their preacher says. But there is one little tell-tale item in the fable that should teach them the folly of such belief. The fable says that Adam's son Cain left the parental home, went far away and located in the land of Nod—

Now if Cain found a woman in Nod, it proves that another family of people existed on earth at the same time the Adamses were living—and if that was so, then evidently the whole human from Adam and Eve, made in Eden.

ation that will outrival and surpass coated animal. It had one advantage ation that will outrival and surpass any of the old legends and traditions. It is the story related by the spirit author in the book entitled Eon and Eona. Where my memory lacks in details I was found vile enough to carry out the was found vile enough to carry out the will work in some nice fiction (and plans concocted by him against the instand responsible) as the wise men did nocent work of his own hands. There in making up "the infallible Bible." was no special creation of fruit against (Now all keep still, and don't ask any which they were warned under penalty

Once upon a time in the course of hullan events, long ago, then the course of hullan events. man events, long ago, there was a band of male and female spirits—a powerful planet much better fitted to sustain band of harmonious, intelligent spirits and propagate human life than this -who had observed that a certain earth on which we live. And that planet had advanced sufficiently and world now goes surging onward in its was well adapted to sustain material cycles around a central sun. human beings. Already on that planet! there existed some four-legged beasts and accept the account of creation told by the spirit author Eona because it is its counseled together and planned and projected a scheme for creating physical projected a scheme for creating physical physical projected a scheme for creating physical phy ical human beings on that planet. They learned in the past twenty years that named it Harmona. Accordingly they spirits can do and have done-learned selected two spirits, a male and female them by investigation, evidence, experithat never had an existence and experience on any material world, and took them to the most favorable place for their project. Their object was to tangible as any well known human be build up for each of these spirits a ing, produced by spirit creators in the physical body of flesh, blood and bones with corresponding faculties, functions, powers and attributes-full life size. These creators set to work in the laboratory of nature and found the positive and negative elements in abundance for their work-found material and companions discovered and carefulthat was the counterpart of the ideal. It was a materializing seance of years in duration, in which they were aided ed to the life of such human beings. by a band of still higher spirits. They | She does not give their height, but they selected as a positive point for the con-

the light never penetrated. Two of their number, a male and female, at stated times entered a radiant |-very white-wear no clothing-the cloud that surrounded the grotto, while climate is so mild the sun does the others stood without, as magnetic waves from the upper courts came on. ers-very intelligent-have no knowl-The band of workers held in their midst edge of fire—subsist chiefly on shell the end of a magnetic chain that trans: fish they procure from the margin of a mitted a power that was to change the great sea-partake of food but once a formation of certain created elements day—excellent sculptors and architects that was to take the form of a man and -their dwellings are constructed en-voman. And they all waited the grand fulfillment of infinite law.

It came finally, and with great joy they looked down on two beautiful forms. In time through life-giving -A World of Fairles-A New Story culation that was self-supporting, and these two embryo spirits became soul possessors of immaculate conception.
When this pair of physical humans there was a colored preacher who in had acquired sufficient strength by creative powers in operation they came uxuries to sustain life—the first mortals on that world. The man was tall, finely propor tioned, with dark hair and eyes the woman was also tall, symmetrical, with long fair hair that fell in shining waves to her waist, while her eyes were the color of her native skies. They far exceeded the brainal development of the children of this earth; and to them was bequeathed, as their rightful possession, the beautiful world whereon until then no incarnated child ever found an abid-Being full of wonder at what they saw, they wandered here and there, hand in hand, till at last they rested themselves on the bank of a stream of clear water, and there was attracted to them through unseen forces the animals of that planet. One beautiful animal somewhat resembling the lion expressed great satisfaction on discoveraway and located in the land of the ling the newcomers, and became found a woman there and married her friend and protector until they became ing the newcomers, and became their self-supporting. This lion pulled from a vine a culster of berries, picked off one and ate it; and from this the woman learned that they were to eat, and she picked a berry and ate; at the same race on this earth did not spring alone This was their first meal and they finished their repast with genuine satis-I will tell a second-hand story of Cre faction; and their attendant a silken-

Thus originated the first pair of mor-

It is an easy matter for me to believe ence, demonstration—because I have witnessed the production of many materialized spirits, full life-size, as real and presence of good mediums. There sems to be a foundation for fairy tales or legends; at least for the existence and reality of a small race of people. The spirit writer Eona describes a race of little people that she ly examined, in their travels through the heavens, upon a planet well adaptare pigmies, perhaps not exceeding one centration of forces a grotto wherein foot in stature. They are exceedingly beautiful and symmetrical-muscular and very powerful—somewhat warlike color their skin-great lovers of flowtirely of the most exquisite shells and pearls—implements and weapons are made of the same material and do good service without seriously injuring op-ponents—each home looks like the casile of a fairy queen—they work wonders in the beautiful

When we contemplate the swinging worlds in the measureless sea of space, may we not reasonably expect many conditions that are not represented in our own earth land, and may we not, too, expect beings different from our-

Now I have a nice theory and story pertaining to the origin of the human race on this earth; and I don't want anybody to spoil it "by asking infidel questions." I am going to write it for The Progressive Thinker for specula-The Progressive Thinker, for specula-tion and to see how it looks in print and I will put it up in comparison and competition against any and all old re-ligious legends, traditions, fables of creation. Remember my story is founded on fiction and fancy as other fables are, then there need be no mistake of believing it all true and infallible as Christians do with the absurd stories in

When the right time and conditions prevailed on earth for accomplishment, the creation and origin of the human species was planned and projected by a powerful band of intelligent spirits, in about the same way that the creation of a pair of humans was done on the plan-et Harmona, described by the spirit author of Eon and Eona. There were evidently five distinct creations (probably more) at intervals of hundreds of years intervening between each of them. There were several pairs of humans made at each period of creation. If creators can make one pair it is a fair supposition that they can make several pairs of any desired size—therefore I suppose it for the reason that the marriage of close relations is contrary to nature, for the offspring in such cases are ephemeral, and a race of people started that way would soon fade away

The first was the creation of the black race at the most favorable place in the torrid zone in the eastern hemi-sphere. In the course of time the band of spirits created another pair of humans in the western hemisphere, and so the red race was produced, which was an improvement on the black race. After another interval of time the spirit creators concluded that Asia should be populated by another race, and so they made the yellow race for that land. After that they created the Latins-another improvement.

The creators were not fully satisfied with their works thus far and thought they could make a still better race of people, and accordingly they created a pair of white humans in central Europe, which was an improvement over all the other races. The spirit creators have been somewhat disappointed in the results—in the career of the white race, which has not done well—it has acted badly—made a hell on earth in some respects—"run after strange gods"—and this race has not fulfilled their desires and designs.

We, the white people of America and Europe, should not blow and brag on our excellence and superiority over all other races, for we are no better in some respects, and there is room for improvement. No doubt there are many good people on this earth, perhaps millions, who come up to the expectation of the creators; yet, sometimes when we view the course of human events, the white race seems to be on the downward road of evil, degeneracy, depravity, and if we don't change our course and do better, the spirits may produce a better race of people. In fact the spirit prophets have predicted that a better race of humanity will appear on earth in the course of human Spiritualists ought to be well convinced by what they have witnessed at materializing seances through good members away off in Wheaton, Ill., diums that spirits can create temporary but the inspiration was all over the physical forms as real and tangible as any of our physical bodies. It is a fair Brooks 600 miles away was felt and It is the product of an age of the image. with power to remain permanently, since they have, in some instances, remained intact several hours at a time. Now I fancy I hear the inquiry. Why do not some of the spirits retain their materialized bodies and locate permanently among us? (Another infidel question). Well, one reason is they have not the power and ability to do that. It would require the addition of other chemical elements. Another answer is, they think it is a nicer place to live on the spirit side of life than dwell in a mortal body; and they are no more likely to desire a change of location than a Christian would desire to leave his imaginary heaven and locate permanently in his imaginary hell. The spirit forms now produced are only living images of persons who have passed away.

Creators are many—not one. The theory of one great first cause or creator points inevitably to the male personality of Theism. The folly of man reaches its limit in affirming that the word God means and expresses all things that exist. There is no one cause or creator that ever produced or created anything. The female is a greater factor in creation than the male, if any difference; yet the female does not figure in theology at all as a reator. A. H. NICHOLAS. Summerland, Cal. creator.

Is Not Dead Yet.

To the Editor:—Reincarnation seems to be a bone of contention among the learned and profound scholars in the Spiritual ranks of to-day. The Progressive Thinker has carried the load of these weighty arguments for years, and yet the wise ones have not settled the question. In your issue of July 11, is a short article from the pen of A. P. Warrington, of Norfolk, Va., on the above subject. He does not seem to be antagonistic in his views, but he certainly does "get away" with Dr. Peebles on "does the yellowing corn seek a return to the husk?" Dr. Peebles is a traveler over this globe and ought to know something about corn and corn husks, and that it does not care to return till the following year, when planted again in the right soil. But that is no argument against the theory of reincarnation. With his profound logic one would think that some thought more to the point would have suggested itself to him while engaged in "doing up" reincarnation. In the arguments pro and on of this mighty question the evidence adduced is all in favor of the theory as the natural result of the law of evolution of the planet.

Dr. Peebles' attitude toward reincar nation reminds us of a story told by our father. A man was caught stealing three bags of grain. When brought be fore the tribunal, three reputable witnesses testified to having seen him take the grain. His defense was twenty people's testimony who did not see him take the grain. The learned judge, however, decided the case in favor of the proof positive. The man wished to prove himself "game," arose in the court-room and endeavored (in a loud voice) to quote the beautiful language of the immortal Webster, "I still live, exclaimed, "As Webster said, 'I'm not dead yet!'" It is evident that Brother Peebles is not dead yet, and the evidence of this contention is not all in. Rose L. Bushnell Donnelly.

LYMAN C. HOWE.

The Pope is Dead-Did God Kill Him? Protestant Prayers.

The Pope is dead, they say. Well, why not? He was ripe and ought to be ready. But what a farce for the plous Protestants to pray for his recovery; and what a travesty on the divine preand what a travesty on the divine pre-tensions of the papacy to make such an ado about his going, and talk of the "agonies of death." In the old time death was thought to be, not only the "king of terrors," but the king of agony. But the pope and all the cardinals ought to know better, if they are so close to God and the spirit, world as they profess to be. hey profess to be.

From the lower plane death seems a sad and solemn fact. It is so on this level of sense life. The dividing of the ways, the final adieu to all that has been so closely identified with life and all its pleasures and trials, is a struggle and has a solemn shadow in it, on this side. But the pope is claimed to be in such close relation to the other life, and this world is to him a vale of sin, to be endured and then abandoned, why should his death cause sorrow? Why should his death cause sorrow? Why pray God to hold him longer here? Did not God know what was best for the pope and the church without the help of prayers to jog his memory?

It is quite possible that the pope may have believed in himself as God's chosen vicegerent on earth, and that he was led by the spirit in his dispensations of the law and gospel. But I notice that all of the cardinals and priests make every effort to secure the ends they desire, and do not trust God to manage the affairs of the church. They plot, and scheme, to circumvent the rulers of nations and show all the cunning of political wire-pullers, in their policy to secure power. Why does not God do it all without their help? Can they plan better than He?

Well, the pope is subject to the same laws that rule the most humble citizen. Death is no respecter of persons, nor of popes or kings. If the church knows as much as it pretends to, this parade over a dead pope is hypocrisy. But the sweet sentiment that reveres and loves the memory of a noble man, be he pope or peasant, is sacred and a credit to the human race. Leo XIII. leaves a good record. It is natural there should be anxiety about his successor, for upon the character of a pope hangs much of the destiny of nations. Pius IX is dead, but his record lives, and a thousand good popes after him cannot can-cel Syllabus. So with the burning of Bruno. It is still justified by the church. Whoever heard or read of an apology from the church for the horrors of the Inquisition? What pope or priest ever expressed regrets for the inhuman treatment of Galileo? When and where has the church ever denounced the horrible murder of Hypatia? If they justify those things now, what reason is there to suppose they would not repeat these crimes if they had the power? Popes may die and all may join in a sweet sad refrain, but not because a pope is dead. But because a good man has vacated, and possibly, a bad one may take his place. "A living dog is better than a dead lion." But a common sentiment and common affection may express a reverent sorrow in such a significant event, that touches all who

A Visit to Lily Dale.

Last Sunday I made a trip to Lily Dale. It was my first visit to the new assembly. The day was fine and a good audience greeted President J. W. Dennis for Buffalo day. Geo. H. Brooks did his part as never before, for it was the first time he had the help of a son the busy and brook him. The arm and I enjoyed a short visit with Professor fessor is alive with his science and vigorous in expression as usual. Carrie Twing was at the same table, and her suave graces were appreciated. J. Clegg Wright also added his personality, loaded with wit, sarcasm and irony. It was a good supper, well served. Mr. Manger is a well equipped and very pleasant landlord. Many old friends greeted me and the echoes of long ago were sweet and inspiring.

J. W. Dennis presided for the Buffaremarks of welcome, in her suave style which evoked applause.

Mrs. Julia E. Hyde is more active in the work than I have ever known her to be, and her attractive writings give the camp a good representation abroad. She is a talented woman, with strong leanings to the metaphysical and occult, and Hindoo philosophy. She was called up to let the audience see who takes subscriptions for the spiritual papers. Her fair face, intellectual sparkle, and fine form as she stands erect, may do more to win patrons for the papers than the intellectual feasts presented in the papers themselves.

One feature of the camp that has been an attraction for the past two years, is left out this season, and must be much missed by the large class of progressive thinkers who have been so edified and enthused by the class lectures of Prof. Lockwood and J. Chagg Wright. I do not know why they are omitted from the attractions this season; but I do not believe any substitute value and intellectual strength to the season's attractions as those vitaliznot say this to flatter the two teachers, but because to me it is the truth, and significant as a sign of the times. Mrs. Dr. Matteson was with the large delegation from Buffalo, but I did not close of the exercises. J. W. Dennis presided and made brief remarks adapted to the occasion. H. W. Rich of education, not one worn-out medium ardson's paper was duly arranged, and I hope it will be published in full. Rev. Dr. J. Sayles, of East Aurora, represented a part of Buffalo in a 25-minute speech on Change. He spread his Sayles and sailed in and soared and was heartly encored.

I was agreeably surprised to meet John Scott, uncle of Cora Richmond, whom I knew 40 years ago. His sight is defective, but he looks young and acts vigorously.

Another whom I knew 36 years ago in Springville, surprised me before I got my ticket for the gate entrance. knew me, but I could not place him, until he told me that he was Frank gert. Forty years ago his father, Robert, was active among Spiritualists and patron of many mediums. These surprises are interesting, and suspect a pleasant part of experience n the spiritual world will consist in social reunions, and the awakenings inspired by the interaction of soul soul, and the retrospections that survey the lines of memory through many busy years. Half of the life and pleasure of a camp season is in the social experiences, and little surprises and renewals of friendships, which give a happy halo to intellectual pursuits

Mrs. Pettengill has fine taste in arranging and decorating, and with a lib-eral use of means, makes her surroundings beautiful. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."
I would not cast a shadow on the splendid work of this model camp by criticising it in any unkind way. mistakes occur with all of us, and if they are pointed out they may be helpful. In referring to the omission of the class lectures by Prof. Lockwood and J. Clegg Wright, I only express what I be-lieve is felt by many who are more disappointed than I. since I could not attend them this season as I have the past two summers; but I am interested in all that affects the prosperity of the camp which has so long and successfully served the cause of Spiritualism. believe the new management desires to continue the same works with improvements, and extended facilities Several new speakers have been added to the programme, more perhaps than in previous years; yet the old management sought to introduce new talent each year. The programme shows a splendid array of talent, the only shadow being the Cleveland dunce, who so scandalously portrayed his ignorance, or his dishonesty, two years ago, in his pulpit parade of Spiritualism, for the edification of his pious patrons.

I agree that we should hear all sides, and give every phase of thought a fair hearing; but I do not think we are called upon to patronize a man who so ungraciously throws mud in our faces. When a gospel tinker descends to such methods, it seems to me time to call a halt, and let him severely alone. out complaining, I must say that the way the program is dated, leaving out the day of the week, is a step backward, as it is much less convenient for ready reference. Whether this is an over sight, or intentional. I do not know LYMAN C. HOWE.

HAPPINESS.

The Bible, Education, and Mediums' Homes.

Happy is the eye that sees dancing sunbeams beyond the clouds. Darkness is limited. Light is eternal. Courage and timidity walk hand in hand. good and bad are in propinquity. qualities are not balanced. Each dominates in turn. The Bible is no exception. It is the best and worst book with which man has acquaintance. Its sublimity and conception are unequaled. Its savageness, cloaked with divinity, is unparalleled.

Instance. "Neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction, when it cometh; for thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee." "The mountain falling cometh to naught, and the rock removed out of his place."

"Out of weakness are made strong." 'And all the hills moved lightly." righteousness is like the great mount ains; thy judgments are a great deep."
"Deep calleth unto deep." "Dust thou art and unto dust thou shalt return." "The rolling of the heavens together together as a scroll." "Bowed the heav-"Clouds and darkness are round about him, righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne; the heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory." "Know-est thou the balancing of the clouds." "I will give unto this last even as unto thee." "Hear ye Him."
When will profoundest scholar tire of such imagery? The wickedness of the Bible is abhorrent. I will spare the readers' sensibilities by letting it die from neglect.

Much of the subject matter of Milton is obsolete, yet his sublimity of imagination shines on undimmed in brightness and beauty. Man loves creative genius, whether through imagination or reason. It were as easy to kill off Homer and Shakspeare as to annihilate the Bible. ination, when the logic of prose was not yet born. Such another age will prob-Lockwood and wife, and shared supper ably never be. It is not needed. It with them at the Maplewood. The Prospeare and the Bible are wells; the systems of life can, and ever will, draw from these for certain, definite purposes. That these great authors always have and always will be traduced, is but part of the common lot.

And now comes the great strength of the Bible, which is Spiritualism. The writers themselves did not understand it. It is left for our day to clear the mystery. When this shall be correctly and sufficiently understood that part of loes, and President Pettengill madebrief the teaching can be made less prominent. It may already be so. Thanks to the noble and far-seeing Moses Hull for clearing away so much of the under brush. I think Mr. Hull would only be too glad of the assistance of a large number of the best educated Spiritual ists in formulating the college curriculum. I will go further and say I be lieve he would be glad to be relieved of the responsibility altogether, if assured that the work of education would go on though ever so slowly. It should not discourage that the school started with so few students Harvard and Yale had a like experience. And all colleges and all schools have the experience of having one or more students drop out soon after starting in. The home circle is superb in theory. Does it realize expectations in practice? In the past years it was tried enthusias tically. The enthusiasm was not long lived. It seemed to lack the requisite inspiration. Some things need numbers. I have it on good authority that can be provided that will add as much the members of the college psychic class make more progress in six months than in six years the old way; and also ing treats so ably served to appreciative thinkers the past two years. I do They are helped so much by explanation that heretofore has been lacking. I would have the Mediums' Home and the Wisconsin State Camp-meeting at Whitewater. Then the power of all would be the power of each. I believe see her on the platform until after the the more education the more money there will be for the Mediums' Home Until Moses commenced the agitation was cared for. Since then several have been. Nor is this all. Educated mediums will not become worn-out. I would not have the separate institutions at Whitewater merged into one. but each remain separate and independ ent. Also it would increase the attractiveness of the town for wealthy Spiritualists, and others not so wealthy, to retire there to enjoy their remaining earth days.

The editor of The Progressive Thinker, that man that never sleeps, asks eleven excellent question. They are addressed to the N. S. A. officers. As that doesn't mean us laymen. I will hands off from these.

E. W. BALDWIN. Madison, Wis.

"The Molecular Hypothesis of Na ture." By Prof. Wm. M. Lockwood. Prof. Lockwood is recognized as one of the ablest lecturers on the spiritual ros trum. In this little volume he presents in succinct form the substance of his lectures on the Molecular Hypothesis of Nature; and presents his views as demonstrating a scientific basis of Spiritualism. The book is commended to all who love to study and think. For sale at this office. Price, 25 cents.

Kola Plant CURES AND

ASTHMA.

Free Kole Plant is Nature's Positive Cure for Hay-fover and Asthma. Since its recent discovery this romatable botanical product has come into universal use in the Hospitals of Europe and America as an unfailing specific cure for Hay-Fever and Asthma in every form. Its cures are really marvelous by the hospitals of Europe and America as an unfailing specific cure for Hay-Fever and Asthma in every form. Its cures are really marvelous by the hospitals of Europe and America as an unfailing specific cure for Hay-Fever and Asthma for the hospitals of the hospitals of July Exa, that Himslya curved him of Asthma of thirty years standing.

Hundreds of others send similar testimony proving Himslya a truly wonderful remedy. As the Kola Plant is a specific constitutional cure for the disease, Hay-fever sufferers should use it before the season of the attacks when practical, to give it time to act on the system. To prove the power of this new botanical discovery, if you suffer from Hay-fever or Asthma, we will send you one trial case by mail entirely free. It costs you absolutely nothing. Write to-day to The Kola Importing Co., No. 1166 Broadway, New York

INVISIBLE HELPERS A Very Excellent and Comprehensive Work.

One from the Theosophical Standpoint.

This work, "Invisible Helpers," written by O. W. Leadbeater, the remarkable English psychic (whose lectures have graced the columns of The Progressive Thinker), is certainly very interesting and suggestive throughout. It treats of the "Universal Belief in the Invisible Helpers," the "Angel Story,"
"Work Among the Dead," "What Lies Beyond." The work is neatly bound in cloth, and the price is 55 cents.

Self Contradictions of the Bible. One hundred and forty-four propositions, the ological, moral, historical and speculative; each proved affirmatively and negatively by quotations from Scriptume, without comment. Price, 15 cents.

CONFLICT Between Religion and Science, Just the book for progressive thinkers. A book that is very interesting to people who have a taste for the past religious history. By John W. Draper. Price, cloth, $1.75.

With the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to healing. Price, 50 cents. of the Life Beyond and Within.
Voices from many lands and countries, saying, "Man, thou shalt compiled by Giles B. Stebbins. Cloth. $1.

Works of Thomas Paine A new edition in paper covers with large clear type, comprising;

Age of Reason. ... 25 cts.
Rights of Man ... 25 cts.
Crisis ... 25 cts.
Common Sense ... 15 cts. This is a splendid opportunity to secure these stand-ard works; as the price is within the reach of all. For sale at this office.

THE PRIEST, THE WOMAN

-AND-THE CONFESSIONAL. BY FATHER CHINIQUY.

ters:
CHAPTER I.
The Struggle herore the Surrender of Womaniy Seis.
Death Defeated, or the Psychic Secret, CHAPTER II.

Auricular Confession a Deep Pit of Perdition for the Priest.

CHAPTER III.
The Confessional is the Modern Sodom. CHAPTER IV.

How the Vow of Celibacy of the Priests is made easy
by Auricular Confession.

The highly-educated and refused Woman in the Con-fessional—What becomes of her after uncondition-al surrendor—Her irreparable Ruin. Auricular Confession destroys all the Sacred Ties of Marriage and Human Seciety.

CHAPTER VI.

Should Auricular Confession be tolerated among Civilized Nations?

Does Auricular Confession bring Pea on bring Peage to the Souls

CHAPTER IX.

The Dogma of Auricular Consession a Sacrilegiou Imposture. Imposture.

CHAPTER X.

God compels the Church of Rome to confess the Abominations of Auticular Confession.

Auricular Confession in Australia, America, and France. France.

CHAPTER XII.

Chapter for the Consideration of Legislators, Husbands and Fathers—Some of the matters on which the Pricat of Rome must Question his Fenitens. Sent Post-paid, Price, $1.00.

MEDIUMSHIP and its DEVELOPMENT, and how to Mesmerize to Assist Development. By W. H. Bach. Paper 25 cents; cloth 60 cents.

WOMAN. Four Centuries of Progress, A Lecture delivered at the Prochinker's International Congress, Chicago, Ill., October, 1893. By Susan H. Wixon. Price, 10c. PSYGHE is the invention of a practical medium under spirit guidance, and is designed to develop mediumship. Many, by its use, have received long icommunications from spirit friends, and express great satisfaction. Price, $1, and 20 cents extra for expressage.

Discovery of a Lost Trail

BY CHARLES B. NEWCOMB, BY CHARLES B. NEWGOMB, Author of "All's Right with the World." Gloth 270 pages. Mr. Newsomb made a distinct success with
"All's Right with the World," which continues in the front rank of the Metaphysical books that are now so popular. The great number who have seen cheered and strengthened by him will welcome another book
by this wise teacher whose words of help are doing so much to nake the world beker by making men and women better able to understand and enjoy it.
"Discovery of a Lost Trail"
is a simple study of that strengs and beguifful thing is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing called life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. It will be is demand by many who have not previously read metaphysical writings. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

The World's Sixteen Saviors, Or Christianity before Christ. By Kersey Graves. New and skartling revelations in religious history which disclose the Oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts and miracles of the Christian New Testament, and furnishing a key for unlocking many of its sacred mystories, besides comprising the History of Sixteen Oriental Crucified Gods. This wonderful and exhaustive volume will, we are certain, take high rank as a book of reference in the field which the author has chosen for it. Printed on white paper, 380 pages. Now edition, revised and corrected, with portrait of author. Price $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

AUTOMATIC WRITING, Sara A. Underwood. With half-tone portrait and specimen pages of the writing. Handsomely bound in eighth. Price, &t. Postage, 10c. Memorial Oration by Col. R. d. Ingersell a warm friend of his and a great statasman, delivered before the New York Legislature, May 9, 1888. Price 4 cents.

INDUCE

Your Neighbor to Subscribe for The Progressive Thinker.

Now is the time to extend the circulation of The Progressive Thinker. It will contain Occult and Spiritualistic news with which every one should be familiar. No other paper published on this earth contains such a vast amount of matter so well adapted to enrich the mind. Send in a subscription now.

DR. J. M. PEEBLES' Most Important Books.

REDUCED PRICES.

Ahat is Spiritualism? W Are These Spiritualists? and What Has Spiritualism Done for the World? By J. M. Peebles, M. D., M. A. An excellent book to put in the hands of inquirous. of inquirers. Coth, 75 cents.

Did Jesus Christ Exist?

Is Christ the Corner Stone of Spiritnalism? What Do the Spirits Say About It? Wm. Emmette Coleman vs. Hudson Tuttle on Mahomet and Jesus, To which is appended a controversy, Arthur J. Owen vs. J. M. Peebles, on the origin of the Lord's Prayer and Sermon on the Mount, and an exhaustive paper by Wm. Emmette Coleman on the Historical Origin of Christianity. Paper, 15 cents.

Three Journeys Around the World. A large, handsomely bound octavo volume, 500 pages, finely illustrated, describing the Pacific Islands, New Zealand and Australia, India and her magic, Egypt and her pyramids, Persia, Ceynon, Palestine, etc., with the religious manners, customs, laws and habits of foreign countries. Price, $1.50.

Immortality, And the employments of spirits good and evil in the spirit world. What a hundred spirits say about their dwellrelations, infants, idiots, suicides, etc.

Price reduced from $1.50 to $1. Poste age 12 cents. Paper 50 cents.

Spiritual Harp.

A book of 300 pages, containing songs, hymns and anthems for Spiritualist 80. cleties and circles. The words are afire with progress. It contains the choicest songs and music by James G. Clark and other reformers. Reduced from $2 tq.

Dr. Peebles' Three Jubilee Lectures. A most elegantly bound pamphlet of 122 pages, glving Dr. Peebles' lecturest delivered in Hydesville, March 31, 1898, in Rochester, and later in London at the International Congress of Spiritualists. These lectures illustrated are ists. These lectures, illustrated, are racy, meaty and scholarly. Price 35

The Christ Question Bettled. A symposium by Hudson Tuttle, W. E. Coleman, Rabbi Wise, Col. Ingersoll, J. S. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. R. Buchan J. S. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. R. Buchan, an and Dr. Peebles. This is a hand-some volume of nearly 400 pages, and treats of Jesus, Mahomet and the gnostics. What the Talmud says about plesus. Antiquity unveiled. Child marriage in India. Col. Ingersoll's agnosticism. What the spirits through W. J. Colville, J. J. Morse, Mrs. Longley Mrs. Everitt, Mrs. Hagan-Jackson and other mediums say about Jesus etc. other mediums say about Jesus, etc. Price $1.25.

A Critical and Crushing Review By Dr. Peebles of the Rev. Dr. Kipp's five lectures against Spiritualism. This crisp and critical reply of the Doctor. while repudiating spiritism, and all frauds connected with the subject, sustains Spiritualism, considering it the complement of primitive Christianity Price 25 cents.

Fiftieth Anniversary of Modern Spiritg ualism.

An elegant pamphlet containing an account of the exercises at Rochester, and Hydesville, N. Y., at the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of Modern Spiritualism. It contains the addresses of some of the most noted speakers This is a most valuable book. It comes from an Ex.

Priest, whose character is above reproach, and who knows what he is talking about. Everybody should road it. Price, $1.00. It contains the following chapters:

of some of the most noted speakers present. It contains the picture of the Hydesville cottage, wreath, etc. Price, ters:

of How to Keep Young.

This book goes to the foundation of things health, the laws of health, the foods to eat, the subject of marriage, who should marry and who should not marry, the causes of divorce, the proper time for conception, gestation, the determining of sex, animal fiesh-eating, what Herodotus, Hesiod, Homer, Pythagoras, Shelley, Graham and others ate, the foods that produce long life and how to live "immertal" on earth, etc. This book is written in Dr. Peebles' usually clear; crisp style, and attracts their reader from the very first through its facts, logic and convincing arguments, handsomely bound in cloth Price $1.

Vaccination a Curse and a Menace to Personal Liberty. This finely illustrated volume of between three hundred and four hundred pages, by Dr. Peebles, treats exhaustively of inoculation, cow-pox and calflymph vaccination from Jenner's time to the present. It tells how the cowpox pus poison is obtained-how the vaccine virus, while causing many deaths, sows the seed of eczema, pimpled faces, cancers, tumors, ulcers and leprosy. It gives a history of the several years' battle against vaccination in England, Parliament making it. "optional" instead of compulsory. This book should be in every school library, and family. Price $1.25. Dr. PEEBLES' Pamphlets and Books

In the World Celestial. By DR. T. A. BLAND. "It is inexpressibly delightful."-Hon. C. A

"It is inexpressibly delightful."—Hon. C. A. Windle.
"It lifts the reader into enchanting realms."— Modical Gleanor.
"It is intensely interesting."—Rev. Minot J. Barage.
"Three things make this book remarkable. Its authorship, the astounding claims put forth in it, and the philosophy and revelation of a future life it consists."—B. O. Flower, in the Arena.
"It will give us coupage to pass through the deep shadows of death to the sun-lit olime of the World Celestial."—Rev. H. W. Thomas.
"Everybody will be charmed with it, for it is not only a great Spiritual book, but a moss beautiful romance of two worlds."—Banner of Light.

Light.
It is Printed in elegant style and bound in sloth and gold. Pric $1.00.

Or Initiation in the Theoretical and Practical secrets of Astral Truth and Occult Art. By William P. William Artipara "National Magio." The book treats of the Symbol of the Cross, Spirisual Gins, Inspirational Conception, Initiative Exposition, The Astral Brotherhood, Mayeage of the Brotherhood, The Magic Mirror, and Colestial Companionalin. It is a good text book for students of the Mystic, and will be sent postpaid, in paper, for $1.00.

THE GOSPEL OF BUDDHA, According to Old Records. By Dr. Paul Carus. A translation made from Japanese, under the auspices of the Rev. Shaku Soyer, delegate to the Parliament of Religions. Was published in Japan. Price, $1.

MAHOMET, THE ILLUSTRIOUS! By Godfroy Higgins, Esq. This work is one of the Library of Liboral Classics. No author was better qualified to write an imparty denoest life of Mahomet than Godfrey Hand this volume is intonsely interest. It should be read in conjunction with Globon's work. Price, 25 cents.

THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS Not Adapted to Modern Civilization, with the Tree Character of Mary Magdaiene. By Geo. W. Browills. M. D. Frice, 15 cents. For sale at this times.

Entered at Ohicago Postonine as second-class matte TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. THE PROGRESSIVE TRIBERS Will be furnished until further notice, at the following terms, invariably in advance:

Six Months.
Thirteen Weeks.
Bingle Copy.
REMITTANCES.

REMITTANCES.

Remit by Postoffice Money Order, Registered Letter or draft on Chicago or New York. It costs from 10 to it cents to get checks cashed on legal banks, so don't send them unless you wish that amount deducted from the amount sent. Address all letters to J. R. FRANCIS, No. 40 Loomis Street, Chicago, Ill. TAKE NOTICE.

The approximation of subscription, if not renewed, the paper is discontinued. No bills will be sent for extra numbers.

##7 If you do not receive your paper promptly write to us, and any errors in address will be promptly corrected, and missing numbers supplied gratis. Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, always give the address of the place to which it is then sent or the change cannot be made.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1, 1903.

TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES. The price of The Progressive Thinker per year to foreign countries, is $1.75.

TAKE NOTICE.

All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

HUDSON TUTTLE.

Editor-at-Large for the National Spirit ualist Association.

Mr. Tuttle has been engaged to an swer all attacks in the secular or religious press on Spiritualism. Send him clippings when an attack is made, giv ing date and name of paper. Address him at Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC. All money in donations or collections intended for the N. S. A. Mediums' Home or Relief Fund, should be sent to this office to the secretary, if not directly paid to our authorized missionaries, who can show a missionary cer tificate of later date than October, 1902. No other is authorized to collect money for this association. Contributions, large or small, are gratefully accepted.

MARY T. LONGLEY,

N. S. A. Secretary. 600 Pennsylvania avenue S. E., Wash-

Readers, Take Due Notice.

No one can intelligently review "A Great Psychological Crime" without first carefully reading the book, hence no criticism of the same will be admitted to our columns unless the above conditions are complied with.

Pope Leo and Romish Tactics. Readers of the daily newspapers have been treated to a surfeit of details long drawn out anent the sickness and death of Pope Leo. emissaries have exploitered the matter. for all it was worth, in the interest of "the church."

They have worked upon the natural sympathetic feelings incident to humanity, to sway the minds of people into thoughts and feelings favorable to.

They have begun studying the problem one of the most luxurious palinto thoughts and feelings favorable to abilities and possibilities of their own aces on earth, surrounded by a throng ward Catholicism. His death has been kindred returning from that bourne and of priests, cardinals and flunkles, all in made to appear as a world-wide calam- as long as they seek they shall find and robes of satin, belaced and gold-em ity—a terrible loss to mankind. Chicago newspaper displayed a cartoon of life. They can find it at home by the wandering master who had not a place representing the globe encircled by a sacred family hearth by the asking, for to lay his head, and whose command band of crepe-the whole world mourning the death of Pope Leo.

As a man, Leo undoubtedly had good traits.

As a pope, his influence was not in harmony with human progress and the onward march of humanity in religious ideals and mental liberty.

He was a Romanist above all things else-as are all other true Romanists. To consolidate and strengthen "the church" was his constant and highest

Not human rights, human liberties, human progress, human advancement and security along lines of free thought. but to fasten and clinch the bondage of slavery to medieval religious ideas, to hold the minds of men in servile obedience to "the church" and the Romish

The good qualities that pertain to such characters as men, make them all the more dangerous as the insidious foes of human rights and human liberty, in their capacity of rulers and exponents of systems that bind human thoughts in churchly bondage.

Rome-insidious old Rome-is making the most of her present opportunity to play upon the sympathies of humanity-and silly Protestants are selling themselves as willing assistants to help the Romish purposes

For Leo's character as a man, we may hold deep respect; for his or any other man's assumptions as Pope hav ing authority over the minds and consciences of men, we have only con-

As an astute clerico-politician and diplomatist we may regard Leo with a feeling akin to that experienced by "St. John the Divine" as noted in Rev. xvii. when he saw in a vision a woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations, etc., "and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration."

But when we see millions of minds fettered by superstition and ecclesiasticism through the dominating power of papacy, admiration changes to horror and righteous hate toward papacy as the arch enemy of mankind.

A Question of Punishment.

Henry Ward Beecher told how to make good coffee. "Go to the restaurants and learn how they make coffee, and then make it as they don't." Thousands will recognize the wisdom of his

But who shall be the judge of what is good coffee? And hence arises another question:

What is the proper punishment for failure to make good coffee? Some husbands take it out in scolding or fault-finding, etc., but recently a Chicago husband, finding his coffee not to his liking, set out to administer corrective punishment in the old-fashioned way, by spanking his wife. She considered that she had out-Every Critical thinker will want to read it in grown that style of punishment since order to keep posted as to what is going on. It will prove a veritable Storm Center in our ranks.

her childhood days, and had him arrested for assault and battery. Well-we don't think much of a man who finds fault with his wife's cooking, or her coffee, anyway. It is he who deserves spanking.

Still Goes Marching On. Spiritualism may have its drawbacks and setbacks, but somehow it still goes marching on, like the soul of good old

An Instructive Object Lesson.

of the physicians attending Pope Leo have presented to the world! Their place has made them conspicuous and has shown in more superlative light the

With the Pope it is different. Such a great man ought to be kept from dving.

If the doctors cannot save him, what is

We have seen the same exhibition in this country on several occasions. We yet is eagerly sought for. It wins dol-

A more pitiable spectacle was never presented before gods or man, than Leo

XIII, in the decrepitude of age, holding ally long and by church judgment, successful reign, as the head of the dominant sect of the Christian world; to whom kings and emperors are vassals:

whose supreme power as given by God is above temporal governments, makes him all the more eager to hold on to life church, he is supposed to give all to the church, yet by way of gifts from the faithful, and sharp investments, he has able as it is, to see this senile represen-

The world stands aghast at the death of this old man, who with his court and the machinery of its influence, is sad-

Superstition and ignorance are his already, for years, there has been strife

The Pope is God-appointed between rival candidates, and the wrangling waxes hotter as the end apbut the cardinals do the voting and make the choice. Little difference to mankind is the choice, for whoever it may be he must carry this innumerable

This superfluous theocratic court, founded on myth and fable, pushed to power by unbounded greed, which has clutched the throat of civilization, and dragged mankind downward through all ages, and would to-day had it the pow er, set up its throne on the ruins of Lib erty, enforcing its dogmas with the sword and torture, is outlawed by its own testimony. It stands a menace to the future, an ominous cloud of storm

The Pope is dead. The scene is transferred to the spirit world. Will he pass from the follies and vain glories of tais life? Will he be greeted by obse quious priests, and renew his court or he other side? We are assured that his rank and court will be maintained.

TRUTH.

All conviction should be valiant; Tell thy truth, if truth it be,

Thoughts, like rivers, find the sea; It will fit the widening circle

Speak thy thought if thou believ'st it

Let it jostle whom it may, E'en although the foolish scorn it,

Or the obstinate gainsay;

Every seed that grows to-morrow

Lies beneath the clod to-day.

The Attainment of Womaly Beauty of Form and Features. The Cultiva-tion of Personal Beauty, Based on Hygiene and Health Culture. By twenty physicians and specialists. Edited by

-Truth Seeker.

Never seek to stem its current,

Of eternal verity.

retinue with him.

the good of medical science?

John Brown, and everyone else, Pioneer Spiritualists had a pretty hard fight to push the principles of fu- utter helplessness of the doctors in the ture existence and possibility of spirit presence of great emergency. The docreturn through the quagmire of ignor- for may come in at the death of John ance and superstition and over the Doe or Bill Brown and they are not subrocky road of science, but, after the jected to the lime-light of criticism manner of pioneers, their one aim and These poor and unknown would die purpose seemed to be success, and failure could not come.

They had cool facts back of their purpose as a stimulus and they fought on and on, and some of them are still fighting. Few have gone back to old superstition and fewer to materialism, and these have hardly been noticed by the recall the daily bulletins from the phyhungry souls in search of truth, and sicious attending the dying Garfield, who have increased our numbers till we about "healthy pus," when it was oozing are now counted by the millions instead from a septic infiltration they had not of the little handful that hung around dreamed of! We had bulletins prothe open doorway at Hydesville, N. Y. claiming the delightful recovery of

This is in fifty-five years; this in the President McKinley, when he was rapface of a bitter foe, a scheming clergy idly sinking. At the supreme moment with its tenacious, prejudiced following, when, if ever, medical skill is demandand the rapidly increasing charlatans ed, it is found wanting. No art can who sought to imitate our phenomena save the dying, and the efforts of the for the gain of wealth, and encouraged most famous doctors and the empirical by the church who saw in the scheme ways of the cheapest quacks, pretendour ultimate collapse—that never came, ing and making believe with highsound-

Still goes marching on and on, ing reports, to a knowledge they do not though laws have been enacted and en- possess, are on a common level. To forced, until it became necessary in or- read the reports of the Pope's physider to stand among the similar institu- clans, one would be led to believe that tions of this country covered by the a man is a machine and requires a doc-Constitution, that we should have a tor to attend him as a machine needs Declaration of Principles and an Infi. an attendant. The doctors keep watch nite Intelligence swung over our pro- and by this or that drug, oil and repair gressive heads; but that has not pre- the machinery. All the greatly wealthy vented our march or even made us (not great) men carry a doctor as a stumble; it is merely stepping in the part of their retinue, to groom them. tracks made by others who have passed It is not a place apparently attractive, this way before us.

We find, though Spiritually inclined, lars and gives consequence to a semwe are still upon the earth, and though blance of a man. In some instances bearing a lamp to our feet and a light the parvenu has added to the court docto our pathway we are obliged to sub- tor a court fool, which under the cirmit to many inconveniences, put up cumstances seems entirely called for. with many galling oppressions from a | And another observation may be made: The Pope has contended for the still ignorant and prejudiced world.

We find that with all the proof and miraculous works of the bones and logic we have at our command it is ut other relics of the saints. Why did he terly impossible to make everybody not send for the holy Coat of Treves, or thrown down the old and take up the the Vial of Precious Blood? He relied new religion, throw down the Bible on his physicians, thus showing his disand take up the scientific, historical, belief and hypocrisy. philosophical books of to-day, so a school has sprung up where the old book that has been so sacred to past ages can be interpreted towards the proof of the spiritual philosophy, and with avaricious avidity to life and the to that extent put a damper or check- powers that life gives him. An unusudraft upon the orthodox furnace, ice in the lake of fire and a safety valve upon the old Devil. It goes marching on and if every old present-day worker should be swallowed up in death to-morrow Spiritual-sm would setill go marching on.

If the N. S. A. should become a thing and its emoluments. As head of of the past; if every newspaper that advocates her principles should fail of support and sink into oblivion Spiritualism would still go marching on.

If every camp-meeting should cease to exist and the school of biblical exetiated with his success, and ready to gesis collapse, the truth would go obey the will of the master he pretends marching on, for it has set the world to serve. But like a child surrounded ablaze with its glory and people have by gaudy toys, he clings to his place With characteristic finesse Romish ing one to thinking, pondering and weightings and is intent only on earthly things.

It is a grotesque mockery, a farce too pathic doses of orthodoxy and biblical pitiable to laugh at, supremely laughlore with any interpretation. They are made skeptical and are looking for the nail-holes in the Master's hands

> One continue to find evidence of continuity broidered, asserting to represent the the doors are ajar, not to the few, but was not to take thought of things of to all who seek and make the condi- this world. tions proper and inviting.

Spiritualism still goes marching on, though there is a book published that thoroughly exposes the tricks of bogus died on the back of humanity, and fed mediums and a few are sore afraid it with the life's blood of its toil. will work hardships for the genuine melums.

It has appeared from the first rap will have another ready to mount. Althat the more there was to oppose the more rapidly the cause grew; the more hills there were to climb the easier they were climbed and now there is reason to believe it cannot be stopped for its mission is for the good of human ity and its strength is truth.

FROM THE N. S. A.

Important Notices to National Association Auxiliaries.

State associations-having individual members-as well as subordinate societies—are entitled to one delegate to the N. S. A. convention on their charter, and to one delegate for every fifty indiand disaster. vidual members or major fraction thereof; also, to one additional delegate for each society in good standing with the state association, provided the sum of two dollars has been contributed to the N. S. A. by said local society.

Amendments for Convention of 1903. Unfinished Business.-Cons. Article 10, change the word "thirty" on the fifth line to "sixty."

Amend-That a quorum for the transiction of business shall consist of a majority vote of duly accredited delegates.

Presidential Candidates. As there will be several candidates for the office of N. S. A. president, soeleties are requested to refrain from pledging their delegates to vote for any special person, although a preference may be expressed to the delegates by their societies. The election hour may present matters that will demand the exercise of the best judgment of the delegates in casting their votes, that the business may not come to a standstill, or to worse confusion. MARY T. LONGLEY. N. S. A. Secretary.

The Great Psychological Crime

This is an epoch making book, and will create no end of discussion in the ranks of Spiritualism.

It will be sent to any address for $2.00.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail." By Chas. B. Newcomb. Excellent in spiritual Albert Turner." Of especial interest suggestiveness. Cloth, $1.50. For sale and value. For sale at this office. at this office.

RADIANT ENERGY AND ITS ANALYSIS: What an object lesson the bulleting

Its Relations to Medern Astrophysics.—By Edgar L. Larkin, Director Lowe Observatory, Echo Mountain, Cal.

As a specimen of high art printing and book-making, this volume is a perfect sample. The text is worthy of the fluest dress. It is refreshing to read the pages written by one having authority of knowledge, and original research, giving a fair fresh view of the wonderful field of "vibrations," anyway and the fault is their own. which has been exploitered by smatterers, and occupied by the crass theories of pretenders and quacks,

It has been mournfully repeated that the age of poetry had passed and nothing could be expected of the muses when the hard, dry facts of material science had displaced the gods and goddesses, the nymphs and fairles of fancy.

The reader of "Radiant Energy" will be undeceived and will agree that Professor Larkin is a poet and has written a series of poems which carry the imagination into boundless fields such as no poet of the past has dared to enter. In a pleasing style he takes the reader into his confidence and introduces him to the mysteries of the observatory, where nightly, year in and year out, he keeps patient watch of the heavens. He cannot go out over the abysses and gather samples of the stuff of which the stars are made, but he has the spectroscope which he describes, which analyzes the light of the stars, and as certainly reveals the elements of which those bodies are composed.

The sun as the source of energy for the solar system, first claims attention. The intense heat of the surface is sufficient to convert carbon, which no heat controlled by man is able to change, into a gas which is mingled in the sun's atmosphere with the vapors of all the metals. Through the immense telescope, in the clear air of the mountains of California, he watches the terrific turmoil on the surface of the sun, and attempts to paint the scene by words. The whole surface of the sun is thrown into constant agitation, like the surface of the storm-swept ocean, by the internal conflict of contending forces. Vast jets of hydrogen are thrown up, often extending 250,000 and 300,000 miles from the surface, and continental upheavals and mountain elevations are thrown up and sink with equal rapidity. Vast spots appear, increasing until 50,000 or 80,000 miles across, surrounded by penumbra making their diameter 150,000 miles. Their surface appears intensely black, yet is several times brighter than the electric arc, the surrounding incandescent surface is so much brighter this is dark by contrast. These spots are depressions, thousands of feet in depth, caused by cyclones or the falling of partially cooled gases swent unward into the outlying space. Over the edges of these pits the incandescent tides pour in flaming Niagaras, and send up glittering jets so intense the eve cannot bear them.

These spots have direct connection with the electric and magnetic condition of the earth. The wireless telegraph sends messages a few hundred miles, the central office at the sun has no difficulty in sending messages to the earth across 93,000,000 miles of space, and probably with equal facility to the outer planet Neptune, over five billions of miles away When the spots are large the astronomer knows that magnetic disturpances will follow on the earth. Every magnetic needle will tremble and telegraph lines will be affected. Of the connection of the spots with the aurora borealis we quote a striking paragraph:

"From morning to night the solar surface was in violent agitation. Colossal centers of cyclonic activity were watched in telescope the entire day. There were 111 spots counted from 8 a. m. till sunset, the largest being 67,000 miles long and 48,000 wide." Of the aurora which followed: "From midnight till 1 a. m.

the activity was at its height, the whole northern heavens from horizon to equator, being belted and banded by stream ers, while flashes were incessant."

"The light of the sun comes from the white-hot carbon en velop." The heat of the sun which falls on a square yard of the earth's surface is equal to three horse power continuously exerted.

That section entitled "Plan of the Palace of the Universe," is like a vedic hymn of science. It treats of the loftlest concentions possible to be entertained by the human mind. He tells us of the vast starcluster to which our sun belongs, where in "many directions suns (stars) are in such colo heaps and depths that there is scarcely room for more on the graphic plate. The distance between each, however, is as great or greater than that separating the sun from its neighbors-twenty-five trillions of miles-except in case of bina ries and close clusters."

The telescope, however increased in power, does not magnify the stars. They are so remote that the highest power is inappreciable. They appear always as points of light. After the telescope has exhausted its power, photography reveals the presence of countless others. There are innumer able bodies in space whose light is too feeble to affect the eye, yet their actinic waves impress the sensitive plate. In the familiar cluster of the Seven Stars or Pleiades, the photograph reveals seven thousand, and the map of the whole sky gives over seven hundred millions. And yet beyond is the faint intimation of countless others. Crowded as they apparently are, the distance between the nearest is incomprehensible. Space is the most lavish thing in nature, From the earth to Sirius, one of the nearest stars, is fifty trillions of miles. Light is eight and a half years in passing that distance. Arcturus is nine hundred and fifty trillions of miles, and to pass that space light requires 160 years, although it speeds at 186,000 miles in a second. In these vast spaces, the earth is as a grain of dust.

Most startling of all is the theory of the formation of suns and worlds by "gemmation," a process resembling the multiplication of lower forms of living beings, as the amoeba. A sun divides by stricture of compression through the middle, and each part is thrown off as a distinct body, thus suns and worlds are born and the astronomer sitting in his observatory, through the telescope, can watch every stage of this evolution and development. For scattered over the sky are bodies in all stages of this process, from the nebulous cloud to the flaming sun. The birth-labors of countless millions of years is thus brought within the single sweep of the instru-

Professor Larkin says: "The evanescent, fleeting, unstable thing or entity-life-was the last to appear in the midst of the stupendous cosmic war of matter and energy, and will be

"Short as may be the duration of organic life, that of its chief product-mind-is shorter still. • • • Thus mind has the least duration of any entity whatever, for soon mentality will vanish, unconsciousness set in and oblivion succeed."

Here we pause, for the first time to differ. We cannot believe that such are the settled convictions of the author They are no more than a reflection on his mind in contrast with the incomprehensible grandeur and vastness of the cosmos. Vast as it all is and mysterious, Prof. Larkin, in his mountain seclusion, solves many of the most profound problems of matter and space. He analyzes their light and thus finds the composition of the stars. By mathematics he weighs them and computes their revolutions and distances. He comprehends the principles on which the cosmos is constructed. How is it possible for his mind to comprehend? How can he enter the arcane courts of oreation, and read the innermost secrets of the force which drives all onward to perfecting evolution?

Is it not because of the mind or spirit which is outwrought in the universe? After this mighty display of mind in nature, are we to say that the duration of its chief factor, mind, is brief and unconsequential? Than life, "shorter still"?

Probably the author has in mind man, in whom intelligence is manifested. Well, he is the last factor in this evolution, the condensation of all efforts, and the fruitage." It is through and by means of him that the mind in nature is "individualized," and out of the turmoil of matter an immortal spiritual entity evolved. Not "fleeting," but the most enduring of all is mind. For in the words of the author, the universe will grow old, decrepit in its decay, its component stars and worlds be burled together and reduced to original fire-mist. Then will the process be repeated!

Ah, yes, but the mind which controlled the preceding evolution will control this. All forms have vanished into nothinguess, but directing mind remains unchanged and unchangeable. Out of the ruin has escaped individualized forms as spiritual beings. These are permanent, and the steps by which they gained their individualization, are the fleeting shadows.

The book is an inspiration. It lifts one to the mountain summit and lifts the mist-curtains of the horizon, and while humiliated by the infinitude of worlds of space and time, we are exalted with the conscious pride that we are peers of the realm, capable of perfect comprehension, and heirs to immortality.

Evolution has no meaning or purpose unless this be its fruitage. HUDSON THTTLE.

THE CONFESSIONAL.

Extracts From Father Chiniquy's Book, "The Priest, the Woman, and the Confessional."

After twenty-five years of hearing the confessions of the common people, and of the highest classes of society, of the laymen and the priests, of the grand vicars, bishops, and nuns, I conscientiously say before the world, that the immorality of the confessional is of a more dangerous and degrading nature than that which we attribute to the social evil of our great cities. I declare that the confessor himself encounters more terrible dangers when hearing the confessions of refined and highly educated ladies, than when listening to those of a humbler class of his female penitents. I solemply testify that the well-educated lady, when she has once surrendered herself to the power of her confessor, becomes at least as vulnerable to the arrows of the enemy as the poorer and less educated. Nay, I must say that once on the downhill road of perdition, the high-bred lady runs headlong into the pit with more deplorable rapidity than her humbler

Many would be the folio volumes which I should have to write, were I to publish all that my twenty-five years' experience in the confessional has taught me of the unspeakable secret corruption of the greatest part of the so-called respectable ladies, who have unconditionally surrendered themselves into the hands of their "holy" confessors.

I have heard the confession of more than two hundred priests, and, to say the truth, as God knows it, I must declare that only twenty-one had not to weep over the secret or public sins committed through the irresistible, corrupting influences of auricular confession. I am now more than seventyseven years old, and, in a short time, I shall be in my grave. I shall have to give an account of what I now say. Well, in the presence of my great judge, with my tomb before my eyes, I declare to the world that very few-yes, very fewpriests escape from falling into the pit of the most horrible moral depravity the world has ever known, through the confessions of females.

Not long ago a printer in England was sent to jail and severely punished for having published in English the questions put by the priest to the women in the confessional: and the sentence was equitable, for all who read those questions will conclude that no girl or woman who brings her mind into contact with the contents of that book can escape from moral death. But what are the priests of Rome doing in the confessional? Do they not pass the greatest part of their time in questioning females, old and young, and hearing their answers on those very matters? * * * What is the difference between a woman or a girl learning those things in a book or learning them from the lips of a man? • • • Let us suppose that each priest hears the confessions of only five female penitents every day (though we know the daily average is ten), it gives the awful number of five hundred thousand women whom the priests of Rome have the legal right to pollute and destroy each day of the year!

There is not a single one of the Roman Catholic authors who have written on this subject for the priests who has not deplored the innumerable and degrading sins against purity on account of the auricular confession; but those very men will be the very first to try to prove the very contrary when they write books for the people.

SPIRITS TELL OF USING MENTAL SCIENCE.

When I was twelve years old I heard the spirit voice speak distinct words to me, while I was alone in a dark room. At that time I had never heard of spirits speaking or even being near anyone. I thought my father and mother, whom I lost before I was three years old, were in the heaven the minister told of, with pearly gates and streets of gold.

I believed God spoke to me, as He was told of speaking in a still small voice. At other times I realized a voice spoke directly to me directing my acts, and instructing me in many ways. Later I learned of Spiritualism and understood what the influence beside me was, and developed clairaudient hearing, so that at any and all times I hear the voices and talk with the father and mother, lost in my infant years, but found beside me as my spirit guides.

Their instructions have been a higher education to me. They teach me that the laws of nature in all things are the ruling element in their life as well as in my own. That mental conditions are the ruling law of spirit life, and that telepathy or wireless telephone is their usual mode of communicating. They have given me proof of this by giving mo messages coming from those at a distance of hundreds of miles, and letters coming later bearing the same news.

I was told by my father a few weks ago that he had, during the spring received several messages coming from his sister, telling of her anxiety regarding my cousin's health. This aunt is in spirit life, but is with her daughter, as my parents are with me—so I am told by the spirit voice. I had not corresponded with this cousin and had not heard from her even indirectly for years. I at once yrote to a niece in New York State directing her to inquire about my cousin's health. A week later the letter came telling that my cousin had in March fallen and was so badly injured that she had not been well since.

Last fall, a week before the G. A. R. encampment, at 11 o'clock on Weddesday, I was told by my father that he had just received a telepathic message from Wisconsin. My husband's brother was coming to the encampment, but his wife was not coming. They got the impression of a gentleman coming with him and two children, one a girl. Saturday the letter came telling the same message. The two children were a nephew and niece; the latter neither my husband nor myself had ever heard of, as it had been thirty years since this brother and other relatives went to Wisconsin, and for years had not corresponded. The letter was written on Wednesday, the day I received the spirit message, and they all came the next week. MRS. MAY A. PRICE. Washington, D. C.

To pretend to be human in the name or with the idea of a God means to pretend to be free in the name or with the idea of a despot.—Karl Heinzen.

The more reason is improved, the more does it destroy tho seeds of religious wars. It is the spirit of philosophy that has banished this plague from the earth.—Voltaire.

Theocracy has actively assisted in throttling all republics and turned them into ecclesiastical despotisms and ultimate ruin by steering the people's aspirations after divine phantoms.-E. A. Stevens.

The character of Moses, as stated in the Bible is the most horrible that can be imagined. If those accounts be true, he was the wretch that first began and carried on wars on the score or on the pretense of religion, and under that mask or that infatuation committed the most unexampled atrocities that are to be found in the history of any nation.—Paine,

THE VALUE OF LIFE

If Life Does Not End, It is Everything

That which perishes is of no value, save as a means to an end. That which has no end, only has true value. Amid the changing scenes of life, nothing endures except life itself; therefore, human existence alone has real, substantial value, and all things pertaining to it have value only because they are means in the support and success of

There is an instinct of self-preservation, a desire to enjoy and an impulse to defend and protect life that exceeds every other instinct and impulse, save in great emergencies; but its neverending existence would be of no value, were it not for man's capacity for enjoyment, happiness. If life would per-ish—what then? Nothing. But it does not end; therefore, it is everything. But to those who think it ends with the dissolution of the body, the same instinct to preserve and impulse to protect it obtains; and for what? For the fleeting joys so often mixed with woes, the satisfaction of those, and the avoidance of these, absorb the entire energies of the life of the masses who ask for nothing more. This is the doctrine of the Epicureans. They know that physical life will end, and they think that it its close, all they hold dear is as nothing; therefore, to them life has no real, substantial value; for

"This life is but a fleeting show, For man's illusion given;

The smiles of joy, the tears of woe, Deceitful shine, deceitful flow— There's nothing true but heaven."

There is as much difference between the value of the life of a materialist and that of a Spiritualist, in the estimation of each respectively, as there is be-tween the perishable and the imperishable, the finite and the infinite. To the one, life on earth is the all in all; his entire energies are expended in the pursuit of mere worldly interests and sensuous enjoyments which are gone forever when satisty is reached; and their over-indulgence inevitably brings pain and misery, as only the sufferers can know.

To the other, life is the vestibule that opens up to a higher, nobler life whose enjoyments grow and intensify by their repetition and exercise, in never-ending stages of progress, ever advancing toward, yet never reaching absolute perfection.

The life of the materialist is ever deteriorating as earth life nears its end, and diminishing in such value as he himself puts upon it; while that of the Spiritualist is ever-increasing in value; being enriched by every good act, the opportunities for which throng his daily life, and at its close he finds a home happy and beautiful beyond expression builded by his own earthly career.

To the materialist, however, justice must be done. His good acts are re-warded; though that incentive is incidental, and not inspired as are those of the Spiritualist; and his progress on the other side is slow and attended with many and serious difficulties.

In consequence of the limited and low estimate of life in regard to its aims and purposes, the great mass of mankind occupy all their time, and exhaust all their energies, in the pursuit of those things (with the exception of subsistence itself), that go to impoverish, rather than to enrich life; or at least, to such results as must be overcome in the future.

Every human being is the repository of infinite possibilities, though they are never suspected, save by a few. To the great mass of mankind, life is simply for the enjoyments of this world; and consequently these only are pursued. Since their reasonable success in their pursuit satisfies them, they are not inclined to abandon that pursuit for a higher and nobler one.

The question, Is life worth living? in often asked. The reason why this question is so often asked has its rise in the limited and comparatively low estimate of life itself, and its ever-recurring disappointments by the generality of people. Whatever may be their pretensions, the acts of their lives speak a more decisive language, and we see thousands fall, and voluntarily end it. Grasping greed and failure to satisfy it, and the indulgence of unbridled passion, defeat life's purposes. This is no time for circumlocution. This language may seem too severe, but it expresses the truth. The custom of writers is to gloss over the surface and present a flattering superficial view of society. At painful truth is seldom spoken, or favorably received, as it reflects unfavorably upon the speaker. A pleasing falsehood is more readily accepted.

The true value of life, then, is a matter of profound consideration which being duly appreciated would immeasurably enhance the value of life and proportionately increase the well-being of society, and materially improve the conditions of mankind, industrially, religiously, politically, morally and spiritualy. Life abounds in opportunities for enriching its possessor when the incentive is duly brought to bear.

And what is the incentive? The conception and realization of man's immeasurable capacity for happiness; of his endless existence and eternal pro-And who but the Spiritualists know this? Not one. Where much is given, much is required; and to the Spiritualists this work of enhancing the value of life is given. It is not only a gracious realization, but a glorious privilege; and withal, it is fraught with tremendous responsibilities that cannot be evaded with impunity. Great, indeed, will be their reward when met and deep will be their regret if that responsibility is not met either in conse quence of disinclination or neglect. E. J. SCHELLHOUS.

Religious Orders Very Rich.

The following official figures give an idea of the extraordinary riches possessed by the various religious orders in France, the growth of which M. Waldeck-Rousseau's bill, introduced into the chamber in 1901, tended to arrest.

In 1881 the property of the associate tions was valued in all at $166,000,000. This has been increased to-day to $400. 000,000, according to the official register tration, though $2,000,000.000 would be nearer right. It is estimated that if, the state could recover this property, which legitimately belongs to it, it would thereby be enabled either to reduce by half the war budget or lessen the national taxation by $60,000,000 and nually. It is also pointed out that this enor mous increase in material property has led to the multiplication of religious schools, an institution looked upon as detrimental to the growth of republican ideals. The property owned by the four richest orders in France is thus estimated: The Christian School Broth ers, $17,200,000; the Sisters of St. Vincent, $12,600,000; the Sisters of the Poor, $5,400,000, and the Jesuits, $9,800,

"Death Defeated; or the Psychic Secret of How to Keep Young," By J. M. Peebles, M. D., M. A., Ph. D. Price 11.

The Soul Teachings.

Incarnation, Reincarnation and Embodiments Explained.

A Lecture Given by the Guides of Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond.

"Is this the incarnate word whom we call God?"

Words are only valuable, dear friends, as they convey an accurate meaning of the thought intended. But unquestionably in theology, as in other things, there is not only a misunderstanding of words, but words sometimes pervert the meaning of the ideas.

Many things are taught to-day in Christendom that were not taught in the gospels of Christ; and many things are taught under the name of Buddha that Buddha never intended, for the metaphysical and subtle terms employed in time and sense has to do. Neither belittling the soul nor exaltthe Buddhistic teaching must not only baffle interpretation by the western mind, but have been largely perverted, even by oriental scholars. In the oriental language there is no equivalent for that which is called "incarnation." The vocabulary of English definitions places emphasis on the definition, that to be incarnated is to "become flesh." Manifestly anything that can become flesh is not spirit, is not soul, Consequently we reject that term in its accepted definition. Reincarnation would be becoming flesh again.

Undoubtedly the original idea was coupled with the Deity personated in Christ was, of course, for the time being identifled with humanity, but whatever the life of Christ reprethat the human form, as much as could be, expressed in that tion with time and sense is not that the soul is reincarnated. form all of the divine purpose for which Jesus came, and was manifested in Him.

Yet this term (incarnation) is not applied, nor its equivnlent, to Buddha. It is not true in the higher and inner meaning of Buddhism that there is any thought that the soul or spirit becomes flesh, or becomes matter at all. The per-,vading of the universe by the spirit of God, or by the eternal good (Brahm), and the pervading of the body by the spirit is, picture spoils it; the architect who tries to re-build a buildunquestionably that which is meant. And the word "reincarnation" is baffling also.

In conversation with Buddhists and several Oriental scholars during the world's parliament of religions in the year of the Columbian Exposition, it was clearly shown by them that they could not accept the western interpretation of their pala but Vivekananda said there was no adequate explanaword, either in the Brahminical, Buddhistic or Vedic philos- learned. ophy. It is a western attempt at the interpretation, or enguage. The English language thus far almost refuses to of the soul.

In this we are not discussing or conveying any thought that there was a wish to pervert the truth. On the consincerely endeavored to clothe the Oriental idea with a suit-

Edwin Arnold, is not only scholarly, but it bears forward little attempt is made to interpret them with the western So when it comes to expression, expression in time and ideas. In other words, if we would know what the Brah. mins or Buddhists mean by successive lives, we must think and the soul is no more reluctant to take on those condithe thoughts that the Brahmin or the Buddhist does, aptions a thousand times than one time. proach the theme as the Brahmin or Buddhist does, know the meaning of Brahm as the Brahmin or Buddhist knows it.

western mind now. But when we commenced teaching successive embodiments, not only was there no Theosophy, but karma before they get to the end, the result, therefore, of acthere had been only little thought given to Oriental ideas. Many years ago Thomas Wentworth Higginson had endeavton some idea of the Oriental religions. Then it was claimed come. You are not reaping the consequences of something It was because these human problems had been solved the association was giving more attention to paganism than to Christianity. Finally when some Oriental representatives of what you have not or have done. If you are doing someof eastern religions were introduced, it was considered an thing in a very clumsy way, it is not punishment for some-Innovation, and an insult to an enlightened and Christian thing, but because you have not achieved the victory of docommunity.

After the organization of the Theosophical Society there called human failures. was, of course, considerable thought given to this subject. But when that society was requested to recognize Madame Blavatsky as its principal head, all the idea centered in her, as the only one who could communicate with the "Mahatmas." Then it simply became a revolving around a personality that was as unlike the Buddhistic idea as it was possible to conceive. Of course "Theosophy" has taken an inther the interpretation of Oriental scholars who, under va- best in the English language to express what we meant for Hous names and various orders, schools and cults have inculcated much of the Oriental philosophy.

that we think reincarnation is supposed to have, and which Is supposed to be the interpretation of what Buddha taught, seems like embodied wisdom," or of such a person as "empr that which his followers thought: It is supposed that, that bodied harmony." That is what we mean by the embodiwhich is incorporated in the human organism is a breath from Brahm, is a part of the life of Brahm, is a "spark of the embodied sorrow, or embodied distress. But whatever it is, Infinite." Mr. Sinnett and Madam Blavatsky say it passes fortunately it is not you; it is only what you are doing. Here through various reincarnations. In other words, that this was a man making a terrific noise last Sunday, yet you did Same spark passes on from its source, wherever that may be. not mistake that noise for the man, because, evidently he In India it is believed in the transmigrations of souls, was doing it because he thought he must. But the noise through lower animals to man, then from man onward. That It passes through successive reincarnations, reaching trilumphantly at last the goal from whence it started after many, many ages. But, according to Madame Blavatsky and according to Mr. Sinnett and other writers in Oriental Human lives do not know it, but somewhere in the great lifeliterature, there is a possibility of this spark becoming so involved in "karma" or the consequences of earthly life and earthly desires that it can be lost.

by that loss? If it is a spark from God, how can it be lost? Just here we suspect. We do not consider that Buddha have been millions like him—who had been holding upon his taught that; and no other Oriental scholar from the Orient single hands and shoulders a great financial responsibility; Whom we have met believes it. Whatever the illusions of time and sense, whatever the glamor of human life, it is their nights walking the floor, rushing madly hither and thither blaim, that ultimately this spark becomes released after having had the experiences of time and sense.

Another worse and blinding thing is, that it is taught that this spark is reabsorbed in the Infinite; as if the life of the Infinite had gone out somewhere else and then being reab-Forbed in the Infinite loses its identity. It is the teaching tor, who, though she tried to be sustained by the Soul Teachof the Oriental mind and the Vedic philosophy that this is ing, was constantly worrying about her things, "Suppose not so. The essential life, the ego, remains, but apart from time and sense and that which is called human life.

Mr. Gandhi, Dharmapala and others have; of consequences. If the consequence can be greater than the cause; then you time that they are in the way. There comes a time when have another proposition like the "hell-fire" of the Christian you understand why the pathways are carved through fire and you had better settle yourself there, because if a human and smoke, storm and whirlwind; in order to land you somebeing can be punished eternally for a thing committed in where. time and sense; then the effect is greater than the cause: If karma can swallow up a part of the Infinite, then karma is thing did not occur you would burst; that there would be a greater than God or Brahm. This is the proposition in our change, or an explosion, or something. That is the way the view. Buddha did not teach it.

Mrs. Besant, who is the recognized head of the Theosoph-Ical society, after her first visit to this country used another storm, and that is the way the soul feels when things and term besides reincapation; she used the term used in the bodies stand in the way. So if your body is riding or being "Soul Teaching"—"successive embodiments." Embodiment floes not mean becoming flesh; it means that whatever, for circumstances, as if you were in jail or a slave, something the time being is embodied is for the purpose of expression. Will come; something is going to happen when you leave You embody an idea in a poem, in a picture, in a theme, in the form. a song, in a statue, in a building, it is a purpose; therefore, Now an embodiment is when there is a purpose in this expmbodiments are successive purposes.

ganisms and swamp you in the end if you do not conquer. Embodiment would be something you wish to do. Therefore we do not address these forms around as you, they are manifestations of you for the time being; something you wish to do, or have to do; and whatever is involved for the time being is expressing it. We never mistake your bodies, however perfect they are or however imperfect they are, for your souls. Successive embodiments, therefore, would mean the successive manifestations of what the soul in contact with ing the body beyond the expression of the soul possessing it.

When the Theosophists became lost in the midst of reincarnated God, they forgot that the expression of the Delty is everywhere and in all possible expressions of the universe; that the soul, if an entity must express itself, in however an imperfect form, as an entity. Consequently if theology teaches that the soul is created by God to return to God it is but logical. Consequently, that also would be logical in the Oriental idea if that were the thought. But if the soul is immortal, as the true Vedic and some of the other Orior Jesus and the divinity of Christ; that the good or God im- ental schools of philosophy teach, then the presentation we make is correct: that the soul being an entity, like unto God, while pervaded and being within the infinite guidance sented He was for the time being clothed with humanity; never loses that entity or identity. Therefore the connec-It is not re-embodied.

We have asked our students not to use the prefix re. Yet they are continually asking about re-embodiment. There is no such thing as re-embodiment. There are successive embodiments. You do not rebuild a house or re-paint a picture. You build a house, you paint a picture and paint another upon another scene. The artist who tries to re-paint a ing that is imperfect, spoils it. But to build another that is better, and is the aim and object of Embodiments.

To-day you are manifesting a theme, a purpose, the next time you will manifest another theme or purpose, or the continuation of that purpose, but the experience you once have you cannot have again. The lesson that you do not teaching under the word reincarnation. Not only Dharma- learn you will have to study until you learn it. When you master a proposition you do not have to master it again. tion of what is meant by repeated lives upon earth in the No one goes back to the alphabet when he knows it once. word "reincarnation"; that there is no equivalent for that When he does not know it it is not going back, because not

Many people are shocked at the idea of expressing them-Heavor to clothe, the Oriental thought with western lan- selves as babes again, that is because they have not got beyond babyhood. The truth is, many babes are wiser than give that which is meant by the repeated or successive lives men and women. Size does not make wisdom, if it did, the giant would be wiser than the average man or woman. We knew a man who believed that spirits grew larger as their knowledge increased, so he thought there were spirits one, trary, we believe Madame Blavatsky and Mr. Sinnett have two, three hundred and even a thousand feet tall. He had the correct idea if size has anything to do with wisdom. able western expression. But the lack is in the perception. But we do not know of a man or woman so foolish, when they Buddhism in "The Light of Asia," as interpreted by Sir are going to do anything, that they do not begin at the beginning, if they know where the beginning is. There are very Into English literature Oriental words and language. Very few kinds of plants that do not have to grow from the seed. sense is an adaptation to the conditions of time and sense,

Successive embodiment is not penalty. Many people teaching Theosophy and reincarnation suggest these condi-There is a great tendency for Oriental research in the tions as penalties! That a certain condition now is the re suit of previous karma. No wonder they get loaded with cumulated karma is being greater than the cause. The present conditions are the result of this being the next step you have formerly done. But you are simply an expression ing it the right way; that is all the solution of what are > Therefore, while we reject the words incarnation and reincarnation as being inadequate, we by no means object to Theosophists using those words, if those words are what they mean. But if they are trying to present the Oriental thought, it is better to know what they mean to present.

We chose the term Successive Embodiments from the beginning of our teaching along this line, which was more than crease, not from Madame Blavatsky's presentation, but un- thirty-five years ago. We chose these words as being the the time being. Expression need not, fortunately, be the soul of which you are the expression, but an expression is an But if you will bear with us, we will give the definition embodiment of that idea. Poets sometimes use the word, "Why, she seems like an embodiment of joy." Or, "He ment of a theme. You may present embodied discord, or does not resemble the man, he knows what he is doing.

Probably, in the great knowledge of the infinite love and wisdom, when lightning strikes a house and a loved friend is reduced to ashes there is a sublime and divine purpose. the individual, outside of the person, it is something that is done to and for him. We have known people to turn back Now the question that naturally arises is, is God depleted and thank God for just such a calamity. We knew a manperhaps you have known a hundred or a thousand, there may straining every nerve to meet his indebtedness; lying awake for added credit and added securities. Finally he went into bankruptcy. Oh, how relieved he felt when the crash came!

Sometimes the crash is the greatest relief that can come when people are worrying about human affairs, human things. We once said to a very dear lady friend of your pasthey are burned up, then you cannot worry about the things." When things stand in the way do you suppose they are going At another time we shall treat of Karma or Kerma; just as to be allowed to stand there? Something must happen, something must remove them, even if you do not see at the

> Perhaps you have experienced this condition; that if some earth feels when there is to be an earthquake, that is the way the elements feel when there is a tornade or a thunderwhirled from one part of the world to another or if tied by pression; brief or lengthy, if it is or is not tied hand and

But each successive embodiment is a step toward the scal; even though it seems to be going down hill. You know you have to climb many mountains before you reach the final height. Sometimes you are not going up hill, but are descending, but you are preparing to climb another height. So then, successive embodiments are not all brilliant, they are not all for displaying genius. The musses would seem to be elther going down hill or are in the valley. Those that are visibly going up hill are not in the majority always; yet the masses, the whole of humanity, are going toward the goal. When men build a rallway around a mountain, they do not always build it straight upward, but they build it so that the is adduced that Augustus caused himself to be recognized steam engine takes the train around and around the mountain in a spiral pathway, ascending most of the way, but sometimes seeming to descend. In this way the successive stages of human expression take you around the mountain of difficulties, around the mountain of achievement, until you reach the goal. They do not take your souls through all these devious windings and leave them nowhere. The soul is the supreme center of your lives, your successive lives; as God is the supreme center of all that is expressed in the universe.

This supreme center of your lives knows whether the thing you are doing goes forward slowly or swiftly; whether of that personage with the legend Divvs Avgvstvs, or it is up hill or down. You often mark out for yourselves Avgvstvs Divvs Filivs. The style was afterwards followed ways of discipline, pathways that are not so easy, and you on the coins stamped with the effigy of Christ [?] the first do it willingly and purposely, but if the discipline comes in some other way you object to it; if somebody brings you discipline you complain; the very discipline that people impose upon themselves, if imposed by another they would rebel against. Now supposing you had been conquered by a great viking from the North, all you people who are in this mad scramble for wealth or to earn your daily bread, and were compelled to go to the North Pole by this viking; to take sledges or sleighs and live on a scanty supply of fat or whale oil? Very likely you would think it a great hardship. When a man voluntarily says, "I want to go in search of the North Pole; I want to take with me so many men; I want so many, who was a good Deity until his worship became corrupted ships to go as far as ships can go, then I want sledges," he by wine bibbing, and CHS or CHRES, is a contraction of knows what he wants to do and is determined to do it. You say, "You will lose your lives." He says, "I cannot help it; I want to find the North Pole."

You may have as many more lives as you want. These lives seem very inadequate to do what you want to. If the body cannot do more than the body does still it is a very reluctant thing to yield. Yet after all when a man is intent upon doing a thing his physical life amounts to no more than a breath of wind; the soldier on the battle field; the explorer in the wilds of Africa or seeking the North Pole or open sea that may be there; he who plunges into the shadow and darkness of the coal pit; who goes down into the caverns of the sea; in all of this he understands there are conditions liable to take the physical expression from him. Yet that thought does not deter him. The small boy who is determined to ride in the electric car, if his mother tells him that he is liable to be killed, and he does realize it, it makes no difference, he is going to ride on that car.

Whatever destructive forces are in the world or may be in the world the soul knows. It knows that birth and death are incidents of physical expression. Now birth and death are both valuable for the one expression if it is to be considered one manifestation. You are very anxious to have children born, but you are very reluctant to have them die, or pass from their bodily forms. These occurrences are a part of the great problem. You are requested and called upon when standing by the open casket that holds the dearly beloved it has a great meaning, it is significant; it is neither puntiles, namely, Clement of Alexandria, Tertullian, Eusebius, ishment for your offense nor the child's offense. It is simply a problem that confronts you.

When Buddha left the pleasure palace which his father' the king had prepared for him, and went out to confront sorrow and sickness, old age and death, it was confronting the supreme problems of human life. He did not pause nor rest in his journeying until 'neath the Buddha tree on the Mount of Attainment he gained the knowledge, the victory and date. meaning of sorrow, the meaning of old age and decrepitude, the meaning of physical death, and that was why Buddha could teach as no one in Asia had taught. When Jesus on the Mount of Olives and the Mount of Transfiguration solved the problem of human misery in the great conquest of bred to introduce into the Free Religious Association of Bos- for you to take. What you have not overcome must be over- did not fall, but the supreme forgiveness was upon his lips.

Now you do not count it lost time to solve the problem of an insect's wing, or what particular genus a plant belongs to. Nor does the astronomer, who night after night levels his telescope toward the heavens that he may see a new star unknown to other astronomers before him, or solve the mysterious movements of the planets account it loss of time? When at last his telescope is inadequate he builds another that will bring added worlds and systems within his range of vision. Are lives, or any number of years, or any number of ages "loss of time" in which the soul meets and solves the problems of expression? How many years does it take to master an instrument after the instrument is fashioned? How many years or ages must Mendelssohn have been listening to the soul of harmony from within ere the divine chords of his wonderful music came forth and was syllabled to human hearts? How many ages had Wagner been calling upon the deeps before at last the expression came? Whirlwinds of music are sometimes necessary. When Italy was plunged in the sweet pulsations of art that had little except the smoothest beauty, Michael Angelo cleft it in twain with a three-fold power and presented new ideas. When Italian melody had usurped the place of creative harmony, Wagner burst in and, with a revolution, an earthquake of music, gave the world a new ideal; and Italian and every school of music in the world follow as far as they can.

When a great thought pierces the heart of the age, and the embodiment is there to illustrate it, the world scoffs, sneers and persecutes. There is a cataclysm and then the world is new after the crash. These are successive embodiments that lead to such a height.

You are on the way to a clataclysm if it is very serene with you now. Immobility is not triumph. The pool that the angel troubled was not a healing pool until it was troubled. So the soul understands that these successive lives are steps of victory. The height is gained after the storm not by setting the storm aside. You will "overcome the world" when it ceases to overcome you, and until then you will be struggling, as to-day, step by step toward victory.

Oh, happy are they, who understand that the cloud is no more an indication of divine wrath than the sunshine. Happy are they who understand that adversity is no more a punishment than prosperity,"sometimes not quite as much. These are but states or conditions, or incidents in the reaching of the great light that is in view.

Over there in Italy, in Paris, in Germany and in many of the schools of this land your young girls and young boys are studying "art." Many of them are undergoing privations; some of them have scanty food, some have to toll in garrets and have many hardships; but they have a purpose. Sometimes they burst out in song and return triumphantly; sometimes they give you the result on canvas or in statuary. Sometimes they die in the garret; sometimes their songs are unsung; sometimes their pictures are never seen. That you call failure, the other successic But one is as much a success in the endeavor as the other. Some day they will sing: some day they will paint, and when they do they will care nothing about it. This picture that is worshiped in the academy to-day the artist wishes it could be torn to pieces, becase he has another idea and is not satisfied with that, When people have not painted pictures then that victory lies before them.

Now you understand that these are seeming successes and seeming failures. When, at last, the final truimph shall come, and you see the pictured clouds, the glory of the sunset and the great splendor of a morning as it unfolds like a wonderful rose in the hands of God, you will say: "There is no artist like God, there is no splendor like that which the soul can conceive. Mud, dust and pigments cannot make a sunset sky. The real light of the soul is enkinded from Reincarnation would drag you through these various or foot, or if seemingly as footfree as a bird upon the wing, within." You learn this by successive embodiments.

THE WORSHIP OF AUGUSTUS CAESAR.

Some Surprising Historical Facts in Regard to the Origin of Christianity.

Readers of The Progressive Thinker, with a few possible exceptions will be surprised at the historical facts I now present in regard to the origin of Christianity. In a recent book entitled "Worship of Augustus Caesar," indubitable evidence and worshiped as Janus Quirinus, the son of Maia, the immaculately conceived son of God. Some of his temples are extant. He was saved from a slaughter of innocents; he had twelve apostles, a last supper, and after performing numerous miracles and leaving a Testament, which has since disappeared, he was seen by reputable witnesses to ascend bodily into heaven. A contemporary representation of this imaginary scene, engraved on a huge cameo, is still extant there is a fac simile of it in Duruy's "History of Rome."

I now quote a paragraph from Del Mar's work: "The coins of Augustus commonly have the rayed image one of which was issued by Justinian II. 'Rhinometus,' about A. D. 705, with the legend, D. N. IhS CPS REX REGNAN-TIVM. There were several issues of these coins, with some slight variations in the spelling . The small h is really the Greek e, while the capital P is really the Greek R."

Elsewhere it is stated that on the obverse of this coin is inscribed D. N. JVSTINIANVS SERV. CHRSTI. The assumption is that the two inscriptions read as follows: "Our Lord (Dominus Noster) Jesus Christ, King of Kings,"

"Our Lord Justinianus Servant of Christ." But I dispute the translation. IES stands for Bacchus chrestus, a Latin word of Greek extraction, translated "Savory." Consequently IES CHRESTUS means "Sweet Bacchus." For many years I have contended that CHRISTUS is not a Latin word, much less a proper name. It was coined by cloistered monks after the revival of learning. Del Mar further tells us that "Romulus, or Quirinus, was born of the god Mars and the vestal virgin Rhea Silvia." And again: "The pretension was that Augustus was the reincarnation of Janus Outrinus." This word Quirinus is not found in Ainsworth's Latin Dictionary, even as a proper name. It is doubtless derived from quiris, "a spear or javelin." One of the seven hills of Rome was the Quirinal, on which was built the temple of Quirinus,

After the death of Augustus various other emperors made similar pretensions to delfication, but without much success; the laws requiring them to be worshiped gradually sank into disrepute until the reign of Justinian II. (685-711), when an imaginary Janus Quirinus was substituted, called IES CHRESTUS. And this seems to have caused the revolt of Rome in Italy from the Byzantine Empire, and the erection of the Italian papacy in 756.

Del Mar also proves a change of the Roman chronology made by Leo III (717-741), by adding to the Augustan anno domini fifteen years. Augustus died and ascended to heaven August 19, A. D. 14. Fifteen years later was A. D. 29, in which year, at the vernal equinox, the death and ascension form to understand that death is one of the problems, that of Jesus occurred, according to the earliest church authoriand the Syriac Documents-none of which, I contend, are of earlier date than the fifteenth century.

> I still contend that Del Mar and the other numismatists are mistaken in recognizing what they call "a Jesus Christ coin" of Justinian II.; the image and inscription evidently pointed to the god Bacchus. The earliest genuine papal'coins inscribed with the name Jesus Christus were of very late WM. HENRY BURR.

SOMETHING ABOUT SPIRITUALISM.

Now I want to tell you and your readers something about Spiritualism. We are demonstrating the truth of the proposition held by the church for nineteen centuries, but which it has been unable to substantiate—that men live after the death of their mortal bodies, and that under proper condi tions they may manifest themselves to men and women living on this plane, though the vibrations coming from etheric bodies are so much more rapid than those coming from aerial, or earth bodies, one must be in a spiritual condition, as John was on the isle of Patmos (Rev. 1:10), to see them.

This is not a matter of speculation with us—it has been demonstrated by numerous facts, and Spiritualists not only refer you to the evidences produced by "The Psychic Research Society," having a membership of the foremost scientists in the world, including such men as Professor Crookes, F. R. S., Camille Flammarion, the most celebrated living astronomer, and others.

We boast of such men as Abraham Lincoln, who conducted the war of the rebellion (which matter I shall refer to in my lecture next Sunday, giving ample evidence), of Victor Hugo, Charles Dickens, Benjamin F. Wade, William and Mary Howitt, Professor Hare, William Lloyd Garrison, Gerrit Smith, Queen Victoria, several czars of Russia, including the present one; William E. Gladstone, and hosts of the best thinkers and writers of the nineteenth century. The reforms which have been brought about in Russia were suggested by spirits through Mediums Slade, Home and Count Henry von Langsdorf. The mediumship of Joan of Arc made France what it is to day. Had it not been for her France would IN MODERN SPIRITUALISM. have been English territory to-day. No history of either England or France can be written with the Maid of Orleans'

We believe that Jesus meant what he said, when he told us, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also, and greater works shall he do; because I go unto my Father." And yet the proposition of the editorial referred to above is to prohibit believers from doing what Jesus said they should do. On this proposition we are willing to be tested alongside with any religious denomination in the state of Washington.

Though the temptation is great to lengthen this article, I will now close, inviting the Spokesman-Review to come to Eagles' hall next Sunday evening, hear what Spiritualism has done towards preserving Palestine, Babylon, France, the United States, and also towards the reformation of Russia; get acquainted with us and our methods and see also some of our medium work.—Daniel W. Hull, Pastor First Spiritualist Society, Spokane, Wash., in the Spokesman-Review.

WAITING.

Waiting, 'mid the shadows of the evening time of life, Waiting for the summons to cross the river o'er Waiting for the chains to loose from earthly care and strife, And commence immortal life anew upon the spirit shore

Waiting while the days and years so swiftly onward roll, Bringing light and knowledge, if we grasp it, in their train--

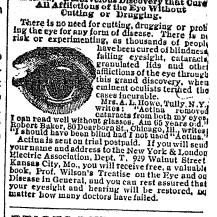

Bringing joy or sorrow to the earth-imprisoned soul. Waiting 'mid night's shadows for the dawn to break again

Waiting, ever waiting, for the future to unfold, Waiting till the shadows are a little longer grown; To separate the false from true, the dross from brightest gold.

For in the spirit realms so bright we know as we are known.

Waiting, while we're waiting, let us search the records through, And jot down every item from our memory if we can;

We know that in the future there's plenty work to do, But in the past what have we done to help our fellow-man? -James R. Little.

The above is the number of the present issue of The Progressive Thinker, as printed at the top of the first page, right hand corner. If this number corresponds with the former on your works right hand corner. It this number corresponds with the figures on your wrapper, then the time you have paid for has expired, and you are requested to renew your subscription. This number at the right hand corner of the first page is advanced each week, showing the number of Progressive Thinkers issued up to date. Keep watch of the number on the tag of your wrapper.

KEEP POSTED

in Current Spiritualistic and Occuit

You can do it by reading each week The Progressive Thinker. The Philo-ophy and the Spiritualistic and Occult phenomena it contains each week, is the marvel of the age. No one can afford to be without the paper. Its price is within the reach of all.

The New and the Old, Or the World's Progress in Thought. By Moses Hull. An excellent work by this veteran writer and thinker. Price. 10 cents.

LISBETH.

An Interesting Story of Two Worlds.

Elevating, Fascinating, Instructive Throughout.

This work by Carrie E. S. Twing is exceptionally interesting. She well says: "These characters which have brought out the highest and lowest in different religious beliefs, have moved me, not I them." The whole book is interesting, fascinating, and instructive. Price $1.00.

A. SCHOPENHAUER ESSAYS.

An OCHOY EINIMULK LOOALO. Translated by T. B. Saunders. Cloth. 75 cents. "Schopenhauer is one of the few philosophers who can be generally understood without a commentary. All his theories claim to be drawn direct from facts, to be suggested by observation, and to interpret the world as it is; and whatever view he takes, he is constant in his appeal to the experience of common life, This characteristic endows his style with a freshness and vigor which would be difficult to match in the philosophic writing of any country, and impossible in that of Germany."—Translator.

maiss watch them.

PRIOUS:—Badge Pin, $1.50; Lapel Button, $1.50; Sunflower Brooch, $4.00; Maitese Charm, $5.00; Maitese Pendant, $5.00; Indicese Pendant, $5.00. This jewelry needs no other recommend than to say it is the SUNFLOWELS BADGE, the adopted emblem of Spiritualism. Ac the Sunflower turns its face towards the sun, so Spiritualism turns the faces of humanity from darkness and superstition towards the Sunlight of Truth and Progression. These beautiful emblems are for sale at this office.

The Blue Laws of Connecticut. Taken from the Code of 1650, and the public records of the colony of Connecticut previous to 1655, as printed in a compilation of the earliest laws and orders of the general court of Connecticut; also an account of the persecution of witches and Quakers in New England. Some extracts from the Riue Laws of Virginia. Price 25 cents

THE MISSING LINK

By A. Leah Underhill, of the Fox Family. By A. Leah Underhill of the Fox Family.
Interesting and valuable as a history of the beginning of Modern Spiritualism, by one of the Fox Sistors, 478 Pages, 16 illustrations, including portraits of the Fox Family. History of the Hydesvillo rappings, as related by eye-witnesses; remarkable and well-attested manifestations; the "exposures," etc. Handsomely bound in cloth, But few copies remaining. Fublishers' price, 81.50. We will send the book postpaid for $1.40.

ORIGIN OF SPECIES.

By means of natural selection, or the preservation of a favored race in the struggle for life. By Charles Darwin. Glit top, cloth bound. This book it tae grandest achievement of modern scientific thought and research. It has passed through many editions in English, has been translated into almost all the languages of Europe, and has been the subject of more reviews, pamphiets and esparate books than any othely volume of the ago. Most of the great scientists of the languages fully support his position. The thought of the languages fully support his position. The thought of the languages of the second a part of the common luheritance of the second as the office. Frice 76 cts.

A compendium of Spiritual Laws. No. I. New White Cross Literature. By Augusta W. Fletcher. M. D. In this volume the author, in the thirty-nine chapters, discusses a wide variety of subjects pertaining to Spiritualism, from a spiritualistic standpoint. She evinces the powers of a trained thinker, both in metter of thought and fine literary style, and bility of thought expression. The subjectively and the conciseness and yet will handled with conciseness and yet will earness. It will prove a rich addition to any Spiritualist's library, and a most excellent book for any one seeking information concerning for any one seeking information concer. Spiritualism and its teachings. Price $1.50.

THE SOUL OF THINGS:

Or Psychometric Researches and Discoveries. By Wm. and Elizabeth M. F. Denton. A marvelous work. Though concise as a text book it is as fascinating as a work of fiction. The reader will be amazed to see the curious facts here combined in support of this power of the human mind, which will resolve a thousand doubts and difficulties, make geology plain as day, and throw light on all subjects now obscured by time. Price, $1.50. In three volumes, cloth bound, $1.50 each. Postage, 10e per copy.

Molecular Hypothesis of Nature : The Relation of its Principles to Continued Existence and to the Philosophy of Spiritualism. By Prof W. M. Lockwood. Paper, 24 cents.

OUTSIDE THE GATES and other tales and aketohes. By a band of spirit fa-telligence, through the mediumants of Mary Theresa Shelhamer. An executions work. Price, $1.00. For sale at this office.

Out of the Depths Into the Light. By Samuel Bowles; Mrs. Carrie E. S. Twing, medium. This is a very interesting little book, and will be appreciated from start to finish by all who wish to gain spiritual information. Price, 25 cents.

THE SPIRITUALISTIC FIELD-ITS WORKERS, DOINGS, ETC., THE WORLD OVER.

CONTRIBUTORS.—Each contributor is alone responsible for any assertions or statements he may make. The editor allows this freedom of expression, believing that the cause of truth can best subserved thereby. Many of the sentiments uttered in an article may be diametrically opposed to his belief, yet that is no reason why they should be suppressed; yet we wish it distinctly understood that our space is inade quate to publish everything that comes to hand, however much we might desire to do so. That must account for the non-appearance of YOUR article. WRITE PLAINLY.—We would like to impress upon the minds of our correspondents that The Progressive Thinker is set up on a Linotype machine that must make speed equal to about four That means rapid work, compositors. and it is essential that all copy, to insure insertion in the paper, all other re-quirements being favorable, should be written plainly with ink on white paper, or with a typewriter, and only on one side of the paper.

ITEMS.—Bear in mind that items for the General Survey will in all cases be adjusted to the space we have to occupy, and in order to do that they will generally have to be abridged more or less; otherwise many items would be crowded out. Sometimes a thirty-line item is cut down to ten lines, and ten lines to two lines, as occasion may re-

Take due notice, that all items for this page must be accompanied by the full name and address of the write. It will not do to say that Secretary or Correspondent writes so and so, without giving the full name and address of the writer. The items of those who do not comply with this request will be cast into the waste basket.

Keep copies of your poems sent to this office, for they will not be returned If we have not space to use them.

Mrs. C. P. Wolf, secretary, writes from Louisville, Ky.: "Our meetings still continue to grow both in attendance and interest, despite the hot weather. Our parlors were full to overflowing. The pastor, Mrs. Annie Throndsen, took for her text, 'If a man die, shall he live again?' Her address was delivered in a creditable manner. After the talk each one present received a test; some got two or three. Every one was recognized."

E. W. Sprague writes: "Through some misunderstanding, Mrs. Sprague and I have been advertised to serve the Chesterfield (Ind.) Camp Association, August 8 to 13 inclusive. Having previously engaged to serve the Vicksburg (Mich.) camp-meeting for that time, it will be impossible for us to be at Chesterfield, though we would be much pleased to meet the many good friends, and again partake of the spiritual feast that awaits all comers at that great Spiritual Mecca."

A news item in the Chicago Examiner says: "Christian Spiritualists' camp-meetings at Madison street and the Desplaines river are attracting crowds from Chicago every day. The meetings are conducted by Miss Sarah Thomas, a Spiritualistic medium. She lectured for half an hour yesterday on her favorite subject, saying in part: Christian Spiritualism is not a church. A church is only external—the form of worship. It is a crutch on which weak human nature is supported on the path to eternity.''

Mrs. A. A. Averill writes: "The Lynn (Mass.)' Spiritualists Association, Dr. Alex Caird, president, will hold a bafrom August 31 to September 7 inclusive. A large tent will be erected in which will be for sale all such articles as are usually to be found at fairs. There will be a mystery table, candy table table for the sale of baskets and other articles made by Indians, and various other tables. Small tents will be placed around in the grove where private readings will be given by various well-known mediums. Services will be held every afternoon at the auditorium, at which addresses will be given on Socialism, Christian and Mental Science and other popular subjects. Able speakers have been engaged to speak on the different lines of thought. Good musicians will be in attendance every day. Refreshments will be served at the dining pavilion. Rooms can be secured in houses near the grove at very reasonable rates, making it very convenient for any wishing to come and spend the whole nine days among the nines of this heautiful grove. The hazaar is held in the interests of the building fund of the association. Contributions for the tables will be gratefully received." Mrs Hurster, of St. Louis, Spiritualist and medium, is visiting her brothers, Messers Ben and Grant Picket, in the country, near Fort Wayne, Ind. Mrs. Hurster is a singer and composer, her songs and poetry being written chiefly on Spiritualistic topics. She also enloys the distinction of being the mother of the "boy medium" nine years of age, and possibly the youngest medium in the world. She will visit friends in the c.'y the latter part of this week. Mrs. Vina Rose writes from Massillon, Ohio: "The Sunflower Club of Mas sillon, O., was organized on July 5, by Mrs. St. Omer Briggs, pastor of the Church of Spirit Communion. On Thursday evening, July 16, we held the first social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rose, and spent a very pleasant even ing. And with the energy and push manifested by Mrs. Briggs we cannot relp but make it a success."

The Indiana Association of Spiritualicts is trying to secure William Jennings Bryan for two addresses at the camp of the association during its annual camp-meeting, which opened July It has been suggested in a letter to him that he come on the last Sunday of the meeting, late in August.-Indianap-

The annual meeting of the Indiana Spiritualists Association, which opened on the Chesterfield camp ground, is the largest summer meeting ever held by the organization The hotels have been found inadequate to accommodate the crowd of visitors and a number of new cottages are being utilized. The meeting will continue seven weeks. The list of speakers to be heard includes many of the prominent Spiritualists of the country.—Richmond (Ind.) Item.

A. H. Nicholas writes: "In The Proressive Thinker, July 4, is a message purporting to be from Henry Ward Beecher, which we have reason to think not genuine because it squarely conflicts with statements he made through the medium Petersilea. Then and there he denied the existence of a God -said he had believed in a God and preached it in earth life, but not so now; his mind had changed. If the recent message is genuine then he has the old ruts of Theism. It is about as on the ground, others are expected to pecially with Mrs. Kates' descriptive strong in recognition of the old God as one of his old Plymouth church sermons of twenty years ago. It may be possible that the medium is a strong believer in God, and uses the word as an embellishment, and the message takes color and shape through her mind. I was a great admirer of Mr. Beecher in his series of messages through Petersilea, but the contradictory statements expressed in the recent message has upset all my admiration.

UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE THIS OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ON SAT-URDAY AFTERNOONS.

Take due notice that items for this page in order to insure insertion must contain the full name and address of the writer. Otherwise they may be cast into the waste basket.

The program for the thirteenth annual camp of the Indiana Association of Spiritualists has been issued. The program includes some of the best speakers. The camp will continue until the last of August. Every indication at this time is that the largest crowds in the history of the association will attend. President Chamness, of Alexandria, who has moved to his cottage at the camp grounds for the summer, said that a large number of communications relative to hotel rates and other accommodations had been received. The executive board of the association has selected the mediums and solicited their presence on the camp grounds. No others will be allowed to do business. There will be all kinds of amusements during the camp, including socials, dancing and band concerts. There will be a conference meeting every day of the camp. The business meeting will be held on the last Saturday. The speakers engaged are Laura G. Fixen, B. F. Austin, Frank T. Ripley, C. W. Littlefield, Marian Carpenter, T. W. Smith, Harry J. Moore, Maggie Waite, Lizzie Harlow, Josie K. Folsom and J. Clegg Wright.

usual, and readings given each day. I also have established Monday and Thursday nights for materializing. The have been able to secure his services. attendance at our church is better than ever, and I feel Spiritualism is stronger to-day than ever. The Chicago Tribune says the Volunteers of America have established at Benton Harbor, Mich., a fresh air camp for the slum children of Chicago. What is more interesting about this particular fresh air camp is that it will entertain as well as poor children their poor mothers. Each mother and her children will be given from ten days to two weeks outing. Sages say that poor people are happier than rich people. Perhaps that is true. But slum people—those who are not merely poor but poverty stricken, who are in want for food, clothes, shelter, and even fresh air-are not happy. There is a difference between being poor and poverty stricken No class of the poverty stricken are happy. And the unhappiest of them are the mothers. The men have some interest in life. They escape the monotony of their homes during the day. When they get money most of them go to the corner saloon and meet their friends. They behave in a way more convivial than discreet. One says: 'Poor devil; can you blame him? He has mighty little fun." Truly it is hard to blame him. He has little fun, and for what he does have he pays double next morning. But his wife has less Day in and day out she faces the dreary problem of existence in the crowded room or half room she calls home. Year after year she brings children into the world. Many of them die and their death causes her sorrow. But their living causes her sorrow, too, for daily she must witness the sufferings which they endure in spite of the fact that she devotes three-quarters of her enfeebled strength to them. Furthermore, the children are sustained by their youth. They are finding out some thing new every day, and they have hope. She has found out everything about life that she ever will, and hope has long since left her. She looks forward to future years as dreafily monotonous as the present ones, and all she asks is that she may not die in the poorhouse and be buried in the potter's field. The Volunteers should be thanked for arranging an outing for the slum mothers as well as the children. Humanita-rian work adopted by them has been instrumental in doing a world of good, regardless of their absurd belief.

Mary L. Betts writes from Lake Brady, Ohio: "Sunday, "July 19, the Lake Brady Association, had Mrs. Clara Watson, of Jamestown, N. Y., as their speaker. She gave two fine discourses on 'What Is Truth, and Where Shall We Find It,' and 'Spiritualism, and What of She is a fine speaker, making her points in a concise and logical manner. showing a mind well stored with facts and dates. Mrs. Shoemaker of Cleveland followed her with messages. The loss of Mrs. Nellie Mosier, who was to have been our message bearer for the 19th and 26th, is deeply felt by the friends and visitors of Brady Camp."

The Post of Grand Rapids, Mich.,

says: "The Spiritualist encampment at Reed's Lake is even more successful than ever before, judging from the large number of people who spent yesterday on the camp ground of the association at the lake. Concerts were given yes-terday by the Modern Woodmen Band and Mrs. Abbie Sheets addressed crowds in the large assembly tent both morning and afternoon. Mrs. Sheets is president of the Grand Ledge camp and one of the leading mediums in the state. She says her gifts as a medium began to assert themselves when she was a girl. She dreamed of things and her dreams came true. She realized that she had the power and she spent seven years in the work of developing as a medium. She is an intelligent wo man and as a speaker is fluent and forceful. In her talk yesterday afternoon she pointed out an analogy between wireless telegraphy in the material world and the phenomena of spirit return. She said that mediums are the stations through which the spirit operators are able to communicate with their loved ones here and that the spirit mediums are as certain of results as are Marconi and Tesla. Con-cerning the spirits' body she said that in full form materialization the spirits gather atoms of materiality about them drawn from the audience and thus the spirit's body is formed. The location of the camp is exceptionally good and well equipped in the way of a clean. dining hall and other accessories. There is an abundance of pure water. President Herrick is busy making the place an ideal summer resort. Many new tents are going up and beside a meetings. The Spiritualists are denumber of the best mediums already lighted with their ministration, and eschanged again and flopped back into number of the best mediums already

When writing for this paper use a pen or typewriter.

TAKE NOTICE. All books advertised in the columns of The Progressive Thinker are for sale at this office. Bear this in mind.

Mrs. E. Teasdale writes: "I am a consistent reader of your valuable jour-

ual, The Progressive Thinker. Words fail to express my appreciation for it, and the knowledge obtained from its wonderful pages. After reading them, I send them to friends in distant lands where they find a glad welcome. The poems contained therein are grand and uplifting. I cannot refrain from speaking of one by Relle Bush entitled Rest which is beautiful beyond description." William T. Stead, of London, Eng., vouches for the fact that telepathy is now a proved science. An observer describes the test in part as follows: The most astonishing experiments in thought transference were made yesterday in the offices of Mr. William T. Stead at the Review of Reviews. A committee of six distinguished men that included Mr. Stead himself and the noted Dr. Wallace had the matter in charge, and none who witnessed the experiments doubts in the least that what he witnessed was a genuine psychological accomplishment, too marvelous to credit, though it might at first have seemed. Telepathic messages were successfully transmitted between Nottingham and the Review of Reviews office instantaneously.' Nottingham is 125 or more miles from London. Mr. Franks, a telepathist, was stationed at Nottingham, and was told to expect the messages from the committee by telegraph that he was to transmit back to Dr Richardson, a New Yorker, telepathically. The first test was a telepathic transmission from Dr. Richardson to Franks at Nottingham. The committee gave him the number, '579.' At 6:34 o'clock Dr. Richardson went into an adjoining room. This was done for the purpose of allowing him the solitude necessary for the concentration of his mind. Even had he wished to do so, there was no possibility of his establishing any normal means of communication with Franks from this room." W. A. Wilson writes from Elwood, nd.: "Harry J. Moore has lectured here each Sunday evening of July. The G. A. R. hall has been crowded. Mr. H. F. Coates writes: "I wish to announce that I will not go away this summer. My seances will be held as street cars, and get back to Chesterfield at 11:30, and if it was not for this convenience of rapid transit we would not We certainly feel very much enthused over the prospects of Spiritualism

E. J. B. Richter, of Deshler, Ohio, sends us $4 for the benefit of the Mediums' Fund, which has been forwarded to Washington, D. C. A thousand thanks, brother.

Mrs. Virginia Bryan writes: "Cedar Rapids, Iowa, can well call J. Q. Adams the father of Spiritualism. He has never faltered in his labor of love for the cause he loves so well. Through his kindness we have been able to organize a society which does credit to the cause, including as it does the influential and business people of the place. As president we have one whose laily life is one of spiritual love, a lawyer by profession, yet a healer of wonderful power, but who is not afraid to show his colors. Spiritualists in time to come will hear greater things of our noble president, Vincil Drahos. With his associate officers and members, we rejoice to say that they are Cedar Rapld's brightest lights." Ortha A. Clark writes from Spokane, Wash.: "The First Spiritualist Society of Spokane have the services of D. W. Hull through the months of June and July. He has done a good work. Mrs. Lilian Nagle, of Seattle, was visiting Creek, Mich.: "My subscription to the friends in the city and gave us help indispensable weekly visitor. The Prowith tests.. We will have her in the near future again."

G. F. Dougherty writes from Neoga Ill.: "The society at Greenup, Ill., is doing a good work considering the number. Dr. J. C. Neal, Lady and Daughter Christine, with Mrs. Dougherty and son Xenophone and myself were enter-tained by Mrs. Starbuck and Mrs. Van Over, July 7. We also met Chas. Winans, and were in his seance. We were very much pleased in the honest way he has in holding his seances. Form after form came out. We all saw them, and my friend, Dr. Neal, got a wonderful test. We have the promise that Mr. Winans will come to Neoga in the fall. We have not had the success in obtaining mediums that we desire, However, we have had some of the best in the world at our home. When you find a more honest medium than Mrs. Maggie Vestal, I want you to write me at once. We have had her in our home for two and three weeks at a time, and we know that she is honest and one of the most wonderful mediums we ever met. The light trumpet work at noon, on the lawn or in your house is all the same. Again I want to state that Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, at Alliance, is our first love. She came to us when we were in darkness and she at once gave us proof of a life beyond the grave. If you are so fortunate as to get Mrs. Vestal or Mrs. Tiffany as your medium, you will have honesty at all times. Mrs. Tiffany is at Alliance, Ohio. Mrs. Vestal, I believe, is in Dayton, Ohio." E. V. Morse speaks well of Mrs. Alice

Baker's lectures and tests at Loraine, Ohio. He says: "If any workers in the Spiritualistic field wish to make themselves notorious in matters of developing enthusiasm in a stale field, Loraine, Ohio, presents the opportunity. Mrs. Baker's son, Master Milton, is certainly an extraordinary type of intellectual development, and bears himself much above his years, not only on the platform but in the general field of conversation, and is unusually forceful in argument."

A. V. Ross writes from Seattle, Washington: "We have been having an exceptionally prosperous and interesting meeting of late, and during our progess we have very unexpectedly been visited by our able co-worker in the cause, Mrs. Loie Prior, on her way to Alaska, stopping over for three Sundays, which has been a great treat to us. Mrs. Prior having been here five years ago, became endeared, to a great many of our people. Once to know her is but to esteem her very highly. Her lectures are certainly very spiritual and to the point, and her spirit messages are something marvelous. She has given us her word to remain with us for an indefinite time on her return this fall. The state association is preparing to open a camp meeting for the month of August, and a good time is anticipated. Many prominent speakers and workers will be entertained at the camp and a cordial greeting will be extended to all who wish to participate in the good feeling that exists." Herman Fascher writes from Salt Lake City, Utah: "We have just closed a series of lectures by Mr. Geo. Kates and wife, and considering the hot weather, we had well- attended tests. Here, as elsewhere, phenomenalism is the craze, and a speaker without tests secures scant attention. But Mr. and Mrs. Kates are not to be excelled in either direction, hence we had enthusiastic meetings, bringing a goodly number of new members into our society and sowing the seed of truth and in quiry among the people at large. We herewith ask all other speakers and mediums who are coming our way, of national reputation, to correspond with us for engagements. Direct all correspondence to Emma Fascher, 161 East Third street, Salt Lake City, Utah."

TICES AND COMMUNICATIONS FOR PUBLICATION, OTHERWISE THEY WASTE BASKET.

Mrs. Jennie Paine, of Canton, Ohio, writes: "We have had the great pleasure of welcoming to our midst, Mr. H. W. Richardson, president of the New York State Spiritual Association, and Mrs. Tillie U. Reynolds, of Troy, N. Y. They, with other local speakers, spoke in a grove meeting held in Mr. L. Bat-ley's grove, July 12, to an audience of nearly or quite four hundred people, stopping at the noon hour for refreshments that were served with a bountiful measure. Mrs. Reynolds gave some very fine tests, all of which were recognized, one gentleman getting up on the platform after the meeting and said he recognized the whole of his test. Mrs. Reynolds remained throughout the week lecturing, giving tests and private readings, and winning golden opinions from all. The music was fur nished by the writer, of which nothing need be said, only the audience were obliged to listen to it, as they could not possibly lose the lecturer." E. de Yough writes: "The Spiritualists of Oregon held one of their most successful camp-meetings this year on the beautiful grounds of the Clackamas County Spiritualists Campmeeting Association, at New Era. The attendance was larger, than at any previous camp meeting. The first speaker was Chas. F. Goode, who gave a masterly opening address. Although Mr. Goode has but lately come into the ranks of Spiritualism, he promises to be one of the ablest advocates of spiritual Spiritualism. Other speakers and mediums present were J. H. Lucas, Allen Frank lin Brown, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Ladd-Finnigan, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Sophia B Seip. Mrs Lynness had charge of the music. Great credit is due Mr. Lazelle, the president, for his success in bringing the camp out of debt and leaving the society with a large cash surplus in the treasury, thus assuring the success of future campmeetings. The officers elected for the ensuing year are J. H. Lucas, president; Mrs. Ladd-Finnican, vice-president; Mr. Burrand, secretary; Mr. Burgoyne, treasurer; Mrs. Lynness corresponding secretary."

The Daleville Review says: "Frank T. Ripley gave an interesting and successful platform test scance at the Chesterfield camp, and many persons received loving messages from their departed ones. Mr. Ripley is one of the platform test mediums that can be depended upon, and also a public lec-

Mary M. Druf writes from Mound City, Kans.: "Mound City inhabitants have had the pleasure of listening to the 'Philosophy of Spiritualism,' presented by Mrs. M. Theresa Allen, of Springfield, Mo. The lectures and tests following were well received."

Sunday morn. This the first Sunday of the present session at the Chesterfield (Ind.) camp, was a red-letter day for the campers. The Muncle orches tra furnished the music for the day. The morning service was presided over by President Chamness; Mrs. Laura G. Fixen was appointed speaker, who gave an earnest and instructive lecture on Spiritualism.

N. H. Briggs writes from Battle indispensable weekly visite gressive Thinker, expires with No. 714. As has been my custom for several last past to renew for a period of two years, take pleasure in herewith enclosing draft for $2 payable to your order for which you will kindly continue sending me the paper for another two years. May perfect tranquillity of mind, mate rial success and general good be be stowed upon you, in compensation for your earnest desires, untiring efforts and zealous endeavors to liberate humanity, by striking off the old rusty, musty shackles of religious superstition that have obstructed freedom of thought and progression for so many centuries. O. V. LaBoyteaux writes from Reading, Mich.: "Three very successful and interesting meetings were held here this week by Mr. E. W. Sprague and wife. The first evening they were met by but a small audience outside the society membership, but the second evening the number was doubled, and the third evening was double that of the second. It's hard to tell what the result would have been had they stayed a week. The audience was made up largely of church people the last evening, and Mr. Sprague gave them his interesting talk on the Spiritualism of the Bible. He held them spellbound for an hour and a half, and then when Mrs. Sprague went to give her test work, she said she never met with any better conditions in a mixed audience. It would take a very prejudiced mind to not acknowledge the accuracy of her Waukesha Spiritualist Camp-meeting. We opened our meetings Sunday July 19, under very auspicious conditions. The weather was fine and the workers were at their best. . The speak ers of that day were Mrs. Catherine McFarlin, than whom there is no more pleasing speaker on our platform to-day, and Rev, Moses Hull, whose ability as an all-around worker is too well known to need eulogy from the writer. Suffice it to say that both speakers pleased their audience as they never fail to do. An illing in the afternoon test seance, Mrs. Eva McCoy, of Marshalltown, Iowa, was the message bearer, and pleased her many hearers with the comforting messages from the arisen friends. At the evening service, a general good time was indulged in, and Mrs. McCoy, Mrs.

Clara L. Stewart, and Prof. A. P. Roberts were the entertainers, Mrs. Stewart rendering a fine selection, and Mrs. McCoy and Prof. Roberts giving messages. Our white dity on the hill is growing daily, and many Spiritualists are here to enjoy the harmony of our camp, Among them are a number of well-known workers, including Mrs. A.

Downing, a magnetic healer of wonderful ability. Mrs. Downing has succeeded in doing for several who have come under the writer's observation what physicians have failed to do, viz., brought them to a condition of health after years of illness. We have had test seances and lectures daily, except Monday, and all who have visited those meetings have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the work done. Others who are on the grounds are Dr. Fred L. Mehrtens and wife, of Ripon, Wis, both of whom are mediums and workers in the cause. Our talent is of the highest order, and all should visit us and partake of the in-

ALWAYS GIVE YOUR FULL NAME | tellectual feast we have prepared. Instead of opending the camp Friday, the 17th, as advertised to do, we took that day for a day of general baptism, as the WILL FIND THEIR WAY TO THE the camp grounds have been used for camping purposes by our friends the Baptists, and from force of habit probably, the elements tried to have us totally immersed, but our tents were too good, and our position too elevated, and we escaped that fate. Come and visit us. It will do you good.
WILL J. ERWOOD,

Secretary W. S. S. A.

LIST OF CAMP-MEETINGS.

Send in Your Dates and Name of Secretary at Once.

Lake Brady, Ohlo, Lake Brady camp opens July 5 and closes August 30. A. G. Keck, secretary, Akron, Ohio. Chesterfield, Ind.

Chesterfield (Ind.) camp-meeting

opens July 16 and closes August 30. For programs and other information address Flora Hardin, secretary, Ander-Forest Home, Mich.

The fourth annual camp-meeting opens at Snowflake, Mich., Aug. 1, and closes August 23. Write to Mrs. Ruth Eastman, secretary, Mancelona, Mich.

Ottawa Camp, Kansas. This camp opens July 30, and closes August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, Lawrence, Kansas.

This camp opens July 17 and closes

August 17. For full particulars address the secretary, Will J. Erwood, No. 1334 Pine street, La Crosse, Wis., or Clara L. Stewart, president, Whitewater, Wis. Ottawa, Kans.

The Waukesha Camp, Wis.

inues to August 9. For full particulars address H. W. Henderson, president, Lawrence, Kansas, or Jacob Hey, Sec

This camp opens July 30 and conretary, Carbondale, Kansas. Wonewoo, Wis. The Wonewoo camp opens this year on August 13 and continues to the 30th of that month. Address for particulars, Miss Gertrude Spooner, Secretary, Wonewoc, Wis. Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The West Michigan Spiritualist Association will hold its meeting this year at Grand Rapids, at its grounds, at Reed's Lake, known as the "Pioneer Assembly Grounds." Meeting opens July 4, and closes August 30. For full par-Grand Rapids, Mich.

Delphos Camp, Kansas. Commences August 8, and continues until August 24. C. J. Ballou, president; H. D. Dwight, secretary,

Summerland Beach, Ohio. Summerland Beach Camp, Millersport, Fairfield county, Ohio, 35 miles east of Columbus, opens August 22 and closes September 6. 1903. David Climer, President, 282 West Fifth avenue, Columbus, Ohio; Hattie G. Webster, seoretary, 55 McDowell street, Columbus, Ohio.

Winfield Camp, Kansas. This camp will be held in Island Park, Winfield, Kansas, commencing July 3, and closing July 13. For full particulars write to Mrs. Maud K. Gates, corner Second and Indiana streets, Highland Park, Winfield, Kansas.

Marshalltown, Iowa. This camp begins August 23 and ends September 13. For full particulars address E. M. Vail, president, Marshall-

Franklin, Neb. This camp commences July 17, and continues until August 2. For full particulars address D. L. Haines, secretary, Franklin, Neb.

Hasiett Park, Mich. This camp commences August 1 and continues to August 80. For programs and full particulars, address the secretary, I. D. Richmond, St. Johns, Mich.

Vicksburg, Mich.

This camp-meeting is located at Fraer's Grove, one-half mile south of Vicksburg. It commences August 2 and closes August 22. For programs send to Jeannette Fraser, Manager, Vicksburg, Mich.

Grand Ledge, Mich. This camp opens July 26 and closes August 23. For programmes apply to A. McKelvey, Grand Ledge, Mich.

Lake Helen Camp, Florida. The Southern Cassadaga Camp-meet ing will convene the first of February and will close the middle of March For information and programmes, address Mrs. J. D. Palmer, corresponding secretary, Willoughby, Ohio.

City of Light Assembly, Lily Dale, N. Y. The-City of Light Assembly, formerly the Cassadaga Lake Free Association will convene the 8th of July and close the 2d of September. For information and programs, address Mrs. Isabel Bates, corresponding secretary, Lily

Saugus Center, Mass. The Lynn Spiritualists Association

will hold meetings every Sunday, ending September 28, at Unity Camp, Saugus Center, Mass. Mrs. A. A. Averill, 42 Smith street, Lynn, Mass.

The Onset Camp. .. Opens July 12 and closes August 30.

Maple Dell Park, Ohlo. The American Spiritual Religious and Science Union will hold a camp session at Maple Dell, commencing July 25 and closing August 80. Lucy King, corresponding secretary. Address stamp, Box 45, Mantua, Ohio.

Harmony Grove, Cal.

The seventh annual camp-meeting opens July 26, and closes August 9. We ire expecting a very prosperous camp. For particulars address Frank C. Foster, secretary, Escondido, Cal.

Camp-meeting at Etna, Wash. The Spiritualists of Clarke county, Washington, will hold their second annual camp-meeting in their beautiful grove in Etna, from August 9 to 30. Good speakers and mediums have been engaged. For circulars and information address the secretary, Henry B. Allen, Etna, Clarke county, Washington. Freeville, N. Y.

The Central New York Spiritualist Association will hold its eighth annual camp-meeting at Freeville, N. Y., Aug. 1 to 16. B. Rhodes, Elmira, N. Y., president; Victoria C. Moore, Dryden, N. Y., secretary.

Lake Pleasant, Mass. This camp commences August 2 and continues for 30 consecutive days. For information and programs address Albert P. Blinn, 61 Dartmouth street, Bos-Los Angeles, Cal. The Southern California Spiritualist Camp-meeting Association will hold its camp-meeting in Los Angeles, Cal.,

from August 16 to September 13. Address all communications to W. F. Vose. No. 1337, East Twenty-third street, secretary, or Mrs. Essie Ashby, 1306 East Twenty-seventh street, president. Lake Sunapee, N. H. Camp.

It will be held at Blodgett's Landing, N. H., for four weeks, commencing August 2, and closing August 30. The business committee has engaged an excellent list of speakers and mediums For programmes, address the secretary, Lorenzo Worthen, Hillsboro, Bridge, N H., until July 28; after that date, at Blodgett's Landing, N. H.

Camp-meeting in Oregon. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold their annual camp-meeting from July 4 to July 20 on the beautiful and inspiring grounds of the Clackamas County Spiritualist Association. For particulars. address the president, Geo. Lazalle, Oregon City. Oregon.

Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, lowa. The camp session of the M. V. S. A. Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Iowa, will open August 2 and close August 30. For programmes address Mollie B. Anderson, secretary, Clarksville, Mo.

Verona, Park, Me. This camp opens August 2 and closes August 30. A. F. Smith, president,

Bangor, Me.; F. W. Smith, secretary, Rockland, Me. Island Lake, Mich. The Island Lake Camp Association lesires to announce that the season of 1903 opens July 23, extending through the month of August. Correspondence solicited with a few more good phenomenal mediums. H. R. LaGrange, secretary, 350 Grand River avenue, Detroit, Mich. The Niantle Camp.

The Niantic Camp, Niantic, Ct., opens June 22, and closes September 7. For full particulars address Mary A. Hatch, secretary.

"An Infamous Dynamite Roman Catholic Conspiracy Detected and Exposed." ticulars address D. A. Herrick, president and manager, 296 N. Ionia street, by Rev. J. G. White, author of Startling Frest. Price 10 cents cents cach or two for Facts. Price 10 cents each, or two for 15 cents. "The Kingship of Self-Control." wm. George Jordan. It treats of the crimes of the tongue, the Red Tape duty, the supreme charity of the world, the revelation of reserve power, etc. Price 30 cents. For sale at this office "Death, Its Meaning and Results." By J. K. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania

Bar. An absorbingly interesting volume, of decided value. A narrative of wonderful psychic events in the thor's experience. Cloth, 560 pages, illustrated, $1.25.

Old Testament Stories & A Unique COMICALLY INSTRACED. PROTURE BOOK.

By WATSON HESTON. SOOK.

Nothing else can so completely upset the old superstitions Old Testament Stories as these vivid and lifelihe portrays of them. They present the old myths in the proper absurdness of their absurdity, ridicule their ridiculessness and in fact hold them up to the light af reason. It is a book of 400 pages with 200 full page pictures it will make you laugh off every vestige of the old superstitions; a good way indeed to get rid of them. Price, board, 51; cloth, $1.50.

POEMS OF PROGRESS. By Lizzie Doten. They are really valuable. Price, $1.00. THREE SEVENS A Story of Ancient Phelons. Illustrating the Hermetic Philoso-phy. Price, coth. $1.25.

The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism,

A Menace to American Civilization. By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. A trenchant and master treatise. Price, 25 cents. What All the World's a-Seeking. RALPH WALDO TRINE.

Rach is building his world from within; thought is the builder; for thoughts are forces,—subtle, vital, irresistible, omnipotent,—and according as used do they bring power or impotence, peace or pain, success or failure.—From Title-page.

The above books are beautifully bound in gray-green raised cloth, stamped in deep old-green and gold, with glit top. Price, $1.25. For sale at this office.

LIGHT OF EGYPT. The Second Volume of a

Most Valuable Work. This is the author's posthumous work left in MS. to a few of his private pupils in occultism, and like Volume I. is (a valuable addition and) a library on a truer knowledge of the nature of man occult subjects. Spiritual astrology is especially elaborated. Alchemy, Talismans, the Magic Wand, Symbolism, Correspondence, Penetralia, etc., are a few of the subjects treated of in a few of the subjects treated of in a law insured for "The World Beautiest and masterly manner. show." scholarly and masterly manner, show-full volumes an almost world-wide ing the author to be familiar with his popularity. subjects. You cannot afford to be without it, as well as all his other books, viz.: The Light of Egypt, Vol. I., bound in cloth, $2; paper, $1. The Light of Egypt, Vol. II., bound in cloth only, $2. Celestial Dynamics, cloth, $1.

Psychopathy, or Spirit Healing. A series of lessons on the relations of the spirit to its own organism, and the inter-relation of human beings with reference to health, disease and healing. By the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Rush, through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond. A book that every healer, physician and Spiritualist should read. Price, 81.60. POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE.

THE PSYCHOGRAPH

DIAL PLANCHETTE.

This instrument is substantially the same as that employed by Prof. Haro in his early investigation. In its improved form it has been before the public figure more than avedn year, and in the makes of thousand of persons has proved its superiority over the Pixthester, and all other instruments which have been chette, and all other instruments which have been brought out in imitation, both in regard to certainty and correctness of the communications received by its aid, and as a means or developing medium hip.

Do you wish to investigate spiritualism?

Do you wish to develop Mediumship?

Do you desire to receive Communications?

The Paveborranh is an invaluable assistant.

The Psychograph is an invaluable assistant. A pamphlet with full directions for the Formation of Circles and Cultivation

of Mediumship

with every instrusent. Many who were not aware of their mediumshic gift, have, after a few sistings, been able to receive delightful messages. A volume might be filled with commendatory lotters. Many who began with its sea amusing toy, found that the intelligence convolling it knew more than themselves, and because converts to Spriftualism.

Capt. D. B. Edwards, Orient, N. Y., writes: "I had communications by the Psychograph) from many siber friends, oven from old settlers whose grayes tenses are moses grown in the old yard. They have been highly satisfactory, and proved to me that Splitualism is indeed true, and the communications have given my heart the greatest comfort in the severori loss I have had of so, daughter, and their mother."

Dr. Eugens Growell, whose writings they made hig ame familiar to these laterested is psycholog matters, writes as follows: I am much pleased with the Psychograph. It is very simple in principle and construction, and I am sure must be far more sensitive to split incrits become known."

Securety procked, and sent nostage made from of Mediumship

Securely packed, and sent postage paid from the manufacturer, for $1.00. Address: HUDSON TUTTLE, Berlin Heights, Ohio.

ASPHODEL BLOOMS

Other Offerings

EMMA ROOD TUTTLES

This volume contains a selection of the performance of this gifted author and storicties performed by Clair Tuttle in her charming style. There are to pages, with shr full page illustrations, including photogravures of the author and Clair Tuttle. It is bound in blue with alluminum embossing. Many of the poems are especially adapted for recitations.

The Author heeds no introduction to the spiritual public. Her songs are among the best in spiritual flierature. Epos Sargent said of one of her poems that it was the equal of purything in the language, and that she was the post of the New Dispensation.

The Mocca says; "Psychic Poems."

That crudite critte, Wm. Emmette Colemang To all levers of good poetry this book is confidently recommended."

Will Carlton: "I have read with great interfaces."

Sarth Thorne Thomas, the Humantander.

Will Cariton: "I have read with great interest."

Sarah Thorpe Thomas, the Humanitarian says: "A most exquisite bouquet * * * * the thoughts seho and re-echo threugh the deepest recesses of my heart. I have some word of praise for every page."

The author says in the dedication: "To those whose thoughts and longings reach into the unsean Land of Souls, this handful of asphodels, mixed with common flowers, is offered hopping to give rest and pleasure while waiting at the way stations on the journey thither."

Price, 81.00. For sale by

HUDSON TUTTLE,

Berlin Heights, Ohio FOREIGN AGENTS: H. A. Copley, Canningtown, London, Eng. W. H. Terry, Melbourne, Australia.

RECITATIONS.

in All Its Phases,

BY EMMA ROOD TUTTLE

Lyceums and Societies that wish to get up elor rating, interesting and paying entertainments cannot do better than to have a Prize Contest. The entire plan, with full directions, is in the book, and may be easily managed. Nothing kindles enthustasm more quickly than an Angell Prize Contest! Nothing is needed more. Any individual may organize one in his own town and reap a financial rewards. TRY IT: PRICE, 30 CENTS.

EMMA ROOD TUTTLE.

Berlin Heights, Ohio. THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE

A VERY IMPORTANT WORK.

The Spiritual Significance is by Lillan The Spiritual Significance is by Lillan Whiting, author of "The World Beautiful," "After Her Death," "Kate Field, A Record," "A Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," Cloth, $1.00.

Miss Whiting finds the title of her new book in these lines from "Aurors Latch."

new book in these lines from "Aurora Leigh:"

"If a man could feel
Not one, but every day, feast, fast, and
working-day,
The spiritual significance burn through
The hieroglyphic of material shows, hierceforward he would paint the globe with wings."

The aim of this book is to reveal the curiously close correspondence between
the developments of modern science and
spiritual laws; to note that new forces.

as discovered and applied in wireless telegraphy, are simply laws of an unseen reaim into which humanity is rapidly advancing and thus gaining a new environment. From this evolutionary progress, as illustrated by physical science the author of "The World Beautiful" continues the same argument presented in those volumes in a plea these sented in those volumes in a plea that the future life is the continuation and development of our present life in all its faculties and powers, and that the present may be ennobled by the constant sense of the Divine Presence, and

OTHER BOOKS BY LILIAN WHIT-ING:
ING:
Kate Field, A Record. Price $0.
A Study of Blizabeth Barrett Browning. Price $1.25. The World Beautiful. Three Series. Each $1. From Dreamland Sent, and Other Poems. $1. These books are for sale

THE SPIRITUAL ALPS And How We Ascend Thom. How to reach that altitude where spirit is supreme and all things are subject to it. By Mosea Hull, Price in cloth. 40 cents; paper 25 cts. For sale at this cales.

HUDSON TUTTLE. Address him at Belin Heights, Ohio.

NOTE.-The Questions and Answers have called forth such a bost of respondents, that to give all equal hearing compels the answers to be made in the most condensed form, and often clearness is perhaps sacrificed to this forced brevity. Proofs have to be omitted, and the style becomes thereby assertive, which of all things is to be deprecated. Correspondents often weary with waiting for the appearance of their questions and write letters of inquiry. The supply of matter is always several weeks ahead of the space given, and hence there is unavoidable delay. Every one has to wait his time and place, and all are treated with equal

NOTICE.—No attention will be given anonymous letters. Full name and address must be given, or the letters will not be read. If the request be made, the name will not be published. The correspondence of this department has become excessively large, especially letters of inquiry requesting private answers, and while I freely give whatever information I am able, the ordinary courtesy of correspondents is ex-pected. HUDSON TUTTLE.

appear that it is, from the activity in religious directions. There is a constant unrest, and new views of old doctrines are constantly being agitated. In times past, the religious bodies, split into diverse sects, but now there is a fertilization. The queen honey-bee lays following of some individual. Religious eggs that produce without the drone, training prepares the mind to be led by a Mrs. Eddy or a Dowie. It prepares the mental and spiritual hot-bed in which such doctrines take root and flourish. There would be no Christian Scientists or Zionists, or Mormons had not there been Sunday-schools and like instructions to prepare the mind for their reception.

There are 145 Protestant sects, bodles or denominations, in the United States. The Catholic church is not filled with such unrest. The priest who breaks off from that church, has a rough path, and there is not a desire for truth for itself among the leaders. Every child of Catholic parents is born a Catholic and counted as a member of that church. Yet there are five Catholic bodies. This makes 150 for this country. The average increase is one for each year.

John A. Miller, M. D.: Q. Sir William Thompson is recently reported to have said that "a crystal might result from a fortuitous concourse of atoms, but that a similar explanation could not be offered for the origin, existence and growth of plants and living beings, for which scientific thought was compelled to accept the idea of creative power."— The Literary Digest, June 1 and 27, wak, or the impregnated human ovum stration of or an answer to that questreproduces the species whence it came? In other words, What constitutes the a criticism, a discussion or an unqualishaping or formative principle in or-field approval of the book.

ganic life?

A. A crystal cannot "result from a fortuitous concourse of atoms." The growth of a crystal is controlled by the growth of a crystal is controlled by the disastrous possible condition of the megrowth of a crystal is controlled by the most rigid and unchanging laws. When different substances are in the same so the statement, "Spirit control in its the statement, "Spirit control in its recorded by advanced to recorded by advanced by adva lution, there is selection and the molecules arrange themselves in definite lines and angles. The identical process is carried into the formation of living beings, as may be observed in the way beneficial to the medium, and they way beneficial to the medium, and they beings, as may be observed in the growth of the bones, teeth, scales and shells. It is also seen in the regularity will be slow to think otherwise, yet shells. It is also seen in the regularity of the disposition of the leaves of plants on who can open the gateway to the and petals of the flowers. In a sense a crystal is an organized structure, and an outgrowth or expression of life-force. To fully explain why an acorn becomes an oak, or a germ grows into a being like its parents, involves the history of living beings since the beginning. The germ represents the sum of all influences brought to bear on its ancestral line since the dawn of life. It is the store-house of heredity, which dominates the conditions of its growth, and under the conditions favorable to its maturity, the immediate forms of its progenitors will be reproduced-with constant tendency to reversion to remote ancestral forms. Evolution traces into the past, through the geological ages, finding they blend, become more general in type, and more simple until been truly gratifying to me since my differentiation of organs is lost and appointment as National Superintend-nothing more than a digestive sac, a ent of Lyceum Work, by the N. S. A., floating stomach remains and farther and I have decided to visit a few of the yet, a mass of protoplasmic cells, or lyceums on my way to Washington this protoplasm not yet even organized into fair—October. I would like to hear cells. It is not a living being, but mat- from those lyceums in Missouri, Inditer in a form which enables it to beana, Illinois, Ohio, New York and Penncome organized into the structure of sylvania, that would like the services of life," has never been created by arti-be principally for the lyceum, but gen-ficial means. As the beginning of liv-erally for the cause of Spiritualism. ing beings, its origination is the one We must recognize the importance of great problem for solution. Evolution the lyceum movement and with the exlines of specific variation, as riverlets publication of The Progressive Lyceum to larger streams and these to larger for the past eight months, I feel that a mic material.

consideration, for they were so differ arrange for my services, will kindly adent from those which prevail at present that they seem dreams of the imagination. The conditions prevailing on the August, and I wish to have all the earth at that remote period, must be carefully studied. What were they in the ocean which formed the cradle of JOHN W. RING, life? A crust had formed over the cooling surface of the molten globe, and water had condensed on the higher ridges running down to the boiling seas "The Life Bookiets." By Raish whose hissing waves gave out clouds of Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful steam as they beat on the rocky shore. little books, finely adapted for holiday The water was saturated with saline presents. The titles are, "Character and mineral matter, and the atmos- Building by Thought Power," "Every phere dense with volatile substances. The pressure of the dense atmosphere was much greater than at present. All the carbon now held by living beings, and locked up in coal-beds and mineral compounds was then in a gaseous state.

Building by Thought Power, "Every Living Creature," and "The Greatest Thing ever known." The matter is of high-toned spiritual character and of helpful purpose. Frice 85 cents each, saie at this office.

When the waters had sufficiently cooled the carbonic acid and volatile substances were absorbed. The tremendous electrical discharges in this atmosthere generated ammonia, which thus necame abundant in the cooler waters of detached lakelets, and in these the irst protoplasmic cells came into existence as the starting point of all the multitude of species which have been lifterentiated therefrom.

It is not imperative that the student of this subject unravels the secret of how this matter, capable of generatng living beings came. It changes not the process, whether by chance, law, or a direct creator. Science states from he postulate that such protoplasm, or bloplasm-life substance, existed that time, and then proceeds with its analysis. It is a waste of energy to dispute over this point which is unessen-

There is no barrier insurmountable, to prevent the formation of bioplasm by artificial means, but it must be accomplished by following the lead of Nature, and furnishing as closely as possible the conditions of the period in which life had its advent.

It must be admitted that thus far artificial reproduction of the lowest cell, or cell-combination has not been accomplished. The most recent and notorious experiments in this direction were made by Prof. Loeb, of Chicago, have been widely heralded in the press, and he was said to have entered the inner courts of life. Really Prof. Loeb has not made the shortest step in this direction. He found that the eggs of the sea-urchin would not hatch if unim-pregnated. But if placed in certain solutions, they would go on in growth exactly as if fertilized. Did Prof. Loeb create life or an embryo sea-urchin? He first had to have eggs of the sea-urchin, and these had to be living eggs, for his solution had no effect on eggs which Religious Student: Q. How many religious sects or denominations in the United States?

A. Is this a religious age? It would "discovery" was a fraud perpetrated under the garb of science. It did not have even the right to claim to be new, for it has been long well known that many of the lower species increased without fertilization. The queen honey-bee lays and the neuter bee sometimes lays eggs which hatch and make perfect growth. The aphidae-plant through several successive generations. without conjunction of sex. The instances are voluminous, and put aside

> Is a Psychological Crime Possible. To the Editor:—"Is a Psychological Crime Possible?" was the pertinent heading of a recent article in The Progressive Thinker. The text following, hich beyond the statements the originality of the "great discovery.

"It is a work of supreme importance to sensitives and mediums, if its claims are true, and no publication could more profitably engage the serious and care ful consideration of all Spiritualists."

"Nothing can be of more importance to every intelligent person than to learn how to use one's powers and capacities to the growth of individuality. There is but one question to be answered in regard to hypnotism and mediumship in order to determine if the process is destructive."

"It is a mighty truth that each individual soul is first of all responsible to itself to attain, achieve, and become,"

and
"All persons who esteem the human
"Read responsibility soul, individual life and responsibility Will you kindly give your hypothesis of the formative principle (outside of chemical or vital force) that will give a reason: Why an acorn grows into an loak, or the impregnated human ovum spirit world and present a better way to converse with the denizens thereof than through the present day mediumship" will meet with the endorsement of all persons whether they be Spiritualists

The writer hopes that a discussion of this subject will enlist the efforts of any persons, including the author and editor of The Great Psychological Crime, who can elucidate "the better way" to a method of intercommunica tion between the successive planes of individual existence and fields of progress or retrogression.

Two Rivers, Wis. S. A. MILLS.

Progressive Lyceum Work, The interest in the lyceum work has of an inspirational lecturer for one or This protoplasm "the physical basis two week-night lectures. My work will with unvarying certainty traces the perience which I have had, and the still, until all are absorbed in protoplas- properly announced lecture will attract that element of people who will be The conditions under which life first pleased with the interests of the chilcame on the earth are to be taken into

JOHN W. RING. National Sup't. Lyceum Work.

"The Life Bookiets." By Rainh

"How Shall I Become a Medium," Fully Answered

In 'Mediumship and Its Laws, Its Conditions and Cultivation," by Hudson Tuttle. Price 35 cents. Send to Mr. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, O.

LESSONS IN REAL LIFE.

Parents Have Greater Need of Correc tion Than Their Children.

Some of the phases of the mingled darker and brighter sides of human lite and experience may be conned in the pictures portrayed by Jean Cowgill, as presented in the columns of the Chicago Chronicle. In plain but very suggestive words she writes that every parent who was up before the judge in Juvenile Court, on a certain specified day, is an incorrigible.

Some people, says she, fancy it is the other way about and that it is the children who are incorrigibles. I can't see it that way. Not only are the parents incorrigible—they make bold confessions of the fact when they come up to the tribunal of justice, trooping after their offspring, who are supposed to be the ones at fault. I don't believe there was a boy tried yesterday who, if he had half a chance, wouldn't make a better, stronger man than his father; who wouldn't, in years of maturity, be able to teach his mother right and proper

"Bad boys; incorrigible boys," they sang out all the afternoon.
"Incorrigible parents," say I. "Weak, unknowing parents, one and all, una-ware of their treasure's value, unthink-ng, uneducated parents." It matters not the quality of the clothes that garb them, whether they troop up behind their children, clad in rags or silk, one and all, it is the fault of parenthood, husbandhood, wifehood. the mysterious something we recognize as convention, ethics—what you please.

They are not incorrigible, these babes of tender years, but their parents

No one knew the tale of the first weak parent. In December she gave up the bread and butter struggle. It was in a hospital the end came. They had moved her there from the saloon-keep-er's where she worked. But for the baby that would have closed the records. No one would ever have known she had been an incorrigible.

The baby was in court, fast held in the arms of an honest German, whose love for the youngster showed in every Saloon-keeper number one, for whom the mother worked, was the first wit-"She [the mother]worked for me about four weeks before she died. After she came she said she had a boy. That's the first I knew about it. Then she brought him-he's 10 months old." "How did she happen to go to work for you?"

"My wife is sick. We looked for a girl in the paper.'

"You advertised?"
"Yes." "Did she tell you anything about her-

"She said nothing—she told us she had a boy."

"Who is that holding the baby?" "A man who wants to adopt it." What business is he in?"

"He is a saloon-keeper, too." "How does he come to have the baby?" "Oh-well, I don't know. One day he was over to my house. The mother had died. He said to me, "That's a fine boy. Give it to me.' I said all right, and he took it." The wife of saloon-keeper No. 2 was the next witness. She is Johanna by name and ponderous in physique. For all that her childless life yearns for the haby. While she sat in the witness chair the court read a letter entered as evidence by the probation officer in charge of the waif child. It was then we first knew that, like the other parents on trial, the mother had been a delinquent, instance, while engaged at the table, mother's death. It was written in Bohemian and was read translated:

who left the town, appeared and wrote his name, stating also that he knew me. "My Dear:-I am sorry I have been able to do nothing for you. Patience. I have gone into business here. I have opened a saloon. About March 15 will send for you. Be brave. My heart goes up to you. Soon we will find ourselves. The signature matters little. They read the pitiful letter to the court, and all the while the clerk read the baby cooed and clung to the saloon-keeper who wants it for his. The secret, what ever it was, is no longer the poor dead

Mrs. Curtin, probation officer, was put in charge of the case to look after the child's welfare. The saloon-keeper and his ponderous wife Johanna walked out of the court-room the proud and happy parents of the baby. "I can't sit still and see my children

A woman's shrill voice rang out over the court proceedings. They paid no attention at first. Over and over she said it. Then Judge Tuthill called out: "Bring that woman in here." A dreg of humanity's lowest depths she looked as she walked up. Her hair was unkempt, her eyes staring and expressionless "You will have a chance to tell all your story," said the judge. "But you must be quiet now.

"I will, judge; I beg your honor's par-O'Brien they were by name, father, the crazed woman who shouted and three children. As the probation offi-cer's report tells the tale, the children are kept in filth and dirt, the mother drinks and neglects them.

He called often, even kept track of them in their various movings, trying all the time to get the mother to do bet-ter. Then he brought them into court. All these things you might have thought until you heard O'Brien's testimony. He said: "O'Brien is my name. I am in the direct line from the head general in Cromwell's army—General

"I can take care of my children. Just now I am a teamster. I earn $12 a week. I don't have to do one kind of work. There ain't a man in Chicago with a better education than I have. I've been a soldier and a sailor. I've worn Uncle Sam's uniform." "They say your wife is a drunkard."

"She never was that way, your honor, until they persecuted her to it." Louder and louder grew O'Brien's voice. His excitement was intense Mrs. O'Brien arose from her seat. 'Yes; persecuted, your honor. That's the devil that drove me to it. He came into my house and pounds his fist

"The "devil who drove her to it." was the probation officer who brought the children into court. Mrs. O'Brien went on the stand. Her testimony was rumbling. Every now and then she pointed a finger of denunclation at the probation officer.

Judge Tuthill wanted to give her another chance. He called her and O'Brien up close to the rail for a heart-to-

'Please, judge, don't take my children away. If I'm to blame crucify me, put me in prison, but please let them stay with their father."

Then the judge made her swear an oath not to drink any more.
"By the ever living God I awear," phrase by phrase she repeated it after ing ligors. If I do I consout that my children shall be taken away by the court." And the two parentimcorrigibles left the courtroom with their little flock. "King's" Case Comes Next.

But the "king's father and his mother, what have they been about? He is only 12, is the "king," and small for his years. Raiph is his real name, but in the gang they call him, the "king."

"He was a good boy, you, know, loving, tender, until the alast four weeks. He's easily led—the neighbors will tell you that. Please let him sh home."

you that. Please let him go home."

"He's the worst boy here," said the judge. "He shows alsolutely no emotion. What do you suppose he cares for your tears?"

The "king's" eyes blinked, but the tears did not fall.

"He's the leader of fifteen," said the officer who arrested him. "His word is law with the gang." Whatever he says goes. When I arrested him he told me his name, but wouldn't tell the number of his house. He is so little I wanted to take him home." The king's blue eyes were still bravely open as he started for home. If the incorrigibles continue their hardening process he will land at Joliet. I don't believe they will, though. The king is the kind of metal they mold great men out of.

There were forty-five juvenile cases tried yesterday—nearly 9,000 in the court's history. They are grown up and small, the incorrigibles. Why can't a few parents be given over into the custody of their children?

And so, day by day, the pages of the records of human life and experience, as illustrated in the Juvenile Court, are engrossed, and the lesson is repeated. In many cases hereditary influences enter into the molding of vicious character; these are supplemented with evil associations and wrong home influences that tend to make bad worse, and the moral and spiritual outlook for such victims is indeed dark for this earth life. And the character for this life is carried over into the next, with its natural results of weal or woe.

Spiritualism, however, unlike the standard orthodoxy, sees hope, upward growth in moral and spiritual excellence of character, until even the incorrigibles shall be made new, and manifest partakers of the divine nature. It has no endless, hopeless hell for even the worst of human kind; but sets the star of progression shining high in the heavens above every child of humanity JAS. C. UNDERHILL. Hammond, Ind.

The Home Circle.

Some time ago I had the story of my conversion published if this progressive paper, and since that time I have ceived many private letters from Spirit ualists who are anxious to hear further from me. It gives me much pleasure, I assure them, to answer all communications, at least acknowledge the receipt and convey to them such information as they desire, but as I am a merchant, together with holding the office of Justice of the Peace, I cannot, try as I will, reply to all in a satisfactory manner. In my first letter I was pleased to announce that we had received a little slate-writing, but since that time we have persistently tried to receive more, but were never successful, although we had a number of assurances from friends on the other side that we will in the future overcome the obstacles in the way and receive lots of it. I would be greatly pleased to hear from some of the slate-writing mediums throughout the country, giving us such information as they may deem best to enable us to accomplish this feat. We have had several great tests which are very convincing to the skeptic. In one the spirit of a young man whom I was The letter came six days after the acquainted with eleven years ago, and Not having a long acquaintance with him, I told the medium I had no recollection of such a person. He then stated that he boarded at the same hotel and wrote the names of several others that he and I were acquainted with, and the strangest thing of all, after writing the name of one of the persons, he said, "John has come over." And surely enough the same John had passed over only a year ago. I immediately became reconciled to the writer and was surprised to learn for the first time that he had passed away. My wife never knew him. In reply to some of my questions he said that it was about seven years ago since he passed over and that he met death by accident, but could not remember where. The next day I interviewed the hotel-keeper, and he informed me that the young man was killed on the railroad, near Philadelphia, about the time stated At another sitting we were visited by a person who gave his name, John Mayer, formerly a resident of Bethlehem. Pa. He appeared eager to converse with us, and after writing for some time in English, my wife inquired if he was a Dutchman? He answered yes, and then wrote one whole page in the Dutch language. My wife (the medium) cannot read or write Dutch.

At another sitting a spirit came and wrote to us in the Welsh language. The medium never saw Welsh writing be

We are only a few, and we are getting along nicely away back here in the anthracite coal regions. The medium often goes into a trance and later on when she becomes more courageous, we expect to be able to treat the public through these columns to something that we trust will be more beneficial and interesting. In conclusion I wish to inform those who are expecting personal letters from me to have patience and all private let and I trust that some one who is capa-ble, will respond to my wishes and in-struct the medium in state-writing.

W. R. WATKINS. Nesquehoning, Pa. 179 VOICES?

Calling, calling, don't you hear, Voices calling loud and clear Midst the thunders and the showers, Midst the long day's sumny hours, Don't you see the rosy bowers,

And hear the angels Calling? Willing hearts and working hands. Spreading comfort through the lands, Heed ye not the rolling sands o That mark the time that dnow mands, That each shall listen as he stands, And hear the angels, Calling?

MRS. S. A. VAN BLARCOM. Lily Dale, N. Y.

"Right Generation the Key to the Taight generation the key to the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth." By Dr. M. E. Conger. An appeal to reason and man's highest aspirations. A pleason for justice and equality in all the relations of life between men and women, Cloth. 75 cents; leatherette, 50 cents.
"The Priest, the Woman and the Confessional." This book, by the well known Father Chiniquy, reveals the degrading, impure influences and results of the Romish confessional, as proved by the sad experience of many wrocked lives. Price, by mail; $1. For sale at him, "not to touch any more intoxicat. this office.

MEDIUMSHIP DANGEROUS?

A Negative Answer to the Important Question.

I have heard considerable said within the last year or two, affirming that mediumship was dangerous. I feel impelled to say something on the other side. In the first place we know that this earth is sending to the next existence all the human conditions of life that exist here. We know that the low and degraded are just the same beings when they pass through the change called death that they are here. We know that the bigots here are the same there; the hypocrites are hypocrites still; the clown or the mirth-loving performer has not changed, nor will they until growth and expansion, evolution and progression shall have made their powor felt upon them.

We know also that there is no law by which such beings are debarred from coming into the surroundings of people of earth, providing they are in perfect harmony. But right here pivots the whole question of danger. We hear the argument that mediumship is a surrendering of the individuality of the medium. I deny this most emphatically.

We may surrender ourselves almost entirely to some one else, not only in spirit life, but to fellow-mortals here, by having no will of our own. But I positively deny that it is necessary to mediumship or one of the requirements of intelligent and progressve spirits from the other life.

The true medium has no more sur-rendered his personality to the controlling spirit than the telegraph operator has given up his to the mind that dic-tates the message he transfers across the country. He, for the time being, is the instrument (or one of them) used in expressing the desire of the party of the first part, and that only. Supposing the communication was one of treason, given by a demon in human shape, and intended to make destruction of life and property its object-would the telegraph operator be obliged to transmit the message? No, a thousand times

But it may be affirmed that the medium is entranced, and knows nothing of the message given. We admit this, but we also affirm that "like seeks like" the world over. If the mediums are true, if they love virtue, and despise untruthfulness, if their object is to do good, and love the highest good to humanity, the low, wicked or ignorant intelligences can no more approach as controlling power than that they can reverse the law of attraction and gravita-

First, because the very atmosphere around that medium is as repulsive to them as red-hot iron to the intelligent

Second. That medium is surrounded by a circle of intelligences as much more powerful than the debasing spirits as they are better and more intelligent.
While we admit the spirit spheres are constantly being recruited with the low, ignorant and wicked spirits, yet we contend that the good, true, pure and intelligent go there as well, and they have a tremendous advantage over the former through the very nature of their advanced condition. Again we claim that the good are in vast majority on the other side, for though the other class are numerous here, yet we believe the honest in purpose are in the majority here, and though many may be mistaken in this life, they make rapid progress as soon as they get where they can see the truth. Then again we know there is progression beyond the gravel and the very vilest being is reclaimed sometime from that condition. Consequently in the ages gone by, many millions of souls that have left this life in a de-plorable condition have advanced to grand and noble lives on the other side. And they are always ready to help souls here in their aspiration to true and noble purposes, throwing around them a cept the help from the elevated ones, and live so they can approach them They must love truthfulness more than falsehood, and strive for the condition of purity and goodness. They must love the glowing beauty of the mount ain-top of angelhood more than the deep canyons of selfishness, and the dense fogs of fraud and deception. To protect mediums from danger they must: First, understand the power of those they would debar from actual control. Second. They should not be too anxious to be controlled to such an extent as to welcome every influence that may come to them, but use their own reason always and at all times, take none for infallible authority. Third. They should place themselves, before allowing any control to approach them, into a prayerful state; not a verbal prayer to be heard of men, but an earnest, soulful desire for the noble. true and elevated ones from the other life to protect and guide every thought uttered for the good of humanity.

With this condition surrounding mediums they can challenge the whole demonistic power of the universe. They can no more approach them for harm or danger than they can approach the most exalted spirit sphere that was ever dreamed of, and drag down its occupants. There is danger in ignorance, I care not in what department of life we apply it. We know that many mediums in the past have not been reliable, the communications through their powers were not truthful nor reasonable. Why? Not because mediumship was dangerous, but because the mediums were either untruthful themselves, or through selfish motives, had allowed themselves to become tools for deceivers and impostors. Pride and selfish ambition are at the bottom of much of this as I can show. There is a Free Methodist camp meeting running near here. We can hear some of their insane screeches and yells at our home; but instead of its coming from the "power of the Holy Ghost," as they claim, it is from the control of some ignorant spirit of their own kind. They are mediums, and are controlled by those who are in the unprogressed condition in spirit life, and are in harmony with those in the same ignorant state here. There is danger of such mediumship where reason is set aside and blind ignorance rules. There is danger of insanity and ruin under such circumstances. But let the mediums be true to knowledge, reason, purity, progress and love of humanity rather than creed, and in my judgment, instead of being in danger, they are constantly and vigorously protected from danger by the very power they may invoke.

P. C. MILLS. Seattle, Wash.

"Talmagean Inanities, Incongruities, Inconsistencies and Blasphemies; a Review of Rev. T. DeWitt and Rev Frank DeWit Telmage's oft-repeated attacks upon Spiritualism. By Moses Hull. For sale at this office. Price ten cents. "Continuity of Life a Cosmic Truth." By Prof. W. M. Lockwood. The work of a strong, logical thinker, on a deeply important subject. Price, cloth, $1.

'Gleanings from the Rostrum." By A. B. French. Cloth, $1. For sale at

LIFE BEYOND DEATH

The Work's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as o Whether It Can Be Demonstrated as a Fact. - To Which Is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

BY MINOT J. SAVAGE, D. D. 8vo, Cloth, 842 Pages.

tic reaction from the extreme "otherworldliness" which it replaced, which lows:

was in turn followed by the Spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. He points out the doubts concerning the doctrine of immortality held by the churches and the weakness of the traditional creeds and the loosening of their hold upon the people. He then considers the probabilities of a future life, probabilities which, as he admits, fall short of demonstration. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving the lows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality—Possible Conditions of Anothermore, which is replaced, which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality—Possible Conditions of Anothermore, which is replaced, which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortality—Possible Conditions of Anothermore, which is replaced, which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Life—Possible Conditions of Anothermore, which is replaced, which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Life—Possible Conditions of Anothermore, which is replaced, which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which is a follows:

Condition and Needs as to Belief in Im work of the Society for respondent the for respondent Research and the influence search and also an appendix giving tal Life—Possible Conditions of Anothesome of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage periences and Opinions.

For Sale at this Office. Price $1.50. Postage 10c.

After a review of the beliefs held in holds, as a provisional hypothesis, that the past concerning life beyond death. continued existence is demonstrated, the past concerning life beyond death.

Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considers the agnostic persons in the other life. The contents of the reaction from the extreme forther. tic reaction from the extreme "other-chief contents of the volume are as fol-

History of the GHRISTIAN RELIGION to the Year 200,

BY CHARLES V. WAITE, A. M. Fifth Edition-Revised, with Much Additional Matter in Appendix

A standard and reliable history of the historical research in matters of fact A standard and reliable history of the earlier period of the church, giving facts that are not found in the so-called histories written by churchmen. This latest edition has been carefully and thoroughly revised, and it is a reliable magazine of facts, such as the honest inquirer wants. It opens up to the investigator and student a wide field of office.

bistorical research in matters of fact wholly ignored by the regular church historians, and throws a bright glare of historians, an

GELESTIAL DYNAMIGS.

Being a Normal Course of Study in the Astro-Magnetic Forces of Nature.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE LIGHT OF EGYPT," "THE LAN-GUAGE OF THE STARS," ETC.

A magnificent and complete course of Astro-metaphysical study, embodying Vital Principles of Life, Mental Force, Sickness and Disease. With the only true and really Scientific method of treating the sick successfully. Mental Healers, Meta-physicians, and all who practice the Healing Art Divine should give "Celestial Dynamics" a thorough and impartial study, and thus learn the real cause of their frequent failures.

No Astro-Student can afford to be without this work, if he would understand the Meta-physics of Astrology. This work was specially prepared for publication to meet the demands of large and very earnest class of people who cannot afford to pay for a regular course of instruction under a qualified teacher. And those wile can afford this privilege will find the work an invaluable text-book to their studies.

The Price is One Dollar Only, and is within reach of all who seek solid wall of protection. No demon, or evil spirit can scale that wall. But the evil spirit can scale that wall. But the of Man, and Ail Things, and All Being

RENDING THE VAIL

it Was Written by Materialized Forms at the House of J. H. Pratt, Spring Hill, Kansas, William W. Aber Being the Medium.

"Rending the Vail" is pronounced by and various kindred questions. All Col. R. T. Van Horn, of Kansas City, these are treated, some of them very, member of congress for four sessions, fully discussed.

"The principal contributors to the book are four in number: Dr. W. H. ten down by the secretary as spoken, or Reed, who is called the chemical control of the medium; William Denton, meeting the minutes in full were read, corrected, or criticised by those present corrected, or criticised by those present corrected. Thomas Paine and Michael Faraday. There are numerous others giving a few incidental and mostly personal messages or dissertations on scientific, philosophic, religious, theologic and occult topics—from world-building, the origin of life, or religions, of scientific discovery, and the laws of cosmos or nature—in fact the entire field of human

"In addition to this mass of messages, there are in the book about sixty illustrations—44 of them portraits. These were drawn by a form standing out in

away by the seceretary.

"What will attract the attention of ipse dixits of the scribe. He simply even the non-Spiritualist reader is that the topics treated by Prof. Denton, Thomas Paine and Prof. Faraday, are in kind, in thought and style with those to which their active lives in this world. to which their active lives in this world were devoted—in literary character as it all, this modest, self-retiring, literal medium imposes upon communication, Progressive Thinker. Price $1.75.

Mo., as a most remarkable work. That fully, but all rationally understandable. Col. Van Horn is fully competent to Also phenomena, inspiration and such, judge, we will say that he has been a to many, knotty subjects, are freely and an editor of a leading daily, and a pro-found thinker along scientific lines. dium nor by any one connected with the society or circle. All was delivered by in fact the entire field of human writer. "Rending the Vail" was written thought. The limitation seemed to be ten and spoken by full-form personall-ties and is printed as given. One retained to the spectators to ask questies and is printed as given. One retained the spectators to ask questies and is printed as given. markable thing about the writing may not be amiss here. As high as 1,200 words a minute were written by actual timing by the watch. the room at a desk, the form or personthe room at a desk, the form or personality to be sketched at the doorway of that his work has been admirably done and only faithfully and officiently but "It is but just to the secretary to say the cabinet and the finished picture—not only faithfully and efficiently, but handed to one of the circle and filed with excellent taste. There are no dog-were devoted—in literary character as different here as in their works extant on our book-shelves.

"The Spiritualist press and its contributors are just now discussing a character to the book and inspires continumber of questions as to the nature of spirit, of spirit return; the want of from the first page to the last enhances agreement between those returning as the respect and interest of the reader." This remarkable book, "Rending the limitations—that the organism of the vall," is for sale at the office of The medium imposes upon communication.

BEYOND THE VAIL A Sequel to "Rending the Vail."

The two volumes together as a record the experiences of spirits in both works of practically obtained facts demon-their own account of their lives on strating the claims of Modern Spirit- earth and their progress after death to strating the claims of Modern Spiriterating the claims of Modern Spiriterating as to post mortal survival, are their present condition of freedom from unique and overwhelming.

Every communication is from a full tensely interesting, instructive and materialized spirit form, in good light, often highly dramatic, and either spoken audibly or written in Coincident with these are the profull view by the form. There is not an foundly philosophical comments of the automatic or trance message in the controlling spirits of the scances, Prof. William Denton, Thomas Paine, Dr. W. It is illustrated by several engravings. H. Read and others—covaring, law

It is illustrated by several engravings, H. Reed and others—covering, law, It is illustrated by several engravings, in. Reed and others—covering, law, the originals of which were drawn in medicine, jurisprudence, theology and the presence of the circle by a full form metaphysics. There are no books in exmaterialized spirit artist. BEYOND THE VAIL is, as a rule, authority. Price, by mail, $1.78.

per covers, 40 cents. Cloth, 60 cents. For sale at this office.

"Religious and Theological Works of Thomas Paine," Contains his celebrated "Age of Reason," and a number of letters and discourses on religious and the-ological subjects. Cloth binding, 480 pages. Price $1. For sale at this office.

"Voltaire's Romances." Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enemy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined; with the skill of a master mind. Price $1.50. For sale at this office.

"The Life Booklets." By Ralph Waldo Trine. Three daintily beautiful little books, finely adapted for holiday presents. The titles are, "Character, Building by Thought Power," "Every Living Creature," and "The Greatest Thing Ever Known." The matter is of high-toned spiritual character and of helpral purpose. Proce 35 cents each, cles, Camp-meetings and Other Spiritualistic Gatherings," By Mattle E. Hull. For sale at this office, Price 10

"Astral Worship." By J. H. Hill, M. D. For sale at this office. Price $1.
"Why I Am a Vegetarian." By J.

Howard Moore. An address before the Chicago Vegetarian Society. Price, 25

"Meatless Dishes." Very useful.

"In the World Celestial," by Dr. T. A

Bland. Interesting, instructive and helpful; spiritually uplifting. Cloth bound; Price $1.

"The Romance of Jude. A Story of the Life and Times of the Nazarene and

His People." Through the mediumship of Mrs. M. T. Longley. An intensely interesting book. Neatly bound in cloth

"The Commandments Analyzed." By W. H. Bach. The Commandments are other Bible passages, showing great in congruities. Price 25 cents and How to Mesmerize to Assist Development." By W. H. Bach. Especially useful to learners who seek to know and utilize the laws of mediumship and development, and avoid errors. Price.

cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. For

"Right Living." "By Susan H. Wixon,

The author shows a wise practicality in her method of teaching the principle of ethics. She illustrates her subject with many brief narratives and anecdotes, which render the book more interesting and more easily comprehended. It is especially adapted for use in Children's teachers it may be made very useful.

Young and old will be benefited by it.

"Religious and Theological Works of pages. Price $1. For sale at this office.

"Child Culture, According to the Laws of Physiological Psychology and Mental Suggestion." By Newton N.

Riddell. A most excellent work for all

"Beyond the Vail." A Sequel to

"Rending the Vail." Being a compilation, with notes and explanations, of narrations and illustrations of spirit experiences, spoken, written and made by full-form materializations; setting up a scientific and personal verification of "What We Shall Be," and a code of ethics, requisite to the most speedy re-clization of the highest and purest felicity attainable in the future life. A 500 pages. Price, $1.75.

office. Price 6 cents.

this office.

Price 25 cents.

at this office.

want.

very remarkable book. Large, octavo,

"Never-Ending Life Assured by Science." By Daniel Kent Tenney. A strong and conclusive argument from the basis of science. For sale at this and 2. An occult library in itself, a text-book of esoteric knowledge as taught by Adepts of Hermetic Philosophy. Price $2 per volume. For sale at

"Love—Sex—Immortality." By Dr.

W. P. Pnelon. For sale at this office.

"Voltaire's Romances." Translated from the French. With numerous illustrations. These lighter works of the brilliant Frenchman, an invincible enemy of the Catholic church, are worthy of wide reading. Wit, philosophy and romance are combined, with the skill of master mind. Price $1.50. For sale

"Cosmian Hymn Book." A collection of original and relected hymns, for liberal and ethical societies, for schools

tions of poetry and music, embodying

the highest moral sentiment, and free from all sectarianism. Price 50 cents.

practical handbook of reference, containing definitions of every used electrical term or phrase. Price 25 cents.

"Handy Electrical Dictionary."

This volume meets a public

It comprises 258 choice selecand the home; compiled by L. K. Wash

"The Light of Egypt." Volumes 1

who have the care or training of children. Price 65 cents.

Cloth $1. For sale at this office.

"Mediumship and Its Development.

and gilt. Only 50 cents.

sale at this office.

cents.

Price 25 cents.

Cloth, $1.10.

Price 10 cents.

cents.

"Spiritual Sougs for the Use of Oir-

Progressive Thinker.

WONDERFUL

DR. C. E. WATKINS, 66 Highland Ave., Newtonville, Mass.,

And he will write you and tell you all about it DR. O. E. WATKINS. 66 Highland ave., Newtonville, Mass.

LILY DALE.

Notes of Interest From "The City of Light" Assembly.

To the Editor:—As it is a rainy day, and therefore, a good time for writing, I venture a few notes from Lily Dale, or "The City of Light," as it is now called, hoping they may be of interest to your readers. It is our first visit to this beautiful camp, but already we feel at home, for friends long familiar to all Spiritualists, either through sight, or the pen, are on the grounds, and are heard from the platform from time to time.

J. Clegg Wright, W. M. Lockwood W. J. Colville, V. J. Hull, Mrs. Carrie Twing and others less widely-known, have given forth spiritual food, each in their own particular lines of truth.

Mrs. Pettingill, the new president has thus early endeared herself in the hearts of the people by her pleasing and ever-dignified personality that loses itself in the effort to do the very best possible for the good of the camp. The presiding officer, George H. Brooks, is too well known at Lily Dale, and elsewhere, to need any mention from my pen. He is certainly the "right man in the right place." Homer Altemus, of Washington, D. C., has been the test medium until Sunday, July 19, since the beginning of the season. His work has been well received, and does credit to his spirit helpers as well as to himself and the cause he represents. He has also contributed much to the enjoyment of the people with his music, "Some Sweet Day," sung at the Sunday service, being exceptionally well ren

The lyceum opened with a much larger attendance than usual. It is under the capable management of Mrs. Petersen, assisted by Miss Greene. The first public meeting for the Lyceum children, or rather by the children was held in the auditorium last Friday. All acquitted themselves creditably, and of Mrs. Allyn and a lyceum started at showed a very great interest in the lyceum work. If we, as Spiritualists, could only realize fully the benefit to the cause through the lyceum, it seems to me that workers and laymen, too. would bestir themselves for this work -the work that must be done if our children are to receive the truth of Spiritualism as is their right.

Mrs. Carrie Twing gave the children some very beautiful and instructive lessons in her inimitable way—a way that the children will not forget very soon. Sunday, July 19, was set apart for Buffalo Day, and excursions came from that city. It is said about 700 people came in for the day, and some remaining over for the week. J. W. Dennis, of Buffalo, presided over this meeting, Mr. Richardson and Rev. Sayles, both of East Aurora, N. Y., delivered able addresses to the large audience assembled. The Rev. Sayles is pastor of the Universalist church in East Aurora, but is fast becoming "converted" to Spiritualism—as he claims to be "half a Spiritualist now." Such able, sincere and our ranks, for there is need of many such to carry the truth to the world ELLA ROYAL WILLIAMS.

Reed's Lake Camp, Michigan,

The Reed's Lake Camp-meeting is moving along nicely and the campers are enjoying a variety of entertain-

After the splendid work of Mrs. Abbie Sheets came the engagement of Mrs. Anna Gillespie, who is second to none as a platform speaker and test medium. She gave five lectures in all, and on Sunday was greeted both afternoon and evening with fine audiences which highly appreciated her excellent work. On Sunday evening this lady left the audience in the care of Mrs Josie Folsom, and hurried to her train for Chicago, from where she will this week take her departure for California, followed by the good wishes of all who

Mrs. Folsom has done some splendid test work at the camp, and is causing very great interest on the part of inves-

Frank N. Foster, the spirit artist, is doing fine work here. The writer obtained the picture of his wife, E. V. Wilson and one of Mrs. Folsom's guides, all on the same plate, and all as plain and natural as life.

There are also present, Mrs. Bliss-Green and husband, of Chicago, Mr. G. W. Renner, trumpet medium; Mrs. Fuller and many others representing all phases of mediumship.

Old Brother Smith is present, whom I met at Belvidere, Ill., thirty years ago. Dr. Freedman, the Australian healer. and his wife are present."

F. D. Dunnakin, of Ohio, is the present speaker for a week and begins work We, ,Folsom, wife and self, expect to remain here until July 30, when we shall go to Island Lake camp. The nice cool weather and out-door life are doing us much good, and we hope to be able to do good work during the coming fall and winter. C. W. STEWART.

. City of Light Assembly.

Frequent rains for the past few days have somewhat interrupted the pleasure of the many visitors to this noted resort, yet very little grumbling is heard, as visitors here this year are mostly optimistic, and seem to be looking for the sunlight that shines above the mountains of the new dispensation.

W. J. Colville, that wonderful mental alchemist, who knows so well how to transmute all the baser metals of undeveloped and misapplied ideas into the gold of keener spiritual perception, and broader individual consciousness, is here and is answering questions on all lines, of interior wisdom with more seeming readiness, and a greater influx of spiritual light than ever before. He is holding classes in mental science and the development of individual consciousness. His two public lectures have been on "Influence of Thought on All Bodily Functions," and "New Heavens and a New Earth in Human Con-

W. J. Hull took his old place in the hearts of his hearers with his fearless and trenchant words on individual and national reform. The entire week has been filled with wit, wisdom and pro-

Bharati, India; Francis E. Mason, New ices were conducted by Mrs. Alice ture. Scholarly, masterly, trenchant. Rork; Rev. Morgan Wood, Cleveland; Baker, of Cleveland, Obio, COR. Price 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Cushman, and Rev. Anna B.

Shaw.

Woman's Congress will be August 5 A fine line of evening entertainments are being rendered thus far and much good work for the assembly is being ac complished by the Willing Workers. Conferences, thought exchanges and Forest Temple meetings are well attended and much active interest taken, and questions of deep import relative to soul growth and recognition are heard on every hand. There is a large attendance of children for so early in the session, being forty-six the first day.

J. E. HYDE.

Texas State Association,

The seventh annual meeting of the Texas State National Association of Spiritualists will be held in the city of Austin, Texas, September 4, 5 and 6, 1903; S. E. 56, for the report of the present officers, report of the several chartered local societies, annual report of the missionaries and ordained ministers, the election of officers for the coming year, and such other business as may come before such an annual meeting. "Each person holding Ordination Certificate shall give written report of official duties performed during the year to the secretary at least thirty days prior to each annual meeting Each person failing to comply with above prescribed duty or for any other cause that is adjudged sufficient by a majority of the official board, after due consideration, shall have his or her papers revoked.'

THEO. SCHIRMER, Sec. JOHN W. RING, Pres. Spiritualist Temple, Galveston, Texas

Onset Camp Notes.

The camp meeting at Onset opened with large attendance, Sunday, July 12, and everything bids fair to this being one of the best meetings held there for a long time. About all the cottages are occupied and rooms are in demand. There are a great many mediums at the camp, and all seem to be doing a good business,

The weather has not been all that could be desired, but we are living in hopes of warmer weather.

Dr. Geo. A. Fuller was the first speaker, giving the opening address before a large audience. The Doctor is always sure of a good reception here, as he is a very popular chairman.

In the afternoon of July 12 the platform was occupied by that noble little woman, Mrs. C. Fannie Allyn, and she gave one of her finest lectures.

Monday, a large conference was held. the topic being the lyceum, and the subject was taken up again at the conference held on Tuesday and Thursday, and resulted in securing the services Onset. Mrs. Allyn will have the assistance of a large number of lyceum workers. The lyceum holds its sessions Tuesday and Friday of each week. Forty children were in attendance at the first session.

Wednesday, Mrs. Kate R. Stiles was the speaker and gave a fine address.
Friday, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring, treasurer of the Mass State Association of Spiritualists, gave the address and followed with tests

Saturday, Rev. Wm. T. Hutchins spoke for the first time at Onset, and it certainly will not be his last, as he left a good impression. He is an able speaker, and a fine orator. The West should hear him.

Sunday morning, Mrs. Sarah A. Byrne, New England's own speaker, and one of the finest, occupied the platform. It is not necessary to say that she pleased her hearers. In the afternoon, Prof. W. F. Peck was the speaker, and the audience was given a treat as he gave one of his great scientific lectures that are always educated men should be welcomed in structive. You know him too well in the West for me to give him any praise. Prof. Peck was the speaker on Tuesday and Thursday. During the week he has held class meetings.

Everything looks as if this was going to be a grand season. We are to have such speakers as Carrie E. S. Twing, Thos. Cross, Dr. Carey, Mrs. M. T. Longley, W. J. Colville, F. A. Wiggin, H. D. Barrett, Rev. Frank E. Mason and Mrs. Mason, Miss Susie C. Clark and Cora L. V. Richmond

You can subscribe for this paper at the headquarter's book store; also copies for sale. H.

PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE.

fObliuaries to the extent of ten lines

only will be inserted free. All in excess of ten lines will be charged at the rate of fifteen cents per line. About seven words constitute one line i Passed to spirit life, at Muskegon, Mich., on Saturday, July 11, Mrs. S. E. Stranger, aged 50 years. Mrs. Stranger gave about fourteen years of her life to the public work of Spiritualism, and stricken with paralysis three years ago, and although tenderly cared for at the home of her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hopkins, she never regained her health. The funeral services were conducted by C. W. Stewart, on Sunday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clcck.

Mrs. P. K. Wright, wife of John Wright, a hardware merchant of Cripple Creek, Colo., passed to spirit life at the residence of her sister, Mrs. L. H. Koehn, after a lingering illness covering a period of four years. She came to Dolores about two months ago, hoping to secure relief from the disease that has been troubling her so long, but it could not be checked. The deceased was a member of the Rebecca Lodge, Woman's Club and G. A. R. Relief Corps of Cripple Creek.

The funeral of the late Comrade Allen W. Hahn took place last Sunday at I p. m., at the family residence, 931 W. Errors, Two Cosmogonies of Genesis, Polk street. The Spiritual society of The Patriarchal Age, The Jewish Kings, which he was a member, was represented by Mrs. Mary B. Hill, of 320 phat Die? Harmony of the Gospels, Paul Flournoy street, who delivered an elo-quent address. Then the American tory, The Bible and Science, Prophe-Lady Quartette sang two selections cles, Miracles, The Bible God, The beautifully. The Farragut Post in Bible Not a Moral Guide, Lying, Cheatcharge of Adjt. Lincler, then took ing, Stealing, Murder, War. Human charge of the services and performed over their dead comrade the beautiful services of the G. A. R. Mrs. A. V. Reed, of Garfield Circle, of which deceased's wife was a member, laid the flag on the breast of the dead comrade. Comrade Faris, of Julius White Post, sang by request, "He's Gone"; then followed an address by Col. Boynton, in which at times he grew very eloquent, and the beautiful expressions he ut tered will not soon be forgotten. The home was filled with friends who came to pay their last tribute to the old vet | Standing!—There is a special message eran of the civil war.

Frederick Charles Willons passed to stamps, Mrs. Dr. J. A. Bliss, 3435 Woodhigher-life, July 15, at Elyria, Ohio, land Ave., Kansas City, Mo. aged 6 years. This beautiful bud of promise passed away with lockjaw. caused by a shot received July 4. He A Menace to American Civilization." leaves a father, mother, three little sis- By Prof. W. M. Lockwood, lecturer gressive ideas of all kinds.

The speakers for next week, commencing August are Baba Premanand gain in the higher life. Funeral services and many relatives to mourn his upon physical, physiological and psychic science. Demonstrator of the momencing August are Baba Premanand gain in the higher life. Funeral services and many relatives to mourn his upon physical, physiological and psychiatry and producted by Mrs. All and psychiatry a

DYSPEPSIA. INDIGESTION GURED

To Can Pasitively Cute Any Caso of Stomach Trouble Hol Caused by Cancer. Do Not Take Gur Word. 1EST IT YQUASELF.

FREE TEST TREATMENT Do you suffer from indigestion.

timonials by the thousands of those we have cured of stomach trouble in all its forms and stages; but they would not be facts or proof to you—only words of thanks and praise. The only absolute proof is in the treatment itself. And believing that a practical test would be more convincing to sufferers than all the testimonials we could print and absolutely prove its great merits, we will send anyone desiring it a full, two weeks' trial treatment absolutely free.

If you have stomach trouble and have failed to get relief, write us at once and learn by practical test what we can do for you. Address Dr. Peebles Institute of Health, Ltd., 23 Main Street, Battle Creek, Mich.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS. It is important when a meeting is suspended, that notice he given us, so Ancient and Modern Mysteries Classithat inquirers may not be mislead. We fied and explained." By Andrew Jackwant new notices of all meetings being want new notices of all meetings being son Davis. We have a few copies of held here in public halls at the present this work by the celebrated seer.

Church of the Spirit Communion, Kenwood Hall, 4308 Cottage Grove avenue. Conference and messages at 3 p. m. Lecture by Dr. J. O. M. Hewitt a 8 p. m. Messages by H. F. Coates and others. Plenty of good music.
The Spiritual Research meets every

Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Van Buren Opera House, corner of Madison street and California avenue. Good music and singing. All are invited to attend. The Spiritualistic Church of the Sta-

dents of Nature hold services at Nathan's Hall, 1565 Milwaukee avenue, corner Western avenue, Sunday evenings, 7:30 p. m. Mrs. W. F. Schumacher, pastor. Church of the Spiritual Forces holds service at Thurman Club Room, corner not only analyzed, but contrasted with of 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue, every Sunday. Conference at 3 p. Lecture at 8 p. m. Conducted by Isa Cleveland. During July the Englewood Spiritual Union meets at Hopkins' Hall, 528 West Sixty-third street. Conference meeting at 3 p. m. sharp. Lecture and messages at 8 p. m. sharp.

A Spiritualist Temple has been opened by Mrs. Schwann, at 523 Belmont avenue. Services held every Sunday and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Tests and music at every ser vice.

Dr. Sholdice holds services Sunday evenings at 7:45, at 205 Lincoln avenue, The First Hyde Park Occult Society holds regular meetings every Sunday at Alliance Hall, 323 E. 55th street, between Monroe and Kimbark avenues. The best talent available will be se cured to give interest at every meeting. To spread the truth is the object of this society. Eva L. Stewart, secretary, 543 E 55th street, where all communications should be addressed.

Mrs. M. A. Burland, pastor of the Spiritual Union Church, holds two services each Sunday at No. 77 East Thirty-first street. Conference at 3 p. m., and lecture and tests at 8 o'clock. Come out to the camp-meeting of the second Church of the Soul, every Sunday in the woods, at Madison street and Desplaines river. Lectures by Mr. Schaeffer at 2 p. m. Questions answered and communications given by good mediums. Come and enjoy a day with us in the woods. Meetings will be continued during July and August.

Chicago Spiritual Alliance Church meets every Sunday at 3 o'clock sharp, and 8 o'clock sharp at Lakeside Hall, corner Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, where truth-seekers and investigators, as well as Spiritualists can enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening. First-class speakers. Tests and mes-sages by carefully selected mediums. Excellent music. Mrs. Mary Dixon and her daughter Cora, the "Child Wonder," always in attendance to give readings between the meetings. Also free demonstrations by C. A. Beverly, M. D., president.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

If you have got rheumatism or kidney trouble, I can cure you or no pay. For full particulars, send your name and address to Dr. J. R. Craig, 105 Ellis was a good, pure, sweet soul. She was street, San Francisco, Cal. I also cure catarrh and rupture without the use of medicines.

THE BIBLE AS REGARDED BY JOHN E. REMSBURG.

In this book there are Eleven Chapters on the Authenticity of the Bible; Thirteen on the Credibility of the Bible; Ten on the Morality of the Bible, with an Appendix of Unanswerable Arguments Against the Divine Origin and in favor of the Human Origin of the Bible. Twenty-six pages of index, enabling the reader to refer in an instant to any authority quoted or argument used by the author

The tiles of the chapters in detail are. Sacred Books of the World, The Christian Bible, Formation of the Canon, Different Versions of the Bible, Authorship and Dates, The Pentateuch, The Prophets, The Hagioegrapha, The Four Gospels; Acts, Catholic Epistles and ing, Stealing, Murder, War, Human Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Sacrifices, Cannibalism, Witchcraft, Slavery, Polygamy, Adultery, Obscenity, Intemperance, Vagrancy, Ignorance, Injustice to Women, Unkindness to Children, Cruelty to Animals, Tyranny, Intolerance, Conclusion, Appendix The book makes some five hundred pages, and is printed handsomely on heavy paper, with wide margins. Price

To the Members of the National Devel oping Circle, No Matter of How Long for you; something to make the heart Write. Address, enclosing two

"The Infidelity of Ecclesiasticism.

"Spiritual Fire Crackers, Bible Chest-TO THE SICK nuts and Politicall Pin Points." By J. S. Harrington. A.pamphlet containing

I extend my brotherly hand and enrneally request that each and every reader of this paper write for my FREE BOOKLETS, on Cures by NATURE'S FORCES. I have cured thousands in all parts of the United States, and nearly every nort and entry to the world. I have good news, for 50 days only, to all sick people—whether rich or poor. Write tils very minute, as this opportunity may never come to you again. Address,

M. N. HOGERS, V. D. 79 pages of tracy reading. Price 25 cents. For sale at the office of The "Mark Chester; or a Mill and a Million. A Tale of Southern California." nay never come to you again. Address,
M. N. ROGERS, V. D.,
Union City, Mich., U. S. A. By Carlyle Petersilea. A pure psychic story, elevating and reformatory. Pa-

Single Meals 50 cents. Open July 1 to Sept. 15.

The Maplewood Hotel PORMEULY "THE GRAND"

Lily Dale, N. Y.

Hates $10 per Week and Upwards, Amer. ican Plan: Special Attention to Endles and Children. LEO MANGER, Proprietor.

Also Proprietor the Grand Restaurant.

18 W. Eagle Street, Buffalo, N. Y. L. A. DELLINGER, GIVES READINGS BY Chicago, III, 714

CHART FREE.

By a Bohemian Gypsy Astrologer and Clairvoyant. Send age, color of eyes and hair, in own handwriting. Address GEO. WELLES, Box 180, Newark, N. J. 716 HOROSCOPES

Scientifically accurate and reliable. Captain G.W. Walrond, 1610 Glenarm St., Denver, Col., Est 1830. "The Truth Seeker Collection of Forms and Ceremonies for the Use of Liberals." For sale at this office. READINGS BY MAIL. Send 25c silver and 2c stamp and leading question and receive reading by return mail. MISS A. M. COLE, Fromont, Mich.

"The Present Age and Inner Life; TAKE NOTICE. An able-bodied Spiritualist farmer, and rough carpenter, single, aged 55 to 60 can arrange for a pleasant life home. Address Box 42, Encintua, Cal. 711

NICHOLAS BECKER. Readings by mail, impressional and Clairvoyant. Description and names of spirit friends with messages; advice. Instructions for psychic unfoldment. Send own handwriting and $1.00, Dixon. Ill.

FOR SALE.

The cottage belonging to Mr. & Mrs. M. Bucha an (the independent letter writers) at Clinton, I camp ground. For particulars address M. Buc anan, 579 7th ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

YOUR FORTUNE
Typewritten and sent FREE if you will send your birth-date and three stamps for mailing expenses I have astonished thousands with my wonderfully correct reading of their life, past and future. I sorrectly reveal your future love affairs, business success, marriage mate, etc., and give advice on all affairs. Address, SHAGHEN, Dept. T.B., 2152, San Francisco, Cal.

Bangs Sisters,

PHENOMENAL MEDIUMS. independent state and paper writing sittings daily. Spirit Portrait Work a Specialty. Readings by mail. Send four cents stamps for ooklet. 654 W. Adams, Chicago. Telephone Ash

THE SPEAKING DIAL. A Wonderful Spiritual Invention

A Wonderful Spiritual Invention
Gives names, dates and circumstances. Speaks
in various languages; answers mental questions;
convincing the most skeptical. Has come to prove immortality and spirit communion. Develops all phases of mediumship. Magnetized by powerful spirit band. Rend with the late Hon. I. Donnelly said of the Speaking Dial. Dials now, $1.50. Send for testimentals. Enclose stamp for reply. P. J.
DEMPSEY Inventor; 2817 Columbus ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Lyceum. In the hands of mothers and Annie Lord Chamberlain's Card. Dear friends, you can greatly help me care for my blind sister, Jennie L. Webb, one of the earl-iost mediums now in the form, by writing a letter to a spirit friend. Send it to me with $1, and I will try and get ronly by independent writing or whis-pers. Address Mrs. Annie Lord Chamberlain, Mil-ford Maau. Thomas Painer contains his celebrated 'Age of Reason," and a number of letters and discourses on religious and theological subjects. Cloth binding, 430

DR. J. S. LOUCKS

Is the oldest and most successful Spiritual Physician now in practice. His cures are THE MOST MARVELOUS of this age. His examinations are correctly made, and free to all who send him name, age, sex and lock of hair, and six cents in stamps. He doesn't ask for any isading symptom. A clairvoyant doesn't need any. He positively cures weak men. Address

J. S. LOUCKS, M. D.

DON'T READ THIS.

Frances L. Loucks, the only psychic wonder living, that uses the spiritual X-ray without any leading symptom to direct, and locates all internal diseases. A trial will convince you. Nervous exhaustion and lost vigor of both sexes successfully treated, as hundreds can testify. Send name, age, sex, complexion and 10 cents in stamps, and receive a correct diagnosis of your case free, worth dollars to you. Address,

FRANCES L. LOUCKS, Lock Box 1214.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS ARTISTS.
Send two dollars, your photograph or lock of hair, and receive three finished pictures from some loved ones that are wating to reach you from the summerland,
Mr. and Mrs. A. Normann.—The three photographs were handed me to-day, and I recognize every face upon them, and I can truthfully say these pictures are genuine, and will recommend you to the world; for such evidence is what proves life eternal, Mrs. Dr. Gregor McGregor.
2834 Chicago avc., Minneapolis, Minn.
Address with stamp enclosed and receive proof MR. & MRS. A. NORMANN, 2721, Elliott av. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE TO-MORROW OF DEATH, Or the Future Life According to Science. By Louis Figuler. Translated from the French by S. R. Crockee. A very fascinating work. This fine volume might well have been entitled Spiritualism Demonstrated by Science. It is written in that peculiar interesting style in which French writers excel when they would popularize scientific subjects in adaptation to the needs of the general reader. The author says: "There is a true and respectable idea in Spiritualism," and regards as proved "the fact of communication between superhumans and the inhabitants of earth." Price, $1.50.

A. P. A. MANUAL A complete expose of the principles and ob-lects of the American Protective Association. A book for all patriotic American citizens. Price, 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

Paine's Theological Works.

AN ASTONISHING OFFER Send three two-cent stamps, lock of Healer and hair, age, name and the leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free br spirit power.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker, 230 North Sixth St.

San Jose, Cali

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker.

TESTIMONIALS OF CURE. My Dear Mrs. Dobson-Barker:-I want to say, I have been ailing for thirty years and you are the only one that has done me any good. MARY JANE PEARCE. Perris, Riverside Co., Cal., Feb. 21,

Mrs. Dobson-Barker-Kind Friend:-As I tried your treatment four years ago, and it helped me so much, I will write to you again to see if you are still practicing, and if you are I want to send to you for another month's treat-ment, for I can safely say that you did more for me than all the doctors on earth, and I hope you are well and still practicing. May the good angels bless you, is my prayer. Respectfully, MINA M. YANG.

Pee Dee, Ky., Oct. 20, 1902. Stanton, Mich., Jan. 19, 1902.

Mrs. Dr. Dobson-Barker—Dear Sister:—I take my pen in hand to let you know how I am. I thank you and your band for I know I would be in my grave now, but you and your band have saved me. I suffered everything. I am happy to say I am a well woman. I was sick a long time; I do my own work; how I would like to see the woman that cured me. I let every one know who cured me. I war sick twenty-five years. I still remain your friend, AMANDA R. GREEN.

You Can Have Metted rebble LENN Metted Rebble Rebbl

MOLLIE FANCHER. The Brooklyn Enigma. An authentic statement of facts in the life of Mary J. Fancher, the psychological marvel of the nineteenth century. Unimpeachable testimony of many witnesses. By Abram H. Dalley. With illustrations. Price cloth. $1.50.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE Is a most excellent work by Dr. M. L. Sherman, assisted by Prof. W. F. Lyon. Heretofore it has been sold for & but the price now has been reduced to & 1. It is a book that will interest and instruct. It contains 280 pages, and is full of suggestive thoughts. Dr. Sherman was a medium of rare qualities, and his work is a reflection from the celestial spheres.

A GREAT BOOK.

THE HULL JAMIESON DEBATE.

One of Unflagging Interest Throughout -It Should Be in the Hands of Every Spiritualist and Freethinker.

This book, containing nearly 500 closely printed pages, should have a million circulation. Price $1. It is chockful of rapid-firing ideas, and is the ablest debate, on both sides, ever published. Send for it.

Bible and Church Degrade Woman, By Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Comprises three essays on "The Effect of Woman Suffrage on Questiens of Morais and Religion." Price, 10c.

An address del'vered before the Chicago Vege-tarian Society. By J. Howard Moore. Price, Healing, Gauses and Effects.

Why I Am a Vegetarian.

By W. P. Phelon, M. D. Deals with the finer mental and spiritual forces as applied to heal-ing. Price, 50 cents. Aryan Sun Myths, the Origin of Religion.

KAREZZA Ethics of Marriage. By Alice B. Stockham, M. D. Karezza makes a plea for a better birthright for children, and aims to lead individuals to seek a higher development of themselves through most sacred relations. It is pure in tone and aim, and should be widely circulated. Price, cloth, $1. STANDING UP FOR JESUS.

Or what the Editor of the Freethinker's Magazine thinks of him. Price, 4 cents; twenty-five The Spiritual Wreath.

Age of Reason, Examination of the Prophecies, etc. Illustrated edition. Post 8vo., 422 pages. Price, cloth, 31.00.

Acollection of words and music for the choir, congregation and social circle. By S. W. Tucker. Comprises sixty or more gems of song. Price, 15 cents.

6. WALTER LYNN

Gifted Psychical HEALTH RESTORED

For the Cure of Mental and Physical Ailments.

By Common Sense Methods

省入

OBSESSION CURED. For Free Diagnosis of Disease, send five two-cent stamps, age, name

sex and own handwriting.

READINGS AND BUSINESS AD VICE $1.00 and two stamps.

> Address 855 Grove St., Oakland, Ca

Write for Circular

JORY'S TONIC TABLETS

A lies Nove I saic and Siced Suilder.

An ideal restorative tonic for the cure of General Debility and the various forms of nervous and exysical depression, Melancholia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Weak Kidneys, Ohronic Backache, poor circulation, poor appetite, poor sleep, poor blood, etc., and for improving the tone of the general nervous system, the digestive functions and the blood. 50 doses, 75c; 100 doses $1.25 Postage prepaid.

Write for Circular.

JORY'S BOWEL TONIC

For Constipation, Headache, Etc. Are not a Purgative, but induce a Natural Healthy Action of the Bowels. 38 tablets, 25c. Postage prepaid. Prepared only by H. M. JORY, Manufacturing Chemist. 6 Eddy Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Very Interesting Book tor AM Philosophy of This work contains a graphic Spiritual Intercourse account of the very wonderful spiritual developments at the house of Rev. Dr. Phelps, Stratford, Conn., and similar cases in all parts of the country. This volume is the first from the author directly upon the subject of Spiritualism, and has stood the test of many years. Cloth, $1,20; postage 10cd MAHOMET His Mirth, Character and Doctrine. By Edward Gibon. This is No. 6 of the Library of Liberat Classics. It is conceded to be historically correct, and so exact and perfect in every detail as to be practically beyond the reach of adverse criticism. This work will be found intensely interesting. Price, 25 cents. THE AGE OF REASON.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE

PART I .-- The Pentateuch.

Comments on Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lillie Devereux Riake, Rev. Phobel Hanaford, Clara Bewick Colby, Ellen Battelle, Deitrick, Mrs. Louisa Southworth, Ursula N. Gestefeld, and Francis E Barr.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE.--PART IN Judges, Kings, Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments, from Joshua to Revelation. The comments are keen, bright, spley, full of wit, the work of radioal thinkers who are not ignorant of the higher-criticism. There is not a doll page in either of these books, but each its a galaxy of the bright minds of the day and throw a new light on the Bible teachings relating to woman. Price of each, paper, 60 cents.

I ITS ATTAINMENT OF WUIIdly FORM AND FEATURES

Beauty The cultivation of personal, beauty, based on Hygiene and Health Cuiture, by twenty physicians and spe-cialists, and edited by Albert Turner. A valua-ble book for women and therefore for the whole world. Price in elegant cloth binding, $1.00. For sale at this office.

-THE-Christs of the Past and Present By MOSES HULL,

A comparison of the Christ-work or Mediumship of Biblical Messiahs and the conditions they required, with similar manifestations in Modern Spiritualism. This is a good work to study for arguments with which to meet the very common orthodox question, "Why do you always require conditions for your spiritual manifestations!" Cloth bound, 85cents; paper 25 cents. For sale at this office.

Were You Born Under a Lucky Star? A complete exposition of the science of Astrology, adapted from the Four Books of Ptolemy, the Astronomer on the art of Reading the Stars, with many illustrations. By A. ALPHEUS, Secretary of the Astrological Society of England and America. Handsomely bound in cloth, gibt top, with beautiful designs stamped on side and back. Price $1.00. For sale at this office.

The Religion of Science. By Dr. Paul Carus. Ver thoughtful and interesting. Price, 25 cents.

THE TALMID Selections from the contents of that ancient book, its commentaries, teachings, poetry, and legends. Also brief sketches of the men who made and commented upon it. By H. Polang. 859 pp. Price, cloth, $1

Father Tom and the Pope. Or a Night at the Vatican. Written probably, by Sir Samuel Ferguson. From Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine. This is a humorous abcount of a rolicksome visit to the Pope of Rome by Father Tom. an Irish priest, armed with a superabundance of Irish wit, two imperial quart bottles of Irish "poteen," and an Irish recipe for "conwounding" the same. Paper, 26 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

FREE TREATMENT FOR HEART DISEASE

Palpitation Irregular Rulse: Shortness of Breath Smothering Spells is Fainting Spells Weak, Nervous Hnart Rheumatism of the Heart Neuralgia of the Heart Dropsy of the Hear

Organic Disease of the Heart

Price $1.00 a Box 3 Boxes for $2.50

Free Trial Treatment of Cactarine, the Great Heart Remedy, sent to every Reader of this Paper Who Writes Us Cactarine is made from a prescription obtained from one of the leading specialists of the world for the cure of Heart Disease, and is the only remedy manufactured for heart disease only. It has given relief or completely cured every case of heart disease or weakness that has used it. We want everybody afflicted with any disease or weakness of the heart to try a box of Cactarine, absolutely free. Write us to-day and you will receive by return mall, free of all charge, a box of Gactarine.

Most cases get complete relief first few doses. Many are oured with the free sample box. Thousands are being cured by this simple remedy, why not you? Don't walt and drop dead. Write to-day and get well; no money asked for trial proscribe Cactarino. ViHad Organio Heart Disease | Had Nervous Spells with the Heartand was Oured with 3 hoxes of Oaotarine.

Mrs. Joseph Bullman, of Ohlman, Ill., was cured of smothering spells and irregular pulse with fuo boxes of Cactarine. Wm. Albert Smith, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I had valvular discase of the heart. My pulse would go up to 120 beats, then slow up and almost quit beating. Doctors said I would not be cured. I sent for three boxes of Cactarine, and have used all but ten tablets in the third box and they have given complete relief from all heart troubles. I shall keep them in my house all the time."

Mrs. Susan Reed, of Tiosa, Ind., was cured of heart disease with a free sample box of Cactarine which did not cost her a cent.

CHEMICAL COMPANY, 321 Good Block, Des Moines, lower

Frank W. Howard, of New York City, says in Doctors had pronounced me to have organic disease. I had palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting spells, would fall down on the street or any place when the spells would come on the . Had spent hundreds of dollars with doctors with no benefit. Three boxes of your Cactarine relieved me from all pain and trouble of my heart and oured me perfectly.

I thank you a thousand times."

sometimes and then very slow. Had neuralgia of the heart very bad. Two boxes of Cactarine gave me complete relief. I thank you when the street or any place when the spells would come on the street or any place when the spells would come on the street or any place when the spells would come on the spells would come on the spells with spells of the heart very bad. Two boxes of Cactarine or the spells were spelled to the spells with spells of the heart very bad. Two boxes of the heart very bad. Two treatment and a splendid book on heart diseases. All leading doctors A FEW OF THE MANY CASES CURED WITH CACTARINE, THE GREAT HEART REMEDY: Mrs. Polly Raggott, of Valley Junction, Iowa, says: "I used to have nervous spells with my heart. It would beat very fast sometimes and then very slow. Had neuralgin of the heart very bad. Two boxes of Cactarine gave me complete relief. I thank you very much for your treatment. I shall always keep it on hand."

K. West, of Hyde Park, Chicago, Ill., was cured of organic dis-case of the heart, when other doctors pronounced him incurable, with three boxes of Cactarino.

One number of The Progressive Thinker is often worth one dollar... It is sent one year for that amount. SPIRITUALISM—Progress, the Universal Law of Nature: Thought, the Solvent of Her Problems.—SPIRITUALISM

The Progressive Thinker is the great your neighbor to subscribe for it.

VOL. 28.

CHICAGO, ILL., AUGUST 8. 1903.

NO. 715.

THE HOME GIRGLE

An Account of Some Remarkable Manifestations at Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Iowa, during the last ten years, the ocing asked for an explanation of such cult forces have been giving a series phenomena, the guides replied that they of demonstrations equal in character to could not explain them so as to be un anything in the far-famed Orient.

most wealthy, honored and respected mortals to where an explanation would citizens, Silas Corey and his wife, Mrs.
Louisa Corey, and Mr. H. A. Rayne.

Asked how they brought up coral of the sitters. Questions were anto yield to a higher potency. One law swered by the movements of the slate. This was followed shortly by raps and table-tipping; quite weak at first, but grew quite strong before the end of the first year. A mandolin was then ordered and placed upon the table, but it was not moved for a long time. Af-strings of the mandolin new series of manifestations. Articles come to prove beyond all question that of different kinds were brought and man is immortal. Twice he dematerial placed upon the table, such as pencils, ized down to the floor and rose again coins, petrifactions, bones of friends, or saying that faith in this case must be pieces of their coffin, etc., Mr. Corey converted into positive knowledge. having about this time started to dig a well on a farm six miles from town, ex- feature of whom was as distinct as any pressed a desire one evening in seance one in life could appear. She spoke at to know if the spirit friends could tell some length. At another time this him if there was any gypsum to be same daughter materialized and walked found, where he was sinking the shaft. arm in arm with her father out of the In a half minute after he had spoken seance room and around through the there was gently dropped upon the hall, looking out upon the moonlight on table a wet piece of gypsum fresh from the trees, and laughing and talking of the earth bed, weighing about one Nature's beauties and the joys of home pound. The guides explained that this and loved ones. Many others have since piece was taken from the earth about come in materialized form, of relatives fifty feet below where they had sunk and hosts of others, including men and the shaft, at which point plenty of gyp- women of historical note. sum could be found. This statement Scarcely a sitting passes without ma-was afterward verified. Many other terializations. Neither of the members This statement things were brought. voice which was encouraged by the is going on. The materialized forms members of the circle; and after three have warm hands and appear quite lifequarters of an hour the word "grandpa" like in all respects. And the spirits was distinctly heard. At the next sit- talk most of the time in a strong voice, ting the voice came much stronger, only new-comers in whispers. No trumgave his full name, Cyril Corey, grand- pet or other instrument is ever used. son of Mr. Corey, who had passed over Frequently in his place of business at some four years before at the age of any time during the day independent five. He told how glad he was to be able to say that there was no death, ence of Mr. Rayne, to the great aston-Then came Mr. Corey's daughter ishment of those who may be present. Lily, thirty years on the spirit side, with love's greetings, and talked for several minutes in a distinct whisper

. About this time they began to take up the mandolin and pass it all around violated by an oversight. The form in-One evening a desire was expressed for some article from a distance. The quiet was restored, one of the guides guides asked what was wanted. A explained that a company of preachers piece of coral from the Pacific coast who thought Spiritualism and its sewas requested. But it was not brought for a long time. One of the guides at last said, "I am going to try to get that ties had previously." coral to-night," requesting the sitters to sion to speak in the circle and had said remain quiet with their hands on a pair that it was all wrong. But they beof slates under the table. In four min- trayed their deplorable ignorance by utes came a piece of coral weighing their speech, and showed that they were about two ounces, wet in salt sea water; of that class who have yet most of the slates were slightly opened and the their advancement to make on the coral placed between them. They ex- spirit side. plained that they obtained it from a One evening the dog being in the sereef twenty feet below the surface of ance-room, became terribly frightened, other pieces of coral were brought; to let him out. He ran down stairs in also specimens of lava from different terror! Asked what was the matter volcanoes, specimens of gold-bearing with the dog, one of the guides said quartz from mines in Colorado, and of there was a big lion came up before other minerals; also flowers of all him. The dog had evidently seen the kinds, sometimes in rich abundance, lion clairvoyantly; as we know dogs are placed upon the table.

One night Cyril expressed a desire for some candy, saying he wanted to and roared loudly, and one of the circle take it to a poor child living in Webster | could distinctly feel his feet and claws City. At the next seance Mr. Corey on the table. An old dog owned by Mr. brought the candy, and after giving Corey twenty years ago, has frequently each of the circle one piece, the rest materialized and barked familiarly was taken away. From that time to Cats also and other animals have matethe present the candy is always taken | rialized and moved about the room. to the seance, and it invariably disapknown to have found s be candy sud- before the circle was formally opened, denly placed before her, and Cyril said they threw Mr. Rayne flat on his back

After five years of sittly, they reduced the guides to writh for them. they removed chairs on the table. Then they removed chairs and table and lift. Mr. Corey was instructed to take four ed him up. They frequently snatch his sheets of paper, fold them and place chair out from under him. Once they them one in each of separate pockets. lifted him up, head to the ceiling; then In a half hour three of these sheets turned him horizontally; then placed were filled with very comforting and his feet up against the ceiling, head convincing messages, signed by differ down; finally bringing him down to his ent spirit friends. Many similar mes- seat in good order. Once they were told sages followed at each siting. Then to open the door; but on trying it they came slate writings. Mr. Rayne would were utterly unable to open it, until hold the slates under the table and re- permitted to do so. ceive abundant communications. Mesa common experience at these sittings. After sitting for some time a harsh One night there came a curious phe voice called for beer. On being told nomenon. Mr. Corey has a pug weight that he could not get beer there, he integrated that pounds. The dog followed a sisted on having it, and said he had party away from the house, and re-brought bananas to pay for it. furned after the seance was begun. He was making much noise at the door, ly three large bananas came down apand one of the guides instructed Mr. parently from above and struck Corey to go down and let him in. The which he usually occupies, the sitting- the circle, and as they left the room one room, door was closed, shutting the dog of the guides said, "Well, grandpa, how in the room, and Mr. Corey returned to do you like the 'dagos'?" the seance room, closing that door also. He had no more than resumed his seat tions have been of common occurrence at the table when they all heard a faint in these seances. I have now been two sound from the dog in the room below, weeks in Mr. Corey's home and I have and instantly the dog lay on the table seen enough of these manifestations to before them all. He lay there for a few know that the above statements are moments in a sort of dazed condition, true, and that the phenomena are genuwhen one of the guides called his name inc. Almost every phase of mediumship in a loud voice, and he apparently woke has been exhibited in this little circle of

In the modest little city of Fort Dodge, | thing has been done with this dog. Benything in the far-famed Orient.
In this city there live, among her science would have advanced among

Louisa Corey, and Mr. H. A. Rayne. Asked how they brought up coral These, with a few of their friends some and minerals from the earth and sea ten years ago became earnest investiand transported them hundreds or gators in the occult, and determined to thousands of miles almost instantly, prove for themselves what there was in they replied that it was done "by sus-Spiritualism. Mr. Corey was just build-pending the law of gravitation and ining for himself an elegant new home at creasing the law of attraction." But 205 S. 12th street. He set apart and how these natural laws were made subdedicated one room exclusively for se servient to their will there seems to ance purposes. They began regular sit be no language as yet adequate to exfings in March, 1895. After a few months all dropped out but Mr. and Mrs. Corey and Mr. Rayne, as the results were not very encouraging. Not even a rap was heard for six months. means of which many of the well Then came the first manifestations by known properties of matter are set at the moving of a slate under the hands naught, or rendered inoperative—made ery day.

Frequently hands had been placed upon the heads or shoulders of the members of the circle; and now requests were made for full-formed materializations. Instructions were given to for the lapse of five months more they turn the light low, and Mr. Rayne to enanswered questions by twanging on the ter the cabinet. One minute afterwards Mr. Corey's brother Oliver stood before After two and a half years, began a him, easily recognized, saying he had ized down to the floor and rose again of the circle is ever entranced or con-After three years there came a faint trolled so as to be unconscious of what voices will speak right out in the pres-

> Some peculiar incidences have occurred. One evening while a spirit was materializing, the circle was instructed not to speak. But the injunction was stantly went to pieces. The table and chairs danced about wildly. When water on the Pacific coast. Later almost frantic. One of the guides said often clairviyant.

At another time the lion materialized

In these seances the spirit friends are often quite playful. One evening upon the floor and placed the table over

Once they held a special circle con sages on slates and paper have become trary to the instructions of the guides. lamp was lighted brightly, and presentey to go down and let him in. The Corey in the back. Then, one struck was admitted, left in a large rocker Mr. Rayne on the head. They broke up

These and many similar manifestaup and jumped down from the table. three persons. No pay is ever received Two or three times since, the same from visitors. The seances are con-

MODERN SPIRITUALISM.

in a Vision.

On July 25, I was reflecting on the criticisms of leading workers in our ranks, in our spiritual journals, when suddenly became clairvoyant and saw some of my angel friends near. They were unrolling large pictures and immediately a great panorama symbolizing Spiritualism passed before me. It was wonderful, made up of all manner of symbols and pictures. Some were refined and artistic, others ridiculously queer and crude. All symbols were labeled as to what they represented in quality of substance and force and gralations. Oh, such a checkered mass of substance, force, conditions and workers corresponding thereto from planes on earth and beyond earth's confines.

This was a wonderful collection of seemingly living facts. I marveled as I beheld it, then I looked upward and from plane to plane upward in spirit beheld that all workers in this great modern movement Spiritualism, were governed from planes higher than they occupied, and so it was on down to those nearest earth. The latter were the ones mostly acting upon and through mortal mediums, and all manner of queer things were marked as the result of a missit reception and understanding of what was or was to be given n such ways to mortals.

As I saw this and wondered, the angel pointed upward to the purely spiritial planes and workers. There I beheld those grand immortals standing as van-guards, directing these works. They stood firm by their original purpose, never faltering because there was so much misfit work done in the last stages of the worldly degrees.

They started to press forward nearer o earth so as to make their power felt, then I was admonished to see our workers on this mortal plane, Those in the front ranks pressed on through new and untried paths and conditions, and, oh, such a crowd that followed! But here and there were detachments of groups of people straying into self-appointed paths, still the central army moved onward amid all manner of queer happenings.

Many things were done to arouse humanity en masse and gain their attention to these, with but meagre results. In these conjoined efforts put forth by spirits and mortals, everything from the tiny rap to the most philosophic and scientific parts known to us, were represented. There were also standard bear ers here and there where points of convergence were marked, for diverging parts in the work and of ideas. I saw then that the investigator of to-day often becomes the teacher or reformer of to-morrow

Then all at once there was a mighty julvering in the mortal mind realm, there was a powerful influx lodged or inducted into the world's brain, which caused a great stir and trembling. It is to change the minds of mortals and be come the means to uplift and spiritualize them. This will affect all people because all mental supplies are charged with these reinforcements of purer thought and thought substance

The whole effort as supremely puroosed, was shown to be for a union of doctrine and practice to enhance mortal welfare.

There were so many roads branching from the central one and yet further on. ed to one goal. All these experiences and teachings were shown at proper turns to be the same in substance, but had been and still were different in their statements and manifestations, according to the un folded consciousness of those so taught and learning. I groaned in spirit and wished to see the union so labored for shown me, be fore the panorama passed, but alas! it vanished before that appeared. This impresses me with the fact that it will not be, probably, realized until after I have left the earth form; that, too, looks reasonable, as I am no longer young, and then, seeing, also knowing how many strongholds of erroneous belief and practices must be changed, before this blessed state of something like a universal religion becomes posible, it requires time, patience and much hard work to accomplish it.

MRS. M. KLEIN. Van Wert, Ohio.

ducted solely for the knowledge and the joy of communicating with the spirit world. The results are surely building a mighty monument for Spiritualism in this part of the country. Many things are incredible to those who have never seen them; but the future will certainly make such things a matter of more common experience. But to reach them there must be the same desire for truth and patient search for it which these friends have exhibited. The reward of the faithful is abundant. JULIAN P. JOHNSON.

We declare the above statements to be time in all respects, and we may state further that these are only a few of the great many good things which we are receiving from our spirit friends. Signed:

H. A. RAYNE, SILAS COREY, LOUISA COREY.

IT IS ALL EXPLAINED.

In early days, when Time was young And Earth was in its May, Two primal creatures met and joined Together in childish play. And one was Mercury, one was Coal; Friendship they swore together; On a teeter-board they laughed and Through bright and stormy weather. And ever since they've played the game Through Fortune's smile and frown And that is the reason that Coal goes up When Mercury goes down.

He deserves small trust who is not privy counselor to himself.—Ford.

UNIQUE ORDER.

ite Status and Development Unfolded It is Named the Church of the Golden Rule.

> To the Editor:—The Church of the Golden Rule, a secular, social and fraternal order—and order of morality— born in Chicago only a short time ago, and founded on the basis of the "An gel's Message," as first Dublished in The Progressive Thinker, April last, is in a highly flourishing condition, and sends love and greetings to all mankind, of every age and sex; creed and

But, to disabuse the public mind in regard to the word "church," which to some might be misleading, the Church of the Golden Rule is not a religion in the sense religion is generally under stood. We know there is a strong prejudice among many against the word 'church" as well as the word,"religion, but no name to our organization would answer half as well, to invite or attract church people. Of the word church, however, there need be no misunder standing. The word is of Greek origin and simply meant originally any lawful public assembly. This was really the ordinary classical sense of the word "church," till the writers of the New Testament adopted it and applied it to mean Christian assemblies. So says "Smith's Dictionary of the Bible," The word church, therefore, does not neces sarily imply a religion or religious or ganization, and especially not so in the case of the Church of the Golden Rule which is positively not a religion, at least not a religion according to the sense of "The Priest and the Book." For instance, if religion consists of creeds and dogmas, forms and peremonies, a robed priesthood, hely water and incantations, including the worship of an 'Unknown God" as well as other gross superstitions, the result of ignorance and all for salvation in another world—a world we know not of—then the Church of the Golden Rule is not religion. But if the Church of the Golden Rule has no worship no superstitious worship-but is a consecration to ideal human love and human living, the unselfish doing for others, and other moral excellence, and all for salvation in this world, the world we know of, then the Church of the Golden Rule is above and beyond, and far, exceeding in authority all religions, and porder of beneficence and morality

The members of the Church of the Golden Rule, are, therefore, strictly speaking, not religionists, but.

Golden Rulers,

and as Golden Rulers, believing the realities of the physical world are of greater moment to humans than the uncertainties of a spiritual world; they are, therefore, interested mostly in the world they know of, hence their motto, 'One world at a time!"

"We live in the present The future is unknown; To-morrow is a mystery, To-day is all our own.

But apart from the worship of ar 'Unknown God," what is religion, anyway? There has ever been and there ever will be but one true religion Church membership, sect, creed, pro fession, ritual observance, etc., are not religion nor any part of religion. All these things at their best are but mere jim-cracks of religion. Religion is an end, a purpose in view, not a thing spec tacular. True religion is the life of love, philanthropic love in the soul of man; it is the love of justice and love for man; it is right character and right conduct. This is religion. The religious man is a philanthropist -a born philanthropist. "Tis not the religion that makes the religious man tis the religious man that makes the re ligion. It, therefore, follows that there can be but one true religion-the relig ion of the Golden Rule. As every great movement is unique, so is the Church of the Golden Rule. For instance:

Its only Bible—the Book of Nature! Its only Deity-the God of Nature! In the Church of the Golden Rule all Irrational Christian doctrine will be ignored. Faith will not count a saving virtue, nor doubt a damning sin. Only and church approval. If Angels of light Or spirits bright love-brotherly love-and moral deportment will command brotherly respect, deign to surprise in church assemblies they will be made welcome. The su pernatural, to that end, will be invited. But the general benign objects of the Church of the Golden Rule are to enlighten and uplift mankind from the slums of theological ignorance, bigotry and superstition, to inculcate and practice the principles of the Golden Rule, the natural law of life and highest standard or morals, for human conduct in the home, in society and in the world, believing that the adoption of the prin-ciples of the Golden Rule would redeem the world from the sin of gelfishness avarice and monopoly, promote human rights and human justice eliminate poverty and crime, solve the labor and race problems, and convert tour, planet into a paradise, making thereby, all mankind happy.

The further object is the education of the public mind, by lectifies on science and philosophy, sanitation of the medical and health reform, social and political reform, economics, left.

I am, resself, a member of the organ-DR. R. GREER. Chicago, Ill.

Love not with the eyes, but with the mind—Shakspeare. Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.—Euripides. · · · - - -He scatters enjoyments who enjoys much.—Lavater.

The devil never tempted of man whom he found judiciously employed.—Spur-

Give a boy address and accomplish ments and you give him the mastery of palaces and fortunes where he goes.

THE TRANSITION.

In many instances through automatic writing, clairaudience, or trance speaking, when the spirits are describing their experience in the new life entered upon through the gates of death, while some seem at first a little worried or confused by the new conditions, yet the majority express a decided delight over the freedom and health of life in the be-

Dr. Hodgson's friend, "George Pelnam," expresses himself through Mrs. Piper, thus; "When I found I actually ived again I jumped for joy, and my first thought was to find you and Mary. And thank the Infinite, here I am, old fellow, living and well." And again: 'No more pain!-I am glad to get out of it, thank the Lord! I wouldn't go pack into the body for all the world and all there is in it.' At another time, "G. P." says in answer to a question of Dr. Hodgson: "I live, think, see, hear, know and feel just as clearly as when I was in the natural life, but it is not so easy to explain it to you as you would naturally suppose, especially when the thoughts have to be expressed through substance materially. However this only gives me pleasure to express to you all that I can possibly in this peculiar way * * I am light and free, and much clearer in thought than I was in my natural body.' A friend in the unseen, speaking to Mr. and Mrs. Thaw through Mrs. Piper, remarks, "I want to say there is no death * * Close your eyes and go to live again. And not much memory of what has transpired." Another of Mrs. Piper's controls says: "Now I woke up quick, and I didn't know I was out of the body—I woke up and found I was living again." One F. Atkins Morton, trying to re-ate his experiences after death says: I found I was in this world. I did not know for a moment where I was only I felt strange and freer. My head was light and many faces beckoning me on. and trying to comfort me, showing and assuring me I should soon be all right, and almost instantly I found I was."

Another declared, "I saw a light and then I saw farther into this world than I thought I should; then Alice held out her hands and told me I was all right. Then I took her hand and we went to-gether * You can never know how light and happy we are here."

W. T. Stead's control describes her from my body. It was such a strange new feeling. I was standing close to the bedside on which my body was lying. I saw everything in the room just feel any pain in dying. I felt only a lie worked all winter, supplied the fam-great calm and peace. Then I awoke, lly with food and raiment, but kept him At first I wondered, I was so strangely well. Then I saw that I had passed over." Among the many instances coming through my own automatic writing I here quote one which purported to be from a dear friend in life of Stead's "Julia," but who passed from the body a few years later. After some preliminary writing I asked,

"What were your first impressions after your release from the body? From report you seemed to pass painlessly and happily forward.

Answer:—"When I passed into the sleep which is the bridge—over from earthly bondage to the freedom within the law of spiritual realities. I was not aware that what you call death was near, but I was serenely happy. I had done the best as I understood it. I loved -and when I awoke on this side it seemed like a strange sweet dream, and I smiled to myself, saying, 'Well, what and weeping, Vina went to work to get a charming delusion this is! How well and strong I feel, and how happy.' Ly-ing comfortably as I thought in my bed, in search of him. She found him there I suddenly found myself staring at a behind the stable with the old happy poor worn-out form on that bed, while grin upon his face, while she could but walked strong and well, about the sobbingly ask him what he was laughroom. A— (a friend present at her death) was crying, but happy neverthed "Well, Vina," he said, putting his did, in the real life. But it was travail, indeed, to be unable to reach by voice, touch, or any mortal sense those who uselessly grieved over the death (here followed in parentheses in larger characters the word 'Birth') of their

I then asked her who first met her on the other side of life. Answer:-"My dear mother first of all clasped me to her, and said, 'My child, do you understand that you have passed from death into life? I am so glad you have entered into the higher life!' And then those who were spiritually near and dear when on earth came one by one and greeted me in loving ways impossible for you to imagine." Soon after the death of Warren Chase (at whose funeral Mr. Underwood officiated by request made by Mr. Chase some time previous to his passing out), there came writing purporting to be from him. After other things were writen, was asked, "Have you any special thing you wish to say?"

Answer:- "So many things, but principally that we never die. I am more alive here than ever before—doubt forever dispelled. Oh, if I could do ardent things by which I could reach all humanity, and assure them, as I myself keep the home harmonious, by sacrific am here assured, of soul life."

· Question: - "Were you conscious, or unconscious at the moment of death?" Answer:-"Conscious of a change but one so easily, made that I selt puzzled ual under less straining and far better whether, as Paul said, I was in the body or out. Sense perceptions so changed! I saw what seemed to be Warren Chase ying inert, senseless, while the real, thinking, loving, living Warren Chase adversity. Spiritualism teaches it and stood by unable to will that senseless Spiritualists should practice the same. body to any movement, and I said, 'Why, I am freed from that prison!'"

These are but a few out of many like testimonies from thousands of differing through the experience; some of us for all of us who have yet to pass

SPIRITUAL HOMES.

Spirits Rejoicing in Their New Life. A Short Narrative Illustrating the Same-A True Story.

> Spiritualists as a rule are opinionated people. Many of them were taught wrong by allowing others to think for them, but who, upon discovering they had a natural right to think for themselves, have thought along new lines from those shown them through their early manhood, and these as well as the old-time thinkers often disagree. But that there cannot be too much said upon the subject of "Spiritual Homes" all will agree. So now as this seems to be a theme upon which there can be no adverse thinking I have clear sailing and a moderate breeze.

> A short story will illustrate the idea in this letter, to better advantage than anything I can think of at present. The story was told me by an old friend, who, knowing nothing at all of Spiritualism and caring nothing for Christianity, tried to make his wife and child comfortable through the awfulness of the great Nebraska and Kansas grasshopper raid and the ravages of the droughts.

Josiah Luke had taken up a claim in Nebraska near the Kansas line, set ais stakes, built a sod-house and with blankets for the windows and boards for a door, had snugly ensconced his wife, Vina, and his daughter Alma, the only child, therein, and was settling down to the crude life of a pioneer, with a dilapidated wagon, two ponies and a very large cow, with little money, no extra food, and no neighbors sleep; waken up and it is all over. You to borrow from.

live again. And not much memory of The roll of bedding containing nearly all of those commodities they were possessed of, was lost on the road after the last night's camping, and although a search was made, they could not be found. They had some corn meal and made some corn bread without salt, and lived on corn bread and milk until the cow went dry.

In the meantime, when "Si," as his wife called him, was not needed at light in weight, also my body. I saw a his home, he went away many miles and worked for others, and brought home something to eat

"Si" was never cross; Vina was never cross, even under these awful circumstances and although often very hungry, Alma stood it bravely, as though she knew the circumstances and was determined not to annoy her mother with complaints.

The corn was growing nicely, the po-tatoes looked promising, but soon came the drouth and swept away their promfirst sensations in the "Letters from sign prospects. Everything dead, Julia," as follows: "I found myself free even one of the ponies died, Si went to as before I closed my eyes. I did not admit the light of day. His wages, for and I was standing outside my old body away from home; but Vina and Alma in the room. .There was no one there were not afraid of the coyotes that used at first, just myself and my old body. to come pretty close to their hut and look hungrily at the little girl.

The next season St had wheat oats corn and potatoes, and all grew almost to maturity, when one night they heard something like rain, which was greatly needed, falling upon the house, and they fell asleep rejoicing. But, lo! when morning came their entire crops were gone and to their hopeless dismay the whole country for miles was black with grasshoppers, finishing the act of destruction, eating what they had cut down, even Si's old coat that hung on the corner of the crude stable had been so doomed as to be useless The grass was cut down close and even the stack of last year's hay was lowered. After the grasshoppers had filled up they arose in a body that completely screened the sun from view, and flew away to some other country.

Si went out over the total wreck to feed his cow and pony, while sobbing their breakfast, and as Si didn't show less in her heart, for she believed as I arms around his heartbroken wife, "Providence, in His goodness (?) and wisdom (?) has seen fit to again blast our hopes and I was just laughing to think what a clean job he has made of it, and how darned poor he has left us I hope He is satisfied. But, Vina, He didn't disturb our love. He didn't take you and Alma from me or me from you Even the grasshoppers had some gard for our love. Now let us try to be reconciled. I have good health and so have you and Alma, and as long as that lasts we will push ahead and try again.'

This narrative illustrates through what desperate circumstances neonle can pass and still live in harmony with each other; through what trials and tribulations they can go and still keep their spirits in harmony, and maintain a truly spiritual home.

I do not know that they ever knew anything of Spiritualism, and I know they had no faith in modern Christianity, nor its God, but they were in sympathy, warm and beautiful, with each other, they were in harmony spiritually and mentally; they worked and sacrificed in harmony, and what is they loved, and eventually succeeded. If, through such desperate strokes of misfortune a husband and wife car ing for each other all petty differences that amount to nothing in the end, and blending spirit with spirit, why cannot more homes be made happy and spirit

Let every Spiritualist try to make his home more spiritual if he has one, and continue to try even in the face of great Marian Commission (Marian Commission) sources, but I have put these together very shortly whether we expect to or as an indication of a blessed possibility not.

SARA 4 INDERWOOD. Quincy, III.

MR. JAMIESON'S POSITION,

Skepticism vs. Spiritualism.

Eureka! We have now, at last, found out where Brother Jamieson stands in regard to the phenomena of Spiritual-We were quite a while in discovering his position, but it was time well spent, since it will obviate the necessity of threshing over old straw in the fu-

Know all Spiritualists by these presents, then, that Prof. W. F. Jamieson writes as follows:

When Hudson says, concerning the phenomena, "I shall attempt to explain their origin on other grounds than the supposition that they are caused by the spirits of the dead," that is my position exactly; so Brother Sweringen was mistaken in regard to my views. I deny no clearly proved phenomena. And so, if Mr. Hudson's position is thus endorsed, Brother Jamieson ex-claims with him that: "The man who denies the phenomena of Spiritualism to-day (who denies that genuine phenomena have occurred and are occurring) is not entitled to be called a skeptic; he is simply ignorant." There is, therefore, now no question in the mind of Brother Jamieson, if Mr. Hudson, has, as he says, stated "his po-sition exactly," concerning the occurrence of genuine Spiritualistic phenomena now as in the past. It is to be remembered by the reader that we are not now considering their explanation, nor have we anything to do with counterfeit or fraudulent phenomena. are simply to understand Brother Jamieson, if, as he says: "states his position exactly," to admit the reality of present and past phenomena denominated Spiritualistic, or, in other words, that genuine phenomena denominated Spiritualistic have occured in the past and are occurring at the present. This much, then, is settled, if I interpret Brother Jamieson's words as quoted, correctly. That which remains to be settled therefore, is the explanation of the cause of the phenomena. Brother Jamieson does not inform us whether or not he endorses Mr. Hudson's explanation of the phenomena of Spiritualism. Probably he has an explanation of his own. In his debate with Rev. Moses Hull he several times promised to explain them, but the only explanation he gives in all his speeches, is that of fraud! fraud! fraud! deception! imposition! delusion! hallucination! So far as Mr. Hudson's theory of explanation of the genuine phenomena of Spiritualism is concerned, while very ingenious and interesting to read, it by terest of the orthodox church, which does not have a very warm side for Modern Spiritualism.

Materialization is one of the phenomena of Spiritualism, which, according to Hudson, and now, of Jamieson, to deny s an evidence of ignorance. In Bro. Jamieson's next letter to The Progressive Thinker, I would like to see his explanation of this phase "on other grounds than the supposition that it is caused by the spirits of the dead. Thanking Brother Jamieson for his confession that there are genuine phenomena known as Spiritualistic, I will now, ena known accidence close this letter.

H. V. SWERINGEN.

Fort Wayne, Ind.

A MORNING IDYL.

The morning alight from the gloom of the night Awakes the world to its duty. The birds in their flight carol with de-

And the earth is glinted with beauty; The sun lances beam over forest and stream. With fragrance from grasses and

light

clover. tremulous breeze thro' branches of Steals kisses like an ardent lover.

The oncoming day heralds the way From hilltops and valleys streaming With banners of gold, like an army bold, Their lances in the sunlight are gleaming.

Oh, the whir of wings and the scent of sweet things,
And the birds' low call for their mates, The creak of the cricket behind his grass wicket.

His monotonous story relates. Oh, the hours that fly when summer is nigh. And the mornings are sparkling with dew. The humming bird's wings, the loveliest things, Like a vision drop into view.

The doves in their cot, a busy nesting lot, Cooing each to the other,

But the words that they say you cannot portray. They're only meant for her lover.

Oh, what sweet bliss is a morning like When the dreams of the night are ended.

And the air is athrill from valley and hill. And the music of streamlet is blended.

When calling we hear the good house

The morning's repast is waiting, And her eyes that are dear light up the good cheer While love makes sweet the partaking. Oh, beautiful day, ever linger, I pray, Free from the shadows of night, Where the verdure of green is merged

In the groves of immortal light: Let the soul's summertime fresh and sublime Be free from winter's cold blight,

And the morning's repose beam fresh as the rose, Where all in true love unite BISHOP A. BEALS,

Summerland, Cal.

IMPORTANT MATTER FROM OUR FOREIGN EXGHANGES

The Home Circle.

One omission from our paper on "Propaganda," printed last week, we noticed immediately after the reading at the conference, and the genial president stated for us the missing thought. We wish to emphasize this temporarily forgotten aspect of the subject, especially this week, inasmuch as all earnest Spiritualists have long recognized that along this path lies the only sure and certain way to success—we refer to the "home circle."

The Methodist prayer-meeting may be a great support to the cause, but family prayer was at the root of much of the deep religious feling of the days of Methodist ardor. Similarly, the public circle of the Spiritualist may be useful in a measure to the movement, but incomparably beyond it in power and effect is the home circle, where is gathered the sympathy and the energy which can be alone found there.

We have often written of this subject, and little can be added to what has gone before; but the need for this form of meeting still demands emphasis, and more and more the cry for home circle development, home circle experience, and home circle devotion is heard in the desert waste of waning phenomena.

should be on the increase; that the power which was manifested of old should be doubled in these days. The contrary, however, is the fact, and those who think most about this ques tion are convinced that much of the decline can be traced to the lack of home circle development.

To us it appears that phenomens

It may be urged that there are more mediums to-day than ever there were. This may be true—at any rate, we can not affirm or deny it. Of this, however, we are certain, that whereas in the old days mediums worked for the glory of the spirit world which had been revealed to them, they now in large measure, work for their own hands, and shutting themselves up in flats or shops, or residences of a more or less aristocratic type, advertise, and then await the golden shower of guineas, apparently, regardless of the advancement or other wise of the grand gospel of spirit re-

If professional mediumship of this character is allowed to develop without a corresponding growth of home circles, with their open vision and power of the spirit, revelation will again be a thing in the hands of a privileged few, and corruption will in the ultimate stalk through the ranks of Spiritualism, as it has through all systems with spiritual revelation as their base.

No Spiritualist should be dependent upon outside sources for his reveal-ments of the spirit world. In his own home he should find that joy and comfort which results from the known pres ence and counsel of his spirit guides. helpers, and friends. Development by proxy is one of the banes of the move ment, and mediumship on the slot avatem is of necessity a poor substitute for personal knowledge.

More and more societies are being established for the purpose of psychic research. What is needed is personal vast majority take an interest. And the development of the researchers. The same undie amount of attention that is man who has gained consolation through his own development will stand | ing, is consistently carried out even to superior to all societies. Prof: Hare, the end. who commenced by "investigating" me dlumship, ended by developing it, and spiritual and enduring presence is there he stood upon firm ground and ut- scarcely ever thought of; but as much "What, then, is the preventive? The tered a never-to-be-forgotten note of tri- fuss as possible is made over the dis-

titles, all sink to insignificance before question is the funeral, and numbers of the humble fireside circle. Sir William relatives will assemble for his burial, The exercise of your duty 'to try the Crookes investigated in the home, and who never thought him worth visiting spirits, as you do men, before deferring did not call in a class of his brother sci- before. And as if in mockery of its to their advice or leading. And, most entists to witness the wondrous phenomena he was engaged upon exploring; and it is in the quietude, and especially in the development of friends and relatives, that the sweetest consolation.

the greatest triumph comes. We would that we could inspire every Spiritualist with a desire for this form of work. What glorious achievements would follow.

Every society should encourage home circles among its members, each circle in connection with, and loyal to, the parent society. Scarcity of mediums would then be unknown, and instead of world would be heard through efficient local instruments.

great success. We trust many societies will follow so important a lead, which must mean to the movement of Modern Spiritualism increased usefulness and renewed activity.

Early Clairvoyance.

Writing from Bradford, Mrs. Joseph Clarke tells the story of the discovery of his little son's clairvoyant gift. He says:

